Montana State Debaters Win One and Lose Two

South Dakota Defeated in Bozeman, By College Team, But on Same Night the Teams Debating Against North Dakota, at Fargo and Against the Utah Aggies at Logan Were Defeated.

Last Monday night Montana State College debating teams held three debates of which they won one from South Dakota and lost to North Dakota and to Utah Aggies.

The question for all three debates was the same: "Resolved that the Chinese exclusion Act should be ammended to include the Japanese."

Talking on the affirmative side of the question, the debating team representing the Montana State College won a unanimous decision over a team representing the South Dakota Agricultural college of Brookings. The debate was held in the high school auditorium and was well attended. Robert Jones and Charles Lyndon were the members of the successful college team while Herbert Cheevr and Joseph Paulson represented South Dakota. Judge W. R. C. Stewart presided at the debate and J. R. Wine of Helena, R. J. Covert, president of the Merchants National Bank of Billings and Horace Davis of Big Timber were the judges.

For Montana, Jones opened the debate and covered his subject well. Both Jones and Lyndon were especially good on the rebuttal. Cheever was the best of the Dakota team, while both Jones and Lyndon did well for the affirmative.

The team that debated against the Utah Aggies consisted of William Moore and Charles Schurch.

Speaking on the negative side of the same question the team consisting of William Moore and Charley Schurch, that went to Utah was defeated there by the team representing the Utah Aggies.

The team that went to North Dakota also spoke on the negative of the question and were defeated by the team representing that Agricultural college. The men on this team were Leon Sayers and Ray Eeton.

In preparation for these debates a number of local attorneys have worked with the college boys and given them freely of what advice they could. The boys have made their talks to the attorneys and then the latter ripped them to pieces, show-

"M" CLUB SHOW WILL BE STAGED NEXT WEEK

"Piff, Paff, Pouf," Which Made Such a Hit For Two Nights, Will Replace "Stop Thief!"

Stop Thief has been postponed to April 9, and Piff Paff Pouf will be shown the night of March 9th, the time originally set for the Stop Thief.

This will give all a chance to see a very good musical comedy the first night of tournament. After the two performances that the Piff Paff Pouf troupe have already put on the show should be even better than it was this week.

Due to the fact that half of the cast of Stop Thief is also in Piff Paff Pouf it was impossible to get the entire cast of Stop Thief out for rehersals so it was deemed advisable to postpone the play for a month.

Piff Paff Pouf will be shown at the Ellen Theatre on the night of Wednesday, March 9th. Tickets will be on sale before that date. The prices will be the same as the last performances, one dollar for any seat in the house.

If the weather stays as good this spring as it has the last week we may be able to turn out a real baseball team for this season. We've got the men and the coach, if we can only have a chance for them to get out on a dry field.

The BOBCAT will be out on tournament days. Get your share.

PIFF PAFF POUF PLAYS TO TWO FULL HOUSES

Piff Paff Pouf is over and was given in masterful style. The cast justified all the confidence which was placed in them and the numerous favorable comments which were heard showed that the theatre going public was more than pleased. It would be impossible to enumerate the good points of the work of the leads, because there were so many placed where they worked like professionals. The choruses are to be complimented on the way in which they carried off their part of the performance, and a large measure of the success of the show was due to the way in which the choruses put over their end at the show. Everything considered, it is without doubt the best piece of amateur theatrical work which has been seen in Bozeman for years.

The show was also a success from the financial point of view. The house was packed both nights and although the expenses for the show were a considerable item, it is expected that there will be enough left after all the expenses are paid, to make up the deficit which exists in the college athletic fund and also to purchase the sweaters for which the proceeds were originally intended.

The M Club wishes to express its sincere thanks to Mr. Gordon for the great amount of work which he put into the production and the fine spirit of unselfishness with which it was given, and the M Club feels that it is indebted to Mr. Gordon to a degree which can never be paid. To all the the people who either lent articles which were used in the various settings or who gave of their time and work to such a great degree, and who knew that they would have no other reward than the success of our production, we also wish to express our most sincere thanks and we hope they obtained the same feeling of a work well done, which has now become ours

What Is Wrong?

There is a wrong spirit in the air around Montana State. A stranger entering our gates would think we were all Bolsheviks, if he listened to the talk that prevails in those places where college folk meet. The fact that something is wrong is plainly shown when a majority of the college students are in revolt against authority. We want to find out what the trouble is and see if there is not some way of correcting it.

We will never have a bigger and better M. S. C. as long as this feeling exists. Seniors who have gone through the institution with honor and distinction make statements such as: "I would never let my brother come to school here." Our alumnae asks us what is the matter with the old school. Students are saying that they do not get what they should out of school.

If you talk to a dozen different people in regard to this, they give you a dzoen different remedies. It is the old game of "passing the buck," and it is not getting us anywhere. The students say that the faculty are out of touch and sympathy with the student body. The faculty says that the students do not want any further intimacy.

There is not a person at M. S. C. who, down deep in his heart, is not loyal to our college. There is not one who would not get out and fight for his or her Alma Mater. And yet this present spirit is serving to cover up the feeling of loyalty and love that we have for our school. Let us get together and find out what is wrong. We ask you, Mr. Student—What is the matter? We ask you Member of the Faculty—What is wrong?

Frosh Swamp Whitehall

In the game played against the Whitehall High team last Friday, the Bobkittens won by the decisive score of 36-13. The outcome of the game was never in doubt, the first half ending 17-1 in the Kittens' favor.

Whitehall has an extra good team and they played a strong game. From present indications she has a fine chance of representing the district in the state tournament, if she holds up as she has in the past. Her team beat Anaconda and lost to Dillon by a narrow margin.

Every man on the Frosh team played well. The guarding of "Scotty" MacDonald was a feature of the game, as was the floor work of Beckley and the shooting of Johnson. Fox too, played a steller game, ringing up seven baskets. Only four fouls were called on the team during the game.

At the beginning of the second half Bunny and Astle were run in and they too, played a close game.

There was a large attendance at the game, as is shown by the fact that almost $400 was taken in gate receipts.

Bobcats Leave For Helena

On Friday afternoon the Bobcats will leave for Helena to mix with the Wesleyans and with Mt. St. Charles in the final games of the 1921 season. Coach Graves will accompany the team, which will probably be made up of the men who have been playing throughout the whole season, and who went to Missoula last week for the final series with the University. Little has been done in the way of practice since the return of the team from their Missoula trip and as a result they are not in as good condition as they were when they met the Bruins. However the men are in fair shape and there is no doubt but that they bring back a couple more victories from the capital. It is not going to be an easy trip by any means, though as both the teams against whom they will play are snappy collegiate aggregations with reputations for their ability to put up a scrappy game. Montana State rooters had ample opportunity to see the Methodists in action here two weeks ago, when the Bobcats trimmed them.

The game was a fast hard fought

Bobcats Lose State Basketball Championship

University Aggregation Defeats the Montana State Quintet in Two Fast Games, Thereby Winning the State Championship for the Second Time in Six Years. First Game Ended 36 to 26 and Second 23 to 19

The final game of the season between Montana State college and the University played on the Missoula floor last Friday and Saturday went 36-26 and 23-19 in favor of the Bruins. Both games were fast and equally closely contested, our former title holders making the Missoula quintet fight hard for every basket in addition to forcing the Grizzlies to play a close defensive game. The Bobcats, though clearly outclassed by the veteran floor men of the "U," put up an exhibition of Bobcat spirit and fight that drew applause from the University rooters, the experience of the Missoula players being the one factor that decided against us in the two games.

Failure to hold the Bruins in check in these games has cost Montana State the intercollegiate championship for the second time in several years. The "U" took it in 1918 thru the breaking up of the local squad due to war conditions, but this constituted her first success since 1916. It is not surprising however that the University warriors should have won this year when the conditions and circumstances are taken into considera'tion. Prospects were none too bright at Montana State throughout the entire season, while Missoula turned out the best squad she has had for years, and a far better one than she can hope to send within the next year or two. The Bobcat squad was almost entirely of new men this season, Jorgenson being the only man left from the 1920 regular championship squad. Though a player of stellar ability, the "Flying Swede" was too small a nucleus for the building up from new material of a team like that of past seasons. Coach Graves had some fine material from last year's freshman squad in Whitney, MacCarren and Hollister, as well as in Richards, and he soon put them into fighting trim, but lack of experienced men was against him. The same might be said of Garvin and Robertson, who though out last year, never really got into the game until this season. Every man on the squad was a man worthy of the Bobcat jersey but as a whole they needed a full season's playing to make a consistent team. With the past season's squad and with the material showing up from the freshmen lineup, prospects look brighter and it looks very much as though the state title will rest but temporarily on the other side of the divide.

The University, though carrying should have outclassed ours more than it did in the games played both here and on their home floor. It had taken them four years to build up the team they sent this year against our untried Bobcats. Larkin and Adams have both played their final games against us, as they will be graduated this year. Larkin with the distinction of having played 16 games against the Bobcat squad. Sullivan has already spent three years on the Missoula team and Ahern, another of this year's stars, was one of the Bruins who shoved it up in the M. S. C.-University game of last season. These four men constituted the team who carried the honors away last week, with already reliable men like Baird and Hughes, as an additional scoring and defensive machine. The loss of some of these, her best men, will place Missoula in a position somewhat similar to that we have occupied this season and though she has a strong string of freshmen to choose from, she may be hard set to hold down the coming Bobcat team.

The first of the two Missoula games was a speedy, closely played game, with close guarding serving to hold both teams fairly even until the fin-

Results of Five District Tourneys Give Line On Teams

AT LEAST HALF OF THE TEAMS THAT WILL PLAY HERE NEXT WEEK HAVE BEEN DECIDED UPON AS RESULTS OF THE DISTRICT TOURNAMENTS THAT HAVE BEEN COMPLETED. THE SOUTHERN AND YELLOWSTONE ARE HOLDING THEIR TOURNEYS NOW. THERE WILL PROBABLY BE NO TOURNAMENT IN BITTER ROOT DISTRICT.

MANY OF LAST YEAR'S STARS TO BE BACK

Results of the district tournaments that have been held in the various sections of the state indicate that quite a few of the stars of last year's tournament will be back again this year. At least eight of the 16 high schools that made up the last tournament seem certain of coming back this year. The teams that took first, second and third last year, Dillon, Billings and Helena, are all to be seen here again.

illon comes with the same team with which she won the championship last year; Billings has nearly the same lineup as in 1920, and Helena has several of her old men back.

Pythian, all-state center from Billings, will not be on the floor next

With five of the eight district tournaments completed, over half of the teams that will be represented at the tournament have been chosen. As in the past, the winning team of each district represents that district at the tournament. Besides these district champions, eight other teams are chosen, because of their season's records, and invited to the state tourney by the tournament committee.

The five districts that have finished their tournaments are the Mining, Falls, Eastern, Northern and Flathead districts.

Beaverhead county won the tournament in the mining district, with Butte second, Helena third, Missoula fourth, and Butte Central, Deer Lodge, Philipsburg, Anaconda and Boulder placed in the order named. The final game of this tournament was fast and hard fought, ending 18 to 9 in favor of Dillon. The semi-finals, between Helena and Missoula, were even more spectacular than the finals. The score was tied many times during the progress of the game which ended 20 to 19 in Helena's fa-

ESSAY WRITING CONTEST HERE NEXT WEEK

The students who will come to Montana State next week to represent the various high schools in essay writing for the state contest have been definitely chosen from the preliminary essays sent in to the English department. As a result of the judging of these essays, high schools in Choteau, Miles City, Belt, Havre, Missoula and Helena and the Academy of the Sacred Heart at Missoula took the winning places. In addition to winning places in the finals, Helena, Miles City and Harlowton won honorable mention in the contests.

The following are the students who will come to this city next week to compete in the finals. These names are arranged in alphabetical order

PLANS FOR STATE TOURNAMENT NOW COMPLETE

Everything is in readiness for the tenth annual state interscholastic basketball tournament. Some of the teams have been chosen and tournaments being held this week will decide the rest.

On Sunday morning all the names of the teams that will enter the tournament will be in the hands of the committee who will at that time make the drawings for the numbers of the various teams and the order in which they will play the first eight games.

Coach Graves and the Bobcat squad will officiate at all the games of the tournament. The official timekeeper and scorekeeper have not as yet been decided upon.

Arrangements are being made to accommodate the teams in the best possible manner. Each fraternity house will be asked to take one team, and the other 12 teams will be either at the hotels or at the barracks.

Programs giving the names of the members of the various teams, their numbers, the order of the games, and other information are being printed under the auspices of the M club and will be on sale at all of the games.

The M club will have charge of all sale of refreshments and candy at the games. They will also have charge of the ushering and seating arrangements.

Season tickets were put on sale this morning. The ordinary tickets are sold for $3, and are good for the entire tournament. The reserved seat tickets, which sell for $5, are also good for all games of the tournament, but are also good for a reserved seat at all games, and guarantee to the holder a seat at all times. Reserved seats will be on sale at the Gallatin Drug Co. after 3 o'clock this afternoon.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS CREATING INTEREST

Unfavorable Weather and Play Practice Have Interfered Somewhat With the Schedules. But All Is Expected to Go Well in the Future

The first month of the athletic contest is over. During this month not a great deal has been accomplished, due to the disagreeable weather and other unforseen complications which have arisen. Because of "Piff, Paff, Pouf" the date for the swimming contest has been changed to Tuesday, March 15. This leaves very little time for practicing so every girl who has entered the contest should not fail to be at the "Y" next Tuesday night.

The hiking schedules for February should all be handed in to Miss Donaldson before tonight. As yet only a very few have come in. If you do not see Miss Donaldson on the hill leave the list in her postoffice box in the office. Of course the uncertainty of the weather has prevented strenuous hiking but each Sunday several groups have gone out. Numerous girls took advantage of the fact that Washington's Birthday was Sneak Day and hiked up Lyman and Bridger. If March keeps on as well as it has begun the roads will soon be dry enough for really long hikes. This weather also seems to have awakened an early interest in target practice and tennis.

Mayme Egan was in Big Timber las Wednesday and Thursday. While there she gave a talk to the woman's club on "Art in the Home."

TOURNAMENT.

Next week is to be once more the pleasure and the privilege of Montana State College to entertain several hundred school students. Tournament is a red letter day in the lives of high school athletes, and is also a big day for M. S. C. students. Every year a large number of high school boys and girls get their first glimpse into the mysteries of higher education. Every year many college students have a week of reminiscence—a week in which they can enjoy the company of friends from their old school. Let us make the tournament bigger and better this year than ever before. Let us make these high school folk realize that we have a real school. Let us show them what there is here for them when they are ready to enter college.

OUR TOURNAMENT GUESTS.

March 9th to 12th the faculty and students of the Montana State college will have the honor of entertaining the High School Interscholastic Association for their Tenth Annual Basketball Tournament, and the representatives of the schools who participate in the Extemporaneous Speaking and Writing Contest. This occasion brings to Bozeman many friends of the high school people having part in the contests, and representatives from the different districts of the state who are acquainted with and interested in the work of students in he college.

The friends of the college students who are here and of the high school students who come for the contests are all interested in learning about the educational opportunities being offered at Montana State College and also the type of life being lived by the students. The representatives of the college community should make the most of this opportunity to inform their friends of the standards of work and the ideals as they exist here.

Many of the people who come for the tournament will see the college for the first time. Those of us who live here realize most keenly our lack of room and the inadequacy of our equipment in some departments and are apt to forget that through it all we are able to conduct college work on a high plane and in an effective way. The people of the state have made provision to take care our needs and we should show our friends what we are doing and the standards we are maintaining.

During the tournament days, let us all remember that the high school representatives and their friends are our guests. We desire to show them the hospitality of a gracious host, and also have them understand what we are doing and what college life means at Montana State.

ALFRED ATKINSON, President.

THE THREE RING CIRCUS.

College may be likened to a three ring circus, and the average student to the circus performer. In each ring stands the master with a long whip, the head of the activity. The brilliant ones who can perform creditably in all three rings draw the applause of both the audience and of the master of ceremonies.

The students's social duties or athletics may be likened to the ring nearest the audience.

Herein lies the glory and the bright tinsil of the popular thing. As the seasons roll around different activities replace each other as the leading attractions, and the master of ceremonies is not hard put to keep the performance from lagging. This is the ring that most of the performers prefer.

The struggle for existence may be likened to the second ring, farther back from the point of interest.

The whip here is long and dangerous and wielded by a severe, haw-like man, of no mercy. His name is Necessity. The performers are agile here, though a little tired from their previous exertions. Some, not so needy, may loaf on the job, while some are harassed unmercifully by the long whip. This ring is not of great interest to the audience, but of vital importance to the circus people. It is taken with more or less seriousness as the need may be.

Lastly comes the academic work; the third ring of the circus. Here the crack of the master's whip is heard loudest of all, and the reaction of the performer seems slower than elsewhere, even listless. He is almost fagged out. Some manage very nicely, for they have loafed in the previous rings. These are lauded by the master and hissed by the audience. Some, who were favorites in the first two rings are lost here. A few are star performers in all three rings. Many loafed through them all and are of no interest.

Very few can compete in this three ring circus in a rational measure. One who choses rightly, does well his bit in all three rings, may pass on with honor. He, who of necessity may choose only the second and third of the rings misses much which the circus holds for him. He who tries all, and fails, passes on into obvilion. Likewise does he who makes a big showing n the first and has not the courage for the latter two.

This is college life.—Pomona Student Life.

COLLEGE ENGAGEMENTS.

It would be interesting to know how many college engagements actually lead to marriage, and how many are sooner or later broken. No statistics are available, but it is safe to say that a large proportion of engagements do not lead to the marriage altar; in too many cases the parties concerned never intend that they should.

Such a condition does not lead to a favorable opinion of our college life and atmosphere. Some of us are stll left who believe that engagements should be taken seriously, and not entered into merely because the moon is round and mellow, or because he waltzes so superbly. Perhaps it is old-fashioned and cranky, but the fact remains that there are many who disapprove of such engagements for the sake of being engaged, and who think less favorably of colleges because of their prevalence.

Of course college is not the only place where cases of this sort exist, but the very fact that we say, "Oh, that is only a college engagement," indicates that they are more common here than elsewhere

There is nothing wrong in becoming engaged while in college, but the trouble comes when students become engaged without having time to learn their own mind, or even worse, when they consciously do not intend to be married. When this sort of engagement becomes too common, the condition is unhealthy, and unfavorable comment is justified.

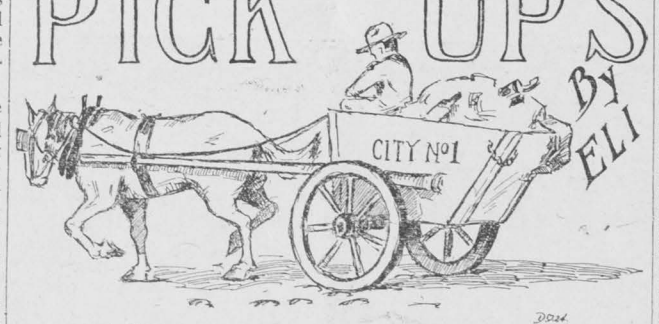
Here at O. A. C. we pride ourselves in being sensible. Could we not well give this subject a little thought?

O. A. C. Barometer.

TICKETS.

The sale of tournament tickets will be handled by Charles Lyndon and The Fangs this year. There will be no difficulty selling all of the tickets, but the committee wants to dispose of them as soon as possible so as to clear the books.

PICK - UPS



With one big show over and another one coming the spirit moves us, but not far enough, as Pouf would say. Spring is nearly here, but not quite, as the co-ed yearning for a pin would utter. Tournament has arrived, almost, as Phat Williams and the rest of the tourney committee groan. Exams are almost upon us, darn near, as we all expostulate. We didn't know how this issue would be complete without some scandal about Finley. He asked us to be sure and not forget him so here is the best we could find. He printed a kiss upon the lips of a cretain girl but she made him promise not to publish it so we will have to remain quiet upon that subject.

Love may be blind, but don't take a chance and come home with a long silk stocking in your pocket.

What is sadder than one armed active with a sprained wrist at a paddle party?

Answer: A fat frosh in tights.

When some of the chorus girls left the stage in hysterics Bill Gordon asked what was up. They said that "Skinny" Borton tickled them so. Now we realize that the telescope was long but we didn't think that it reached the girls. Perhaps it was the penetrating rays behind it.

I wish I was a cozy corner down
In Hamilton Hall
I'd soon find out the reason why
So many fellows fall.
If out in front of the Senior Bench
I were a little tree.
I know I'd find the reason why so
Many frat pins flee.

We found the best joke of the week in the "Student Life", the school paper at the Utah Agriculture College. It was telling about the coming game with the "Bobcats." Here it is—see if you can find it.

"The men who are flying the Montana State colors are: Arthur Jorgenson, Bruce Hollister, Wallace Whitney, Edward Cogswell, A. B. Richards, Raymond McCarren, Eugene Roberston, Fred Finch, Willard Watts, Ted Cates, Mervil Alquist, Coach Graves and Manager Alfred Atkinson."

Nine rahs for the manager.

Here is something else from the same paper and is the kind of stuff we like to read.

"It is the wish of the Aggie football team that every student take it upon him or herself to make the Montana players stay in our presence a pleasant visit, one that they will remember. Every Aggie gridiron warrior of the past season is unanimous in voicing that the greatest reception they ever received, was in Montana at Bozeman."

Since the Sophs started studying immorality we have dug up several grave subjects. It reminds us that the cemetery is a mean old place—they lay you on your back and shovel dirt in your face.

"No Eczema," said the acting chairman at the meeting of the faculty which was congregated for the purpose of joining the A. F. of L. "Your cannot join our union. You're too much of a scab."

SOPHOMORES COMPETE IN GRAIN JUDGING CONTEST

All the Sophomore Aggies who are taking field corps under Professor Sumner, entered into a grain judging contest held last Wednesday afternoon. Ethan Ford took first prize of two dollars, and Harry Dundell took the second prize of one dollar. The next four men to place, in the order of their placing, were John Lillard, Lloyd Graham, Arthur Sears, and Charles Lyndon.

The money for the prizes was raised by an entrance fee of ten cents for everyone entering the contest.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY LARGEST IN U. S.

Figures obtained in an extensive review and tabulation of the enrollment of 30 universities for the year 1919 show that New York University is the largest university in the United States. The following are listed as the five biggest institutions in the country. New York University, 11,237 students; University of California, 9,435 students; University of Michigan, 8255 students; Columbia University, 8069 students; and the University of Illinois, 8052 students.

These figures are exclusive of summer school registration. In a period of five years the most notable gain in enrollment is that of 107 per cent by New York University.

The honor system is having a telling effect on the students at the University of California. The system is in the hands of the undergraduate affairs committee and recently suspended one student for six months and deprived two others of Student Union membership for loaning their tickets to students who were not members of the union.

The Chi Omega fraternity initiated Miss English, Miss Dorothy Burgess, Miss Lois Bailey and Miss Josephine Howard Saturday afternoon at the chapter house on West Olive street. This is the first initiation ceremony of the Chi Omega fraternity here since the installation of Sigma Beta chapter of the national organization at Montana State college last October.

Zeta Kappa fraternity entertained their friends at an informal dancing party at the chapter house on South Tracy last Saturday evening. The house was artistically decorated in Japanese style with Japanese lanterns furnishing the lights for the merry-makers. Everything was arranged in fine style and the evening was one of real merriment. The latest jazz furnished the dancers with every opportunity to shake the 'light fantastic toe' in the latest style and everyone danced until midnight, when light refreshments were served by the hostesses. Dainty favors in the form of Corsages and 'Lucky Dogs' featured the several favor dances of the evening. Among those present were Dean and Mrs. Norris and Mr. and Mrs. W. Beck.

Webber of Helena was a visitor at the Sigma Chi house during the week.

Miss Lee of the Extension Department was a guest for dinner at Hamilton Hall Sunday.

Dodo Howard is back on the hill again having recovered from an attack of the mumps.

Mr. J. R. Covert of Billings was a dinner guest at the Sigma Chi house Monday.

Judge Start of Livingston was a guet at the Sigma Chi house on Thursday.

Last Saturday the Alpha Omicron Pi fraternity held their annual initiation. The follwing were initiated: Helen Chase Loucille Staebeler, Ethel Keyes, Margaret Conklin, Mary Maxey, Valborg Rivenes, and Gladys Christenson. After the formal initiation, the active chapter entertained the newly initiated members and the visiting members of the alumnae at a banquet at the fraternity home. The alumni present were: Myrtle Kuhns, '18; Irene Aberhamson, '18; Irma Collins, '16; Doris Ingram, '18; Helen Rose, '20; and Evelyn Border, ex-'22.

The annual initiation banquet of the Chi Omega fraternity was hald Monday evening at the home of Mrs. L. L. Howard on South Tracey avenue, the excellent six course banquet being planned by the Chi Omega patronesses and aalumna members, Mrs. L. L. Howard, Mrs. R. P. Seidlitz, Mrs. F. S. Cooley, Mrs. A. J. Walwrath, Mrs. J. R. Parker and Mrs. J. A. Thaler. The tables were decorated with daffodils and pussy willows and the clever menus were in cardinal and straw, the fraternity colors. Mrs. Vernon Zacker acted as toastmistress and toasts were responded to by Miss Pearl Beauchamp, Miss Lois Bailey, Miss Aline Burgess and Mrs. J. R. Parker. After the banquet the rest of the evening was spent in dancing and singing fraternity songs.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE ASSEMBLY

An interesting business and pleasure meeting of the Woman's League was held during assembly hour last Friday morning. Reports were given by several of the committees, showing the splendid work which ha sbeen done by the League, and outlining plans for future work to be done. A very good report was given by the chairman of the occupational committee, showing that positions have been secured for a number of girls on the campus who desire work.

Henrietta Moebus gave a detailed account of the conference at Pullman, Washington, which she and Ruth Noble attended several weeks ago. This account was very interesting to all the girls, for it showed them what the girls in other colleges were doing and gave them new ideas as to the purpose of the Women's League and the many thinks which can be accomplished by it.

Dean Herrick then presented a beautiful scholarship sup to the League, which is to be given at the end of each year to the unit having the highest scholarship average. Mrs. Herrick expressed a wish that this cup be used by the League, whenever desired, for ornamental purposes and that the unit holding the cup be willing at all times to loan it to the other units.

The story of Madame Butterfly was beautiful told by Mrs. Sierdlitz. accompanied by several selections from the opera played on an Edison phonograph, which were greatly appreciated by the audience.

COMPETITION EXAMINATIONS

Competition examinations for commissions in the regular army will be held on April 25, 1921 at places to be designated by the Corps Area Commander to fill more than 4,000 vacancies which exist or will exist in the grades of 1st. and 2nd. lieutenant. About half of the vacancies exist in the grade of 1st. lieutenant and the applicants will be arranged in the order of merit of the examination.

The arms of the services represented in the list of vacancies are Infantry, Calvalry, Field Artillery, Coast Artillery, Aerial Service, Engineers, Signal Corps, Quartermaster Corps, Ordinance Department, Chemistry, Warefare Service, and P. S.

It will be necessary for the applicant to submit his application at once in order that he may be ordered up for a preliminary examination and for the final examination of April 25. The preliminary examination will probably be local and consists merely of an inquiry into the physical, moral, and mental qualifications of the applicant.

It is necessary for the applicant to be in one of the following classes for appointment: (a) Warrant officer or enlisted man of the regular army of more than two years service. (b) A member of the Officers Reserve Corps or enlisted reserve. (c) A member of the National Guard. (d) A graduate of a technical institution approved by the War Department. Any civilian who passes a satisfactory preliminary examination may readily become eligible for appointment by entering either of classes (b) or (c).

Candidates must be between the ages of 21 and 20 years on the date of appointment, which will probably be some time in June. Further particulars can be had by seeing the professor of Military Science and Tactics at Montana State college, Major Bubb.

The required subjects are: History, Grammar, Geography, Arithmetic, Algebra, Geomatry, Trigonomotry, Physics; and any three of the following: Mathematics, Language, Literature, Electricity, Chemistry, Law or Mining.

DIARY OF LEMUEL SNEEL

Friday Feb. 25.

Was busily engaged today in the process of borrowing money to attend the boxing contests which are to be staged Feb. 31, at the Drill Hall. Through an especially good stand in with the promoters of this affair I learned that Jess Black and Dewey Cashmore are to battle for the Yiddish championship of the second ward. Needless to say this bout will be worth the price of admission to say nothing of the other bouts to be put on.

Saturday, Feb. 26.

Rather a sad day considering the fact that I heard the results from some of those delightful little quizzes we had Wednesday. Mr. Ballard rather sarcastically informed me that one and one make two but I told him that when I wrote that quizz I was thinking in terms of Algebra. All of which reminds me of my dear little friend Mary. Mary tells me she is looking for something (thing? well we'll say thing so as not to be too explicit) but she doesn't want anyone to know it so Ill just say that it begins with T and ends with L. Now some of the girls who are in the same predicament as Mary will know what that means.

Sunday Feb. 27.

My usual day of rest! However I found it necessary to arise early this A. M. in order to get to Ye Ellen Theatre to see the undress rehearsal. After all I am convinced that it was worth while getting up for and incidentally I do not blame Skinny Borton for obtaining a ringside seat, Don't tell anyone but I wept copiously when I found that I could get a seat in the front row. I can't swear to it but I have been told that Torchy and George behaved themselves today.

Monday, Feb. 28

The miracle has happened!! We can now be prepared for most any sort of phenomenon. Fergus Mitchell actualy arrived in English class on time. I am told that he was very unhappy when he discovered his mistake but he couldn't help it. Some villain had turned his watch an half hour ahead. More undress rehersals today but could not attend because of my hitherto unheard of devotion to my work.

Tuesday, March 1.

Wept copiously this A. M. when upon my arrival at the Chem building I find Jess Holderby laboring under the impression that he is a human fly. When I first saw him he had a good start up the side of the building but in an instant I percieved him draped gracefully upon the steps. Speaking of the Chem building etc., Prof. Cobleigh almost drove some fair damsels from class this A. M. when I insisted upon playing with dynamite. He also warned the girls not to get caught in a rainstorm with an artifical silk dress. Ask Geo. Finley the reason—he's an authority. To Ye Ellea tonight to witness the triumph of the present age.

Must remark, although it makes me very unhappy, that Judge Stark did his part in a most realistic manner, in fact it showed weeks of careful rehearsing. Rather thoughtless of Lucille to leave her lips on Ray Amer's cheek I think but I shan't say any more about it.

Mrs. Eckles and Miss Forrest certainly staged a good battle in the library the other day over high finances. Mrs. Davis makes a good referee.

BOBCATS DROP HOOP TITLE.

al minutes. During the first half the Bobcats pressed the Bruins hard holding them down to a 13-12 lead. Jorgenson placed some of his old farm field baskets during the period, while Hollister broke up chance after chance of the Butte forwards to connect with our hoop. The second half started with a rush too, and for the first few minutes the teams traded score for score. Then Larkin and Adams succeeded in unloosing some real "speed Lieg" play, connecting with the basket from every angle for score upon score. The college squad seemed to be unable to break up the passing game of the "U," and only close guarding held the score down to its present tune. "Jorgy" scored 18 points for the team in this game.

The second game was a heartbreaking one for the Bobcats. Playing on the enemy's floor with the high ceiling an aid to the long shooting Bruins, the team put up a fight that came near to holding the title against their rivals. Characterized as the most exciting game played in Missoula this year, it was a story of a Bobcat lead until the final five minutes of play. An eleventh hour rally of the Grizzlies was the only thing that saved the honors for Missoula. The half period ended 13-10 in favor of the Bobcats, the lead having been gained through good team play and through Jorgy's eye at free throws. The second half was marked by considerable rough play as both teams were putting every ounce into the final struggle and deciding game. The team maintained their lead through hard playing until luck and good aim combined allowed Larkin and Ahern to break the lead and take the game 23-19. It was a Bobcat victory until five minutes before the whistle—a victory earned by hard fighting and to lose at so late a period was pure hard luck. Jorgenson and Whitney starred throughout the game, Swede showing the style of playing that has won him respect on the floor, and Whitney showing the real stuff that is in him. His ability to drop in some uncanny shots from the center of the floor added eight points to our score. Hollister showed up in his usual form at defense, besides managing to drop in one long shot from beyond center.

Lineup for the games:

Montana State		Montana "U"
	Forwards
MacCarren		Larkin
Jorgenson		Ohern
	Center
Whitney		Levine
	Guards
Hollister		Baird
Richards		Sullivan

BOBCATS WILL LEAVE FRIDAY

one from the first whistle and the Helena aggregation won a place for themselves in the praise of the college for their clean, fast play and their ability to work the ball across the Bobcat line. They were as snappy a quintet as has been seen in action on our floor this season, but they were outclassed by the Bobcats. They will fight harder than ever this time on their own floor in an endeavor to clean the slate for the season.

We have not had an opportunity to see our team in action against the Mt. St. Charles squad but we have of the Saints by the playing they had a opportunity to judge the play have done against other teams. They played a game against the local Y. M. C. A. team some time ago and put up such a fight that the locals barely nosed them out by one point. They have been playing some hard games since that time and are said to be in the best of shape at the present time so that there is no doubt as to the game they will put up against the Bobcat five. However, application of the Bobcat fight is likely to produce an offensive in these closing games that they will be unable to check. Take two, Bobcats.

SOME OF LAST YEAR'S STARS ARE BACK

week; nor will McAuliffe, the fast center from Butte. Prosser of Helent, the high point winner of the last tournament, is another star that will not be present. Neither McDonald of Big Timber nor McDonald of Park, the two all-state forwards, will be with their respective teams this year.

Nine state tournaments have been held, and in these the winners and runners up were as follows:

1911—Billings, first; Anaconda, second.

1912—Anaconda, first; Flathead second.

1913—Sweet Grass, first; Billings, second.

1914—Helena, first; Missoula, second.

1915—Helena, first; Missoula second.

1916—Helena, first; Sweet Grass, second.

1917—Butte, first; Gallatin, second.

1918—Gallatin, first; Custer, second.

1919—(No tournament).

1920—Beaverhead, first; Billings, second.

RESULT OF DISTRICT TOURNEYS

yor. Of these four teams the first three at least will be invited to the tournament, and possibly Missoula as well.

In the Falls district, the Chouteau Co. (Ft. Benton) team won the championship, with Teton county (Chouteau) taking second honors. Fergus county (Lewistown) took third. The other teams in this district are Great Falls, Cascade, Conrad and Stanford and Belt. The championship game was close and hard fought, ending with Fort Benton on the long end of a 12 to 10 score. This game as were all the games in this tournament was characterized by close guarding. The two teams taking first and second places will be the only ones representing this district at the state tourney.

Dawson county defeated Forsyth for the championship of the eastern district, and Custer county took third, and Fairview fourth. Dawson defeated Forsyth, in a rather one-sided game, by the score of 21 to 13. These two teams will probably be down here for the tournament.

In the Northern district Wolf Point won the championship, held in that city, by defeating Poplar in a close game which ended 10 to 8.

Kalispell upset all pre-tournament prophecies when she defeated Libby for the championship of the Flathead district to the tune of 23 to 20. In the game Kalispell shot 11 field goals to 5 for Libby. Libby had defeated Kalispell in two previous games this season. It has not as yet been decided whether both these teams will come to Bozeman or not.

The tournament for the Southern district is being held this week at Whitehall. The teams in this district which seem to have the best chances of winning are Gallatin, Livingston and Whitehall. Probably just the winner will be at the state tournament.

At present it seems that in the Bitter Root district there will be no tournament held. In that case either Darby or Stevensville will be invited. These teams have far the best records of any in that district, and it has not yet been decided which one will be chosen.

Results of the games played seem to point to Billings and Sweet Grass as the strongest teams in the Yellowstone district. The tournament there has not been played as yet, but probably either one or both of these teams will be at the state tournament.

In every district the games have been close, and everything points to some close, hard fought games on the college floor next week.

and not in order of placing: Ruth Andrews, Teton county high, Choteau; Mary Barnes, Shelby; Jessie M. Cambron, Harlowton; Marjorie Laughlin, Custer county high, Miles City; Kathleen Mace, Sacred Heart Academy, Missoula; Helen Moser, Belt; Elizabeth O'Brien, Havre; Vernon Stezer, Missoula; Ellen Walsh, Helena.

Those students taking honorable mention in the writing were: Fred Gilsdorf, Harlowton; Louise Mills, Helena; Joyce B. Seeley, Helena; Courtney Ferrett, Custer county high, Miles City. Honorable mention in the preliminary elimination contests indicates that the one receiving it would have been invited to the finals were it not for the ruling that no more than one contestant can be chosen from any high school.

MILITARY INSPECTION

Major Bubb is fast putting his R. O. T. C. Unit in shape for the review and inspection to be held here on Monday March 14th, and what promises to be the snappiest inspection yet held here will be held on that date. The companies are now drilling on the athletic field, putting the ceremonial part of the inspection in shape. It will be an inspection worth while and the people on the hill might well avail themselves of this opportunity to see the Military Science Department at work.

EXPONENT TO PUBLISH DAILY.

The Exponent staff will run a daily tournament extra on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week for the benefit of those interested in the interscholastic tournament to be held on those days. On Thursday and Friday the extra will be on the Hill for distribution before the evening games and on Saturday the press will be rushed to get the last issue on the Hill before the crowd leaves the gymnasium after the final game.

The publishing of an extra such as this puts a heavy burden on the editorial staff for the whole period and everyone on the staff should help put the paper across in good shape. A meeting of the entire staff will be held on Sunday afternoon at a place to be decided upon today, and further notice will be posted of this. Staff members and candidates should make a special effort to attend this meeting as final arrangements will be made at that time. The Exponent has been provided with a stand for the games and reports will be phoned to the press as the games progress.

Buy your tourney tickets early while the buying is good. The Fanes will cater to your desires in this respect. How many please?
