BOBCATS RUN RAMPANT OVER GRIZZLIES

BUTTE GRIDIRON CLASH IS COLORFUL SPECTACLE

Bobcat Mascot Present To Symbolize Unconquerable Fighting Spirit of Midget Team. 5,600 Fans See Thrilling Game Between M. S. C. and State U. 600 From Bozeman

Symbolizing an unbeatable team and school spirit a snarling Bobcat stubbornly refused to be led, stalked around Clark Park in Butte Saturday before 5,600 enthusiastic fans gathered from all parts of the state to see Montana's annual football classic between the State college and State university.

The Bobcats new mascot, a real "mountain scratch cat" captured near Grass Range and then taken to Butte for the game was only a small, though spirited part of the day's ceremony and pageantry.

Over 600 students and Bozeman townspeople, by automobile and train reached the Mining City shortly after 10 o'clock Saturday morning where, led by Lou Howard and his colorful Bobcat band, in resplendent blue and gold uniforms, they paraded through several Butte streets to the tune of college songs and the rhythm of yells. Cheerful crowds on the packed streets, joined in the carnival spirit of celebration, thinking only of one thing,—football and the following game. Every small lot and cinder pile in Butte had its swarm of tough Irish kids playing the game as it is played no where else in the world. Stores were decorated for the occasion and strangers in town felt that Montana's metropolis must be a place three times as big as their school books had ever taught them.

Bands Dine Together

During noon hour, the bands from both the State college and university lunched together at the Y. M. C. A. to repeat a part of the pre-game ceremonies, which are already becoming traditional.

At Clark Park by 1 o'clock crowds of rooters were beginning to stream in through the entrances until by the time for the game, 5,600 persons filled almost every available seat in the bleachers and most of the grandstand. An announcer with a raucous voice commented endlessly through a buzzing amplifier as the teams warmed up.

VICTORY ASSEMBLY HELD BY STUDENTS

Aftermath of Victorious Game With State University With Dance, Music, Speeches

To pay honor to the Bobcat football team, which so decisively downed the Grizzlies, the student body of the Montana State college met in the gymnasium yesterday morning, in one of the peppiest assemblies ever known on the campus.

In charge of the program was John Dexter, who kept the crowd in an uproar with his apt remarks concerning the Grizzlies and the Bobcats. He first introduced President Atkinson, who termed the game a "contest of coaching, brain work, school spirit, and sterling fiber." He was further quoted as saying that the Cats were superior in each of these four departments.

Harry Rief of the Montana Power company expressed himself with the assertion that, "The bad break in the first quarter when the Grizzlies

ENGINEERS MEET IN CONVENTION

Tau Beta Pi Convenes in Washington, D. C., for Annual Convention

Rudolph Stokan, Montana State colleges delegate to the Tau Beta Pi convention, returned Sunday from Washington, D. C., where the organization was guest of the University of Maryland chapter and the Washington alumni association, who arranged a very full and entertaining program for the visitors.

Convention headquarters were maintained at the Hotel Rooseveit. Three business sessions were held and the balance of the time taken up with sightseeing and entertainment. Chief among the business transacted was granting a charter to Marquette university, reelecting the present executive council, planning an extensive revision of the present constitution and the placing of next year's convention at Chicago during the World's fair.

The headlining feature of the convention was a visit of President Hoover and a group picture with the president on the White House lawn. A model initiation presented by the University of Maryland, followed by a smoker and entertainment program occupied the first evening. A formal dance at the University of Maryland being the next evening's program. During the afternoons sightseeing tours were made to the various governmental and historic spots which abound in Washington, including visits to Mount Vernon, Washington's home, Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, Arlington, Capitol, White House, Bureau of Standards, Congressional Library, Smithsonian Institute and many other interesting places.

The convention formally adjourned with a banquet at the hotel where among the distinguished visitors and speakers was Mr. I. A. Heikes, valedictorian of the graduating class at Lehigh university in 1885 and first initiate of Tau Beta Pi.

Tau Beta Pi is a national honorary engineering fraternity founded at Lehigh university in 1886. Montana Alpha chapter of a local organization started here in 1920 due to the efforts of Prof. Eric Therkelson and E. L. Grant. At present the organization numbers 61 chapters and over 20,000 members.

Local officers for this year are Rudolph Stokan, president R. Victor Bauer, vice-president Melvin Matsen, treasurer; Gordon Lightfoot, recording secretary, and Walter Duncan, cataloger. Professors Challender, Flew, Good and Dean Cobleigh constitute the membership of the advisory board. The announcement of the fall pledges and presentation of an engraved slide rule for the highest ranking freshman engineer will take place at public assembly in the near future.

Ritter Elected Frosh Prexy At Torrid Meeting

Plurality Vote Conceded as Basis for Selection of Officers By Class of 1936

In the hotly contested frosh elections, held last Wednesday in Main hall, it was decided that Bud Ritter had won the election. This election was particularly interesting, because it was not definitely decided whether the officers should be chosen by majority or plurality. After heated discussions the yearlings decided that they would choose their leader on a plurality.

Ray Van Fleet was chairman of the meeting. In commenting on the election Van had the following to say: "If the Grizzly football team showed half the enthusiasm that the frosh showed in their elections, there is no doubt that the Grizzlies could beat Notre Dame any Saturday during the football season."

Ritter hails from Great Falls where he was outstanding in many scholastic activities. He was also member of the Great Falls football team and won many distinctions while in high school. He pledged S. A. E.

Other officers elected included Don McCrea, vice-president; Bill Eagle, secretary, and Betty Barringer treasurer. McCrea is from Great Falls, Eagle is a local boy from Gallatin High, and Miss Barringer came to M. S. C. from Billings.

The reason for Van Fleet officiating at the elections was due to the fact that Art Ayres, freshman daddy, was in Portland where he was participating in the stock judging contest.

Education Board Passes Proposed Building Plans

Meeting In Butte Is Held Saturday to Discuss Plans for Finances of Greater University

The State Board of Education met in Butte Saturday morning, October 22, for the purpose of considering the budgets which are to be recommended to the Legislature, and also the proposals regarding the erection of buildings. The meeting was held at the president's office at the State School of Mines, with all of the members present, except the attorney general.

The chancellor presented the budgets as recommended by the different units of the University of Montana, and the Board approved the budgets as recommended. These figures will be presented to the State Budget commission for printing in the Legislative budget, which is placed in the hands of the Legislature when it convenes in January.

For the support of Montana State college, the board approved a total of $213,240 for each of the coming two years. For the present year, which ends June 30, 1933, the Legislature appropriated $215,000, but this was reduced 10 per cent by the State Board of Education, which leaves $193,500 for the support of the college from state funds. If the amount approved by the board is appropriated by the Legislature, Montana State college will have $19,740 more for the year beginning July 1, 1933, than for the present year from state sources. However, this will be $1,760 less than was appropriated by the last Legislature. The cut made by the board was part of the effort of the state to reduce the expenditures to the level of the present year's incomes.

Building Proposals Approved

The Board of Education authorized the institutions to prepare applications for loans from the Reconstruction Finance corporation for the erection of self-liquidating buildings. Montana State college, State university, State School of Mines, State Normal college and the northern Montana college all presented plans, and were authorized to proceed to have state architects make the sketches needed in presenting preliminary requests to the state committee of the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

The proposals from Montana State college are for two buildings—a student union building, to be erected at a cost of $250,000, and a sorority res-

R.O.T.C. TO PARADE ON ARMISTICE DAY

Will March With Legionaires In Downtown Celebration; Also Day of Big Football Battle

For the first time in the history of the organization, the Bobcat Battalion will form a unit in the annual Armistice Day military parade. The band will march with the personnel, composed of two sophomore and three freshman companies.

Gallatin Post No. 14 of the American Legion, and Companies C and S, with the 163rd Regimental Band of the National Guard are the remaining units that will form in the line of march.

The R. O. T. C. students are showing rapid strides in mastering the movements of close order drill, and with a few more sessions of marching they will give a good account of themselves November 11. With the new drill system, a cadence of commands, and the pride the men are taking in the outfit as shown by their neat appearance this year's battalion should be one of the finest ever developed at Montana State college.

Major Graham asks the cooperation of every man in doing his part to keep up the fine record the unit has established for itself. He has also announced that on the two drill days following the parade military classes will not meet.

May Form Married People's Club On Campus; 31 Students Eligible

A Marriage club! Well, why not? Statistics show that 31 married people would be eligible from the M. S. C. student body if such a club were to be organized on the campus; and, from all reports there would be a long waiting line in the offing.

The purpose of this club would be to, in any way possible, improve the conditions of married life. This objective suggests many varied meetings.

One month husbands might meet in one building, wives in another. Husbands could discuss things they wished the women would'nt do—and would do—and wives could discuss the same concerning their husbands. The preparation for a meeting such as this should entail no difficulty, as most couples entertain a secret desire concerning their marriage partner.

At a joint meeting, family affairs would probably be discussed, and remedies in the case of troubles, be suggested.

Then, too, there would be the annual parties, such as all clubs have. Even though married couples would have to attend these parties together a good time could be had by both—provided they agreed to change partners during the evening.

No matter what type of meeting would be, a "wrangling good time" would be assured to all, so ship ahoy! for a Marriage club!

Exponent Will Conduct Straw Vote On Presidential Election

Next week the Exponent will conduct a straw vote on the coming presidential election. Interest in this election was even more intense than was anticipated. It will be held Friday in Main Hall, and will be operated along the same lines as the regular student senate elections.

All four candidates who are running for president will be put on the ballot. These will include: Franklin D. Roosevelt; democratic candidate; Herbert Hoover, republican candidate; William Z. Foster, communist candidate, and Norman Thomas, socialist.

Many interesting facts will be brought out by this election. It will show to what extent college students take interest in political elections. It will also show how the students react toward the candidates.

Another interesting feature of the election will be that the faculty will have the privilege of voting with the students. This will show if the faculty manifests an interest in political affairs.

There will also be a third division election. The janitors and other workmen will be asked to cast their votes, with all the factions on the campus represented there should be a clear cross sectional of how the institution and all its departments stand politically.

Because there will be so many inquiries concerning the results of this election, the Exponent will not reveal any return until Tuesday morning, when the Exponent is delivered to the students.

Montana State will not be the only school holding a straw vote. Most of the progressive and leading campuses over the United States are following like suit.

As the returns in other colleges come in, the Exponent will endeavor to print the results.

OXFORD GRADUATE RETURNS TO U. S.

Prominent M. S. C. Graduate Completes Studies Abroad In Famous English School

Matt Pakala, the first Rhodes scholar from Montana State college, returned home, late last summer. He has spent three years of study in England and has received two degrees; a bachelor of arts and a master of arts, majoring in physics and mathematics.

In 1929 Pakala graduated from Montana State college, receiving a bachelor of science degree with a major in electrical engineering. Besides having an A average for four years he was active in campus activities. He was a member of Delta Tau, Septemviri Tau Beta Pi, Phi Kappa Phi, Foreign Relations club, Mathematics and Physics club, Engineering council and the swimming team, with four years of intramural athletics. He graduated when he was 19 years old.

A special committee picked him in his senior year as one of two in Montana to receive this scholarship. Last spring he received a master of arts degree from Jesus college division of Oxford.

The Rhodes scholarship was established by Cecil John Rhodes and provides expenses for a number of students at Oxford university in England

Inmates Of Sing Sing Hard Hit By Graduation Of Star Grid Player

College president, alumni boards and football coaches have to worry about graduation only in June. But plump in the middle of Sing Sing's season the day comes for its team's star guard, William "Jumbo" Morano to leave his alma mater flat. Morano a robber sent up from the Bronx, is due for release on parole October 20 after serving three years, eight and one-half months.

Fellow prisoners, all as anxious to be in circulation ,have nevertheless let it be known that they would consider it a great boon if somehow or other, Morano could take the equivalent of a post-graduate course that would keep him among them until after the last whistle on Thanksgiving. Morano, who is only 21 and very fond of the Bronx, hasn't said anything yet, one way or the other. But Warden Lewis E. Lawes spoke up today.

"I can appreciate how the men feel," he said. "It's their team, and they feel a real loyalty to it. But even if there was some way under the law of keeping Morano here at his own request I wouldn't consent to it."

The Warden was very much impressed. What this shows, as he saw it, was that the introduction of football was accomplishing what he had hoped for—the spontaneous show of normal reactions among men abnormally confined the first requisite in restoring individuals to society.

QUARTER CENTURY FOES OF M. S. C. OVERWHELMED

Inspired Montana State Team Fights Way to Great Victory Over State U at Butte in Traditional Gridiron Encounter. Perfect Teamwork and Good Coaching Responsible For 19-7 Win

Before 5600 startled spectators, a snarling, smashing Bobcat team that would not give an inch, overwhelmed a heavier but slower squad from the State university by a surprising 19-7 score. The Cats, who entered the struggle as underdogs, rang up their second victory in 24 years, and their seventh since the series was inaugurated.

Every threat of the University team was repulsed, the lone touchdown coming in the first quarter after a 93-yard return of a pass interception by Hinman, Grizzly captain for the day. In reply to this, the enraged Cats counted one of their own in the second stanza, after a 52-yard march, and then in the last period, pushed over two more to complete the Grizzly downfall.

Taking the kickoff, the University, was forced to kick to the State 45-yard stripe. After an exchange of kicks the Bobcats took the ball on their own 19-yard marker. Eastman punted 50 yards, and after a poor return kick by Stansberry, it was the Bobcats' ball in the middle of the field. Another exchange of kicks placed the ball on the 48-yard line of the University. Buzzetti threw a perfect pass to Eastman, and the fleet Bobcat quarterback sped 35 yards down the west sideline before he was pulled down by Sayatovich. With the ball on the 12-yard line, Hinman took a Bobcat pass and behind perfect interference raced the length of the field. There was not a Bobcat near him as he crossed the goal. Hileman place-kicked the extra point and the score was 7 to 0.

After the kickoff, a punt and a fumble by Stansberry gave the Cats the ball on their own 45-yard line. Eastman got off a beautiful kick of 50 yards over the goal line. The quarter ended with the University in possession of the ball on their own 22 yard line.

A kick, a return kick, and another University punt saw the Bobcats in possession of the ball in the middle of the field. Edwards made four and Buzzetti gained four more through the line. Edwards then battered his way for 22 yards through the center of the forward wall, placing the ball on the University's 22-yard line.

Parke lost a half-yard but Edwards

DAIRY JUDGING TEAM COMPETES

Local Team Places Third At Portland Against Leading Collegiate Squads

Montana State college's dairy judging team placed third in the recent contest at Portland where they met exceptional teams from Idaho, Washington, Oregon and Utah. In speaking of the contest Coach G. C. Sands, of the dairy industry department, said, "Judging by all teams was exceptionally good with the competition the closest we have seen in years. All scores were low and several new records in judging products were set. The Montana team really did better than we expected because only a very short time was given to the coaching of the men."

With a rating of 69.77 Montana placed first in the judging of milk, Joe Cummings taking first in the individual scoring with an exceptionally low score, and Ray Hixson placing second. In judging ice cream the team as a whole rated second with Joe Cummings taking first in the individual scores. Charles Skinner was fourth, being only two points higher than the man who took first. In butter judging all Montana men rated high, the team placing third in the contest. In the individual scoring of all products Ray Hixson placed fourth.

On their return trip from Portland the team stopped at several large creameries. At Payette, Idaho, they inspected the largest cooperative creamery in the northwest whose annual output is nearly a third of the annual make of all the creameries in Montana. This creamery and another they visited at Caldwell, Idaho, furnish one-third of the products for the Challange Dairy organization in California. They stopped at the Sago Condensed Milk plant at Buell, Idaho but because the plant was idle could not inspect it in operation.

Although no details were available on the agronomy judging team, it was learned that Idaho had won first with Montana third. Francis Niven was second high point man in the contest.

M. S. C. Livestock Win Many Awards

Livestock sent by the animal husbandry department of Montana State college to the Pacific International Liestock Exposition at Portland won several prizes at the show, it has been learned.

In the shorthorn steer classes the awards to Montana animals were: first in junior yearling competition, first and second in the summer yearling and first in a group of three steers entered. These animals were bred at Charles Anceney's Flying D ranch and finished at the college.

In the Hereford division Montana stock won first for a junior yearling steer, second for the summer yearling

BUTTE GAME

With all the shouting and cheering after the smashing triumph in Butte the college again is settling down to the regular routine of class work.

But as a word of warning let everybody remember that the Bobcats have two games ahead before they capture that state grid title. If the team and students keep up the same spirit and fight and show the same cooperation there is no doubt but what they will continue their victory march to further triumphs.

PAINTING SIDEWALKS

Before the big game in Butte some student, group of students, gathering of pages or pledges, members of the faculty, or sorority sweethearts banded together to intensify school spirit by painting the sidewalks.

Their purpose was worthy, their aim was good, and their venture highly successful. But they didn't use the right terms in the right place. And it would have been better if they had of used kalsomine instead of paint.

The Exponent commends the unknown group but hopes that in the future they will use more discretion and express themselves in a less permanent form of decoration.

CURRENT EVENTS

The policy of the Exponent is to get articles of interest for the students of M. S. C. concerning our campus and other campuses.

Last week the Exponent printed an article that Kappa Sigma on the University of Minnesota had disbanded. This article had headlines in the Minnesota Daily, the world's largest college newspaper, and was thought to be authentic.

Upon investigating the matter very thoroughly, the Exponent finds that the Minnesota Daily had made a mistake. Instead, the Exponent found that the Minnesota chapter of Kappa Sigma was holding meetings and had planned a vigorous rushing campaign for next January. The only change in the fraternity's policy was found to be that Kappa Sigma had moved their chapter house. Evidently the reporter for the Minnesota paper must have been a frosh and could not differentiate between moving and disbanding.

THE ATRACK

And now perhaps we won't have to listen to any more stories of "when we won in 1929."

We surely heard something new in the line of Pep Assemblies. Usually they reserve those jokes for faculty dinners.

Who said athletes were big headed? Just look at our ball kickers—wouldn't even stand up so the rest of us could have a look at them.

Another couple of years and we'll all be able to chant those assembly speeches right along with the speakers.

We missed the frosh's sleeping garments Friday night. Awful disadvantage for the girls—They'll just have to guess now what the up to date freshman is wearing.

The Special was one place where a good dancer had very little advantage, for after picking herself up after three or four curves the girl couldn't tell just which fellow had tramped all over her toes.

The Spurs and Fangs must have developed a bad case of sore feet about the time of the Bobcat parade.

Parade again! Who's idea was the cow bell anyway? We don't have to advertise the fact that we're from a cow college.

We're wondering if some spirit would have aided our cheer leader as much as it did his cheery helper.

But then again no doubt the helper had bet his last thin dime on the Cats and that gave him added power.

The prexy must have had a hunch we'd win when he didn't declare a Monday holiday beforehand.

The record sale on extras was largely due to the fact that so many of us had to read it to believe it.

Say, didn't it surprise some of you folks that turned down that bet with the U man?

Maybe the grizzlies will blame this defeat on our huge, ferocious mascot. Why it took a big, heavy chain and two Fangs to hold him. Just try and imagine what He'd do to those tiny, timid players from the "U".

And remember that we look just as bad as those "U" rooters did when we leave the stands early with a defeat in sight.

From the looks of the home-coming Special it would seem that the taste of victory had been too much for some of our following.

Incidentally the second game played sometime between Saturday night and Sunday morning in Meaderville was just as interesting as the first one.

And we wonder, why the Chi O's don't invite the Sig Alphs over; are they scared they'll bring the kitty with them?

But it's a nice calm feline, for its age, and its clows have to be cut and other things must be done so that soon it will be the welcome guest in any sorority.

And now we can bore our grandchildren and rushees for many years with the tale of "how we won in 1932."

PREXY SAYS

One of the most encouraging experiences enjoyed by representatives of Montana State College is the assurance of interest and approval by citizens of Montana from all over the state. The State College-State University football game always attracts a lot of people from various sections, and the general expressions of interest in the work of the college and the attainments of its graduates and students, reinforces our own belief in the worthwhileness of the work of higher education in the fields represented at Montana State College.

Just now the inactivity of industry and business generally, may lead some to question the wisdom of spending four years and making the effort required to get an insight into the foundation courses that are necessary for those who would serve in the fields of applied science. Whenever we detect that such doubts are arising, we do well to remember that the normal condition of the country is a condition of activity, and to an increased degree each year the opportunity for significant part in this activity is greatly enlarged for the trained person. Years when business is dull provide favorable opportunity for the student to complete his undergraduate courses, or if he has completed such work, to get more thorough training through graduate courses. Business activity has always followed depression, and surely will follow the present depression.

FROSH PRESIDENT DEFINES POLICIES

Bud Ritter, up-to-the minute president of the freshman class, submitted this article to the Exponent. Always willing to cooperate with every individual and organization, the Exponent is only too glad to do this favor for Mr. Ritter. The article follows:

"Class organization is fundamental; first, contact with fellow students is beneficial in aiding one to realize the requirements in college life; second, it teaches the student that cooperation is necessary in order to make the school year successful; third, it is a means of showing the benefits of other activities.

"People have been heard to say that the freshman class this year is more outstanding in its accomplishments than those of previous years. In proof of this statement, a few of the active parts taken by the frosh can be pointed out. We have a football team that will be hard to beat. We have artists who are already displaying their talents in the Exponent and Montanan. We have musicians who have succeeded in getting positions in the school band. There is a fine turnout for dramatic work and also for debating. Many of our class members are on the Exponent staff. Let's keep the good work up and before long we will be showing the upper classmen how a class should be run.

"Of course, we have our troubles, too, but they are of a minor nature. It seems that our foremost hindrance is finances. We must learn to be thrifty and have a good time as well as study. In order to remain in good standing with the class, please pay dues to the treasurer at once."

Bud Ritter, Pres.
Don McCrea, Vice- Pres.

RIFLE TEAM PREPARES FOR COMING MATCHES

Lt. Clarence Jackson, rifle team coach, has announced that the range will open soon for practice. Many challenges have been coming in and the team will have a heavy schedule. During the summer, work was done on the range to make it warmer for the winter matches, and new equipment was added for the convenience of the men firing. At present, Montana State college may boast of one of the finest indoor ranges of any similar school.

Teacher Now At North Carolina

Mr. Kenneth B. Demaree instructor of English at Montana State college, is now working for his doctorate at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He has one year's leave of absence. Mr. Demaree will have two more years of work, in addition to that completed this year, before he will receive his degree.

Last year was Mr. Demaree's third year at Montana State college. He conducted classes in nineteenth century literature, with emphasis on the Victorian poets and development of the novel and the effect the political, religious and social movement had on the literature of that age. He also conducted classes in composition.

Mr. Demaree was born in Japan his parents being American missionaries to that country, and came to the United State when he was 13 years old. Demaree attended high school in Kentucky and took part of his undergraduate work at Kentucky Weslyn college. He is a graduate of the under graduate school at the University of Southern California In 1928 he received his M. A. degree from the University of Michigan. He is now at the University of North Carolina working for his doctorate in the special field in Old English. Romantic movement, and sixteenth century literature.

Bert Hansen of the English department, recently received a letter from Mr. Demaree, who tells of living at the Graduate club. Demaree declares he is very busy and hasn't any time for tennis or golf. He is to return to the M. S. C. faculty next fall.

Mamy Crum is teaching in a rural school near Livingston.

Just what is "rough cut?"

THE tobacco that is cut best for pipes might be termed "whittle cut" or "rough cut," like Granger. It requires a type of tobacco different from the tobacco used for chewing tobacco or cigarettes. Then again, Granger is made by Wellman's Method.

Granger has a pleasing aroma. It is slow burning and cool. Just try it!

With the stimulation of ideal weather, a traditionally thrilling fray, and an inspiring and unexpected victory over an ancient foe, social enthusiasm during the past week-end reached a peak seldom attained at Montana State College. Flaunting predictions of a decisive defeat on Saturday and determined to maintain Bobcat spirit, over 400 students attended a rally dance at the gymnasium on Friday night. Hoffie's orchestra furnished music for this exuberant dance sponsored by the Independents.

The scene of college society was temporarily shifted to Butte Saturday as a large number of the students gathered for the annual Bobcat-Grizzly combat. Butte students hospitably entertained their friends at their homes, while others met at hotels and restaurants for informal luncheons. Following the game enthusiasm was unrestrained and everyone joined in celebration of the Bobcat triumph.

The mixer held yesterday morning after the assembly marked a fitting close for the week-end excitement and activity as those who were not already completely exhausted took advantage of this opportunity to enjoy themselves for a short time before once again settling down to work. Although the snow may fall and cold winds blow around the corners, and work again holds sway, the joys of the past week-end will linger long in the memories of Montana State college students.

Montana Orators Petition National

The University of Montana will become affiliated with Pi Kappa Delta national debate fraternity, as soon as the necessary arrangements are completed.

Pi Kappa Delta, with a chapter membership of 137, was organized January, 1913, at Riplon college, Wisconsin. The fraternity is now expanding from the small denominational schools to the state universities. Every other year a national convention is heldwith district tournaments during the alternating years.

Although the university cannot be installed until the national convention meets in the spring of 1934, it will be eligible to send guest participants to the district tournament in Helena next March. Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana will compete in the meet. Included in the Montana chapters are Intermountain Union college and Montana State college.

It is the purpose of the organization to stimulate progress in, and to promote the interests of, intercollegiate oratory, debate and public speaking. Membership is attained by representation in a recognized intercollegiate oratorical or extemporaneous speaking contest or by participation in two decision debates, or in three no-decision debates.

"FINDING things out, smarty! I thought I'd examine the tobacco in a cigarette.

"Look here... this is Chesterfield tobacco. Notice its lighter color... you don't see any dark heavy types, do you? I guess that's why Chesterfields are milder.

"I'm told that uniformly lighter color is due to cross-blending. It sort of welds all the tobaccos into one.

"And here's something else. Notice that these long shreds are all cut the same width. It stands to reason they burn smoother and cooler.

"I don't pretend to be an expert but it looks to me as if they make Chesterfields right.

"Here, light one. That's the best test after all. They Satisfy."

FRESHMAN TEAM READY FOR GAME

Coach Adams To Spend Next Two Weeks Preparing For Clash With Cubs

Now that the frosh squad is rounding itself into shape, it will meet it's first test this coming Saturday, Oct. 29, when it tangles with the Billings Polytechnic aggregation. A week later will find the Kittens and the Cubs clashing in their annual battle.

All tall Coach Adams has drilled the squad in fundamentals. A scrimmage with the varsity now and then gave them valuable experience. This week however, the Kittens will be drilled extensively on offensive in preparation for the Cub game.

In the previous years Polytec has had a strong eleven while this year according to the "dope," they are comparatively much weaker. Intermountain shut them out 45 to 0. They really shouldn't offer much competition to the Kittens.

The Cubs haven't played any games this year but they are sure to be a good match. The Cubs will be out to win in an effort to erase some of the sting of their varsity defeat, while the Kittens will strive to repeat the Bobcat's triumph.

In the first game Bob Adams will probably start:

L. E.—Oliver.
L. T.—Myers
L. G.—Keller
C.—Norris
R. G. Antonich
R. T.—Schuyler
R. E. Tiddy
Q. B.—Olivera
L. H. Coffee
R. H. Eppe
F. B.—Russel

In the line, Miller, Wilkinson, Bang, Ancell, Kravik, Pentilla and Rowland have ably accounted for themselves. In the backfield Dyche and Groof should taste action in the coming games.

Two prominent men are out of the first game with injuries. Garner has a broken bone in his foot and Rowland sustained a cracked rib in practice.

As a whole the frosh squad is very promising and should develop some good varsity material. They can win these games if they will just "play football."

gained two. Eastman smashed through for five. Edwards fumbled, but Coey recovered for a gain of five yards. It was first down for the Bobcats on the Grizzly 10-yard line. Buzzetti was spilled for a loss of two yards.

On a criss-cross Edwards picked up ten. Buzzetti was stopped on the six-inch line. On the next play, Buzzetti tok it across, completing a 52-yard march for the Bobcats. It was the most sustained drive of the game. Parke placed-kicked for the extra point tying the score, and the Cat fans went wild.

The rest of the half was ineffectual for both teams.

As the teams lined up for the second half kickoff, a cold wind swept the field. Taking the kickoff, the Grizzlies drove relentlessly through till they reached the nine-yard stripe. Here the Cats stopped Hinman and Caven with a yard each and took the ball. After an exchange of punts, the Bobcats held for downs once more on the 20-yard marker.

Then came a decisive break, when Stansberry fumbled a kick and Flanagan, end, recovered the ball on the Grizzly 36-yard line. Edwards sliced off tackle for four yards, and then led Buzzetti through the center for 20 yards and a first down on the 11-yard line, the dead ball rule staving off the score as Buzzetti fell in a clear field. Edwards picked up four as the quarter ended with the score still 7 to 7.

Edwards scooped up a bad pass for no gain, but the Grizzlies were offside and took a five-yard penalty. Buzzetti gained a yard and a half in two plays and Edwards dived over for a touchdown. The attempted kick was blocked.

The Bobcats stopped a Grizzly drive on their 17-yard line. A long punt and a penalty put the University back on their own 10-yard line. Shortly later, an ineligible Grizzly received a pass and the ball went to the Cats on the 20-yard line from where Buzzetti sidestepped his way around end for a touchdown. The try for point was blocked, with the Cats leading 19 to 7. In the waning minutes the Grizzlies unleased a desperate aerial attack, which carried them to the 20-yard stripe as the game ended.

"I deplore the lack of intelligence as compared with the over-production of intellect in America," says Dr. Edward O. Sisson, professor of philosophy at Reed college and former president of the University of Montana.

COLLEGE TANGLES SAT. WITH MINERS

Boys From Butte Have A Team That Is Bound To Give The Dychemen Trouble

Next week Coach Dyche's gridsters will again journey to Butte to their old stomping grounds to tangle with the scrappy School of Mines team. A victory will be necessary for a chance at the state title.

The Miners have a good team this year. In their two games so far they trounced an indepenent team in Butte 14-0 and intermountain 25-14. They are reputed to have a very dangerous passing attack, it being the main thing in their offensive tactics. Led by their "big guns" Head and Erickson, both of whom have played frosh football at Anapolis for Navy, they are expected to give the Cats a lot of trouble. In lieu of an anticipated Cat letdown and a dangerous aerial attack the School of Mines present dangerous opposition.

to awaken an enthusiasm which soon broke forth wildly as the players left the field for a last minute strategy meeting. The Bobcat and Grizzly bands then marched to the center of the gridiron where they played "Montana," accompanied by 6,000 voices from the audience. During the interval before the players returned three rockets were fired high into the air. As the first exploded and released the blue and gold emblem of Montana State college, the Bobcat band struck up its stirring victory song, "Hit the Line Montana." A moment later the university banner floated down while the west stands broke forth with "Up with Montana Boys." The third rocket released the red, white, and blue of our national flag and every person in Clark Park rose with bared heads while both bands played "The Star Spangled Banner."

An hour and a half later, with sweet victory won, after one of the most sensational games in the history of the two schools, Montana State rooters left the field cheering, while the band paraded over the battle ground.

DEBATORS PREPARE FOR COMING MEETS IN NEAR FUTURE

Tentative arrangements for a debate with North Dakota Agricultural college have already been made for the early part of January.

The date for the traditional freshman-sophomore debate has been set for November 18. A feature of this debate is the selection of the outstanding freshman debater for the Pi Kappa Delta cup award which was won last year by Ben Law.

The northwest convention of Pi Kappa Delta will be held in Bozeman this year, some time in April. Schools which will compete for this provincial debate championship include Linfield college, College of Puget Sound, College of Idaho, Intermountain Union, and Montana State. Montana University and Carroll College may also be invited to participate.

Other debates are being planned with Montana schools to give experience to contestants for the Rocky Mountain Forensic League tournament, which is to be held at the University of Wyoming in Laramie this year.

Professor Hanson says that any students who are interested in debating or in the war debt question should attend the background lectures which are given every week. The first lecture of this series was given last Wednesday by Professor Eric Therkelsen who explained the German attitude toward reparations and the war debt. Professor Burlingame will explain the historical significance of the question this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Little Theater of Montana Hall.

idence building with a capacity of 120 persons at a cost not to exceed $205,000. The figures are to include the cost of the buildings completed and furnished.

In support of the requests to the chancellor and the Board of Education,, state architects prepared preliminary sketches, and these with the statement of prospective incomes, out of which the interest is to be paid and the debts retired, were presented. These plans were very preliminary, as the architects had only a few days to give the matter consideration.

The next step is to prepare a little more complete descriptions of the proposals, and to present these to the Montana state committee of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. If approved by this committee, more complete plans and specifications will be made up, and the matter will be laid before the national committee at Washington, D. C.

The proposals from the State university are for a student union building and a men's dormitory. From the State School of Mines a men's dormitory, and dormitories for the State Normal college at Dillon and at the Northern Montana colleg at Havre.

Silverware from the Stanford university dining room continues to disappear although police periodically comb fraternities for the missing articles. Some of the tableware has been discovered in the dining hall of a New England college, and some in China.

VICTORY ASSEMBLY HELD BY STUDENTS

scored, just made the Bobcats madder, made them claw harder, and made them win."

Gordon Cottier of the Alumni association, went on record as in favor of holding the game in various cities over the state in future years. He also added local color by telling his reminiscences of the past games with the university.

Fred Bennion, former coach of M. S. C., said: "I have watched Oakes get this team together, and there is no question that they have a great aggregation. They have gathered men with wonderful high school records from this and a great many other states. The Bobcats surely were a disappointment to Mr. Oakes."

Coach Schubert Dyche talked on the aspects of football as it is now being commercialized over the United States. "The reason for the State college's victory was that everybody cooperated," Dyche said in closing.

Dyche then introduced all the members of the team, who were present at the assembly.

John Dexter gave some interesting facts on the two teams. M. S. C. had ten men weighing less than 155 pounds, while the university had none. The university had players from nine different states, while the college players hailed from two. He also said, "If Montana has any all-American material, it is surely in McLean."

Former Buddies On Rival Teams

Once again the crowd at the annual Bobcat-Grizzly game witnessed two former team mates playing for rival schools.

Paul McLean, Bobcat captain and center, fought against Chalmer Lyman, lanky end for the Grizzlies. These two players were once team mates at Helena high school where they played side by side in the line. At that time Lyman was tackle while McClean held down the center position. These men are the best of friends and both are stellar players for the two schools.

The last time two boyhood friends played against each other was two years ago, when Max Worthington, a Bobcat, and Clyde Carpenter, Grizzly, both rival captains, shook hands in the middle of the field before the whistle blew.

WITH CLIVE IN INDIA
"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the noted artist, Karl Godwin ... inspired by the fierce and brilliant assault by Clive and a handful of followers, outnumbered 20 to 1 by savage hordes of bloodthirsty natives, at the Battle of Plassey—the birth of the British Indian Empire—as described in the famous Henty book, "With Clive in India."
—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

Copr., 1932, The American Tobacco Co.
They are not present in Luckies . . . the mildest cigarette you ever smoked
WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.
"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies
"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, tho he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.
Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?
