A Birthday Wish, Sweetheart

You know how much I love you, but I wonder if you know You mean far more to me each day than words can ever show-- I'll always need you, Sweetheart, to make my dreams come true-- That's why this brings a world of love straight from my heart to you!

Happy Birthday

All my Love

Dearest Bud: (The only paper in the house)

It's 8:30 A.M. at Hillside Beach under cloudy skies. The sun was shining earlier, but it looks like rain now. It's warm though, so it's pleasant.

The kids are outside putting out sunflower seeds for the squirrels, which have been named, - the most popular fellow being "Casey", who appears to be the fastest snatcher of food in the area.

The new pet in the cottage is thankfully in a jar with grass - his name is "Slimy", the caterpillar.

The night went well for me - no strange noises, only a few cars passed the cottage during the night (I heard every one of them!)

Bud, I have been so lonely, I miss you terribly. Our lives are so intertwined, it's difficult to cope without you. Our telephone conversations help.

You are constantly on my mind, and, are my last thoughts on my mind when I go to bed, missing your presence, and my first thoughts in the morning.

Random thoughts of you keep drifting through my mind - walks on the beach at Signal Mtn - you, patiently showing me how to cast - (put some power into it) - walking with you in the snow at Mammoth - kaloney and vodka - your kiss at the I77C opening - and a million
