Faculty advisers have immediate charge of all matters pertaining to a student's school life. There are thirteen grades ranging from A to E.

A represents work of special distinction.

B represents highly satisfactory work.

C represents creditable work.

D- represents work of the lowest passing grade.

E represents failure. A student who receives this grade as the final term-mark of the year in any course will not be given credit for the course; if he is a senior, he will not receive a diploma.

Students who attain an average nearer A than B receive Highest Honors. Students who attain an average of B receive High Honors. Students who attain an average nearer B than C receive Honors. All students receive Honors in single subjects in which they attain A.

The figure 2 written after a grade indicates unsatisfactory effort.

Absences from school appointments due to willfulness or negligence are recorded as unexcused.
