NOTES

I and three of my fellow
Conservation Officers went to Vernal, Utah to attend your Pest-
Rotation Course of January 29, 1971.

I am sorry for the cancellation
but am interested in attending one of your courses - preferably a three day course. Would you please inform me of where & when I could participate in one given in Colorado. My address is above

Thank you.

Memorandum

To: Gus Hormay

From: Chief, Division of Range

Subject: Montana Request for R/R Evaluation

Montana

The attached memorandum and its attachments indicates your recent Billings training was a success. I am sure this makes you feel good. I am pleased.

Gus, try to work into your schedule Ed Zaidlicz request for an evaluation visit to rest rotation systems that have been in operation for a while. Perhaps you can work in the Fish and Game's request to view the Gallatin Elk area at the same time.

We hope your mother is improving.

Memorandum

To: Director (330)
From: State Director - Montana
Subject: Rest-Rotation Training by Gus Hormay; Fish and Game Request for Further Services

We have attached three thank you letters for furnishing the recent training in Billings; one each from the State Fish and Game Department, the Soil Conservation Service and Montana State University.

The training has significantly benefited our relations with other agencies and land users who have an interest in grazing land management. We thank you for providing A. L. (Gus) Hormay to us so that we could in turn offer his services to others.

Fish & Game

The Fish and Game Department letter includes a request for two days of Gus's time to evaluate the Gallatin winter elk area. This is developing into a highly critical and politically sensitive situation in the Montana environmental arena, and we would like to provide the assistance if at all possible. It appears that any time during the summer would be suitable for evaluating the winter range.

RR
BLM

There is nothing firm on a visit to Montana by Gus as mentioned in the Fish and Game Department letter. We have mentioned to Gus that we would like to have him spend a week with us next summer or fall to visit some rest-rotation systems that have been operational for several years.

Will it be possible to work the evaluation into Gus's schedule as requested?

Mr. Edwin Zaidlicz, State Director
Bureau of Land Management

Dear Ed:

I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate you on providing such a fine, informative school on rest-rotation. Our personnel were high in their praise of Gus Hormay, and the way he presented the material. They were fairly long sessions, but interesting to the point that most of our personnel stayed awake throughout the entire three days. We will be watching over your shoulder to see that all of the good things that were said are put into your operation.

Along this vein, we would like to request the services of Gus Hormay, through your organization, to take a look at our Gallatin winter elk area. It is our understanding that he is going to come to Montana next summer to look over some of your project areas. This would be an excellent time to obtain his services to look at our Gallatin situation. We are in hopes that through the persuasive nature of your good office we can secure two days of his time to make this inspection with our personnel. If there is anything we need to do in addition to making this request at this time, please let us know, because we are very interested in having his evaluation of what is developing into a ticklish situation.

Sincerely,

FRANK H. DUNKLE

Dear Mr. Zaidlicz:

I would like to thank you for inviting our Range Conservationist, M. J. Boken, and District Conservationist, Earl Love, of Dillon to attend your recent training session on Rest Rotation Grazing.

The report of the training session was extremely favorable. Our men noted and were pleased with the large attendance of State Fish and Game personnel.

We wish to acknowledge the cooperation of your District Office at Dillon. There are now over 200,000 acres of rangeland in Beaverhead County that are under intensive rotation management as a result of BLM, SCS and rancher cooperation.

Sincerely,

A. B. Linford
 State Conservationist

Dear Mr. Zaidlicz:

The staff and students in range management here at MSU want to say "thank you" for arranging Gus Hormay's two days here. We all thoroughly enjoyed his presentations and informal discussion.

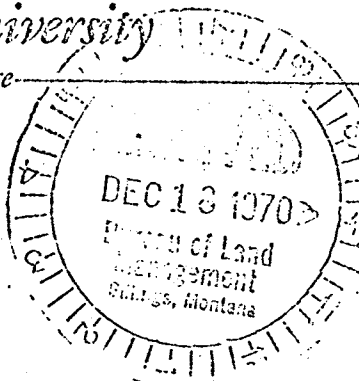

I want to thank you for having Rex Cleary along with Gus. Rex was a big help in making things run smoothly. He also answered some questions about Bureau operations that were not in Gus's ball park.

Sincerely,
