Since the mid-1800s, Milwaukee has been synonymous with beer and breweries. Even Milwaukee's baseball team, the aptly named Brewers, play in the corporate-sponsored Miller Park. Without a doubt, Miller is the best-known Milwaukee beer, with its brewery operating in a giant complex west of downtown. But once upon a time, there were three other large breweries in the Milwaukee area: Pabst, Blatz, and Schlitz. We still see these beers in stores today, but they're no longer produced by the Milwaukee beer barons who started the companies in the 1800s. Milwaukee residents see the Pabst Theatre and Mansion, the Blatz loft apartments, and the Schlitz Park business center, so these "other" Milwaukee breweries have left their traces. What ever happened to Pabst, Blatz, and Schlitz? How did Milwaukee go from a four-company fray to what is (basically) a one-brewery town?

Pabst Brewing Company

Back in 1844, before Wisconsin was even a state, two immigrant siblings from Mettenheim, Germany, founded a Milwaukee brewery that would become nationally recognized. Jacob and Charles Best created Best and Company, which was essentially a relocation of their existing German brewery.

[As a side note, Charles Best parted ways with his brother and Jacob and opened his own brewery in 1848, which he later sold to one Frederick Miller; hence the origin of both Pabst and Miller are traced to Best and Company.]

Through a marriage in 1859, the Best family became intertwined with the Pabst family, and by 1889, the brewery took on the Pabst name. Though there were many struggles along the way, including fires, sellouts, and changes in leadership, the modest Best and Company had become the powerful Pabst Brewing Company, known for placing blue ribbons on its signature brand to remind customers of the award the brew had won. It was during the hectic heyday of Pabst's growth in the late 19th century that the company purchased an old opera house near City Hall, donated it to the people of Milwaukee, and christened it the Pabst Theatre residents know today.

Though prohibition was hard on breweries, Pabst dipped into other ventures - including cheese - to keep its business alive. After the repeal of the Amendment XVIII, the company returned to the beer business, growing its brand during the 1940s through the 1970s. It is this era of Pabst to which 21st century hipsters began paying tribute by wearing Pabst t-shirts and drinking the accompanying beer.

The 1980s and 1990s saw a decline in the Pabst brand, and eventually, the company left behind its Chestnut Hill brewery complex on the northwest edge of downtown Milwaukee and relocated to San Antonio. The decaying brick slums, now visible from I-43, are a reminder of a former empire, and the

Title: Downtown Manitowoc ca. 1947

Creator: Francis M. Kadow [photographer]

Date: ca 1947

Place/Time: Manitowoc County (Wisconsin) / Manitowoc, Wisconsin

Description: This view looking southeast from an upper floor of Hotel Manitowoc shows a portion of downtown Manitowoc, Wisconsin as it appeared not long after the end of World War II. In the bottom center is the intersection of North Eighth and Commercial Streets, with the Sears Roebuck building on the southeast corner. There had been a fire in the Sears building in January, 1944, forcing the store to relocate temporarily to 825 Commercial Street. A larger Sears store re-opened at this original Eighth Street location on March 19, 1947, with reconstruction having been delayed due to wartime and post-war shortages of materials. Across the street on the northeast corner at 724 Commercial Street is "The National," which started as a confectionery and then also sold wine and liquor. At the right center is the Eighth Street drawbridge, framed by two control houses or "tender houses." Immediately beyond the bridge, the large brick building is the Elks Club at 809 South Eighth Street. The Elks Club hosted a number of submarine commissioning parties and other special events during the war years. In the center of the picture, behind the Elks Club, is a large coal shed with a sign for the Spindler Company painted on the side. This coal shed actually belonged to the Manitowoc Land and Fuel Company. The Spindler Company, a supplier of coal, coke, fuel oil, ice, masonry supplies, and ready mix concrete, was located two blocks west at 821 South Tenth Street. Beyond the coal shed, the building with "skylights" is Manitowoc Boiler Works, part of the Manitowoc Shipbuilding Company which built submarines for the U.S. Navy during the war. Farther in the distance are buildings of Lakeside Packing Company and the Rahr Malting Company.

Social Security Is Paid Abroad

New York, (AP) — Many an immigrant of a generation ago is returning to the old country and a life of comparative luxury on U. S. social security old age pensions.

That's the report from the social security bureau. Fifteen thousand retired workers already have left this country, and the number grows daily.

For no matter where he is—so long as he's outside the iron curtain—beneficiary of Uncle Sam's old age and survivors insurance will get his check regularly. Chances are that, with the $20 the law allows him to live a lot more comfortably over there than in the U. S. and certainly better than his new neighbors.

Edward J. Sinder, manager of clearing house for European claims, estimated that $3,384,000 will have been sent overseas this fiscal year alone.

Overseas means to such countries as Italy, France, Greece, Austria, even Australia and New Zealand.

Until recently, checks could go to all countries except Russia. But a treasury department ruling dropped a barrier over places where "there is no reasonable assurance that individuals can get the checks and negotiate them for full value."

The money is held in a fund for the beneficiary in such cases.

Even Native Americans.

More than 40 per cent of those returning to the old countries with pensions originally came from Italy.

But native Americans are included in the exodus, too.

An Italian wrote a social security investigator in his native tongue:

"Many thanks for your bounty. Glad to hear you are well. I am feeling much better and am enjoying the sun and sky of the Riviera."

This man, an old mason workman, gets $60.50 a month. His 16 year old daughter also is eligible for payments and his wife will be in five years, under the law.

Assuming a family in Italy were getting the maximum monthly benefit, $150, it could be turned into $3,750 lire a month.

The average Italian worker's income is 60,000 lire monthly, according to the Italian consulate.

Praises Nursing as Life Career

By Dr. Carl N. Neupauer

Now that your last high school exam is written and graduation excitement is a memory, you are a young life with a new future. What kind of a career will you choose for your own personal satisfaction?

Nursing is a great profession because it presents such wide opportunities for improvement and the field is far from crowded. If you dream of traveling, there are nursing positions in the world, health organizations, and in American embassies and legations abroad.

A busy hospital routine may appeal to you, or one of the ever increasing jobs in adult health nursing. Public health nursing is your field if you are a true humanitarian. For guidance, community service, in the teaching line, or in a school, write to the nursing field, there is a growing need for nursing education. You will find that nursing and your teacher-student relationship could carry you up to a three star life in nursing.

Perhaps you'd like to spend a year or two of your life in a hospital, or even in the armed forces. More than half of the nurses trained in the past have married. Many have found it possible to combine full or part time nursing with a home life. A wonderful feeling of confidence in meeting the illness and accidents that people suffer in their families.

If you want to be a nurse, you can find out more in your present training. You can train to be a practical nurse in one year. You can become a registered nurse in two years under the hospital training program. At the same time, you can become a registered nurse and a bachelor's degree as well as a master's degree.

In Wisconsin there are 24 increasing jobs in adult health nursing. Public health nursing is your field if you are a true humanitarian. For guidance, community service, in the teaching line, or in a school, write to the nursing field, there is a growing need for nursing education. You will find that nursing and your teacher-student relationship could carry you up to a three star life in nursing.

not know if it will come to a practical result.

"There has never been any idea of using a vaccine on a large scale and we do not understand the announcement that seems to have been made, by Miss Kenny."

Dr. Blanc offered no statement in his letter to bear out Sister Kenny's statement that work on the vaccine was hastened by "the knowledge that the disease is systemic."

I wrote to Sister Kenny in Australia asking for comment. She replied she first learned of the vaccine research from an item in a ship's paper which she saw while en route to the United States from Europe last summer.

She enclosed a copy of the item, which said substantially what she had declared in Washington later—with the exception that the item did not link the research with her concept that polio is a "systemic" disease.

She further said in her letter to me that she had called public attention to the research because "if it were true, it was very valuable information." She thanked me for investigating its status.

(Next: Sister Kenny battles on.)

Storm Damage in Kansas Heavy

Wakeeney, Kansas, (AP)—Gloomy Kansans, plagued by tornadic winds, floods and hail, are asking: "What next?"

More than a month of rains and periodic winds has cost the state millions of dollars. At least 14 persons have died in storms and flood waters.

The latest weather wallop came Wednesday. A tornado whipped through this western Kansas town of 2,000, destroying 45 homes and damaging 48.

Three persons were killed and more than 40 injured.

The town struggled Thursday to restore communications and power circuits and clean up the debris over a 10 blocks area.

Although the twister was the worst blow of the month, other towns and cities throughout the state have suffered extensive wind damage.

The rains have flooded thousands of acres of farmland. Rampaging rivers have washed out bridges, and swept into towns and suburban areas. Landslides and high waters have slowed highway and rail travel.

Wednesday flood waters from both the Solomon and Saline rivers backed up into the city of Solomon in central Kansas. Water ran knee deep in most of the business district and isolated approximately 25 homes. Basement walls of some of the residences collapsed.

Hays, 25 miles southeast of here, braced for another flood Thursday. The big creek sent flood waters into the city of 9,000 twice previously this year. Six persons died there in a flash flood last month when waters swept over 40 to 50 city blocks.

H. L. Collins, agricultural statistician, estimated the state's crop, livestock and stored grain losses from the weather at $22,000,000 to $24,000,000.

Tardy Congress Must Speed Up to Pass Laws

By James Marlow

Washington, (AP) — This Congress, between sitting on its hands and conducting quizzies, has made hash of the regular job of lawmaking.

In the time which has been wasted, the Senate, at least, must stay here all summer.

Since nothing can become law unless both houses approve, it would have made no difference how fast the house alone worked.

And the Senate has lagged behind the house, away behind.

Various suggestions have been made around Washington to explain the tardiness, such as these:

That President Truman, even though his Democrats are in a majority, has lost so much control over Congress he can't get the lawmakers to work with him.

That some of the Republicans and some Democrats are so antagonistic to Mr. Truman that they've been living back day.

That the congressional committee, months and now a year, are the lawmakers, and that some of them are doing nothing.

But not the least of the reasons for the delay is that the members of this committee, at the time of their regular lawmaking job couldn't show up the whole year.

Each year seems to bring its own session which then is expanded into an investigation, giving the Senators—besides information—a chance to play politics and make the headlines.

3 Big Quizzes. This year there was a deluge of quizzes. It took up eight weeks.

SAFETY FIRST—The Wisconsin Aluminum Foundry, here in Manitowoc, received a safety plaque from the Wisconsin Council of Safety on Monday. The plaque was given for the best percentage improvement of their 1950 frequency over their 1949 frequency rate. Shown in center above is D. N. passed a single one of the dozen appropriations bills. So, it will take to vote stop gap money to keep the government running from July 1 until Congress meets the regular appropriations.

About 10 months ago Congress passed the defense production act, giving the government power to control prices and wages and other things, and said the law would be in effect for one year.

In the middle of the month it had to make up its mind, Congress now finds itself unable to agree on what kind of law to enact to continue after June 30, and for how long. House leaders say it can't do the job by Saturday.

They are pushing for a measure to keep the law on the books as a sort of a new law can be enacted upon. But in the Senate there is strong opposition to such a measure. Whether a law around this purpose will be found is uncertain.

Then there's the question of taxes. Some days ago the House voted to put the tax on the program, all $4 billion dollar, although in this case the Truman administration did not tell Congress how much it really wanted until a few weeks ago.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby

Certain hands are types that every experienced player should recognize at once. Today's hand, for example, should be a matter of routine to a good bridge player.

South wins the first heart trick and returns the queen of diamonds at once. This gives the opponents a choice of defenses—both equally bad.

If the defenders return trumps, declarer gets a free finesse and can probably, with normal distribution, draw the trumps and then develop the diamonds. Normally, the hand should then lose two diamond tricks but nothing else.

If the defenders fail to return trumps, South is ready to cross-trump. For example, suppose West returns the ace of diamonds and returns a heart. Dummy wins the heart and crosses to the king of hearts and an attempt is made to cash the king of diamonds.

The attempt fails when East ruffs with a low trump. South calmly overruffs and cashes the ace of clubs, and returns to dummy's last heart. Then South ruffs a heart in dummy.

Now dummy leads another diamond, and South ruffs, while East discards a club. South now ruffs a club in dummy with the right of spades and returns to his hand by ruffing a diamond for the third time. East discards his last club on this trick.

South leads another club, but with the king of hearts and an attempt is made to cash the king of diamonds.

Now dummy leads another diamond, and South ruffs, while East discards a club. South now ruffs a club in dummy with the right of spades and returns to his hand by ruffing a diamond for the third time. East discards his last club on this trick.

South leads another club, but with the king of hearts and an attempt is made to cash the king of diamonds.

The attempt fails when East ruffs with a low trump. South calmly overruffs and cashes the ace of clubs, and returns to dummy's last heart. Then South ruffs a heart in dummy.

must make sure to ruff with dummy's ace. East, left with only trumps, must ruff under. Then South a king of spades is good for his tenth trick.

It is interesting to note that South would lose his contract if he tried to ruff with the jack of spades. East would overtake with the queen and would return a trump, telling the ace and king of trumps on the same trick.

South wins the first heart trick and returns the queen of diamonds at once. This gives the opponents a choice of defenses—both equally bad.

If the defenders return trumps, declarer gets a free finesse and can probably, with normal distribution, draw the trumps and then develop the diamonds. Normally, the hand should then lose two diamond tricks but nothing else.

If the defenders fail to return trumps, South is ready to cross-trump. For example, suppose West returns the ace of diamonds and returns a heart. Dummy wins station in Manitowoc County and features a talk radio format with adult contemporary music and local sports.

WOMT has come along way since its founder, Francis Kadow, first went on the air at 5:30 PM on November 8th, 1926. At that time, WOMT's studios and offices were located on the second story of the Mikadow Theatre Building across from Washington Park in Manitowoc. The call letters at that time were chosen to stand for "World's Only Mikadow Theatre." Francis and Lillian Kadow owned and operated the station until 1967, when it was purchased by Wisconsin Fuel & Light Company and was moved to its building on North 10th Street. Current owner Don Seehafer, president of Seehafer Broadcasting, purchased WOMT on January 1, 1970. WOMT's studios and offices are now located in their own building on Mangin Street in Manitowoc and have been operating from that location since 1980.

ACCIDENT LISTED

Manitowoc — A single traffic accident, which occurred Saturday, was reported to county traffic police Monday. In it, cars driven by John E. Kornely, Mishicot, and Earl Abbott, no address listed, collided at the intersection of a town road and highway 141, just north of Rockwood. Damage was minor, according to County Traffic Officer Jack Jackson.

State Becomes Battleground for Noted Politicians

(By The Associated Press)

Speeches by the Republican vice presidential candidate, a GOP senator and two Democratic cabinet assistants gave Wisconsin an air of political importance Friday.

Sen. Richard Nixon, Dwight D. Eisenhower's running mate, capped a one-day tour of the state by telling 5,000 persons at Beloit College Friday night that the great spiritual and moral rebirth of this country and bring unity at home and abroad.

Sen. George Aiken (R-Vt.) stressed that Republicans are the farmers' friends in a speech at Chilton.

Urging McCarthy Defeat

The Democratic side of the farm question was presented by Clarence McCormick, undersecretary of agriculture, to the Wisconsin Committee for Agricultural Progress, meeting at Wausau. McCormick argued the defeat of Republican Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin and the 75 central Wisconsin farmers, at the meeting did the same thing in a resolution. The farmers voted support for Thomas Fairchild, McCarthy's Democratic opponent.

The other cabinet aide, Asst. Secretary of State John D. Hickerson, defended administration actions in Korea in an address at Milwaukee.

Aiken told his audience of farmers that "Wisconsin farm folks don't want a new car and prosperity based on war and the threat of war bad enough to raise a son who has to go to war to art it."

Criticizing the administration, Aiken said, "Whenever dairy problems have come up it has been the Republicans that protected the farmers of the country."

In a speech at Fond du Lac Friday night, Aiken said the oleomargarine law is not being enforced efficiently. He said dairymen need the protection of inspection service and proper labeling to meet rising competition of substitute dairy products.

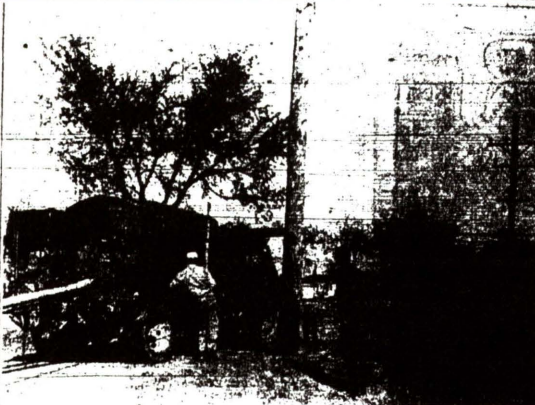

Aiken, making a two-day visit in the state, will speak at Chippewa Falls today.

Replies to Korea Critics

McCormick charged that "McCarthy, by his votes in the Senate, has indicated he does not have the interest of farmers at heart—such as his vote against broadening the parity law by including $5,000 bond in connection with the farm labor in computing it, by his vote against soil conservation, by counter-revolutionists at Ft. Worth, his vote against additional storage space for the Commodity Credit Corp., and by his vote in favor of the so-called flexible support program which even Eisenhower has repudiated."

The committee resolution supporting Fairchild said the group "condemns the voting record of McCarthy and urges his defeat in the Nov. 4 election."

Hickerson, obviously replying to McCarthy criticism, said there was no basis for speculation that United States would be involved in a war.

PEACEMAKERS—The public utility poles and wires along Highway 42, which came close to being washed into Lake Michigan last spring, were being removed this week. A new line running along the Chicago and Northern Western railroad tracks from Manitowoc to Two Rivers has already been erected. Service between the two points will not be disrupted. The work was done by an electrical contractor from Appleton. The men shown rolling up and wires are Chuck Eggenberger and Bob Edwards, both of Appleton. (Photo by staff photographer.)

Nations forces in Korea have been put at a military disadvantage because of the trace of the UN, a rally in observance of the seventh anniversary of the UN, a rally sponsored by Business and Professional Women's Clubs of Wisconsin.

Hickerson acknowledged that in the 15 months the true talks have been under way the Communists have increased their military strength "considerably." But he said, "We have."

Accused in Big Theft, Man Is Shot in Home

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Orville Landis Chambers, 42, was shot in the chest today in connection with a $200,000 robbery of two Cuban labor in computing it, by his vote against soil conservation, by counter-revolutionists at Ft. Worth, his vote against additional storage space for the Commodity Credit Corp., and by his vote in favor of the so-called flexible support program which even Eisenhower has repudiated.

Delinquent Units Sold by County

MANITOWOC — The towns of Manitowoc and Two Rivers and the village of Valders had no delinquent property this week, when County Treasurer Ray McCarthy sold these properties.

Total amount of the sale, on the 1001 rolls in the 26 taxing units in the county, was $28,618. This compares with $28,308 in the 1950 roll; $28,994 in the 1949 rolls and $28,400 in the 1948 rolls. Each year the county buys up all delinquent taxes.

This year the total amount returned delinquent, and also those making deferred payments, was $116,941, but $77,252 of this total was paid up before the final sale in October.

The city of Manitowoc had the largest delinquent list, $18,700. Two Rivers returned $6,426 and the city of Kipl, $219. The village of Reedsville had $253 delinquent and the village of Mishicot $152.

Following is the returns of delinquent real and personal property in the county's 16 towns:

Cato, $343; Centerville, $448; Cooperstown, $417; Eaton, $291; Franklin, $221; Gibson, $1,245; Kosuth, $1,157; Liberty, $1,013; Manitowoc, $18,700; Manitowish Rapids, $1,598; Maple Grove, $440; Meeme, $509; Newton, $295; Rockland, $200; Schleswig, $480; Two Rivers, $1,203.

Seats on Sale for 'Rigoletto'

MANITOWOC — The London Opera Company, who last season presented "Carmen" here, is returning again next month with the present "Rigoletto" at the Capitol Theater, Thursday evening, Nov. 6.

Reserved seats are now available at the theater office, Manager R. G. Guiterman announced. All seats for the performance are reserved. The manager was prompted in bringing back this outstanding musical aggregation because of last year's successful appearance.

A host of stellar European opera stars will present "Rigoletto" with special scenery and lighting effects. The company carried its own symphony orchestra to play the score. A song in the opera rocketed the play to instant success. It is "La Donna e Mobile" by the composer, Giuseppe Verdi.

Although the opera is over 100 years old, it is still a classic in the musical world.

In addition to the principals the London Opera Company carries a chorus of trained voices to carry the tuneful score of the opera.

Choice seats are available in all price ranges, Manager Guiterman announced.

Ike Beatts Stevenson— in High School Vote

MADISON (AP)—Students of two Madison high schools voted Friday in straw vote elections involving state and national tickets. Voting machines in regular polling places were used. The results:

West High: For President—Eisenhower, Nixon 134; Stevenson, Sparkman 7; For U. S. Senate—McCarthy 325, Fairchild 174; For Governor—Kohler 395, Proxmire 109.

Wisconsin High: Eisenhower—Nixon 189, Stevenson—Sparkman 119; McCarthy 172, Fairchild 192; Kohler 236, Proxmire 100.

Both voters of both schools favored a "No" vote on the reapportionment referendum, West 188-180 and Wisconsin High 47-43.

Film Trailers Enthusiastic but Often Trite

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Do you like trailers?

I love 'em. Oh, I don't mean that kind that follow cars around. In Hollywood a trailer is one of those blurbs that advertises the picture showing next week at your favorite theater. Some folks yawn. But not me. I am constantly amazed at the enthusiasm of the men who make trailers. Every picture they advertise is superb. You can tell that, because their language is usually the same.

Have a western? Then it's "rip-rodded from the flaming pages of the great frontier." The words roll upward from the bottom of the screen at a speed that even a five-year-old could read.

Same Phrases Used

The hero? "A bold adventurer with blazing guns."

The heroine? "A red haired beauty who tamed the Wild West."

Now about a musical? "A tune boppy, carnival of mirth and merriment." And don't forget that it always has "eight sparkling song hits."

Want a drama? A hand reaches out from behind the camera and selects a thick volume from a row of distinguished looking books. The book is opened before us and we see the words: "From the daring pen that created the flaming pages of—"

An adventure? Then it's Alan Ladd or Errol Flynn or John Wayne in "His Most Thrilling Adventure." And don't forget that the color is "gorgeous."

List Star Triumphs

Then there is the "man who gave you" routine. Joe McCarthy is always "The director who gave you 'Going My Way'." Arthur C. Freed is "The producer who gave you 'An American in Paris.'"

And don't forget about the stars' past triumphs. "You laughed with her in 'She Married the Detective.' You cried for her in 'A Place in the Moon.' Now thrill to her in 'A Streetcar Named High Noon.'"

I was discussing these sentimental words with one of the men whose job it is to think up trailers for each new film that comes along.

"Sure, we try different things now and then," he remarked, "but what's the difference? The people never realize what a very good job it is to intrigue them with some interesting scenes from the picture."

He added this comment: "You now the hardest kind of picture to write a trailer for? A very good picture. Now how are you going to get across the idea that this one is really good?"

Mayor Tests Air Raid Whistle for Manitowoc

Manitowoc—This city's new air raid warning whistle was given a brief test blast Wednesday morning by Mayor Rudolph Menchl.

This whistle is a huge, brass model off the old whaleback passenger steamer, Christopher Columbus. It was installed early this week atop one of the buildings at the Manitowoc Portland Cement company plant here.

The mayor was accompanied by Maj. Walter Abel, civil defense director, and James B. Dalley, manager of the cement firm.

CONSUMPTION IS UP

Melbourne, (AP)—Australians drank more beer, smoked more cigarettes, and ate more chocolates last year than ever before. In 1950, the Australians drank 156,000,000 gallons of beer, smoked 37,800,000 pounds of tobacco and ate 80,000,000 pounds of chocolate.

Trunks of California's giant redwoods are usually 75 to 100 feet from the base to the first branch.

List of radio soaps

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Radio daytime drama serials were broadcast for decades, and some expanded to television. These dramas are often referred to as "soaps", a shortening from "soap opera". That term stems from the original dramatic serials broadcast on radio that had soap manufacturers such as Procter & Gamble, Colgate-Palmolive, and Lever Brothers as sponsors^[1] and producers.^[2] These early radio serials were broadcast in weekday daytime slots when mostly housewives would be able to listen; thus the shows were aimed at and consumed by a predominantly female audience.^[1]

Clayton is Named New Commander of Legion Post 165

TWO RIVERS — When O. W. Clayton was elected commander of the Robert E. Burns post 165, American Legion, at its annual meeting at the J. E. Hamilton Community House Tuesday night, it marked the second time in the 25-year history of the organization where a son followed a father into the leadership. He succeeds William Schaden, who held the post for the past year.

Clayton, a veteran of World War II, is a son of Post Commander Heber Clayton, who served the post in 1936. The previous father-son leadership was Post Commanders Laddie Gonia and Lawrence Gonia, the latter leading the organization three years ago.

A veteran of four years service in the corps of engineers, U. S. Army, Clayton spent nearly three years in the Pacific theater of operations. He was stationed on the island of Luzon in the Philippines, the Marshalls and the Carolines.

When his father headed the Legion post, the new commander was captain of the Sons of the Legion Drum and Bugle corps here. He has been active in post affairs since his return from the service.

Other officers elected were Charles Ellingboe, first vice president, Ted Pagels, second vice president, Orville Schaden, adjutant, and Frederick Glasco, historian. Re-elected were Earl M. Thiesse, chaplain; Post Commander John W. Mesera, service officer; and Joseph Czechanski and Clarence Schultz, sergeants at arms.

Delegates chosen to the County American Legion convention were Owen Clayton, Charles Ellingboe, Orville Schaden, Lawrence Gonia, and Arthur Kromer. Alternates were Earl Mathewson and Ted Pagels.

Selected as delegates to the state convention at Eau Claire, July 18-20, were Owen Clayton, Charles Ellingboe, Orville Schaden, Lawrence Gonia, and Arthur Kromer. Alternates were Earl Mathewson and Ted Pagels.

Among the business matters disposed of was a resolution to be sent to the Wisconsin Conservation Commission urging the development of the Moulash Creek area as a "Beach State Forest" for the benefit of the membership. Memorial Day, Poppy Sale and Badger Boys State committees.

U. S. Files Tax Lien on Redgranite Estate

WALTON, Wis. (P) — The disputed estate of Massimino E. Redgranite, lumber dealer who was killed with his wife and two sons in a train-car collision a year ago, now has another claimant — the United States government.

A federal income tax lien totaling $14,273.31 has been filed against the estate in Waushara County Court, alleging unpaid income taxes from 1947 through 1950.

Redgranite's estate, estimated at about $115,000, has not been probated because relatives of both E. Redgranite and his wife, Mrs. Mary Redgranite, claim the job of deciding whether the husband or the wife died first in the accident.

Speeding Soldier Nabbed by Police

TWO RIVERS — Speeding motorists who eluded Two Rivers police officers should soon realize the error of their ways if they head into Manitowoc.

Such was the case early Thursday morning when Frederick F. Hofbauer, a soldier stationed at Camp Haven, driving a buddy's machine, travelled at an estimated 80 miles an hour into the neighbor city only to be greeted by two awaiting policemen in a squad car. As a result he faced arraignment in Police Court here next Tuesday afternoon.

Hofbauer, according to the report, was observed by Officer Kenen Huntington passing a car on the right side in going south on Washington at the 15th Street intersection, at a speed in excess of the limit. Huntington gave chase but couldn't overtake the speeding machine as it headed for Manitowoc.

But there's always inter-departmental communications, the radio. When Hofbauer approached Waldo Boulevard, Manitowoc, he was met by Officers Stanley Cherney and Harry Kasten. The car and driver were held at headquarters there for Officer Huntington, who wrote out the necessary proceedings.

Hofbauer admitted passing a car on the right side, but doubted the charges of speeding at the rate he was alleged to have been traveling.

Marcella, hi. Ivan here with bits of business and a dab of commiseration before we magically distract you with more Great Lakes stuff.

The newsreel was terrific! Now, when you get time, can you dig into 1951 ads in the Manitowoc newspaper for some downtown businesses etc. I need --

- A local movie theater.

- What looks like the leading department store and any big downtown hotel or other highrise business.

- A local drugstore, preferably not a Rexall.

- A local radio schedule, if possible. What I'm interested in here is the radio lineup of soap operas.

- Any civic celebrations that catch your eye. Maybe I'll have a blessing of the big ore boat or something.

That's all for now. I hope it's sufficiently distracting!

Carol and Ivan,

Thank you for your instant commiseration yesterday. I wish I had more dramatic news to report. My regular doctor could not see me - but called about 3:30. She could clarify what the CT scan showed and talk a little more about the strong medicines I'd been given (she has me off both tomorrow). The bad news is that now that the stone has likely moved to my bladder-- "it could sit there awhile." I sought out my naturopath at the end of the day: new Chinese and homeopathic remedies from him and acupuncture give me slightly more hope. So, I still don't feel horrible--and still don't feel good.

But--I'm learning a lot more about Great Lakes shipping and storms!!!

Perhaps less for pure information and more for scene-setting, check out this website - hitting play on the black and white photo--which leads to a 1955 newsreel. You'll recognize the voice! <http://seawaychannel.net/great-lakes-and-saint-lawrence/2013/5/3/great-lakes-iron-ore-industry-history.html>

More later - both in the shipping and the kidney stone arenas!

Love,

Marcella

Good morning, Carol and Ivan,

Car is packed except for food. I was up in good time. The day dawns hot and bright!! At any rate, I couldn't resist sending along the one tidbit I did hunt up last night.

In 1950, Manitowoc proper had a population of 27,598---but Manitowoc county had a population of 67,159. And it's my impression (but really only that) that the county had little farming - and that Manitowoc (city) would have served as THE primary shopping area for the county. Which makes your comparison to Great Falls dead on, Ivan. In 1950, Great Falls started its two decade reign as Montana's largest city with something edging towards 55,000 (it doesn't get there til 1960--I didn't find quite as precise a 1950 number.).

So, in case "Sweet Thunder" hasn't quite taken over yet, a little start.

Take care.

Love,

Marcella

Description: This December, 1945 view of the east side of South Eighth Street in Manitowoc, Wisconsin shows a line of automobiles driving north past other cars parked along the sidewalk where several pedestrians are walking. In the lower left, a man sweeps the sidewalk. In the upper right, a uniformed police officer stands in the intersection of South Eighth and Jay Streets. In the center of the picture is the Capitol Theatre at 913 South Eighth Street, with its ornate marquee announcing the movie "Our Vines Have Tender Grapes," which played at the Capitol December 2 through December 8, 1945. Hanging from the front of the marquee is a small banner on which can be seen the words "Victory Bond." This was probably advertising for the "Victory Loan Drive," which was a national war bond campaign then in its final week. Even though World War II had ended in August, 1945, this drive was promoted with slogans like "The job of winning the war is over—the peace must be won by those of us at home." Manitowoc County's "quota" for the Victory Loan Drive was $2,081,000. As with most previous war loan drives, the county actually exceeded that goal. The campaign culminated on Wednesday night, December 12 with a city-wide "Victory Ball" at the fairgrounds, featuring music, dancing, and a drawing for a brand new 1946 Ford. Other businesses visible in this view include, from left to right, the F.W. Woolworth Store at 905-907 South Eighth, Field's Smart Wear, McNeil Shoes, and beyond the Capitol Theatre Walter Kurtz jewelry in the "Bigel Building" and Buerstatte Drugs at 919 South Eighth. Beyond Jay Street are Berks Apparel Shop, Charles Groffman Drugs, the Odd Fellow Building at 927 South Eighth, and Zimmerman's Ready to Wear at 931 South Eighth. Parked in front of the Capitol Theatre is a Fischl's Dairy delivery truck.

Buerstatte fought for the Union in the Civil War and returned to open the drug store in 1872 which was run by family members until 1967 when the business became Manitowoc Drugs (Manitowoc Pharmacies). Teitgen began business as Becker & Teitgen in 1884 and was listed as a solo business in the 1894 city directory at 917 South Eighth Street. And in quick tandem from the other Doig, good morning again. Thanks for the jampacked email of news, notes, etc. It all looks good (except for the damn kidney stone, eh?), and I look forward to the research packet to start fitting to your notes. When you get out here with us, I'd like to call on your computer skills for a Google Earth session; I have my great-aunt's address from my '51 visit there, want to see that neighborhood, look at the waterfront, and so on. Also, while we're at it, maybe we'll peek at the Big Hole, where my kid and his West-obsessed great-uncle are going to end up on a haying crew--beaverslides ahead!

Hey, thanks for the birthday card(s). This was a fairly painless birthday, 74, still up and going is okay, i figure. We went out for a terrific lunch, and Carol bought me a new Mr. Coffee to replace the Black and Decker coffee maker I'd been using which sounded strangely like a power tool as it brewed. Definite advance with Mr. C. As will be the damn deck repairs when they get done (this is day 3 or 4, I've lost track). The manuscript work is going pretty well, although I anticipate that after the 4th my life is going to be taken over by the imminence of Sweet Thunder.

All for now. Have as nice a Sunday as the body will allow.

Best, Ivan

Hi Carol and Ivan,

I did finally get a packet off in today's mail. For a couple nights, the kidney stone was on the move again--and I didn't go after projects with much vigor during or in the aftermath. The pesky stone had better make its entrance (and exit) soon! I am learning a certain patience, some soothing home moves, and to celebrate the joys of pain pills.

If you are more than ready, Ivan, for some of the material, my quickly-found and best resource was this collection of photos at the Wisconsin Historical Society. <http://uwdc.library.wisc.edu/collections/WI/MTWCImages> I printed off several of them that seemed especially relevant to the cause - and your questions.

Down below, I also copied the notes that I put into the packet. The topics on which I especially want to do more trolling are (a) shipping patterns in general, (b) storms and (c) special events in Manitowoc - although I do propose a kind of quirky local phenomenon, the Marine Band. And when you get the packet, please feel free to send me back for more on any and all topics. I really can get to daily newspapers so--you may want more detail from them.

We've reached splendid summer temperatures---time to go barefoot and sleeveless here at home. We've had so much rain (unlike other parts of the country) that we are enjoying lush greenery and long light AND warmth.

I've spoken by email a bit with the Bonnie and Frisco--the Seattle friends who were just here--on August arrangements.. I'm currently thinking to fly into Seattle on Thursday, August 22 and then ask them to drop me off with you all on Friday afternoon. Then, I'm still thinking that the Sunday evening, 8:30 pm flight out is a good departure point. Does that sound OK?? And as I accept your really generous offer for the flight, do you prefer that I book or would you rather do that? I remain so glad to do all the booking---and the paying! This is all a treat!

I'm hoping the birthday glow lingers here into the weekend

Summary of info so far:

General:

This will come as no surprise to you - but, from here in Montana, I tend to forget that cities like Manitowoc are built on MAKING stuff: crackers, malt, chairs, knitting, aluminum, coal, cereal, mills beyond counting, vinegar,

From the great photo collection, there are a lot lot more photos from a horse-drawn era. Mostly I ignored those. But I tend to assume that little was demolished during World War II - just given money and emphasis but that's an assumption. In other words, I took photos from the late 30s seriously.

Everything revolves around 8th street.

Ore Shipping:

Well - really need to do more J

Storms:

The patterns focus more on time of year than location: October and November, trying to get the last shipments completed. Lake Superior seems to still be the location of more of the deadly storms than other lakes.

Am still reading on this topic!

Radio:

There's no question that WOMT was the principal Manitowoc radio station of the times. And its location and ownership in the Makadow Theater is a pretty compelling overlap. See the photos and their descriptions! And the Manitowoc Times Herald (in a Two Rivers subsection—it is the same paper) carried the schedule daily. Included. I also included a list of radio soaps that span this time period.

Special events:

There I have a lot more to do. So far, based on photos, the unusual events were much earlier than this time period. But – one of the interesting local phenomenon which transcended other parades and events – is the Marine Band. See photos. The band clearly exists from 1898 until at least into the 1980s. Someone's taking photos carefully.

There are county fairs and parade, sports teams, but for the right period I'm not seeing anything that unusual.

Except – boat launches. Those obviously do draw a crowd—as you witnessed.

But I'll do more.

Local movie theater:

There are several show in photos. I'd stick with the Makadow. Lots of photos included

Shipping lanes:

I'll keep hunting. I've included one contemporary map---which does NOT clearly show how much iron ore goes to Gary.

Hotels – big buildings:

Hotel Manitowoc – a long-standing tall one

Hotel Hay – although the image I have is from a decade earlier

Big Department Stores:

Schuetz Brothers – best known locally owned.

Sears and Roebuck

J. C. Penny

Woolworks

SS. Kresage

Rahr's ("Everything for the Home") May not have included clothing.

Other big buildings:

First National Bank – photo included.

Drugstores:

On it! And am suitably distracted! The Wisconsin Historical Society has a treasure trove of historical photographs from Manitowoc so am chugging right along - worth a mailing tomorrow.

Am - well, OK with that kidney stones--which lingers but seems less pesky. I'm not long on energy, but did venture out to work today.

More to come!

Marcella, hi. Ivan here with bits of business and a dab of commiseration before we magically distract you with more Great Lakes stuff.

The newsreel was terrific! Now, when you get time, can you dig into 1951 ads in the Manitowoc newspaper for some downtown businesses etc. I need --

A local movie theater.

What looks like the leading department store and any big downtown hotel or other highrise business.

A local drugstore, preferably not a Rexall.

A local radio schedule, if possible. What I'm interested in here is the radio lineup of soap operas.

Any civic celebrations that catch your eye. Maybe I'll have a blessing of the big ore boat or something.

That's all for now. I hope it's sufficiently distracting!

She could clarify what the CT scan showed and talk a little more about the strong medicines I'd been given (she has me off both tomorrow). The bad news is that now that the stone has likely moved to my bladder-- "it could sit there awhile." I sought out my naturopath at the end of the day: new Chinese and homeopathic remedies from him and acupuncture give me slightly more hope. So, I still don't feel horrible--and still don't feel good.

Barbershoppers to be Featured at Band Event

MANITOWOC—Barbershop swipes will fill the air on Tuesday evening when the Marine Band will play host to barbershop choruses and quartets from Sheboygan, Kiel and Manitowoc at its summer concert in the Municipal Baseball Park at Washington Junior High School, starting at 7:30.

Among the features of this night of barbershop harmony will be the offering of a massed chorus of more than 150 voices and the Schmitt Brothers, past international barbershop quartet champions, who will be leaving a week later to entertain the armed forces in Alaska.

The baseball park setting with its bleachers will provide seating accommodations for several thousand music lovers. Last year when the Manitowoc barbershop chapter chorus and the Schmitt Brothers appeared with the Marine Band at Pulaski Park it was estimated that more than 5,000 jammed the area. This year a special amplification system will be installed so that the songs may be carried over a large section of Manitowoc.

Second Such Get Together

Tuesday night's event will mark the second time this year that the choruses of Manitowoc, Sheboygan and Kiel have banded together in concert. Thousands heard the massed chorus at Sheboygan a week ago. Edwin Butz, president of the Manitowoc chapter of the SPEBS-QSA, said Friday that the massed chorus arrangement is to become permanent and appearances would be an annual affair in Sheboygan, Kiel and Manitowoc.

Efforts are now being made, according to Mr. Butz, to add more choruses in this area to expand it to the proportions of the famous Corn Belt barbershop chorus of 225 voices, in Illinois, comprising units from Bloomington, Champaign, La Salle, Decatur, and Peoria. The Sheboygan chorus, under the direction of Henry Beyer, which recently won the Land O' Lakes district chorus title, already has 80 voices with a waiting list of more than 15 barbershop enthusiasts, while the Manitowoc chorus, directed by Paul Schmitt, baritone of the Schmitt Brothers foursome, currently has 50 members. The Kiel chapter's chorus, led by Alfred Thiessen, has nearly 25 members.

On Platform

Virtually the entire program will be devoted to barbershop singing, according to the program arranged by Emil Sohrweide, Marine Band director. The band will play from an elevated platform in the infield of the baseball park, while the choruses will be seated on bleachers in front of the bandstand. Quartets, according to plans, will offer their numbers from the bandstand.

Legionnaire Raps State Legislature

REESEVILLE, Wis. (AP)—Harold A. Kuehl, Wisconsin commander of the American Legion, Thursday blamed the state Legislature for suspension of further veterans housing loans in 14 counties.

Kuehl stated. "The Wisconsin American Legion regrets the action taken by the State Department of Veterans affairs in cutting off housing loans for those counties which have exceeded their quotas by 10 per cent. We feel that this condition is primarily due to failure on the part of the state Legislature to appropriate sufficient monies to meet all requests from veterans in all counties.

"The legion's legislative committee will do its utmost to assure passage of legislation to keep the housing program operating when the state Legislature convenes. We want equal loan opportunities for all veterans in all counties because we know the anguish of substandard housing is equally bitter regardless of geographical location."

Car Exits From Parking Lot, Collision Follows

MANITOWOC—Two cars collided in the 800 Block of South 15th Street Thursday evening after one pulled out of a parking lot.

Mrs. Fanny Healy, 1037 N. 17th St., was driving north on South 15th Street, according to police records, when a car came out of the Aluminum Goods Company parking lot into her path.

The second car, driven by Alex Wiederholdt, Fond du Lac, was damaged in the front bumper as the two cars collided, and Mrs. Healy's auto was damaged in the right side.

Charter Given at Mass Meet

TWO RIVERS — A charter designating membership in the United Auto Workers, AFL, was presented at a mass meeting of production workers of the Aluminum Goods Manufacturing Company plants here at the J. E. Hamilton Thursday night.

The presentation followed a meeting at the Union Labor Hall here last Thursday night when members of Aluminum Workers Local 19649 voted unanimously to affiliate with the United Auto Workers.

The presentation of the charter into the new union was made to Casimir Markowski, local president, by Karl W. Griepentrog, Milwaukee, regional director and executive board member, who was one of the speakers at the mass meeting.

Others to speak were Francis Hanson, Milwaukee, educational director of the United Auto Workers, and Clifford L. Matchey, Milwaukee, regional representative.

Quartets, according to plans, will offer their numbers from the bandstand.

The program will be opened with band selection after which the Kiel barbershop chorus will present several numbers. This will be followed by offerings of two quartets, the New Tones of Newton and the Tune Peddlers of Sheboygan. After another band rendition the Manitowoc chapter chorus will appear in a group of barbershop favorites to be followed by songs by another Sheboygan quartet. A band number will open the second part of the program as an introduction to the title winning Sheboygan chorus, singing selections which gained it the top spot in the district.

At this stage of the concert the Schmitt Brothers will appear, singing five numbers, according to the plans. They will be followed by a band number after which the massed choruses of Manitowoc, Sheboygan and Kiel chapters will take over under the baton of Paul Schmitt.

The grand finale will comprise the band and massed choruses playing and singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

AMBULANCE CALLS

MANITOWOC—Kenneth Burg, of 1230 A. S. 18th St., and Mrs. Marion Marquardt, 1723 Dewey St., were taken to the Holy Family Hospital Thursday by city ambulance. Edward Wagner, 910 A. S. 13th St., was taken to the hospital by ambulance Friday morning.

TWO RIVERS—Virtually all vibration in the Wahington Street bridge can be eliminated, in the opinion of A. L. A. Sanders, chief engineer of the Hazelet & Eriat Company, Chicago bridge designers, who made a complete checkup of the 25-year-old span Thursday. Mr. Sanders said he would send a report on his findings to City Manager John E. Dever, who engaged his services for a study of the bridge ailments.

In checking the bridge, Mr. Sanders told City Engineer J. D. Markham that the south leaf of the span is in need of more counterweight and that adjustments in the locking devices will eliminate the rattle or vibration of the bridge.

Mr. Markham said that the corrections which will be recommended by the consulting engineer can be made without engaging outside bridge engineers.

The bridge which was built in 1927 while the late City Manager Richard H. Biehl served here held up with little or no trouble until a few years ago when one of the leaves failed to lock properly. This caused a pronounced vibration as vehicles passed over it.

Can't Pay $100 Fines, Begin Serving Terms

MANITOWOC — A Fond du Lac man and his woman companion began serving 30-day sentences in the County jail Friday after pleading guilty in Municipal Court to lewd and lascivious conduct.

Alvin Henning, 41, and Jean Harkins, 21, of Taycheedah, couldn't pay the $100 fines imposed by Judge Harold W. Mueller.

Henning, who had been reported missing from his home a week ago and was the object of a state-wide search, was apprehended with the

Water Supply at Manitowoc Good

Manitowoc — The municipal water utility pumped a record 8,267,000 gallons of water July 26, with no appreciable drawdown in the levels of the two Ranney type wells, Manager Richard Cannard of the utility announced Wednesday.

He added that in a recent two hour test of the two pumps at the wells, the count showed that a total of 12,822,000 gallons could be pumped in a 24 hour period, if the wells were pumped to capacity. All of which means that Manitowoc's water worries are over for many years to come.

Since the Ranney wells were put in service, in 1945, one at Silver Creek park and the other at the pumping station at the foot of Columbus street, the utility has never found it necessary to restrict water for sprinkling and other uses during the dry summer months.

With the completion of the new 24 inch main along South Tenth street from Silver Creek park to connect with city mains at Tenth and Viebahn streets and west on Viebahn to 18th street, it is now possible to use the larger pump at the Ranney well. This pump was put in service June 25.

The daily average over a year's span is about 5,000,000 gallons a day, but naturally the hot summer months of July and August record much higher totals daily. The storage reservoir at the Columbus street plant holds 3,000,000 gallons, and this is pumped into the city mains during daytime hours and then filled up by pumpage from the Ranney wells during the night.

Manager Cannard said that outside utility work, particularly along Commercial street and at 21st street bridge, is keeping utility crews busy so that completion of work on the new boiler at the plant has been held up temporarily. However, he added, it is hoped to have all the present boilers hooked up to the new stack in the next few weeks, when it will be put to use.

This should eliminate the smoke and sulphur fumes about which first ward residents have complained so long.

Marine Band Resumes City Concerts Thursday

Manitowoc — The Manitowoc Marine band will resume its city concert schedule at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, August 2, at Washington park. The band played a guest concert last Thursday at Sheboygan.

Vocal soloists at this week's concert will be Walter Ahrens and Victor Bohacek.

The program is as follows: National Anthem; march, "General MacArthur;" waltz, "Danube Waves;" "Willow Echoes" (Mr. Bohacek); overture, "Barber of Seville;" intermission; Manitowoc Marine Band march; "Love's Old Sweet Song;" "A Great Day" (Mr. Ahrens); overture, "Frontier;" overture, "Irene;" march, "Stars and Stripes Forever," featuring the piccolos of Bert Trutschel and Robert Wellhofer.

Three Are Injured in County Highway Mishap

Manitowoc — Three men, two drivers and a passenger, were injured slightly late Tuesday afternoon when a car driven by Charles Giese, Whitelaw, struck a car being driven north on highway 10, near Giese's tavern in Whitelaw, by Lloyd Behnke, route 2, Reedsville.

According to county traffic officer Edward McConnell's report, Giese injured his hand, while Behnke and his passenger, Wallace Haese, Route 2, Reedsville, both suffered bruised knees. All were taken home for treatment.

Officer McConnell said Giese had been parked in front of the tavern and began to drive on to the highway when he collided with the Behnke car. Both cars sustained considerable damage, the report stated.

Sleepy Soldier, Out of Uniform, Is Jail Guest

Manitowoc — Ralph A. Peterson of route 5, Wisconsin Rapids, was escorted to the county jail Monday night by Officers Norbert Nelson and Ray Hartl after he was found asleep in a ditch on Calumet avenue.

Peterson, who claimed to be a soldier, was wearing civilian clothing. Although he said he was being transferred from Ft. Sheridan, Ill., to Camp Carson, Colo., he had no transfer papers. He added that he was planning to visit a friend in Two Rivers.

Det. Lt. Elmer Scherer released Peterson Tuesday morning after the latter promised to proceed at once to Camp Carson.

AMBULANCE CALLS

Manitowoc — Taken to Holy Family hospital Tuesday from Gene's service station, South 26th street and Calumet avenue, was William F. Gromer of Elgin, Ill., a motorist who had suffered a heart attack. Edwin Naash was returned from the hospital to his home at 628 North Eighth street.

Cars Damaged in 2 Collisions

Manitowoc — Four cars were damaged in two collisions investigated Tuesday by Manitowoc police. No one was injured.

Cars driven by John F. Konecny, 1414 North Seventh street, and by Alex L. Glysch, 1133 South 21st street, collided early Tuesday evening in the 1100 block of South 21st street. Officers Richard Fagan and Joseph Michal said Konecny's auto was traveling north while Glysch drove his car into the street from its parking spot in front of his home.

Both right side fenders and a door of the Konecny vehicle were damaged. Glysch's car sustained damage to the left front fender and radiator.

Late Tuesday afternoon cars driven by Elmer F. Miller, 924-A South 13th street and Dr. James O. McCoy, 1041 Menasha avenue, collided at the intersection of South Ninth and Franklin streets. Miller's car was headed west on Franklin street while Dr. McCoy was crossing Franklin and traveling north on Ninth street. Officers Fagan and Michal reported a stationary line of traffic on the south side of Franklin street between Eighth and Ninth streets at the time of the mishap.

The left front section of Miller's car was damaged while Dr. McCoy's auto sustained a damaged door, fender and trim.

$160 is Donated for Flood Relief

Manitowoc — To date a total of $160 has been collected in the Manitowoc county Red Cross flood relief fund drive. The county's goal, 20 per cent of the spring quota, is $4,972.

Letters were sent in the past few days to individuals, businessmen, and industries by Gordon Winder, chairman of the chapter, urging them to contribute to the fund. In the nation, $5,000,000 is being raised by Red Cross to help people in the flood devastated areas of the Mississippi river.

Largest donations in Manitowoc, thus far, according to the Red Cross office, have been given by the Schwartz Foundation and the First National bank in Manitowoc.

Judge Remits $25 of County Man's $50 Fine

Manitowoc — Earl Kornely, route 2, Manitowoc, pleaded nolo contendere to a charge of allowing his son, a restrictive licensed driver, to operate his car on a public highway, in municipal court Wednesday morning and had a $5 fine remitted by Judge Harold Mueller. Kornely did pay court costs, however, totaling $4.68.

Judge Mueller remitted Kornely's fine in lieu of a mix up with the state motor vehicle department over a restrictive license for his son.

Loeffler

Alvin F. Loeffler, 60, South Eighth street, Manitowoc, died Wednesday morning at the family hospital, following illness.

Funeral services will be 8:30 a. m. Friday at the funeral home, Manitowoc, 9 a. m. at St. Boniface church, the Rev. Alfred Pflichting. Burial will be in the cemetery, Manitowoc.

Description: Port side bow view of the U.S.S. Kraken, with crew on deck, passing inbound up the Manitowoc River through the open Eighth Street drawbridge in Manitowoc, Wisconsin in September 1944. The Kraken was one of twenty-eight submarines built in Manitowoc by the Manitowoc Shipbuilding Company during World War II. She was launched April 30, 1944 and commissioned September 8, 1944. This photograph, taken shortly before or after her commissioning, documents her return from trials or training on Lake Michigan. The view is to the east toward Lake Michigan. The large building on the right, just south of the drawbridge, is the Elks Club at 809 South Eighth Street. On the left, north of the bridge, is the Sears Roebuck and Co. building, where there had been a major fire on January 16, 1944. At the time this picture was taken, Sears had temporarily re-located to 823-

825 Commercial Street. Drawbridges on both Eighth and Tenth Streets opened frequently to accommodate the passage of submarines and other vessels being built at shipyards upstream by Manitowoc Shipbuilding Company and Burger Boat Company, as well as for carferries and other craft.

Title: YO 196 passing through drawbridgePhotographer: Berns, HarryDate: 1945-06-17Place/Time: Manitowoc County (Wisconsin) / Manitowoc, Wisconsin

Description: Starboard side bow view of U.S. Navy YO 196 oil tanker (also referred to as a fuel oil barge or gasoline barge) with civilian workmen on deck, passing outbound down the Manitowoc River through the open Eighth Street drawbridge in Manitowoc, Wisconsin, in June 1945, probably on her way to final sea trials in Lake Michigan. The YO 196 (Hull 402) was one of a number of oil tankers built for the U.S. Navy by the Manitowoc Shipbuilding Company during World War II. Her keel was laid down January 6, 1945; she was launched on March 24, 1945; and delivered to the Navy on June 16, 1945. In the background on the left, just south of the drawbridge, is the Fanny Farmer confectionery shop at 806 South Eighth Street. The large building on the right is the Henderson-Hoyt department store. Up river beyond the YO 196 are the Tenth Street Bridge and the low section of Elevator B, a large grain elevator. With the Manitowoc Shipbuilding Company and Burger Boat Company building dozens of vessels, including submarines, for the Navy, scenes like this were common in Manitowoc during the World War II years.

Title: South Eighth Street, 1945

Creator: Manitowoc (Wis.). Police Department

Date: 1945-12

Place/Time: Manitowoc County (Wisconsin) / Manitowoc, Wisconsin

Description: This view looking north on South Eighth Street in Manitowoc, Wisconsin shows the area as it appeared in December, 1945, just after the end of World War II. The street is filled with cars traveling in both directions, with other cars parked along the sidewalks on both sides of the street. The sidewalks are crowded with people, many of whom wear winter coats. Two nuns in habits can be seen in front of the J. C. Penney Company store on the west side of the street. In the center of the picture, a uniformed policeman stands in the intersection of South Eighth and Franklin Streets. Businesses prominently visible on the west side of the street include the Princess Café confectionery at 908 South Eighth, the J. C. Penney

Company in the "Wood Block" at 902-906 South Eighth, and beyond Franklin Street the S. S. Kresge Company, the Coffee Cup restaurant, the Kinney Company shoe store, the Big Shoe Store, and Muir's Cut Rate Drug Store at 812 South Eighth. In the distance beyond the Eighth Street bridge, the tall building is the Hotel Manitowoc at 204 North Eighth Street. In the foreground on the right is the ornate marquee of the Capitol Theatre at 913 South Eighth Street. A small banner hanging from the front of the marquee is partially visible. This was probably advertising for the "Victory Loan Drive," a national war bond campaign under which Manitowoc County was urged to raise $2,081,000 because "The job of winning the war is over—the peace must be won by those of us at home." On Friday night, December 7, the local American Legion post sponsored a parade on Eighth Street to promote the bond drive. The campaign culminated on December 12 with a city-wide "Victory Ball" at the fairgrounds. This picture was taken between December 2 and December 8, just before the city's holiday decorations went up on December 8 and 9.

Summary of info so far:

General:

This will come as no surprise to you – but, from here in Montana, I tend to forget that cities like Manitowoc are built on MAKING stuff: crackers, malt, chairs, knitting, aluminum, coal, cereal, mills beyond counting, vinegar,

From the great photo collection, there are a lot lot more photos from a horse-drawn era. Mostly I ignored those. But I tend to assume that little was demolished during World War II – just given money and emphasis but that's an assumption. In other words, I took photos from the late 30s seriously.

Everything revolves around 8th street.

Ore Shipping:

Well – really need to do more ☺

Storms:

The patterns focus more on time of year than location: October and November, trying to get the last shipments completed. Lake Superior seems to still be the location of more of the deadly storms than other lakes.

Am still reading on this topic!

Radio:

There's no question that WOMT was the principal Manitowoc radio station of the times. And its location and ownership in the Makadow Theater is a pretty compelling overlap. See the photos and their descriptions! And the Manitowoc Times Herald (in a Two Rivers subsection—it is the same paper) carried the schedule daily. Included. I also included a list of radio soaps that span this time period.

Special events:

There I have a lot more to do. So far, based on photos, the unusual events were much earlier than this time period. But – one of the interesting local phenomenon which transcended other parades and events – is the Marine Band. See photos. The band clearly exists from 1898 until at least into the 1980s. Someone's taking photos carefully.

There are county fairs and parade, sports teams, but for the right period I'm not seeing anything that unusual.

Except – boat launches. Those obviously do draw a crowd—as you witnessed.
But I'll do more.

Local movie theater:

There are several show in photos. I'd stick with the Makadow. Lots of photos included

Shipping lanes:

I'll keep hunting. I've included one contemporary map---which does NOT clearly show how much iron ore goes to Gary.

Hotels – big buildings:

Hotel Manitowoc – a long-standing tall one

Hotel Hay – although the image I have is from a decade earlier

Big Department Stores:

Schuetz Brothers – best known locally owned.

Sears and Roebuck

J. C. Penny

Woolworks

SS. Kresage

Rahr's ("Everything for the Home") May not have included clothing.

Other big buildings:

First National Bank – photo included.

Drugstores:

F. G. Buerstatte Drug Store- great photo

Muir's Cut Rate Drug Store – specifically mention in one of the street photos
