

divinity: candy

sugar lick: ersatz jam of bacon grease and sugar; see The Big North photocopies in Shoestring livestock file.

from notes of trip to Montana for Dad's funeral, '71:

--"fresh eggs don't peel easily (when boiled). Bert Finn says put salt in water" butter canned in salt brine (Fullerton, p. 32)

Halgasen

>3 - frying steaks with 2 big cast iron frying pans: get 1 nearly red-hot, sear steak in it, then cook it in butter in other pan.

- salt or sugar on canned tomatoes apple quarters sprinkled w salt mayonnaise sandwich: bread spread with mayo

Dell Stark diary, April 10 angel food and golden cake to finish up on.

use honey for sweetening

Jamie Jones

p. 217 - Cake batter must be stored clockwise or it will be coarse,

Have a character make sugar lumps as <sup>M</sup>ary Saindon, cook of the Alpha Helix, described to me: by dribbling drops of water into cup of sugar. (Try this first and see if it works.) Topic came up because Mary mentioned seeing someone take coffee in old Norwegian (?) way, putting sugar lump in mouth then "sieving" the coffee thru it in sips.

me →
Gustafson?

The boy likes to eat crisp-fried fish tails.

see in ch. 3,
Jack appraising Double
cook?

good ranch cook: she fed like it was Christmas every day.

--wd take care of lamb or calf brought into kitchen.

Last House

oyster stew (canned), with glob of butter melted in it) as treat in cafe.

~~blank~~

*used
in England;
use
again.*

after night of Beth and Jick's conversation, she has made junk soup, using up leftovers from their week together.

--stock, rice, ground meat, vegs?

used
in Eng. CA.?

mayonnaise sandwich: mayo on white store bread (Ann McCartney was made one once by a Methow fire lookout, found it awful.)

- Jack spreads mayo because no butter

Afternoons in Mont., McCarthy

60 - Cong'man Jim O'Connor, putting blocks of butter on his <sup>used</sup> <sub>in Egg CR</sub> boiled eggs: "if yr eggs are too thin, thicken them w butter; & if they're too thick, thin them w butter."

used?

from notes of trip to Montana for Dad's funeral, '71:

--Bert Finn: I'm so excited to see food again I can't eat.