

"Upsy-daisy, whoopety-do, and all the rest."

--Lexa getting Mitch onto his feet after broken leg in cast, propped in his father's recliner?

--Mitch is glad he doesn't fit the contours his father left in the chair.

What the hell was he telling himself? It was the opposite of what he'd been trying to maintain...)

Mitch w/ broken leg #2:

exasperated, like his father: slow motion was the only motion left in his father.

Memory itself was artesian in this damned town, hot and (bubbling; stinky).

used in H Earth?

edger ps.

the letters are the skin of the time
^

used in Sky?

It came at ^{him}~~me~~ like a stutter in the mind--that she would go,

None of them were comfortable thoughts.

He hadn't known he'd be up against treason.

--Mitch, after the daybook incident?

dink around(w/ life)... There's the dinker and then there's the dinkee.

used?

Riley or Jick: Maybe the overexamined life is not worth living.