

Jan. 10, '79: rain, the first really rainy day of this winter. At 8 am, the b'yard trees are just now branching out of the darkness.