

Day seventy-six (March 6)

A warm breeze again today, nearly a chinook. I have changed shirts three times, each time to a lighter material; now, at 2:30, it is 64 degrees. Hard to work, to stay fastened into the house.

WINTERING

This is winter-spring, one of those points of the year when the weather can jiggle either way, back into cold sheets of rain or ahead into bud and blossom...

Week 7 Mar 5 -

warmth of spring: even. house is growing, creating earlier
each day