

Sandison abt union meeting in library, ms p. 122:

"That breaks my heart, but why do they have to be here? Hell, don't you see..."

Sandison

calls Morrie "dunce"

Sandison

calls Morrie "dodo"

dolt simpleton
busy body

Sandison

"Don't be a nincompoop."

idiot

Movie art Sandison.

The full man ^d has come into sight now.

His smile was a pinch of salt.

Sandison

his stomach well in advance of him

Sandison

Without warning, he laughed.

Sandison

his hands: meathooks

would not fit into boxing gloves

Sandison

the Earl of Hell (Russian Famine says?)

Ain't he one they call...

That stopped me in my tracks.

"Mister? What's it mean when people call him the Earl of Hell?"

Who does that? or: Where did you hear that?

Around. Then Bldg. My work sharpens... / or: Around.

librarian ^{at} / literary I'm around. Storygarden.

that guy w/ all writers

I cd easily believe he had been high-handed...

Sandison

"This isn't vaudeville."

I sometimes had to wonder,

what roamed in the gloom behind those eyes?

a much

Ham-handed is atrociously an overused term, but the meathooks on this man really did resemble OO joints.

--hands would hardly fit into boxing gloves

Each of his meaty hands was about the size of both of mine...

the knuckle chorus

sharing office w/ Sandison was like sharing a cave w/ a polar bear ramrod (for foreman)

like you scruff (Sandison could use the term?)

Morrie to Sandison:

Ahy Sandy?

Sandison motivation:

seeks redemption from the hangings; Anaconda (and its smoke) his real enemy.

with an item of business and Sandison, a combustible combination.

Curtis Holland reminiscence of Granville Stuart

"He did me a very great favor by allowing me free use of the stored records of Patent Office during time I was working on my different inventions."

... "Granville Stewart (sic) & his wife boarded @ Mrs. Purcell's Boarding House, where I did, so I used to see him quite often - besides @ library wh I spent many Sunday afternoons & many evenings during wk."

... In early days of his prospecting he was married to an Indian woman, & was known as a squaw man, but wife I knew was very refined & also a writer."

[Only 2 pp. of this, no further help]

UM
MSS 409

Charles M. Lee Diary Transcriptions 1865-72

possible Granville Stuart "strangler" connection?

- not apparent from quick skim; typed transcription easy to read
for fuller skim

Google Montana Hist Soc
- Research Center
- Catalog Search

Marcella Stuart 1834-1918

MHS Research Center online

ask for card # & pin #

MHS ~~211~~

Card #

& pin #

for Marcella

442-0306

NW digital Archives

Section 37, DARE 836:

loggers' description of something queer or unusual, i.e. beyond the 36 sections of a township.

--also where good loggers go when they cash in their chips

--also: where greenhorns were sent; where stolen lumber was cut; going to section 37 was a night ~~in~~ at the tavern.

- where Stuart's Strangers sent ~~runners~~?

Sandison can be wildly for (or against) Robt. Louis Stevenson

the power to draw OO into the mind, like fog into a cave

^g
"The brand is "the cow's return address" [?]

C did

all

Student: "Do you genuinely not know who I am?"

Myra: "I am newly arrived, how ed I hav had - pleasure until now?"

Morrie

he ed
"You looking for work?" ~~(Stewart asks)~~

(yes.)

"~~Employment~~" I put it more honestly than that.

A wage,

Sandison questions Morrie before hiring him:

--abt drink. "I do not partake."

--abt single life: "What are you, some kind of buck nun?"

"I enjoy female companionship when it presents itself, never fear."

--S'son interrupted as he is about to ask abt gambling?

Sam Sandison

--can be quite the Scot. Uses "ye", maybe "ay."

--tells Morrie story of hiking through winter snow to get books. "That's love of reading, ~~man~~."

lad

--books to cowboys, dropped in Missouri, "circulating library"

--has a wispy wife?

↓ could hear the iron gates banging shut in ^{his} ~~the~~ mind

A strange, strewn style

"They were mine, goddammit" (~~Saint~~ Sandison's cattle)

all

"I've done the guts out of more books than most people have ever seen, Morgan. And I'm still a fool."

Ninian's eulogy voice,
ch. 5? used?

You could shut down Hell with a voice like that.

me @ picnic

Section 37 ride

Grouse flail the air into flight.
