

from Stacia, p'back production sched as of Dec. 7 '06:

3/30 bound books

4/3 warehouse

4/9 release

May 7 pub date

206-542-6658

Ivan,

Take a look!

Doig

[Doig / WHISTLING SEASON pbk back cover copy]

A New York Times Editors' Choice

A Washington Post Book World Best Book of the Year

[quote side bar]

"Flawless."—O, the Oprah Magazine

"Courageous."—Washington Post Book World

"Evocative."—The New Yorker

"Life-affirming."—Los Angeles Times Book Review

"Magical."—Star Tribune (Minneapolis)

"Luminous."—Seattle Times

[body copy]

"[A] memorable tale set in the historical West but contemporary in its themes and universal in its insights into the human heart."—Seattle Times

"Can't cook but doesn't bite." So begins the ad that deposits the noncooking, nonbiting, ever-whistling housekeeper Rosc Llewellyn and her font-of-knowledge brother, Morris Morgan, in Marias Coulee, Montana in the fall of 1909. In the unforgettable season that follows, Morris and Rosc bring "several kinds of education"—none of them of the textbook variety—to widower Oliver Milliron, his three sons, and the rambunctious students in the region's one-room schoolhouse. A paean to a vanished way of life and the eccentric individuals and institutions that made it fertile, The Whistling Season is Ivan Doig at his best.

"The Whistling Season takes the chill out of today's literary winds."—Los Angeles Times Book Review

"Lovely storytelling, whether you're in Montana or New York."—USA Today

Ivan Doig is the author of ten previous books, including the novels Prairie Nocturne and Dancing at the Rascal Fair. A former ranch hand, newspaperman, and magazine editor, Doig holds a Ph.D. in history from the University of Washington. He lives in Seattle.