THE WEEKLY EXPONENT, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1912

15'S VICTORS SECOND TIME

Sophomores Again Drag Opponents
Through Waters of Frog Pond.
Sophomore Flag is Floated.

After a short pull of five minutes a class of 1915 proved themselves the better men in the tug-of-war contest held Friday over the college frog pond. The contest was pulled off despite the fact that the ground was covered with inches of snow and slush, and snow was falling for a part of the time during which the contest was held.

Each team was composed of twelve men chosen from each class and weighed in. The difference in weight between the two teams was about seventy-six pounds. However, scientific pulling was the deciding factor in the contest and because of that feature after the first minute of pulling the result of the contest was never in doubt.

At first it seemed that neither side was making any gains. The sophomores made slight gains after which they settled down and rested for a brief time. All this time the freshmen were pulling hard and thus tiring themselves. On their renewal of pulling the sophomores made more gains and after a minute of pulling they again rested. The next time they gained ground very fast and soon Howard Seamans, the first man on the rope for the freshmen was in the edge of the icy waters, and he was soon followed by the other members of the team from the lower classes.

All classes were excused for the event and in addition to most of the students in the hill a number of high school students and townspeople were present to witness the affair. The two teams weighed in before the contest, the winning team being composed of the following men: Hilmer Dahl, Martin Kelley, Alfred Eberle, Rowland Haegle, Ray Jones, Roy Malsor, Wm. Ross, Harold Holberg, Edward Sutherland, John B. Tait, Elwin G. Wood and Ernest Border, captain. The total weight of the sophomores team was 1846 pounds. The freshmen were represented by Wm. Dissy, Clark Nordquist, Harrell Hibbard, Herbert Hudson, Taylor Lescher, Harold Luther, Palmer Tubbs, Thos. Triscoll, Myron Baril, Ray Bowlen, Howard Seamans and Harold Widener, captain. The total weight of the lower classmen was 1,769½ pounds. Fred Jordan was the referee and "Bing" Hodgskiss and Alonzo Truitt were umpires for the event.

Following the contest over the pond, a sophomore pennant was displayed by the girls of the class, and the sophomore girls began to snatch the ribbons worn by the freshmen girls. That was the sign for a scrap between the girls of the classes. The pennant emerged from the fight in small bits and after about a half hour of fighting the girls retired, neither side seeming to have the best of the contest. This was the first contest of this nature to be held at the college, and a great deal of excitement was aroused as the girls surged across the campus. However, no one was hurt and, aside from being a bit tired, all were happy.

As the interest died out in this event the sophomores fastened a pennant to the flag pole, and that was a challenge at once accepted by the freshmen. However, they were outnumbered and were unable to tear down the offending flag. They fought gamely for three-quarters of an hour to secure possession of their opponent's colors. It was all in vain, however, so the sophs pulled down their flag and, the freshmen still being unable to get it, all retired from the field.

This is the second tug of war contest.

GALLATIN HIGH MEETS BILLINGS TOMORROW

Tomorrow the football teams of Billings and Gallatin high schools will meet at the fair grounds to see which institution has the better team. Both teams are reported to be strong contenders for championship honors of the state, and an interesting contest is expected. Billings has a heavy, fast eleven and seem to be confident of a victory. The high school team of Gallatin is also a strong one, as they have shown in their scrimmages with the college. Just what the outcome of the contest is will be difficult to determine until tomorrow, but a good contest is expected.

Tickets are now on sale at fifty cents apiece and a good attendance is expected. It is hoped that a good crowd of college men will attend so that the same can be expected of the high school boys when the college lines up against the U. of M. a week from tomorrow. The contest takes place at 2:30 sharp at the fair grounds.

DRAMATIC CLUB APPOINTS ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Jack-o-Lantern club held its regular meeting last Thursday, at which time Jos. Morgan and Geo. Roosevelt were elected members of the organization. An advisory committee, consisting of Rhoda Dawes, Jos. K. Truman, Georgia Cullum and Ella Harmon, has been appointed to make plans for the year's work along with Mrs. Una B. Herrick, director of the club. The committee held a short meeting Tuesday, at which time plays were discussed. It is probable that the first play will be given shortly before the holidays.

CLUB ROOMS WILL BE FINISHED IN FEW DAYS

Expected that They Will be Ready for Occupancy on November First.
Woodwork Finished.

Work on the club rooms on the third floor of Agricultural hall is progressing nicely, although they will not be ready for occupancy by October 15th, as was expected at the beginning of the college year. All of the plastering is completed and most of the woodwork is finished. The floors are now being laid and the remaining work will be rushed in the hope of having the rooms ready for occupancy by the first of November. After the floors are laid they will be covered with linoleum, and then the furniture will be put in the rooms. The furniture has been shipped and will be ready to be put in place by the time the work on the rooms is completed.

There will be three rooms altogether and they will cover the south half of the third floor of Agricultural hall. The other part of the third floor is being used for a store room for farm machinery for the farm mechanics class. However, if there is demand for more room for club rooms at once, all of the third floor will be available for that purpose. In time, however, it is expected that they will be placed on some other part of the campus, probably in the proposed college gymnasium, which it is hoped will be erected in the next few years near the athletic field back of College hall.

For the present the plan as now being carried out is a big thing for the college. The largest of the three rooms will be across the south end of the building. From it a ten-foot hall will pass lengthways through the middle of the building to the stairway. On each side of the hall will be a room of good size. The equipment of the rooms has been mentioned before in the Exponent. It will consist of lounges, rockers, library and reading tables and chairs. Books and magazines will be provided. One billiard and one pool table will be installed, as well as card tables. The rooms will be especially handy for committee and club meetings and will provide a general meeting place for the college students.

The benefit to be derived from these rooms is great to the college students, and their completion is looked forward to.

It is reported that the "Bull Moosers" on the hill are planning on forming a political club to do all that is possible to further the campaign of the Progressives this fall. The organization formed some time ago has not been very active since the first day, hence the move towards forming a new club.

FINAL ACTION TAKEN FRIDAY REGARDING CHANGE IN EMBLEM

By Unanimous Vote College Students Decide that Change
in College Emblem is Desirable---Change in College
Title is Reason for Change from "A" to "M"

With the action of the athletic association last Friday in substituting the letter "M" in place of the "A" as the athletic emblem of the college, passes the last trace of the old title, Montana Agricultural College, which was changed by the legislature at its last session to Montana State college.

As announced in last week's Exponent, the executive committee of the association had previously recommended that the change be made, and the vote taken in assembly Friday was merely to ratify the action of the committee. A two-thirds vote was necessary to make the change, but this clause was not necessary, as the meeting was unanimously in favor of the substitution of the "M" for the "A."

The old emblem was adopted five years ago, when the official title of the institution was the Montana Agricultural college, and attempts to make this change served merely to stir up old rivalry and animosity between the agriculturalists and the engineers. Since the title of the college has been changed, the old emblem was something of a misnomer, and the change became almost imperative in order that a correct impression of the scope and character of the institution be given.

President Wharton of the association, was in the chair, and in the brief statement of the question to be voted upon, he mentioned that the captains of all the athletic teams favored the change, and that a committee from the Agricultural club was in favor of the change, and these facts, together with a resume of the conditions cited above, gave sufficient reason for the proposed change. The vote was then taken, with the result as stated above. The meeting then adjourned so that the Woodrow Wilson club might hold its meeting in the assembly hall.

PROMINENT ALUMNUS VISITS ALMA MATER

Frank Spragg, '02, was a visitor at the college the latter part of last week. Mr. Spragg is now located at the Michigan Agricultural College Experiment Station and has charge of the breeding of farm crops.

After graduation from Montana State in 1902, Mr. Spragg attended Michigan Agricultural College and took his master's degree from that institution. After receiving his degree he was given a research assistantship and he is now head of the division in which his work lies.

He left the first of the week for Denton, Montana, to visit his mother and she will probably accompany him back to Lansing to which place he expects to return in about two weeks.

Mr. Spragg has probably done more than any other man in the United States in research work in investigating the breeding of clover and alfalfa.

COLLEGE TO HAVE BETTER PROTECTION

A fire engine belonging to the city of Bozeman will be installed on the college grounds soon. An addition will be built to the west side of the power house in which to house the engine.

New hose will be secured and the engine will be connected to one of the Stirling boilers at the heating plant. This will make it possible to have water under high pressure at any time on the hill and will make the buildings on the hill much safer from the menace of fire.

It will be possible to reach the drill hall, Chemistry building, College hall, Hamilton hall, the electrical laboratory and shops without moving the engine. This and the automobile engine down town will be good safeguards to the college property. Work will be commenced on the addition to the power house at once.

SHORT COURSE SECURES MANY

Six Months' Course in Practical Agriculture Secures Flattering Attendance for Season's Work.

Tuesday morning saw the opening of the short course in agriculture for this year, and the registration for that day was very encouraging, as it exceeded very materially that of the same time last year. Up to Wednesday morning about twenty-five new men and most of the old men had registered, and it is expected that the total registration in the course this year will near the hundred mark, which will be a gain of sixty per cent over last year. This is indeed a splendid showing, and it proves conclusively that the course is being more and more appreciated each year, and that it is being taken at its true value.

The courses for the three years will be practically the same as last year. It is a practical course to increase interest in the farm, and will consist chiefly in practical work, lectures being given to show and clarify the causes of certain common phenomena of the farm. With the corps of competent instructors now on the hill, and the seeming zeal of the students, a great deal of good, solid work should be done between now and next March, when the year's short course will come to a close.

The classes in the course started last Wednesday morning with full attendance and, while not a great deal will be

ENROLLMENT COMPLETED

Membership Lists in Both Men's and Women's Glee Clubs Now Complete. Good Material Present.

This week a notice appeared on the bulletin board bearing the names of the men and women who have been selected to be members of the college glee clubs. The men's club will consist of twelve voices and the ladies' will contain sixteen. The old men who will compose the men's glee club are Alonzo Truitt, Roy Spain, Max Kenek, Lawrence Wylie, Hamilton Steel and Geo. Roosevelt. The new men in the club will be Rowland Haegle, Walter Willson, Perck Kolb, Robert La Peyre, Allen McDougall and David Steel. The men's club will have its rehearsal each Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 in the college assembly hall, and any person who does not attend the rehearsal will lose his place in the organization.

The girls' club, which is the outgrowth of the Hamilton Society, a singing club composed of the girls of Hamilton Hall, will contain the following members of the college student body: Pearl Heighon, Harvena Cannon, Olive Selin, Marsa Riddell, Mildred Eckles, Georgia Hollier, Willa Sultz, Vie Vallean, Cecil Walker, Alberta Borthwick, Kate Wilson, Georgia Cullum, Inez Everett, Ruth Hartman, Amelia Stanley and Hazel Coffey. The girls will hold regular practice each Wednesday evening at four o'clock.

HORTICULTURAL SHED HAS BEEN COMPLETED

A need which has heretofore been keenly felt has been overcome in the building of a horticultural shed for the general use of that department. The shed adjoins the machine shed on the north. There is a room for storing tools and a work room on the first floor. Upstairs is a large attic, to be used for storage purposes. There are two cellars, one with a cement floor, which have been made practically frost proof. They will be used for storing potatoes and apples, and, in this connection, experiments upon the keeping qualities of different varieties of each crop will be conducted.

PREPS HOLD MEETING RIORDAN TO REPORT

The prep Argos, at their regular meeting, held Monday noon, voted to sign a pledge to buy season tickets before the first football game and to join the college Boosters. In order to facilitate this, a committee was appointed, composed of a member from each class, with power to secure the signatures and to collect the entrance fee for the Boosters and turn same over to them.

The standing committees for the year were appointed as follows:

Athletics, McDougall, Pink, Beach, Murry; entertainment, Pierce, Wellman, White, Rand, Stone; fellowship, Jacques, Pope, Monson.

McDougall was elected athletic representative on the executive committee and Riordan, Exponent representative. The society will give a reception to the new students of the department in the drill hall on October 18th.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION TRANSACTS BUSINESS

Elect Gilruth as Faculty Representative, Adopt New Letter and Plan to Purchase Sweaters.

Athletic tickets, sweaters, letters and other things of importance were discussed at a meeting of the executive committee of the athletic association of Montana State, held Monday afternoon. Professor Tallman, treasurer of the association, made a few remarks to the members of the association, showing the need of having more athletic season tickets sold. He stated that up to the present time only a fraction of the student body had secured tickets and, in order to make athletics at the college pay, it is necessary to see that every member of the student body secures a ticket. Professor Tallman stated that he would secure a part of the assembly hour today, in which short talks would be made in an endeavor to sell more tickets.

Professor I. T. Gilruth was elected as faculty representative to the association. Professor Gilruth has always been prominent in athletics at the college since he became a member of the faculty, and he did good work last spring in assisting the tack men to get into shape. He has been out helping in football on several occasions this fall, and the choice is undoubtedly the best that could be made.

The college athletic emblem was next discussed. It was finally decided that a block letter "M" four by five inches in size should be the official college emblem. The letter is to be gold on a blue background for all those winning them in fall and winter sports—that is, in football or basketball—and for the spring sports—track and baseball—it will be a shaded letter of the same size. Girls will be awarded an Old English "M" if they play one full intercollegiate game or five other games with teams not connected with the college.

It was decided that the athletic association should furnish sweaters to all who win their letters in athletics and with that end in view it was decided that fifty cents out of each four dollars paid in for a ticket should be set aside for a special fund with which to purchase sweaters for the letter men. It was further decided that at the end of each year whatever surplus there should be above $50 should be turned into the general athletic fund. That will leave enough in the sweater fund with which to begin each year and will make the purchase of sweaters for the men more of a certainty than it is at present. There has been a great deal of demand for some provision such as this, and it

GOVERNOR AS GUEST OF CLUB

Edwin L. Norris Addresses Woodrow Wilson Club Friday on Campaign Issues—Makes Good Impression.

The Woodrow Wilson club of Montana State college held a public meeting in the college assembly hall last Friday at eleven o'clock, when Governor Edwin L. Norris of Montana, was the principal speaker. Governor Norris spoke for about forty minutes, going over the salient points in the present presidential campaign.

He opened his speech with a few words of appreciation for the cordial welcome that he had received, stating that such welcomes were exceedingly rare for him when he was about to speak on political subjects. He congratulated the college students who were about to cast their first vote, stating that in spite of the objections of the few, the government by the people was the only safe means of government today. He deplored the fact that even a few still held to the idea that the voice of the people was the voice of the mob and was not to be trusted.

Governor Norris then passed to national conditions, stating that if they were as bad as reported, that there could be only one source of blame, because only one party had been in control for the past sixteen years, namely, the republican party. He showed how conditions had grown worse under the Roosevelt administration, and demonstrated that the time had come for a change.

The speaker showed how the republican party was divided into two hostile factions, each struggling to elect its own candidate and each favoring the democratic nominee in case that its own could not be elected—or, in other words, its case is that of the Biblical illustration—a house divided against itself should fall. He showed that the republicans were unable to solve the situation, and he stated that in his opinion, in the state the order of the candidates would be Wilson, Roosevelt and Taft; in the nation, Wilson, Taft, Roosevelt.

He then passed to the various candidates. Mr. Taft, he explained, had been elected upon Mr. Roosevelt's recommendation that he was the man for the place. President Taft's failure was apparent to the most prejudiced. What was the voter to do then? Follow the man who had shown such judgment in his choice of men, or follow the man who had shown such a woful past and gave no promise of a better future? He stated as his opinion that the voters should stand by and let the two republican candidates tell the public what they know about one another, and he would be willing to stand by the results.

Mr. Norris then took up the question of corporation dictation in governmental affairs. He considered it a serious matter that great corporations should be allowed to exercise such an influence as is now exerted on affairs of state. He described the government as a corporation in which each voter held one share of stock, and he characterized as a dangerous citizen that person who by reason of his wealth or position was able to exercise control over more than one share of this stock. He asserted that both Presidents Taft and Roosevelt had failed to remedy this condition, and stated it as his opinion that the only man now before the people who could do so was Woodrow Wilson.

He then paid a high personal tribute

The Weekly Exponent is strictly a student enterprise. Its chief purpose is to present to its readers each week an accurate and complete record of the developments in college affairs during that period and it is intended that its influence shall be exerted for the upbuilding of M. S. C. The paper is the result of voluntary effort put forth by the students who compose the staff.

CALENDAR.

Friday, October 11. President's reception to members of the faculty. Hamilton Hall; eight o'clock.

Saturday, October 19—M. S. C. vs. U. of M., football, at Fair grounds.

Saturday, November 9—Football, M. S. C. vs. U. of M., at Missoula.

Thursday, November 28—Thanksgiving day.

Change of Emblem.

Friday at mass meeting of the student body the official athletic emblem of Montana State college was changed from the letter "A" to the letter "M." The question of whether the change should be made or not has been brought up at several times at the college, but until last Friday no change was made. However, the fact that not a dissenting voice was raised in the meeting Friday shows the feeling of the general student body. The Agricultural club held a meeting the day previous, and the members of that organization unanimously recommended that the change be made. That shows the sentiment of the agricultural students of the college, and shows that they are broad enough to see that the former emblem was not representative of the institution.

It has been argued that the college should not have an "M" because of the fact that the same letter is the official letter of the University and also of the School of Mines. However, the college "M" is different than the letter used by the other schools. The letter was adopted by the athletic association is distinctive in size and color from the one used by the sister institutions of the college.

The fact that in other states more than one institution often has the same letter may be used as a precedent to overthrow the above argument that the college should not have the same letter as that used by the U. of M. or the Mines.

The big argument in favor of the change, however, was that the old letter was not truly representative of the college and the new letter is representative of the institution. The "A" stood for agriculture, or at least that was the general impression and the people throughout the state seeing the athletic emblem had the impression that the college taught agriculture only strengthened on them. The fact that Governor Norris, who should be as well informed as any man in the state, should call Montana State college the Montana Agricultural college, in his address Friday, is enough to cause any person to see the advisability of changing the emblem in order to correct the prevailing impression as much as possible. So the old letter was wholly unrepresentative of the college, and gave the people who saw it worn the wrong impression of the college. Further than this, it is well known that the letter "A" could have absolutely no significance to a student in the engineering department and, as a matter of fact, a number of agricultural students did not care to wear the old emblem because of the fact that it was not representative of the college. So it seems that a big forward stride was made Friday when the student body unanimously changed the college athletic emblem from an "A" to an "M."

The writer would now suggest that all college stationery, all of the college experiment station bulletins, all press notices and everything that pertains to Montana State be made to conform to the real name of the college, namely Montana State college. Holding on to an old name can only injure the college as a whole. It does not benefit the agricultural department but it does hurt the other departments. So it seems that the step mentioned above is the next logical step to take.

Have You Purchased an Athletic Ticket?

At the meeting of the athletic executive committee it was reported that the sale of athletic season tickets was not what it should be, in that barely a fourth of the student body had yet secured them. Ways and means by which each student could be induced to invest in one, were discussed, and it is probable that each person will be personally seen in the near future.

That such a course should be necessary is a disgrace to the college student body. The price of the tickets is four dollars, and that sum is considered a fee for the maintenance of college athletics on the hill. No student should look upon it as merely a season ticket, and immediately commence to see if he couldn't get through the season cheaper by staying away from a few games and paying as he enters to the rest of them. The money derived from the tickets is absolutely necessary for the maintenance of college athletics, and every man or woman at the college, whether in athletics or not, should be glad to pay that fee. In that way he can give the college a boost. By not buying one, he only knocks the institution.

Every means will be used to make athletics at the college pay, even if a blacklist must be used. For, when things come to the stage that honor students who pay no other fees, that those who are on teams and get most of the benefit from the fees, and all classes of people in the college, fail to respond to an urgent call, it is time for a reformation. Every person's help is needed. It is hoped that this will not have to be printed again, but it may be worse the next time if a better sale isn't reported. Don't forget—buy a ticket at once.

New Equipment.

Through the kindness of Miss Harkins and the home science department, the Exponent office is in the possession of a desk and a cabinet, two pieces of furniture that were much needed for the convenience of the staff. Heretofore this year there has only been one desk in the office, and consequently during rush hours writing space was always at a premium. Now, however, there is room for all, and the paper wants to take this opportunity for publicly thanking the college and Miss Harkins for the privilege of using the above mentioned articles of furniture.

In this connection the paper also wishes to thank Hilmer Dahl and Elmer Larsen, and also John Tait and George Roosevelt, for the assistance they rendered in getting the desk and cabinet into their new positions. The two last mentioned assisted members of the staff in getting them from the top floor of the Agricultural building and the first two helped place them in the office. To do so it was necessary to lift the desk clear over the eight-foot partition shutting the office out from the Chronicle office.

Alumni, Attention.

The Exponent endeavors to print all of the alumni news, and throughout each paper may be seen news items in regard to graduates and former students at the college. However, that is a hard field to cover, especially for a student who is an undergraduate of the college. It is not an entirely agreeable and pleasurable task for any one to do so, but the paper must have alumni notes, and the only way to get them is to have them handed in by the alumni. If each person does his or her part, that portion of the paper will be the most interesting of all, especially for alumni.

So the editor would like to suggest that every alumni hand in news of himself or herself or of any of the other members of that body. Any news of changes of position, special work or the thousands of interesting things that happen in the course of a lifetime, make interesting reading material, and it is hoped that every alumnus will do his or her best to keep the alumni portion of the paper up to standard.

A COMMUNICATION.

Following is a communication received by the editor of the Exponent in regard to sending a stock-judging team to the International stock judging contest this year. The letter, which was written by a man interested in the college and its activities, contains many statements that it may be well to consider in regard to the matter of sending a judging team this year.

While the Exponent may be accused of not boosting for such a team, the item as it appeared in the last issue was intended as a statement of facts, received from those in a position to know the facts, rather than an editorial expressing the views of the writer. However, it may be said truthfully that it would be difficult to select a team this year possessing the matured judgment, the ability and other qualifications possessed by the team last year. Hence, it would be difficult to make the showing and secure the advertising that was secured last year.

The Exponent favors every forward move and supports anything which appears to be a good thing for the college. It does not want the writer of the communication to infer from the item in the issue of October fourth that the paper intended to discourage sending a judging team. The paper does not favor a move which does not help the college. In the matter of sending a judging team, the paper will leave that matter with men at the college competent to decide whether such a move will be of benefit to the institution or not.

The communication, which follows almost in its entirety, may be of some help in solving the question. While the writer states that his letter is for the Exponent, and it is the paper he desires to censure, by publishing his letter, a better boost for a judging team will be given than by writing an editorial and handing his statements to the college people second hand. It is never well to jump at conclusions too soon, and there are arguments on both sides of the question:

"Bozeman, Mont., Oct. 4, 1912.
"Editor Weekly Exponent:
"In your paper published on Oct. 4th, on Page 2, under heading 'Gordon Returns from Trip—Acts as a Judge,' the following item appears that I do not just approve of, namely:

"In this connection it may also be mentioned that there will probably be no stock judging team this year. In such contests it is a rule that no man can compete more than once, and so the men who were on the team last year are ineligible this year. Owing to the small size of the student body, it would also be difficult to work up another team this year. It is thought that next year the college will be in a position to put out a team that will make a most creditable showing again, and a good team every other year is a better advertisement than a poor one every year.

"Now, there is lots of truth in the statement that 'you can't saw wood with a hammer,' and the object of the Exponent should be to boost for the things needed on the hill. As I understand it, all of the seniors are back this year except Lee Anderson, and I am told by good authority that a second team could have been selected last year, with the lowest man only five points below the team last year. Two things last year had a tendency to put Montana on the map, to-wit: the New York Land show and the judging team at Chicago International, and the biggest thing of the two was the advertising derived from the judging team.

"It was my good fortune to lead the list last year with a subscription of $50 to help defray expenses of the team and I want to say right here and now that from none of my donations made since coming to Montana have I received the results of the fifty for the judging team.

"Now, as to the smallness of the student body, it won't get any larger if nothing is done to enlarge it. There is a lot of truth in the saying, 'He who whispers down a well about the things he has to sell, will never reap the golden dollars like he who climbs a tree and hollers,' and it is a lead pipe cinch that by sending a team to the International, Montana would certainly be climbing a tree and hollering.

"The items picked up by the members of the team last year would be a great help to the team this year; but those items, if taken up by a team a year or two hence, would not be worth the half.

"It is a readily conceded fact that you must either go forward or backward, because to stand still is next to impossible.

"Last year our boys began to attract attention, and the annual visitors to the International will begin to look for the Montana team this year and, not finding it, will think last year was an exception in the way of brains at the Montana school."

The Exponent will be glad to publish any other opinions of those interested in sending or not sending a team to the International judging contest this year.

COLLEGE NOTES

Mrs. Matt W. Alderson of Marysville, has been the guest of her daughter, Myrtle, at Hamilton Hall the past week.

H. Elwood Morris, '09, has been over in the Flathead country the past week on experiment station work. He will finish the summer's work in that district on this trip. Mr. Morris has been studying apple tree diseases in that section of the state.

The candy sale held by the Y. W. C. A. girls Friday immediately following Governor Norris' speech, was a success and the sweets went so fast that a number who were late were unable to secure any. The money derived from the sale will be used for Y. W. C. A. work.

At the regular assembly period today, President James M. Hamilton will make a talk on some phase of his European tour. Just what phase he will present is not known, but an interesting talk can be expected. President Hamilton made an address to the Presbyterian Brotherhood Tuesday evening concerning his European tour.

Prof. O. B. Whipple left last Sunday for Kalispell, where he will attend the Flathead county fair. From there he will go to Lincoln county in search of a location for a new experiment station. He will meet Director F. B. Linfield in the Bitter Root valley tomorrow and, together, they will investigate the work of the station there.

Director F. B. Linfield of the experiment station, will attend the meeting of the board of Farmers' Institutes in Helena Monday. On Tuesday he will continue to Fergus county, where he, in company with Prof. Alfred Atkinson, will visit the experiment station located at Moccasin.

A valuable addition to the equipment of the experiment station farm has been made in a new concrete silo, just completed within the last few days, at a cost of six hundred dollars. This silo is built entirely of concrete, is thirty-three feet high, fifteen feet across, and will hold one hundred and twenty tons of green stuff. It has been filled with clover ensilage, which, for the most part, will be fed out to the dairy cows this winter.

The faculty of the home science department desires to thank the three milling companies in the Gallatin valley for the donations of flour and cereals that have been received the past week. The Bozeman Milling company gave the department direct, two sacks of pure food bran and a sack of fancy cake flour; the Treasure State Milling company of Manhattan, gave a sack of bread flour and a sack of pastry flour; the Gallatin Valley Milling company of Belgrade, made the same donation. Both the Gallatin Valley Milling company's and the Treasure State Milling company's gifts were sent through the Thos. H. Rea grocery.

Miss Ruby Hopkins returned to Anaconda, Monday afternoon after a week's visit with her sister, Hazel.

The executive committee of the M. S. C. Alumni association will meet and organize some time next week, following which plans for the year will be made.

Arthur Wade, '11, has visited friends on the hill on several occasions lately. Mr. Wade is employed by the city in the laying of the pavement on Wallace avenue.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. J. S. James, at Conrad, Montana, September 13, a son. Mr. James, familiarly known to the students as Jimmie, was a member of the class of 1909.

Wm. Fluhr of Helena, is registered at the college for the short course in agriculture. He played on the Independents of Helena against the college basket ball team last winter.

A new member has been added to the staff of the biology department in the person of John Phillips Parker, born to Prof. and Mrs. J. R. Parker on Tuesday, October the eighth, in consequence of which event Prof. Parker is wearing a very broad smile.

The annual faculty reception will be given this evening by President J. M. Hamilton at Hamilton Hall. All the members of the college faculty will be present and the evening will be spent in getting further acquainted. A program has been arranged and an enjoyable evening is anticipated by the college and faculty members.

Ralph Wells, who was called to his home in Illinois because of the serious illness of his father, will return to resume his college duties the last of this week or the first part of next. Mr. Wells' father died before he reached home. The sympathy of the student body is extended to Mr. Wells in his sorrow.

A telegram was received from the manager of the North Dakota Agricultural College football team asking for a game with the college. They also desire to play the University. Owing to the expense, however, it is improbable that the game will be scheduled. At the time of going to press no games other than the two with the University have been scheduled. The Billings Polytechnic Institute wishes a game, but it seems impossible to arrange dates.

REV. BENNETT ADDRESSES JOINT MEETING

Rev. Bennett's talk to the joint meeting of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A., was of especial value. His theme was the "Personal Touch." He showed that an organization to be of vital worth must have behind it a strong personality and that it must be supported by members who realize that they are responsible for the work of the organization. Members of a Christian association should be altruistic and should join not to get good, but to give.

The Y. W. C. A. was represented by over thirty members and the Y. M. C. A. had four. That the members were appreciative was shown by the close attention they gave the speaker, who addressed them in his usually impressive manner, giving from his own personal experiences a bit of the touch that lifted their spirits to higher levels.

WOODROW WILSON CLUB ELECTS BROOKE HARTMAN

Frederick Dissly Vice-President, Roy Spain Secretary, and Other Officers Chosen. Constitution Adopted.

Immediately preceding the speech by Governor Norris Friday, the Woodrow Wilson club held a short business session and effected its permanent organization. Prof. W. F. Brewer was in the chair, and stated that the report of the committees on constitution and nominations were in order.

As chairman of the first named committee, Professor Brewer then read the constitution as drafted. It was brief, stating the object of the club to be to secure the election of Woodrow Wilson as president of the United States by all honorable means; to see that all democratic students and members of the faculty at the college are registered and vote at the coming election, and to attend all democratic rallies in a body. The constitution was unanimously adopted.

Professor Thaler, chairman of the committee on nominations, then made the report for that committee. Brooke Hartman, president; Frederick Dissly, vice-president, and Roy Spain, secretary, were the ones chosen. This report was also adopted unanimously.

The newly elected president then took the chair and in a neat speech thanked the members of the club for the honor conferred upon him, and then proposed that some yells be given during the meeting and the speech which was to follow. During the wait that ensued before Governor Norris appeared, the newly elected secretary, Roy Spain, passed slips among the members and those students present who desired to become members signed the slips. He then secured a list of the voters and also of the members of the club who were not eligible to vote in the coming election.

should meet with the approval of the general student body.

Another matter of interest was that the association recommended that some token be given the managers of the different athletic teams of the college. They approved of awarding a fob to the managers. The fob is to have the letter "M" on it, with Montana State College Athletic Association on the front side, while on the reverse side will be engraved the name of the person receiving it and the team of which he was manager. A drawing will be made of the fob and a uniform pattern will be adhered to. Owing to the lack of funds, the association will not attempt to furnish them this year. However, it is probable that the Boosters or some other college organization will take this matter up and secure the fobs. They will not purchase any sweaters this year if enough athletic tickets are sold, and the purchase of fobs for the managers.

GIRLS OF S. N. L. CLUB HAVE SOCIAL TIME

The girls of the S. N. L. club met at Margaret Bole's home Friday evening for a social evening. The event was given for Christine Cameron North, a member of the organization at its organization. Eight girls of the club were present and the evening was spent in recalling old times, after which refreshments were served.

Those who attended were Alda Smith, Rhoda Dawes, Hettie Schumacher, Olive Clark, Ruth Hartman and Dorothy Garton. Mrs. North was a member of the organization during her freshman year at college, and is visiting friends in Bozeman for a short time.

MISS FOX WILL VISIT BOZEMAN SOON

Miss Elizabeth Fox, student secretary of the Y. W. C. A., will visit Bozeman November 6-9. Through Mrs. W. S. Hartman, a committee of ladies from the churches, high school and college have made plans for a reception and conference with Miss Fox one afternoon of her visit. Mrs. Hartman has also planned for a social gathering at her home, to be held Friday evening, Nov. 8, to which the young ladies of the college are invited so that they may meet Miss Fox.

Mrs. Hartman is one of the three Montana members of the Northwest territorial committee of the Y. W. C. A.

Don'ts—or Hunches for Freshmen Men.

1. Don't run down town.
2. Don't try to make a hit; you'll be taken for exactly what you're worth. You'll do well to live within your means.
3. Remember that Dock is coach; he'll ask your advice if he wants it.
4. Don't allow any "frat" man or the leader of any faction to dope you. Use your own bean.
5. Don't forget your self-respect, think for yourself, never decide hastily, and don't be afraid to ask for advice.
6. You are incurably religious, but don't think that The Church or any one Sect has a lease of Christianity.
7. Don't knock or know too much. The senior has been here three years.
8. Don't think for a minute that you're making a hit with the girls.
9. Don't follow a bad example.

Do's—or Positive Hunches.

1. God gave you a backbone—use it.
2. You are here for work. Montana State college wants only those men who are serious minded enough to live up to her standards and assist in carrying her common burdens. Get next, or beat it.
3. In what does manliness consist: Cigarettes, peg tops and a loud mouth? Is the college man who chases around at night, who acts ungentlemanly in the dining room, or tells smutty stories, your ideal? Above all things, Montana State college requires that you be a man.
4. Be broad-minded, but don't let your ideals slip.
5. Observe closely, but keep in mind the old saying about little boys.
6. There's victory in defeat, 'tis said, but we've had that kind long enough.

NOTES OF THE WORK ON THE FOOTBALL FIELD

Those who read the Anaconda Standard, Sunday, and the Weekly Kaimin
on the previous Thursday were undoubtedly surprised at the statement concerning the varsity team. The publication of our sister institution stated that the "Bruins" were sharpening their teeth and thirsting for the blood of M. S.

cured makes having the repairs made

C. warriors. The Standard, however, stated that the University had showed no such class against the Missoula high school, and were glad that they did not have to play the Mines. It is strange that a school attempting the schedule
that the varsity is this year should come out with such "bear" stories and at the same time expect the students of Montana State to swallow them. If they thought for a single minute that any such statement would cause over-confidence or cause anyone in the college here to underrate their ability, the scheme was an utter failure. Montana State knows that she will meet one of the best teams that the University has ever turned out, and will make every possible effort to defeat them, even though "The University was glad that it did not have to play the Mines
game."

One of the reasons that the college has made such excellent progress during the past two weeks is owing to the fact that the Gallatin high has furnished the best kind of practice games. In each of the games the college men have had to work, and work hard, against the scholastics, and in so doing have uncovered many of the weakpoints
the team. The high school will play an outside game tomorrow, and every college student who possibly can should attend that game. While it will be impossible for everyone to root for the

COLLEGE SHOWS BETTER FORM IN LAST GAME

Played High School Wednesday and Showed Marked Improvement Over
Work in Previous Games.

Owing to the stormy weather that has been prevalent in Bozeman during the past week, football practice on the field has been impossible, and the work confined to the gymnasium. That the improvement which was so noticeable a week ago, has not lagged with the enforced indoor work, was indicated Wednesday afternoon, when the college and high school lined up for a short practice
game.

The most noticeable feature of the practice from the college standpoint was the accurate manipulation of the forward pass. Heretofore the collegians have been fearfully inaccurate in both the throwing and handling of these ground gainers. Against the scholastics, however, the passing of Gosman and Graham was excellent, even with the wet and slippery ball. On the receiving end Carr, Connor and Christie handled their chances well and, for the first time this year, the yardage gained by the college on this play was considerable.
On line bucks and end runs the whole back field showed more speed and ability to advance the ball. Maddox was the most consistent ground gainer on these plays, being good for from three to ten yards on nearly every attempt to advance the ball.

From now on more attention will be given to new and intricate plays, so that when the blue and gold faces the varsity on October 19th it will not only be ready with straight football, but will undoubtedly be able to spring a few surprises if necessary. Another couple weeks of good, hard work and terrible
"Bruins" will not look nearly as formidable as they did at the first of the season.

a ticket and give them their financial support, at least.

In the same issue of the Kaimin a comment was made on the short schedule of college. It is true that only two games have been scheduled so far, but if both of these are won, the college will feel well satisfied with the season's work. Without detracting from the ability of the varsity in the least, it seems that they have attempted a few more games than they will be able to handle. There is some doubt in the mind of the writer whether it is not better to play only two games than to tackle something in which the inevitable outcome seems to be something akin to a white-washing.

In the game Wednesday Willard Atkins played an excellent game for the college at end. Although one of the lightest men on the team, he downed the heavy high school backs for losses time and time again. His breaking of the interference was another noticeable feature of his playing.

Probably one of the most sensational plays that was ever seen in a football game in Bozeman was a forward pass between Gosman and Graham of the college in the game Wednesday.
Gosman received the ball, ran several yards to the side, looked wildly about for several seconds for some one to heave the ball to, and then, taking a desperate chance, made a neat pass of two feet to Graham, who was thrown behind the line. Can you beat it for something sensational?

Weather conditions in Bozeman have been anything but favorable for practice during the past week. Snow has covered the ground nearly all the time,
making it impossible to work outside.
Signal practice in the gymnasium and short runs on the campus was about all the work the men received.

The game with the varsity is only two weeks distant, and now that the team is making such good progress, there is no reason whatsoever why the student body should not show a little football spirit. A rally is talked of Friday night before the game, and it is the duty of every member of the student body to be on hand. Everyone should be there, not only to let the visitors know that M. S. C. is out to win, but also to let the men who will represent her know that every student in the school is boosting for the team.

The fact that today was tomorrow and soon will be yesterday is what keeps most of us guessing past and

SOPHOMORES ELECT AS EDITOR GEO. ROOSEVELT

Popular Sophomore Chosen as Leader of Annual Class Enterprise. No Staff
is as Yet Chosen.

An important meeting of the sophomore class was held Monday afternoon at 3:30 p. m., its prime purpose being to elect an editor-in-chief of the 1915 annual. Realizing the importance and solemnity of the occasion, nearly every member of the class was present to vote for the man of his choice.

The minutes were dispensed with,
and nominations were declared in order.
George Roosevelt, Robt. Kelley and Lyndall Davidson were nominated for the office, the first ballot resulting in the election of Mr. Roosevelt.

The sophomores should be congratulated on having elected Mr. Roosevelt to this position for, being energetic, a thorough business man, and a man of great executive ability, he is especially fitted for this responsible position.

It being Mr. Roosevelt's privilege to appoint his staff, the members of the class may rest assured that he will select only those who will ably assist him in the undertaking and also make the appointments at once, so that work on the 1915 year book can be started. The advantage of this early start will be shown in the early distribution of the book.

It is hoped that each member of the class will resolve themselves into a committee of one to collect photographs and other suitable material which may be included in the contents.

The election of Mr. Roosevelt is only the first step in this undertaking, and there are many other steps to complete, which Mr. Roosevelt and the staff he may select, will doubtless do to the satisfaction of everyone concerned.

GOVERNOR IS GUEST OF CLUB

to Governor Wilson, stating that young men—college men all over the country—were responsible for the appearance of the governor in public life. He spoke of Governor Wilson's education and his position as president of a university with respect and admiration, and characterized as ignorant those who spoke of the "schoolteacher" in terms of derision. He showed that Governor Wilson had tremendous executive ability and could be trusted to give the common people a square deal in the matter of the big corporations.

The governor then spent considerable time in showing that a vote for either Taft or Roosevelt was a vote for Sherman or P. C. Knox. Both of these men were classed as reactionaries of the worst type, and the governor stated that the people might as well vote for Pierpont Morgan direct as to
to place either of these men in the presidential chair.

Both Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt were classed as standpatters and reactionaries of the worst type. Mr. Roosevelt was classed as a worse one than
Mr. Taft, as the former was favorable to trusts that were favorable to him,
while he was against any that opposed him. Woodrow Wilson was stated to be a plain, straightforward man, absolutely frank and honest, stating clearly and explicitly his position on every public question—a kind of man that would play all his cards face up on the table.

DEMUTH-LEWIS.

On September 17, in Portland, Ore-

Lewis were united in marriage. Mr.
and Mrs. DeMuth returned at once to Montana, stopping in Butte for a short visit with Mrs. DeMuth's father and then proceeding to Hebgen Dam, on DeMuth is first assistant engineer.

Mrs. DeMuth was a student in the tution for several years and Mr. De-Muth graduated from the department of civil engineering in 1910.

While in college Mr. DeMuth was one of the leading students. He helped organize the Boosters' club and was its first president. He was also an ardent Stag, being president of that organization one year and always has made it a point to be in Bozeman for each annual celebration. He was further interested in all forms of college activities and the many friends of both Mr.
and Mrs. DeMuth extend congratula-

when the members of the class of 1912

of their tug of war team over the mem-

The hall was decorated with green

chief amusement of the evening was dancing, the music being furnished by Gene Quaw and Fred Jackson. The
