

GRAIN JUDGING TEAM WINS FROM FARMERS.

Word was received late yesterday evening that the M. S. C. grain judging team, which went to Livingston last Wednesday to compete with a team from the Montana Seed Growers' Association, won from them, scoring 7.6 points ahead. Those on the team were Fred Bullock, Albert Borton and Thomas Ross. The association team was composed of J. P. Nash, W. K. Liquin and G. M. Laurence. Score 859.8—852.2.

The number of points scored by each contestant was determined by the nearness with which he came to the scores placed upon the grain by the three judges of the contest, Mr. F. C. Sumner, B. F. Whitlock and Prof. Alfred Atkinson.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL TO HOLD ALUMNI REUNION

In order that the alumni and ex-students of the school of agriculture might not lose interest in the work of the college Principal Holst has arranged for a reunion of all old students to be held next week. Most of the activities will be held Wednesday. The regular short course assembly next Wednesday morning at 9 a. m. will be turned over to the students and former visiting students who will give the program and discuss several matters of importance. Wednesday evening a banquet and social gathering will be held. A conference to discuss matters regarding the future of the department will be held some time Tuesday or Wednesday, although the hour has not been definitely decided yet.

The rapid growth of the School of Agriculture has proved very encouraging and it is thought that these conferences will do even more to increase the attendance. Seventeen are enrolled in the third year class this year which is more than has ever returned for the second and third year work previous to this year.

The Y. M. C. A. deputation team is going to Belgrade next Saturday where they will hold a series of meetings Saturday night and Sunday.

MONTANA STATE'S SPEAKERS ARE WINNERS IN CLOSE DEBATE WITH N. D. AGGIE TEAM

Two Clever Debaters of North Dakota Make Strong Fight for the Negative, But Luce and Park Win a Two to One Decision Through Superior Delivery and Strength of Rebuttal.

Strong arguments and excellent rebuttals gave Montana State a two to one decision over the North Dakota Aggies in the first debate ever held between the two institutions last Friday.

The question discussed was, "Resolved, That the federal government should own and operate the telephone and telegraph systems of the United States." Llewellyn Luce and Lee Park upheld the affirmative for the College and Mathias Thorfinnson and Harold Backman the negative for North Dakota.

The debate was close and interesting from start to finish. The North Dakota Aggies, fresh from a victory over the Oregon Aggies, displayed exceptional ability in debating and were at no time to be trifled with. They met the arguments put forth by the college team from the start and the impromptu nature of their speeches was at all times apparent.

Luce and Park, however, had a shade on delivery and as whole were somewhat stronger on refutation. Their rebuttal won the debate for the college. Both Thorfinnson and Backman are exceptional debaters and have an excellent knowledge of the question discussed. They talk without use of notes and are both very fluent speakers. Their direct arguments were strong and well organized and their attack in rebuttal well chosen. Backman's rebuttal speech was especially effective.

For the college Luce and Park gave splendid, well organized speeches and very forceful rebuttals. Their arguments were sound and their debate

PROPOSED CONSTITUTION OF ASSOCIATED STUDENT BODY WHICH MAY BE VOTED UPON BY THE STUDENTS THIS MORNING DURING THE REGULAR ASSEMBLY PERIOD

The proposed constitution for the Associated Students of Montana State College, as drawn up by the senate committee follows below in its entirety. There are many points in the constitution which are clearly excellent ones. It is the opinion of the Exponent, however, that there are also some unnecessary clauses, and some vague and unwise provisions. If it is the opinion of the student body that the constitution should be immediately voted on, the Exponent asks the students to give consideration to the changes which it believes to be most essential after what was necessarily, a hasty study of the document. These proposed changes are printed in black face type, in parentheses, immediately under the part regarding which the change is proposed.

CONSTITUTION OF THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF MONTANA STATE COLLEGE, U. OF MONTANA—PREAMBLE.

We, students of the Montana State College of the University of Montana, having rights to uphold and interests to promote both for ourselves and the institution whereat we are gathered, acting upon the desire to uphold such rights and promote such interests in the most efficient and creditable manner do organize ourselves as the ASSOCIATED STUDENTS of the MONTANA STATE COLLEGE, and establish this constitution.

ARTICLE I—COMPOSITION.

Section 1.

Clause 1—The Associated Students of the Montana State College shall be composed of active and honorary members. Any undergraduate student registered in the regular collegiate department of the Montana State College shall be enrolled as an active member of the Associated Students. Honorary membership shall include any alumni of the college either such as have become alumni prior to the organization of the Associated Students or who shall become such in the future, together with such other persons as the Associated Students may choose to make members, which latter shall become honorary members by a majority vote of the number present at a meeting.

Clause 2—By this provision the government of the Associated Stu-

was well outlined. Both had exceptional delivery, which went a long way toward making a good appearance. They were quick to grasp an opinion and did not drop it until they had hit hard.

The Arguments.

The affirmative based the contentions on the facts that the present systems under private ownership are virtually a monopoly which gives poor service for the prices charged. They also treat their employees poorly and pay low wages. The college team also pointed out in a clear concise manner that many parts of the country have neither telegraph nor telephone service, a condition that could easily be remedied under government ownership. They claimed that these systems are a natural part of the Post Office and that if they were to be incorporated into the Post Office it would be to the advantage of the majority of the people. They maintained that the government could give better service at lower rates and would therefore be justified in taking over these systems.

The North Dakota debaters laid their claims on the facts that the United States has the most efficient service, both telephonic and telegraphic in the world. They stated that more people use the telephone and telegraph in this country which goes to show that the present system is the best. They maintained that no monopoly exists and that competition keeps the rates at a minimum figure. They strongly emphasized

Read This Before You Vote

During this hour there is to be presented to you for your approval a proposed constitution for the Associated Students of Montana State college. The nature of this document is of vital importance to the student body of which you are a member. It has been posted in Montana Hall for only two days. Have you read and carefully considered every clause of it? Have you had sufficient opportunity to study it as it should be studied?

The student body has existed under the present form of government for nearly three years. It can exist under the same government for three weeks more. Why, hastily vote on a constitution which you have not had time to consider carefully? It may be the kind of a constitution you want. On the other hand it may not be the kind you want. You cannot calmly and thoughtfully decide whether it is the kind you want, or whether it is not, during this hour. Do you want to hurriedly and blindly vote on this constitution on such short notice, or do you want to adjourn this meeting, read the proposed constitution in the Exponent, discuss it among yourselves, decide whether there are not some changes which should be made, and then, after examination week, hold a meeting and sanely vote on the proposition? If it is a perfect constitution it will do no harm to study it; if it is not a perfect constitution you want to study it. As long as we are doing this thing, let's do it right.

dents shall be exercised solely by the active members of such body.

ARTICLE 2—SENATE.

The remaining two members of the Council shall consist of the Chairman of the Senate and one other, both of which shall hold office by direct election of the Associated Students. The candidate for the office of Commissioner of the Commission of Interests Athletic shall be chosen as the Yell Master of the Associated Students.

(Proposed substitution for last paragraph of Article II, Section 3, Clause 3—"The successful candidate for the office of Commissioner of Commission of Interests Athletic shall become one of the student members of the Athletic Council.")

Clause 4—Character—In general the Commissions shall attend to such matters as may be implied by their names, subject to the definition and supervision by the Council of the Senate.

COMING FARMERS' PROGRAM PROMISES TO OUTSHINE ALL OTHERS HELD AT M.S.C

All Indications Point Toward a Record-Breaking Attendance—Senior and Junior Students Will Be Dismissed from all Classes—Lower Classmen Required to Attend Some of the Regular Classes.

What promises to be the most successful Farmers' Week ever held in Montana is to, be in Bozeman next week. The faculty have established a new precedent in dismissing certain classes to enable the students to hear noted authority from outside.

DOLLS SENT TO HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT.

A collection of dolls from Ecuador has been presented to the Home Economics department by Mrs. C. S. Hartman. Particular interest is centered in the fact that they were carved and dressed by the native Indians and the cloth was spun and woven by hand. Each doll represents the native in a different costume and gives a good idea of their manner of dress.

Besides the dolls the collection contains the entire costumes worn by the native men and women. These also are hand spun and contain a variety of gorgeous colors. The hat is made of a woodpulp and extremely large. Instead of shoes a pair of sandals with woven uppers are worn. The collection is very valuable and the members of this department are extremely fortunate in securing it.

SHORT HORNS DEFEATED BY PREPS IN ONE-SIDED DEBATE

Wednesday evening the preparatory students won a decisive victory over the short course students in debate. The subject as debated was: "Resolved, That the United States Should Have a Stronger National Defense." The winners upheld the negative side of the question.

The debate was opened by Woodley—first speaker for the affirmative. Following his talk, Burns opened the argument for the negative. The other speakers in the order in which they spoke were Rowland, McGee, McNeil, Woodward. In the rebuttal the order was reversed.

The men defending the affirmative gave strong main arguments but failed utterly to back them up with rebuttals of the class necessary to overthrow the arguments of the negative. Burns, McGee and Woodward, the negative speakers, all handled the subject in good shape and put forth some strong argument.

Judges Duddy, Gephart and Currier rendered a unanimous decision in favor of the negative.

Before the debate Miss Hortense Kirschner favored the audience with a piano solo, that was well received.

DR. BARKER TALKS.

"How a young man can live so as to acquire the mostout of this life," was the subject of Dr. Barker's address before the college students at last Friday's assembly. Dr. Barker, who is an expert on hygiene gave some valuable information along these lines. He said, "The young man of today must possess a strong arm, a clear brain and a brave heart if he is to succeed to the best of his ability." "By the term of strong arm I do not mean more muscular strength but rather a strong and well developed body with which to respond to the commands of a clear brain and a brave heart."

His exposition of how the two latter requirements enter into a young man's social and moral life formed the greater part of his lecture.

Society

Friday evening in the home economics department of the agricultural hall the Women's Alumnae association of the college enjoyed their second annual banquet as the guests of Dean Herrick. The color scheme was carried out in pink. Sweet peas and candles made the table most attractive and a pink flower at each place was used as a place card. There were twenty-two guests present. After the banquet the Senior girls were invited to spend the evening socially. The banquet was prepared by the girls of the junior home economics class.

The Boosters gave their first dance this year Saturday evening. In spite of the cold weather about 75 couples were present and enjoyed the evening.

The Senior girls were hostesses at a rosebud luncheon Saturday in the home science rooms. The table was appropriately decorated for the occasion and the color scheme was also carried out in the refreshments. The guests were the senior girls, taking advanced food studies, Miss Ballinger and Miss Ford.

Miss Vera Conroy, a member of the freshmen class, who was operated on Saturday for appendicitis, is getting along very nicely.

Two pleasant dinner parties were given this week by Prof. and Mrs. Burke at their home on Third avenue south. The color scheme was pink, with azaleas as the flowers used and candles with pink shades lighting the dining room. A delicious six-course dinner was served both evenings. The guests on Friday evening were Prof. and Mrs. Ham, Mr. and Mrs. Roecher, Mr. and Mrs. Machemer. After dinner the evening was spent in playing cards. The guests Saturday evening were Prof. and Mrs. Nash, Prof. and Mrs. R. A. Cooley, Prof. and Mrs. Brewer. The evening hours were spent socially.

Mrs. Fred Bennion entertained a number of friends at an informal card party Wednesday afternoon. At the close of the afternoon delicious refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Wilson entertained at a dancing party last Friday evening. The guests were members of the Tanglefoot club. A sumptuous supper was served at a late hour.

Miss Adele Mertz entertained a number of her friends at a birthday party Saturday evening. The guests wished their hostesses many happy returns of the day, and all had an enjoyable time.

The S. S. S. club enjoyed an elaborate dinner in the private dining room of the Bozeman hotel Saturday at 1 o'clock. The table was beautifully decorated with daisies and hyacinths. Those seated were Nina Armstrong, Grace McIver, March Menigold, Mary Kretlow, Ruth Noble, Ursula Hodgskiss, Helen Lund, and Florence Noble.

President Hamilton and Miss Ballinger entertained the faculty card club at a dinner in the home science rooms of the agricultural hall Tuesday evening. The table was very attractively decorated with daffodils and pussy willows. There were twenty seated.

Members of the Evening Five Hundred club were entertained last Tuesday evening to a six-thirty dinner by the girls of the preparatory course in home economics department.

Freshman Squad Picked.

Now that the first team has settled into the grind "Doc" Richardson has organized his freshman squad and boiled it down to ten men. Limbert, Bean, McMahon, McMillan, Morphe, Senz, Sappington, Graves, Davis and Wheeler is the list from which seven will be chosen to represent their class.

Tuesday night the Freshmen meet Gallatin high school team at the Y. M. C. A. This should be an interesting contest in which the high school boys will have to show some good ball to stand any chance. Admission will be charged but students holding season tickets of either institution will be admitted free.

College Notes

The dairy department of the college has received a diploma of excellence for Montana butter exhibited at the Silver Jubilee meeting of the National Creamery Buttermakers Association held in Mason City Iowa last spring. The diploma is very attractive and should prove a valuable addition to the premiums won by the department.

Professor Atkinson and Mr. B. W. Whitlock of the agronomy department are in Livingston this week acting in the capacity of grain judges at the State Seed Grower's association meeting.

Professors Swingle, Whipple and R. A. Cooley have gone to Billings to attend the annual meeting of the State Horticultural Society.

Dean F. B. Linfield has gone to Livingston to attend the Seed Grower's meeting. From there he will go to Billings to attend the Horticultural meeting before returning Saturday morning.

Principal J. H. Holst was called to Three Forks last Saturday to advise with the school authorities of the various districts in regard to the consolidation of rural schools. Principal Holst is recognized as an authority on consolidation of rural schools since his success with the Victor schools along that line. Last summer he selected the sites for six consolidated schools in the Huntley project.

Mrs. Nellie Kedzie Jones, who is to be one of the speakers during Farmers' Week, will be a guest at Hamilton hall during the week.

Marsa Riddell of the senior class is with Miss Jensen on extension work this week. They will visit Livingston and Billings.

Mrs. Stephen Penrose of Walla Walla, Wash., spoke to the women of the college at assembly on Friday. Mrs. Penrose, who is a member of the National Board of the Y. W. C. A. is the wife of President Penrose of Whitman college.

In case he is ranked higher than anyone else taking the exam at this time he will be appointed to that position as soon as a vacancy occurs. The work is under the charge of the bureau of navigation of the department of commerce.

John M. Robinson, who was at one time a member of the executive board of the college, was buried last Saturday. His son Wilbur graduated in '08 and his daughter was an instructor in the art department.

M. S. C. WINS DEBATE

the fact that no country which is giving the same service at lower rates under government ownership has a self supporting system, and that the rates for the same service rendered in the United States are universally higher in all European countries. Their last contention was that government regulation is all that is necessary to remedy all existing evils.

The judges were Rev. Burdick and Principal Roberts of Helena and O. M. Harvey of Livingston. As an opening number Miss Lella Linfield played a selection on the piano.

The visiting debaters, judges and debating squad were guests of the English department at a banquet given at the Bungalow after the debate.

GAME IS SCHEDULED WITH BILLINGS TEAM

Management Has Arranged for Game With Billings Y. M. C. A. Team Tomorrow Night.

Tomorrow's game with the Billings Y. M. C. A. team will be the first chance to see the Bobcats in action against an aggregation of real class. Billings has some fine talent in their lineup and are capable of putting up a fast and close game.

An early game has been somewhat of a problem this year as the one scheduled with the Carrington club fell through when they decided not to make the trip. However, in the Billings bunch, a most worthy substitute is found, in fact, a better contest should be the result.

Bennion's squad has been practicing hard and faithfully and some clever team work and rare form is beginning to show up. This year's five looks better at this stage of the game than many of the championship teams of former years looked at any time. Their real strength will be apparent when they clash with the Sugar Beaters.

In his letter to the management the Billings manager modestly describes his crew as follows: "We have a fast team, having defeated by a score of 40 to 21 the touring team of Nebraska All-Stars. With 'Mike' Allen and 'Red' Goucher, former Billings high school and Billings Comet stars, and Ralph Wickstrom of the famous Valley City team, at forwards; Gibbs and Branger at center; 'Goog' Goucher, of the Billings Comets and lately of the high school, and Joe Mapes of the Chicago School of Physical Culture, holding up the Billings end we have a team that will put up a good contest."

A final warning is given that all season tickets presented by any person other than the rightful owner will be forfeited. Reserved seat tickets will be sold at the box office at the low price of two jitneys.
