BOBKITTENS BOW TO CUBS BOTH GAMES

Frosh Invaders Take Both Contests From the Montana State Quintet. First Game Ends 24 to 17 and Second Game 21 to 17. Hoagland, Straw and Cahoon Star.

The State University Frosh romped over the Bobkittens on the hoop floor in two games last week by scores of 24-17 and 21-17. The games were fast and interesting, but the superior basket shooting of the Cubs mingled with fast floor work put the visitors on the long end of the scores both evenings.

First Game.

The first game was the Cubs' all the way through. Only at times did the Kittens seem to have the old fight which is necessary for a victory. The Cub guards held the locals' forwards to three baskets during the first half, and four during the second period of the hoop battle. The floor work of the game was fast, and nine personal fouls were called during the game, seven of them being on the State U. Frosh quintet. The fouls were all made as a result of fast playing and no dirty play was in evidence at any time.

Cahoon, Cub forward, took honors as high point man, with four field goals and five free throws, for a total of thirteen of the visitors' points to his credit. Dahlberg at guard also played a game of stellar variety for the Cubs. His ability to break up plays was a menace to the Kittens' offensive and was keenly felt.

For the Bobkittens, "Swede" Haugland at the guard position took individual honors. Time after time he broke through the State U. Frosh plays to take the ball out of danger. The summary:

S. U. Frosh (24) Pos. Bobkittens (17)	Guthrie	Bowling (c)
Forward.
Cahoon	Straw	Forward.
Burke	Moeburg	Center.
Dahlberg (c)	Haugland	Guard.
Stegner	Bowden	Guard.

Referee—Matter. Substitutions—M. S. C., Hirsch, McGuinn, Hatfield; M. S. U., Phillips, Rathmall. Free throws—Straw 3 out of 6; Cahoon, 5 out of 5; Guthrie, 1 out of 1.

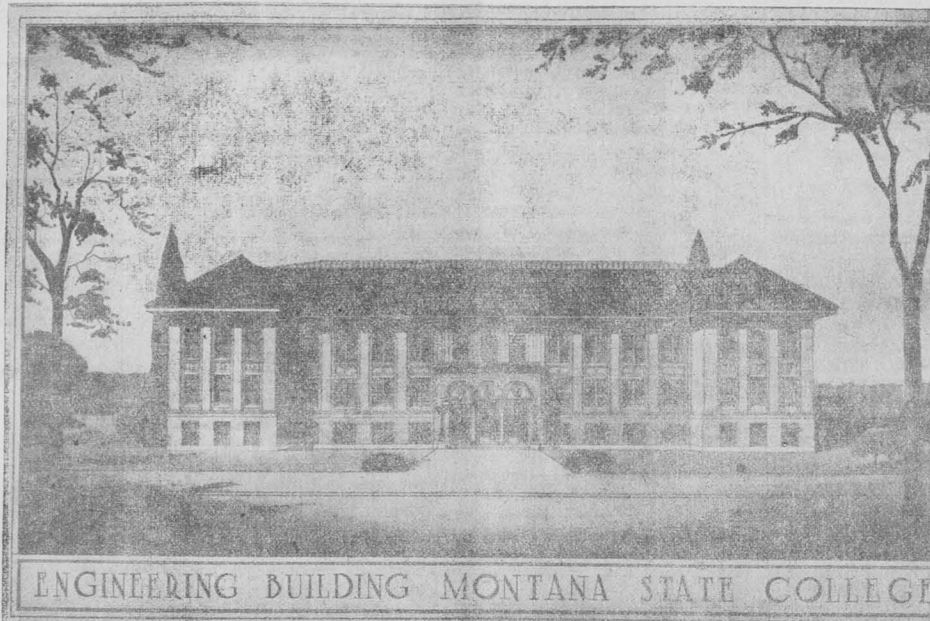

Second Game Faster.

The second game was much faster, and better playing than was displayed the previous evening was in evidence. The Cubs, however, came out on the long end of a 21 to 17 count. Both in floor work and basket shooting the Kittens showed speed, and at six places during the contest the score stood a tie. It was not until the last few minutes that the Cubs broke away and scored the winning baskets.

The Cubs won the game on free throws. They scored seven out of eleven free tries at the hoop, while the Kittens obtained only three out of seven tries. The locals in their effort to overcome their rivals' and victors of the night before, played harder and faster, and as a result nine personal fouls were called on them.

For the M. S. C. first year men, Straw took the big share of points by annexing four field baskets and three free throws, for a total of eleven of the yearlings' 17 counters. He played spotlight ball during the entire game and managed to keep his guards guessing. Haugland, as in the previous game, took a large share of the attention by his fast floor work. The Cubs put Cahoon up as their high point man, with two field goals and three free throws to his credit. His guards held to him pretty well and he was unable to break through as he did the night before.

The summary:
S. U. Frosh (21) Pos. Bobkittens (17)
Guthrie Bowling (c)
Forward.
Cahoon Straw
Forward.
Burks Moeburg
Center.
Dahlberg (c) Haugland

Stegner Hatfield
Guard.
Referee—Jorgenson.

The above is a picture of the way that the proposed engineering building will look when it is finished. This cut was made from a drawing of the building made by Harley Horlingsworth. This building when completed, by next January will be one of the most complete buildings of this type in the northwest states, and is by far the most complete and modern in this state. The foundation is now complete for this building and the work on the remainder will start soon.

HAMILTON TALKS FRIDAY ASSEMBLY

The Economic Relations of America and the Rest of the World Is the Subject for His Address.

Dean J. M. Hamilton addressed the student body in the regular assembly last Friday, speaking on the American outlook on the European economic situation.

Director of Music William Howard opened the assembly by leading the students in the singing of Montana State songs.

Dean Hamilton said that America had to participate in world affairs if she was going to continue to be a leading nation of the world. He pointed out that American manufacturers could not expect to receive foreign trade unless American capitalists are willing to make investments in those countries.

He pointed out that the American plan of selling was to advertise so that the prospective customer would imagine that he wanted to buy, rather than to produce, the things that he demanded. In America this plan has worked out, but according to Dean Hamilton, it will not work out in other countries.

In closing, he pointed out that the United States could not hope to be (Continued on Page Four.)

CINDER ARTISTS PLAN FOR SEASON

Statement Given Out Some Time Ago That There Would be no Cinder Team This Year Is Contradicted.

Announcement has been made that the track season at Montana State College will be recognized as usual, and that there will be a track team. This announcement comes in contradiction to the statement, made recently, that there would be no track team at the college this season. The reason given in the previous announcement was that the track had been so torn up with construction work that it would be impossible to (Continued on Page Four.)

Miners Even Up Score With Bobcats By Butte Victories

Third Game of Trip With Normal Results in Victory for Montana State—First Game in Butte Results in 24 to 17 Defeat and Second Night Game Ended 30 to 18, Again in Favor of the Miners. The First Game With the State Normal School, in Several Years, Ended 38 to 22 in Favor of the Bobcats.

The Ore Diggers drifted into the stables of the Bobcat quint last Tuesday and Wednesday and came to the surface with two victories to the tune of 24 to 17 and 32 to 19. The Miners were out for real business and succeeded in tying their score with the Blue and Gold, both teams now holding two conquests to their credit.

The first game was a fast one and the Muckers realized that they were in deep diggings and not until the game had progressed well into the second half were the lights of victory visible.

The teams started off with a rush with both teams fighting for the coveted baskets. The Miners soon obtained the lead and although they were hard pressed at times they were never headed. Captain Richards and Hollister, Bobcat guards played brilliant ball, but were unable to stem the tide of the Miners. Beckley, who was substituted for McCarren shortly after the game started, baffled the Ore Diggers with his dribbling and twisting. For the mining city quint Captain Landwehr took most of the praise.

During the second half the Bobcats showed spurts of speed, but were unable to overcome the lead and they left the floor at the final whistle with a 24 to 17 score against them.

The second game was also a defeat only more so. The Bobcats were unable to connect with the hoop and the Miners succeeded in having things their own way. At the end of the first half the Blue and Gold hoopers went to the locker room with a 11 to 1 score and the Miners on the surface.

The second half started off with a whirl and some of the cleverest basketball that has been seen in the state took place. The Bobcats were not able to get within scoring distance, however, and the Muckers continued putting the ball through the cage. Beckley was the only one who could get close enough to score and he managed to make four baskets from long shots. His advancing and shooting was a feature of the game and the victors gave him a great deal of credit for being able to get through. Hollister, just before the final whistle put one through the loop that was next to impossible. This shot was the sensation of the game. The Bobcats fought hard and began to pick up near the end of the last half, but the lead was too great and the game ended with the score 32 to 19 and the Miners had literally tied a can to the Bobcats' tail.

After the games with the Mines the Blue and Gold five journeyed to Dillon to battle with the State Normal School quintet. The game was a different story from the two previous games and M. S. C. came out on the long end of a score of 38 to 22.

The school teachers were rather confident when the game started, but the Blue and Gold jerseyed quint soon took that out of them and after obtaining the lead soon after the start of the session proceeded to hold it.

Hollister, playing at guard position, made five field goals from deep center and aided materially in advancing the ball toward the Dillon goal. Captain Richards did not play the game on account of illness and he came to Bozeman after the Mines games. Hatfield played the guard position in Richard's absence.

The game was rather an easy one after the Mines games and by the time the final whistle blew the Bobcats had rolled up a score of 38 to their opponent's 22.

SPRINKLE TAKES PICTURES OF SOPHOMORES FOR ANNUAL

Russel M. Sprinkle, sophomore, took the pictures of the sophomore class for the Montanan. This was Mr. Sprinkle's first attempt at taking indoor portraits. He did exceptionally well for the first time. C. W. Plumb, an experienced ex-photographer, connected with the county agent work at the aggie building has been aiding him materially by giving him pointers and bits of advice on the job. Mr. Sprinkle has his studio in the agronomy lab room in the aggie building. He was doing this work for Mr. Bowden, the publicity agent of the college.

BUILDING WORK ON HILL PROGRESSING

Plans Made and With Opening of Spring Weather Actual Construction Will Commence.

Construction work is progressing despite the cold weather. While at present most of the contractors are waiting for the spring to start steady construction, yet there is some work going on constantly. The foundations for all the new buildings have been completed and those contractors who were awarded the contracts on the superstructures are now making arrangements to secure the proper amount of material and equipment so that the work can start as soon as the weather will permit.

Nelson and Pederson, who made the lowest bid on the gymnasium, have a foreman on the ground at the present time. This building will be completed by November 1, 1922, according to the contract. That will mean that the tournament next year will be held in the new gymnasium.

Gauger, Korsmo and company, of St. Paul are making preparations to start work on the engineering buildings. These buildings are to be finished by the first of next year.

The biology building, which is to be finished by September 1, 1922, will be constructed by F. E. Peterson of Spokane. Work will start on this building, also, as soon as the weather becomes more settled and warmer.

STATE U WINS IN DECISION DEBATE

Both Teams Make Fine Impression and Judges' Vote Is Two to One. Question Is Cancellation of War Debt.

Billings, Feb. 19. In the debate on the cancellation of the allied war debt at the Congregational church last night, the State University team, supporting the affirmative, won from the State College by a two to one decision of the judges. There was a good audience, although not as large as had been expected. Both teams made excellent impressions on the audience and the debate was thoroughly enjoyed.

The Billings Polytechnic Club, under the direction of Marvin D. Geere, gave several musical numbers which secured much favorable comment.

The debate last night was the first for a decision that has been made by the two teams, who are touring the state for the purpose of bringing the state educational institutions into closer relations with the people. The judges were J. R. Goss, T. T. Rowe, and Mrs. Lou Chapple.

FIRST ACT OF LOOT IN FULL REHEARSAL

Rapid Progress Being Made With Student Play—Co-Eds Needed to Help With Work on Costumes.

The first rehearsal of the entire cast for the first act of the college musical play "Loot" was held Sunday afternoon and the showing made more than justified the hopes of those in charge. The success of the first work of the cast as a body and the excellent manner in which the parts of the act fitted together speak well for the success of the play. The cast is working daily under the direction of Mrs. Howard, and work on the second act will commence as soon as the first act has been put into shape.

Joe Sweeney, playing the part of George Washington, the negro coo for the pirate crew, quite ably portrays the trials and tribulations of a man of independence in the south seas, among the rough and ready rovers of the sea. His scene with the Ghost, portrayed by Roy Gagle is one of the outstanding features of the play. As usual the ever present dice, or "bones of profit" play their leading role in the story of George.

Josephine Howard, in the part of Lucille, one of Montana State's co-eds, also adds one of the features of the show by a clever dance in this first act. Every other member of the cast, from Captain Kidd, by Ray Amer, to the mean professor, played by Eugene Toole, is working on his part in making the show really high class. The two choruses are also rapidly falling into the swing of the show with their musical numbers and dances. The musical part of the show will be one of the best that the community has had an opportunity to hear, and it will be more unique in that it is entirely of student production, under the guidance of Director Howard of the music department.

Miss Mary English, who has charge of the costume design for the production is already at work on the first set for the cast. She is in need of a large force of helpers in the many phases of designing and making-up the costumes, and the co-eds of the institution should offer their services in this work at once so that the play will not be delayed on account of the costumes. All girls who are willing to help with this work during spare hours should get in touch with Miss English at once by calling her by phone 833, or by seeing her personally.

BOBCAT AND BRUIN TANGLE THIS WEEK

Two of Hardest Games of Season for Locals Scheduled for Friday and Saturday.

The State University basketball team will appear on the local floor to contest with the Bobcats in two games, next Friday and Saturday nights. Both these games will be fast and hard fought, if indications from previous scores can be taken as an indication of the strength of the teams.

These teams have met in two previous games of the season, and the Bruins, fighting with the advantage of their home floor, came off victors both times. Both of these games were fast and close. In the second game the Bobcats led the score at the end of the first half, but were unable to hold it for the entire game.

The Gonzaga games, last night and tonight, will serve as an index to the strength of the teams. Gonzaga has just come from Missoula, where they were decisively defeated in two games. In Spokane the Gonzaga team met both the University and the college, and was defeated by both teams with small margins.

The team that will probably start for the Bobcats is Jorgenson and McCarren as forwards, Robertson as center, and Richards and Hollister as guards.

EVERYBODY OUT TO SEE BOBCATS WIN TONIGHT.

ANOTHER CHANGE.

Just as we thought our six pages had come to stay we are forced to return to our old form, for a time at least. We hope the student body will bear with us in this as the change is imperative. The additional expense in issuing six pages has been more than the finances of The Exponent will stand and it has been impossible to secure enough additional advertising to cover this burden. Until such time as we can secure this additional income we must content ourselves with four pages. Our only hope is that the change is temporary.

OUR GUESTS.

To Montana State this week falls the honor of entertaining two of the best basketball teams in the northwest. With the Gonzaga Bulldogs here last night and tonight and the University Bruins here Friday and Saturday, Bobcat players and boosters will see the busiest week of the season.

It is seldom that Montana State College has the opportunity of entertaining two such teams in one week and it is with great anticipation that the student body looks forward to the hardest fought games that have been played this year.

On behalf of the student body The Exponent extends a hearty welcome to the Bulldogs and Bruins. May your stay be such that you will want to come again.

OUR WEEK.

This week may well be termed Montana State Week as our activities are being hard worked in the next few days. Our schedule is good for such a term and our spirit should make the term a reality.

The Bobcat hoopsters will meet two of the hardest teams of the northwest this week in the Gonzagas and Bruins. The team will do their share. Will we do ours?

Our debaters are also at work in the season's hardest trials. Last night one team met the Utah Aggies in the assembly hall, while during the week another team travels the state in a series of debates with the University. Bear these events in mind and make the week a creditable one from the Bobcat viewpoint.

Pick-Ups By Eli

The Horse Is Sick

Again the scholarship team is posted, and the terrible groans of its members filled the upper halls once more. It takes rare persistence to make this team. One has to be out almost all the time. Eli didn't go out every night, so he lost out this season. Fergie Mitchell says there is something darn strange about this education business. You see, he got reported this round-up! If one can't get grades on a reputation, even after you work up one, why, what's the use, anyway?

There is true irony in this situation: In a certain economics class the students were conscientiously reading their neighbors' paper, trying to pass the round-up. At last the prof. must have guessed their plight, for he kindly walked out of the room. And then—after a few minutes of the usual buzz, the inmates found out that not one of them knew anything to tell the others! There usually is some catch in it when the prof. goes out like that.

Corp: "It will be the happiest day of my life when I can integrate his nose all over his face."

The prof. asks Sprink to classify profits and Sprink comes back with, "Pure, impure, and stale."

He ought to write Eli—that looks like a classification of jokes.

Frosh cheer:
"Yea, Straw—yea, Hat!"

Jim—"How many A's have you got?"
Joe—"When I get another I'll have one."

Grand-father was taking a nap and his little grand-son was sent to call him to dinner.

"Was he asleep?" asked his mother, when Tommie came back.

"All but his nose," was the reply.

"What kind of a fellow is Tom?"
"Oh, he's the kind that would share his sled with the other fellow all the way up the hill, and take it himself all the way down."

He was beyond all reason. It

MALT WASON.

seemed that nothing could end his mad pursuit but victory or death. That tantalizing form dancing madly within reach would he never feel it within his clasp? How it taunted him as the fresh breeze showed off those soft curves, that rounded form, to perfection. At last, absolutely frenzied, he sprang with arms outstretched and pressed his prize to his bosom. He would never wear a hat in a high wind again.

Money talks—that's why I'm dumb.

Old lady—"How did you get that terrible black eye?"

Kid—"Had a fight with Jim."

Old lady—"Dear me, and he hit you in the eye?"

Kid—"Hell, no. My eyes dropped and one of dem was bruised on de pavement."

Imagine a person becoming a lawyer by trade. Somebody sure got the worst of that bargain.

What would happen at M. S. C. if everybody went to assembly?

Answer—About the same thing that would happen if everybody paid their class dues or got to a "Loot" practice on time.

 From Walt to like— *****
 They Think Alike. *****

Dear Ike—

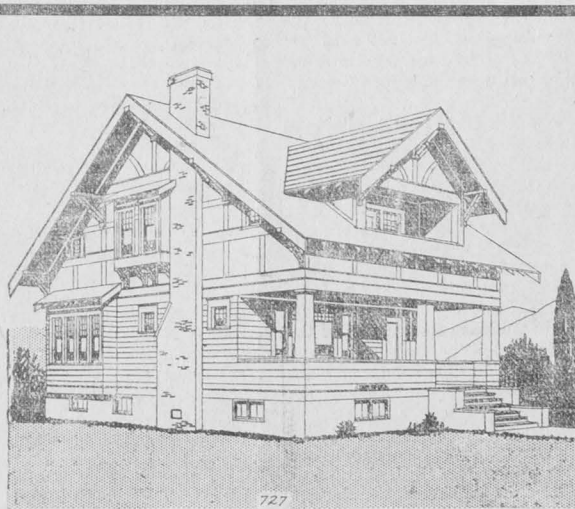

I'm mighty slow in writing, but just the same I'll bet there's lots of things been doing on the Hill since that last batch of ink was wet. You may talk about your basketball games, and pep meets, and such, but anyhow I must confess is surely beats the Dutch how this bunch at M. S. C. can get in and root when they want to take the U. to sea.

Now, Friday night, that bunch cut loose with a batch of noise that would scare a goose and all his flock. "Bear meat" was on the lips of everyone; and say, boy, it sure was fun to watch those boosters rend the air with shrieks and hoots and noise galore. Actually, I thought the floor would cave in with all that din.

They pulled a repeat on Saturday night. The noise was a fright. Their rooting for Hatfield and Bowling and Straw; their poking of fun at Axtell, and giving the ha-ha to all his friends from over the divide sure made it great for a sarcasm ride.

Seems that the pep was there galore, that cheering went up for every well-earned score. At any rate the old crowd rallied and helped the Frosh celebrate the scores they tallied. It was a great fight, in which all the school entered with zest, pep and what-not, with their rallying cry of "Gang get hot!"

Yours till there are no more freshmen.

MANY STUDENTS
GO WITH TEAM

A group of loyal M. S. C. students accompanied the team on its recent trip to Butte and Dillon. There were about 25 rooters present at the games at Butte. They formed a cheering section, and under the leadership of Alf Rivinnes, they offered the team a considerable amount of vocal support. It is the opinion of those who saw the game that the teams were more evenly matched than the score indicated, and that it was a sort of reversal of luck which caused the defeat of the Bobcats. The game was played in the high school gymnasium. Several athletic boosters accompanied the team on down to Dillon, where they gave the team more support than would be expected from so small a group.

HAMILTON TALKS.
prosperous unless the business men in this country would sell to Europe and the rest of the world. This, he said, they cannot do until America takes steps to make the credit of those countries sound.
"Opportunity knocks but once for any nation to become a world power," said the dean. "and America should not pass up her opportunity."

COLLEGE SCRUBS
SWAMP WHITEHALL
Ray Bowden Takes College Scrubs to Whitehall for Practice Game.

A "scrub" college team, captained by Dick Dean and managed by "Curly" Leary, won a tight game from the Whitehall high school at Whitehall Saturday night, 16 to 9. Close guarding by Dean and DeKay kept the Whitehall team scoreless in the last period. Whitehall led at the half by 9 to 8.
"Curly" got into a suit and warmed up with the team, but the team refused to let him play, saying he was a professional and not eligible. He retired to the side-lines, but the Whitehall rooters gave him nine tigers.
Cogswell scored three field baskets and played a great game at forward. Dean converted six out of eight free throws. DeKay, Wood and Baker played consistent floor work. Smith was the Whitehall star, developing a wonderfully fast dribbling game.
The team was given a fine feed after the game in the high school. "Curly" was high point man in the eating, the players say. A large crowd of rooters, composed of Champ Hannon, was down to see the team off to Whitehall. The team was given a cheering welcome back by five cab-drivers.

train the team. The track men of the college, desiring to have a team, started investigating and found that there was enough of the track left so that the sprinters and hurdlers could train on it. The distance men plan to train on the cross-country course.

STATE U. WINS IN DEBATE.
Raymond Nagel, of Helena, and William Jameson, of Missoula. Jameson was introduced as a law student, while Nagel is a sophomore in the liberal arts department. The affirmative built its argument on the idea that it would be good business for the United States to cancel the war debts. They endeavored to prove that the European governments could never pay except in goods. This, they stated, by loading American markets with European goods, would injure business in the United States for years.

The State College was represented by Leon Sayers, of Bozeman, and Arthur Bergstrom, of Minneapolis. The negative brought out as points of its argument that the debts were just ones, that Europe through disarmament could pay; that cancellation was an experiment never before tried, and that to cancel the debt would be an injustice to the American taxpayer.

SCHOLARSHIPS ANNOUNCED
BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUBS.
The winners of the University of Montana scholarships in the Boys and Girls' clubs of the state have recently been announced. These scholarships are awarded by the state board of education to the champions of the boys' and girls' club projects in all parts of the state. The county scholarships are good for one year and the state championships for four, three and two years, respectively, in any of the branches of the University of Montana, and exempt the winner from the payment of the customary fees in his particular course. Each winner of a scholarship is required to file with the club leader a copy of his financial report and a story of his project. There were 19 state scholarships and 78 county scholarships issued this year.

K. C's TO ENTERTAIN MEN
STUDENTS ON WEDNESDAY
The Knights of Columbus are entertaining the men students of the college at a smoker and social at their hall over the Montana Power Co's office on Wednesday night. Entertainers of first class ability are being secured and all men students are invited.

NOTICE VOCATIONAL MEN.
On next Friday, February 24, Mr. C. T. Busha and Mr. Lief Fredericks, of the Helena office will be here to address all of the vocational trainees in Bozeman. This meeting will probably be held in the college assembly hall and the exact hour will be announced later. Please watch the bulletin boards for further announcement.

ONE BRAND-
ONE QUALITY-
One Size Package

All our skill, facilities, and lifelong knowledge of the finest tobaccos are concentrated on this one cigarette—CAMEL.

Into this ONE BRAND, we put the utmost quality. Nothing is too good for Camels. They are as good as it's possible to make a cigarette.

Camel QUALITY is always maintained at the same high, exclusive standard. You can always depend on the same mellow-mild refreshing smoothness—the taste and rich flavor of choicest tobaccos—and entire freedom from cigaretty aftertaste.

And remember this! Camels come in one size package only—20 cigarettes—just the right size to make the greatest saving in production and packing. This saving goes straight into Camel Quality. That's one reason why you can get Camel Quality at so moderate a price.

Here's another. We put no useless frills on the Camel package. No "extra wrappers!" Nothing just for show!

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And their added cost must go onto the price or come out of the quality.

One thing, and only one, is responsible for Camels great and growing popularity—that is CAMEL QUALITY.
