

Underclassmen Prepare For Cross Country Run

Annual Test of Endurance to be Held Next Saturday Afternoon at Three O'Clock—Course to be Changed This Year But as Yet It Is Not Entirely Mapped Out—Finish to be Near the Bar-racks—Many Underclassmen Signify Intentions of Entering.

The annual under-class cross-country run will take place next Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The race is primarily for the two under-classes, but other members of the college are eligible to enter the run. The race is a part of the schedule that determines the inter-class championship, and all available members of both classes should be on hand to give their mates a little support.

Edward Bunney has been elected captain of the sophomore cross-country team and at present he has about 20 men signed up to enter the race. The frosh enrollment is understood to be even greater than this. By the time the race starts Saturday afternoon it is expected that about 60 men will have signed up and will toe the mark in readiness for the starting gun.

The first 30 men to cross the line count on the class scores, and in case one team fails to have 15 runners at the finish the race will be forfeited to the other side.

The course of the run will not be the same as in previous years on account of the fact that the track is partly torn up and will not be available. Instead of the race finishing at the old place on the track, the men will cross the tape down by the barracks. As yet the entire course has not been decided upon, but in all probability will start at the Main Hall and go to Cleveland avenue, around the flag-pole, down Eighth to College and on out the Huffine Lane, thence turning at the first lane going south and following this until it meets the first lane going east again, continuing along this lane to the point where the lane reaches the road east of the track, along this road between the Engineering Building and Hamilton Hall, around the Engineering Building and down to the barracks.

Last year this race was won by the sophomores, led by George Finley. Lester ("Shorty") Bachman came in first the three past years, and holds the record on the course, with a time of 15 minutes 12 seconds. The men who have won first place in the previous cross-country runs since the inception of the race in 1911 are as follows:

- 1911—Morgan, 17:30.
- 1915—Steel, 16:15.
- 1916—Saltz, 17:38.
- 1917—Kendall, 16:51.
- 1918—Bush, 17:29.
- 1919—Bachman, 15:12.
- 1920—Farnum, 16:11.
- 1921—Finley, 17:33.

LOCAL VETS PLAN FOR CONVENTION

Montana Chapter No. 1 Hopes to be Able to Send a Live Bobcat to San Francisco in June, to the National Convention.

The men of Montana Chapter No. 1 of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War are looking forward to the national convention of the organization, which takes place in San Francisco in June. The local chapter will elect its delegates in the near future. These delegates will be instructed to boost for Bozeman and Montana State College whenever and wherever the opportunity presents itself. The Montana delegation to the American Legion convention at Kansas City last year attracted much attention by carrying a live bobcat with them to that conclave. It is the intention of the local chapter of the D. A. V. to secure, if possible, a live bobcat to take along to 'Frisco and to make plain that that bobcat is emblematic of the fighting spirit of Montana State College, and that that institution is located at Bozeman.

The local post is one of the largest in the state, but is also one of the weakest financially. Whether or not the full quota of delegates can be

Tracksters Prepare For First Meet

About Twenty Men are Training for Bobcat Squad—Wesleyan Meet Less Than Two Weeks Off.

With the coming of the first track meet a week from Saturday, work has taken more vigor and the candidates for the track squad are devoting more time to their work. Several of the men are showing up well and are rapidly rounding into form. The squad consists of about 20 men at present, but will be cut within the next week, and those who are to make the trip to Helena will be decided upon.

Cates, captain for the season, is getting into shape and is expected to cause considerable worry to the Bobcat opponents in the sprints, weights, and especially the high jump. Cates holds the state record for the high jump at the present time.

Wood, Bright and Walters have also been showing up well in the sprinting events and are expected to put a large portion of honors in Bobcat territory.

In the pole-vault event Shoebotham and Sutherland will take care of things, and both are in pretty good form to "go over the top."

McCarren, McGuin and Wood are working on the hurdles with good results, and upon them will fall the defense of the Blue and Gold honors in that particular event.

Bunney and Hannah have been running middle distance runs in good time, and a little more training will put them in shape for the future races.

In the long distance runs the Bobcats are represented by Tolman, Mountjoy, Young and Bunney. Cates, Sutherland and Virgil Wilson are expected to take care of both the high jump and the broad jump. Cates is lifting himself over the bar at good heights and will try to break the state high jump record, which he already holds.

Band Practices Hard For Tour

Advertising and Publicity Matter Has Been Sent to Towns Included in Itinerary. Thirty People to Make Trip.

The State College band will start on its twelfth annual tour of the state on May 8, and the places to be included are Deer Lodge, Dillon, Anaconda, Great Falls and Helena. Arrangements for advertising in all these places have been perfected, and from all indications there will be a large attendance at all their entertainments.

The band has been working diligently in preparation for this trip and are expected to be in ship-shape form for their presentation. During the last week they have practiced about every night and plan to put in all the available time from now until May 5, when they will have their concert perfected and will give a preliminary concert in Bozeman at the Emerson auditorium.

It is a twenty-six-piece band, and the instruments which are used are a flute, clarinet, saxophone, bass, alto, cornet, trombone and drums. The three soloists which will accompany the band on the trip and will appear at all concerts are Miss Esther Garry, soprano; Director William Howard, violinist, and Fred LaBonte, flute. Ray Bowden will give a preliminary talk on the advantages to be derived at Montana State College.

Nominations Next Friday

Nominations for officers for the student government will be held during the assembly next Friday morning. The notices to this effect have been posted by the senate since last Friday in accordance with the constitution of the student body.

As usual the interest in this event is increasing and many are the guesses as to those who will be entered in the race for student offices. Nominations will be made for eight offices of the Associated Students, these being President, Commissioner of Athletics, Publications, Demonstrations, Music, Finance, Social Interests, Forensics, and Councilman at Large. The election of those nominated for these offices will be held in the Main Hall on the following Friday, May 5th.

It is probably unnecessary to urge the student body to be present at the coming assembly 100 per cent in strength as the nominations assembly is usually a full one. Every student should make this assembly the first thing for the hour, however, as it should be made as nearly perfect a representative meeting as is possible.

JUNIORS MAKING PLANS FOR PROM

Committees have been Appointed to Take Charge of the Work to be Done Before Big Social Event Can be Held.

The class of '23 have set the ball rolling toward the goal of a Junior Prom that will sustain the reputation which the class has for staging good dances. Although the event is not scheduled until the 27th of May, the class officers are not taking any chances on letting procrastination spoil the party, so the necessary committees were appointed by Ted Cates, the class president, and instructed to get busy on the arrangements at once.

The music connoisseurs of the class were placed on the music committee and these people will endeavor to obtain one of the best orchestras in the state for the event. The problem of providing refreshments was left in the hands of a group of experts on good things to eat and drink, who have promised to do their best along that line, and still keep within the limits of the off-broken Eighteenth Amendment. The matter of decorations was left in the capable hands of those who have done the bulk of the decoration for other dances given by the class. Another committee was made responsible for the general program of the evening, and these people will use all their in-

KEEN COMPETITION SEEN ON DIAMOND

Several Men are Working Hard for Every Berth on the Squad. Many New Men Trying for Places.

Competition is keen for the varsity nine this year, and Coach Graves has about 30 aspirants from which to choose the Bobcat men. Each evening the players romp forth on the field with many different colored unies and try to display the brand of ball that will insure them berths on the team. There is a large assortment for every position, and the men who finally make the team will be good representatives of a Bobcat ball tosser.

For the place behind the bat, there are four men who are showing up well. They are Fox, Alquist, Savage and Schrupp. Fox is a catcher, but also plays the infield and held the third sack last season. Alquist is an outfielder, in addition to the receiving end of a battery. Schrupp was a member of last year's squad, and Savage is a new man for the position.

The pitching staff has had no chance to get into real action as yet, and is therefore still a mystery. Among the aspirants for the mound job are Finley, captain and also an initial sack man; Rassley, Chestnut and Zuke. These men were all on the squad last year, and are getting their

WHAT OF THE STREET CAR?

Will Bozeman Ever Have Another Street Car? Milwaukee Officials Make No Definite Statements.

Will Bozeman have a street car this summer? A report from the Milwaukee shops at Deer Lodge last fall was to the effect that a new street car would be put into service in Bozeman with the spring of 1922. Spring has come and the street car is not.

Milwaukee officials have not been able to make any definite statements as to whether or not a car will be put into service. Joe Bush, superintendent of the Bozeman-Three Forks branch of the Milwaukee, stated Saturday that the question of maintaining car service in Bozeman would be decided definitely.

"The present outlook is that Bozeman will not have a street car," stated Mr. Bush, "but I cannot say definitely to that effect. The matter will be decided definitely within the next week or ten days."

A conference was held recently in Butte by Milwaukee officials regarding the fate of the Bozeman street railway, but no definite plan was adopted at that meeting.

Y. W. C. A. PLANS RUNNING HOUSE

Organization House to Take Care of About Twelve Girls Next Year if Present Plans Materialize.

The Y. W. C. A. girls are now making plans for the maintenance of a house during next year. The house has not yet been rented, but it is hoped that one can be secured which will be convenient to the college and will accommodate from 12 to 14 girls. Plans similar to those now used in the sorority houses will be used in the management of this house. Miss Mary McGonagle, who has been employed as full time Y. W. C. A. secretary of the next year, will act as chaperone. The house will not only be a home for college girls, but will serve as a social center for the activities of the organization.

With the great increase in the enrollment of students, the dormitory is unable to accommodate all the college girls, and the need for more housing room has long been felt.

Any girls interested in living in the Y. W. C. A. house during the next year should see Miss Dorothy Dean, chairman of the house and rooms committee, some time in the near future.

William Moore Winner of Oratorical Contest

Sophomore Man Will Represent Montana State College in State Oratorical Contest to Be Held Next Saturday in Helena. Edward Bell Takes Second Honors in Local Contest.

"Loot" Second Show Proves Big Success

"Looters" Bear Out Reputation Made at First Show For High Quality of Production. Another Show to be Presented Next Year.

"Loot," the college musical comedy, played to a capacity house on the second night of its bill, last Tuesday, the first show proving a drawing card for the second performance. The show went, if it were possible, even smoother at the second show than at the Saturday performance. The cast and choruses played their parts in exceptional style and added the touch to the show which won for it a place in the memories of the student body, as well as with the people of Bozeman.

The audience was kept in mirth from the raising of the curtain by the antics of the professor and the humorous mix-ups in which George, the negro cook, and the Ghost became entangled. As with the previous show, the musical numbers and the singing were features of the evening. Miss Esther Garry and Miss Lucille Staebler carried the voice parts of the show, while Ray Amer also had ample opportunity to offer the audience some of his vocal skill. The other members of the cast have, like the show itself, won a name for themselves among those who witnessed the performance. Others in the cast and chorus sang the lighter numbers of the production, and these, too, were well rendered and received. The song, "Montana Night," written by Henry J. Bolles and set to music by Director Howard, proved as popular with the second show as with the first.

At the end of the first act the company took a curtain call and were enthusiastically applauded by the audience. Mrs. Howard and members of the cast were called to the front while flowers were passed to them over the footlights. Mrs. Howard, in thanking the cast and management for the two beautiful gifts of flowers sent her, asked the audience to bear in mind that the success of the show had been due to the play itself, the cast and the student management. She was followed by Musical Director Howard, who asked to be allowed to read two telegrams which he thought

Finley Captain Diamond Stars

Varsity Pitcher and First Baseman on Last Season's Squad Is Chosen to Lead Ball Tossers Through Season.

George Finley will captain the varsity nine the coming season as a result of an election last week. Due to Buster Atterbury leaving school, the Blue and Gold nine was left without a captain, and Finley has been chosen to occupy this position.

Finley has played varsity ball for two years, in the pitcher's box and on the initial sack. This is his third year of college as well as baseball, and he is a prominent member of the junior class. Finley will also be remembered as the winner of the mile race in Missoula in 1920, for which he was awarded at track "M." He was also the winner of the cross-country run last year.

Finley is a prominent member of Montana State athletic activities, and his election comes as a reward for his experience, and he should have little difficulty in leading the Bobcat diamond men in a successful schedule.

The oratorical contest was held in the assembly hall yesterday afternoon. Some time before the contest these people signified their intention of working for it: Arthur Bergstrom, Joseph Wagner, Glen Boyer, Keturah Tibbles, Stella Sletten and William Moore. Each contestant produced an original oration of not less than 1,750 or more than 2,000 words. Of these, not over 200 could be quoted.

The winners of the first two places and the subjects on which they spoke are:

First—William Moore, "American Imperialism."
Second—Edward Bell, "The Rural Life Movement."

The judges for the contest were Professor McCall and the four members of the college English department.

(Insert here names and subjects of winners)

The winner will represent Montana State College in the state intercollegiate contest, which is to be held in Helena, Friday, April 28. At the state contest there will be representatives from all the colleges and universities in Montana. The speakers will be guests of Montana Wesleyan College during their stay in Helena.

This contest is being held this year for the first time since the war. The last meeting was held in 1916. Friday morning there will be a meeting of the representatives of the college English departments at the Placer Hotel in Helena, to consider the permanent revival of this state intercollegiate oratorical contest.

SPECIAL PLANS FOR EXTENSION

Extension Heads in Conference With Chancellor Elliott Work Out Method of Greater Service to Northern Montana.

Last Tuesday a conference was held between the leaders of the Extension Service and Chancellor Elliott of the University of Montana, for the purpose of considering the emergency extension needs of some parts of the state. Plans were made for special extension work, applying especially to the central and northern parts of Montana. Four phases of the work were taken up.

The first phase is to be in the form of a farm success survey, which is to be made by Mr. M. L. Wilson, and Mr. H. E. Currier, with Mr. H. E. Selby, assisting with the field records. This will be to determine who are the successful farmers, what the extent and percentage of their success, and what have been the contributing factors to their success in the past five years.

The second phase of this work will be in charge of Mr. A. J. Ogaard, extension agronomist, and will be along the lines of improvement in the methods of summer tillage, with especial emphasis on the use of home-made tillage implements. The plan is to establish demonstration tracts, to be in charge of reliable farmers, who will act under instructions as to their farming methods. The results obtained on these farms will then be used in demonstrations of the methods followed.

The third phase is to be a measure of special publicity for farm success. The success attained by farmers will be made public, and especially the plans and methods used by those farmers whose success has made them conspicuous.

The fourth phase, which will be directly in charge of Mr. R. B. Bowden, will be the preparation of movie films of the best dry farm practices, and showing the working out of these methods on the farms of successful farmers.

It is expected that Mr. Wilson, Mr. Bowden and Mr. Selby will begin the farm success studies near Havre early this week.

ATTEND THE ASSEMBLIES.

At this time of the year when the grass begins to grow and the birds begin to sing and the whole of nature seems to cry out to the youth of the land to remain outdoors and enjoy life, it is very easy for the college student to neglect to go to the assembly.

Last Friday morning was a good example of what the distracting influence of the warm air and dry campus will do. The drill hall was noticeably void of the usual large assembly of students. The program for that assembly was as good if not better than usual and besides the program the students were to vote on officers for the Student Christian Association. However, instead of finding the students going to assembly most of them either went home or were out enjoying the campus in the popular sport usually known as "campus" or "twosing." The special assembly, yesterday, was attended by a more representative number of students.

The assembly hour has been set aside as a time when all the students could gather together and hear good speakers. These men are all those who have made names for themselves in the world and the students can benefit in many ways by taking advantage of the opportunities of hearing these speakers.

Next Friday the assembly is of double importance to the students for not only will they have an opportunity of hearing Dr. Swain talk, but also at that time the nominations for the student officers will be made.

Every student should make it a point to attend the assembly next Friday and those that follow during the remainder of the year.

KEEP OFF THE PARKING.

The citizens of Bozeman have made a decided effort, this spring, to remove the blemishes that preceding years have inflicted on the lawns and parkings of the city. This is a very commendable work and it should be backed up by the college students. These so-called "cow paths" do more to ruin the appearance of a lawn than anything else and the students should remember that it is better to take a few steps around a corner than to walk across a parking or over a lawn. On the campus, too, the sidewalks should be followed.

Let's make our motto, "Follow the Walk."

might interest the audience as they had interested the show people. The first was a greeting from the "Looters" to the "Masque," the show management of the Boston Tech, which was staging its production on the same night. The second was a response to this from the "Masque," wishing the show the greatest luck, and the Howards the same success that had marked their show work at Boston Tech.

The second show of "Loot" marked the end of the work of the "Looters" for this season. They are already making plans for the preparation and presentation of the second Montana State show for next year.

These are busy days for Eli. Cars are purring (with intervals of silence) far into the warm sentimental nights. And in the daytime the old campus is turning green, and vacant periods are showing symptoms of turning into spooning periods; all the lovers are watching the trees with wistful, longing eyes for the growth of green leaves which are so handy for keeping—the sun out of the eyes. No longer is the library filled with whispering, soft-eyed couples. And on Saturdays and Sundays—how the picnickers do picnic! Summer is coming, and with it much work and worry for Eli.

In the middle of the stage Pat Morphy is seen weeping bitterly. Mashin stands near by offering sympathy.

Now, why did George Finley, who is house manager at the Sigma Chi house, watch that burning chicken coop with so much anxious satisfaction?

And Sunday noon the Sigma Chis had chicken dinner.

Eli suggests that skunks be trained to replace bloodhounds in running down criminals.

They have a wonderfully developed scent.

"Chorus girls have a hard time, don't they?"

"Yes, they have to bare a great deal."

Herb—"I wonder if this is a healthy town?"

Bud L.—"Well, I should say it is. When I came here I hadn't the strength to utter a word. I had scarcely a hair on my head; I couldn't walk across the room and had to be lifted from my bed."

Herb—"You give me hope. How long have you lived here?"

Bud—"I was born here."

"My Sport ought to make a good watchdog."

"Why?"

"He's covered with ticks."

Do the girls have fun at the practice house? Judge for yourself. There were several people sitting in the living room when Kenneth Fitzgerald and a certain young lady (one of the practicers) emerged from the kitchen, where he was supposed to have been getting some 20. After sitting for a time with a bored look on his face, he suddenly said, "Oh, let's go back to the kitchen. We can't do any good here." And to think that Fitzgerald has a woman who is true to him and waiting in Iowa.

Heard in math. class—
Miss Bull—"Mr. Massure, you see we have no excuse for fussing at all."
We wonder what she meant by that.

Pat—"Now, there's Jorgy, he's slept only two hours a day for the last year, and yet he is in perfect health."

Stranny—"How remarkable!"

Pat—"Yes, he takes most of his rest at night, you know."

Dorothy Bowling is going the same way as many others have gone—she tells us that Eli can never get anything on her. Alright Dorothy, but how do you account for the fact that Bud was all covered with powder after the battle in the back seat of Ducky's Dodge the other day? This really isn't "anything," but watch your step, and heed the warning at the top of the column, for we want the next episode for next week.

And to confirm our suspicions you had to come down with a carload and park right in front of the office on Monday afternoon which to say the least is no way to dodge Eli.

She snuggled closer.
My arm

"Do you love me?"

ALUMNI MEET IN DISTANT SPOT BUT TALK OF M. S. C.

The following letter was received by the Exponent recently. The "News Notes" referred to were some which were taken from those compiled by Ray Bowden, publicity director of the College.

This letter shows the feeling of fellowship that exists between Alumni of Montana State, no matter where they may meet.

Batavia, N. Y., Richmond Hotel, April 4th, 1922.

Editor, News Notes
The Weekly Exponent,
Bozeman, Montana.

Dear Editor:
I want to tell you how much I enjoyed the Column in the Exponent "News Notes" sent to College Alumni March 27th. Even though I am many miles away, through the Exponent that is forwarded to me each week I keep in touch with M. S. C. and all that you are doing.

I had quite an interesting experience and coincidence while in Corning, New York. While putting on an advertising campaign for Washburn-Crosby Co., and incidental to this a demonstration, one afternoon had to be given to a woman from Cornell who was demonstrating for the Women's Club. This person happened to be Lucille Brewer-Ex. student M. S. C. I was terribly surprised to meet her and she me. We spent the evening together and you may rest assured the conversation was M. S. C. so the world is pretty small. M. S. C. students everywhere and in all kinds of work.

Sincerely,

Jeanette Kelly.

"Why did you tell my wife," roared the man of the house. "the time I came in this morning, after I expressly told you not to do so?"

"Sure," returned the cook, "O! didn't tell her. She asked me what toime ye got in an' O! told her O! was so blyss gettin' the breakfast that O! didn't look at the clock."

genuity in planning an enjoyable evening for all who attend.

The invitations for the event will be sent out within a short time. It is a custom that attendance at Junior "Prom" be limited to members of the two upper classes as far as possible. However, it is impossible to make any hard and fast rule to that effect, and the invitations are issued with the understanding that recipients of invitations not having available partners among the upper classes may choose their partners from the lower classes or outside the student body if necessary. Couples having an extra invitation, because of both partners being of the upper classes, may give it to some other couple if they see fit to do so.

The invitation committee requests that prompt replies be made to all invitations, so that the various committees in charge of arrangements may know as soon as possible just how many people to plan for. Replies may be addressed to the Junior "Prom" invitation committee, in care of the registrar's office and either mailed regularly or placed in the "Campus Mail" box in the registrar's office.

MYSTERY TOWERS
WORRY STUDENTS

Photograph Towers Erected by Contractors on Campus Cause Speculation by Students.

One of the most troublesome mysteries which has ever been observed by the student body as a group has appeared on the campus of late. The mystery in question is the significance and purpose of the towers which recently made their appearance north of the new biology building and south of Hamilton Hall. Some of the intellectual theorists among the students have offered to make a guess which might solve the mystery. Some of them say that it is a new observatory for the benefit of some of the "campus" students at Hamilton Hall. Others say that there is oil beneath the sod of our alma mater. Still others say that it is a training tower for the Bobcat athletes. These solutions to the mystery, though plausible, are not correct.

The real purpose of the frail structures is for the use of the contractors who are constructing the new buildings. At regular intervals during the construction of the buildings photographs of them are taken from the top of the tower and placed on record. This method is used by many contractors so that correct records may be kept of the buildings during the

WOMEN'S OXFORDS

Unexcelled for Service

The idea in women's footwear today is not so much how long a shoe will wear. Styles change too frequently for that—but how smart a slipper may look. However, every woman wants one sturdy pair of Oxfords, swaggy to be sure, but built for service too, like these semi-rogue styles in grained leather. They are quite mannish and very good looking with the popular tweed suits.

AG CLUB MEET
FOR THURSDAY

Important Meeting of Agriculture Club at Chamber of Commerce on Thursday Night. Promising program arranged.

The Agricultural Club will hold a meeting in the Grain Room of the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday evening. The meeting will start at 7:30 P. M. sharp and promises to be one of the best of the year.

Two well-known agriculturists have been secured to address the club on that occasion. J. P. Fabrick of Bozeman will speak on the agriculture conditions in the United States compared with certain European countries. Mr. Fabrick is well known as a practical agriculturist and is an able speaker. The other speaker will be A. J. Ogaard of the college extension faculty. He will speak on the economic conditions with the rural sections of the state and his message will be of interest to those who are following agriculture.

In addition to these speakers, much business is to be transacted at the meeting. The matters concerned with the coming Ag Day and judging contests will be arranged, and preparations made for these events.

EDY ADDRESSES
CIVIL ENGINEERS

Chief Engineer of Montana Highway Commission Speaks on "Management and Control of Engineering Projects" and "Personal Efficiency."

Mr. John Edy, chief engineer of the Montana State Highway Commission, gave a very interesting talk to the senior class of civil engineers last Tuesday morning. Mr. Edy is very well known in engineering circles throughout Montana, having come here in 1909 and worked in the city engineer's office at Billings. Exactly ten years later he attained his major ideal and became chief engineer of the state highway, which he has held ever since.

The theme of his speech was divided into two topics. The first was "The Management and Control of Engineering Organizations," in which he gave the various phases to be carried out in an engineering project. "Men are constantly needed," he said, "who can analyze the different parts of a project and be able to plan for each detailed part." He also brought out the vast importance of good organization in an ykind of business. "If the Montana State Highway Commission has done satisfactory work during the last few years, it is due to the hearty co-operation and enthusiastic endeavors of every man on the force."

In the second part of his talk he dwelt on the personal efficiency for engineers, and especially recommended Emerson's book on "Personal Efficiency," from which he gave a few quotations and outlines. In defining personal efficiency, he said that it is the mental and physical ability to find the best and shortest way to desirability in life. "Personal efficiency," says Mr. Edy, "may be divided first into practical principles in which routine and a schedule of standardized operations are brought out, and second, ethical principles referring mainly to major and minor ideals, discipline and common sense."

"An engineer," according to Mr. Edy, "should always try to know more about his work than anybody else. Yet he should cultivate a broader range of knowledge and get acquainted with the more refined and cultured set. He should have a hobby which is in no wise connected with his business. Success then means saving, personal integrity and the observance of the Ten Commandments."

DR. TAYLOR SPEAKS
SPECIAL ASSEMBLY

Condition of the Countries of Europe and Mistakes of Reconstruction Subject of Talk.

"We must overcome the evil of Germany with good. The past must be a closed book, the pages of which were written in blood by the German Junkers."

With those parting words, Dr. Alvah W. Taylor, social service secretary of the Christian church at the University of Missouri, closed his talk on the economic outlook of Europe, at the special assembly yesterday morning. He showed clearly the conditions existing in industrial England and Germany and in productive America. Then he drew the curtain of doubt from the face of conditions on the continent of Europe and showed where the raw products of America and the idle spindles of England and Germany could join together to relieve conditions.

Dr. Taylor traced the troubles, political and economical, of Europe today back to the regime pulling the strings in French political life. "Until France changes her outlook upon the question of the balance of power there can be no lasting peace in Europe," he declared.

"The German republic is the hope of salvation in Europe today. If France manipulates the Versailles treaty to make Germany pay everything and allow the Junkers back in power in Germany, she will commit suicide. If France extracts her pound of flesh there will be an economic catastrophe."

He showed conditions in France today, directing attention especially to the territory devastated by Germany. In his talk he showed where the 80 per cent of the war zone that had been reconstructed by France was only the territory behind the lines where troops were trained and ammunition stored. The Argonne country was pictured with the battlefield overrun with wild grass and brush, the little villages still in ruins, and the few old peasants coming back to live in dugouts and caissons left by the American troops.

"Germany offered to reconstruct the battlefields," he stated. "She proposed to rebuild every foot of that area, using French materials and French workmen, getting from Germany only the things unobtainable there and the necessary additional workmen, the money expended thusly to apply on the German reparations owed to France. French labor unions agreed to the plan, providing the workmen from Germany received the same wages the French workers got. The French government refused the offer."

"Today, three years after the war, these battlefields have not been touched. France has not tried to remedy conditions there."

Dr. Taylor showed in his talk that the people paying the German war debt were not the ones responsible for the war. He illustrated how they were called into service and dispatched to the various fronts, not knowing why or where they were going.

"Punitive justice is economic suicide," he declared. "England got Germany's merchant marine, much of which was not needed. What was the result? English ship-building stopped and 200,000 men were thrown out of employment."

EXTENSION NOTES

R. B. Millin, extension livestock specialist, and County Agent R. E. Bodley were in attendance at the State Livestock Growers' convention in Butte, April 18 and 19.

The resignation of David Jones, Choteau county agent, has recently been received. Besides being a successful county agent, Mr. Jones is well known throughout the state, and at the college as the champion wrestler of the northwest. As yet Mr. Jones has not announced his plans for the future.

The people of the Extension Service who will attend the girls' camp at Glasgow, from June 5 to 10, are Miss Emily Hoff, assistant state leader of boys' and girls' clubs; Miss Mary Ann Graber, nutrition specialist; Mrs. Marion Quaw Lott, and Mr. J. COLLINS SPEAKS
FOR CHERRINGTON

"Challenge of Service" is Subject on Which Student Pastor of Colorado School of Mines Addresses Assembly—Mountjoy President Christian Association.

"What will your attitude be—will it be for the benefit of society or for personal aggrandizement, in the solution of the industrial and social problems that face the nation today?" was the keynote of an address on "The Challenge of Service," which Mr. Collins, student-pastor of the School of Mines at Boulder, Colorado, gave before assembly last Friday morning. Mr. Collins, who spoke in the absence, due to illness, of Mr. Cherrington, brought out a number of the problems of our twentieth century which he believes vitally concern the nation. Unemployment, with its indication of deep-seated unrest and class hatred, such as is evidenced today in the coal miners' strike, together with that of the New England textile workers, is one of the gravest problems before the nation today. Mr. Collins also spoke of the imminence of war today, rising out of such strictly present day problems as commercial rivalry, exploitation and exaggerated nationalism. Not good will alone, but fitness for service and heroism in meeting the problems fairly will ever solve the present day situation, is the belief of Mr. Collins.

The assembly was opened by Miss Esther Garry singing "Montana Night," the song which scored such a success in "Loot."

Ian Briggs, chairman of the committee on nominations for officers for the Student Christian Association at Montana State College, read the following nominations, the name of the student who was elected appearing first in each group:

President—Raymond Mountjoy, Edward Cates.

Vice President—Alice Moody, Dorothy Burgess.

Secretary—George Dwight, Asa Gaylord.

Treasurer—Bernice Flook, Dorothy Dean.

and Black for the opposite corner. Black was not on the squad last year, and is the only man of these that has not been awarded a letter. Hay is the only man out for the keystone sack at present, but it is expected that some of the extras on other positions will try for it. McCarren and Brentford are in line for the short-stop berth. Brentford has never been on the squad before, but is considered a good hitter and will probably reserve some place for himself.

The outfield is being taken care of by Hollister, Alquist, Gentry and Baker. Hollister is a new member of the squad, and Baker and Gentry are both frosh.

There are several good hitters in the squad so far, and if the pitching staff develops some good men the Bobcats will have a chance to make a strong bid for the title honors at the close of the season.

LOCAL VETS PLAN

sent, and whether or not effective boosting can be done depends largely upon the attendance at these dances. The vets. depend upon the support of the college and townspeople to make it possible for them to put the college and city on the map when the splendid opportunity presents itself next June.

The series of dances being given on Saturday evenings by Montana Chapter No. 1, of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, was interrupted a week ago Saturday, since the dance committee did not wish to run a dance in view of the fact that "Loot" was scheduled for that evening. The dances were resumed again last Saturday, and will be continued as long as the attendance warrants doing so.

The "vets" have noticed with satisfaction that there has been a large percentage of college people at the last few dances, and hopes that this will continue. It is the purpose of the management to make these dances attractive to the best element in the city, and to discourage as far as possible the attendance of those whose behavior tends to throw dancing into disrepute.
