It's A Tradition That Traditions Cause Much Talk

By C.

Customs! That word has come to stand for much in the eyes of the colleges and universities of the world. Everywhere there is an institution giving instruction in work beyond high school grade, there you will find a system of customs arising to fit conditions and individual tastes. It may be just a few simple rules that have become recognized as the common laws of that college, or they may be many rules and regulations providing more hampering to the student than helping.

oO—oO

Wellington D. Rankin, attorney general for Montana, mentioned some of the customs of Oxford in his talk before the student body Friday morning. His delineation of the means by which Oxford provided itself with a steady revenue through fines imposed by the proctors upon those violated some apparently silly tradition was at least amusing. And his statements regarding the wearing of caps and gowns, regulations for being in the dormitories, and other customs also added some humor to the situation when viewed from our western collegiate system.

oO—oO

Perhaps his explanation of the reason why some of the traditions were kept is also worthy of attention. "In England, when I was there, there were still horse cars being employed where we employ electric street cars. I once got into a discussion over this very apparent backwardness of the English, and upon inquiring as to the reason for the continuation of the horse car, I got this answer: 'Things are changing so rapidly that we'll just continue with these for awhile until we see what is really going to be done.'" he said.

oO—oO

Many traditions have been suggested for Montana State. Many of them have been good; excellent for the continuation of a bigger and better spirit at M. S. C. They have been considered, suggested to the students, and then apparently gone for a long vacation in the waste box of undesirable material.

oO—oO

Why should apparently good suggestions that might in time become traditions be thrust aside for others, or their place left vacant? Perhaps after all due consideration they have proven inadequate for the conditions they were designed to meet. Perhaps the student body was not in a frame of mind to accept new and radical suggestions and they were dropped.

oO—oO

But Montana State has traditions. Note, kind reader, that all the freshmen men wear green caps for the first month they are at Montana State while the freshmen women must provide themselves with a green ribbon. The freshmen must paint the "M" every fall on October 12. Then there have been customs observed in the past that at basketball games, the men must sit by themselves and the women must do likewise. There are also rules providing special restrictions upon the freshmen during certain periods of the fall quarter. But Montana State needs a few more simple and effective rules for conduct about all of the buildings on the campus. A few more customs or better Montana State will be the outcome. Rules, effective and simple rules, lead to co-operation. Verbose and trite regulations generally mean falling in to factions and jangling over petty grievances.

CHANCELLOR BRANNON AT FACULTY MEETING

The college, station and extension faculties were called to a special meeting at four o'clock Friday to hear Chancellor Melvin A. Brannon.

Dr. Brannon discussed the outlook ahead in state finances. With the total value of the crop and mineral production of the state approximately $200,000,000 he regards the future as rather hopeful. He analyzed, in a broad way the relation of the greater University of Montana to the up-building of the state, and emphasized the importance of correlation and harmony between the various institutions.

BOBCATS LOWERED BY ORE DIGGERS

Miners Played a Fast, Steady Game.
Bobcats Play Was Disorganized and Slow.

MINERS GET BIG END OF 12-2

Bobcats Made More Yardage and More
First Downs but Lacked Punch to Score.

The Oredigger eleven invaded Gattin field here last Saturday and took with them a 12 to 2 victory from the Bobcats. The game was played on a slippery field and except for a few moments in each half the play was rather slow, the Miners taking the advantage in the second and third quarters, the Bobcats claiming the first as their own.

Hober made both touchdowns for the mines, the last one was made after he had intercepted a pass and run 38 yards thru a broken field. The Bobcats made their score early in the game by blocking a kick which the Miners recovered back of their goal line, counting as a safety. The Orediggers played straight football only once opening up with forward passes. The Bobcats featured their game with passes and end runs. They made more yardage from scrimmage than did the Mines, but every time they advanced into the enemies territory it seemed that there they had to stop. In the first quarter the Bobcats tried a place kick which fell short of the post and was received by the Orediggers safety man.

In the first quarter the dope pointed to a Bobcat victory. Although both teams matched up pretty evenly, the Bobcats by exchanges and punts were slowly invading the enemies territory. Then the Mines received Floyd Romeny's unsuccessful place kick on their third yard line and had to punt behind the goal. The kick was intercepted, but was recovered by the Orediggers behind their goal. The play was counted as a safety and counted two points for the Bobcats.

The Mines made up for the safety in the second quarter by scoring their first touchdown. They opened with an aerial attack completing three passes for a total of 35 yards. The passes thrown by Walsh were received in succession by, Dunn, Hober, and Dunn. With the ball on the Bobcat 9 yard line the Miners changed their tactics to straight football and after

OBITUARY

Spirit, School—Born 1886, Died 1923.

At his funeral, fifty of his close friends gave him their respects. Some seven hundred others mourned his loss at church socials, fire-side parties, and at their places of abode.

Two women paid their respects to the body of the deceased.

His death is a great loss to the members of the athletic teams. Aside from these men, he leaves few mourners.

May He Rest In Peace?

Freshman Class Elects Officers

Mowery, Smith, Lois McCoy and Chamberlain were Elected at the Meeting Held at "M" Painting Tuesday.

In an election held in Bridger Canyon, following the painting of the "M" the members of the freshman class voted again on the offices of president and secretary. Neither Mowery nor Robinson had a majority in the first election for the office of president and for the office of secretary. Ijams and McCoy were tied in the first election. The final result of the election is:

Finals of the Freshmen Class election:

President, Warren Mowery; vice president, Andy Smith; secretary, Lois McCoy; treasurer, John Chahberlain.

Warren Mowery, of Great Falls, who was elected president, throughout

WHAT'S WRONG?

What's wrong with Montana State; with its athletics; with the spirit of the student body? Why is it that only a handful of the "Hearty sons and daughters of Montana" can brave the elements on a fall evening to cheer for their football team, try to demonstrate to the citizens of Bozeman and to visitors that the State College is not an intellectual cemetery?

It is a demonstrated fact that rallies conducted by the students from the "Hill" are growing weaker and weaker. Any high school in the state could have "shown up" the State College Friday evening without exerting enough effort to wreck a window pane in a dog kennel.

What do you think of the idea that rallies are old-fashioned and out of style? Is it more ladylike to attend a "social" or a "delightful fire-side" than to get out and display a little real interest in the men who represent our school in intercollegiate football? We do not think so. We firmly believe that a little pressure brought to bear in the proper direction would change the attitude of the college authorities toward the attendance of co-eds at rallies.

Why is it that not only do the students not attend rallies, but they don't attend football games? And why is it that those that do attend spread themselves throughout the bleachers like a herd of deer hunting covering when the first gun shot announces the hunting season? You can't expect to win a war with your soldiers scattered from Shantung to New Foundland. You can't successfully boost your team with cheering by scattering yourselves to the four winds.

What is your position in regard to the matter? Are you one of the vast majority that goes to the "delightful fireside" parties or "hop" while the great minority of your college friends and classmates do the boosting?

Now just as a personal analysis, ask yourself these four questions:

1. Are your personal interests paramount?
2. Are social interests greater than college interests?
3. Has the broadening of the campus narrowed your outlook?
4. Does fraternity or school come first?

Let's talk it over. The "Student Opinion" column is open for ideas.

"Pomander Walk" By the Tormentors

Eighteen Character Parts are Offered.
Freshmen are Eligible for Dramatic Club.

The Dramatic Club at M. S. C., called "The Tormentors" is now working on a play which is to be presented in Bozeman and possibly several neighboring towns early in December. The play, called "Pomander Walk," which has a cast of eighteen characters, typifies city life during Queen Anne's time in the early nineteenth century.

Tryouts for the play were held yesterday, with nearly sixty prospective actors reporting, but since so many students turned out, further tryouts will be necessary before selecting the cast. This unusual interest which is being shown, predicts an active and successful year for dramatics at M. S. C.

Last spring The Tormentors were installed into a national dramatic fraternity called Theta Alpha Phi. Owing to this the club has adopted a ruling which makes Sreshman eligible to the organization after taking part in two plays. During the course of the year several plays are presented and a tour of the state is made during the spring quarter.

The officers of the club are: Bert Julio, Pres., Lucille Staebler, Vice-Pres., Larry Wyndon, Treas., and Margaret Conkling, Sec. Miss Anne Lindblom is Dramatic Director.

JUDGING TEAMS ARE SELECTED

Both Teams Leave for Pacific International Thursday. Woman On Stock Team

Students of M. S. C. were surprised last Friday when it was announced that Miss Helen A. Noble of Great Falls had been elected as a member of the stock judging team to represent M. S. C. at the stock judging contest at Portland to be held November third, in connection with the Pacific International Livestock Show.

Miss Noble is a Junior in the agricultural department, and has been an active member of the agroicultural club for the past two years. She has competed with the men in the course in the handling and fitting contests of the Ag Day fair for the last three years, and has won a ribbon in every contest for the quality of her work. She takes a keen interest in the work, and intends to specialize in dairying.

The other members of the team that is to go to Portland are as follows: H. H. Dokken, Wm. G. Flood, L. B. Newman, G. H. Dutton and F. A. Ralston. The team members were selected from a class of seventeen men enrolled in Advanced Stock Judging by means of competitive tryouts which have been held since the beginning of school this fall.

Grain-Judging Team Chosen.

Louis B. Newman, William D. Hay, and M. A. Bell were elected this morning to represent Montana State College at the grain grading and judging contest to be held next Monday at Portland in connection with the Pacific International Hay and Grain Show.

BECKMAN TALKS AT AG ASSEMBLY

The Value of Journalism to Students in Agriculture was Subject of His Talk.

"If you know how to deal with newspaper men, and can co-operate them, can't you see that you can have a great influence in your community, no matter what line of work you may be engaged in?" With these words Prof. F. W. Beckman, head of the department of agricultural journalism at Iowa State college, summarized his argument for a journalism course at M. S. C. at a special assembly for the agricultural students of the college held in the chemistry assembly room last Monday afternoon.

Prof. Beckman pointed out that the newspaper is the great socializing influence of the community, and that it is thru the influence of the newspapers that the different elements of the community are brought to understand each other, and to co-operate with each other. He stated that a knowledge of the elements of journalism would be very valuable to any college graduate in his future occupation, and urged the introduction of a journalism course of from three to six credits in the college curriculum. However, he said that it was not necessary for college students to wait for the introduction of such a course, as he said that the regular English work of the college was a good basis for this work, and he urged more application to English study on the part of the students. While advocating greater attention to all English work; he emphasized the importance of written English, for he pointed out that the written word reaches many times the number of people than does the spoken word.

FROSH MEET B. Y. C. TEAM HERE TODAY

Bobkitten Interest Is High In Spirit Of Drubbing Received Last Week.

B. Y. C. HELD WESLEYAN, 0-0

Hard Fought Game Is Expected. A Slippery Field Is Handicap for Bobkitten Speed.

Fresh from a 0-0 tie with the Wesleyan eleven last Saturday the Brigham Young College men will step on Gattin Field to vie for honors with the Kitten crew which has recuperated from last week's episode this afternoon at 2:30 P. M.

Although the B. Y. C. is a junior college with the same rating as Idaho Tech they have shown good form this season and the Frish will do well if they overcome them. The Utah Aggie freshmen, which is the best that has been in these parts for years, held the U. A. C. varsity to a 9 to 0 score. The B. Y. C. eleven took these yearlings in by a score of 3-0. The Logan men also defeated the Weber Normal grid squad 9-0. Weber is considered strong in Utah.

Coach Crookston, who is mentor for the visitors, is a former Utah Aggie star and an exceptional forward passer. The B. Y. C. men will more than likely open a passing game that the Frish will have to watch carefully.

The Bobcat under studies have recuperated from their struggle with the Cubs and with the exception of Andy Smith all are in fair shape to enter the contest. The kicking and passing will probably fall on Winner, Babcock or Glynn.

The Utah men have a snappy team and put an exceptional defensive game, although their offensive is not in keeping with this defense. Holey, full back, will do the kicking for the visitors in addition to helping smash the line, at which he has a good reputation. When the Utah eleven romp on the field this afternoon they will average about 155 pounds.

ATTORNEY RANKIN AT ASSEMBLY FRI.

Montana Attorney General Appeals to Students to Maintain Law Enforcement.

"When our greatest men are willing to sacrifice everything for the constitution and its amendments, surely we can do our little part to show our respect for these men and for the constitution they gave so much to preserve."

That was one of the clinching statements uttered by Wellington D. Rankin, attorney general for Montana, in his talk on law enforcement before the students at Friday morning's assembly. Throughout his talk on the duty of all American people in the matter of law enforcement, he held his audience.

As he opened his discourse on law enforcement, Wellington D. Rankin stated that violations of the laws of this country today called forth much amusement on the part of most American people. He reminded his audience of the fact that the people of the United States feel indifferent about constitutional amendments. Then he called for his hearers to assume the opposite attitude.

From this he went to a discussion of the fall of the Roman empire, showing

MURDER!

Kids will be kids, and college students must have their scandal. A murder trial has been in progress in Bozeman during the past week, and so many students flocked to hear the sensational testimony that Judge Law had to refuse admittance to many of them.

It would have been all right had all those from the State College been content to start a "center rush" and shove their way to the front like the Irish washwoman getting to the bargain counter. But some of the fair co-eds started doubling the excitement by sliding down the banisters in the court house, while others almost asphiated the jury and the lawyers with their

Wesleyan Team Here Next Sat.

Visitors Have a Strong Machine. Bobcats are Working Hard After Episode Last Saturday.

The next game on the Bobcat schedule will be with the Wesleyan eleven here next Saturday. Both teams are fighting mad over their defeats at the hands of the Orediggers. The Wesleyan team outplayed the Miners but for a fluke in the last half the Miners were able to beat them by a small score.

The Wesleyan men met the B. Y. C. eleven last Saturday at Helena and came out with a 0-0 score, due mainly to the strong defense shown by the Utah men. The last time that the Blue and Gold entered a grid game with the Helena boys they left defeated. Mitchell, star half back for Wesleyan aggregation, is again in the line-up and intends to repeat his performances of two years ago.

As for the Bobcats, they are recovering from their strange and disheartening defeat at the hands of the Miners last Saturday. Britton should be able to get back in the game after an injury to his hip in the Mines game. No other serious injuries are reported and the squad after some workouts this week should be ready for another fray, win, lose or draw.

According to the dope that has been turned over during the last week the visitors should romp on Gattin field with the advantage marker pointing their way, but all dope is not the right dope and locals are figuring on doing a little romping on the field too.

No one has anything to say in regard to the outcome of the contest, but there is still a glimmer of hope left in the hearts of the student body.

PRESS CLUB

All students who are interested in work on any of the college publications are asked to attend a meeting to be held Thursday night at 7 o'clock in room 102 in the Ag building. The question of forming a Press Club will be discussed. Following the meeting there will be a short meeting of ALL MEMBERS of the Exponent staff.

Paul S. Carnes, Managing Editor.

YELL-LEADER AMENDMENT

The amendment of the constitution which changes the method of choosing Yell-Kings was unanimously carried. There was a crowd surrounding the polls at all hours of the day and great spirit was shown by the student body. Not a dissenting vote was cast by the hundred and ten students who threw their ballots.

Under Classmen To Hold Debate

Freshman-Sophomore Squads to Hold Annual Contest Soon... Try Outs to be Held on November 6.

For over a quarter of a century it has been the custom at M. S. C. to have a freshman-sophomore debate. This custom originated in giving a cup to the winner of the class scraps. This debate counts as one of the points in the class scraps.

In order to try out for this debate it is necessary for a contender to give an argumentative speech of from three to five minutes in length, on either side of any question. There will be no rebuttal, but probably questions will be asked for the speaker to refute extemporaneously. Try outs for this debate will be held on November 6, and the debate itself will take place in the latter part of November. Persons who are considering this try out must see Mr. Barger, the debate coach, in room 300-D, Main Building, to make the necessary arrangements.

The inter-class debates afford a splendid opportunity for inexperienced speakers to make a showing for a college team. Last year, of the six participants in the frosh-soph debate, five became members of the college squad.

OUR EDITORIAL

If you can keep your head while all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or, being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated, don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise;

If you can dream—and not make dreams your master;
If you can think—and not make thoughts your aim,
If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster
And treat those two impostors just the same:
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to broken,
And stoop to build them up with worn-out tools.

If you can make one heap of all your winnings
And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings,
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you
Except the Will which says to them: "Hold on!"

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with Kings—nor lose the common touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but none too much:
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And—which is more—you'll be a Man, my son!

—Kipling.

Y. W. C. A. TO GIVE YEAR SCHOLARSHIP AT M. S. C.

For a number of years the college Y. W. C. A. has given to some deserving college woman, a year's scholarship in the institution. This scholarship is a gift and not a loan, amounting to about seventy-five dollars each year. Women who have heretofore received this scholarship have found it a very material aid. This scholarship fund is open to any college woman who has proven her worthiness.

Applications should be sent to Mary Baldwin at the Alpha Omicron Pi house, not later than November 10.

TREBLE CLEFF CLUB

Since the Treble Cleff Club has now reached the number of 24, the organization is large enough to warrant a formal meeting on next Monday. A short business session will be held and members are expected to attend in order to have a voice in the election of officers. The assembly in Main Hall is at the disposal of the Treble Cleff Club every Monday from 5 to 6, so that rehearsals can be assured.

CHARLES LYNDON BACK

Charles A. Lyndon, M. S. C. '23 returned to the hill last Wednesday, and is now employed in the Correspondence Department of the local Veterans Bureau.

Grace Koningen, the champion purebred Holstein, owned by Montana State College, has twice been state champion. She was grand champion dairy cow at the 1922 state fair.

M. S. C. MEN'S GLEE CLUB ORGANIZES FOR YEAR

The Montana State College Glee Club started their year's activities with a meeting at the Emerson school on Monday, Oct. 22. After a short practice and talk by Professor Adam, an election of officers was held. The officers elected were: Edgar Bunney, president; Morris Andries, secretary; Francis Ralston, treasurer; Jacob Forbes, manager; Henry Schwartz, librarian, and Ridgley Morrison, pianist.

NOVEMBER 17!

Give your best and you will get the best in return.

COLLEGE ORCHESTRA

With the Men's Glee Club and Treble Cleff being well under way, Mr. Adam is preparing to organize the Orchestra. All students and faculty members registered and interested in Orchestra work are asked to meet with Mr. Adam in the Assembly Hall, Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock for the purpose of formulating plans and definitely setting a date for regular rehearsals which would meet at the convenience of all participants. Prospective orchestra members are asked to bring their instruments in order that try outs may be held.

Montana State College is one of five institutions comprising the Greater University of Montana. The control of these five institutions is centralized in the office of Chancellor.

NOVEMBER 17!

Start working for it now!

BATTLING FOR ELI

Not a member of the Exponent staff will be found on the hill this morning. While you are reading this "razz" edition, the various members of the sheet's staff from the editor-in-chief to the copy boy are now leaving for various points of the globe. From now on our editor, Harry McCann requests that all mail (bombs and dynamite excluded) be sent to him at Singapor, India. Boyer, the associate editor, has secured passage on a mail plane bound for Nome, Alaska, and will in all probabilities go to Siberia as a section-hand. Paul Carnes will be found at Kamchatka, an island in the Atlantic. Buckley has secured passage for Hawaii.

Other members of the staff have decided to scatter for the "tall timber" within the next few days. The society editor is bound for South America, most of the reporters are going to Germany to interview the Kaiser on the possibilities of starting another war.

Sung by Ted Johnson:

"Molly, dear, 'tis you I'm after—
My poor heart beats like a tart.
When I hear your Irish laughter
Sure with joy it fills my heart."

"Hello, is this the Z. K. House?"
"Is Lloyd Hansen there?"
"Well tell him he can stay!"

Society Note:

Dick Buckley and Harry Marineaux spent Friday afternoon at the S. A. E. House playing Mah-Jong. Stunt Evans accompanied them on the piano.

Let's see—how far can you ride on a piano?

Oh why is that little piece entitled "My Sweetie Went Away" so popular at the Chi O house? Now just who is "My Sweetie?"

A new study has been devised for all "Mechanics." It is entitled "couplets in assembly."

There's one in every class—
The "grind" that pipes up with a question just as the final bell rings.

The bird that gets "Edison's four hours of sleep" during his classes.

The bird that says "What was that—I didn't catch it?"

The bird that, when a question is asked of him always comes back with "Huh?"

The bird that never has a pencil.

The girl that always carries a vanity case, and always tries to demonstrate its possibilities.

Corp Bowen is now carrying a few dollars more than might have been the case had he found a Miner to "cover" his money.

Montana State claims to have the banner rally of the collegiate world. The banner goes to the "gang" that heeded "Stew" Avery's call Friday night. There were almost fifty of them—and they get the banner for being the best small rally that ever walked a street.

And the report comes in that the women were represented by two Chi O's.

The Sigs also check up with two present.

The O. B's and the Barbs tied for second with three men each.

The rest of them had a few representatives there, possibly for the job of reporting to headquarters the happenings of reporting to headquarters the activities of the yell leader and his

And what is this that is around about our "Barly" Junior president. Whodathunk that Bill would even hold a girls' hand! The dope's straight—from the Z. K. porch Sunday evening.

Now to think that Cowan and "Big" McDonald have to be driven away from the Pi Phi abode by the house mother. Quite regular to!

Say! I have it that something dreadfully scandalous is going to happen at this Junior frolic next Saturday nite. We'll see.

FOR CO-EDS

There will be a Woman's League Assembly next Friday at 10 o'clock. All women are requested to attend as the meeting will be of importance. The assembly will be held in the Auxiliary Gym.

Student Opinion

I have heard lots of opinions on the game that was played Saturday. Some people are inclined to blame the team, others to blame the school as a whole, still others want to lay the blame on a few individual players, and I have heard some that criticized the Coach. After the game yesterday I went home with the intention to keep still about the game, but after a talk that I heard this morning I have changed my mind. This may never go farther than onto the copy paper, but at least I will have relieved my mind, quite selfish perhaps, but a relief never the less.

I had the opportunity yesterday before the game to hear one of the players talking to one of the students. They were speaking of the negro who was playing on the Butte team. As a result of the discussion a bet was made that the negro would be carried off the field before the end of the first half, if he played. I noticed that he played the whole game and afterwards I had occasion to wonder if despite his color he was not a better, perhaps I should say a bigger, man than the one who made the bet. Why? I heard one of the players tell how the negro had unavoidably hit one of the Bobcats. The negro begged his pardon and expressed his regrets to which he received a growl as an answer.

At another time during the game I saw one of the Mines men offer his hand to a Bobcat in congratulation for some play made. I regret to say the Bobcat spurned his hand.

After the game the thing that struck me hardest was the spirit shown by some of the players. If I had played in that game I would have come out with the resolve to never again lay myself open to some of the things those men have. Many of them treat it as worse than a joke. "Hurrah for the fighting Bobcats," seems to be a favorite slogan.

Scattered among the crowd yesterday were some people who delighted quite exuberantly whenever some especially vicious tackle was made and an opposing player was in danger of being injured. "Get that man," "kill him," and "murder the Shine," were a few of the most popular comments during the game, and then some people wonder where the Bobcat fight is. If half the enthusiasm shown against the opposing team was converted into upholding our own team and giving them a little support and encouraging fair-play instead of calling for fowl, we might recover the fighting spirit and good-fellowship which we are so much in danger of losing.

AT M. S. C. TEN YEARS AGO

From the Weekly Exponent, October 31, 1913.

The Utah Aggies were defeated by a score of 13-0 in a game in which "the blue and gold showed better training and more experience, literally playing the southerners off their feet." Cy Gatton, later M. S. C. football hero and American ace in the World War, subbed in this game.

"Beat the U" was the slogan then as it is now.

Nearly two hundred students formed a rally in the Main Hall at nine o'clock before the Utah game, took possession of the street car and rode down town to parade Main Street in a snake dance for two hours.

The following appeared under the title "Senior Slams" James Kiefer lives in terms of X and Y and wonders why it is necessary to even go home to eat and sleep.

The Chinese lecturer, Ng Poon Chew addressed the first meeting of the Civic League.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING HELD LAST SUNDAY

A meeting of the Student Y. M. C. A. was held Sunday afternoon at the Bozeman Y. M. C. A.

Various matters were brought up for discussion. Among these were the early establishing of a headquarters on the campus and the operation of a store for second-hand books. This store will enable students to dispose of old books and to obtain others for about half price.

FIGHTING BOBCATS!

A Football Player Tells of Team's Weak Point.

Anyone who attended the game Saturday at Gatton field, where the Montana State Bobcats, so-called state champions, failed to display even the rudiments of a brand of football necessary to carry them to the state championship, must have been felt rather disgusted at the exhibition.

Yet it was not a lack of coaching that accounted for the defeat. Montana State has as able a coach as there is in the conference. The most any coach can do is to teach his team football and see that they are in physical condition. This far, and no farther, can a coach prepare a team for a game. He cannot, for instance, get out on the field and run for his team when they go down under a kickoff. The way that the so-called Bobcats went down under punts and kickoffs would have brought shame to a second-rate high school team, who was credited with having any fire or fight in its system.

All Men Can Improve

I noticed the men individually. Some were worse than others, but each and every member of the team can improve his playing and particularly his team-work.

The three men in the center of the line did not play at all as far as stacking plays and stopping line bucks was concerned. Any high school center should have shown more ability at solving the delayed line buck of the Mines than did Don Brittain. The main trouble with Brittain is his inclination to loaf. Lately he seems to be weakening on the defensive which might be corrected by intensive scrimmage practise.

Champ Hannon showed a decided lack of condition, due probably to his being crippled for some time. Hannon, however, was far below his usual form. Where's the old fight Champ?

Savage Not Going Good

Savage was rated high early in the season. He was one huge disappointment in Saturday's game. Don't let a little newspaper "bull" from one of the "rah, rah" boys go to your head, Dave. The satisfying sense of the game, hard fought and won, is worth more than all the "Bobcat Talk" publicity in the world.

Frank Cowan is a fighter. If he will keep on the way he has started, fair and well. Speed and fight must offset Cowan's lack of weight.

Rube Romney seemed to be playing far below par, not "cleaning up" when he was supposed to get his man, loafing, especially when covering punts, and a tendency to get boxed were the most striking defects in his playing.

John Mashin and Frank Knight seemed to think that they could win the game by talking. If these fellows really wanted to fight some Mines player, why didn't they "swing" on him instead of doing so much talking and threatening? Mashin was guilty of some of the worst loafing to be seen on the field. You can't block a punt by trotting in, John! Knight would have looked better at a game of tennis or an afternoon tea, than he looked on the grid Saturday.

Backfield Also Bad

The "Bobcat" backfield played no better than the line. They forgot to cover a pass which resulted in a Mines touchdown. When passing McDonald persisted in holding on to the ball until he was tackled when, by throwing the ball to the ground, he could have saved many yards.

Floyd Romney persisted in trying end runs and passes when straight football was the order of the day. The field was too heavy and slippery for end runs.

Ted Morris played a good offensive game and a fair defensive game. A little more alertness and determination would have helped this man.

Benton played a good game. This little back does his best in every game. Keep it up, Jules.

Cogswell played fair ball, although he shows a tendency to dodge before there is any reason to do so.

Circling back is another offense of which Cogswell is guilty. Make up your mind that you like to get hit, Ted, and you will get over these habits.

Hartwig, Rivers, Pitt and Dobus played in the game, also. I have been wondering what has been keeping Pitt out of the regular lineup. Any fellow who can play the brand of football that he did last year should be a regular.

Lincke Is Working

Lincke is a hard-working center. He is a good defensive man, but his offensive work could stand a great deal of improvement.

Many times I have heard the question, "What is the matter with the Bobcats?" It is this in my opinion.

There is a lack of team-pride, or we might call it spirit.

But team pride alone will not win the game. Coach Bill Roper says that "a football game cannot be won by the fight and punch of eleven men. The whole school must be imbued with that same spirit and determination to win."

Two years ago Montana Wesleyan beat a Bobcat team in Helena. Five or six men of today's Bobcat team were playing them. A rejuvenated and, let us hope, a fighting Bobcat team will wipe out that disgrace on Gatton field Saturday.

two line plunges they put the ball over on the third. Havey failed to kick goal.

The visitors put their second touchdown over in the third quarter when Hober intercepted a pass and slipped thru the Bobcat tacklers for a 33 yard run and score. Havey again missed goal. The local eleven then started an aerial attack that threatened the Mines' goal but they lacked the punch to put the ball over and the game ended with the Bobcats taking the low end of the 12 to 2 score.

FRESHMEN ELECT

his high school career was interested in all school activities. He is rather a quite chap, but withal a very good leader and will undoubtedly make the freshmen class a very capable president.

Every one knows Andy Smith, star forward on the Dillon basketball team, as he has been here at the tournament for the last three years. He is showing up strongly on the freshman football squad and has shown that he is a good M. S. C. booster.

Lois McCoy graduated from Miles City High School two years ago. There she showed rare capabilities in athletics and in literary fields. She has already displayed her ability as a leader and is a strong member of the freshman class. She is a pledge of

ARTIST CONCERTS AGAIN OFFERED BY BOZEMAN WOMAN'S CLUB

Next week, season tickets for the fine Artists' Course which the Bozeman Woman's Club is offering the people of Bozeman, will be placed on sale. The course for the coming season is well rounded and full of variety. November 2 comes the New York String Quartet numbering in its personnel four artists of international fame. December 11, "The Impresario" a light Viennese opera, with music by the famous composer Mozart, will be presented. Costuming, staging, beautiful music and a sparkling libretto, make this musical attraction one to be long remembered. January 21 comes the famous mezzo-soprano, formerly of the Boston Opera Company, Barbara Maurel, a singer known not only in America but in England and France.

NOVEMBER 17!

Try outs for Frosh-Soph debate will be held on November 6. Those interested report this week to Mr. Barger in room 300-D, Main Hall.
