

We Disagree

By C.

"Is the American undergraduate becoming corrupted by the moral tone of English literature as taught by young instructors in our colleges?" asks Arthur Corning White, and instructor in English at Dartmouth in the March "Bookman." Dr. Paul Wright Moody, president of Middlebury college, stated in a recent issue of the "Bookman" that such was the case. President Moody said, in effect: "The teaching of thoughts, manners and aspirations of the world we live in, as these we live in, are presented in literature is more than dangerous."

In his article Mr. White disagrees with the latter stand, pointing out that "literature is a continuous stream, never ceasing, but always flowing on. To consider contemporary writing as an isolated phenomenon is silly. . . . The literature of all periods and all languages is made up of the same ingredients."

If our undergraduates are a representative sample of our population, instead of a carefully selected class, either Dr. Moody nor anyone else need fear for the morals of this country.—The Michigan Daily.

oO—oO

Mr. White's attitude makes one wonder why young people attend college at all. We have been told that we are being better fitted for our life's work; that we are being trained for citizenship; that we are being trained for leadership in the extra-college world; that we are being shown how best to meet the problems which in the future will confront us—in short, that we are being educated that we may best fill our particular positions in the struggle of mankind for a finer and higher-minded civilization. And how are we to receive this training if the truth about the outside world is hidden from us?

"The teaching of thoughts, manners, and aspirations of the world we live in," which Mr. White views as more than dangerous, is in reality the essence of college training. The treatment of these phases of modern life in literature may in some cases be so one as to prohibit their recommendation to young men and young women, but in the majority of cases the study of these conditions from the written page is far less dangerous than study through personal experience; moreover, as actual experience is sure to follow in any event, is it not wiser that the students be vaccinated against the actual disease through the study of literature, and be rendered more or less immune to susceptibility to folly or vice?

"Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

oO—oO

It must be admitted that there are certain students who would not gain moral strength from a study of some types of modern literature that might be studied in our American colleges at the present time; but it can also be declared that these students are ones who habitually interpret everything in a way that will allow them a wider stamping-ground on either side of the "straight and narrow path," and who would be no better off should the literature be avoided. Moreover, an intelligent and wise instructor of English can make this philosophical experience in the world's conditions of marked benefit to students who are willing to learn the truth and to devise means of correcting the social ills which it illuminates.

oO—oO

College students of today are not delicate flowers of youth that have to be shaded from the intensity of Truth's light nor the nipping frost of society's problems. On the contrary they are rugged but hungry plants that are crying out for the truth and its interpretations as they may gain the knowledge and wisdom of the Best and Right amid the confusion of modern thought and habit and declarations of new conceptions of Man's place in the cosmos of unfolding and changing life of the universe. Contemporary literature, properly directed and wisely studied, is coming to be a mighty factor in supplying the confused youth of the nation with this much-sought-for truth.

HIGH SCHOLARS CONTEST THIS WEEK

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS HERE FROM WHOLE STATE

Awards Will be Presented in Gymnasium Saturday Evening

The State Scholarship contest is to be held her next Friday and Saturday. Entries for the contest are being received every day. The subjects for competition are Algebra, Geometry, English, Literature, History and Civics, Current History, Latin I and II, Chemistry, Physics, General Science, Typewriting, and Shorthand.

There are fifty-five awards consisting of a silver cup for the winning school in scholarship, silver cup for the school winning in typewriting, silver cup for the school winning in Shorthand, several university scholarships, and gold, bronze and silver medals. The awards are on display in Hausman & McCall's.

Saturday evening at the gymnasium, the awards will be given to the winners. There will also be a program consisting of musical selections under the leadership of Mr. Joseph Adam, the playlet "The Stepmother" by the dramatic club. President Atkinson will talk on scholarship. Miss Mae Trumper, State Superintendent of Schools, will present the awards.

Two Assemblies Billed For Week

Dr. Parmelee Spoke This Morning; Dr. Charles Barker Will Address Students Tomorrow

Dr. Maurice Parmelee, writer and lecturer, spoke in Assembly this morning on "Development of Personality." Dr. Parmelee is a graduate of Yale and Columbia and has held professorships in Minnesota, Kansas, and Missouri. He has written a great deal along economic and sociological lines.

Dr. Charles Barker will lecture tomorrow at 10 a. m. at Assembly. He was physician to ex-President Taft for four years and is now lecturing on general health and moral problems. While here, he will speak to the high school at 11 a. m., to the Women's organizations at 3 p. m., and to the Kiwanians, Rotarians, and Chamber of Commerce at 6 p. m.

He devotes his time to lecturing under the direction of the Rotary Club and is visiting Anaconda, Lewistown, Butte, and Bozeman on this tour. He is a charming lecturer and has good humor. It will be worth your while to hear him.

There will be no Assembly on Friday.

MILITARY CLUB.

The military club of M. S. C. has twenty-three members, sixteen active, and seven honorary. They are petitioning Scabbard and Blade, a national. Today Le Rall is expected to arrive for inspection.

The military club at present is sponsoring the participants in Target Practice, and will present a medal to the one who has the best score.

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS ATTENTION

In accordance with the motion passed by the Associated Students in assembly previous to Campus Day all men who failed to report for duty, or who failed to remain on duty until the work was completed were tried by the senate committee.

The following men were found guilty of not having done their work or of not having reasonable excuse for being absent:

Charles B. Fisues.
Ray Esgar.
Babe Canning.
James Keenan.
Sam White.
Warren Andrew.

In accordance with the provisions of the motion, the names of the guilty men are being published. President Associated Students. TED COGSWELL.

MONTANAN GOES TO PRESS ON TIME

The largest and most expensive Montanan ever published goes to press. The editor, Mott Souders, and his assistant, Don Bennett, have gone to Billings to see that everything goes off all right, and there is no doubt but what the annual will be out on the date set, May 15, at the Montanan dance.

The finances have been figured up with the result that it is definite that there will be no deficit, a very desirable thing in an enterprise of this kind.

The annual this year will have a larger advertising section, more illustrations, and more color than last year's.

Its feature section is guaranteed to send the whole campus into spasms of laughter, being a product of all the most cultured and refined minds on the hill.

BAND VISITS STATE CAPITOL

Plays at High School, for Rotary Club, and Serenades Governor

The State College Regimental Band returned Wednesday morning from a trip to Helena where they put in a full day on Tuesday. The band was in Helena to put on a concert under the auspices of the Helena High School. Lou Howard was too energetic to let the whole day slide so proceeded to put on a complimentary concert for the Rotary Club Convention of which President Atkinson is District Governor.

From here the Bobcat Band went to the State Capitol where they enjoyed the enthusiasm of the governor and officials. The governor seemed very enthusiastic over the visit of the band and seemed interested in the organization.

During the day several street parades were held and to add to the excitement of the day the boys gave the people at the Placer Hotel a real treat. The concert at the high school lasted over a half an hour and was attended by approximately 1,500 enthusiastic students. So far the trip had been very successful and the concert dance held that night added further to the success.

The boys came home eager for another trip and assured of the fact that they might include Helena in their trip of next year.

WEYDEMAYER WINS ORATORY CONTEST

Will Represent Montana State at State Contest Soon

Mr. Winton Weydemeyer won first place in the preliminary Oratorical Contest which was held Saturday afternoon, April 18, in the assembly room of Main hall.

Other contestants were Miss Fanny Neyman, who won second place and will act as alternate, Mr. LeRoy Anderson, Mr. Edward J. Bell, and Miss Keturah Tibbles.

Mr. Weydemeyer, with his oration "Keeping the Light on the Mountains" will represent M. S. C. in the State Oratorical Contest which will take place in Helena, April 30. He will there compete with representatives from Mt. St. Charles and Inter-Mountain Union at Helena; School of Mines, Butte; State Normal, Dillon; Billings Polytechnic; and the State University at Missoula.

CORRECTION

Due to a mistake, the name of Albert Hanse was left off the honor roll as it appeared in last week's Exponent. Hanse should have been third on the list, with an "A" flush in 18 credits.

Harold "Hoppy" White is now employed with the Mountain States Telephone Company at Helena.

MUSIC CONCERT TOMORROW NITE

COMBINED MUSIC CLUBS GIVE PROGRAM AT CHURCH

Well Known Musicians Will Appear on Program at Presbyterian Church

What promises to be one of the most brilliant musical events of the year is awaiting college—and Bozeman—music lovers to tomorrow, Wednesday, at 8 p. m., at the Presbyterian church, at which place the combined musical organizations of the college will give a grand concert. The program will be opened by the college band with two numbers. A great variety of program numbers will enhance the interest. The Girls' Treble Cleff club will sing three numbers, and the College String-Quartet will make its initial bow before the public. Dick Smith, tenor, will sing two numbers, Mrs. Currier, accompanied by Mr. Adam at the piano, will play this year's contest-number of the violinists at the State Music contest of the high school students. Three numbers of the greatly enlarged College Orchestra will close the program.

As was the case at a similar, very successful concert last year, a small price of admission, thirty cents, will be charged. Tickets are for sale at all members of above-named organizations: the College Book-Store, Orton Brothers on Main street, and at the Presbyterian church on the evening of the concert. It is greatly hoped that the faculty, students, and public of Bozeman will patronize this concert in great numbers, as it is necessary to realize at least eighty dollars from this affair, in order to pay for the large musical section of this year's "Montanan." Prof. Adam promises that each one of the many program-numbers will be worth more than the price of admission.

MRS. J. R. PARKER DIED LAST WEEK

Was Prominent in College and City Activities; Death Followed Operation

The death of Mrs. Mae Phillips Parker, wife of J. R. Parker of the College Experiment Station, which occurred at midnight Thursday, April 16 after an operation was a shock to the community as well as to the family.

Mae Phillips was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Phillips and was born at Amherst, Mass., Nov. 15, 1886. After graduating from Mount Holyoke, she taught English in high school in Middlebury, Conn. In 1911, she was married to Prof. J. R. Parker and then came to Bozeman where they have since made their home. Mrs. Parker was a member of the Chi Omega fraternity, and a patroness of the local chapter. She was president of the Bozeman Pan Hellenic, and president of the Woman's club for two years. She has served as a member of the board of trustees of District Seven and was recently re-elected chairman of the board. As she was a member of the choir at the First Presbyterian church, she took part in the Easter Sunday services.

Mrs. Parker is survived by her husband and two children, John Phillips and Betty, one brother Robert Phillips, who lives in Oak Park, Ill., and two sisters Miss Helen Phillips and Miss Fannie Phillips, who live in Bozeman.

Funeral services were held at the First Presbyterian church, Saturday afternoon and interment was made in the Bozeman cemetery.

Y. W. C. A. METTING.

There will be a Y. W. C. A. cabinet meeting Tuesday night at 5:45 in the Y. W. rooms. All cabinet members please be present.

NOTICE.

Girls who expect to play in the tennis tournament, should sign up on the bulletin board in Main hall before Thursday, April 23.

SENIORS!

Glimpses Into Lives of Some Who Graduate

"I've kissed every girl on the campus but one—and I've got a date with her tonight." Famous last words of an extremely well-known fixture at this college. Of course, he said that before he fell in love, but now things are different altogether. Gee, school won't be the same when we don't see his shining face, with its week's growth of whiskers, reflecting the glory of the rising sun.

He's a big man, all right, both literally and figuratively speaking, but then he didn't get that way until he came to Bozeman where men are men. A track man, baseball star, gridiron hero, executive, and actor, long may his memory stay with us! How often have we heard his majestic voice booming forth as he announced that "a dance, for the benefit of the poor starving faculty, will be held in the gym immediately after this game. Admission, One Dollar." He is the man who inaugurated flea-hopping as the best way to build up a good understanding, the man who kisses all the sweet young things on their pale brows as a token of esteem and high favor.

Yes, and he wears riding boots, too. In fact, he's a major in the National Guard or Salvation Army or one of those downtown organizations. He is recognized, acknowledged, and prized as the biggest darn fool on earth. He's generous as the dickens, he'd even give you his right eye.

If you don't know, by now, who the subject of this discourse is, you had better consult Mr. Holst and take an intelligence test. Something's missing. I don't know how else to describe this five or six-year man, except that his favorite password is "M'Gawd."

In a short time we must bid farewell to him, and that farewell is going to be a heart-rending one to him, but in the years to come just how proud we will be to say that we, too, went to school with "The Grandfather of His Campus," George Finley.

PRESIDENT ATKINSON SPEAKS IN MISSOULA

President Atkinson left for Missoula on Sunday, to be present at the state conference of County Superintendents. At yesterday's session, he spoke on "A Philosophy and an Education." The conference will last until April 25, but the President expects to return to Bozeman in a day or two.

A ONE MINUTE EDITORIAL

A ruling passed by the Associated Students several years ago states that "there shall be no smoking on the steps of the buildings on the campus." For a while that rule was observed, but today it is entirely neglected. Each spring when the time for cleaning up the lawns comes, the largest portion of the collection secured from around the entrances to the buildings consists of cigarette butts, matches, and candy wrappers.

The students have the right of doing one of two things. Either stop smoking on the steps and littering up the adjoining real estate or repealing the rule. It's up to the men of the campus what they will do about the smoking!

President Atkinson has recently received word that Montana State College has been granted full national membership in the American Association of University Women and has been placed on the first list of this nation wide rating agency. This, in reality, is a greater achievement than at first appears because Montana State College is the third institution which grants only a B. S. degree to be accepted to full membership, Kansas State College and Oregon State College having been admitted last year. Of the 650 colleges in the United States admitting women, only 143 are on the A. A. U. W. list.

The Bozeman Alumnae Club of Montana State College had some correspondence concerning requirements for admission to A. A. U. W. a few years ago, but last year the first formal application was prepared and sent in by a committee appointed by President Atkinson and composed of Miss Gladys Branagan and Miss Frieda Bull. The first petition did not receive favorable action by the National Committee on Recognitions, due largely to lack of information concerning conditions at the college which can be obtained satisfactorily only by personal visits. The fact that Dean F. Louise Nardin of the University of Wisconsin, who is chairman of the American Association of University Women Committee on Recognition of Colleges and Dr. Aurelia H. Reinhardt, National president of the A. A. U. W. were secured by Dean Herrick as speakers at the 1924 Girls' Vocational Congress, provided an excellent opportunity for these important officials to secure first hand information concerning conditions for women on Montana State College campus. A second petition was prepared by the committee and sent in last fall. Mrs. M. J. Hutchins of Missoula, Director of the North Rocky Mountain Section of the A. A. U. W. has done much to hasten the admission of Montana State College through her attendance and work at the National Conventions and Directors' meetings.

Organized In 1892.

The American Association of University Women is the only nation wide organization of college women, having been organized in 1882 and having for its chief purpose the improvement of conditions for women, both students and faculty, in the educational institutions of the country. From its beginning it has stood for a broad cultural education for women as contrasted with courses which are highly specialized and technical.

Among its other standards are proper provision for the intellectual and social needs of women students and proper recognition of women in the student body, adequate provision of health service by the institution, a dean of women, adequate dormitory facilities, reasonable recognition of women on the faculty, providing that the women of the faculty should receive the same salaries as men of the same rank and have opportunities for promotion, and that women are always to be represented on the governing board of the institution.

The A. A. U. W. assumed its present form and name in 1921 as the result of the combination of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae and the Southern Association of College Women. At that time it joined the International Federation of University Women which organization is destined to help in the solution of some of our vexing international problems. Miss Jessie Donaldson of the Montana State College faculty, was a delegate to the last International Convention held in Christiana, Norway, last summer.

Organization Is Large

The A. A. U. W. has a membership of 20,531 with 249 local branches, one having been organized in Bozeman (Continued on Page Three)

MORE NATIONAL RECOGNITION

Montana State now has a chapter of the American Association of University Women, the third state college in the United States to be honored with membership in this organization. That means that all women who graduate from Montana State will have the privilege of becoming members of that association.

Again Montana State comes to the front and takes her place with the leading institutions of the country. Such recognition comes only as the result of work done, and the students and alumni of Montana State as well as its faculty must be congratulated on making a showing such that the A. A. U. W. will grant recognition to this institution.

SCIENCE AND EDUCATION

Tennessee has turned its back on the teachings of evolution as a result of a bill recently passed by the state legislature of that state and signed by the governor, Austin Peay. As Governor Peay remarks, "this bill is founded in the idea and belief that the very integrity of the bible in its statement of man's divine creation is denied by any theory that man descended or has ascended from any lower order of animals. That such theory is at utter variance with the Bible story of man's creation is incapable of successful contradiction."

You and I laugh at the utterance of this governor of a state in these progressive United States in this twentieth century of enlightenment taking such an attitude toward certain scientific teachings. One wonders if that same governor realized it was the searching for facts in a similar scientific manner that made it possible for him to read a Bible today, or even allowed him the pleasure of riding to his office every morning in his automobile, talking over a telephone or even having electric lights when the sun failed to shine 24 hours a day.

The line of cleavage between the age of philosophy and the age of science is very marked. Our advancement has been the result of this scientific age. The physical, chemical, and biological researches have been the factors in making that great change from the days of Plato and Socrates to the day of Steinmetz and Edison. Our medical sciences have lengthened man's life, and greatly enhanced his comforts.

But the legislatures of some of our southern states with William Jennings Bryan and their guide, are wanting to turn their backs on the work of scientists. They want to stricken portions of the biological sciences from the public schools, letting their future citizens grope in ignorance of fundamental facts simply because such facts apparently contradict certain sections of the Bible.

Yes, there are still a few who don't realize that they owe their lives to the benefactors they kick. But then Barnum was right.

WITH OTHER COLLEGE STUDENTS

The material presented in this column is taken from the college newspapers that maintain an exchange service with the Exponent.

STUDENTS DECRY ANTI-QUEENING MOVE

Claremont, Cal.—Students at Claremont College in California are wrought up because of the activity of Claremont's one-man police force in the vicinity of Indian Hill, choice Eden of Spooners at that institution.

The industriousness of the police force in keeping autos moving on the side roads of the neighborhood has given rise to a general feeling of indignation on the campus. His methods, they complain, would indicate that a reading of Emily Post's chapter on 'Reticence' When Addressing Strangers' would not be amiss.

BUY GARTERS, BOY, AND KEEP WARM

University of California.—"Buy a pair of garters, my boy, buy a pair of garters," is the bit of fatherly advice being given by members of the Infirmary staff to male students asking the why and wherefore of colds that seemingly can not be cured.

Since the garter became a social outcast and fashion decreed that socks should be worn draped carelessly around the tops of tan oxfords, the infirmary records show an enormous increase in the number of colds treated. The staff agrees that the practice of allowing the chill morning-air to circulate freely around exposed ankles is one of the principal causes. They are therefore including in all prescriptions an item that can better be secured at a haberdashery than a drug store.

FROWSY FACE CONTEST AT UNIVERSITY OF UTAH

The men at the University of Utah are holding a beard raising contest. Prizes are being offered for the most select facial coverings.

Eight prizes will be awarded which are as follows: Longest beard, $5, most unusual beard, $5 blackest beard, one shirt donated by the National Shirt Shop; reddest beard, the best necktie in the Day and Night Clothes shop; thickest beard, the same from Mullet-Kelly Co.; best Van Dyke beard, one pair of socks donated by the Long Life Shoe Co.; the whitest beard, one pair of socks donated by Cutler Bros. The wearer of the thinnest beard will be awarded one bottle of Gluco hair tonic.

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

The women of the University of Heidelberg have issued a declaration of independence. At a joint meeting of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. they demanded the right to choose their own dates, pay their own way to the movies, and to stay out as late as the men, with impunity.

"MEN ONLY" BENCH TO BE MADE FOR THE SENIORS

The men at the University of Arizona are evidently getting tired of giving their places to the women so they are having a bench made of concrete which will be occupied by senior men only. The under-graduates are awaiting eagerly the time when they can repose peacefully on the bench without the fear of feminine disturbance.

PHOTOGRAPHY COURSES OFFERED IN CALIFORNIA

University of California.—Class courses in photography which include instruction in lecture and laboratory work are being given by the Extension Division are being conducted under the direction of Ralph S. Brown of Berkeley.

University of Chicago.—At the University of Chicago fraternity parties may last until one instead of twelve o'clock, according to a recent ruling. The music however, must stop at twelve. And then what?

William and Mary College.—The first American college fraternity was organized in 1750 at William and Mary College, and was called the "Flat Hat Club."

University of Texas.—Students are not allowed to have cars of their own at school. A similar rule is in force at the University of Oklahoma.

University of Colorado.—Low grades brought by students are thought to be due to the large number of student marriages.

West Virginia Wesleyan.—Co-eds at West Virginia Wesleyan have a novel method in cheating on examinations. They write notes on their ankles before the exam period. In the hour of need the silk stocking is pulled tight and the writing on the ankle can be easily read. A professor discovered the method in use.

Oberlin, Ohio.—Professor Sims has taught in various colleges in the east, and spent five years at the University of Florida. He came to Oberlin from the Massachusetts Agricultural Institute located at Amherst.

PICK-UPS BY ELI

San Quentin.
A. D.

Dearest Soaks:—

You must be proud of your son. Think of the notoriety my new location is giving me. I must really tell you something about this place.

As you will notice from the address, the name is taken from some of the early Spanish settlers in this part of the country. In fact a lot of their descendants still inhabit the place. Most of them are Mexican aristocrats. For them this place is a haven for it protects them against defending their honor with stilettos.

San Quentin is most imposing. It is situated beautifully near the sea. High walls surround it. They are quite barren from the inside but the outside is covered with vines of various sorts. The rooms are not as large as those at the Ritz, nor as comfortable, but they allow one an immense amount of speculation.

The management takes a great interest in the guests. They never allow one to stray far, for danger lurks on the outside of the enclosed court. It seems as though there is a gang of professional sharpshooters who live in small rooms on top of the enclosing fence. There is a great element of risk in coming in contact with them. Also to protect the guest, all of the rooms have bars on them. Rumors are about that some of the guests have a habit of taking things to which they are not rightfully entitled.

Speaking of the boys here, they are a great gang. However, I do regret having to come in contact with them. For the most part these boys are specialists. A great many have a vast fund of knowledge concerning explosives. Strange that these gentlemen also are well versed in safe construction and all of them possess very sensitive fingers.

Others are shrewd financiers and are here taking a rest from their tedious duties in other people's offices. Some of the fellows are not so sophisticated as the first two groups are. For the most part they are either bloodthirsty and have deprived fellow individuals of all or part of their lives. These rather unintelligent fellows all live together in a certain row of rooms. They have an obsession for visiting a mysterious little room that contains a chair which provides electrical shocks. I think that this feature of the establishment is for those guests that have a weak heart. I read that shocks through the body restore a great deal of vitality to the valves.

The other group which I mention is composed of gentlemen—who, have made their fortunes in liquor. Why it seems that they are all very wealthy and do not hesitate to tell that they have amassed their fortunes in the last six or seven years. If I remember right, there did not seem to be such bounteous profits in intoxicating beverages when father dispensed same.

Do drop me a line when you get time. I have an idea that it will be from four to five years before I will again rest my little feet on the home hearth stones. This depends entirely on my conduct though.

Love to all (including Amelia, my pet cockroach in the pantry).

VARSITY BASEBALL SCHEDULE MIXED

University and Idaho Tech Games Cancelled; Lack of Funds

The Bobcats collegiate baseball schedule has been sadly upset due to the cancellation of the University games, and the withdrawal of other state teams from the series.

Lack of funds was the reason given for the university calling off the two games which were to be played at Missoula. Their games with us, being the last on their schedule, were the ones which suffered. In spite of the fact that these games were cancelled, Coach Romney still offered to bring the Bruin team here for the two game series with the Bobcats. His offer was rejected by the Missoula coach, as was also a similar offer of President Atkinson's by President Clapp of the University.

Idaho Tech, who was on our schedule, originally, has cancelled her games because of finances. The State Teachers at Dillon and the State Mines at Butte have decided not to put in teams, so that blasts the schedule some more. The only collegiate games we will have this year will be with Mount Saint Charles college at Helena. Two of these games will be played here May 8 and 9, while the two return games will be played in Helena May 29 and 30.

In spite of the fact that our collegiate schedule is shot, a stiff schedule has been arranged with other state teams, and letters will be awarded for the sport.

Charity Ball Big Success

Eighty Couples Attend Intersorority Charity Ball at Davis Hall

About eighty couples enjoyed the first intersorority ball at Davis hall Saturday night, making it both a social and financial success.

A girl's quartette, Misses Eva and Irene Davidson, Mae Waton, and Alice Joubert entertained the dancers with singing. Punch was served throughout the evening. It was a program dance and music was provided by MacPherson's orchestra.

The chaperones were Prof. and Mrs. W. D. Tallman, Mr. and Mrs. Waddell, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Beck.

The committee in charge of the affair feel that much of the credit for the success of the dance is due to Shorty Poor, who furnished the hall, lighted and heated, free of charge and besides gave the proceeds from the check room to the sororities. They wish to thank him as well as any others who helped put on the Ball.

The sororities feel well satisfied with their first Ball, but they hope to make the dance more of an event next year. It is their desire to make the event an established custom in the future.

The students have organized an athletic association for the purpose of receiving the necessary amount of exercise while attending school. They have been engaged in playing football since school commenced, and when the weather becomes bad they will be likely to start a gymnasium.

Sales and Caldwell are making great progress in surveying. They found the distance from the corner of the Experiment Station building to the top of Old Baldy to be a fraction over eight miles. The difference in level was somewhat over 3,000 feet.

Work on the new buildings is being rapidly pushed by the contractors, and if favorable weather continues a few weeks longer, the walls will be put up, leaving only the roofs and the inside work, which can easily be carried on during the winter.

The students have re-organized the Arena Debating society. The constitution and by-laws were revised and new officers elected. It was decided that the society will be more progressive if it had closed meetings on special occasions.

KRAMER BANQUETS LOOT SHOW CAST

Gives Dinner at Elks For Sixty Members Who Took Part in Show

Mr. Dave Kramer was host at dinner to about 60 members of the cast of "Stubborn Cinderella" at 6:15, Thursday evening, in Kramer's Banquet hall under the Elks.

During dinner Ted Cogswell, manager of this year's show, acted as toastmaster and announced that Arch Riley had been appointed manager for next year, and introduced Kenneth McIvor, who will be treasurer. Some of the songs from the show were sung and after dinner the tables were moved back and dancing was in order.

This is the first time that Mr. Kramer has extended his hospitality to the Looters, though he has always entertained the football and basketball teams at the close of the season. He has always been a loyal supporter of college activities and the Looters appreciated his generosity very much.

DUES!

Neill Is Still After the Juniors for Theirs

Out of a class of 120 all but 30 have paid their dues. This is indeed a good showing and it is encouraging, but there are about thirty members who have not paid. It is as much their duty to pay up as it was to those who have already paid. It is absolutely necessary that those in charge of the Prom know exactly how much they can depend upon having to pay for the expenses of the party.

Basing predictions upon Proms of past years it will cost the class approximately $150 to put on this year's Prom in a befitting manner.

The class can see how we stand when we are just about $30 or $40 short of doing the thing right.

Since the class as a whole wants every member to shoulder his share of the responsibility it will be necessary to publish the names of all delinquent members one week from today.

Realizing that some of the students are financially embarrassed, the class treasurer will accept post dated checks, providing they fall due by May 15.

Dues may be paid at the college treasurer's office.

KUMP IS FIRST IN CROSS COUNTRY

FRESHMAN FROM UTAH
MAKES GOOD RECORD

Records Show This To Be One of Best Races Yet
Staged

Friday at five o'clock 202 men of M. S. C. lined up in front of Main Hall to start the annual cross country run, a distance of 2.8 miles. The race was run in spite of a slow, drizzling rain, slushy course, and a cold wind that made nearly every man's teeth chatter as they were awaiting the signal to start them off. One hundred and eighty-six men or 92.07 per cent finished the race in the qualified time. Lon Kump of Salt Lake, a freshman, won in 16.11, a time remarkably fast in view of the conditions under which the race was run.

The first ten men to place were: Kump, Dobler, Adams, Hodgson, Wood, Sales, Torrence, Cogswell, Thayer, and Kerlee.

Confusion at the end of the run resulted when the runners fought their way to the tape in squads of from two to a dozen or more with their identifying numbers almost obliterated by the light rain they had faced over the course. Judges made every effort possible to keep up the string of incoming numbers, but many close finishes, with some men almost collapsing at the end, brought so much confusion that tabulation of points by classes and organizations was impossible. As a result no pennant will be awarded to the winning organization. However, Kump will be awarded a sweater with a letter.

President Alfred Atkinson fired the gun that started the large crowd of men lined up about 6 feet deep in front of Main Hall. Mud puddles were splashed dry by the scores of men who fought from the very first for advantage in place. The 202 men held in an almost solid group to the first turn on the west side of the college farm. Here some of the more experienced runners took their lead with every indication of a hard battle for a place. Bade, winner last year was in the lead up to the second turn, where he was forced out by an accident. Dobler, second man last year, set the pace from there to within a quarter mile of the finish, where Kump, who had been trailing him very close until the last quarter, sprinted for a spectacular victory. Adams, winner two years ago, took and held his third place throughout the last half of the run.

In spite of the cold and rain a big crowd waded through the mud to see both start and finish. The finish had moments of real comedy and near drama. Exhausted men would stage a bold fight for place at the finish, although at times they could hardly reach the tape without collapsing.

VARSITY BASEBALL STARTS FRIDAY

Play First Game of Season
Against Bozeman Hot Springs

Bobcat baseball starts in earnest Friday when Coach Romney's men tangle with the Bozeman Hot Springs team. This will be a twilight game, starting at 6 p. m. and will be played on the college diamond. The following afternoon at 3:00 the Blue and Gold team will engage the Livingston Railway team on the home field.

The games this week should be well worth the while of baseball enthusiasts, and they will give a lineup on the ability of the local boys. Three years without varsity baseball makes it hard to determine the exact strength of the college team.

The squad of twenty-five men is working every afternoon under the supervision of Coaches Romney and Dyche. Bunting, sliding to bases and general routine work comprise the work so far. A great many men are showing up well and the keen competition for berths on the regular team, indicates that a good team will evolve.

DEAN LINFIELD ATTENDS MEETING AT ST LOUIS

Dean Linfield left Friday for St. Louis, where he will attend a conference of experiment station directors concerning the Purnell bill.

The Purnell bill was passed recently by Congress and it gives each state $20,000 a year to be spent by experiment stations for investigations in marketing, rural sociology, and home economics. Each state must present a project to the government to gain this appropriation. The appropriation of $20,000 increases every year until it reaches $60,000; then it remains at $60,000 a year.

Dean Linfield will be back by April 25th.

Mr. M. L. Wilson of the Agricultural Extension department here, but who is serving with the United States government now, will reach Bozeman April 23 and will spend several days here.

The baseball game with Bozeman Hot Springs starts at 6 p. m. Friday.

BETA EPSILON WINS BASEBALL PENANT

Come Thru Intramural Season
With Clean Slate; Sigma Chi Second

Beta Epsilon fraternity, winner of last year's intramural baseball pennant, repeated this year and came through the season with a clean slate.

The superiority of the winners is evident from the fact that six of their men were picked for the varsity squad. Hartwig and Babcock, who presided on the mound during the series, will alternate with Glynn at that position on the varsity squad. Cranston, their catcher, is one of the two men trying out for varsity catcher while Stone, a heavy hitter, is showing up well in the field. Dyer at first and Winner at third bases are two more B. E. players who are out for varsity positions.

The series, which was rushed through to make way for varsity practice, was a good exhibition of baseball, and it brought to light some very good material.

The other teams finished in the following order: Sigma Chi second, Amigo Club and Omega Beta tied for third and fourth places, Independents fifth, Theta Nu sixth, Sigma Alpha Epsilon seventh, and Lambda Phi Eighth.

HOLD CROSS COUNTRY MEET WITH NORMAL

A cross country track meet with the Normal college will be held here next Saturday, April 25, on the regular cross country course. The men from M. S. C. who will take part in this track meet are the first ten of last week's cross country run. The awards given to the M. S. C. men who will place high is not definitely known as yet, but it is being considered by the athletic committee to give "M" sweaters to the first three men taking the first three places in the meet.

FROSH-GALLATIN TRACK TEAMS MEET

Contest Will Cover Two Days;
Peters Appears to Be Frosh Star

The Bobkittens mee' Gallatin High in a dual track and field meet on the new college field this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon if weather permits. The meet begins at 4:30 and the following events will be held: 440 yard dash, 50 yard dash and high hurdles, shot put, high jump, 220 yard dash, and 880 yard run.

Tomorrow afternoon the meet starts at the same hour and will be completed. The following events will take place: low hurdles, broad jump, discus throw, mile run, pole vault, 100 yard dash, and mile relay.

Just how strong the frosh track squad is, no one can tell, although Peters is undoubtedly the yearlings' best bet. He will be entered in the javelin, hurdles, 50, 100, and 220 yard dashes, and possibly some other events. Kump seems a sure winner for the distance runs, while the other Frosh track men of ability remain to be seen this week.

In the meet the officials will be: Referee and starter, Glisson; clerk of course, MacMillan; inspectors, Keyes and Mowery; timers, Gaines, Norris, Jahant; judges of finish, Conkling, Cogswell, Klemme; judges of turns, Livers, Wood, Cottam, Sales; judges of jump, Grant, Jensen, Murray; judges of weights, Yedlicka, Cooley, MacMahon.

VARSITY TRACK TRY OUTS HELD IN FROSH MEET

Special tryouts for varsity track prospects will be held in connection with the Frosh-Gallatin meet. Those who intend to try out for varsity track are invited to turn out and run against time in order that they, as well as the coach, may get a lineup on their ability. Letter men and those who have participated before should take advantage of this opportunity to check up on their time.

AROUND THE GYM

Our annual cross country run this year was one of the biggest of its kind in the country.

The varsity baseball squad has a liberal sprinkling of Frosh. Peters, Bowen, Matheson, Peterson and Cannon are the freshmen who were chosen to try out.

Present entries indicate that 2,500 athletes from 150 universities will compete in the 16th annual Drake University relay carnival April 24 and 25 at Des Moines. Several Olympic stars will feature special events.

Northwestern University will be the first in America to have a three decked concrete football stadium. The new stadium will be constructed before the 1926 football season, and will have a seating capacity of 74,600.

Coach Twitchell of the Brigham Young University at Provo has accepted the position as assistant coach at Colorado college.

The Utah Aggies cross country run, covering a distance of 2.6 miles, was run in 12 minutes, 42.4 seconds this year.

President Coolidge was recently presented with a life baseball pass, by John B. Heydler, president of the National League.

We are sorry that points were not counted in the cross-country run, but we can't feature those who wanted the race over again.

Track aspirants who wish to have a tryout running against time, will have that opportunity during the Frosh-Gallatin meet today and tomorrow.

Recent rains and the continued work of the big roller have packed the cinders fairly well on the new track. However, it will be some time before the track is in the best of condition.

No individual fobs will be given the winners of intramural baseball this year. The pennant will be awarded to the Beta Epsilon fraternity, which will also have its name engraved on the trophy cup.
