ANNOUNCE NEW SCHOLARSHIP FUND AT SPECIAL ASSEMBLY

UNITED STATES SENATOR T. J. WALSH IS DONOR. REPORTS ON SCHOLARSHIP AND N. S. F. A. MEETING GIVEN

A scholarship fund of $5,000 donated to the institution by Sen. T. J. Walsh of Helena was announced at the special assembly held last Friday morning. The proceeds are to be used as the faculty sees fit, but a desire to confine the benefits to the agriculture department was expressed by the donor.

In announcing the donation of the fund which was made last year, Mr. Linfield named Prof. Plew of the architecture department as the chairman of the faculty committee appointed by President Atkinson to handle the funds.

Reports on Scholarship
An increase of enrollment of students of eighty six over last year was announced by Mr. Linfield who also reported that the sophomore classification contained nearly three times as many delinquent students this year at the end of the quarter as last, twenty-seven passing in less than ten credits this year while only ten were so last year.

The junior and senior classification contained nearly the same percentage of probation students as last year and also the freshman similar to that of last year.

The change of the absence requirements such as leaves of absence was presented at the assembly. All undergraduates are required to secure a leave of absence when trips from the city are taken. These are to be secured from the Dean of Women and the Dean of Men. Sick leave is to be secured from Mrs. McCrea, college nurse. The sickness excuses are necessary for freshmen only.

Reports on N. S. F. A. Meeting
Henry Gardiner, president of the A. S. M. S. C. and delegate from Montana State college to the National Student Federation of America convention held at Lincoln, Nebraska, gave a report of the trip to the student body. The chief advantage of the convention was the exchange of ideas among the delegates in an effort to make student opinion more concrete and effective.

While the organization of the N. S. F. A. which was an outgrowth of a student meeting held at Princeton three years ago is not perfected, steps were taken to further strengthen the purpose of the federation by the circulation of a questionnaire concerning student affairs. The results of the questionnaire are to be made public upon their publication. The next convention of the organization is to be held at Columbus, Mo., under the auspices of the University of Missouri student body. In the meantime it is planned to establish a central office and employ a full time secretary, a need which many of the delegates stressed. The student bodies of practically every college and university in America belongs to the organization, it is said.

SENIOR ELECTRICALS ARE INTERVIEWED

Representative of General Electric Co., Selects Two Men Definitely

Mr. L. H. Means, annual representative of the student employment division of the General Electric Co. at Schenectady, New York, interviewed the senior electrical students here last week. Mr. Means offered definite employment to two of the seniors, Wayne Kobbe and Ernest Elge, but stated that he would have to wait for orders from the head office before offering any more positions. It is certain, however, that other positions, especially in the radio division, will be offered to others of the senior electricals as soon as their applications are gone over at the general office. Mr. Means also spoke of the probability of obtaining positions for two of the seniors who will not graduate until the end of the fall quarter next year.

The General Electric Co. at Schenectady, has taken quite a share of the graduates in the electrical department during the past years. At present there are about twenty of these men working for the company, of which approximately half are situated at Schenectady and the remainder scattered over various portions of the United States.

B. BROWN ELECTED FANG.

The Fang chapter of Intercollegiate Knights met last Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of electing new officers. The elected officials are: Duke, Bernard Brown; Scribe, Pat McElliot; treasurer, Frank Brown, and recording secretary, Francis Jones.

COLORADO GROUP PETITIONING SPURS

Local National Service Organization To Consider Petition At Next Meeting

Spur meeting was held on Thursday of last week at five o'clock in the Student Organization room in Herrick hall, having been postponed from the regular meeting time of Tuesday on account of Montanan pictures scheduled for that time.

The greater part of the hour was taken up with discussion of plans pertaining to Mortar Board Spurs "Ladies Choice" dance to be given in the college gym Saturday, January 21. Tickets were distributed and this week a thorough canvass will be made of all campus women in an organized ticket-selling campaign.

Colorado Petitioning
An extremely interesting petition from the Women's Booster Club of the University of Colorado was sent in to this meeting by National Expansion Chairman, Marcella Schneider. This club is petitioning membership in National Organization of Spurs. The petition will only be considered at the next regular session of the local chapter.

The need of a national charter has been felt for some time and since Montana State chapter is the founder of National Spurs it is thought fitting that they should draw up a form and have a plate made from which parchment copies may be struck for all chapters. Norma Beck was appointed to investigate details and gather material.

Tickets for the W. S. C. and Montana U. basketball games were given out following a system of rotation whereby seating positions in sections for the ushers are alternated each game. Only ten reserves were allotted the Spurs this year.

DRAMATICS CLASS TO PRESENT GREEK PLAY

Difficult Production To Be Attempted By Students

Probably the most unique and extraordinary dramatic event of the winter quarter and among the most difficult that has ever been presented at Montana State college will be "The Trojan Dames", one of Euripides' most famous tragedies, which will be staged by the class in play production under Beatrice Freeman Davis.

The last two years have seen a vast increase in both the amount and class of dramatic productions at M. S. C. and the staging of such a play as "The Trojan Dames" alone bespeaks volumes for the enthusiasm of the class in drama work.

"The Trojan Dames" is a tragedy enacted at the conclusion of the Trojan war and deals with the miseries and privations that are brought upon Hecuba, the wife of Priam (King of Troy), Andromeda, wife of the dead Hector, and the rest of the Trojan women who are made captives and slaves by the victorious Greeks. In short, it brings out the idea that women and the home are, after all, the chief sufferers in war time.

The Tormentors, local luminary exponents of the histrionic art have, as yet, not chosen their vehicle of production for the winter quarter but their faculty advisor, Mrs. Beatrice Freeman Davis says that the choice is now between "Hell Bent for Heaven", a modern three act play which has been an unusual success wherever played; "The Show-Off", George Kelly's spectacular play which has made phenomenal runs; and Arnold Bennett's "Milestones", a dreary but fetching play.

ELECTRICAL DEPARTMENT RECEIVES SPECIAL DONATION

The electrical department received a special donation this week from the Lock Insulator Company of Baltimore, Ohio, in the way of new and improved types of insulators. The donation consists of a dozen different types of new insulators and will prove exceedingly helpful to the electrical department, and especially to the students who desire to specialize in insulator work.

EURODELPHIANS

There will be a meeting of Eurodelphian Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the Pi Beta Phi house. Christine Stafford and Ruby Gill will each give a short discussion of modern music.

HEALTH REGULATION

Announcement was made at the assembly Friday morning that hereafter free smallpox vaccination will be given to all students as before, but refunds would be denied for bills pertaining to smallpox in students who have not been vaccinated. This proposition was recommended by the Health Committee, approved by the faculty and Chancellor, and will become a part of the health regulations.

This action was imperative for the refund on student bills was only 50 per cent for last quarter, the smallest for a long time, according to Dean Swingle, head of the health department. This was due in a large part to twelve cases of smallpox in unvaccinated students.

PLAN NOVEL FEATURES FOR SATURDAY DANCE

Special Decorations and Program To Make Leap Year Dance A Success

Plans for "Ladies' Choice", the leap year dance to be given at the gymnasium Saturday evening by Mortar Board, are practically complete, and something entirely new and different is promised to all who attend.

An entertainment committee, working under the direction of Ruby Gill, intends to present a program, the inspiration of Miss Vangel Russell of the Extension department, during the evening which will give the dancers some idea as to how leap year is observed in foreign countries. A novel plan of decoration, which is in itself a motif, has been conceived, and is being carried out by the Spurs under the supervision of Ruth Rutledge.

The Spurs report a good advance sale of tickets, and it is predicted that at least ninety per cent of the college women will be in attendance. Tickets will also be on sale at the door Saturday night. College men are said to be highly pleased with the idea of being "dated out" by the coeds.

3 M. S. C. FACULTY MEMBERS LISTED IN FAMOUS WHO'S WHO

Three members of the present faculty of Montana State college are mentioned in Who's Who, directory of prominent persons in the United States.

Dean Frederick Linfield is mentioned. He received his B. S. A. from Toronto U. in 1891. In 1902 he came to Montana as professor of agriculture and became dean of the department in 1913. He has been director of the Montana Agricultural experiment station since 1904. He is now acting president of the Montana State college.

Dean Hamilton received his B. S. from Union Christian College in 1887; M. S. in 1890, and in 1898 was a student of Harvard. He came to Missoula, Montana in 1889 and from 1889-1901 was Professor of History and Economics at the University. In 1904 he became president of the Montana State college. He is author of the Montana Civics, 1921. At present he is Dean of Men at the State college.

President Atkinson, now on a leave of absence from Montana State college received his B. S. in Agronomy from Iowa State college in 1904 (D. Sc. 1920). He received a M. S. at Cornell University in 1912. He came to Montana State in 1904 as Professor of Agronomy. He has been President since July 15, 1919.

NOTICE

There will be a joint get together meeting next Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the agricultural assembly of the Alpha Zeta fraternity, the Linfield Club, and the Ag Club. Jesse Helm will give a talk upon his recent trip as an Alpha Zeta delegate, to New Orleans.

NOTICE JUNIORS

There will be a meeting of the Junior Class in the Little Theater, Wednesday, January 18 at 4:30 p. m. Fred Chez, President.

PROMINENT MEN TO SPEAK HERE

List of Lecturers For Boys' Vocational Conference Includes 22

The Ninth Young Men's Vocational Congress which will be held at the college January 30th, 31st, February 1st, gives promise of being the biggest and best Congress held at Montana State college. Through the efforts of those in charge, this meeting of high school boys has in the past, held the record of being second to none in the United States. The advance announcement gives promise that this year the Congress is likely to surpass the accomplishments of previous years. The boys of Montana and adjoining districts in other states who attend this meeting, will hear some of the most prominent men in the United States.

The following twenty-two speakers have been secured, along with four others yet to be announced.

J. Adams Puffer of Boston, director of Vocational Guidance Bureau; A. H. Edgerton of Madison, Wisconsin, president of the National Society of Vocational Guidance; H. H. Sauer of Seattle, manager of the Bankers' Life Insurance Co.; W. F. Lasby, Dean of Dentistry, University of Minnesota; Robert P. Smith of Washington, D. C., chief of Neuro-Psychiatry Division; C. H. Kipp of Portland Chamber of Commerce; W. M. Proctor, professor of Vocational Guidance, Leland Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif.

H. D. Williams of Chicago, regional director of the Vocational Federation; Robert W. Gammon of Chicago, United States Secretary of Congregational Churches; Donald G. Patterson, professor of Psychology, University of Minnesota; Mrs. Victor H. Maistrum, of Tacoma, Wash., vice president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers; Edwin V. O'Hara of Eugene, Oregon, director of National Catholic Rural Life Bureau; C. B. Atzen of Omaha, Nebraska, National Chairman of Osteopathy; Prof. Neil E. Gordon, University of Maryland, College Park, Md.

Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern Railway; Rutledge Parker, State Forester; Peter Collins of New York City; C. H. Clapp, president of the State university; A. L. Stone, Dean of Journalism of the State University; Chancellor M. A. Brannon; President F. B. Linfield; Dean J. M. Hamilton, Professor W. M. Cobleigh.

The Vocational Congress idea came about as the result of an effort to give the boys in the less favored districts of the country an opportunity to hear and come in contact with leaders in different branches of industry, thus giving them some background in choosing a vocation. This year they will be given the opportunity of listening to prominent business and professional men, as well as some of the best authorities in the United States on Vocational Guidance work.

"Ladies' Choice"

A Fine Song To The Ears of the Men

Leap year, leap year, ladies' choice; College girls grab college boys. Dance them, feed them, take them home— Who says Love ain't one sweet poem?

Those words above form a poem of praise to 1928, the year of such auspicious opportunity to those who "wait and hope." The "Ladies' Choice" at the Gym Saturday night will undoubtedly bring to light the truth as to which girls prefer blondes. Freshman girls have a chance to find out whether their senior idol be more than a dignified air surrounded by a Blue and Gold blazer. Senior girls have a chance to probe the beauty secrets of those starchy-eyed, curly-lashed, rosy cheeked Frosh. Every woman should avail herself of the opportunity to find out that which she does not know.

It has been rumored that some of the girls are going to provide transportation and food. Thus 1928 may prove to be the golden year of revenge and opportunity for the male gender also.

Men, it will be according to Emily Post to keep your escort waiting while you finish shaving and dressing, and proper also to make her carry your handkerchief, compact, comb, lipstick, or what have you?

Four out of every five women have dates for the "leap year" dance, Saturday.

Girls—seventy-five cents may mean board and room for life—get your ticket now for "Ladies' Choice."

Ladies prefer blondes—but the rest of the co-eds will take athletes to the "Leap Year" dance.

A chance of a lifetime—in 1932 you may be all out of the idea—get a date for the "Leap Year" dance.

WOMEN ORGANIZE TUMBLING CLASS

Dorothy Garrett of Great Falls, Freshman, Is In Charge

The women's tumbling class under the direction of Dorothy Garrett started last Friday with fifteen members. The class is under the auspices of the Women's physical education department and is open to all who are interested in this type of work.

The program will include drills for developing balance and suppleness first. Later forward rolls, backward rolls, flips, animal walks, hand springs, head springs, and tricks.

The class meets in the locker room on Friday at five o'clock and Wednesday at four o'clock. Miss Garrett who is conducting the class is a graduate of Great Falls high school and is a freshman at Montana State college.

PRESENT PAPERS.

Prof. Nelson and Prof. Tretsvon of the dairy department of Montana State college were in Billings last week attending the Montana Association of Dairy Products Manufacturers where each presented a paper. Prof. Nelson gave a paper on "Standardization of Dairy Products" and Prof. Tretsvon on "The Dairy Program for Montana."

BOBCAT BASKETBALL TEAM DEFEATS UNIVERSITY 77-26

HUGE CROWD SEES MONTANA STATE GO ON SCORING SPREE AGAINST ANCIENT ENEMY

M. S. C. SWIMMERS GO TO BUTTE MEET

Nine or Ten Men To Be Picked For Tank Squad

M. S. C. Swimmers will have their first taste of intercollegiate swimming this year when they meet the Y. M. C. A. team at Butte, January 28. The Y is supposed to have some very good amateur swimmers and will offer some real opposition to the Bobcat team.

Coach Dyche plans to take nine or ten men with him to the meet, picking from the following: 160 yard relay—Rivines, Greiner, Lennon, Hoffman, and Coey (four men to be picked); 100 yard and 40 yard dashes—Heikkila; back stroke—Flannagan; breast stroke—Wilkie; dives—Lewis and Cook.

Coach Leaf last week stated that we have some good conference material this year and that Heikkila, Lewis, Wilkie and Flannagan should rank up with the best of them. This Butte meet should give valuable experience to the swimmers and keep their interest top-notch. The boys will make their debut in Butte with new M. S. C. swimming suits.

Coach Leaf and Bud Shields demonstrated again last Tuesday afternoon before a crowd of over 150 grade school pupils and a number of their fathers. They gave a number of interesting demonstrations of the various forms of swimming and diving, which was very pleasing and educational to the youngsters.

That evening the women's down town swimming class witnessed the Brigham Young men's performance. Leaf and Shields gave them an instructive course in life-saving with a few fancy tricks for diversion.

The feature of the evening was Shields breaking his record in the back-stroke. He swam the distance with the back-stroke against Heikkila who used the forward crawl stroke. Both Shields and Coach Leaf expressed themselves as well pleased with the tank facilities.

ELECTRIC STOP CLOCK USED IN GYMNASIUM

Device Constructed By Senior Mechanical Engineer For Thesis

The electric clock now used at the basketball games by the athletic department to record the time left to play is the thesis of two mechanical engineering students, Robert Sullivan and Walter Paulso. This is the second device for the athletic department resulting from work of seniors in engineering. The other, the electric scoreboard was constructed last year and used last fall for football games.

The stop clock is run by a split-phase induction motor through reducing gears to obtain the correct speed for the minute hand. During the game the motor runs continuously, a clutch arrangement taking care of time out periods. Four dials are in use, enabling the clock to be placed in the center of the gymnasium near the ceiling where it is now located.

PROF. HARRINGTON TO HEAD NATIONAL POTATO ASSOCIATION

Prof. F. M. Harrington, head of the horticulture department of Montana State college, is now president of the Potato Association of America. Prof. Harrington was vice-president of the organization last year.

The American Association of Potato Growers is an organization of both American and Canadian potato growers and scientific agents. Mr. Harrington recently attended the national convention held at Nashville, Tennessee, where he was chosen for the presiding office.

Prof. Harrington is sec-treas. of the Montana Potato Improvement Association and in speaking of the work said, "The Montana growers are planning a statewide marketing association and a meeting will be held at Great Falls in February where this important topic will be discussed."

Potato growing has recently been given a great impetus by the work of the Montana State college extension department and bids to become one of the state's most valuable farm products.

Dean F. B. Linfield and Dean J. M. Hamilton attended the meeting of the Board of Education in Helena last Tuesday.

Piling up the biggest score of the year against a college team, the Bobcats literally crushed the University quint here last night. The Grizzly team kept the Bobcats jumping throughout the game, but only to their disadvantage with the exception of the first five minutes when the score remained nearly even.

Thompson again proved the shining light of the Bobcat offense against the University by making exactly as many points alone as the entire opposite team. This same feat with a little margin was performed for the benefit of the Missoula fans last year. Ward hit the best stride yet developed by the big center, making 23 points and playing a good defensive game as well.

The Grizzly guards found themselves in for a tough night as the Bobcat offense broke into brilliant shooting and passing with unerring accuracy through the loop. The opening few minutes alone showed the Grizzly at his height. After that it was all Bobcat with Ward, Worden, and Worthington getting "hot" in the neighborhood of the basket with great frequency.

Second part of the first half found the Bobcats getting the tip-off continually and counting from any conceivable angle in the scoring zone. The half ended 39-16, an ordinarily good score.

The Bobcats opened the second half with characteristic speed, connecting with the loop no less than three times within the first minutes of play. A lapse of scoring by either side was broken by a follow-in shot from the hands of Worthington who seemed to be playing a great offensive game last night.

During the last few minutes of the fray, Romney rushed in both O. Ward and Sadler at forward and Gardner at guard. These men fully assumed the burden of offensive and kept the score rolling higher. Sadler, however, was unable to score, but played a fine game of ball nevertheless.

Chinske and Kain proved the leading lights of the Grizzly team with strong offensive abilities and good guarding. Kain dribbled and passed with a great degree of skill while Chinske broke for the basket consistently but was unable to push the ball much above the heads of the tall Breeden and Ward combination. Overturf, a Bobcat medal winner and regular Grizzly forward, was closely guarded but managed to get a couple of field goals during the game.

While the score indicated that Montana University was considerably weaker than the Bobcats, most of the fans expressed themselves very well pleased with their showing and predicted that they will be far from the bottom of the list in their own conference.

RIFLE TEAM HOLDS MATCH THIS SEASON

Fifteen Men Take Part in Contest With Virginia Institution

The results of the rifle match held with the rifle club of V. P. I. of Blacksburg, Virginia, are now being tabulated and compared with the reports from the Virginia school. The fifteen men who took part in the match for Montana State included: W. E. Armstrong, R. C. Harrison, J. A. Spence, H. E. Thompson, L. Sutherland, J. Nevins, R. Gjullin, M. Lynch, J. G. Nye, H. York, R. H. Crumley, W. Harrity, R. F. Erb, M. C. Parker, and L. Rosetta. This will be the first opportunity for the R. O. T. C. students to compare their marksmanship with other schools.

The next match will be fired with the National Guard for the trophy which is to become the property of the winning team. The week of January 28 will see the completion of this match it is hoped. The list of contestants has not been prepared at yet.

Y. W. C. A. STUNT NIGHT COMMITTEE CAMPAIGNS

Advertising matter for the Y. W. C. A. stunt night program to be given in the Emerson auditorium Saturday, February 25, has already been prepared by the committee in charge. Placards have been placed in store windows down town and other forms of advertising are scheduled to appear within a short time. Meanwhile various organizations have signified their intention of taking part in the program and in some instances have started rehearsals. All of the organizations are requested to take part in the program in an effort to make the event worthwhile.

OVER AND UNDER ORGANIZED

We are both at Montana State college. There are numbers of organizations on the Hill which meet once a month or less often to hear the secretary's report, take roll and then hear the announcement of the next meeting when "the regular business will be transacted" which will include the election of either new members or new officers, if the organization is lucky—if not—nothing.

One organization on the Hill is now planning to "clean house." Others should do the same. A definite program or no program and surrender of the charter might clear up some crowded meeting periods, if nothing else.

No particular organization is singled out and charge with a dirty backyard, or lack of definite program, as you choose. The right to organize and to engage in activity collectively is not challenged, but to let an organization die for lack of purpose is a reflection on the school and on the group.

Let's accept our purposes and aims as set forth in the constitution of our organization or let's withdraw membership. With so many organizations a vigorous life is difficult and new ones with firm purposes will not attempt establishment of chapters. A house cleaning is in order.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

For the most part interfraternity basketball is started very satisfactorily, but there is one phase of the play that needs a little thought and consideration if the games are to continue. Most of the groups have entered the games with a good sportsmanship attitude, but a few have allowed the old personal and fraternity prejudices to enter into their competition. The result, if this attitude continues to predominate games, will be to have inter-fraternity games discontinued and the original purpose, "Athletics for everyone," will be defeated. Our institution is not so large that we can afford to have much animosity between the various groups, and there certainly is no place for it in institutional athletic competition.—W. J. Wood.

STUDENTS ASSUME FULL RESPONSIBILITIES

Criticise Faculties and Administrations Freely. Papers Lead

New York, (by New Student Service)—Football having passed off the boards, curricular reform is again engaging student attention in several colleges. The undergraduate reformers have taken fair notice of the criticisms overflowing current periodicals, and have adopted a vigorous style in attacking their campus problems.

The University of Washington Daily, after publishing a series of student criticisms of the university and its work, has summarized by blaming the faculty "for the lack of intellectual stimulus and study encouragement prevalent on the campus." The main draw-back it conceives as "the appalling over-emphasis on activities for activity's sake, that insistence on activities at Washington which results in the average collegian striving to be an activity hound from freshman days to the end of college." The faculty is blamed for having failed to eliminate superfluous activities, and the Daily presents the problem as one for the teachers to solve.

President C. D. Gray of Bates College has appointed a student committee of twelve to examine the curriculum, and suggest modifications and changes. These students will carry on the work begun by a senior committee last year. Three other groups are working on the same problem, one composed of teachers, another of alumni, and a third, serving as advisory, of outsiders.

Students in the College for Women at Western Reserve University have selected representatives to serve as their agents in presenting to the faculty complaints against the curriculum. They are members of the student council, who will work in conjunction with a faculty committee, to whom they will make recommendations after passing on student complaints.

The undergraduate curriculum committee at Haverford college is drafting its annual report to the faculty. Its scope is wide, and its suggestions will deal not only with the curriculum proper, but also with the conduct of library lighting conditions, and prompt dismissal of classes.

The main points in an undergraduate report just presented to the faculty at The College of the City of New York propose revision of certain prescribed courses in order to permit greater freedom in the choice of electives, and the institution of honors courses. In developing these points the student investigators became critical of some of the existing courses, for instance labeling a quantitative analysis course in chemistry a "cook-book course."

DOESN'T YOUR HOUSE NEED SOMETHING?

Hail! all ye geniuses. The signs are right. The heavens are favorable. Now is the time! Recognition and fame, applause and renown are within your grasp. Arise to the call of opportunity (and the knocks will be not one but many). The occasion has arrived when you may elevate yourself in the eyes of your comrades and schoolmates, and even—oh!—even in the opinion of your fraternity brethren and sisters. You must not fail to answer this insistent call, for much is at stake. Here is the chance to increase the material value, the wealth and property of your fraternity—all by the fertile invention of your brain (?) Bestir yourselves, for the time is flying. Prepare and be ready with the best you can offer on February 25—Y. W. C. A. Stunt Night.

ELEVEN MEN ARE APPOINTED FOR COLLEGE SURVEY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17—Eleven educational specialists have been appointed to aid in the survey of the land grant colleges being conducted by the bureau of education.

In addition to the announcement that Dr. Frederick B. Munford, dean of the department of agriculture at the University of Missouri, Columbia, had been appointed to the special advisory committee of ten created in November, the bureau made public the names of the specialists.

They are Dr. Andrew A. Potter, of Purdue University; Dr. Cornelius Betten and A. W. Gibson, both of Cornell University; Miss Nina B. Ceigler of the University of Arizona; H. C. Ramsower and Carl E. Steed, both of Ohio State University; Charles H. Brown and Robert E. Buchanan, both of Iowa State University; John W. Thomas, of Rutgers University; James T. Jardine of Oregon Agricultural college; and D. W. Springer, secretary of the association of governing boards of state universities of Washington

SPLASH!

Not Today

H-2-0—The wet of the world and chief aid of the chemist. There has been more than was needed on the campus in the last few days of last week. In fact it was the wettest week, the old timers remember for a long time, that is when it has not been raining. Of course no one objects to the water just so long as it remains wet but when it becomes ice, that is a different matter. Then too, there is that mud for which this fair city is noted. How many times have poor unfortunate victims suddenly without warning collided with the walk, or fallen down the steps much to the amusement of everyone. Or again, how often has this same victim enjoyed seeing others in the same predicament. Fortunately there is no mud on the sidewalks, but then there is the fellows who will in passing a group of young ladies splash it in hopes that a tongue may slip in profanity. Something ought to be done about it. But then the snow will help matters out until it thaws again.

MORE DIRTY DIGS FROM PLATO

Plato was telling the assembly at Athens about America's athletics: "At M. S. C. they all wore blue sweaters with gold letters as a mark of recognition and honor. It is such a cold climate that a wreath of bay leaves would be too insufficient. In fact they wear so many clothes one would think they are ashamed of their legs."

(Here several Greeks stretched out their bare limbs for inspection.) They go about freely with the women. The latter are all crazy about athletes. That's why they go to the schools. (The crowd called for water.)

The popularity of those possessed of some strange power called "It" is such that like the sailor of the song "they have a lass in every port". Sometimes a half dozen wherever they go. A proud distinction.

I recall that one time they had a festival called a Leap Year dance to which the women could invite a man. The coach heard about it, took his team and left town."

(Plato ceased here and called in some physicians to revive the crowd.)

LIKEWISE THE MEN

The room was just right
Quite comfortable really.
The light wasn't too bright
She looked very lovely
As she sat there waiting.
Softly her bosom rose and fell
Her eyes were closed
In dreamy contemplation
Rose tinted imagination
A gentle sight
Expectation chased away the dreams
Ah! there was the bell—
And class was over.

MONTANA STATE BASKETBALL TEAM WINS TWO FROM W. S. C.

WIN EASILY FROM TEAM THAT TWICE DEFEATED CHAMPIONSHIP QUINT OF LAST YEAR

The Bobcats kept their breath-taking race in the Pacific Coast basketball circles by defeating the Washington State college Cougar quint here last week, two straight. The score of the first game was 58-31 and of the second 57-42.

The Cougars were the third team in the northern division of the Pacific coast conference to taste defeat at the hands of the Montana State hoopers this season. Idaho and Oregon state, presenting strong and representative teams, were the other two to go under.

Bobcats Take Lead

The Bobcats entered the first game of the series in full force and with expectations of meeting a team likely to do anything, reports having it that their opponents were temperamental in their playing. An early lead, however, allowed Romney to put in some unseasoned men who kept the Bobcats safely in front.

Orland Ward tossed four field goals in the short time that he was in the first half. Breeden, captain and veteran guard, counted twice from the field with as many attempts. The half ended 32-12.

Washington Converts Short Ones

Washington State came back in the second half with an attempted barrage of short shots, but the Bobcat guards managed to keep them safely out of the scoring zone for a majority of their tries. Most of the short attempts were successful, however. Reserves used in the game showed a wonderful advantage, proving that the Bobcats' greatest weakness of last year had been well taken care of this season, at least. Two or three even four of the men who usually started the games were jerked from the play and substitute men used without perceptibly weakening the team.

Play Without Breeden.

A rested and fighting Cougar team took the floor the second night against the Bobcats, who played without Breeden, scoring first and then keeping within range of the rapidly changing score until the final minutes of the game when Thompson cut loose with some phenomenal shooting. The blonde Bobcat forward connected with the basket just fourteen times from the field and once from the foul line, a total of 29 points for one evening.

With but three minutes to play in the first half, Rohwer, McDowell and Mackley of Washington State tied up the score with pretty field goals, only to relinquish the lead to the Bobcats on Thompson's single handed scoring spree of three field goals in rapid succession.

McDowell Shows for W. S. C.

Washington took the game into their own hands temporarily in the second half, crawling up to within striking distance of the Bobcats and then taking a three point lead. It was here that Montana's sensational offense went into action, scoring 20 points in the final ten minutes and at the same time holding their opponents to one lone goal.

McDowell scored consistently for the Cougars although playing at guard. He made five field goals and nine foul shots in the second game. Throughout the series he played fine, consistent basketball.

COACH POTTER OF D. U. PICKS MONTANA STATE AND C. C. AS WINNERS

Utah Agricultural College, Logan, Utah, Jan. 14.—Montana State college stands out alone as the strongest team in the Western conference, according to a statement made here Saturday by Coach Potter of Denver University.

The fight for supremacy of the Western division will not be so strongly contested as in the Eastern division, due to the variation in the strength of the teams. Utah university at present looks like the most dangerous opponent of Montana State and will no doubt furnish plenty of competition for the Bobcats, is the opinion of Coach Potter.

"The Eastern division will stage a much closer battle, as all of the teams competing are very evenly matched," Coach Potter stated that he believed Colorado College to be the general favorite, as they have most of their letter men back on the squad. This is Potter's second year as coach of Denver University basketball team. He is also freshman football coach, and a student in the medical college as well. Prior to taking the position as coach at the University, Coach Potter was in charge of athletics at Glenwood Springs high school, where he developed several very successful teams.

In commenting upon the game between Western and Denver University, which was played here Friday night, Coach Potter stated that in his opinion Western has a team that, when they are hitting baskets, will cause trouble for any school in the conference.

INTRAMURAL SERIES STARTED LAST WEEK

Eleven Games Played by Teams in A and B Division

The first week of intramural basketball has been completed with the playing of eleven games, six of the A division and six of the B division. Owing to the wording of the rules which allowed players to participate in one A game and still be eligible for B competition, the same players participated in both divisions last week.

There has been one revision made in the percentage rating of team standings judging the final winners. Because popular opinion did not favor the method of giving the A teams three-fifths and the B teams two-fifths of their standing for the group rating, it has been agreed to use one-half of the rating of each division to determine the group standing.

The intramural managers report that all teams have been reporting for the scheduled games on time and that the series has started very satisfactorily. The results of last week's games are:

A Division

B. E. (15) vs. D. T. (14).
A. G. R. (14) vs. O. B. (44).
K. Sig. (15) vs. Amigo (34).
L. P. (8) vs. Ind. (17).
S. A. E. (14) vs. Sig. Chi (31).

B Division

D. T. (16) vs. A. G. R. (14).
B. E. (17) vs. Fac. (8).
S. Chi (26) vs. S. A. E. (27).
K. Sig. (15) vs. L. P. (14).
O. B. (15) vs. Amigo (16).
Ind. (23) vs. D. T. (16).

UTAH BASKETBALL CAPTAIN DECLARED INELIGIBLE TO PLAY

University of Utah, Salt Lake City, Jan. 9. Ralph Goodwin, captain of the 1928 hoop squad has been declared ineligible by the scholarship board, and for the rest of this season he will watch the game from the side lines. From the report of the committee on scholarship Goodwin failed to pass the required number of hours for the conference's ruling in regards to scholastic work to be eligible for athletic competition on varsity teams. The fact that Goodwin will be missed by Coach Vadal Peterson need not be mentioned. The big job for Peterson now is to find a man to replace the vacancy left by GoGodwin who has had two years of varsity experience.

The Vico Oil team in the Commercial league has signed Goodwin up, and he will no doubt play the rest of the season with this team in order to keep up with the game.

Pete Couch has been appointed temporary captain of the team and he will serve in that capacity for the time that the team is on their trip in Wyoming and Colorado.

BOBCATS LEAVE ON UTAH TRIP

Meet B. Y. U. at Provo January 20 and 21; Play "U" January 23

Tuesday afternoon the Bobcat basketball squad will leave for Utah to play their first conference games of the season. They will stop in Dillon to play one game against the State Normal college the evening of January 18.

They will then go to Provo, Utah, for two games, Jan. 20 and 21, vs. B. Y. U. These will be the first conference games for both teams and will be watched with much interest by all conference contenders. B. Y. U. is reported as having a much stronger team than last year and have high hopes of making a good showing in conference circles. Their early season performance has not been any too good, but like many other teams they may be slow in hitting their stride and on their home floor will no doubt give the championship winners of last season some stiff competition.

Play U. on Return

The Bobcats are looking better all the time and have had considerable pre-conference season experience in which to strengthen up a few weak spots that were apparent in their first games. With a wealth of reserve material and last year's men showing an improved form, many critics of the team look upon this year's aggregation as stronger than last. On the other hand conference competition is going to be stronger than it was last year and it is going to be harder for the Bobcats to retain their championship title than it was to win it last year. Judging from the comparative scores of B. Y. U. and the Bobcats in their games against Oregon Aggies, the Bobcats should have an edge on the coming games.

On their return from Utah, the Bobcats will stop in Missoula for a return game with the State University Jan. 23. The following night they will meet the Butte Y. M. C. A. in Butte. They will then return home for a short rest before their games with Utah Aggies here Jan. 30 and 31. These two games will no doubt be the two hardest games the Bobcats will have this season.

The Utah Aggie basketball squad was picked just last week. Martindale, regular guard, has not reported as yet and is not expected to this late.

WOMAN'S ATHLETICS

Basketball

Girls' basketball practices will be Tuesday and Thursday at five o'clock until further notice. About thirty-five girls are out for basketball at present.

Rifle

The members of the rifle team are asked to keep up their practice in order to be prepared for the Rifle Meet which will be held early in March.

Swimming

Anyone interested in winning a Blue and Gold swimming suit should begin working on points now. Upper class girls may practice in any class period.

ADDRESSES MINN. STUDENTS

Mr. A. J. Ogaard, present extension agronomist of Montana State college, left last week for Minneapolis where he will deliver an address to the Wholesale Seed Dealers' association and also the University of Minnesota short course students on the subject of crop improvement. Mr. Ogaard will be connected with the Wholesale Seed Dealers' association after April 1.

SWEATERS AWARDED TO FOOTBALL MEN

Varsity and Kittens Receive Insignia At Game Last Night

The members of the Bobcat football team were presented with their "M" sweaters between halves of the Bobcat-Grizzly game last night.

Of the seventeen men who played enough games to earn their Varsity letter only thirteen received them because of certain scholastic rulings which state that a man must be passing in ten credits of work to be eligible for a letter.

The following men were given their sweaters last night: Captain Babcock, Wilson, Ario, Vogt, Breeden, Chez, Dobeus, Ball, Gardner, Semingsen, Wellington, Cashmore and Hurd. The men who earned their letters but failed to get them because of grades were: Richards, Preston, Eikrem, Olson and Manager Ferkin.

At the same time last night football numerals were given out to a large squad of yearlings. The Frosh team of 1928 was perhaps the best that Montana State college has ever turned out. Although they had a hard schedule they came through 100 per cent, winning six straight victories.

Of the 37 men eligible to receive Frosh letters 35 have returned to school for the winter quarter. This is an unusually large percentage for in many schools quite a number of Frosh football men drop out as soon as the football season is over.

The Varsity squad of next year will have some good material to pick from in the following men who received their Frosh sweaters last night: H. Anderson, E. Anderson, Bilant, Bohart, Bruner, Coday, Crossen, Cunningham, Cullen, DeFrate, Freeze, Harter, Hawkins, Howell, M. Johnson, G. Johnson, Kleffman, Lanaham, Lucke, Leland, Martin, Millis, O'Leary, Popham, Skinner, Stannich, Wagner, West, Wheat, Winner, Worden, Worthington, F. Bohart, and Manager Bugs Howard. Viertel will receive a numeral when his grades permit while Barnett and Rovriet both earned one but left school.

NOTICE! MEN

Girls, even if you lose you win. You can't fail—absolutely never. This is the one cinch—Leap Year—if your proposal is refused, the—ah—dissenting party must give you a silk dress for consolation. Let's go for bigger and better wardrobes.

WHERE DOES THE PROFESSOR'S PET JOKES RANK?

Fat men, mother-in-laws, and spinsters are not so funny as most people suppose. So says Professor John C. Almack of Stanford university. He declares that after a six-year period of joke classification he finds these subjects do not figure so prominently as believed. Only four of the jokes are about fat men, two about mother-in-laws, and two about old maids.

Scientifically tracing American humor to its den of reality, Professor Almack says that prohibition, politics, women and congress get most laughs from the layman.

Democrats are not quite so funny as Republicans; congress four times funnier than the League of Nations; babies and back drivers place well in drawing the available supply of modern guffaw.

The most frequent topics for quips are Coolidge, Mussolini, Dawes, and the Prince of Wales. Some others that rate well are Queen Marie, Al Smith, Big Bill Thompson, and King Tut.

College humor is "not so hot," according to his finding. He characterizes it as "very sad stuff." Several thousand college jokes are the familiar pun, while others are jibes about drinking, modern engagements, flappers, and other topics of interest.

Through all this surveying and calculating, Professor Almack hopes to be able to judge a joke instantly and thus know when to laugh and how hard. He believes it will save him many embarrassing situations. His experiments indicate that women are not quite so funny as men try to be, but he asserts that married women do have a keener sense of appreciation than do their husbands.

SORORITIES PLACE BAN ON GRADE REQUIREMENTS

New York (By New Student Service)—Deciding that sororities are social and not scholastic organizations, the inter-sorority council of New York State College for Teachers has abolished all scholarship requirements heretofore requisite to election. Beginning immediately, any girl may be elected regardless of her scholarship average. This change in rules has the support of President A. R. Brubacher, who thinks "the main purpose of sororities is to provide the best housing conditions and the best possible social life." Scholarship is not expected to suffer, according to the council president. On the contrary, she believes it is one of the duties of the living organizations to try to bolster poor scholarship among its members after election. The university president thinks that the whole-home life of the sorority may do much to rehabilitate the scholarship of persons who have heretofore been outside the pale. Scholarship requirements have long been the chief bugaboos that haunt the college fraternities.

No group pictures will be taken this week, the editors of the Montanan announce. Only individual photographs for organizations have been scheduled.

PATIENTLY WAITING

The masculine element of the campus has been subordinated. Leap year has descended upon them and they are helpless. Woman has come to her own, she can choose her own escort to the dance. Consider the effects upon the man. By this he knows that he is the chosen one. He paces restlessly before the telephone. Will she call him up and ask him to go? He has his doubts but he also has his hopes. The telephone rings and he jumps to answer it. Wrong number. He tries to compose himself with a magazine, but it is unsuccessful. He tries to study, but it is useless. Again the phone rings but it is not for him. So the evening passes away, perhaps several evenings. His fellows are having much the same trouble. But every once in a while a fortune smiles upon one, and then there is no living with him.

So it goes, and the hour comes closer and closer. He has just about decided to give up that girl, treating him in such an indifferent manner. In fact he announces the fact to all his friends. They sympathize with him, and tell him that his course is the right one. And then one evening the lady friend does really call him up. He does not know just what to say, but when he leaves the phone it is all arranged. He struts about much to the disgust of his companions who are not so fortunate. In extreme cases he even stands before the glass admiring himself. Some sheik, all the women fall for him. He feels sorry for the poor chump who won't be able to go.

MEN TO FLY COLORS OF SORORITIES AT RACK MEET

Los Angeles, January 14.—Demonstrating that the days of chivalry are not past each fraternity to participate in the annual inter-fraternity track meet, scheduled for January 20 in Los Angeles coliseum, will fly the colors of a Trojan sorority.

And the co-eds will turn out en masse to give a lusty yell for the "House" flying their colors.

Dean Cromwell, head track coach at Southern California, is deeply interested in the house meet with the hopes that it may uncover track and field material which may be of use to his varsity track team now in the making.
