Extension Workers End Annual Conference Here

County Agents and Home Demonstration Agents Bring Four Day Meeting to Close. Noted Speakers on Program. Plans for Carrying on Work for the Following Year. Ancient and Abhorrible Order of Buffalo Banquet

The Fourteenth Annual Conference of the Montana Extension Service that was held at Montana State College January 30 to February 2, closed last Saturday night after four days of meetings, conferences, lectures and banquets. During the conference, the attending County Agents and Home Demonstration Agents learned of many of the newer projects and results carried on by the United States Department of Agriculture and the Montana Experiment Stations, heard many speeches, and laid many plans which they will carry out for the following year.

One of the chief speakers on the program was A. B. Graham of Washington, D. C., who gave talks on the following subjects: How to Teach More People, Reason and Suggestion Applied to Extension Teaching, Demonstrations, and Meetings and Hours.

Thursday evening the County Agents Association held their annual meeting at Gilkersons banquet hall. R. E. Bodley was elected president for the coming year and R. B. McKee vice president and C. R. Mountjoy, secretary-treasurer. The following directors were also elected: Ray (Scotty) Cameron, director of the central district; H. L. Lantz, director of northwestern district; R. B. Mercer, director of the eastern district, and Frank Kerschisnik, director of the western district. J. C. Taylor, director of the Montana Extension Service, Mr. Bennion, county agent leader; Mr. Bodley, newly elected president of the association, and John Dexter, publicity editor of Montana State College were the principal speakers of the evening.

Friday evening the local resident members of the Extension Staff entertained the visiting county agents and the Home Demonstration Agents at a banquet at the Gilkerson banquet hall.

Saturday evening the annual meeting of the Ancient and Abhorrible Order of the Buffalo, the fun association of all persons engaged in Extension work was held. At that time elections were held and the poor pledges initiated with great pomp and ceremony amidst the cries of the Chief Bellow and his Followers.

Monday night the annual meeting and banquet of Epsilon Sigma Phi was held at Gilkersons Cafeteria. The eligibility requirement for the organization is ten years of active service in the Extension department. This is a national Fraternity and the members now number about seven hundred at the land grant colleges in the United States. This week of February 4 to 9 is the 25 anniversary of the association. The Texas Chapter is to be installed this week and will be one of the first of the southern states to obtain a chapter. It is also believed that this coming chapter will be one of the largest in the United States. M. L. Wilson, farm economics specialist, is the president of the local chapter of Epsilon Sigma Phi, and C. H. Peterson is secretary-treasurer. There are 12 active members. Edith Sloan, M. P. Ostby, and H. F. DePue were pledged this year.

The following are the names of the resident staff and other County Agents and Home Demonstration Agents that were present at the Conference this year:

J. C. Taylor, director; Fred Bennion, county agent leader; Blanche L. Lee, state home demonstration leader; C. E. Potter, state club leader; E. A. Starch, farm management demonstrator; Harriette E. Cushman, poultry specialist; John Dexter, acting editor publicity director; Edith A. Sloan, home management specialist; Jessie M. McQueen, nutrition specialist; Edith J. Mott, clothing specialist; E. E. Issac, horticulturist specialist; W. Bruce Mabee, entomology specialist; L. D. Kurtz, agronomy specialist; M. Vangel Russell, assistant state club leader; J. O. Tretsen, dairy specialist; D. E. Richards, livestock specialist; M. L. Wilson, farm economics specialist; Louis True, assistant publicity department.

School Boys Judge Stock

Twenty-Four Smith-Hughes High Schools Represented In Contest Here

Twenty-four Smith-Hughes schools of Montana participated in the annual stock-judging contest which was held at Montana State College February fourth and fifth. The schools taking part in the stockjudging contest which is held each year to measure the progress that Smith-Hughes work has made throughout the state and to give the boys who make up the teams, actual practice in judging represented every section of the state.

Three men teams from Belt, Big Sandy, Big Timber, Bozeman, Brownings, Cascade, Chinook, Choteau, Deer Lodge, Dillon, Glaskow, Harlowton, Kalispell, Lewistown, Livingston, Manhattan, Miles City, Moccasin, Missoula, Polson, Red Lodge, Ryegate, Simms, Valier, and Whitehall took part in the contest which was held Monday and Tuesday of this week. The contest consisted of judging five classes of livestock: two classes of dairy cattle, one class of beef cattle, one of hogs, and one of sheep. The judging was held at the College Livestock pavilion under the direction of L. McDonald, the Smith-Hughes instructor at the Gallatin County high school.

The winners of this judging contest from the districts served by the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific, the Great Northern, and the Northern Pacific railroads will be sent to the Pacific International livestock show which will be held in (Continued on Page Four)

WOMEN WILL HAVE DEBATE

Co-ed Contest Between State U and M. S. C. Arranged by Coaches

Coach Lindsey of the State University and Coach W. C. Stone of the State College have agreed to hold a debate for women of both institutions. A duel debate will be arranged if enough women from both institutions desire to participate. A single debate will be held if only a few women come out and show their ability to do things. The single debate will take place at Missoula. It is hoped that a great number of women show some interest in debating as it will aid in the establishment of a speaking interest among the women in both institutions.

Oratorical Contest for Women There has been considerable enthusiasm shown among women in the establishment of an Oratorical Contest for women. This contest will be open to all women of the college, except those who have participated in Collegiate Oratorical contests. The rules (Continued on Page Three)

Final Elimination Matches Are Completed by All Rifle Squads

After weeks of elimination a squad of 15 men have been chosen to represent Montana State College in the national rifle matches that are being shot throughout the country. The 10 high-point men of the match that was held last week, with their score, are as follows: Zion 372, Nevins 357, Erb 349, Harty 347, Amundson 340, Gillette 336, Rees 335, Sutherland 334, Daley 325, Lemieux 321.

The school is allowed a squad of 15 men, and can send in the score of the highest ten. The other five men who shot in competition were: Johnson Myruk, McDonald, Hinswark and Elman. A few other men have been retained by the department and it is possible that some changes will be made in the squad if the present members do not keep up their record. A few men have been shooting better this week. They are Anjil, Fallman, Pettibone, Hughes and La Fond. It is very likely that some of these men will be transferred to the main squad this week.

There has not been any returns from the results of last weeks match, but in comparison to the first match of last year the returns should be favorable. If the squad improves in their weak standing position, they should surpass all records of last year. The average in the four positions show that the score was 8.1 lower in standing position and .3 lower in sitting position in comparison to last year, while there was a gain of 4.4 in the kneeling and 1.8 in the prone positions. Those in charge are enthused over the increase in the kneeling position. This is one of the most difficult positions to shoot from and the men made very good marks.

This week the team is shooting in competition with Oregon Agricultural College. If the men raise their average in the standing positions the results should be far better than last year's second shoot.

M. S. C. MYSTERY

The entire Exponent Staff and the college police department have been toiling night and day to solve the mystery of the R. O. T. C. sponsors. As yet only meager reports have come in concerning their identity.

One clew unearthed by an enterprising staff member has led the officials to believe that the identity of the co-eds elected to the exalted positions will remain unknown until the Military Ball. It is expected that they will keep a close watch on the Rose Garden the night of February 22.

The Exponent is tipping off the students of M. S. C. so that they may be in on the big capture.

The students in the Short Story class at Denver University will enter their stories in prize competition this year; prizes being offered by the English department. As an added incentive the prize winning stories will be placed in the college library in a typewritten volume.

TRYOUTS FOR LOOTERS' SHOW

Persons Wanting Parts in 1929 Production Should Be at Little Theater Today

The Looter Club, sponsors of musical comedy productions at Montana State College, will hold the try-outs for "Sally" Tuesday, February 5 from 5 to 6 o'clock in the Little Theater at Montana Hall.

"Sally", their 1929 production, is a clever and snappy musical comedy and has been on the legitimate stage only six months. None of the musical scores have ever been broadcasted or recorded but they promise to be a real treat. The extremely high royalties are also a good indication that this comedy is very superior. The play will be directed by George Davenport and Mrs. Camille Keister, who have, in previous years directed the best of the Looter comedies, and their experience along this line foretells another successful production.

Presented Three Times

"Sally" will be given during tournament time, on Saturday afternoon, March 9. It will also be presented again February 11 and 12. All three performances will be at the Ellen.

Anyone interested in trying out for managernship in business, advertising, publicity, costume, stage, property, and music are urged to be present today at 5 o'clock. All but two of the members of Looter are graduating this year and managers chosen will perpetuate the club next year.

Chorus parts are open to sophomore, junior, and senior girls only.

ELECTRICALS SPONSOR SUCCESSFUL DANCE

The Electric Club dance, held at the Rose Garden last Friday evening was nounced a huge success by all who attended. About 75 couples enjoyed themselves to the rythm and harmony of Chris Stafford's orchestra.

The "balloon-grab" was the feature of the evening. A number of the balloons contained price numbers for which boxes of candy were exchanged. A number of electrically charged chairs were scattered about the side lines but fortunately for the guests the electricity failed to function as it was supposed to.

The hall was beautifully decorated and the novel lighting effects added much to the success of the evening.

DELEGATES WILL ATTEND BANQUET

Annual Fun Feed for Agricultural Workers Will Be Held Wednesday Evening

The Annual Farm and Home Week Fun Feed will take place in the gymnasium on Wednesday evening, February 6, at 6:30 o'clock. Those attending the dinner will include all members of the faculty of M. S. C. and those attending the various conventions of the Fifteenth Annual Farm and Home Week who wish to come. A specially planned program and stunts under the direction of Mrs. E. H. Lott, recreation director of Farm and Home Week, will be given during the dinner. The audience will take part in many of these. Mr. J. A. Nelson of the Dairy Department of M. S. C. will be master of ceremonies, and there will be no dignified, formal addresses. After the dinner there will be a dance.

The Fun Feed is fast becoming established as one of the most joyfully anticipated high-lights of Farm and Home Week. No part of the evening's program will fail to contribute to the atmosphere indicated by the name of the entertainment, Fun Feed.

The Nevada University basketball team is composed of scholars. The thirteen men on the squad made an average of 2.62. Just slightly lower than the student body average.

EIGHTY-ONE ARE ON HONOR ROLL

College of Engineering Has Majority of High Point Students for Quarter

JOE DELANEY HEADS LIST

Only Two Students Have Rare "A" Flush. Hinman Has 18 Credits A

That Engineers predominate on the campus in the matter of number is a well known fact. But that they consistently make the honor roll is not so well known by the average student, who is inclined to avoid the engineering courses as extremely hard. The honor roll for the fall quarter conclusively proves that Engineers can make grades, even to the extent of shutting out the easier courses in the matter of numbers.

Although the two men heading the list with A flushes are in the science department, the engineers are well represented in the remaining divisions of the roll. The engineering departments have placed a total of 34 men on the roll, the science department being next with 15, followed closely by the agriculture department with 12.

Joe Delaney heads the list with 19 credits of A. Frank Hinman is second with 18 credits of A.

Those making 2.75 to 2.999 points per credit are: 3—Stanley Voelker; 4—Ammon Andes; 5—Jerome Andes; Claude Perleburg; 7—Mary Hakala; 8—Lucile Morgan; 9—Jack Haggarty; 10—Elizabeth Seitz, Helen Mayfield, Franklin Dewey, Henry Eagle, Jack Weller; 15—Betty Purdum, Edward Bessler, Carl Oberbauer; 18—Claudina Opdyke.

Those making 2.5 to 2.749 points per credit are: 19—Ralph Andes, Roy Newkirk; 21—Carolyn Delaney; 22—Louise Nilson; 23—Kathryne Kellett, Lois Cobleigh, Philip Bryce, Frithoff Johnson, Laurence Marvin; 28—William Little; 29—Donald McElliott; 30—John Matphal, James Byrne; 32—Shirley Fabrick; 33—Rose Southworth, Ted Hamant; 35—Robert Erb, Matt Pakala; 37—James Nevins; 38—Norman Harvey, Armin Hill; 40—Robert Wells; 41—Mabel Hinds, Lucile Bowman, Leonard Wing, Kenneth Copley; 45—Helen Sanders; 46—Mildred Richards, Ruth Stewart, James Morrison, Julius Henschel, Homer Morton; 51—Marion Lynch.

Those making 2.25 to 2.499 points per credit are: 52—William Anderson; 53—Rae Patton; 54—Williss Horning, (Continued on Page Two)

Clubs Hear Richardson

Joint Meeting of Home Economics and Chemistry Society Held

Dr. J. E. Richardson of the Home Economics Department spoke at the joint meeting of the Montana Section of the American Chemistry Society and the Home Economics Club of Montana State College last Thursday evening. The meeting was held in the chemistry auditorium and was well attended by the students and members of the Home Economics and Chemistry departments.

Dr. Richardson made perfectly clear the inter-relationship of the fields of work. "The chemist," she said, "needs chemistry as a tool in his occupation of making products which add to the enrichment of the sum total of human happiness." "The home economist, in her occupation of home making, in which she, like the chemist, increases human happiness, needs a knowledge of chemistry in order not only to do her work most efficiently but wisely."

Thus, the home economist thru her knowledge of chemistry knows that cane sugar and beet sugar are identical and may be used interchangeably, and that the baking differences of various kinds of flours are dependant on the amount of gluten present.

The chemistry of home sanitations and that of fats and oils was also emphasized. In the latter case, Dr. Richardson made the point that the home economist must purchase her supply on the basis of the chemical nature of the fat or oil that is best suited for the purpose in view. Chemistry, evidently, in the above mentioned cases and in numerous others pertaining to work in the home or in the industries, which make products utilized in the home, is indispensable.

At the University of Arizona, due to the increasing amount of cars driven by students, and for the protection of pedestrians, a new ruling has been made prohibiting cars from being driven on the campus. All campus roads excepting those leading to the dormitories and parking spaces, will be closed at all hours to cars. The permanency of the ruling depends upon its acceptance by the student body.

PHI SIGMA INITIATES

Phi Sigma, honorary biological society held initiation for five new members on Wednesday night, January 30 at 7:30. Those being initiated were: W. B. Mabee, faculty member of the department of entomology; Virginia Mills, a junior of the botany and bacteriology department, and three seniors of the applied science department; Genevieve Gamble, Opal Richardson, and Mabel Hinds.

Phi Sigma chooses members on the basis of scholarship and ability in research. To test their research ability scientific papers were prepared and read previous to initiation. The topics were: "Milk Snakes and their Relation to the Dairy Industry", by W. B. Mabee, "Taxonomic Position of Flowers of Sulphur" by Opal Richardson; "The Windig Parasitic on Hydraulic Rams", by Genevieve Gamble; "Ph. as a Variable Factor of Ph.D.", by Mabel Hinds; and "Frozen Sunfish as a Source of Cold Light", by Virginia Mills.

ART EXHIBIT TO OPEN TOMORROW

Wide Range of Studies Depicted by Paintings Shown Here

"An excellen show" is the way the President of the State College of Fulman, Wash., describes the exhibit of American paintings which will arrive here Tuesday, February 5. This unusual exhibit which is to be open for two weeks, is being sponsored, jointly by the Bozeman chapter of the American Federation of Arts and the Architectural Club and the Art Club of Montana State College.

This exhibit gives to the students and people of Bozeman a rare opportunity to see what the contemporary artists of America are doing in painting.

The paintings in this group were carefully selected by the American Federation of Arts from the summer exhibitions of the Cincinnati and Toledo Museums of Art. They make an effective and well-balanced display, including portraits, still life, and landscape work. All are representative of the best tendencies in contemporary art.

Wide Range

The range of studies and effects are such as to satisfy the tastes and moods of many. Ettoe Cacer's "Cathedral Birth" which has been a general favorite is interesting in technique. "The Chestnut Root" by Arthur B. Davies is done in his characteristic mystical fashion. This artist, who has just died recently, was approaching the height of his career while yet a young man. While others experimented with the things they saw, he dreamed and painted his dreams into his pictures. His paintings are satisfying to those of imagination and fancy.

George Ennis has a special appeal to those who love the sea. His "Out Pet" is described as strongly American in feeling.

"The Young oman" by Mr. Giles is considered his masterpiece by many critics and it reflects his feelings about the world war. It is a portrait of a young Belgian refugee.

Eighteen Canvases "The Kajiwarra", "Girl with Jar", and "Polly in Pink" by Marie Danforth Page have been favorites wherever shown.

Charles S. Chapman paints into his pictures his memory of the big Canadian woods where he was a lumberman for a while.

MONTANAN WANTS ACTIVITY LISTS

Juniors and Seniors Should Fill Their's Out Immediately Says Editor Brown

The activity list of all upper-classmen must be obtained at the Registrar's office and turned into the Montanan box immediately. This includes not only the Seniors but all Juniors as well.

The officers of the Sophomore class are requested to have their pictures taken at Linfield's and turn them in at the Montanan office as soon as possible.

The covers and sheet paper for the Montanan have been selected and orders for them have been mailed. Each year the demand for book copies has increased with the growth of the school. Last year 1,000 copies were ordered and this year the number has been increased to 1,050.

All members of the sororities and fraternities who failed to have their pictures taken on the assigned days should do so between February 4 and February 9.

Students are again urged to save all snapshots of college life to contribute to the Montanan.

Utah University students have been forced to elect a new editor of The Crimson, a school publication. The death rate among Rocky Mountain college editors is high.

Annual Agricultural Meet Opened Here Yesterday

Members of Extension Service and Other Montana Organizations for the Advancement of Farming in Montana Hold Annual Conventions This Week. Pure Seeds Display and Implement Exhibits Attract Attention. Speakers From Other States to Address General Assemblies.

Montana's Fifteenth Annual Farm and Home week is now in session. Smith-Hughes instructors, extension workers, and agriculture leaders from all parts of the state are attending the meetings of the various organizations which are in session this week.

The Annual Farm and Home week is divided among many activities. During this week the following organizations will hold their meetings: Farm Bureau Federation, Montana Implement Dealer's Association, Montana Potato Improvement Association, Montana Drainage Institute, Montana Seed Potato Marketing Association, The Gallatin County Wool Grower's Association, and the Montana Seed Grower's Association. The meetings of the above organizations will be addressed by speakers from the college and members of the extension service. Special assemblies will be held each day for the general discussion of the extension service and the work the various organizations are doing thruout Montana.

On Monday will be held the meetings of the Farm Bureau, Potato Improvement Association, and Potato Marketing. The Home Economics program for women will be held each day during the week at Herrick Hall. The livestock meetings will be held at the livestock pavillion this week. On Tuesday special meetings for those interested in wheat growing will be held in the agricultural building. During the remainder of the week irrigation and drainage meetings will take place. The general assemblies and special events will be held each day at 11:00 in room 301 of the Agricultural building. The annual meeting of the Gallatin County Wool Growers' Association will be held on Wednesday afternoon.

Two special feature of the Farm and Home week are the displays of the Montana Seed Growers Association and the implement display which is being held under the auspices of the Montana Implement Dealer's Association. The seed display contains many different varieties of pure seeds and is very complete in every way. The implement display shows the latest types of agricultural machinery. The exhibits were furnished by the various farm machinery companies and gives a good idea of the importance of machinery on the modern farm.

Among the prominent speakers not connected the Montana Extension service who will address the general assemblies during the week are: J. C. How of the Montana Power company of Great Falls, will address the assembly Tuesday, Mr. How will speak on "Service of the Montana Power Co. in Rural Homes". C. F. Huhlein, B. S. Avery Co, Louisville, Kentucky, will speak at the assembly which will be held on Wednesday afternoon on "The South and West". On Friday, J. H. Shepper, of the North Dakota Agricultural College at Fargo, North Dakota, will speak on "Livestock Observation at Home and Abroad."

Montana's Farm and Home Week has become an annual event in Montana. The various departments of the Extension Service and other organizations which have as their aims the advancement of agriculture in Montana, meet with one another at this time for the purpose of discussing their aims and the details of their work. From a small beginning this yearly meeting has grown to large proportions and is one of the most beneficial services sponsored by the College of Montana.

Maxon Will Head Fangs

Men's Service Organization Elects Officers for Coming Year. Succeeds Brown

Duane Maxson is the new Duke of the Fangs at Montana State College. Officers for the coming year were elected last week and the following men were chosen to lead the organization for the coming year: Duke, Duane Maxson; Scribe, John Coey; Chancellor of the Exchequer, Harold Greiner; and Recorder, Jake Wentworth. Those men succeed the outgoing officers who are: Bernard Brown, Duke; Hart Rutledge, Chancellor of Exchequer; Francis Jones, Recorder; and Pat McElliott, Scribe.

Duane Maxson is a member of the Kappa Sigma social fraternity and during his freshmen year was a candidate for the varsity track squad. Harold Greiner, Chancellor of Exchequer, is very prominent in campus activities. He is a member of the Amigo fraternity. The office of Scribe will be filled by John Coey who is a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity. Jake Wentworth, the newly-elected Recorder of the Fangs is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and one of the best known members of the present Sophomore class.

The Fangs of Montana State College are one of the leading organizations on the Hill. Members of this honorary fraternity take part in almost every activity that the school sponsors. The Fangs co-operate with the Snurs in directing the crowds at all athletic contests and other entertainments held at the college. They also help the new freshmen each year to learn the rules and traditions of the college.

The new officers, for the coming year are very capable and will probably make their term of leadership one of the outstanding periods in the history of the Fangs at Montana State College.

Treasure Found in Registrar's Office by Exponent Reporter

Fairy tale writing reached its highest peak during the lives of the two Grimm brothers, but this was not because the material then was any better than it is now. The lost and found department conducted by the Registrar is truly a treasure vault so far as opportunities for writing romantic and thrilling tales is concerned.

Compacts, silk scarfs—what tales of romance these simple articles could tell. The tin soldier and china doll have nothing on them! There is, for instance, the compact that caused two parted lovers to be reunited. The sight of a long lost compact, which had been a gift, so stirred the memories and emotions of a fair damsel that she immediately asked her broken hearted suitor to go to the Mortar Board dance with her, and they lived happily ever after. (At least for a time).

One story that stands without parallel is the one about the boy who was lost in the snowdrift in front of the gym and found himself in the Registrar's office. Then, too, the girl who lost her head in economics and found it in the lost and found department deserves mention.

Not all the lost articles could tell such happy tales, although many are equally alarming. Who would care to laugh at the freshman whose green cay reposes among lost pens, pencils and lipsticks, and who is so terrified at the prospect of facing the beautiful assistants of the Registrar that he would rather be paddled by the terrible Fangs than go after it?

FAMED EXPLORER TO SPEAK HERE

Roy Chapman Andrews Will Lecture in Bozeman February 14

Roy Chapman Andrews, famous Asiatic explorer, will lecture at the Emerson Auditorium the evening of February 14. Mr Andrews has gained widespread fame for his three Asiatic explorations and will give a lecture here as the last number of the Celebrity Course. Last fall he returned from his third trip into the Gobi desert of Mongolia. He has spent altogether almost five years in exploring these regions and is now on his way to the Pacific coast where he will sail to go on a fourth exploration trip.

In his lecture here Mr. Andrews will speak mainly of his discoveries on his last trip into the Gobi desert. His party preceded with automobiles and camels into the wildest and roughest of country. The expedition was extremely hazardous because of the many terrific sand storms and encounters with savage mongol bandits. He was rewarded for his hardships by many strange and fascinating discoveries of fossilized remains of prehistoric animals. He tells his story ver ynterestingly under the title of (Continued on Page Two)

WELCOME

It is not often that we have the large number of guests from so many different parts of Montana here on the campus at the same time. The Exponent, in behalf of the student body of Montana State college extends a hearty welcome to all the visitors here for Farm and Home week. We are proud of our campus and the Bobcat spirit and hope that you take away a pleasant memory of your stay here.

We want you to feel free to visit all the departments and buildings and see all the great work that is being done at this institution. We feel that if you do you will better understand the Bobcat spirit and the aims of M. S. C.

SPORTSMANSHIP

Sportsmanship is the basis of all college sports. But it goes far beyond the teams that are engaged. It includes the attitude of the crowd during the contests. A school can rate no higher than the sportsmanship its students display at games. We know that the Bobcats, as a team, are considered throughout the conference as sports. They are gracious winners and gracious losers. But do we, the student body, uphold the fine reputation of our teams?

At the Grizzly game the students showed what we consider poor sportsmanship. Of course we realize that the long feud between the State University and State college still smolders and breaks into flames whenever the two teams meet but was the hooting, booing and jeering that some members of the crowd wished on the Grizzly team justifiable and sportsmanlike? We are sorry that there were some people who behaved that way. The one consolation that we have is that during conference games here the rooters do show good sportsmanship. But why can't it be continued when teams from other schools in the state come here?

Let's see if we can't do as the Bobcats do. Take the game in the most sportsman-like manner. Let the visiting teams go home and tell of the friendly reception they received while in Bozeman.

Don't forget the yells and songs at the Utah Aggie games Friday and Saturday.

Now that the streets are cleared of snow we'd like to see the parking spaces cleaned.

Only six weeks more. Six weeks in which to bring up those present low grades and to improve the higher ones.

ART EXHIBIT TO OPEN

William H. Singer has been very successful as a landscapist and his canvasses have sold readily in America. In all there are eighteen canvasses and the men and women divide honors about equally. There are more artists, whose canvasses are on exhibition than named here, who have quite as excellent pictures.

Prizes Offered

The opening night is Tuesday, Feb. 4, at 7:30 p. m. in the gallery of the Engineering building, at which time there will be music and talks. Punch will be served during the evening. Members of the different organizations are selling tickets at fifty cents each. Tickets will also be obtainable at the door.

As has been the custom before, a prize of ten dollars to college students is being offered for the best paper on the exhibit; likewise a prize of three dollars to high school students and two dollars to grade school students.

The gallery will be open on Sunday from 2:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m. and on the other days from 9:00 to 12:00 o'clock in the afternoons and from 7:00 to 9:00 o'clock in the evenings.

It is particularly gratifying that the three organizations have been able to go together to obtain this exhibition to present to the people of Bozeman. They wish to extend an invitation to the many visitors who are at the college this week.

"Hunting the Bones of Adam's Grandfathers". Not only is he a good speaker but to further illustrate his lecture he has moving pictures that were taken of the actual scenes he visited. It is to facilitate the showing of these pictures that the lecture is to be given at the Emerson Auditorium instead of the College gym.

Mr. Andrews' discoveries have stirred the fancy of the whole world. Many American magazines have printed accounts of his expedition. Two of the best of these articles appeared in the Saturday Evening Post of last November 10 and December 8,

SMATTERINGS FROM HERE AND THERE IN OUR MIDST

Co-ed's lament: "Oh Jake, what is your power over women!"

Say, did yuh hear about Ed Burke's taking his spats down town to get them half-soled?

Fred Bennion: What's the difference between a Ford and a Lincoln?
LaVerne Brown: Oh, I'm not a mechanic; I don't know.
Freddie: Swell, how about a date tonight?

Now, honestly, do you think it is the REAL Bobcat spirit to razz and boo an opposing team that is playing basketball with our team on our floor? And furthermore—to razz thusly is not hospitable. Give it a think, you rooters.

We imagine that Ed Buzzetti got in a good lot of lollygagging while he was in Helena last week-end. Yes, but what about Tex Brush?

And now—my UNSEEN public—we have a big treat in store for you. Be sure and watch next week's issue—we're going to run a picture of "Whoopie," the girl everyone wants to see.

Our lovely tin medal goes to Matt Pakala this week. He had to be told that the opposite of the Latin word "amo" is Reno—but the cruelest blow of all was when he said "Oh, yes—that's someplace in France, isn't it?"

Did you notice the ad in the Chronicle's "Lost" column Saturday morning: "Lost—How to Study," by Whipple. We feel confident that no college student lost it. Why? Easy—they all know all about studying without having to study about it.

Red McGregor wants to know also who this girl "Excess" is, that all the men are drinking to.

And now here's one on Anaconda. Martha Flynn says that when she was in High School they had to use a telescope to see Anaconda.

A suggestion has been offered that the College Book Store get in a good supply of canoes for the time when all this snow melts.

We'll certainly be glad when this Hell Week business is all over. There ought to be a College regulation against men wandering around here looking like they'd been sent for and couldn't come. Why we saw one lad who looked like he'd been put through a wringer and laid out on a busy traffic crossing to dry, and another what I actually mean, his eyes were like nothing human—one the size of a pea, and the other just a little tiny thing.

The Lord be merciful for small things—Rae's car for instance.

Did you all hear about the absent minded professor who called himself up to see if he'd forgotten to go to that class he had intended missing if he remembered to remind himself to not—Oh! well you know what me mean.

Professor Swingle (in Ag. Bacteriology class): Mr. Parker, what is the definition of thermogenetic bacteria?
Mel Parker: They are the Jazz Age bacteria (Heat Producing).

and were written by Mr. Andrews himself. His past discoveries are interesting enough and who knows what greater discoveries, adventures, and fame he may gain on his coming exploration trip. To hear the lecture and see the pictures of this famous explorer is an opportunity and a privilege that no student can afford to miss.

From old kettle to new world

SOMEbody has to believe in the big possibilities of little things. James Watt saw the lid of his tea-kettle dance—and today our civilization is built largely on steam.

In the field of communication, Bell saw the possibilities of a little vibrating diaphragm. Today from the telephone at his elbow a man talks to his next-door neighbor or across the continent, just as he chooses.

Men in the telephone industry, in commercial and administrative as well as technical work, are constantly proving that little suggestions, little ideas, little changes, when smoothly fitted into the comprehensive plan, may be big in possibilities of better public service.

of the contest are: The orations are to be the original work of each contestant with the exception of two-hundred words that may be quoted. The orations shall not exceed 1800 words in length. This contest will take place May 15. A suitable prize will be given to the winner of first place.

Women students are urged to prepare a speech on a topic that is of special interest to them. This will give them an opportunity to study and read some subject that will be of practical value. It will also give them an opportunity to speak in public and as a result they will develop powers in speaking and thus gain confidence on the platform. Generally speaking women should take advantage of this opportunity to improve themselves in platform speaking since women are taking part in public affairs more today than ever before. Therefore they should know something of the elements of public speaking and it is their big chance to show what they are capable of doing.

Co-eds of the Indiana and Ohio Universities will hold a debate on the subject "Resolved: That fraternities and Sororities at State Universities should be abolished."

A Progressive Dance, an innovation on the Montana Campus (at Missoula) will be held by the several fraternities Friday evening. The nine Greek letter organizations will take part. All non-fraternity men are invited to the dance and may go to any house at any time. No group will stay at any one house more than ten minutes. The houses have been divided into groups, and then subdivided for ease in helping them "progress."

Changing Horses

At the portals of our large cities—New York, Baltimore, Detroit, and soon Cleveland—a semaphore halts a luxurious flyer drawn by a puffing steam engine. A simple switching maneuver, and electricity takes charge. A giant electric locomotive, quickly under way, glides silently into the home stretch with its long string of Pullmans.

Like a thoroughbred it makes the run—tirelessly. Passengers alight in a clean terminal—clean because there is no smoke or soot.

Another milestone in transportation—another event in the life of the iron horse!

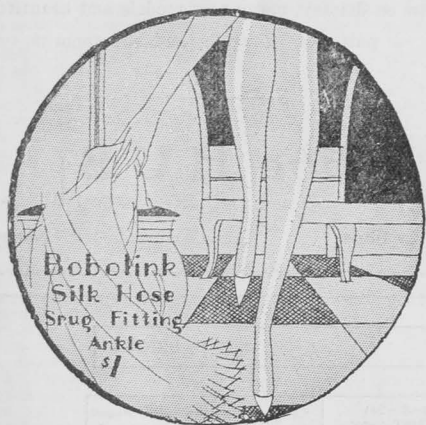

Civilization is progressing, with electricity in the van. How far this advance will take us, is a problem for our future leaders. It is for them to develop and utilize new applications of electricity—the force that is pointing the way over uncharted courses, not only in railroading, but in every phase of progress.

The G-E monogram is found on large electric locomotives and on MAZDA lamps, electric vacuum cleaners, and a multitude of other appliances which serve us all. It is the mark of an organization that is dedicated to the cause of electrical progress.

Bobcats and Utah Ags. Clash Here This Week

Games Friday and Saturday With the Mormon Farmers Promises to be Full of Thrills. Both Teams Use Man to Man Style of Play. "Blue and Gold Team Is Primed for the Visitors," Says Dyche

Although the Montana State college Bobcats are comfortably entrenched in first place in the western division standing of the Rocky Mountain conference race, the two games with the invading Utah Aggies here Friday and Saturday of this week are liable to raise havoc with the wonder team's standings.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Bobcats already hold a victory over the Romney coached team from Logan and the Utes hold one over the State college this week-ends games in Bozeman are rated as among the most crucial in the conference campaign.

Identical Styles
Both teams play an identical style of basketball, man to man offense and defense, and the Utah aggression has always been rated as among the most powerful in the Rocky Mountain conference.

The Cats, however, will be primed for the Utah Aggie double header this week-end, Coach Schubert Dyche said last night. With the four regulars in tip top condition again and a capable list of reserves, the State college mentor is of the opinion that the most feared opponents on the schedule will be disposed of.

Suffered Two Defeats
The Aggies suffered a brace of defeats at the hands of Ott Romney's team last week and are now at the bottom of the standings. The two defeats, however, have not deduced the canny Bobcat coach into thinking that the Logan squad is a weak one.

Should the Golden Typhoon from Bozeman win both games Friday and Saturday, they will be sitting "on top of the world," Bobcat fans believe. The Bobcats still have a four-game affair with the powerful Utah University Indians before they can be counted to cop the western division standings, but team members are confident of overcoming the powerful Red Shirts from Salt Lake City, they said yesterday. Dyche, himself, refused to comment on the probable outcome of the Utah games.

Following the Utah Aggie games in Bozeman this week-end, the Bobcats will leave the following Wednesday for the opening two game series with the Redskins in Salt Lake City, February 15 and 16. Should the Bobcats win over the Peterson coached quintet in the Mormon city, the State college will "slide" into their third Rocky Mountain conference pennant, as the winner in the eastern division is not expected to offer serious opposition to the formidable Bobcat hoop squad.

CAT RESERVES ARE VICTORIOUS

Bobcats, Minus Wonder Players, Defeat Saints and Ore Diggers

Saturday night the Bobcat reserves succeeded in nosing out the Montana Mines in a hard fought contest. The game was fast and close throughout with the lead changing back and forth continually and resulting 11-11 at the half. The Orediggers seemed to have a little advantage and with only a minute to go were on top of the 27-21 lead but O. Ward, McFarland and Gardner came back in true Bobcat style and each sank goals to tie the score as the gun sounded. Coach McAuliff's miners seemed unable to hit the basket but played a fine floor game. The giant Matlock played a stellar game at guard, holding Buzzetti and Sadler scoreless. Honey Kiely was their high point man hanging up six field goals. O. Ward the only regular on the "Wonder" Bobcats started for M. S. C. with a total of 14 points. In the extra period the Mines got away with a two point lead only to be balanced by a ringer from McFarland. In the final seconds of play Red Browning heaved a counter to win the game for the Bobcats 31-29.

SWIMMING TOURNEY SCHEDULE COMPLETE

Five Participants Appear Exceptionally Promising. Team Not Yet Chosen

According to Coach Morrison, the swimming season of 1929 should be the best that M. S. C. has known. "There is a lot of new material to pick from and with the support of the veterans from last year we should have a strong team," he states.

Coach Morrison has arranged a tentative schedule with Butte, Mount St. Charles and then the Conference meet at Salt Lake. It has been planned to take eight men to the Conference meet, if they show average ability, otherwise only three or four will go.

The team has not been definitely picked and men trying out for it are advised to keep working.

Swimming is the only sport that does not require natural abilities but requires very rigid training and daily practice.

The men who placed high in the first tryouts are Heikkala, Garry, Flannigan, Hubbard and Lee.

Buzzetti and O. Ward played a fast game and were responsible for most of the scoring.

The game was a bit loose and rather rough at times. Cross, the fast center for the Saints was high point man chalking up a total of 16 points and Evans scrappy Saint guard broke up plays in great shape.

The inactive Spurs were entertained at a bridge party Saturday afternoon in the fireplace room of Herrick Hall by the actives.

A four o'clock a short ceremony was held and the Spurs for 1928 were presented with inactive emblems. A two course lunch was served at five o'clock at small tables centered with red tulips. Valentine decorations were used.

Guests for the afternoon were: Dean Una B. Herrick, Miss Jessie Donaldson, Mary Lawson, Helen Allen and the Spurs of 1928.

BREEDERS OFFER SPECIAL PRIZE

Aberdeen Angus Association to Give $500 for Grand Champ Steer in 1929

Secretary Tomhave of the American Aberdeen Angus Breeders' Association announces that their organization will offer a special prize of $500 for the grand champion single steer at the 1929 International Live Stock Exposition, Chicago, Ill., if an Aberdeen-Angus wins the grand championship. This special offer is made as an added inducement to breeders and agricultural colleges to fit high class Aberdeen-Angus steers for the International.

This breed has an excellent record for the number of grand championships won on single steers at the International, having won fourteen out of twenty-seven grand championships or more than fifty per cent since the establishment of the show with all breeds competing.

CRUEL ENGINEERS

It is interesting to note that the Engineering building is on a floating foundation. It seems that in the process of excavating they came to water sooner than was expected. The earth which was dug up was composed of very few feet of the dark soil and clay. It took quite a good deal of time and trouble to pump the water out, in order to facilitate the erecting of the concrete base. This was rather an unhappy time for the citizens' lawns on Seventh street, for the water poured down on them.

Many have heard that a wagon and two horses were lost in the water during this time, and that it was many days before they recovered them. It happened two horses were caught in the quick-sand and water, and were drowned before a rescue could be effected. They were, however, recovered within a few hours of the disaster.

The Bobcats have settled the basketball supremacy in the state as usual. They have victories over Missoula, St. Charles, and the Mines. The reserves taking St. Charles and the Mines into camp.

Another thing we might say in regard to the games with Mount St. Charles and the Butte School of Mines is the fact that they rather seemed to think they were on the gridiron rather than a basketball court. The games were the roughest the Blue and Gold warriors have mixed in so far this year.

The Bobcats are holding the lead in the Western Division of the conference. B. Y. U., however, raised their total victories with the two defeats they handed the Utah Aggies by top-sided scores.

The Utah Aggies are out for the Bobcats' hide and the games this week-end will be equal to the usual Utah Aggie-Bobcat games which are fast with both teams using man-to-man offense and defense. The Aggies are about the most feared team for the champion Bobcats even though they rank in the cellar in the division standings.

In the eastern division the dope still favors the Wyoming Cowboys to cop the laurels.

The eastern division hasn't had a conference championship for quite some time and they are anxious to cop it this year. This may be incentive enough to give the Bobcats a real battle for the trophy if they emerge victors in the western scramble.

Portland next fall. Gallatin High was winner of first place in the stock judging contest which was held last year in connection with the Annual Boys Vocational Congress. This team competed in the Junior Stock Judging contest at Portland last fall and won second place. Gallatin county's team competed with stock-judging teams from the entire United States and its placing second in this national contest rates the Smith-Hughes instruction in Montana equal to that of any state in the Union.

In previous years this stock judging contest was held in connection with the Annual Boys Vocational Congress. Last year, however, it was decided to discontinue the Congress because of the fact that the number attending was growing to large to be adequately cared for. In the future this Congress will be held every other year, alternating with the Annual Girl's vocational congress. The stock judging contest will be held each year during the Annual Farm and Home Week.

The following men are competing in this contest:

KAPPA SIGMAS WIN SWIMMING

Poor Representation Brings Upsets in Annual Water Tourney

The Kappa Sigma Fraternity won the annual swimming meet held last night in the pool when the majority of the fraternity teams failed to put in an appearance due to a misunderstanding as to the time of the finals or were forced to withdraw their teams due to illness of the members of the various squads.

The Omega Beta fraternity were potential winners of the meet but their crack relay combinations weren't available and the Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Pi Kappa Alpha teams were hindered on account of injuries among their squad members. The meet was one of the poorest representations of competition between the organizations on the hill and very few men were entered in the contests. The two divisions of basketball draw heavily from the memberships and as a result very few are left to paddle on the organization teams. Last quarter the two sports of Volleyball and cross country failed to force every man into competition and all the games were hard fought and the 2.9 jaunt was success but with two teams to keep in trim in basketball with the great number of injuries that usually occur it is hard to find enough men to run in another sport.

The meet failed to uncover any new material for the varsity squad although those that did turn out showed the result of good coaching and earnest training for they were mainly men from the squad although lettermen in the sport were barred from competition. The times made were satisfactory and these winners will have a chance to show their wares against the lettermen a week from tomorrow night at 8 o'clock when the men and women water enthusiasts will put on a big swimming meet and water carnival with life saving and other clever water stunts.

Results of the meet were:
Kappa Sigma 19, S. A. E. 18, O. B. 17, Ind. S. D. T. 3 and A. G. R. 3.
100 yard breast stroke—Freese K. S.; Pakala D. T. time 1:36.
220 yard free style—Gary S. A. E., McLeod Ind. Time 3:5
100 yard backstroke—Nelson O. B. Blair K. S., Freese K. S. time 1:21.
100 yard free style—Wheat S. A. E., Keefer A. G. R., Rives Ind. time 1:1.
40 yard free style—Gary S. A. E., McLeod Ind., O. B., time 21.
Fancy Diving—Renn O. B., Gary S. A. E., McLeod Ind.

Relay—Kappa Sigma (by default). Medelay Relay—Omega Beta, Kappa Sigma, time 1:33.
Starter John Morrison, Clerk of Course Flannigan, Timers, Ellis and Heikkila.

Beck, K. Lovely; Dillon—George Heikkila, James Melton, Danny Pendergast; Harlowton—Gene Taber, Brooks McDonald, Harim Tode; Kalspell—Eugene Robocker, Roy Root, Melvin McPheters; Lewistown; Lewistown—W. GALLATIN WINS

Gallatin high school's stock judging team won the contest yesterday at the college it was announced late yesterday evening. They scored 2,421 points out of a possible 3,000.

GRIZZLIES BEATEN

Montana State University's Grizzly basketball team was nosed out by the Oregon Aggies last night on the Coast team's home floor. After leading the Aggies throughout most of the game the Montanans were defeated 28-26.
