

Tourney Sidelights

In the opening contest of the 19th annual tournament Wolf Point drew first blood by defeating Billings 14-10. The game opened rather slow with both teams working cautious up and down the floor. Many tries were missed by both sides before Duncan sank one from behind the foul line to put Billings into the lead. Fladager dribbled down the floor to sink a set up. Shortly after that Wright made good a free throw to give Wolf Point their first score. The gun sounded just as the ball was thrown into the air. Score: Billings 4, Wolf Point 1.

The second period opened with both teams fighting hard but they were unable to connect with the hoop although numerous shots were taken by both sides. Clark sank one but was closely followed by one from Wright. For a time the game speeded up and Wolf Point missed many shots from under the basket. Fladager Billings' center looped one in from the center to give his team a 6-5 margin at the half.

Shortly after the start of the second half Fladager made good a gift toss. Wolf Point repeatedly worked the ball under the basket and attempted to bat it in to no avail. Bechtal tallied one from the foul line. Clark, meantime in Wolf Point's defense, was also the main cog in working the ball down the floor. The quarter ended with Billings 7, Wolf Point 6.

The play had scarcely begun in the third quarter when Bechtal assisted by fine team work got away for a jump and repeated with a long one to give Wolf Point a 10-7 lead. The play came fast and furious with both sides fighting for the ball. Substitutions were made and Wolf Point took me out. On resuming this game Weeks sunk one to put Wolf Point ahead 14-9. Duncan fought hard to keep his team in the running but had bad luck with his shots. The gun sounded the score Wolf Point 14, Billings 10.

Custer-Plains

In the second game Custer county high school started off with a bang and chalked up 12 points before Plains could settle themselves. Fast accurate passes coupled with skill in shooting kept the boys from Powder River in the lead from the start. During the first period Custer kept the ball most of the time and seemed able to score at will. Score as quarter ended, Custer 12, Plains 0.

Custer came back in the second period with the same speedy style and started to count running the score to 8 when Kramer stepped in to count the first one for Plains. F. Walkley as sent in for E. Vacura for Plains. Rapid passing and clever floor work along with good shooting by J. Walkley and Doering sent Plains score 8 in easy fashion. Each team scored in a free one by F. Walkley left the score 25-12 at the half.

Plains came back strong in the third quarter. J. Walkley opening the scoring after a series of good passes and carried the ball into scoring territory. Custer's bounce pass seemed to trouble the western team but they displayed a good brand of ball. The close of the third period saw Custer leading 1-18.

Walkley counted right after the start of the final session and followed with a second to make it 32-22. Plains began to settle down but Custer's lead was too great to overcome. Plains (Continued on Page Four)

Great Sport Event Takes Interest at Montana State

Welcome To Montana State College

Montana State College takes the greatest pleasure each spring in welcoming to its campus these 16 high school basketball teams which have, by the hardest kind of district competition, demonstrated that they are the outstanding basketball talent of Montana. To these high school players, their coaches and friends, Montana State offers its heartiest welcome.

This annual interscholastic basketball tournament has built up a series of fine traditions. These traditions of hard play and fine sportsmanship have become incorporated into the athletic standards of our high schools, and today no state has finer records of sportsmanship athletic competition than the records set up by the Montana High School Athletic Association. These standards of sportsmanship, emphasized in tournaments here since 1911, have made this annual entertainment worthwhile.

The Interscholastic Basketball Tournament is Montana's premier sports event each year for high schools. It offers a week of the best entertainment for our students of college and high school, and for hundreds of friends of the competing teams. No effort has been spared by our college committee to make the tournament of 1930 one of the best—in officiating, in handling of details for the visitors and in the building of that colorful atmosphere of a real sports championship.

May these basketball teams, both winners and losers, leave Bozeman with a real sense of the welcome that Bozeman and Montana State College offer them.

INTERCOLLEGIATE KNIGHTS WERE FORMED TO PROMOTE SCHOOL SPIRIT

Organized in 1921. Charter Members... Seven Chapters Represented at Recent Convention. Initiated Thirteen Pledges Saturday. Actives Must Be Underclassmen

Some thirty years ago there was an organization called the Stags, founded on the campus to boost the school and to be of any service whatever to the college. Any man taking a four year course at this institution was eligible to join. This club was one of the first service organizations on the hill.

In 1909, the Boosters were organized to uphold the spirit and traditions of the College. It was due to the efforts of this club that the first high school tournament was held nineteen years ago. Members of the faculty had thought of an planned this event but it appeared that it would be impossible to raise necessary funds for the interscholastic contest. It was then that the Boosters got in and canvassed the town, raising funds and arousing interest.

It was not until 1921 that the Fangs were organized. In that year the class of '23 drew up the by-laws upon which the organization was founded. The membership then consisted of eleven freshmen, two sophomores and two freshmen being selected from each of the four social fraternities here at that time, while three sophomores and three freshmen were chosen from the independents.

The Fang Chapter initiated thirteen pledges last Saturday. Nine of these were freshmen chosen the first part of this quarter one representative from each fraternity, and four were sophomores who were pledged to fill the vacancies caused by members who have left school. The new sophomore members are Raymond Ferguson, Beta Epsilon; Harold Hanson, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Jack Bartlett, Sigma Chi; and Arthur Sandenaw Independent. The freshmen initiates are Charles Blakely, Alpha Gamma Rho; James Ganaway, Amigo; Donald Asbury, Delta Tau; John Kaiserman, Kappa Sigma; Ernest Myers, Omega Beta; James Waters, Pi Kappa Alpha; Ellsworth Hastings, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; and Lloyd Lloyd Eyre, Independents.

As this organization is made up of underclassmen, these men will be active until after the first quarter of their junior year when they will become Alumni Fangs, and freshmen will be pledged to take their place. It may be said that in one respect the Intercollegiate Knights is not an honor society, but it is a body for service to our Alma Mater, and through this service, it becomes an honor to be an Intercollegiate Knight.

Art Society Has Exhibit

Will Be Open Until March 23. Different in Spirit From Past Displays

There is an American Federation of Art exhibition in the art gallery of the engineering building. The exhibition opened Tuesday evening, March 11, with a talk by Miss Starr on the characteristics of the artists exhibiting and will be open every afternoon and evening until March 23. Any group wishing to visit the gallery in the morning may do so by calling Mr. Cheever of the Architectural department or Mrs. Hannon of the Art department to make arrangements.

This exhibition is different in spirit from any of those which the Federation has sponsored for some years. It consists of water colors, color etchings, and color block prints, very sprightly and gay in manner.

The water colors are of a great variety of subject matter. Some of the most charming of them were painted in Northern Africa. They were sent by the Intab Art Association and the Santa Fe Museum and include sketches by C. Kay Scott, Wil Shuster, and Gerald Candy. The Utah Art Association sent water colors by Cornelius Salisbury, Joseph Everett, Florence Ware, Lee Richards, Lawrence Squires, and Howard Salisbury.

There are block prints by Gustav Bauman, one of the country's foremost artists in this medium. They are made by using a separate block for

Frats Decorate For High School Teams

Novel Ideas Displayed to Express Welcome to Visiting Players

From the doorways, windows, and roofs of sorority and fraternity houses a glory of lights blazed forth a welcome to the visiting basketball teams as they made their way to the huge gymnasium for the first game of the state high school basketball tournament Wednesday evening.

The decorations, because of their originality are very attractive. Huge blue and gold M's, rainbow arches, multicolored perennials and balloons, basketballs and basketball players in combat, garlands of vari-colored lights, welcome signs, and a huge map of Montana with the name of each team's town glowing like a jewel upon it were some of the ideas employed by the various houses to express their welcome to the visitors.

Cat Thompson and his mates thru desperate playing during the second half cut this lead to five points and lost 40-35.

Parkinson, sensational freshman player and one of the best ball rustlers to be found in the Rocky Mountain conference along with sure shooting by Ailsop guard, together with Davis were the mainstay of the Utah victory. The Bobcats from Bozeman appeared to be state despite their week's rest. Frank Ward was leaven on his feet. Early in the game Orland Ward received a blow on the head in a mix-up under the basket and was removed from the game. Ario, starting at guard played an outstanding game, but faltered towards the end of the first half and was replaced by Buzzetti. Ending tied at 34-all, Thompson scored on the tip-off play of the extra period. Davis followed with another basket to sew up the score again. Frank Ward put the Bobcats in the lead but Young, Aggie guard, sank two free throws as the gun sounded. Beginning the second extra period, Parkinson was hurt in the leg and forced to take time out. Citizens of Bozeman, Faculty and Students Finance the Tournament

In the past years the State High School Basketball Meet has been held at Bozeman and has been financed entirely separately from the M. S. C. Athletic Association. The financial backing has been made by the citizens of Bozeman and college faculty members. For the past few years the tournament committee has suffered a loss on the meet. Last year they had a deficit of $10000, but due to the fact that the Athletic Association was able to repay a $1000 they had previously borrowed from them, the supporters of the tournament suffered no loss.

This year they have no surplus upon which they can rely in case of a loss and it was therefore suggested to turn the State Meet over to some other city, but the Student Opinion seemed to favor the continuation of the Tournaments at M. S. C. so it was

MONDAY'S GAME

Salt Lake City—(Special)—A fighting team from the Utah Agricultural college are holders of the western division Rocky Mountain conference title for 1930, beginning the season rated as the poorest team in the division. Parkinson, Davis, Ailsop, Young and Campbell finished by carrying the three-year champions of Montana state college into a tie at the end of the regular season. In a three-game play off they took the first and third game thereby placing a new king upon the basketball throne of the Mountain region.

The first game was taken from a fighting Bobcat crew. But this fighting team was dead upon its feet. Stale from a long season. Their week of rest had not replaced the vitality necessary to win. Captain "Cat" Thompson played the outstanding game of his season fighting desperately to pull the game out of the fire during the regular season. Worthington played a spectacular and outstanding game at guard but the efforts of these two were not enough. Coming back Friday night the Bobcats, all in form, each man fighting to the limit of his ability, forced the going with the Aggies and carried the game into two extra periods. Frank Ward scoring 19 points broke the all time conference record and lead his quintet to victory 43-40. Again Worthington shone.

After a days rest the golden tornado had not refilled itself with the energy necessary to carry them over the young Utah five. Each man fought. They all played. But it was not enough to bring them their fourth division title. With eight minutes of the second half to go and the score 26-30 in favor of the Aggies, Worthington fouled Davis and was forced from the game going out on personals. Ario substituted. Two minutes later Buzzetti was put out on fouls. Orland Ward going into forward and MacFarland going back to guard. A minute later Davis of the Aggies made his fourth personal. After that the game was in the hands of Romney's crew who by stalling and fast breaking ran up five points to the Bobcats' three.

The Bobcats went down fighting. Every man gave the best he had. The King is dead. Long live the King.

Beginning the game as even bets Montana State opened the scoring with a long one by Worthington. Davis, Ailsop and Campbell then scored eight without a return. F. Ward and Worthington added five making the score 7-10 for the Aggies; who took time out. From then on Thompson did the scoring for the Bobcats while Davis and Campbell each annexed a basket ending the half 12-14 in favor of the Aggies. Parkinson and Davis added five at the beginning of the second half. Montana took time out and O. Ward scored his third basket. Thompson brought the score to 20-21 and then Davis, Ailsop and Campbell gave the Aggies another seven point lead. Frank Ward was hurt in a scrimmage and then came back to score five points to again put his team in the running. With eight minutes to play Worthington was forced out on personals and two minutes later Buzzetti was put out. From then on it was the Aggie game. They won their title by taking the last game of the play off.

WELCOME

On the first page of this edition is a welcome from President Atkinson to the nineteenth annual interscholastic basketball tournament from the institution. We, speaking for the students of M. S. C., extend to all the contesting teams and all the visitors a most hearty greeting and hope that your stay here will be a delightful one.

Of course we realize that to the losers will come disappointment but that is the inevitable for some. We have tried to look the records of the teams up in an unbiased manner and have picked our winners, as shown on the front page, in the manner in which we expect them to place. Of course we are probably wrong in many placings but then if we picked a complete list of winners what use would the tournament be?

POLICING

We have attended tournaments here for many years and from all appearances this one seems to be the best and the most smoothly run of them all. The games are close and thrilling; the crowd composed of sportsmen as well as the team members and the function of coordinating all the departments of the tournament are being carried out in an admirably smooth way.

However, we have one suggestion to offer or fault to find, as we may say. We have always believed in that saying "First Come Best Served," but evidently the police officers in charge of the parking space think otherwise. Why is it that the motorists who arrive first have to place their cars in the most out of the way places and climb over snow drifts only to wade through a sea of mud on the other side while the late comers are permitted the best parking spaces?

It seems to us that the procedure should be reversed. It is safe to say that motorists will not come early if they know they will have to take the poorest parking spaces when, if they arrive late, they can get the better positions. They will come late and form the crowd that must be taken care of after the games start.

A PIECE OF PAPER

A quizz is in season. The students are busy writing on their tests. Silence prevails thru the room. Suddenly the sound of the bell listurbs the class and several of the members arise and hand their examinations to the prof. Soon the whole class is dismissed with the results of many brainstorm lodged in the professor's hands.

Time passes and the papers are returned. Some have made fine grades on the quizz and some are not so good. That is the end of the affair with many of the students. But it is not the end of the exam with the prof. He has been shown the inside of many a student's philosophy on life. Some men have studied and written a fine paper. The professor approves of these men. He has not only marked them upon their knowledge of the subject but sub-consciously upon their honesty.

Others have shown, not so marked an ability with the questions, and have made some futile efforts at a bluff. Thus have these particular pupils displayed certain characteristics that have marked them with the profs. He is a student of human nature and is able to read between the lines. And in doing so, he has discovered certain things about students that the same students have believed to be safely hidden with themselves.

And so it is with every piece of paper that is returned with a lesson read and graded. It is only a piece of paper to the student but to a real prof it is an open book that reveals more than acquaintanceship can ever show.—Mines.

WOMEN IMPROVE
IN WATER SPORT

"The time will come," writes Fred Wittner in the March issue of College Humor, "when women will hold their own with men in the water. For one thing, they are more physically adapted to exposure and cold temperature, while their physique is well fitted to the nature of the sport."

"A comparison of the marks of both sexes in swimming is interesting. In the 1928 Olympics, Miss Osipowich won the hundred meter free style championship in one minute eleven seconds, while Johnny Weissmuller won the same event in the men's division in forty-eight and three-fifths seconds. Proportionally, the same distance separates the two sexes in the aquatic sport as in tract where Elizabeth Robinson runs the fastest one hundred yards in eleven and one-fifth seconds as compared to the nine and three-fifths seconds that man has reached."

"An indication of the rapid rise that swimming has made as a college sport in recent years may be had from the facts and figures of the sixth annual collegiate championships held in Washington University's new pool last year. All existing collegiate records in the light events were lowered and two world's records were established. Such spectacular performances in a single meet had never before been approached."

"Northwestern, ably coached by the veteran Tom Robinson, won the title with 31 points. The Purple has captured the United States championship on three occasions and the Big Ten crowd on nine."

"The world's records to go by the board were made by George Kojac of Rutgers, undoubtedly the outstanding college swimmer in the country, in the 150 yard backstroke event, and by Northwestern's 300 yard medley team composed of Dick Hinch, Donald Petersen and Al Schwartz. But Shields of Brigham Young University, Utah, set national marks for the 220 and 44 yard fre style events. He was also high scorer of the meet, with ten points.

J. C. TAYLOR

"Charlie Daniels, Duke Kahanamoku, Walter Ross, Johnny Weissmuller—thus reads the roll of the world beaters of former years. Now comes another star who learned his swimming lessons in the murky waters of the East River that winds its way through New York City. Can Kojac eclipse the individual performances of Daniels, Kahanamoku, Ross and Weissmullr to write another glowing chapter into the history of American swimming?"

"The signs all point that way. In the 100 meter backstroke event in the last Olympics young Kojac, then a Rutgers sophomore broke the world's record on two occasions—in the heat and again in the finals—to defeat such stars as Walter Laufer, Paul Wyatt and Bresford of Great Britain."

SWIMMING MEET WITH
MISSOULA PLANNED

Everyone Interested Urged To Turn Out. Bobcats Loose In Conference Tilt Because of Illness and Lack of Experience

Due to the lack of experience and illness the Bobcat swimming team only garnered five points in the conference meet at Salt Lake City, February 28 and March 1.

Th four men, who made the trip were Bill Walker, Jack Erkkila, Kenneth Wheat and Tom Garry. Under the conditions the team did well with Kiefer, high point man of the Intramural meet out because of illness. The team took third in the relay losing only by a bit of bad luck on one of the turns.

A meet has been planned with Missoula in conjunction with wrestling to be held either April 5 or 12.

"Everyone interested in swimming is urged to turnout and get in condition, said Coach Doland. "As we have not enough men for a complete squad there are many places to be filled."

Harnessing Niagara Falls to the washing machine

Cheaper power! Groping after this modern touchstone to wealth, deluded inventors slaved over perpetual motion machines . . . informed inventors evolved the turbine . . . broad visioned men harnessed the rush of waters . . . engineers raised pressures and temperatures to produce more power without corresponding increases of cost.

While, step by step, this progress has taken place, the many men who have contributed to it could not know what far-reaching results it would have. Now the ultimate boons grow clear. Water power development becomes a national policy, steam bids fair to rival water power for cheapness, economically produced power brings more plentiful goods, lights houses and hauls crowds in cities, is carried to rural sections to lift washday drudgery from farm women's shoulders.

Among the many industrial victories that are behind this revolution, none is more important than wider knowledge of piping materials and better materials. One of the highly prized chapters of our history is the contribution that Crane research and valve engineering has made to the general advance. The results of this research are embodied in a Crane book, Pioneering in Science. It is a fascinating story of engineering development and a valuable reference work for engineering students. A request will bring you a copy.

LOOTER'S MUSICAL COMEDY "QUEEN HIGH" IS OUTSTANDING EVENT. MANY OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS ARRIVE FOR STATE TOURNAMENT

A glance at the social calendar will show that society has been enjoying itself to the utmost. The Ellen Theatre last Monday and Tuesday nights was the scene of the musical comedy "Queen High," presented by the Looters Club. A star cast, supported by snappy mens' and womens' choruses caused the comedy to be a huge success.

Wednesday evening an enthusiastic crowd from many parts of the state witnessed the first games of the State Tournament at the gym. The spirit of Tournament is everywhere present. Fraternity and Sorority houses are sparing no effort to decorate in true Tournament fashion. Brilliant lights and huge "M's" grace the entrances to the various houses. At one such house may be seen a clever imitation of the college gymnasium building, lighted as the original is lighted during a time of so much activity.

ERMA MONROE WINS FIRST CO-ED SWIMMING MEET HELD SATURDAY

Harrington and Barringer Deserve Credit. Forty Women Enter Competition. Helen Oliver, Manager, Exceptionally Good Records Made in Several Events

The first co-ed swimming meet held at the college plunge Saturday, March 8, was very successful. Approximately 40 women entered in competition in the speed events, diving contest, and form strokes. Special mention should be given to Ann Harrington in the diving event and to Sarah Barringer in the speed strokes. Miss Barringer swam the 20 yards in a little better than 13 seconds, which breaks the record set by Dorothy Garrett two years ago.

Helen Oliver, swimming manager, was in charge of the meet. Girls who did not swim were busily employed as time keepers, scorers, and starters.

The first meet ended with last year's champion, Erma Monroe, leading the mermaids with a total of 81 points. Mae Boyd was second with 78, and Sarah Barringer third with 72 points.

All women who plan to enter the next meet should fill in entrance blanks before Friday. The meet will begin Monday, March 17, at 8:00 p. m. Women may enter both meets, but points toward the Miller swimming medal, which is awarded annually to the girl with the highest individual score, can be counted only in one meet.

If it proves satisfactory to Missoula, Montana State's best swimmers will compete in the speed events with the University in a telegraphic meet.

Next week, inclusive, the 1, 2 and 3 minute speed events are being conducted. The distances made on 3 separate occasions during the times mentioned are recorded. The woman with the highest score of feet swum becomes holder of the endurance event.

This is a new event entered in the swimming meet. Last year was the first time that students participated in an endurance speed test and approximately 20 women took advantage of it. Great hopes are held for an increase in the number of participants in this year's event.

Don't forget to fill out entrance blanks before Friday!

MAN OF ALL WORK

Gas is joining hands with electricity in eliminating the drudgery of house-work. In the modern home it cooks the dinner, keeps food cold, makes ice, provides hot water, heats the house, burns the garbage and dries the clothes, all automatically.

It is a modern "man." Some change from the day when it was predicted that the use of gas would disappear with the advent of electricity.

CO-ED BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT AT END

Closely Contested Series Ends in Two Tie Games for Championship. All-star Team to Be Chosen Soon

The girls' basketball season ended Saturday, March 8, with three teams tied for the championship. After the two attempts to play off the tie had failed, the season was officially closed.

No attempt to determine the championship team will be made.

M. S. C. does not sponsor intramural basketball as many students seem to believe. Those reporting for this W. A. A. sport are divided alphabetically according to classes.

Competition this year was unusually keen among the various teams. Even the games that were last involved fighting an overtime and many defeats were only by a very narrow margin.

The upperclassmen, captained by Marjorie Nye, includes Margaret Crest, Bess Eyre, Mildred Porter, Lillian Tubbs, and Frances Mallon. The varsity sweater team, captained by Helen Fechter, consisted of Dorothy Garrett, Erma Monroe, Agnes Nugent, Martha Hawksworth, and Esther Stockton. The third team tying for honors was a sophomore team with Betty Brain as its leader. Other members were: Carolyn Delaney, Ruth Nelson, Erma Nishet, Ann Harrington, and Esther Riddell.

M S C MATMEN WIN IDAHO MEET

Bobcat Squad Weakened By Illness But Dual Meet By Five Point Margin

The Montana State wrestlers defeated the Idaho matmen in a dual meet held at Pocatella, Idaho, March 3, by a score of 20-15.

Due to illness, the Bobcat squad was weakened and some matches had to be forfeited to the Vandals.

Montana scored when K. Freese, S. Wagner, Clair Freese, and Captain Mull won their matches on falls.

The results were:
115—Etow was decided.
125—Forfeited.
135—Thraillkill, thrown.
145—C. Freese, won on a fall.
155—Capt. Mull, won on a fall.
165—Markin was decided by A. A. U. champion.

175—Wagner, won on a fall.
Heavy—K. Freese won on a fall.

The men who made letters on the Utah-Idaho trip were: Etow, Thraillkill, Mull, K. Freese, Wagner, and Markin.

A tentative meet with Missoula has been planned to be held soon, this met will give some more men an opportunity to win their award. "Anyone wishing to try out for the Missoula meet should turn out immediately," stated Coach Dolan. "We need men in the 115, 125, and 135 pound classes for the next meet and next year. These classes have always been our weakest points and with more men out we could strengthen our squad very much."

THREE ALL-CONFERENCE BOBCATS OFFICIATE AT THE NINETEENTH ANNUAL HIGH SCHOOL TOURNEY

O. WARD

F. WARD

A. THOMPSON

Three all-conference men will officiate at the nineteenth state interscholastic tournament. Captain "Cat" Thompson, Frank Ward and Orland Ward, who were selected on the Denver Post's team, arrived in time to referee the series.

Thompson has made this mythical five for four consecutive years and has made Knute Rockne's all-American. Last year he ran up a record of 208 points for an all time conference record. He has been a mainstay on the Bobcat "Wonder" team and an important cog in the Bobcat machine that has won nation wide recognition.

Frank Ward, last year's captain and all-conference center, will work with Thompson and O. Ward in the tournament. Frank broke the conference record, held by Thompson until this year, by scoring 211 points in the western division games.

"Boss" Parsons states in the Denver Post that Frank is the greatest center he has ever seen in action. F. Ward has been the steadiest and most consistent scorer for the "Cats".

"Stretch" Murphy, brilliant Purdue center, and Ward are accepted by newspaper men everywhere as the cream of basketball centers. Those who have seen both in action are inclined to rate the Bobcat center as a cooler and headier player.

Orland Ward is the most rugged player on the squad. He was named on the third all-conference team this year. Orland is a very consistent player, having a keen eye for the basket, and he is tireless on the floor. He ran up 40 points in one game this year. This is his third year as regular on the team.

All these men are graduating this year. They have played for Montana in its greatest reign of basketball. In the past four years the Bobcats have been dominant in all basketball circles.

The tournament is fortunate in having men of this calibre to officiate. They know all the ins and outs of the game and are well qualified in all respects to do a fair, impartial job, pleasing to everyone concerned.

Conference Comments

The Bobcats of Montana State College are champions no more.

A team of youngsters, in a series of youth against brainy age, are the holders of the Division crown. But youth must be served.

But the Big Team went down fighting. They fought to the last ditch. They never gave up but a long, strenuous season left them in a slump that took them down hill for the last six games and ended with the Utah Aggies taking the first title from Montana in three years.

Each game was a heart breaker. The first was the Aggies. They scored four points before Worthington sank the first marker for the Golden Tornado and they lead the entire game.

Parkinson was all over the floor. He really is fast and those one handed shots of his are hard to guard. And the more difficult the shot the more often he seems to make them.

Davis, the only veteran on the Aggie squad, finished the game in a blaze of glory. He's a dead-eye on the set ups.

Frank Ward finished his career as the outstanding conference player of all time by breaking the all time scoring record with more than 250 points in 15 games. The former record was held by a Colorado man with something like 241 in 14 games.

And Frank made both the Denver Post and Associated Press conference teams.

The third game was the rough one. Dana is an excellent official but the boys did go at it. Worthington and Buzzetti both went out on fouls—early in the second half and Davis of the Aggies quickly followed them.

All Dana called were justified. But the third one on Max in the last game was for face guarding and called by Warner. And some say face-guarding isn't a foul in the rule book but it was at the Desert gym.

Tommy Thompson gave the best he had. But the old master couldn't overcome the vitality and ambitions of the younger generation. The first game he tried to pull it out of the fire single handed during the second half but just couldn't. But he tried and who could do more.

Worthington played ball. Probably the best of his career. The second game he got four baskets and kept the team in the running. He tied the score and made the first of the evening each night. And the way he pushed passes down the throats of the Aggies, was nobody's business. He's a great ball player. And next year?

Ray Buzzetti was playing his usual game the second night and the Bobcats came out ahead. Monday he seemed off.

Orland Ward played ball. While his shots were off he gave an exhibition of fight that was worth seeing. And when the going gets rough, he's the best Bobcat at giving better than he receives.

The greeting the fans gave the team when they returned Tuesday showed that winning or losing, the efforts of the athletes are appreciated. It was a different greeting than the one accorded the team last year after they won the third title. And it meant more to the players and their Coach than anything the people could have done for them. And it was appreciated.

Basketball is over for another year. But the "old order changeth" and there is a new champion. But the big five tried and gave all they had. It was only Tunney against Dempsey, youth against age, cockiness against skill.

Bruce Garlinghouse as Richard Johns an aspiring young advertising man, also gave a splendid performance and assisted materially in the success of the show with his singing. Dorothy Garrett as the English maid Cordell, showed a natural talent in handling character parts and two of the bright spots in the show was her dance and her song with Jimmy Owens, "Sez You Sez I." He has exceptional talent and will not doubt be heard from in the future. Carolyn Haley and Edith Waterman as the Models made a very nice team, handled these minor parts very well.

Successful Chorus
The chorus under the direction of Georgianna Fisher was one of the best ever seen on a local stage and the dances will long be remembered for the pep they injected into them, and when it is taken into consideration these choruses were produced in the short time of three weeks, they were marvels. The personnel of the chorus were: Wilma Van Housen, Esther Stockton, Elizabeth McNeil, Virginia Keyes, Grace Anderson, Carolyn Cochrane, Helen Cornwell, Bernice Norris, Adena Schumacher, Marjorie Little; the boys were: Noble Bosley, Earle Hansen, Jim Loftus, Lorren Marshall, Ross Chenoweth, Bill Burkhardt, Ralph Cline, Harold Hanson, Ellsworth Hastings and Thoralf Rivines. They all reserve unstinted praise for their work.

Between the acts specialties were put on by Jimmy Loftus in a tap dance assisted by Ed Pegram at the piano which was very well received. They were followed by a tap and acrobatic dance by Tony Sears, the little four-year-old wonder who took the house by storm with his clever dancing. The little fellow had to take several bows and do a short encore before the audience would quiet down.

Between the second and third act, Rev. Klemme rendered several selections on the Ellen pipe organ in a manner which showed that he is an accomplished musician and entertainer.

each color, in intricate and interesting process.

Mr. Harwood, a well-known western modernist, sent an excellent group of colored etchings of pastoral scenes of France and Italy. They are especially to be admired because of the tonal effects which are so difficult to achieve in etchings and for the fineness and delicacy of detail.

The exhibition as a whole has a wide appeal and is notable because of the great variety of interesting and unusual modern technique which the different artists have used.

General admission is 50c with a special price of 25c for visiting high school students. The ticket entitles the holder to attend the exhibition as many times as he cares to. High school students are especially invited and urged to take advantage of an excellent opportunity to see a fine group of paintings by prominent American artists.

CITIZENS OF BOZEMAN, FACULTY AND STUDENTS FINANCE TOURNAMENT

decided, in order to avoid losses to the individuals, that the Athletic Association should finance the 1930 High School Meet.

This year the Athletic Association, after the close of the basketball season, has a surplus and is in a position to withstand any deficit. This is practically the same as saying that the students of M. S. C. are financing the tournament for it is their money which is backing it. So it may be of interest to you to know just what the arrangements made by the financial committee are. These, of course, are rather general.

The total cost of the tournament is estimated at $4500. Each team invited is allowed railroad fare for seven men and a coach. Their board is paid for their stay during the tournament. The college will furnish lodging free of charge or else the team must pay their own lodging in case they choose to stay elsewhere during the first two days of the tournament, then if they are still in the running the college pays their room as well as board. The ticket sale brings in all the money with which these bills must be paid. During the last few years the attendance has been continually decreasing and this accounts for subsequent losses.

Coach Dyche said that the tournament this year promised to be the most successful yet held here and that the prospects were bright for a successful tournament for M. S. C. and the High Schools of the state.

were furnished by the individual members and the others were borrowed from the Bozeman City band which was disbanded about that time. Practices were held in Charley Mull's store with the band organization standing all its own expenses.

For the first four years, practices were continued in Mull's store. Later the band moved to a room in the Horse barn, and from there was promoted to the top floor of the Agricultural building. At this time rehearsals were held from 8 to 9 a. m., as there were no scheduled classes at that time, but when the authorities saw that 50 students were willing to report for band practice at 8 o'clock three times a week, they decided to hold regular classes at that time, and thus forced the band back to evening rehearsals.

When the new gym was built, a room was reserved for the band, and they were allowed to practice in the main gymnasium. About the same time, a portion of the students activity fee was apportioned to the band, and thus it was put for the first time on a permanent basis. Previous to this, the organization had to furnish its own uniforms, instruments, and music, and a great part of the time Mr. Howard was working with little or no salary. Since that time, however, the band has become a regular student organization, composed of student members, and supported by the student body.

ing the part of the jealous wife. Bruce Garlinghouse as Richard Johns an aspiring young advertising man, also gave a splendid performance and assisted materially in the success of the show with his singing. As Jerry Vanderholt the firm's lawyer, Charles Hile was all that could be expected and the manner in which he handled his part was a revelation to his many friends. Dorothy Garrett as the English maid Cordell, showed a natural talent in handling character parts and two of the bright spots in the show was her dance and her song with Jimmy Owens, "Sez You Sez I." Bobby Manlove was another find this year and as Jimmy the office boy, he certainly made good with his audiences and the only regret is that he could not have had a more prominent part. He has exceptional talent and will not doubt be heard from in the future. Carolyn Haley and Edith Waterman as the Models made a very nice team, handled these minor parts very well.

Basketball is over for another year. But the "old order changeth" and there is a new champion. But the big five tried and gave all they had. It was only Tunney against Dempsey, youth against age, cockiness against skill.
