

Gripe Committee Makes Recommendations On Seven o'Clock Classes

Decides to Take no Action as Regards Saturday Quizzes as Outside Its Powers

The Student-Faculty relations committee, of which Professor P. C. Gaines is chairman, made the following recommendations to President A. L. Strand on Wednesday, November 24.

"The Student-Faculty Relations Committee has considered carefully the subject of 7 o'clock classes, to which there has been much opposition, and it is the unanimous opinion of the committee that this hour is undesirable for the following reasons:

1. The best health of the student is jeopardized. Some of the students have no way of obtaining breakfast before they go to these classes. The day from 7 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock at night is too long. For those students with outside activities the day is even longer, and for those who work for board and room this hour is almost impossible.

2. The student is too tired to do his best work, thus wasting his own time and that of the instructor. Evening study after so long a day is to little purpose.

3. A 7 o'clock class is a hardship for instructors and students, especially during the days of short daylight in the autumn and winter quarters.

Attached hereto is a communication from the registrar's office detailing the classes held at that hour and the reasons for scheduling them. The present schedule can scarcely be changed for the rest of this quarter, but the committee wishes to recommend that some other way out of the difficulty be found in the event of a future recurrence of this problem. This represents the unanimous opinion of the nine members of the Committee who were present."

"After consultation with various students and faculty members whose viewpoints were presented to the Student-Faculty Relations Committee it was decided to make no recommendations in response to the complaints concerning the giving of quizzes on Saturdays. This the committee considers only a small part of the larger problem of Saturday classes. Granted that there are Saturday classes it is not within the province of the committee in this case to make suggestions as to how the individual instructor is to conduct his classes or cover the work to be done in the time allotted to him. This represents the unanimous opinion of the nine members of the committee who were present."

Respectfully submitted for the committee by P. C. Gaines, chairman.

The president said Wednesday that he would put the matter before the Dean's Council for further consideration.

A thirty-two page booklet entitled "M. S. C. Postscripts" will be ready for the students early next week. The book has been edited by Pat Hart, illustrated by Margaret Austin, and published by the Sabrettes, organization of the R. O. T. C. sponsors on the campus.

Art Bazaar Excellent For Xmas Shopping

As far as your Christmas shopping is concerned, have you been carrying on a fruitless search for that certain something for that certain somebody? Do you want something a bit unusual so that you can know that the other guy won't think of the same thing, and you will still have something not out of the range which your scant quarter's-end pocketbook allows you? If you have, or even if you are puzzled about what to buy for Mother, Father, Sister or Brother, then the place for you is the Art Bazaar in the Art Department on Friday and Saturday, December 3 and 4. Sponsored by the Art club, a fine selection of articles has been obtained from the Near East, the Orient and other sections of the world; and all will be offered for sale to students. It is your opportunity to obtain at reason-

A. W. S. Meeting Features Talk by Mrs. Paul Grieder

Group Entertained by Music Urged to Support Co-op Housing Movement

The Associated Women Students held their first general meeting of the school year Tuesday, November 23. The assembly, which was open to all women students, met in the Engineering Building.

The feature of the program was a talk by Mrs. Paul A. Grieder who spoke on the life of girls and young women in China. Having lived and taught in China eight years, Mrs. Grieder was well qualified to discuss her topic. The talk was especially appropriate in that Montana State expects to have a foreign student, probably from the Orient, on the campus next year. This will be made possible through the efforts of the Home Economics Club.

Mrs. Grieder is the author of "The Yankee Bodleys" and many short stories which have appeared in "Collier's," "The Pictorial Review," and "Saturday Evening Post." Her pen name is Naomi Lane Babson.

The string quartet, composed of Janet Baker, Patricia McAuley, Judith Doering, and Gene Lieberg, rendered several selections, and Carolyn Gay sang three vocal solos. Dean Harrison asked the cooperation of all women students in promoting the Cooperative House.

State Debate League Will Meet in Helena

The All-State Debate League will have its second annual meeting in Helena, the third week in February. The first meeting was held last year in Bozeman when the League was first organized. Montana State College was the winner last year.

The members of this League are: the State University, State School of Mines, Carroll College, Polytechnic at Billings, Northern Montana College in Dillon, and Montana State College. It is hoped that the Normal at Billings will join the League this year.

The Montana Intercollegiate Peace Oratorical Contest is held in connection with the debate league each year.

The question for the debate league for this year is: Resolved: that there should be compulsory arbitration between labor and capital over industrial disputes.

Mrs. Hannon Lectures Before Camera Club

Last Wednesday, at their last meeting of the quarter, Mrs. Hannon, of the Art Dept., gave the Camera club a very instructive and interesting lecture on photographic composition.

Mrs. Hannon showed a number of pictures she had taken on her travels to illustrate her lecture and to clarify certain points about composition. The excellence of her pictures flatly contradicted her statement that she was not a photographer.

Barton Hahn newly elected president, announced that there might be one more very brief business meeting this year to determine a time of meeting for next quarter. At present, the time of meeting allows only for a business meeting or a program.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT SUNDAY, DECEMBER 12

Sunday, December 12, the fourth annual Christmas concert, under the direction of the music department, will be given. It will be presented in the Emerson auditorium at 3:15.

The first of these programs consisted of songs and carols. After which, in 1935 and 1936, the Messiah was given. These entertainments are designed to arouse the Christmas spirit of the M. S. C. students.

This year there will be a complete departure from the Messiah. Unfortunately, those students with good solo voices graduated last year. Thus, solos are out of the question. A series of tableaux depicting Christmas customs in different countries and historic events will constitute the program.

The idea was compiled by Mrs. Benjamin Goodsell. It will be staged simply and lighted very effectively under the direction of Mr. Bert Hanson. The costumes are to be very elaborate. The theme of the program requires one large and one small orchestra and also one large chorus of approximately eighty voices and one small chorus of thirty voices. The music is under the direction of Mr. Benjamin Goodsell.

The selections planned will all be of a Christmas nature. Some of the carols to be sung are well known and some are not. "Hallelujah," taken from the famous Messiah, will be sung as a concluding number.

Local Chapter Plans For AGR Convention

Earl McKamey, general chairman of the 1938 National Convention of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity, returned Wednesday evening from Chicago where he attended the Executive Council meeting of the organization. He was accompanied by Cliff Dougherty member of the Editorial Board of the fraternity and graduate assistant in the local Horticulture Department. The convention will be held August 29-Sept. 2 of 1938 in Bozeman and Yellowstone Park. Alpha Delta chapter which is located on the local campus will be the host to the gathering.

McKamey is a junior at Montana State College and has been active on the campus. He is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, Alpha Zeta, the Agricultural Club and has been active in judging work. He is probably best known to many students as a musician as he is an accomplished piano accordion artist and is frequently featured on local programs. While a student at Great Falls high school, McKamey appeared on numerous radio programs. This will be the first western convention of the fraternity. The committee is planning a program which will give Alpha Gamma Rho men in the thirty-two chapter throughout the nation, a real taste of Montana and western hospitality.

Young People's Fellowship Meetings Novel, Interesting

In the Young People's Fellowship, the campus boasts of a new and interesting extra-curricular activity. Established primarily for all members of the Episcopal church on the campus, anyone is welcome to attend the meetings. There is no regular membership and no dues. The objective

I'm thinking that this school could qualify quite well as a place to send heart patients to recover. They certainly could get their fill of peace and quiet. Not even the remotest chance of a relapse caused by shock. Everything goes on its accustomed way with no deviations from the conventional. The governing powers should be quite thankful; while other schools are having strikes, protest meetings, campaigns and such, we pursue our education with no outward sign of disturbance. How nice for those responsible for our conduct while we're here, but ducedly awkward for anyone attempting to put before the public something original each week.

No scandals, kidnapping, attempted suicides; not even an expulsion.

Dean McKee Back From Washington; Tells of Meetings

Is Appointed Secretary of Section in Experiment Station Work

Dean McKee returned Tuesday, November 23, from the annual convention of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities held at Washington, D. C., November 14-17.

This convention was the commemoration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the United States Department of Agriculture and of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Agricultural Experiment stations.

President Alfred Atkinson of Arizona, formerly of Montana State College, presented an address at the Monticello program, which consisted of paying due honor to Thomas Jefferson. (Continued on Page Two)

N. Y. A. Is of Immense Value at Montana State

According to Phil S. Eckert, chairman of the N. Y. A. Project Committee, many students of Montana State College are engaged in N. Y. A. work.

Without N. Y. A. help the dramatic and musical programs could not be carried out as completely as they are, for a great deal of the stage scenery and costumes are made by project workers.

Local merchants and residential people provide work for worthy students, and at the same time, the people who want students to work for them are given satisfactory workers.

The N. Y. A. workers carry on research study on benefits of 4-H training and methods of improvement. It is expected that the results of this study will reveal much valuable information in 4-H club work and which will be of considerable assistance in administering the 4-H club program in Montana.

Freshman Band Gets Enthusiastic Turnout

The largest Frosh Band in the history of the college is also showing promises that they are the best Frosh band in the history of M. S. C. The total enrollment stands now at sixty-two, among whom are a surprising number of the institution's most promising musicians.

For the military end of its activities, the band will probably be divided into two bands, there being only forty some dress uniforms available. Each unit will be full however, and will receive the same kind and amount of instruction and work.

As in the past, this band will be under the general direction of Lou Howard, and several student directors will direct the band during winter and spring quarters. The names of the student directors will be announced at a later date. For the present, Lou Howard conducts rehearsals every Monday evening during the fall quarter, in order to give the new bandmen the fundamental training that later fit them to be members of the Bobcat band, or the Varsity concert band.

Something should be done. One way around it would be for all of us to devote ourselves to doing at least one thing a day that'll make good copy, turn in a false alarm (don't turn her in to me, tho), climb the college flag pole, stay awake during a lecture; just anything to make talk. Make it really dangerous for a person with a weak vital organ to stay here and listen to all that goes on. Course, don't go to extremes and do stuff that can't be printed because that would just be defeating my purpose. Be nice and make things so lively that there'll be plenty to write about for the next six months. Do the big apple in the dean's front yard, have an egg rolling contest in the middle of January, start up a corn husking bee, or have spelldown. You'd be surprised how much it'd help.

Judging Team Returns From Chicago International Livestock Exposition; Sheep Take Prizes

Audiences Acclaim 'Swan' After Finish Of Three Day Run

Daphne Dell, Dan Lovelace Considered Outstanding In Their Performances

Tuesday night marked the close of the three day run of the M. S. C. fall quarter play, "The Swan". Last Friday, it was presented for the first time at Manhattan, and then brought back to Bozeman for a two night run in the Ellen. The play was well received by the large audience on all three occasions. The plot, based upon the cunning plans of Beatrice to have her daughter marry the prince, was made exceptionally spicy by the unexpected results of these plans, the humorous criticism of the Prince, the super-efficiency of Aunt Symphrosia, the brisk service of Caesar and his assistants, and the continual interchange of kisses throughout the play.

Among the leading characters were to be found several stars of former plays: Mary Dell Gay, Ralph White, Ed Exum, Isabel Ford, Tod Fisher, Jack O'Connor. Two of the outstanding characters of "The Swan", however were new to dramatics here. These were Daphne Dell and Dan Lovelace. Other new players were Edna Graff, Glenn Cooley, Lyle Miller, Peggy Roman, Corinne Aicher, Myrl Thompson, Jimmery Pence, and Carl Peterson.

The sets, designed by Lela Shepherd and constructed by the play production classes, made a very fitting setting for the action of the play. The entire cast, as well as the production staff and the most capable director, is to be congratulated for presenting such an excellent play.

Montana Chemical Group Meets Dec. 6

A meeting of the Montana section of the American Chemical Society will be held in Room 304 of Lewis Hall at 8 p. m. on December 6. Dr. B. L. Johnson, of M. S. C. is vice-chairman of this society.

The speaker of the meeting will be Dr. W. P. Kelly of the University of California. He will speak on "The Nature of Colloidal Materials of the Soil."

There will be no admittance charge and all students are invited to attend. A dinner at 6 p. m. at the Bozeman Hotel will precede the meeting. A cover charge of 65 cents will be assessed for the dinner.

Disillusion, Despair Greet Freshmen After Roundup

Just stand me up in a corner and leave me here to die. That's all I ask, now that freshman roundup week is over.

And I once thought I was the professor of at least a fairly average intellect and mind. Disillusion and despair engulfs me. Why oh why did I ever leave home and my dear old ma and pa?

Grades, grades, grades. That's all we freshmen ever hear. Drat it anyway. How did I know my zoology professor would expect me to be on such intimate terms with "Hezie" my little laboratory crayfish? Imagine my chagrin in a quiz when I was expected to know all about the dear little fellow's innards, and all I can remember was the intelligent expression on his face and the dimple in his chin. Yes indeed, college is a strange place.

John Cummings With Eighteenth Place Is High Man From Montana State College

Montana State College Livestock Judging team returned from Chicago, December 1st. The team placed 19th out of the 25 teams in competition. John Cummings was 18th high man out of the 125 competing in the contest. The M. S. C. team's highest placing was in swine judging, placing 8th.

Music Department Is To Present Assembly

Wednesday, December 8th, at 9 o'clock, the Assembly Committee will present the music department assisted by the verse speaking chorus in an assembly. Featured in this assembly will be the piano work of Mrs. Sazada Dickson. Mrs. Dickson is a new member of the music department this year. This will be her first appearance at the college and also the first since she joined the assembly committee.

The selections Mrs. Dickson will play will be "Etude in D Flat" by Liszt, "Scissors Grinder" by David Gevon, and "Concert Valse" by Liebing.

Other members on the program will include a vocal solo by Elizabeth Johnson; a violin and cello obbligatoes by Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Goodsell; and the verse speaking chorus under the direction of Mr. Henry Boles.

This will be the last assembly of the fall quarter, 1937.

Towns from North and South Dakota were coached by Jim Gannaway and James (Tiny) Watson, both graduates of Montana State College.

Kansas was first in the contest, Cornell second and Iowa third. Teams from all parts of the United States, as well as one team from Ontario, Canada, competed in the contest.

The team visited the University of Minnesota, Iowa State College, and University of Illinois, Chicago, the Swift Packing Plant, Board of Trade, Field Museum, and other points of interest.

The judging teams were entertained with a banquet at the familiar "Stockyards Inn", given by the Saddle and Sirlin Club.

For the third consecutive year M. S. C. showed the first prize Hampshire weather lamb at Chicago International Livestock Show. This year the Montana lamb defeated more than thirty lambs from all parts of United States and Canada and was reserve champion Hampshire. The group of three Hampshire weather lambs of M. S. C. also placed first. A Montana State ramboillet weather placed in 4th class.

Verse Chorus Will Appear at Assembly

The verse speaking chorus will appear at the assembly on December 8 and present two numbers. Edna Millay's "On Hearing a Symphony of Beethoven" and Walter de la Mare's "The Song of Shadows." They are also planning on presenting a couple of numbers at the Christmas program.

Mrs. Boles states that more men's voices would be appreciated. It is a very informal activity. There are no tryouts and open to anyone interested.

There is a possibility that Bozeman might get a broadcasting station, and if it does, tentative plans have been made to broadcast the verse chorus.

Glider Club Revived and Plans Made For Future

Awaiting information concerning repairs from the east, the Glider club of Montana State College is preparing to recondition its glider. Chief among repair jobs is the patching of tears in the wing fabric. The glider is now in the Steam Laboratory, and according to a member of the club, it is impossible to say when it will be ready for flight. The organization plans to limit its membership to twelve or fifteen.

SEX

(Denver Clarion)

Sex Bears Its Ugly Head Again and (quote) "Is American Youth Swing-timing to Hell?" (unquote) blazons its pitifully blatant self across an article in Liberty Magazine. And reading this rubbish, mainly because five cents has been spent for the publication, we cannot help but feel that the footsteps of Liberty's authors, not Liberty's American youth, are headed for the nether regions. And we are the swing-timers speaking to our elders.

PASTE POT AND SCISSORS

We feel like dedicating the column this week to something or other—guess we'll make it Thanksgiving—and so to get in the proper spirit and mood of the occasion:

She was a beautiful young turkey, but she hung her head in shame when the old gobbler sneeringly inquired why she wasn't the guest of honor at some Thanksgiving feast.

"Nobody axed me," she shyly confessed.

Storekeeper—"This ten-cent piece doesn't ring good." Jack Rodda—"What do you want for a dime, a set of chimes?"

Aunt Emma (at Thanksgiving dinner)—"Aren't you going to say the blessing, dearie?"

Sako, the Sigma Chi from Ogden—"This food is coming to you through the courtesy of God Almighty."

They say there are sheep in the Himalayas that can run forty miles an hour. That's the only kind that could follow Mary today.

Mr. Hoffman—"Why was Columbus sent home in chains?"

Betty Fallon—"So he wouldn't skid on the wet roads."

And in concluding—some poetry about Thanksgiving—

Thanks for the turkey,
The cranberry jelly—
Thanks for a glorious
Ache in the stomach!

to be problem children: we do not know what will become of us; we do not do our studies every night; we do not turn our heads away from the opposite sex; frankly, we think the opposite sex is fun.

The old saying that accuser is often the guilty person may or may not apply in this case, but one look at the divorce records, the average age of sex criminals, and at the array of grimy facts whose red-faced headlines scream at youth from the front pages of his daily newspaper, might startle other people than Liberty.

We do not emphasize the truism that there is no fool like an old fool—we merely mention it in passing. We do emphasize the harm that can come from a magazine's attempt at re-vitalizing its circulation by jingling closeted skeletons and stirring up the dust of a relatively unimportant problem—one that must be settled and met.

Cornelius Wieringa Weds Ethel Kiser

In a quiet ceremony which came as a complete surprise to many college friends, Miss Ethel L. Kiser became the wife of Cornelius Wieringa at a wedding performed by the Rev. W. B. Spaulding at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house Friday evening.

The couple had attended the S. A. E. annual fall formal dinner dance Friday evening, then went to the fraternity house for the wedding ceremony. Jack Rodda and Katherine Wieringa, cousin of the groom were the attendants. After the wedding they returned to the dancing party where the marriage was announced by dancing a solo number to the tunes of "I Love You Truly" and "Violets."

The ceremony was held in the cozy atmosphere of lighted fireplace with Ernest Challenger rendering the piano and vocal selections.

The bride, a graduate of Montana State College last year, is a daughter of Mrs. W. P. Kiser of Bozeman. The groom, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wieringa of Lewistown, and is a senior in industrial chemistry.

Those attending the wedding as guests were Margaret Seamans, Mildred Spain, Myrie Thompson, Charles Mather, and Harold Ritter.

Dean McKee was appointed secretary of the sub-section of the Experiment Station work for the coming year. He stayed a few days longer to attend a meeting concerning the possibilities of the United States Department of Agriculture and the state co-operating in preparing from time to time summary publications which would assemble, organize, condense and evaluate the available information on important agricultural problems.

On the Pioneer's program, Dean J. L. Hills of Vermont presented an address on "Justin Smith Morrill, the statesman and the man." Mr. Hills was very able in this capacity in that he had been dean of agriculture for 40 years, is seventy-six years old and had been in the agricultur experiment station since 1893.

The programs are of a varied nature and always include an outside speaker and discussion. The meetings are held in the Fire Place Room of Herick Hall on Wednesday evenings at 7:30 o'clock and have, thus far, had a goodly number of students from all classes in attendance. Louis Schoenek is president, Pat Hart Secretary, and "Fr. Bill" Reeves Sponsor. The group plans to have a full page in the annual this year.

The program for next week is in charge of John Sandiland who has promised something from the military department.

National Champs Defy Bobcat Prestige

Denver Safeway's A. A. U. Champions

Bobcats Start '38 Season In Butte Against Safeways

By Ray Johnson

Next Wednesday Montana State College starts the 1937-38 basketball with a loud bang! The 1937 Rocky Mountain Conference Champion Bobcats will meet the 1937 National Champion Safeway team, at Butte on that date. And, the next night the two teams will wind up a two game series here in our own gym. The first game is being played at Butte to insure the guarantee called for by the Safeway team. But the second game will be here and all students will be admitted on their activity tickets. As an added attraction the National Champs will put on an exhibition at the gym at 4:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon for all those desiring to come.

These games promise to be a real season opener for the Cats, and players and students alike are anxiously awaiting them. Coach John "Brick" Breeden now has his Varsity squad numbering fifteen men and this number will soon be reduced to twelve. Those fifteen men are: Exum, Ogle, Little, Chauner, Feldman, Johnson, Gustafson, Wills, Corbin, Shoemaker, Berg, Cosner, Roth, Krevic and Campbell. Picked from these men the starting lineup will probably be: Exum, Ogle, Cosner, Little and Feldman.

Briefly considering each of these men we find first: Ed Exum, of Dillon, 5 feet 10 inches tall, weight 170 pounds. He heads the scorers of this year's Bobcat team and last season lead the entire Rocky Mountain Conference in scoring. He was picked all conference forward at the close of the season. Eddie was an excellent ball player last year and according to Coach Breeden he is better than ever this year. This is his last year of collegiate basketball and it looks as if it will be his best.

Teaming with Exum in directing the offense this year will be Bill Ogle, of Livingston 195 pound guard. He stands 6 feet 2 inches tall. Ogle was the second all conference player on the Bobcat squad last year and he earned the recognition by being the strongest defensive man on the squad and being practically as valuable on offensive. This will also be his last year of basketball.

Don Cosner of Bozeman, 200 pounds, height 6 feet, 1-inch tall will probably lead the defensive play of the Bobcats this year. His strong points are his defensive play, ball handling and ability to get the rebounds. This will be his first year as a regular on the first string.

Dick Little of Anaconda, 185 pounds, 6 feet, 1 inch tall is showing that he is equally good defensively and offensively and that he is outstanding in his passing ability. At shooting only Exum and Ogle can surpass him. He won a letter last year but this will be his first year as a regular.

Albert (Tuffy) Feldman of Terry, 160 pound forward, height 5 feet 10 inches probably will be in the starting lineup against the Denver Safeways. He is second only to Exum in speed and has the playing experience of earning two letters. He is a good shot and is very fast and deceptive.

So it looks as if even the National champs will have their work cut out for them to beat these Bobcats.

SIDELINES

Now that the moleskins have been packed away for another year the football men have turned to basketball. Many of the varsity stars were included among the men who turned out for the basketball team. Many were included in the final choice for the varsity team while most of the rest were included among the reserve members.

Basketball seems to be rapidly taking over the hearts of the students of Montana State College. A total of twenty-five men reported for varsity basketball while forty-five attended tryouts for the frosh team. Among these boys were several outstanding men from last year's leading interscholastic teams. Most of the men trying out for the freshmen squads are outstanding players and would be acceptable at any institution but out of these forty-five must be picked a mere sixteen squad members. It looks as if a lot of veterans may watch the game from the sidelines in future years.

The two scoring heads of Montana State's basketball team are due for another rampage this year. Both Ogle and Exum are in top form and anticipating their best year on the hardwood court. They are enough to keep any team worried let alone being added to a team composed of three excellent caliber players like Little, Cosner, and Shoemaker. There are also a lot of outstanding subs on the squad.
