

Montana State College Goes On The Air; N. B. C. Hookup Used To Make Known College Work

Broadcast Originates in Tanbark of Gymnasium; Radio Facilities On Main Floor For Student Benefit

Montana State College will be on the air over 99 National Broadcasting Company stations from 10:30 a. m. until 11:15 a. m. Wednesday, October 25. Several hundred thousand people will hear the program, "What Montana State College is Doing to Properly utilize the Resources of the State for the Welfare of the People," which will originate in the tanbark of the gymnasium at M. S. C. An assembly will be held during the broadcast for those students who wish to listen to the broadcast over a radio that will be set in the gymnasium. The well known N. B. C. announcer, Clinton "Bud" Twist, will be in charge of the program.

Announcer Twist will interview John C. Taylor and Dean Clyde McKee on the work of the Montana Extension Service and the Experiment station and problems concerning those. President A. L. Strand will discuss the purpose and significance of the college to general problems. Dramatic episodes portraying the history and development of agriculture in Montana will also be presented.

The Bobcat band will play two concert numbers, "Morning, Noon, and Night in Vienna" by Suppe and "March of the Steel Men" by Belsterling. A medley of college songs will be presented by a picked chorus and the band. The chorus will also sing, "Listen to the Lambs" by Dett. A musical number by Strauss will be played by the orchestra.

This program is one in a series of programs about Land Grant colleges that are being given during the National Farm and Home Hour in cooperation with the N. B. C. Bert Hansen and L. E. Opp will supervise the student participation in the broadcast.

A. W. S. Sponsors Social Chat In Herrick Hall

A. W. S. is sponsoring a "social chat" next Tuesday, Oct. 24th, in the Fireplace Room of Herrick Hall at 5:00 o'clock. The purpose of the chat is to bring together all the big sisters so there can be an exchange of ideas as to their duties and obligations toward their freshman charges. Dean Harrison will be called upon to say a few words to the group.

Entertainment for the occasion is being planned by Bettie Eagle, Margaret Lynd, and Mildred Spain. The committee in charge of refreshments will include Hazel Hoven, Charlotte Roll, Betty Kirscher, and Pat Morgan.

Grace Moore, A. W. S. president, has announced that Daphne DeBruin and the captains of the "Big Sister Movement" will act as hostesses to the group.

It is hoped that there will be a large attendance at the chat so that the Big Sister Plan may become more effective in helping the freshmen girls to solve their problems.

NEW STUDENTS GIVEN BANQUET BY AG CLUB

Holding its annual fall meeting Wednesday evening in the stock pavilion, the Agricultural Club honored the freshmen students and the men who have transferred from other schools.

President Kenneth Sire opened the meeting with a banquet which was served in record time by several members of the club. Dr. Welch acted as Master of Ceremonies and kept the assemblage in laughter during the remainder of the evening.

Due to absence of Dr. Nelson and Professor Tretsven, Dean McKee introduced the following members of the Dairy Products team, Paul Holzer, Ed Fallon, Joe Kolar, and Jack Fritz. The members of the Dairy Cattle team consisted of Woodrow Overcast, Art Kegel, Russel Newton and Paul Boylan, all of whom made the trip to Portland this fall.

As Mr. McCall, coach of the Animal Husbandry team, was absent from the city, Mr. Cummings substituted for him and introduced the men who were

AGRICULTURAL HONORARY TAPS SIX NEW MEN

Six new men were tapped for Alpha Zeta, Agricultural honorary fraternity, at the annual banquet held Wednesday night.

These six men were chosen on their outstanding ability along the lines of leadership, personality, character, and scholarship.

"Montana Engineer To Assume More Prominent Place Among MSC Publications" Howe States

Intensive Subscription Campaign Coupled With Student-Written Articles To Make Engineer A Major Campus Magazine

"Up until now, the official publication of the engineering students, the Montana Engineer, has remained mostly within the corridors of Roberts Hall. But this year and during the years to come, it begins to take its place as an M. S. C. publication, and assumes the responsibilities that fall upon a representative campus magazine," Carl Howe, editor of the Engineer, stated yesterday.

He said that there will be more student interest aroused through student-written articles, which will be in the language of a student or layman, and can be more readily understood. Each issue will feature an article by one alumnus from the department who has left our institution to make good in his own field.

Spartanians Tell Of Orientation Plans For Freshmen Girls

To help freshmen girls orient themselves in athletics several upper-class girls have been appointed to act as coaches and referees during practice and game periods, Daisy Flick, president of Spartanians, a women's athletic honorary, has announced. The first meeting of the group was a luncheon held last Friday in the gymnasium.

The plan of sports for the fall season will see experienced players, Helen Throm, Marion Buchman, Margaret Smith, and Mercedes Butler serving as coaches in volleyball, a sport which has proved itself to be more popular each year with the co-eds at MSC. Field hockey, a more rugged sport, will maintain its hold on the campus with Mary Stevens, Grace Moore, Daisy Flick, Bernadine Nelson, and Mercedes Butler directing activities on the field. Coaches in archery have not been announced as yet.

Members are chosen to Spartanians on the basis of outstanding ability in athletics, scholarship record, and

ALPHA ZETA CHOOSES JOE KOLAR AS OUTSTANDING FROSH

Joe Kolar of Raynesford was chosen as the outstanding freshman in Agriculture for the school year 1938-39 at the Ag Club banquet held in the stock pavilion last Wednesday evening.

This is an award that is given every fall by Alpha Zeta, Agricultural honorary fraternity, to the outstanding freshman in Agriculture of the previous school year, and is selected on the basis of outstanding ability along the lines of leadership, scholarship, personality, and character. The name of the recipient of the award is engraved upon the loving cup which is on permanent display in the Agricultural Hall of Fame in the Ag building.

Kolar, who had a grade point average of 2.564 per credit during his entire freshman year, has been very active in all outside activities since entering school in the fall of 1938.

A member of Alpha Gamma Rho social fraternity, he was a member of the Dairy Products team which represented Montana State College at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition at Portland, Oregon this fall. He has been quite active in all Ag Club activities during the past year, taking an outstanding part in the Little International last spring, in which he won several awards in showmanship.

Joe has worked a goodly portion of his way through school and at the present time is working part time in the Dairy Industry Department while attending school.

Agronomy Team Takes First In Portland

For the tenth year out of the seventeen that Montana State College has participated, the Agronomy team won first place at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition at Portland, Oregon this fall.

This year's team, composed of Bernard Toenyes, Power; Gordon Thompson, Moccasin; Enos Anderson, Columbus; George Loomis, Simms, as alternate; and coached by S. C. Litzberger, had the distinction of having in Anderson the second high man of the contest and in Thompson the third high man.

In addition to winning the plaque given to the team winning first place, they also captured the trophy given by the Sperry Flour Mills of Portland, Oregon to the team ranking the highest in commercial wheat grading. This award, which has been offered in these

During the winter at the Metropolitan Opera Company, during the summer at Chicago's Ravinia Park, New York's Stadium Concerts, Philadelphia's Robin Hood Dell or at the Colored Opera in Buenos Aires, during the early autumn at the gala performances of the San Francisco and Los Angeles Opera, and during his spring concert tours and festival appearances, Frederick Jagel has made and maintained a consistent and high record for beautiful singing and enviable musicianship.

This young and successful American tenor was born in 1897 in Brooklyn, New York, and does not remember the time when he did not want to sing. His career has been a swift one. Financed by a wealthy business man who heard him sing in a church, he went abroad and in August, 1924 made his debut at Livorno, the birthplace of Mascagni, singing Rodolfo in "Boheme." Engagements followed in the major cities of Italy, Holland, and Spain, and during those first three years he sang 194 performances of major roles.

All the time, however, that the young American was making a European reputation for himself, he had one idea in the back of his head—New York and the Metropolitan Opera Company. Finally his day came and he was signed up for the season of 1927-28. His debut as Rhadames was acclaimed by both press and public. Since then he has gone steadily forward. He has been heard regularly at the opera house ever since and with cumulative success.

4-H Alumni Holds First Semi-Formal Tonight

This evening from nine till twelve in the Baxter ballroom, the 4-H Alumni club will make its social debut when it entertains at the first semi-formal of the quarter. Heine Mochel and his orchestra will furnish the music for this non-program dance. Joe Gobb, president of the organization, has been chairman in charge of arrangements. On his committee were Earl Hiet, Mable Cramer, Natalie McDermitt, Dorothy McPherson, Maxine Watson Dr. and Mrs. Strand, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cameron, and Mr. and Mrs. Louie True will chaperon the event. All members of the extension service are invited to attend.

This is the first time the group has given an all school dance and if this is successful, it may become an annual affair. There are approximately forty club members on the campus now and there is a possibility of two hundred members according to those eligible this year.

4-H. What does it stand for?—Head, Heart, Hand and Health. Throughout the land 4-H Clubs have been known to carry on projects which challenge their girls and boys:

"To pledge their heads to clear thinking
Their hearts to greater loyalty
Their hands to better service
For their club, their community and their Country."

That simple pledge of rural youth organizations (4-H Clubs), made possible through the unfaltering guidance of leaders and extension works, has produced within our group a number of good, healthy, spirited students and citizens of our community and state.

A 4-H Alumni Club has been established on our campus to welcome those who wish to continue in a close walk with their fellowmen.

Will all students who have changed their addresses since filling out directory cards in the Registrar's office please correct them immediately so all address will be correct in the student directory.

Conversation Lags As Coeds Get First Taste Of Swimming Pool

Ka-choo—Gosh, but I'm cold—why doesn't she open that door? Simply freezing.

"Well, Johnny took me over to that fireside and I thought I'd—yes, it's green and maroon—who?—Why, she doesn't know what H2O is. How'd she ever get that grade. The most divine new man, his name is—arn't we ever going to get in there?"

With a grand splash (metaphorically speaking) the freshman girl's swimming class is under way, or perhaps under water. The beginning girls put up with a women, but the advanced class rates a handsome male to aid there floundering efforts.

A whistle blows and the girls line up for roll call. Why, oh why don't they invent a bathing cap you can hear through, and one that will keep your hair dry and beautifully curled?

"In the water," cries the teacher, and with little shivers and shrieks, into the water they go. One two, three—one, two, three—breathing exercises, said to get you over the fear of water.

Blub, glub, splash—"This is the silliest stuff," one mermaid in-the-making ventures to complain. "I don't see why—blub bl-lurp—" and under she goes, unable to resist the never ending one, two, three—one, two, three.

Beginners will do this for three more weeks, while the other class advances as frogs, they wave their legs in the air and under the water, still to the tune of one, two, three.

"All out," rolls the clarion cry, and girls in stunning little green bathing suits clamber out. Oh, just look at my hair—where the heck is my towel? The swimming class is, literally, all wet.

Who Benefits Most?

Monday night, October 30, 1939 at 8:15 p. m. the students of Montana State college will have an opportunity to hear one of the most outstanding young American tenors the world has ever known.

It is not because the entertainer is so outstanding that all students should attend, although that is an incentive, but because all these concerts are beneficial to all of us in some way or another. Furthermore this hour or so of enjoyable music is given to us, a point that few of us know or realize. Many students have not attended these programs because they feel that the townspeople receive the best seats in the house when the students are entitled to them. This is not true. We pay, out of our activity fund, fifty cents each per year for these community entertainers. The townspeople pay $5.00 per year for the same thing.

Not only is it wrong to complain about the seats in the gymnasium and who has them from a comfortable point of view but it could also very easily encourage the holding of these programs some other place.

Starting with this first recital, starring Frederick Jagel, let's appreciate the good thing we have and all attend the community concerts that are offered us.

Students Participate

In this day of strife and chaos are we, hot-blooded American students, taking the right perspective of life? Are we disregarding the fact that a war is raging in Europe and that social conditions in one section vitally effect society in another? Are we letting indifference be our dominating characteristic, socially and politically speaking? Regardless of the answers that individuals might give to the above questions, they all bear careful consideration.

America is and has been since the time of the constitution, the greatest document history knows of, a free and peace-loving nation. This is the only country in the universe wherein the inhabitants can enjoy the freedom that we as Americans can enjoy, and yet we hear continual 'belly-aching' about the various phases of our Government and the methods of running the same. Nothing can wreck our democratic set-up more completely or more rapidly than indifference to what is going on around us. Nothing can invite strife into this country in a more thorough way than complete ignorance of social and political changes.

An appeal is being made to all college students to become familiar with this 'modern day age'. That same appeal is being made to Montana State College students and a request that they read everything and anything that might throw light on the topic under discussion. No subject should be thrown aside. Literature of all kinds can be so correlated as to develop a broad and sane mind. All of us have heard that the college youth is the backbone of the nation and education is the only way to make that backbone strong.

Agronomy Team Wins

contests only thirteen times, has been won by a Montana team four times. It is quite interesting to note that all four of the men on this team are majors in Agronomy, showing where their main interest really lies.

Another interesting feature about this year's team is that they had a score of 92.1% out of a possible 100%, which is the highest score ever made by a Montana team during their seventeen years of competition.

Izzy Writes Home

Dear Mom:

This is Friday, I am broke as per usual but believe that now I am fully recovered from last Saturday's trip to Butte to see the football game with the Grizzlies which I did not see and most of Butte which I did not see.

Of all the hectic entanglements in which I have found myself during my undergraduate days here at Montana State, that Butte business was the hectic-est. It was even hectic-er than that ski tournament the boys were in room took me to last winter. In fact, it got so hectic that I was sure I saw an orange grove in a window there in Butte, but one of the sophomores with me said it was nothing but an electric light. I sure wish I had been twins, so one of me could have watched the football game while the other tried to pick oranges and went to sleep at the football game. I guess maybe the reason I thought that electric light was an orange grove was because I had been drinking so much orange pop with a bunch of fellows down in the basement of a hotel over in Butte.

We started from Bozeman early in the morning in a car and I drove all the way because the other fellows with me thought it would be a good idea. They all had dates except me, but I had ten dollars so I didn't care and neither did they. When we got to Butte they wanted to get some orange pop right away and they took my ten dollars, but pop is expensive in Butte because the 24 bottles they got cost $3.50, instead of the $1.20 we pay at home. The fellows told me the extra $2.10 was for supercharging the orange pop, whatever that is, but I suppose it's something like supercharging a race car. Anyway, I was sure going at top speed and around in circles, too, when I got through with my two bottles.

Then the sophomores said they would take the rest of my money because Butte is a tough place and we went out to a quaint little town named Meaderville to eat. We had an Italian dinner with more pop, this time a sort of purplish stuff that was pretty good. When we got to the ball game the fellows told me to go tell Coach Dyche I was ready to play, but when I found the team the fellow they call the manager, Jack Payne, chased me away and wouldn't give me a uniform again. I'll bet he wishes he had now because the Grizzlies won, 6-0, the fellows told me when they woke me up. I didn't drive home.

I think I'm through with football for good, anyway. I am going to study a little bit for a couple of weeks and am going to do some scientific research with a cow that I take care of down at the barns. That girl, Jerry Weber, told me that if I fed the cow milk chocolate it probably would give chocolate milk, so I think I'll spend the rest of the week working on that experiment and not sleeping much. Edison did all his work when he wasn't sleeping, and although I study best when I'm sleeping and sleep best when I'm in my chemistry class. I think Edison was right. Somebody told me when we came back from Butte that it wasn't Edison who was right but some fellow by the name of Barnum, but I still think it was Edison.

Love

IZZY.

We have noticed a lot of students going to school by the new Russian way—The Five Year Plan, we mean.

At first he liked being pledged, but he got sore in the end.

Personally, I don't think she's so much!! But the Chi O's seem to want her, so we may as well take her if we can.

Never kick a man when he is down; he may get up.

Even his best friends wouldn't tell him—so he flunked the exam.

There's a saying both witty and sane;
I accept it without a demur;
A woman stops telling her age
When her age begins telling on her.

Gather your kisses while you may
For time brings only sorrow.
And girls who are so free today
Are chaperones tomorrow.

Love in her eyes. Oh ecstasy!
My heart leaps with a hope divine.
Love in her eyes but not for me;
She sees an ice cream soda sign.

"I think I'll go on a bender," said the fly as he started around a pretzel.

Many a girl who is a picture of health is hand painted.

has been an intensive advertising campaign together with an extensive subscription drive among alumni. One of the best criteria of a school is the nature and extent of alumni interest. So the Montana Engineer offers the best chance to let them know what is happening here on the campus.

A subscription drive has been carried on and will be carried on all year. If this goes over and a substantial gain can be shown over last year the Engineer will be able to join the "ECMA" Engineering College Magazines Association. When this is accomplished then the magazine will have assumed its place on a national scale and will be a recognized publication along with those of other schools. It means that MSC will be the home of an outlet for national advertising that will be beneficial both to the publication and to the school as a whole.

Banquet Held

on this judging team. They were Jim Roan, Herb Skinner, Barr Zeldler, Jack Otten, Glenn Jones and Bob Lee, who placed first in swine judging.

Mr. Booth Holker, former county extension agent at Glendive, and now assistant county agent leader for Montana, addressed the group on some very timely remarks on agricultural leadership. "There was never a time when real agricultural leadership was needed any more than it is right now", Mr. Holker said. He stressed very strongly the fact that in the Ag Club one of the finest opportunities possible presents itself to the student to learn how to cooperate with others and develop into a real agricultural leader.

Dr. Schlehuber gave a short talk on the agricultural honorary fraternity, Alpha Zeta, mentioning the fact that the fraternity now has 37 chapters in Ag schools throughout the country. As two of the main objectives of the fraternity he mentioned those of promoting the profession and binding together outstanding men of a certain technical group. "When your prospective employer learns that you were an Alpha Zeta man he will realize that you have acquired the ability to cooperate," Dr. Schlehuber said.

Musical entertainment was furnished by Jack Fritz, accompanied by Bill Lodman at the piano, Sam Lenz on the accordion and Mr. Anders, new instructor in the music department of the Gallatin County High school.

sportsmanship as observed during action on the floor or on the field. It is the policy of the organization to cooperate with the council of the Women's Athletics Association in promoting a program of athletics and sports which will be liked and enjoyed by all women students who come to the campus. While serving as coaches in their respective fields of interest these upper-class girls are on the way towards earning a stripe for their sweaters, the sweater being a prize which all must possess before qualifying as a coach or becoming a member of Spartanians. The stripe is added when fifty points have been earned, according to the system as inaugurated last year by the U. A. A. council.

Holding key positions in the functions of this honorary are officers, Daisy Flick, president; Bernadine Nelson, vice-president; Margaret Smith, secretary-treasurer; and Marion Buchanan, historian. The total membership mark is twenty girls. Luncheon meetings will be held every 2nd and 4th Mondays during the noon hour.

Fall Play Tryouts

According to Bert Hanson, director of college entertainments, "Holiday" is a fast-moving, very modern play, dealing with the problem that faces a young man who has the philosophy of life that one should enjoy life while they are young and work while they are old, which is contrary to the usual idea of working while one is young and enjoying the fruits of one's labor in old age. The play deals with the situations which this young man faces in carrying out his philosophy.

"Philip Barry is considered one of the most brilliant of the young American playwrights, and his 'Philadelphia Story' starring Katherine Hepburn was one of last year's successes and is still playing to packed houses in New York."

The play, as usual, will be given

THE VODER, nicknamed Pedro, is an amazing electrical device which actually talks—the first machine in the world to do that!

By pressing keys, singly or in combination, a skilled operator can make Pedro talk in almost human fashion—with varying inflections and in either a man's or a woman's voice.

The Voder is an outgrowth of fundamental research in speech sounds, articulation and voice reproduction being carried on at Bell Telephone Laboratories. Such studies have led—and will lead—to constantly improving telephone service for you.

Fireside weekend is here this week with six houses entertaining at their respective homes this Friday and Saturday.

Mother Witch and goblins is the theme for Alpha Gamma Delta's first fireside of the current season tonight. Mrs. Nicholson has been appointed to see that all goes well.

The Lambda Chis are giving their second fireside this evening with music by Freddie Kirk and Chuck Grueger. Chaperoning them will be Mr. and Mrs. A. J. M. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Good.

Saturday night Alpha Omicron Pi, honoring their new pledges, is entertaining at a fireside. Electric swing will issue from the victrola to entice the dancers. Miss Ritchie and A. O. Pi patronesses are to chaperon the group.

Alpha Gamma Rho's fireside Saturday night is to be given in an autumnal and football atmosphere. A piano and banjo dance band from the house will be playing music suitable for the occasion, and Mrs. Brown, A. G. R. housemother, will chaperon.

S. A. E. pledges have organized a fireside dance for Saturday night, too, and plan to let a couple boys from their group supply the music. Mrs. Travis, together with Mr. and Mrs. Scotty Cameron, are to oversee the party.

The Men's Cooperative House's social debut of the quarter begins with a fireside at their house tomorrow, Saturday, night.

Modes of the Moment

By Toni Whitcomb

The social calendar seems to be fairly bursting with firesides for this weekend. So let's dive into the closet and see what we can find—or maybe some of you gals are in line for something new.

A simple silk or velveteen will fill the bill nicely. Probably most of us will be "putting our best back forward"—with the new bustle influence. This bustle effect is gained in a variety of ways—some simple gathering onto a back yoke, a huge looped bow, or a flared peplum with a back swept look—or a combination of two of these ways. Chambers Fisher's have some separate bustle sashes which will give that certain zip to an old dress. And of course some new costume jewelry will do wonders for a last year's dress. Gold in some form—balls, leaves, or heavy chains—is especially swank.

A gay taffeta petticoat will add color and swish to a dark dress. It also furthers the little waisted, full skirted style. Down at Riddles you'll find a dark dress with something so different you'll have to see it to know what I'm talking about. It's bright colored petticoat called a "hobble" skirt and

Greenfield Elected Prexy Of Hamilton Hall

Anne Greenfield was elected president of Hamilton Hall during a recent balloting. She is assisted by Billee Austin, vice president. These two girls along with two representatives from each of the three floors compose the council. Maxine Cox and Priscilla Kix were chosen from first floor and Theo Allen and Marilyn Payne represent the second floor. Mary Edsel and Katherine Sullivan uphold the duties for third floor. Marilyn Payne was elected secretary of the council at a short meeting held after a house meeting Monday night. Billee Austin will be the Exponent reporter.

Mrs. Bennett has announced the dates for the parties this quarter and the early part of next quarter. This Wednesday Mrs. Bennett will entertain the chaperons at dinner. November 3rd, an after dinner coffee and dance will be held for the girls and their escorts. The first birthday party come on November 15, at which time the faculty will also be guests. The annual Christmas party has been set for the sixth of December. On January 20, the girls will hold their winter party at the Baxter.

Bob Jones, the sandwich man, called on the Hall Monday night and explained his plan for selling his goods and also started sales off with a bang.

Officers Chosen For Calvin House

The officers of Calvin House elected for the ensuing year are: president, Jane Chatlain; secretary-treasurer, Marion Dyas; historian, Louise Oxe—Exponent reporter, Lorraine Jones; and the council, composed of Beverly Ashton, Shirley Johnson, and Frances Peterson.

Emerene and Lorraine Jones went to Anaconda over the week-end. Florence Roberson, and Marion Dyas visited with relatives in Butte after attending the football game.

Frances Peterson, after attending the Bobcat-Grizzly game in Butte, went to Kallispell to visit relatives.

Calvin House has a new housemother this year. She is Mrs. Ann Knudsen from Fargo, North Dakota. Three years ago she was housemother to the Kappa Delta sorority on this campus.

Anna Marie Van Vynck moved from Hamilton Hall into Calvin House this week.

It has a rubber around the bottom which makes it hug your knees.

We also love dressy wool dresses for firesides and a velveteen jacket with a plaid skirt looks pretty fine.

If you have a show date before the fireside don't forget your hat, purse, and gloves. Otherwise these articles are not necessary. Just stick a pert velvet bow in your curls and forget the hat for the time being. But "nuff said—I know you'll look grand without all this advice.

SIDELINES . .

by BOB SPIEGEL

Alas, our feeble hopes have been shattered again. A valiant fighting crew again went down to defeat before the famed out-of-state Grizzly lineup. There can be no excuses on either side but we can guarantee that any fan who paid money to watch the game was plenty disgusted last Saturday. Many felt, and this is not our opinion, but the opinion of the masses, that they could have seen a better game if they had adjourned to Clark's Park to watch the grade schools battle. No one seems to know what happened. Both teams were sadly off but the score indicates a well fought game, maybe you can tell us, we don't know. We also hear tell of a certain coach who is tearing his hair in desperation for this answer.

Champs Or Not

Saturday afternoon the Bobcats defend the Rocky Mountain title for the first time this year. An undefeated Oredigger club from Colorado Mines who are trying hard with their best team in 20 years approach Galtion Field as heavy favorites over the Blue and Gold. To win the Bobcats are going to need a lot of support. For once the Bobcats seem to have forgotten their social functions and turned to athletics for excitement. I wonder if they still have enough of this enthusiasm to support the Bobcats 1700 strong Saturday. It will be a game well worth watching.

Wailing Bench

Plenty of the major league coaches in the country are tearing their hair at the present writing. Coach Jim Crowley of Fordham who had brilliant things predicted for his Rams can see nothing but Tides in his late dreams. Two losses both by seven points to the Crimson Tide of Alabama and the Green Wave of Tulane make him an ardent hater of anything in the way of seashore smiles. On the other hand Coach Elmer Layden of Notre Dame is enthused. His squad has three times come from behind to beat great teams by narrow margins. Down in Texas, a new contender looks plenty good as the Texas Aggies romp through undefeated to date and winners over an undefeated Villanova club since 1936. Colorado Mines led by John Mason is also boasting an undefeated, untied, schedule to date and plan bigger things.

Intramurals

By BOB WEARNE

The starting date for minor sports and intramurals has been changed from October 23 to the 28, this being the starting day for volleyball. Practice schedules will be mailed to all the organizations who have teams signed up to play.

The annual cross country race will be held October 28 at :00 as previously scheduled. With only two weeks left all men who intend to run should be out training. This even undoubtedly requires as good and perhaps better physical condition than any other intramural or minor sport that is held during the school year, and is the only minor sport that offers an "M" sweater to the winner. Up to the present time there is nobody officially signed up so it is hard to say who is likely to be the winner. All students are eligible for the cross country except those holding cross country or track letters, and the varsity football men.

There is one slight change from last year's rules and that is that all organizations may not enter more than ten men; in this way Director Ellis hopes to get only those in the best physical condition.

All entries must be in by October 21. Independents can sign up through Paul Hensley or Mr. Ellis.

Intramural basketball has been postponed until after the repairs are finished in the gym; then the schedules will be posted. Basketball will be composed of the blue and gold leagues as usual, and all organizations may enter as many teams as they have men for. Eligibility is open to all students except those holding basketball letters and varsity football season is over.

There are several openings for those freshmen interested in becoming football or intramural managers. This is an easy way to earn a letter. Anyone interested should see Felt Adams or Harry Ellis.

Unbeaten Colorado Orediggers Figured To Win Handily Over Bobcats In Top Conference Tilt

Conference Champs Defend Title Against Tough Mines Squad Saturday

Last year's Rocky Mountain Conference Champions, the Bobcats, begin the defense of their title on Saturday afternoon when they meet the powerful Colorado Mines squad from Golden Colorado.

The Colorado Mines brings a big, powerful, veteran squad to Bozeman which already has won its first three games. Two of the most important victories were over the Utah Aggies of the Big Seven Conference and a conference victory over Greeley State which also was a favorite in the conference race. As a result of this latter victory the Miners have been made the outstanding contenders for the flag. Their backfield, averaging 183 lbs., is made up of 4 lettermen.

Madden, the leading scorer of the conference last year, plays wingback and in his first two games was able to chalk up 5 touchdowns. Captain Topey, a deadly blocking back, is a tower of strength on both offense and defense. It is he who clears the path for the triple threat, Joe Berta, a junior, who can run, kick or pass with the best of them.

Averaging 206 lbs. the line has a veteran for every position. Herb Thornton, rated the smartest center in the conference and a veteran of 3 years experience, holds down the pivot position. Flanking him are two of the best tackles in this region, Moe and Katzenstien who between them pack 430 lbs. of beef. DeGoes ad Flynn are two outstanding ends. Add to these men a few more veterans and you see why the Orediggers are the team they are. The Miners rely principally on power plays, but have a variety of spinners, reverses and pass plays that have proved very effective.

To meet this smooth-working powerful squad the Bobcats present a veteran team that is primed to upset dopsters who have placed them in the underdog role. After having played 5 games on consecutive week-ends, the Cats were allowed to rest on Monday and Tuesday before Coach "Schub" Dyche again sent them through their paces on Wednesday. No serious injuries resulted to any of the players from the gruelling contest played with Montana last Saturday.

"Stubby" Fjeld, who played an outstanding game against the University, Krevic, May, Burke, and Roth will all be in the game Saturday shooting for their first conference victory and the preservation of their title.

The only two out of state men on the Bobcat roster, Leonard Stone and Newell Berg, are slated to see plenty of action in Saturday's game. Berg, a transfer from Idaho Southern Branch Junior College, is a 190 pound lb. guard who has been shifted over to the tackle position. He is not yet accustomed to his new position and when he finds himself he will become and outstanding man at tackle. Stoe, a halfback, hails from Sheridan, Wyoming. He has played on the University of Wyoming squad and although not so big he still very capably fills his position.

After several close setbacks lady luck should smile on the Cats for this all important tilt. The victor of this game will be made the favorite to capture the conference title and for this reason the game means much to both squads. The finest game of the season is expected when these two veteran teams take to the field on Saturday.

This will give all co-eds and fellows alike an opportunity to join in wholesome recreation while splashing about in the pool.
