

Radio Broadcast Will Be One Of Many Features During H.S.W.

Because it has proven one of the most popular features of the annual High School week at Montana State college, the "open house" program at which all departments arrange extensive displays and exhibits for the visiting high school students will be enlarged and given more time this year than it has in the past, announces Professor Merrill R. Good, general chairman.

The 1940 High School week will be held April 25, 26 and 27 and the open house programs will take place the afternoon of the 25th and the evening of the 26th. The first open house program will include the divisions of agriculture and science, and the second will include the divisions of engineering and household and industrial arts.

The open house displays are designed to give the visiting high school boys and girls a better understanding of the various types of work offered at the college and acquaint them with the facilities of the institution. In the past this feature has been of great interest to students, teachers and high school administrators alike and it is because of the wide interest shown in the event that the decision was made this year to explain the open house, Professor Good said.

Going hand in hand with the open house program will be professional outlook conferences at which students may confer with faculty members to obtain information about the professional opportunities offered at the college and the preparation and requirements the student must meet to enter various fields. The outlook conferences will be held Friday morning, April 26.

Sigma Chi Sponsor Scholarship Fund For Sophomore Athlete

Tonight is the last night to see the annual Scholarship show sponsored by the local chapter of Sigma Chi to obtain funds for an athletic scholarship to be awarded to the outstanding sophomore athlete in need of funds. The show will be presented at the Rialto Theatre and tickets can be purchased from students in the various fraternities and sororities. It is not too late to get a ticket and every student should plan to see the show. Not only is it for a very worthy cause but also it is an exceptional feature. "Slightly Honorable" starring Pat O'Brien, Edward Arnold and Ruth Terry promises to furnish more than an hour of delightful entertainment. Those who saw the show last night recommended it most highly.

Notices

There will be a general meeting of all student chairmen and assistants of High School Week committees at 5 P. M. today, April 5, in room 101 Engineering building.

Women students desiring to be well dressed will be wise to keep a watchful eye on the display case on the second floor of Herrick Hall. This week's display by The Willson Company features a spring suit and various combinations of smart accessories. Similar displays from other apparel shops in Bozeman will be shown at frequent intervals throughout spring quarter.

Newman Club will meet this Sunday April 7, at Rosary Hall after 8:00 o'clock mass. Election of officers for the coming year will be held.

All members of the chorus and orchestra are to be at the Gallatin Hi School auditorium at 1:00 p. m. Saturday (tomorrow) to have pictures taken for the Montanan. Dark dresses are to be worn by the girls and dark suits by the boys.

Exponent meeting Wednesday at 5 in room 105 Montana Hall. The staff is going to be revised and so all students who would like to work each week on the reporting side of the paper should attend this meeting. This includes students not working who would like to work.

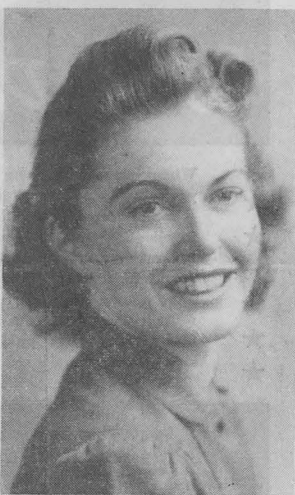

English Lecturer To Speak In Gymnasium Next Wednesday Night

Personal experiences in Europe will form the background for Dr. Thomas Greenwood's address which is to be given Wednesday night, April 10 at 8:00 P. M. in the Montana State College gymnasium. He will discuss "World Strategy in Anglo-French Diplomacy." Through the speech of this English lecturer, the student will have an opportunity to hear the English view of the European situation after hearing Andre Phillip's view of the French position.

Dr. Thomas Greenwood is a lecturer at Birkbeck College, University of London. He was educated in the United Kingdom. (Continued on Page Two)

AGR'S and KD'S Hold Top Scholastic Positions On Hill

Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity and Kappa Delta sorority led all fraternity groups in scholarship for the winter quarter at Montana State college, according to W. H. McCall, registrar.

Actives of Alpha Gamma Rho made an average of 83.588 to head the fraternity list while the actives of Kappa Delta with a grade average of 83.029 topped the sorority list. Pledges of Alpha Omicron Pi with a grade average of 78.099 led the sorority pledges and Kappa Sigma pledges with a grade average of 78.294 topped the fraternity pledge group.

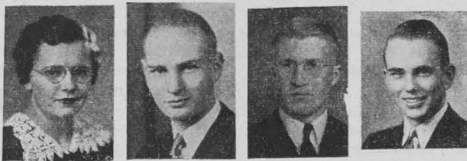

With Alpha Gamma Rho in top place, the fraternities and their averages follow: Kappa Sigma, 80.350; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 79.306; Sigma Chi, 78.235; Pi Kappa Alpha, 77.747; Lambda Chi Alpha, 77.412; Phi Sigma Kappa, 76.135. Sorority averages were: Pi Beta Phi, 82.173; Alpha Omicron Pi, 81.641; Chi Omega, 80.581; Alpha Gamma Delta, 79.629.

The grade average for all undergraduate students was 79.289 for the quarter.

Fine Arts School Shows Work of Former Graduate

Paintings by Edith Allport, a member of the faculty of Montana State College, Bozeman, Montana, are included in the exhibition of the work of former students of the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts on view in the school galleries, 136 East Fifty-seventh Street, New York, from Wednesday, April 3, through April 20. The exhibition includes work of many well-known painters in water color, tempera and oil.

High School Week Workers

Has Lead

LUTHER TERRETT . . . is cast as Simon in the spring quarter presentation of "Mary Rose" showing four nights to high school, college and townspeople. This is his first appearance in a major role.

History repeats itself. How many times that old adage has rung true and even today in the shadows of historic Main Hall under the guiding hand of Mr. Bert Hansen it is a living example. "Mary Rose" will play again.

Ten years ago as his second presentation to M. S. C. Mr. Hansen chose a play rated by critics as one of the ten best contemporary dramas. It was Sir James Barrie's "Mary Rose." Today when his plays are nearing the two-score mark here he has chosen "Mary Rose" among all others to repeat.

Ten years ago a slender dark-haired vivacious girl, by the name of Elsa Hendrikson was chosen to portray Mary Rose and playing opposite her as Simon was her current boy friend, Chet Huntly. However an unwritten drama revealed itself early in the production, as well as in campus life, when Rudy Davidson, cast as Mary Rose's son, Harry, formed the eternal triangle. Romance bloomed both on and off stage finally resulting in the marriage of Mary Rose and her son Harry. Today they are Mr. and Mrs. Davidson.

If the play is a fantasy then true life is no more so as proved by the second romance of the cast. Mrs. Morland as played by Laura Brown in the original cast was swept away from Mr. Morland, portrayed by Fred Benham, by a sharp-witted business manager by the name of Sam Winn. Mr. and Mrs. Winn now reside in Anaconda where Mr. Winn teaches.

Chet Huntly, following his natural talent in the theatrical world, found green pastures in the ever-growing radio field and he may now be heard nightly over KNX, Hollywood. He remains as one of M. S. C.'s best known alumni.

Though ten years have gone since "Mary Rose" first played to a Bozeman audience the play is as popular as it ever was. In contrast to the audience in 1930 when approximately 300 persons saw it, it is estimated that over 3000 people will see it this spring and instead of the Emerson grade school auditorium as a stage the second edition of "Mary Rose" will act before the spotlights of the Ellen theatre to high school students, college students and townspeople.

Former Graduate Of MSC Wins Position As Art Designer

Margaret Gordon of Helena who won the Frank Alvah Parsons scholarship and a year of art study in Paris, this week accepted the position of designer for an international fashion magazine, according to word received here by Mrs. Olga Ross Hannon, head of the Montana State college art department from which Miss Gordon was graduated.

Miss Gordon reported for work last Wednesday. She obtained the position as a result of her art portfolio. It was submitted at the request of the magazine and when approved by the art director for the French, British and American sections, she was appointed.

Community Concert Offers Duo - Piano Recital Wednesday

Reginald Godden and Scott Malcolm, distinguished two-piano recitalists who will appear in the Montana State College gymnasium at 8:15 P. M. on Tuesday evening, April 9, were born within a year of each other but 3,000 miles apart—the former in Tunbridge Wells, England; the latter in Toronto, Canada. For the first twenty-three years of their respective lives the two men followed separate paths. Scott Malcolm commenced to study the piano when he was five years old. He continued his music along with his general schooling until he was nineteen, then decided to earn his living elsewhere until the piano showed a way of profit. Joining the staff of a leading Canadian financial publication, he was sent to Calgary to open a branch office and to report on the oil developments in that vicinity. Eventually the market collapse brought him back to the Toronto office. In the meantime he had met Reginald Godden and all his spare time was spent building up a two-piano literature.

When Reginald Godden was eleven months old he was brought from England to Canada to the little town of Barrie, some fifty miles north of Toronto. As a child, sports interested him more than music and it was not until he was fourteen that he started to study the piano. At fifteen he added to this the study of the organ, working under Dr. Healey Willan. His first love proved most lasting, however, and he eventually resumed his piano studies seriously under Ernest Seitz. It was when both Malcolm and Godden were pupils of Seitz that they met. At first they played duets for diversion. Later they found their new interest so engrossing and their individual abilities so fitted for this combined effort that they commenced practicing with a joint career as a goal. They gave their first two-piano recital at Toronto Conservatory Concert Hall. Since then they have toured widely in the United States and Canada; New York has heard them several times in recital in Town Hall; and they prefaced a tour of Great Britain with their over-seas debut in Wigmore Hall, London.

When Malcolm and Godden commenced to do two-piano work, they purchased as much two-piano music as they could find, but discovered that the existing repertoire was pitifully small. Accordingly they set to work and made transcriptions of many works, particularly some of the Bach organ works. These transcriptions are a feature on every program they give and have invariably received excellent (Continued on Page Two)

217 Students Attain Honor Roll Ranking For Winter Quarter

The list of Montana State's top scholars for Winter quarter has been compiled. The following 217 students received a better than 87.5 average for the shortest—and hardest of the three quarters. The list does not include students carrying less than 12 credits or Graduate Students.

If there are any errors in the list as printed above, will the student or students please see Registrar McCall at once.

Spur Delegates Gather Here For Convention

Twenty out-of-town Spurs are expected to arrive this afternoon for the Regional Spur Convention which is to be held here at Montana State this weekend, April 5 and 6.

These yearly regional affairs are held in an effort to bring a closer bond between Spur chapters, and to renew the enthusiasm and fervor in Spur ideals in the individual chapters. A full program of dinners, luncheons, business meetings, and round-table discussions has been planned. Each chapter will display an example of its work during the year, and the best exhibit will be awarded a prize. Marie Mulligan, regional director, and Miss Mildred Leigh, Montana State's sponsor of Spurs, will judge the exhibits for originality, workmanship, and general worthiness.

Delegates attending the convention and the chapters which they represent are as follows: Mary Lou Johnson, Dorothy Lawrence, and Jean Hall, Washington State College, Pullman; Julianna MacPherson, Doris Withern, Virginia Judd, Lillian Mattson, and Marie Mulligan, College of Puget Sound, Tacoma; Susan Pigot, Barbara Boorman, Katherine Sire, and Mary Ann Anderson, University of Montana, Missoula; and Jean Cummings, Helen Glindeman, Naomi Goodwin, Marjorie Thompson, Yvonne Brown, Kay Schneider, Virginia Wether, and Macky Calkuhoun, University of Idaho, Moscow. Official delegates from Montana State are Natalie McDermott, national secretary of Spurs, and Vivian Tretsven, president of the local group.

Wood Carvings Form Nucleus Of Exhibit In Herrick Hall

Once again the art department in Herrick Hall holds the campus spotlight, this time with two fine exhibitions of art. The first is a group of 19 large framed water colors done by Miss Juanita Vitousek, a native of Hawaii, and the second, an exhibition of 63 wood engraving done by members of "The society of British Wood Engravers".

Miss Vitousek's water colors are extraordinary in their subject matter and method of handling. She uses a very controlled brush with a wet technique, a combination seldom seen in water color painting. This method lends itself exceptionally well to the (Continued on Page Two)

Student Elections Held In Main Hall Friday From 8 to 5

Every student on the Montana State College Campus is going to Montana Hall today to cast his vote for the choice candidate to run the student affairs of the institution. No student is apparently disinterested to the extent that he or she is not planning to vote, as elections have been the talk of the campus for some time. This event is as important to Montana State College students as the federal elections are to the United States citizens.

Student government is carried on by a student senate made up of the following officers who are elected by majority vote of the student body. The two highest candidates in today's primaries will vie for the office in the general election which will be held next Friday, April 12, from 8 to 5 in Montana Hall.

The officers and candidates are: President A. S. M. S. C., Hugo Eck and Lawrence Gill; Vice-president A. S. M. C., Floyd Roth, Commissioner of Finance, Bob Ambrose and Leonard C. Smith; Commissioner of Athletics, Jack Brickley and Ray Duley; Commissioner of Music Patricia Sandbo and Don Schmidt; Commissioner of Publications, Pierce Patterson and Robert D. Thompson; Commissioner of Dramatics, June Drowley, Mickey Thieme and Beulah Grainger; Commissioner of Forensics, Ralph Coldwater and Glenn Cooley; Commissioner of Social Affairs, Marybelle O'ndrow, Mildred McKinley, Patricia Rounce, Bill Saubert, Marion Kimball; Commissioner of Demonstrations, Bernard Haley and Andy Boyack; Commissioner of Judging teams, George Biddle; President of Senior Class, Lloyd Jensen; President of Junior Class, Frank Wolcott; President of Sophomore Class, Joe Pahl; Student Book Store Representative, Leonard Sharmota and Don Martin; Student-elected faculty representative to athletic board, Major James J. Hea and D. J. Pletsch. Editor of Montanan, Lloyd Schmidt.

Ag Club And Rotary Club Hold Meeting

Carrying out a tradition which has become part of the agricultural club, a joint luncheon was held Tuesday noon with the Bozeman Rotarians. This luncheon is held once each year, during the spring quarter, and gives each student as well as the rotarian a chance to become acquainted with members of the other club.

Entertainment of a musical nature was furnished by banjo and accordion selections. Robert Lee, senior student in animal husbandry gave a brief talk on his thesis, concerning the forage utilization of the National Forests. Maurice McKay, graduate student in agricultural economics also talked on the thesis which he has prepared for partial fulfillment of the requirements for a Master of Science degree in his field. His thesis was a study of the social and economic problems affecting Sanders county and gave a few ideas which possibly could be used in correcting the situation which exists in Western Montana at the present time.

Honor Day Assembly Planned April 11; Many Awards Named

A number of pledges and scholarships will be announced at the annual Senior Day Assembly which is to be held on Thursday morning, April 11, from 10 o'clock until 12 o'clock. Dr. Strand, who will preside at the assembly, will announce the speaker, Dr. Thomas Greenwood, who will speak on the subject "Ethical and Psychological Background of Current World Affairs." Dr. Greenwood, who is only thirty-nine years old himself, will speak from the standpoint of the college student.

The seniors will be capped and gowned and will enter the gym in a processional. The presidents of the organizations participating in the exercises will also enter with the seniors. Members of the Spurs and Fangs will assist in various ways during the program.

The Montana State Orchestra will play at the beginning of the assembly. Preceding the address of Dr. Thomas Greenwood, numerous honors will be announced. All groups who have named their pledges will participate; in this group are included pledges of Mortar Board and Septemviri. They will be announced in groups according to scholastic honor groups, professional groups, and scholastic activity groups.

This assembly has been in charge of Professor Burlingame with Mr. Bert Hansen, Bernice Howell, George Loomis, and Ford Martin working on details.

Scheduled Examinations?

Once again the problem of a scheduled examination week at Montana State College has come before those in charge of inaugurating such a program. Such an examination week once before existed on the campus of Montana State College and the students kicked to extent that it was removed from the institutional program. Reasons for not wanting a week of this type are not known to the writer.

At this time several students have voiced thier opinions in favor of reinstating this practice. It is for that reason that all students are urged to think it over seriously and be prepared to vote on the question in the general election next week. The question asked will be similar to the following: "If it could be arranged, would you be in favor of a scheduled examination week." Of course the answer will be yes or no, depending on the student and his or her likes and dislikes.

It is obvious that such a plan would have its advantages and disadvantages and an advantage to one student might be a disadvantage to another. Perhaps they would weigh out and balance each other. However that is not the question now and it is up to the students to decide in favor of or against the coming question.

An additional feature of the election will be a survey on the athletic fee. The student senate has prepared this survey in order to obtain student sentiment on the subject before taking definite action on the matter. All students are asked to take one of the blanks and carefully read and consider it before filling it out since all ballots will be personally tabulated.

Short Cut To "A" Flushes

Fremont, Nebr.—(ACP)—Hunting for a short-cut to a straight A average?

If you are, heed the following nine-point program to scholastic success—a program formulated for you by the ever-helpful editors of the Midland of Midland College:

1. Don't give your prof apples. Too obvious.
2. Find out his hobby and follow this up with well-planned questions to draw him out.
3. If the entire class walks out of the classroom when the prof is 10 minutes late, be the only one to wait, even if its half an hour. This procedure is good for a B-plus any day.
4. Always greet an instructor pleasantly, never using his first name, but a cheery "Good morning, professor."
5. When sitting at the faculty table in the dining hall or walking about the Administration building, always walk with your head down as if in deep thought, pondering some weighty problems in math or philosophy, for instance. This is highly recommended to get on the honor roll.
6. Offer to wash the professor's car, put up his storm

Hamilton Hall Entertains Guests

Helen Peck had as her week-end guest Miss Margaret Hart of Moore. Sunday Helen had Dr. and Mrs. Dawes as dinner guests also. Other Sunday guests were Claire Nighman and Mary Kay Fleming, guests of Phyllis Wilcox, Louise Stephens and Clover Stephens, guests of Grace Janssen.

Monday night Marilyn Payne had as her guests Mrs. Walter Spauling and Mrs. Lease of Great Falls.

Betty Ann Hanley went to Helena during the last week and Mary Timmel and Beatrice Nelstead went to Billings for the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Roe visited their daughter, Anna Mae, Sunday. They are from Butte. From now until the end of the quarter Hamilton hall girls will enjoy eight o'clock study hours which means that calls may be received until that time. On Monday night house meetings last from nine-thirty until approximately ten and calls may be received from ten to ten-thirty instead of the regular time.

Hatch Act Explained

The Hatch Act, curtailing political activities of state employees and others receiving compensation from Federal funds, teeters precariously in the balance on the scales of collegiate press opinion.

Prevailing and probably most popular slant on the issue is expressed by the Oklahoma Daily of the University of Oklahoma. Applauding Senate passage of the act, this paper writes: "Faced with a huge and mounting public debt, Americans have begun to realize it's time to economize and streamline governmental functions. Even Democrats voted for the Hatch bill, indicating that there are a few principles left in the hearts of senators. It does the old heart good to think that perhaps the hope for a better government—for the people—has not entirely fled the legislative chambers. Maybe the fellows we send to the capitol do a better job than we realize. Maybe they are as eager for honest government as the folks back home. A lot of the time a democracy is extremely discouraging; we see everywhere the rotten side of politics, the use of patronage as a sort of spoils of political war. Then along comes a showdown and the boys in Washington come through with the goods."

The Plainsman at Alabama Polytechnic Institute answers this viewpoint with the questioning editorial caption, "Is the Hatch Act Sincere?", and goes on to say: "The Hatch Act, now being considered by Congress, assumes that any political activity by governmental employees is detrimental. Like any proposal arrived at by reasoning, the act is a failure if its major premise is fallacious, and in this case there is real enough reason to believe that some fallacy is present." Going on to say that this legislation "deprives a government worker of his right of political activity without giving him the benefit of civil service", and contending that "it's pure inconsistency for a nation to ask on the one hand for participation in government and on the other to deny it to a substantial group", the Plainsman concludes: "Even if one does accept the bill's major premise—that political action is undesirable for government-paid workers—there is still doubt whether the bill is the solution and whether it would achieve what it sets out to do."

Pointing out that the act would concern some of its farm school faculty, as well as high school agricultural instructors and local representatives of government agencies, the Daily of the University of Minnesota says that "the whole provision represents not only an infringement on personal liberty but on state rights as well." Butler University's Collegian, on the other hand, recognizes these aims in the bill, commends them, and urges that "this law be passed and that another be introduced to cover all state and federal employees, thus, in large measure, doing away with corrupt politics and forcing politicians to seek means of making the great mass of the American public election conscious."

7. Apple polishing procedure in classrooms include sitting in the front row, responding to professorial humor with loud, hearty guffaws and liberal use of big words. This is important—never use to two-syllable words. This is important—never use a two-syllable word.
 8. Carry a lot of big reference books around. This is tremendously impressive and is worth an A minus in any class.
 9. If you must close your eyes while in deep thought, wrinkle your forehead and otherwise look worried or the professor may get the wrong impression—and grade accordingly.

Little International

Plans for the Little International Livestock Show are progressing very rapidly, according to Barr Ziedler and Jim Roan, Co-managers.

More than 75 head of animals will be fitted and showed by college students during the two-day show. As the college does not have all of the animals required for the event, there will be animals from other parts of the state exhibited at the show.

"Several Aberdeen Angus heifers from the herd of Wilbur Harrar of Belgrade will add much color to the 1940 show", Roan said Tuesday, and in addition we are negotiating for the showing of several head of registered Belgian mares from the Cooke ranch at Townsend."

In addition to the Vinke Memorial Watch, the Grand Champion showman will have his name engraved upon the Kiwanis plaque hanging in the main hall of the agricultural building. The names of all of the grand champions since the beginning of the Little International ten years ago, now appear on this plaque.

Invaluable benefit from a show such as this will be gained by those students who participate by actually fitting and showing an animal. Knowledge obtained during the next six weeks by these students will be of great aid to them in County agent, Smith-Hughes, or livestock breeding work which they might take up in years to come. In addition to the experience and knowledge gained there will also be three prizes offered for the various division of stock which are entered.

"The entertainment this year will be colossal" Bill Lodman, chairman of that committee, said Wednesday, "Among other things we will have a horse harnessing contest between the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs, and the faculty will also have a chance to entertain in a manner slightly deviating from the ordinary."

"The parade," Barr Ziedler said, will be the greatest improvement over former years, among other new attractions plans are being formulated for the entrance of a float of some western type by each fraternity and sorority on the hill, for which prizes will be awarded. Many outstanding saddle horses of the state will appear in the Little International parade for the first time, adding much color and attraction to this the "biggest little show in the west."

Dear Editor:

I take it from Mr. MacArthur's letter that he enjoyed "Sweethearts". I've often wondered how it felt to be one in a million. Perhaps he can tell me.

Mr. MacArthur says, quote, "I'm sure he would have seen some acting even if he couldn't hear it". Does Mr. MacArthur realize that the performance was not a pantomime, and that there is more to acting than actions?

Mr. MacArthur asks if I have ever seen anything. I have seen between ten and fifteen high school productions, five of which were musical productions including "The Prince of Filsen" and "The Mikado". I have also seen three junior high school productions and one put on by a grade school. I have yet to see anything worse than "Sweethearts". I have yet to see a performance, other than "Sweethearts" where one of the actors made a wrong entrance, or where the staging permitted the audience to see the cast behind the scenes.

I am wondering if Mr. MacArthur is expressing only his opinion, or the opinions of two or three other students also.

May I ask him what he has seen; or is he just used to M. S. C. productions?

I still believe that I expressed the opinion of many students.

John Wallace.

High School Week

Montana State College will go on the air for over an hour during High School Week, it has been announced by the High School Week Assembly committee.

The broadcast will take place at the "Collegiate Convention" on Saturday morning, April 27.

From about 9:30 A. M. until 10 A. M., Station KRBM, Bozeman, will broadcast collegiate songs, led by Lou Howard and sung by the entire assembly and selections by the college orchestra, directed by L. E. Opp. At 10 A. M. KRBM will be joined by the remaining stations of the Z Bar Net and for about forty-five minutes there will be a state-wide broadcast of the presentation of Scholarships and awards by Prof. Leora M. Hapner.

An assembly of absorbing interest to everyone will take place on Friday morning, April 26, when "Larry" Gould, second in command of the first Byrd Antarctic expedition will tell his story "With Byrd to the Bottom of the World." The Gymnasium will be specially arranged for his lecture, enabling him to illustrate it with moving pictures and slides.

High School Week will open with an "All High School Conclave" at which Dr. A. L. Strand will welcome the delegates, Mr. Merrill R. Good, general chairman, will appear before the assembly, and there will be a band concert and singing led by Lou Howard.

It was emphasized that college students, rather than being excluded from the High School Week Assemblies, are most heartily invited and urged to attend them, as they will be entertaining and informative.

Ethelbert White, Agnes Miller Parker, Gwendolin Raverat, B. Moray-Williams, Gertrude Herms, Mabel Annesley, Robert Gibbings, John Jarleigh, Clar Leighton, Iain Macnab, Margaret Pilkington, Blair Hughes-Stanton, Clifford Webb, Margaret Haythorne, Julia Mavrogordato, John O'Connor, J. Harvey-Bloom, Barbar Greg, John Greenwood, Joan Hassall, Norman Jones, Eric King, Eric Ravillious, Rachel Roberts, C. J. Tunncliffe, Geoffrey Wales, and John Buckland Wright.

Probably one of the best known English artists of today is Clare Leighton, whose prints of pastoral subjects have been published a great deal in England. Agnes Miller Parker, whose studies differ from nature are ever popular, is represented with four outstanding examples. Blair Hughes Stanton has two prints some what fantastic in representation, while Iain Macnab has four delightfully executed and strong prints in the group. All 63 of these engravings are for sale at very reasonable prices.

These exhibitions may be seen in the art department Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7:30 until 9 p. m. and from 8 to 5 at any time during the day.

Plans are now under way for the opening of the new LaSalette College in Arnolds Park, Iowa, next September.

Fourteen Candidates For Engineers Queen Chosen By Students

Fourteen girls were chosen at the conclusion of an extensive beauty campaign search as possible queens at the Engineer's Ball. The selections were based on an all-fraternity-sorority-coop poll which narrowed the field to two representatives from each sorority and four candidates for the independent groups. An election by the engineers will cut the field again to three girls whose pictures will be sent to Hollywood for the final choice of Queen of the Engineer's Ball, Gary Cooper, Spencer Tracy and Clark Gable will make the final selection.

Five Beauty Queens Chosen By Film Star Reign Over Montanan Dance

The annual Montanan dance held last Saturday night, March 30, in the Baxter proved to be the successful and well-attended affair it always has in years gone by.

To the soft swinging rhythms of Mockel's band, the presentation of Montana State's twenty-five most beautiful girls was made. Coming down the long stairway to receive the lovely gardenia corsages were: Jean Haines, Marian Kimball, Helen Briggs, Eileen Conlin, and Margaret Schroeder, Alpha Omicron Pi; Judy Wilson, Mary Ann Mitchell, Vivian Cowan, and Jean Henderson, Chi Omega; Katherine Bellows, Kappa Delta; Wilma Feddersen, Marybelle Jonrow, Nadine Carlson, Lucille Mahan, Helen Walseth, Elota Beth Houle, Shirley Reed, Jean Duncan, and Jurine Werimager, Pi Beta Phi; and Pauline Howarth, Aleas Robertson, Lucille Guay, Betty Kirscher, and Lillian Dyrand, Alpha Gamma Delta.

In order that the five girls of exceeding pulchritude might be chosen without prejudice, the committee sent pictures of all twenty-five candidates to Bing Crosby, star of Radio and screen. From the pictures Mr. Crosby chose Nadine Carlson, Wilma Feddersen, Helen Walseth, Lucille Mahan, and Lucille Guay to be the five reigning queens of this year's Montanan.

Chaperones for the momentous occasion included Dr. and Mrs. Strand, Mrs. Harrison, and Mr. and Mrs. True.

The committee in charge of the dance is to be sincerely congratulated on its success in making this one of the unforgettable affairs of 1939-40.

Sophomores To Hold All - School Dance Tonight

Tonight, the sophomores present an all-school dance—the first one to be sponsored by that class in some years. It will be held in the gym, and will be a date dance, but not program. Heinie Mockel will furnish the music, and dancing will get under way at nine o'clock.

Proceeds from the dance will go into the sophomore treasury to be used in purchasing something for the new Student Union. The dance will be an informal affair for the whole school, and is sure to prove very enjoyable.

The committee as appointed by George Biddle, sophomore class president, consists of Sue Croonquist, chairman; Jim Travis, Betty Riley, Don Wold and Fern Parr. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Davee and Dr. and Mrs. A. J. M. Johnson will chaperone the party.

Les Bouffons Plan Annual Spring Dance

Les Bouffons plan the highlight of the social season with the presentation of the "ALL SCHOOL QUEEN" at their annual formal dance April 12 at the Baxter Hotel.

As a preview to this gala event the candidates for this role will be presented Sunday evening, April 7 at the Ellen theater. The final choice will be determined by the popular vote of the student body in Main Hall, Wed., April 10.

The girl selected promises to be the "it" girl of the season embodying all the desirable qualities in the modern college girl, one with the combination of beauty, personality, and brains. The Les Bouffons will play the role of being the "Earl Carrolls" of Montana State college in picking out the most outstanding from the many potential queens on our campus. The definite characteristics to be used in judging will include personality, attainments, contributions to the progress of the school and finally the appearance befitting the role of "queen."

This annual formal dance is the result and expression of the activities of the Les Bouffons, senior men's honorary social organization. Announcement shall also be made of the pledges for the forthcoming year chosen to represent an organization which is steeped in tradition and which boasts many outstanding alumni.

Rapel Jacks And Sour Doughs In Tournament Final

As a result of two impressive victories to date in the spring basketball round-robin tournament, Jack Erickley's Rapel-Jacks stand out as strong favorites. However, the Rapel-Jacks still have to overcome Johnny Hall's Sour Doughs. The Rapel-Jacks boast a 61-33 win over the Question Marks and a 59-20 triumph over the Asket-Baskets. Hall's club has defeated the Asket-Baskets 36 to 35.

Upon completion of the current round-robin Coach Breeden plans to pick two all star teams from the ten best men of the tournament for a series of games to be played Monday and Tuesday to mark the conclusion of the spring practice session.

Tonight at 5:00 the Rapel-Jacks stake their claim to the championship when they tangle with Hall's Sour Doughs. Saturday at 3:00 P. M. Dogtrom's Question Marks play Anderson's Asket-Baskets.

Those competing in the tourney include:

Rapel-Jacks—Jack Brickley, Captain, Farrell, Cluzen, Jorgenson, Roberson, and Bowman.

Asket-Baskets—Captain Anderson, Toby Nelson, Clawson, Scabad, Wilcox, and Brakle.

Sour Doughs—Captain Hall, Mizner, Bodley, Robbins, Cascaden, and Menzel.

Question Marks—Rooley, Ramsey, Richardson, Jacques, Stachwick, and Captain Dogtrom.

Archery Practice Held In Tanbark

Forty-four aspiring feminine Robin Hoods are out learning the fundamentals under the direction of archery manager Charlotte Ralph. Although so far, general meetings have been held on Thursdays girls may shoot any time they are free to do so. Because of the weather shooting has been done in the tanbark but as soon as it clears a target will be put outside for outdoor shooting.

Plans for the spring include three tournaments, two of which a girl must enter to get high score; and an indefinite plan for a telegraphic meet with schools in the Northwestern district.

Tumbling is again being offered for spring and at present tumblers are working on the exhibition for high school week. Twenty girls are meeting Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons under Manager Stella Withrow.

Kent O'Kelley Tops All Three Events In Ski Meet

The Oliver-Stout trophy for the annual intramural ski tournament at Montana State college was removed from the Sigma Chi fraternity house to the Sigma Alpha Epsilon mantle this week, following the S. A. E.'s decisive victory last Sunday at Karst's Kamp. The fraternity standings for the tournament were S. A. E. 28 points; Sigma Chi, 15, and Lambda Chi Alpha, 2. Kent O'Kelley, S. A. E., took first place in all three events, downhill, slalom and jumping.

Hank Lewis of the Mt. Hood ski patrol and Hank Hibbard of the college ski club were the course-setters for the slalom. Nels Nelson, Adolph Peterson and Otto Hovde judged the jumps.

Winning the trophy three years gives permanent possession. The Sigma Chi's had won it for the last two years.

Second Folk Dance Festival Will Be Held In Gym H.S.W.

The second annual folk dance festival of high school students is being planned by the women's physical education department as an open-house feature of the High School Week program to be given in the big gym Thursday afternoon, April 25, from 1:30 to 3:00 o'clock. This festival is patterned after the National Folk Dance Festival held annually in Washington D. C. where homespun dancers from many sections of the country participate in the colorful pagenat. It is hoped that the festival sponsored here might some day be able to contribute a group of dancers for taking part in the national festival as there are many beautiful dances in Montana to be uncovered.

The local festival will consist of a variety of folk-dances presented by groups of high school students dressed in costumes appropriate to the country's dance they are giving with one of the highlights of the program to be a cowboy dance in which all of the high school participants will dance together.

A few of the numbers given last year were Irish, Spanish, Russian, Dutch, English, Mexican, Scotch, and Gypsy in nature. It is expected that even a larger representative group will be on this year's program. The festival is under the direction of Miss Katherine Chrisman, director of physical education for women.

More than 600 high school students participated in a mock Republican national convention at Temple University, nominated Vandenberg for the presidency.

With but three weeks left for the kegglers in the inter-fraternity bowling tournament, it might now be possible to predict what teams will be in running for top honors. The Faculty are still tied with the AGR's for first place, but they can't be in the competition for the bowling trophy that will be given to the winning fraternity team. So at the present it will be between the AGR's who have won 23 games and lost 10, and the SAE's who have won 20 games and lost 13.

Last week the Phi Sigs and the Kap Sigs both won three straight from the Pi Kaps and the Sigma Chis, respectively. The AGR's and the Faculty took two out of three from the Lambda Chis and the SAE's. Twilide, Faculty, had high single game of 205, and high three game total of 581.

Next week at 1:30 the Lambda Chis play the Sigma Chis, and the Faculty play the Pi Kaps. At 3:30 the Kappa Sigs play the AGR's, and the Phi Sigs play the SAE's.

The handball tournament is scheduled to start next week and contestants are asked to sign up for drawings in the singles and doubles with Director Harry Ellis.

With the aid of favorable weather the tennis tourney will be held soon and those interested should watch the bulletin board in the gym for announcements.

April 26th, in connection with gymkhana, there will be an Intramural relay meet. 440 yd. and 880 yd. relays will be scheduled. Due to the time allowed no trials will be possible so organizations must enter a team in only one of the two events. All students are eligible including lettermen and athletic department employees.

Dolan States Life Saving Requisites

The qualifications for senior life savings class are: they must be at least 17 years of age, in sound physical condition, "and they must be pretty good swimmers" says Pat Dolan, swimming instructor for men.

For the water front instruction course the men must be 19 years of age and physically sound besides having passed a senior life saving test and have a position open for them to teach swimming of life saving.

Senior life saving class meets from 7 to 9 o'clock Monday P. M. and from 9 to 11 Wednesday P. M. The instruction students have class on Monday nights from 9 to 11 and Wednesday night from 7 to 9 o'clock.

There are 24 seniors signed up in the life saving class and 15 candidates for instructors.

The seniors will take their tests after a minimum of 15 hours of practice have been completed, this will be about May 1. Instructors examinations will be given during the week from May 6 to 11, by Prof L. P. Bruso who is the special field representative of the Red Cross.

Margaret Smith Tells Of Trip To California

Miss Margaret Smith, president of the Women's Athletic Association, reported on the western district A. F. C. W. convention which she attended at Stanford University, Palo Alto, California on March 23, 24, and 25 at a meeting of the W. A. A. Council held last Wednesday evening in the women's gymnasium. Approximately sixty-six delegates from western states were present at the convention where problems concerning phases of W. A. A. programs were discussed. Margaret returned with many worthwhile contributions for the local program of women's athletics and sports. One of the outstanding points being the growing popularity of co-recreational activities on many college campuses.

One of the high-lights reported by Margaret was the desire of the majority of delegates at the convention to have the next annual conference of the western district at Montana State College. The possibilities of accepting this bid are being considered.

Marriage Relations Classes Draw Large Audience At Lecture

Approximately two hundred students attended the first lecture in the series on Marriage Relations, which is being sponsored by Mortar Board. Rev. William T. Reeves gave a most interesting and valuable talk Wednesday evening on the subject of "Courtship and Engagement."

Rev. Reeves expressed the opinion that there should be a regular course in Marriage Relations in our college. It is the hope of Mortar Board that such a course will become a part of the regular curriculum of Montana State College in the near future.

The two remaining lectures of the series will be held next week at Roberts Hall. Wednesday, April 10, at eight o'clock, Dr. Hollands will speak on "Marital Adjustment." Dr. Hollands is a newcomer to our campus, and he has had experience on other campuses with courses in Marriage Relations.

Thursday, April 11, at seven-thirty, Dr. Eneboe will talk on "Biological and Hereditary Aspects".

Mozart's comic opera, "Abduction from the Harem", will be presented in its entirety for the first time in the U. S. by the music department of the University of Michigan.
