Need For Spirit Calls For Assembly And Rally Friday Evening

Assembly Highlighted By Introduction Of Football Squad

Starting at 4 p. m. Friday afternoon, October 4, the annual pre-homecoming student assembly will be held on Gatton Field instead of inside the Gymnasium as usual. This assembly is for the purpose of arousing the spirit of the students for the annual football game on Saturday. During the assembly hour Coach Schubert Dyche will introduce the football squad and Floyd Roth, Freshman football coach will give a short talk. They will also be band selections, student cheering and a student snake dance on the field. Every student at Montana State College should turn out for this assembly with all the possible spirit that can be summoned to their call. The team needs the students help and the college needs their spirit. Everybody should attend.

The loud speaker system will be used to announce the events and to introduce the team.

Rally Friday at 7:30

Tentative Play Cast Announced For Fall Production

Dramatics got off to an early start with the tentative casting of the fall play Monday night. The play, "What A Life!" by Goldsmith, was an outstanding success on Broadway two years ago and has been used as the basis of a radio serial using the same characters. It takes place in the office of a small town high school and is a fast-moving comedy with a large cast. The parts, according to present plans will be taken by the following people: Miss Shea, Welby Jamesson; Mr. Patterson, Tom Gilmour; Miss Pike, Dorothy Embleton; Bill, Rod AuClair; Miss Eggleston, Anna Mae Roe; Miss Johnson, Billee Jean Austin; Mr. Vecchitto, Louis Blinknen; Henry Aldrich, Jimmie Dickson; Barbara Pearson, Jean Haines; Gertie, Beulah Granger; Mr. Bradley, Bud Sands; Miss

Snake Dance Begins At A. G. R. House And Up Willson Ave.

With music, costumes and whooping and hollering, the student rally will begin at the Lambda Chi Alpha and Alpha Gamma Rho fraternities Friday night at 7:30. From there, led by the Montana State College drum corps, a snake dance will proceed up Willson Avenue gathering students as it goes. It will end back of the Engineering shops where a huge bonfire will be lit at which time a few yells will be emmitted and the band will join. After the rally all students will proceed to the student Union Building for the Rally Dance. The "M" will be lighted by the Fangs and "let's all turn out to make this a really big rally.

Marvin Kelly Assumes Dean Of Men Post

Hard work seems to be the keynote of Marvin E. Kelly's, new Assistant Dean of Men and Montana State College, program for the coming year. But recently appointed to his present position, he has already begun active work on several plans to aid the college men and women. Among his plans is one to check housin facilities for students in order to try to alleviate some of the housing ills which have been prevelant for some time. A student will be sent around to each house listed as desiring or housing roomers and will rate such features as lighting and ventilation. Mr. Kelly also plans to meet with the Dean of Men and students from the University of Montana to discuss the annual painting of the campuses of both schools preceeding the Butte game and hopes to have a panel discussion with deans of other western colleges on student problems.

Born in Chelan, Washington, Mr. Kelly's elementary education was partly obtained by walking three miles to school every day. He quit school

Dean James M. Hamilton

College Mourns Loss of State's Pioneer Educator as Dean J. M. Hamilton Succumbs Sept. 23

A late September sun shone warmly out of a clear blue sky last Thursday afternoon as over 1500 people gathered to pay final homage to one of Montana's great educators, James M. Hamilton, for many years dean of men at Montana State College. Students solemnly lined the walk leading from Montana Hall to the gymnasium as active members of Sigma Chi fraternity carried his body to the gymnasium where funeral services were held.

From 10:00 Thursday morning until 2:00, the time of the funeral, Dean Hamilton's body lay in state in Montana Hall, where he had spent 36 years working for M. S. C. and serving the people of Montana. Senior military science students and Associated Women Students' officers stood guard at the casket until it was taken to the gymnasium, only available building with adequate seating capacity.

The quiet and dignified services opened with reading fom the scripture and prayer by Rev. R. P. Smith, friend of Dean Hamilton's while a professor at the state university. Bill Cowles, accompanied by Milton Brown, Annual Sophomore and Freshman scrap will take place between the halves of the football game Saturday. If the Freshmen win this bout, two weeks will be knocked off the time for wearing green hats. If they lose they must wear them the prescribed six weeks. All freshmen and sophomores must be there.

Ray Lakey, Mont. Engineer Editor, Urges Subscription

The Montana Engineer under the editorship of Ray Lakey will present articles and features of interest to the campus at large in addition to the technical engineering articles.

A campaign is in progress this week to gain a one hundred percent backing from the engineering department and to interest as many other students in the magazine as possible.

Messeges from the Presidents

To the freshmen, a hearty "WELCOME" and to the upperclassmen a cheerful "Hello."

That period of life which you are now in or are entering is the most enjoyable, serious and satisying that you will ever live. Make the most of it! Your participation in the numerous extra curricular activities together with your seriousness in studies will give you more satisfaction than you have ever known. Your interest and cooperation will add to the ever-present glory and prowess of our school.

Hugo Eck,
President, A. S. M. S. C.

Thanks To You And You

The Associated Students of Montana State College wish to take this opportunity to thank all the members of the faculty, especially President Strand, Ed Dye, Dean Branegan, Prof. Harrington, for the splendid job that was done by them in furnishing and equipping our Union Building. A great deal of credit is due to them for the beauty and grandeur of the building as we see it now.

We as students will do our utmost to retain the magnificance of the building so that the classes in years to come may enjoy it as we have found it this fall.

The Associated Students of M. S. C.

Again the college welcomes the older students back to the campus and also, for the forty-eighth time, it welcomes the new freshmen. Each autumn the place is not quite the same as it was the year before. The physical features of the campus are gradually transformed. There are new faces amongst the faculty, the old faces are a little older, and a few perhaps, who in years past helped to set the "trend and curvature" of the insttitution, have passed on. And, too, the college has changed due to the impact upon it of hundreds of students for they all help from year to year to set its pace, its ideals, and accomplishments. Something is taken away by each student and something retained from each one. If all that is taken is a thin collegiate veneer covering up bad habits made worse and a lowered sense of personal responsibility, there is left with the institution a deadening and decaying influence. But if that which is taken away is good and worthwhile, the college will retain the power to grow and prosper, and as a storehouse will be filled with even more valuable goods.

College Disillusions Hayseed Interested in Butlers and Baths

It ain't worth it—this education stuff they talk about. It I'd a-knowed I'd have stuck to being Mrs. McGillicuddy's hired man out at Higgin's Switch. But, Shucks, when that traveling salesman guy come by and said about how a college degree got you swell jobs selling stuff and things and working on the W. P. A. and how the government wouldn't take college men for the army right off like on account of their being so dumb or something, why I just thought maybe I'd come and see, But, doggone it, what they're a'teachin' me ain't gonna help me much. Like that there class where they give you tests about what a butler had ought to do if he should open the door while the lady of the house was takin' a bath. Shucks, anybody would a'knowed enough to tell her to keep the door locked! And I ain't never gonna be a bulter anyhow. There ain't nobody out at Higgin's Switch what's even got a butler, let alone a bath tub . . . lessen you count the Si Jenkinses what found a lotta old bones in their cow pasture and sold them to a museum for a Dinah sour or something. They got a heap of dough fer 'em and now old Ma Jenkins makes her hired man change outta his overalls before helpin' with the dinner table.

Anyhow they calls this here course Si Cology and it's supposed to learn people how to make other people do what they want 'em to. She says you gotta play the game and have horse sense. Only I sure enough wouldn't like to not have any more sense than a horse. And anyhow a horse couldn't be expected to know nothing about bath tubs.

And that ain't all. There's a place up in the attic in the building where the zoology class is where they learn you to talk something they claim is what them there natseys talk. All I got to say is they're sure queer people if they do. When they want to say like in "itch" they makes a noise like they was a-gonna spit.

You know, if it wasn't for the fact that I met a cute little blond down

Parade Inaugurates Annual Homecoming As Bobcats Meet Bison

Parade Forms At Bozeman Hotel 12:30 Saturday

Saturday, October 5 will see another annual homecoming festival at Montana State College. Highlights of the day will be the annual gridiron battle between the North Dakota Bisons and the Bobcats. The 'cats are out to reverse the game of last year which turned out victorious for the Bisons under the leadership of Sturgeon, outstanding back. The other big attraction will be the parade which will form in front of the Bozeman Hotel at 12:30 p. m. Last year saw the best parade in many years and this year it is hoped that the same will be true. Bernard Haley, Commissioner of Demonstrations, urges all organizations to participate in the parade. Following is the order in which those assigned floats will appear. This does not mean that other groups cannot participate. Any organization that would like to have a float may do so and Mr. Haley requests that as many as can, please do so and there will be a place in the parade for them.

The order of appearance is:

Band
Lambda Chi Alpha
Chi Omega
Students and cheer leaders
Sigma Chi
Pi Beta Phi
Kappa Sigma
Majorettes
Sigma Alpha Epsilon
Alpha Omicron Pi
Pi Kappa Alpha
Kappa Delta
Students and Cheer leaders
Alpha Gamma Rho
Alpha Gamma Delta
Phi Sigma Kappa
Students and cheer leaders

The above named must be there and all others who wish to have a float should do so.

'Cats Seek Revenge For 16-14 Defeat In Last Year's Thriller

Saturday, October 5, will mark another homecoming day at Montana State College at which time the Bobcats will again tangle with the North Dakota State College Bison. Last year the Herd came to Bozeman and spoiled Montana's homecoming with a 16 to 14 victory over the Cats. Saturday the Cats hope to reverse this decision and gain revenge for last year's defeat.

The Bison come to Montana with a squad possessing 12 lettermen and a host of good reserves. Leading the Herd will be Cecil Sturgeon, 210 lb. fullback and a senior of two years experience. Sturgeon will well be remembered by Bobcat fans for the part he played in defeating the Cats last year. The giant full is also an ex-

Greek Pledge Class Below Last Year's

Over two hundred new students of M. S. C. pledged Greek organizations at the climax of the 1940 rushing season. This is only slightly less than last year's high when 237 pledged. The Sigma Chis led fraternity groups this year with a total of 37 pledges, while Pi Beta Phi topped all sorority houses with 25 newly pledged.

The other groups rated as follows: Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 22; Chi Omega, 21; Kappa Sigma, 28; Phi Sigma Kappa, 19; Lambda Chi Alpha, 16; Alpha Gamma Delta, 9; Alpha Omecron Pi, 8; Kappa Delta, 7; Pi Kappa Alpha, 7; and Alpha Gamma Rho 32.

The list of pledges is as follows:

President Strand Announces Faculty Changes

New appointments to the faculty at Montana State college to fill vacancies caused by resignations and leaves of absence are announced by President A. L. Strand as the institution begins its 47th year of educational service to Montana youth.

Faculty appointments announced by President Strand follow:

James C. Boyd of Spokane as graduate assistant in the dairy industry department. He holds a bachelor's degree from Washington State college and recently has been with the Inland Empire Dairy association at Spokane.

Albert Burroughs who taught in the botany and bacteriology department last year will be an assistant in the department this year. He holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Wyoming.

E. Louise Case will be a member of the home economics faculty and director of the home management house. She holds a master's degree from Iowa State college and a bachelor's degree from Parsons college.

Ann Gersib, who comes from the University of Washington, will be an instructor in home economics and director of Hamilton hall, dormitory for women. She succeeds Mildred Leigh who has been appointed director of the Student Union building.

Eleanore Gill comes to Montana State from the Oregon College of Education. She will be director of the student health service succeeding Sarah N. Barnes who is on leave for a year. Miss Gill is a registered nurse, receiving her bachelor's degree from Oregon Medical school in 1937.

Lala Handorf, assistant professor of nursing, will carry on work in psychiatric nursing at Warm Springs,

NOTICES

DON'T FORGET The first meeting of the First Voters club Tonight at 7:30 p. m. in the Ball room of the Student Union Building. Every student of voting age is urged to attend and definite announcements are to be made at that time concerning future work. Plans are underway to provide various speakers from both the democrat and republican parties seeking offices both state and federal. It is to the best interest of every voting student to attend this meeting.

IMPORTANT EXPONENT MEETING TOMORROW (THURDAY) AT 5 p. m. IN ROOM 306 of the Student Union Building. All staff members and those who desire work on the Exponent be there.

Attention Treasurers of Student Organizations

Please call at the Student Business office, Room 302, Student Union, at once for instructions concerning the handling of your funds for the coming year. It is important that you do this as soon as possible.

Fraternity and Sorority Members

The members of those groups who keep their books at the college will now pay their house bills in the Student Business office instead of the Treasurer's office as in the past.

There will be a meeting of all students that are interested in working on the 1941 Montanan Wednesday at five o'clock in the Montana office. There are a good many positions which are not filled and anyone who is willing to do some work, can.

Union Building Care

Montana State college is now the proud possessor of a beautiful Student Union Building. For many long years such a building has been the hope of all students coming and going to and from the campus both as graduates and visitors. For many years other campuses have been adorned with such places for students and faculty to meet, rest, carry on business and relax from the regular line of work with which they are connected. But as is often the case with any object desired and then attained, the users forget about how badly they wanted what they got and upon acquiring ownership immediately begin abusing the privilege offered. This is likewise to be thought about in connection with Student Union Building. It belongs to the students. It was paid for by the students and it will be maintained by student support and COOPERATION. It is not entirely an uncommon sight to see cigarette butts on the floors, ground out by the heels of some careless student. The arms of the lounging seats were made for elbow rests and not to hold the leg of some sprawling student and yet such a sight can be seen. Booths are made for privacy and comfort in any coffee shop and the same is true in the Union Coffee Shop. All students have beds at home in which to sleep or on which to recline and yet students have been seen stretched out on the booth seats with feet upon the leather covering.

This article is for the benefit of the students because the conveniences furnished in the New Home are for the students. Those of us who are here enjoy it while it is new and those to come will likewise want to enjoy it in the same way. WE WANTED IT, WE GOT IT, NOW LET'S TAKE CARE OF IT!

Stay To The Finish

With less than two weeks of school gone by, the student body of Montana State college has already begun the traditional habit of neglecting certain necessary and vital obligations. This condition is not new nor is it incongrous with past student bodies. A few of the obligations neglected should not be classed as dutiful but as gestures of respect and thoughtfulness originating in the minds of the students themselves.

On Saturday, September 21, the college Bobcats met and defeated the Western State team. It was a hard game. The opponents were tough. The 'cats fought throughout the battle. THE STUDENTS (MANY OF THEM) LEFT DURING THE THIRD AND FOURTH QUARTERS OF THE CONTEST. This is not unusual, it always happens. If the home team is winning, the students leave. If the home team is losing the students leave. How many of the students attending college ever played either football or basketball or even stopped to consider the strain on the human body of those who do play? Apparently not many for if they did, not one student would leave an athletic event until the very end. It is not doing justice to those athletes who are fighting their hearts out in order that YOU may have a good team. President A. L. Strand is not well pleased with this prevailing attitude and is quoted as saying, "My proposal is that every student remains at the game until the end and that when the final gun is fired all students rise and sing one verse of the "Alma Mater." This proposal should be carried out and the singing performed under the direction of the cheer leaders.

Saturday is a good time to redeem ourselves when the Bobcats meet North Dakota at the Annual homecoming day gridiron battle. LET'S ALL TURN OUT AND STAY TO THE END.

Raise Our Banners!

This week-end the Bobcats entertain North Dakota State's Bisons in their annual homecoming game as a climax to their home football schedule.

In colleges and universities throughout the country homecoming is a day of celebration—rally, parade, mixers, alumni parties, etc. At Montana State these activities have been sadly lacking due to the absence of student interest and participation. Alumni have ceased to return because of previous disappointments and to top it off the time allowed for the parade has been limited because the faculty is reluctant to excuse classes for privileges which the student body abuses.

Homecoming at M. S. C. took a turn for the better last year when one of the finest parades seen in years was staged through the downtown district. A large crowd witnessed the game and a fine exhibition to the finish.

This year it is our duty to continue the upward swing of school spirit and of homecoming celebration. It is for our benefit as well as the college's that we build tradition and prestige for M. S. C. A continued effort in this direction on the part of the entire student body may result in an annual homecoming celebration that we as alumni in the years to come will look forward to revisiting our alma mater and renewing acquaintances of old classmates.

JONES & JONES

Once upon a time there lived a young girl named Ruth. Everything happened to her. Whenever she registered for some interesting-sounding course it turned out to be all about hyrdrogenion concentration; on her birthdays people always gave her things like camels and red and white striped slips and crab salad; she always said the wrong things to people and laughed in the wrong places and cooked dinner on nights when the family was invited out to eat and forgot important meetings and where they were going to be held and went to the ones no one else ever managed to get to and went to her classes in the ag building when every one else was going to an assembly in the gym and was always mailing letters without any stamps on them to the wrong addresses anyhow. She was That Kind of a Girl.

One day everything was worse than usual. She arose vigorously and dashed up the street to her eight o'clock class only to remember that she had no eight o'clock that day. Undaunted even by that blow she went home and made her bed. It had to be torn up again. This was sheet changing day. She swept the kitchen floor. A new refrigerator was going to be moved in so on one thought it wise to do the floor until afterwards. She bought a chemistry book. Her sister had already bought one for her. She fed the gold fish. They had just been fed. She went to her ten o'clock. She forgot to bring her problems. She went to the student union for a few minutes. When she happened to ask some one what time it was, it was too late to go to her eleven o'clock. That day the teacher gave every one cider to demonstrate fermentation. The whole day was like that. Finally, just after she had put all her clothes out on the line, something she had been urged to do for weeks, it started to rain. Dashing out to drag the things off the line, she swooped up into the air on a piece of mud and fell with a crash into a mud puddle. There was a large pointed stick in the puddle. Ruth fell on it. She jumped up with a yel . . . . all of which proves the old saying, "Ruth, crashed to earth will rise again."

Exponent Welcomes Too

To the new members of the student body of Montana State college the Montana Exponent extends a hearty welcome and best wishes for a happy year and years to come. You are now entering what will turn out to be the most important phase of your life. How you partake of what this institution has to offer will be the deciding factor in your life when you leave. What you do and how you do it is entirely a personal problem. There is work to do and fun to be had. How you mix the two is your choice and your problem and also the Big Thing in what you do in later years.

Entering college is an investment that will pay interest only if you so desire. You are gambling with your future and the only difference between that and gambling with your money is that in your college investment the amount of dividends returned to you is entirely in your hands. You can win or lose. It is all up to you.

Take advantage of all the college has to offer and again may your years at Montana State college be prosperous and happy.

Let's Organize And Vote

1940 is undoubtedly that most important year ever encountered by the youth of America. National and World-wide events are such that no student can afford to ignore them. As the world situation changes so does the prospect for each and every young life. Youth today will be leaders tomorrow and there is no end to the work they can do to prepare this country so that it will be a pleasant and profitable place to live. The coming election, both state and federal, will be the turning point of our lives. We can do much toward having the returns of that election come out as we desire. Therefore it is of vital importance that all students in all colleges prepare themselves on national and wordly events so they can vote intelligently in November.

Because the need of student support has been seen by many, there is being organized on the campus of Montana State College a First Voters Club. This club will be composed of all students who will be voting for the first time in November and those students who voted four years ago. It is hoped that the response to the call for members to this club will be one hundred percent. The first meeting will take place in the ball room of the Student Union Building, tonight at 7 o'clock. Plans are underway through which the group may hear Henry A. Wallace, Vice Presidential nominee on the Democratic ticket tomorrow and definite announcements will be made tonight concerning that address.

The organization is new and vital so let's all of us First Voters be there. TONIGHT. STUDENT UNION BUILDING. BALL ROOM. 7 O'CLOCK.

IT'S MIGHTY LIKE A TREE

Though it spreads across the entire nation, the Bell Telephone System is simple in structure. You can think of it as a tree.

BRANCHES
The 24 associated operating companies . . . which provide telephone service in their respective territories.

TRUNK
The American Telephone and Telegraph Company . . . which coordinates system activities, advises on telephone operation and searches for improved methods.

ROOTS
Bell Telephone Laboratories . . . whose functions are scientific research and development; Western Electric . . . manufacturer and distributor for the system; Long Lines Department of A.T.&T. . . . which interconnects the operating companies and handles Long Distance and overseas telephone service.

With common policies and ideals, these Bell System companies work as one to give you the finest, friendliest telephone service . . . at lowest cost.

SOCIETY

By Pat Rounce

Mixers and firesides at various sorority and fraternity houses are running rampant on the campus these days in an attempt to acquaint the board of new-coming students with social customs of the college.

Don't forget about Homecoming which is scheduled for this next Saturday, for that's when school spirit and good times go hand in hand with the big parade down town in the morning, the football game is the afternoon, and firesides 'n stuff in the evening.

Traditions Dance Sponsored By Senior Organization

Septemviri, Senior Men's honorary, is sponsoring a dance Friday night in the Ballroom of the Student Union Building. The price of admission will be 25c per student. Lloyd Schmitt, newly elected president of the organization, says that Septemviri is sponsoring this dance for the purpose of arousing spirit for the football game the next day and that all proceeds will be turned over to the Student Union fund. Septemviri has as its purpose the upholding of all traditions and is starting this year with an effort to make homecoming a bigger and better celebration.

Independent Quads

Calvin House

Miss Louise Stahl left Saturday afternoon for Butte to spend the week end with her mother.

The house mother, Mrs. Knutson motored with friends to Helena where they attended a lecture at the Shrine Temple, Monday evening.

Many of the girls of Quad B. attended the church dinners given in Bozeman through the week.

Miss Dorothy Stevens of Helena arrived at the Quad this Saturday. She occupies the suite vacated by Marion Dyas who moved to the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority house.

Marshall House

This year Marshall House has seven transfer students.

Salle Hoyt and Dorothy Ann Riberdie entertained two house guests Peggy Massey and Betty Lou Coburn, of Anaconda for several days.

Dale Cook entertained Katherine Smith at dinner on Wednesday. Later in the evening a party was given by the new girls for those who lived here last year. Chief interest of the evening was eating lolli-pops and dancing at the same time.

Several of the girls went home for the weekend.

Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Swain of Helena were guests at lunch on Friday.

Mary Slayton came back with a diamond. Congratulations! !

Greek Gossip

Lambda Chi

Dr. E. W. Schilling, head of the Electrical Engineering department, has recently accepted the position of faculty advisor for the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. Dr. Schilling received his degree at the University of Illinois, but was initiated into Lambda Chi Alpha in the Alpha Gamma chapter at the University of South Dakota. He succeeds Professor H. E. Morris of the Botany and Bacteriology Experiment Station, as faculty advisor of the fraternity. Professor Morris has acted as advisor since 1931, at which time the Amigo club, local social fraternity, of which he was a member, merged with Lambda Chi Alpha.

Coleman Nolan, Lambda Chi traveling secretary, visited the chapter during rush week, at which time he was also able to attend the Sunday preference day ranch outing.

Another visitor during rush week was Ted Mannix. Ted has made his home at Gold Creek since he received his degree last spring.

Dinner guests Monday evening, included Roger Hofacker who is now employed by the Montana Power Company in Butte.

Friday, September 27, the new pledges were entertained at a dinner after which they were formally pledged.

Jim Shoop passed out cigars shortly after rush week. Congratulations to Jim and Gladys Durand.

Chi Omega

Miss Marian Adams of Sidney, was the guest of Pat Rounce for several days last week. Miss Adams was en route to Cheney, Washington, where she will attend a teacher's college.

Jane Albin was visited by her mother and sister this weekend.

Joyce Kropp, Mildred Michelback, Lola Mae Burns, Bunny Stearns, and Betty Young were overnight guests of Betty Jones, Saturday.

Margaret Cline was a dinner guest Sunday, at the Chi Omega House.

Joy Walker, Midge Lund, Marge Johnson, and Marigrace Burton were Wednesday night dinner guests of the chapter last week.

Jean Lind moved into the house from Hamilton Hall on Sunday.

Phi Sigma Kappa

Congratulations are in line for Stub Fjeld and Mary Lou Harper. We all enjoyed the cigars very much.

John Dedrickson has returned to school after being absent for a quarter. We are all very pleased to have Johnny back with us again.

Swede Sundal OB who left school in 1938 has again returned to finish school.

Bill Hawkes OB '37 dropped in the house for a short visit the other day.

Cigars were enjoyed Sunday at the expense of Harold Johnson who has passed his pin on to the Lady of his choice.

Vic Smith '44 visited Butte over the weekend.

Don Nash accompanied by Pierce Patterson drove to Missoula Saturday on business.

Fangs Hold Annual All School Mixer Saturday Night

Sponsored by the Fangs, the second of the all school mixers, held last Saturday, September 28, 1940, attracted many of the M. S. C. students to the new student union ballroom.

The Varsity Sextet which was the orchestra for the dance introduced Asa Smith, negro vocalist. He entertained the student attendance singing "That Lonesome Road," "When it's Darkness on the Delta" and some popular numbers.

Eddie Kimball, chairman of the dance committee, reported four hundred twenty four in attendance with receipts one hundred and six dollars.

According to turnouts for the supposedly "no date" mixer, the future prospects of the new Student Union dances should be favorable during the following year.

Chaperones were Dean and Mrs. C. M. McKee, Doctor and Mrs. E. W. Schilling and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Cameron.

All School Mixer Staged In Union

The first Student-Faculty Mixer was held in the New Student Union building last Friday night. An overpowering attendance showed that the upperclassmen were anxious to try the brand new dance floor as were the freshmen anxious to come back again.

Outstanding at the affair were this years crop of Spur and Fang pledges escorting the members of the faculty on inspection tours throughout the building. The house mothers on the campus acted as chaperones. Music by Mockel's newly reorganized band showed promise of an even better orchestra for this year's social affairs.

Kappa Sigma

Alumni visitors during the week included Dick Timmel, Corky Giachette, Jeff Mathews, Knute Curl, Gerald Barber.

Sunday dinner guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ode Martin and Mr. B. A. Barrickman.

Hugo Eck and Mel Jackson left Sunday night to attend a Tau Beta Pi national convention in Lexington, Kentucky.

Alpha Omicron Pi

Formal pledging was held for Leila Ruth Linfield, Margaret Ann Cox, Louise Hansen, Lois Hodgskiss, Arlene Granger, Lois Manning and Katherine Kane Mary McCune and Eileen Ritske Sunday morning. Ruth Parker was formally pledged last week.

Actives and pledges of Alpha Omicron Pi held a "get-together" Tuesday night in the form of a self-service dinner. Their guests were: Jane Sherman, Virginia Campbell, Billye Cullen, La Verne Dalton, Muriel Venzel, Vera Conway, Mary Jean Pasley, Lucille La Barr, Virginia McCoy, Dorothy Stephens, Ruth Williams, Marjorie Smith, Helen Rae McDermott and Barbara Waite.

Visitors during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Manning, the Granger family, Mr. and Mrs. Granger, Berdette and Ardith, and Mickie Ferris an M. S. C. alumni.

Wear and Tear By Torn

"The plane leaves Friday evening; you will be in New York early Saturday to start your day of fast and furious shopping." Perhaps this comment will be made as a casual one someday, but for the present, dears, let's bail out and land where we should, right in Bozeville, to do our needed shopping. If you but stop to realize it, New York is right here on our main street. Oh yes, it is—just dust off those horn rims you abandoned for the summer and start peering. To give a quick review, we'll start with colors, trends, and materials. Indian Earth, Blue Sky, as well as Soldier Blue, Stop and Flag Red, and Cactus Green are all top notchers for sports things. While black—yes, black, leads the field for date, dressy, and afternoon dresses. Brown is coming in as a fast second. We might also add the popular combination of black and toast—a rich beige shade—which is very striking, especially when worn with amber jewelry. Many of the sports dresses have a flare for three-color combinations. Materials are mainly wool jersey, velveteen, spun rayon, and feather flannel. You lucky lassies with fur coats can strut to the head of the class, as the very smart new idea is 'pastel wollen sports dresses of high tones, a la your furs.' Furs are always good, and a brand new one on the market is Laskin Mouton Dyed Lambskin. Evening comes forward with more covered shoulders than usual. For the younger and more naive set, plaid or accordian pleated skirts with plain veleteen or military type blouse are first, while the young sophisticate may rise and shine in one of the new sequin-covered jackets or metallic blouses. Evening wraps have gone dramatic this season—military capes, casual double-breasted greatcoats, poke bonnet hoods, and many other new ideas lend variety. That's all for now, gals, but watch for a wild report of shoes, hats and accessories for your wardrobe in next weeks, column, for we will be super-snooping on main street.

An exhibition of the work done by students during the summer months is now hanging in Herrick Hall for those who wish to see it. This is an exhibition of art work by students in the Art department of Montana State college.

Student Union Becomes New Campus Center

Montana State's long-awaited Student Union building came true with a fanfare of trumpets and a Coney Island rush on the first day of Freshman Week. According to Miss Mildred Leigh, the director of the new building, there was scarcely standing room during the afternoon and evening of the grand opening on Monday, September 16, and already the Union has been the scene of three all-school mixers, three dinners, and innumerable meetings of campus organizations.

Besides the ball-room (which has the advantage of complete privacy, since the mezzanine floor can be approached only from the dance floor) the book-store, the coffee shop, the writing room, and the student and faculty lounges, there are offices for all the major campus organizations. There are also a dark room for the Camera Club and two meeting rooms which will accomodate from thirty-five to forty people. These may be signed up for in advance in the office of Miss Leigh. For larger gatherings the lecture room in the Secretarial Department downstairs will be available.

The ballroom will be available for private parties at rates varying from twenty-five dollars for less than fifty couples to thirty-five dollars for less than seventy-five. For all-school parties it may be used free of charge and checkroom service will be rendered by the Fangs.

Worthy of special notice are the Bobcat andirons in the student lounge room which were manufactured by the president of the Student body, Hugo Eck, and Mr. Edward Dye of the Engineering Department.

Both Mr. Dye and Hugo Eck served on the Student Union board which was responsibile for the building and for its furnishings. Other members of the board were Dean Gladys Branegan of the Department of Industrial Arts, Mr. F. M. Harrington of the Division of Horticulture, Lloyd Schmidt, this year's editor of the Montanan, and Grace Moore of last year's graduating class. Mr. Dye served as chairman of the committee. In addition to handling all matters pertaining to the construction of the building, the committee with some outside help bought the furnishings The building complete cost Montana State college around $235,000

The Union employs 30 students. Many of these students would be unable to continue at school without this help

It is the expressed hope of the board and the management of the building that the students may come to regard it as one of the essential parts of campus life and care for it as such.

Tau Betas Sponsor Subscription To National Weekly

Due to the fact that funds are not available to supply magazines for the reading-writing room in the student union building, Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary, is going to sponsor a subscription to a national weekly for use in that room. Tau Beta Pi hopes thus to inagurate a custom that other organizations, honorary or otherwise, will want to follow and assist in carrying out. All magazines thus sponsored will be marked as to who the donor is.

Organizations are asked to see E. R. Dye, chairman of the Student-union board, as to which periodicals to subscribe for, so that there will be no duplication. It is planned to have magazines of a lighter vein than those carried in the library to add to the students' leisure hour pleasure and to carry those with which every one is familiar.

Home Economics Club Holds First Meeting At Annual Luncheon

The first meeting of the Home Economics Club will be the annual luncheon Saturday, October 5th, 12:15 p. m. in the Student Union Ballroom. The program will consist of a guest speaker, who is prominent in the Home Economics field and a style show by the Sophomore girls.

Miss Nina Leedham is chairman of the luncheon and her committee consists of Barbara Lee and Betty Isaac. Tickets are being sold for fifty cents by representatives from each class. They are Senior, Alice Brownell; Junior, Yvonne Kalberg; Sophomores, Elsie Jane Albin, and Elaine Scott; Freshman, Elizabeth Williams and Leila Linfield. Buy your tickets from one of these girls before Friday noon, October 4.

Small Enrollment Drop Forseen At Registration End

Due to the fact that registration lists have not been completed it is not possible at this time to give accurate figures on the 1940-41 registration at Montana State College. However, the total number of students registering up to 5 p. m. Wednesday September 25, was 1,649 which was 28 less than the corresponding date one year ago.

It is expected that the total registration when all figures are compiled will be only slightly less than the total for last year. Some decrease is expected due to the National conscription program and the program calling the National Guard into active service.

Registration figures throughout the state are likewise unavailable except for the Eastern Normal school at Billings. At a reeent date figures showed 140 new students registered which was 50 less than the corresponding date one year ago.

Senate and Strand Pick Committees For Coming Year

Late last week the Student Senate and President Strand picked and approved the student and faculty members of the standing committees for the coming school year. The members of those committees on which faculty members alone serve are: athletics: Renne, Swingle, Dyche; Bobcat day: Dolan, Renne, Roman, Ed Howard, True; eligibility for athletics: W. H. McCall, Renne; faculty social: Morris, Mayfield, Harrison, A. A. Cameron, Schillings; fraternities: M. Kelly, Harrison, Hea, Post, Hapner; Freshman Week: Cobleigh, McKee; Tallman, Hapner, Harrison, Gill, W. H. McCall, Good, Post (this committee continues through Freshman Week, 1941);

Graduate studies: Cotner, Therkelsen, Renne, Richardson, Nelson, Mills; health: Cotner, Dyche, Gill; High School week: Palmer (others to be announced); housing of students: W. H. McCall, Harrison, M. Kelly, Gill; instructions: Cobleigh, Hapner, Palmer, Therkelsen, Clow; library: Kranezel, O. E. Sheppard; Frances Smith; Therkelsen, Cotner, Hannon; NYA project: Pesman, Barnes, Litzenberger; recommendations for positions: W. H. McCall, Branegan, Hapner, Palmer, O. E. Sheppard, Tallman; Registrations: W. H. McCall, Tallman, Gaines; retirement law: Nelson, Tallman, Graig; student loans: Hurst, Harrison, M. Kelly, A. A. Cameron, Harrington. The first named is chairman in each case.

Partial student and student-faculty boards are: Assembly committee: Bernard Haley, Patricial McAuley, Hansen, Hannon, Parsons, Good, Mills; student social affairs: Marybelle Jondrow, Charolette Benson, Ferne Parr, Floyd Roth, Hugo Eck, Harrison, M. Kelly, Clow, Dye, Hansen; gripe committee: Matie Allport, Vivian Tretsven, Lloyd Jensen, Don Martin, Melbourne Jackson, Cheever, Bull, Jordan, Lightfoot, E. R. McCall; student union board: Lloyd Schmitt, Hugo Eck, Natalie McDermott, Dye, Branegan, Harrington.

Prominent Lecturer Speaks On Mineralogy

J. Lewis Renton of Portland, Ore., president of the Mineralogist, will give an illustrated lecture on gems and gem materials at 8 o'clock Friday night in the chemistry building at Montana State college.

The lecture, which is free and open to the public, will be the chief feature of the October meeting of the Montana Society of Natural and Earth Sciences. The society is known locally as the Rock club. When he stops here Mr. Renton will be enroute to Spokane, Wash., where he will show his colored slides at the annual meeting of the Northwest Federation of Mineralogical societies. His slides were shown recently at the New York World's fair.

Students interested in natural sciences are cordially invited to attend the meeting Friday night.

Student Fees Must Be Paid By Monday

According to Mr. A. A. Cameron, college treasurer, student fees are to be paid by five o'clock Monday afternoon, October 7. He warns that a $2.00 penalty will be inflicted upon those students who have not paid their fees by that time. First year student fees for the first quarter are $48.35 except in cases of scholarships, when they are $28.35. Upperclassmen without scholarships are required to pay $43.35, while those holding advance honor scholarships pay $28.35.

R. O. T. C. Proficiency Trophies

For having the highest scoring team among all colleges and universities in the ninth corps area, the Montana State college team of 33 men taking advanced military training at the Reserve Officers Training Corps camp held at Fort George Wright this summer received the "Doughboy of the West" trophy shown, center, in the above picture.

The Montana State college team also won the the rifle trophy shown on the right in the picture, and the pistol trophy shown on the left for having the highest score in the camp competition. The team scored an average of 198.03 points out of a possible 225 in rifle marksmanship and averaged 76.5 percent with the pistol.

The State College team won the "Doughboy of the West" trophy for the first time in 1938. All of the trophies have been received at the college and are on display in the new Student Union building.

Rho Epsilon Holds Regular Meetings

Rho Epsilon fraternity, national radio honorary, is now holding regular meetings each Monday at 7:30 p. m. in Room 317, Engineering building.

Officers elected for the following year are Joe de Graaff, W7HBI, president; Albert Evans, W7FhF, vice president, and Allan Thompson, W7-HIB, secretary-treasurer.

Attendance was good at the first meeting held, but it is thought that many more students on the campus, especially among the freshmen, are interested in radio. Anyone who hopes to become a radio amateur, or who is genuinely interested in the technical aspects of radio will be welcomed to the meetings. Radio amateurs who are also college students are eligible for active membership.

The club is showing a splendid spirit of cooperation and activity this year. Improvement work has already begun on the transmitter. Code practice and instruction will be given to Rho Epsilon members several morning hours each week, beginning this week. Classes in preparation for amateur license examinations will begin soon also; if you are interested in these classes we urge you to investigate as soon as possible and get an early start.

The local chapter has a 400 watt amateur radio station, W7HIX, licensed by the Federal Communications Commission. The station is located in the electrical engineering section of Ryan Laboratories. The chapter is making plans now to prepare equipment and operators for any national or local emergency. This is done by making emergency equipment ready to furnish power in case of commercial failure, and by training operators with network drills of army and navy affiliated amateur stations.

Recent F.C.C. rullings now prohibit portable operation on frequencies formerly used on "M" day for communcation. However, new transmitters and receivers are now being built to operate on frequencies still allowed for portable use. The chapter hopes to continue to provide communication between the top and bottom of the "M." If this facility is properly used it will contribute much towards conserving the energy of the Spurs and Fangs.

Art Department Has New Exhibition For Art Gallery

An excellent opening for the art gallery in Herrick Hall is the Icelandic show currently touring America after a long visit at the 1939 New York World's Fair.

There are 30 canveses arranged to show the American people examples of the little known work done in Iceland, and to acquaint them with what this energetic and progressive nation is doing in contemporary art. Of interest to the student is the variety of technique and treatment and the general mood prevailing in the whole show—one recognizes a definite Parisian influence in color and handling.

Military Dept. Reveals New Commanders

The Department of Military Science & Tactics, under the command of Colonal Hea, had announced the following assignments for senior student officers for the school year 1940-1941.

The Department of Military Science & Tactics is under the command of Colonel Hea who was recently promoted to the rank of Lt. Colonal. Assisting him are Lieutenant James McDonald and Lieutenant Richard Roman, both graduates of Montana State College.

The appointments of Cadet Majors and Colonel will be made at the beginning of winter quarter. The appointment list of Junior officers has not been completed. It has been cut somewhat in total number. Not more than 14 are likely to be chosen and this number may be reduced.

Alumni 4-H Meeting tonight in room 301 Ag Building at 7:30. All former 4-H members be there.

Judging Teams Leave For Pacific Coast Participation

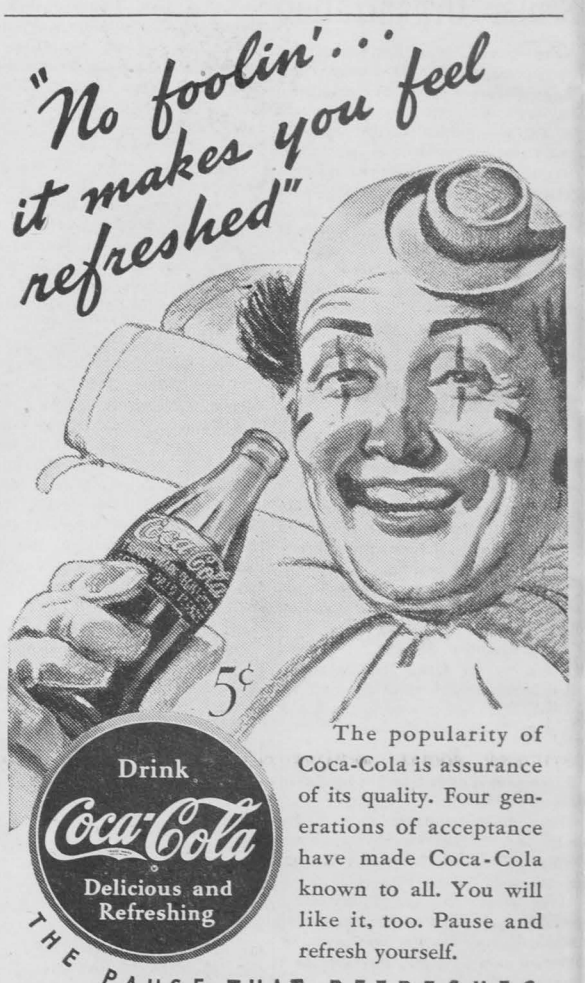

Three student judging teams will leave here this week to represent Montana State college in the collegiate competition with teams from other western states at the annual Pacific International Livestock exposition which opens this week at Portland, Ore.

In addition to these teams, a grain judging team yet to be selected will leave Sunday for the international competition.

On the dairy cattle judging team are Morgan Esmay of Great Falls, Reginald Davies of Lloyd, Dean Kiel of Belgrade, and Owen Wirak of Butte. Accompanied by its coach, Professor J. O. Tretsven, the team will visit a number of dairy farms and dairy centers enroute to Portland. Included also are brief stops at the University of Idaho at Moscow, and Washington State college at Pullman. Judging will be done Saturday.

The dairy products judging team is composed of Dick Fagan of Opheim, Austin Overcast of Zurich, John Fritz of Butte, and Glenn Marsh of Roy, alternate. Dr. J. A. Nelson, head of the college dairy industry department is team coach and will accompany the team to Portland. Enroute creameries and dairy plants will be visited at Idaho Falls, Twin Falls, and Caldwell, Ida., and at Union, Ore. The team will judge Monday.

On the livestock judging team are Ernest Douglas of Browning, Charles Greene of Dillon, Art Kegel of Turner, Edward Rose of Choteau, Loren Morley of Harlowton, and Glenn Cooley of Miles City. Enroute the team will visit the ranch of Con Warren at Deer Lodge, the University of Idaho, and Washington State college. Professor Ralph McCall of the college animal husbandry department is team coach and will accompany the team on the trip. Judging will be done Saturday.

FRESHMEN! Here's One Rule Not In The Book

You may have to wear a freshman cap, but there's no rule against wearing Arrow shirts. No doubt you've discovered by this time that more college men wear Arrow shirts than any other brand shirt. There are reasons: The superb Arrow collar, the Mitoga cut, the anchored buttons, and the permanent fit (Sanforized-Shrunk, fabric shrinkage less than 1%). All these extra values plus authentic styling are yours for the small sum of $2.

Wheeler, Ruth Heebner; George Bigelow, Harold Kellog and Mrs. Aldrich, Pricilla Dix. No one has yet been cast either for the part of Mr. Nelson or that of Mr. Ferguson.

The play will be directed by a new addition to the M. S. C. faculty, Mr. David S. Hawes, who will also stage the production. Mr. Hawes is a graduate of Dartmouth and has studied extensively in the field of dramatics.

"What A Life!" is scheduled for November 18 and 19 at the Ellen Theater. Students, as usual, will be admitted on their activity tickets.

Student Employment Bureau

Register at once for odd job work at the student employment bureau in the Student Business office, Room 302, Student Union. Don't apply unless you need work to stay in school—otherwise you'll be taking work from students who need it very badly. Bring a copy of your schedule card.

Palmer Announces Placing Of 1940 Graduates

All 1940 graduates of the department of agricultural education at Montana State college have been placed in teaching positions or government service, reports R. H. Palmer, professor of agricultural education.

Of the 14 graduates qualified to teach Smith-Hughes vocational agriculture, ten are employed in Montana, two in other states, one by the Farm Security administration, and one accepted an appointment in the regular army. There is still a demand for well qualified teachers, A. W. Johnson, state supervisor of vocational agricultural education, informs Professor Palmer.

Graduates and the places where they are teaching follow: Arnold Berglund, Cascade; Herbert Berland, Wolf Point; Charles Bordsen, Rolls, N. D.; William Davidson, Sidney; Lyle Davis, Simms; Delno Gates, Hamilton; Adolph Henn, Jackson, Wyo.; Billie Janssen, Joplin; Therlow Leach, Stanford; William Meeks, Valier; Jack Otten, Musselshell; Stephen Urs, Hot Springs. Kenneth Christian is employed by the Farm Security administration at Jordan and Robert Thompson is serving in the U. S. Army.

Greek Groups Start College Benefit Fund

Fraternities and sororities on Montana State's campus took a step forward in furthering the welfare of the college when they all agreed to donate two dollars each month to a fund known as the Publicity Fund to hire some person to help the Publicity Department with its work. Through this additional worker, it is hoped that more publicity may be sent to papers in the state than was possible when all the work was relegated to the present members of the department. Glenn Cooley, junior in agriculture, has been appointed by Louis True and Hub White, of the Publications Department, to collect and write the news of interest to the school and home town people.

The agreement is as follows: "We, the undersigned fraternities and sororities on the campus of Montana State College, in order to create a better feeling between us and the student body and in order that we may in some way help Montana State College through the means of publicity, agree to donate to a fund known as the Publicity Fund the sum of two dollars ($2.00) per month for the coming nine months school term.

"This money is to be used to pay some person selected by Louis True and Hub White of the Publicity Department to help the publicity department in gathering and collecting of all news of interest which occurs in the fraternities, sororities, honorary organizations, and in all organizations on this campus with the exception of the athletic department. Such person is answerable to Mr. True and Mr. White for the work that is done and a report on the progress of such person is to be submitted to the Panhellenic Council and the Interfraternity Council two times each quarter. It is also agreed that the Panhellenic Council and the Interfraternity Council leave all matters of selection of such a person to the heads of the Publicity Department.

"It is hereby understood that this is an act to help Montana State College and not directly for our interest in getting publicity. All organizations are included and it is up to the secretary of each organization on the campus to have material available when and as soon as news is available.

"All monies donated to this fund is to be collected through the office of Ed Howard and payable to him either in monthly payments, payable before the fifteenth of the month or in a lump sum at the time of the first payment, October 15, 1940."

at the restaurant where I went the night the landlady dropped a rubber band into the burner on the electric stove while she was steamin' open my mail, I'd just up and quit. But I can't hardly leave now on account'a she says when I get me my fraternity pin from them guys what took me to a place called the "Thrush" or something and bought me some cokes to drink the night them other guys give me an invite to supper with 'em . . . why, I gotta give it to her. I didn't get any supper because I fell asleep and kinda forgot. She says she's already got six pins and she wants the other one. I offered her a safety pin but she said it wasn't the right kind. Anyhow I think I'll stick around and learn more about how to be a butler. Maybe Sadie would like to have one after I get that W. P. A. job.

Strong Announces Present And Future Store Plans

Improved new quarters and improved stock are featured by the Associated Students Store of M. S. C. this year. With spacious and attractive quarters in the basement of the new Student Union, Manager Frank Strong hopes to soon carry everything students need and has already increased the stock of the store to include sweaters and sweat shirts for both men and women, a complete line of athletic material, typewriters, radios, lamps, jewelry and all the novelties which go to furnish a student's room, as well as all the old stock. It is hoped that a magazine section will soon be included, carrying all the current and popular periodicals.

Part of the entire student organization, the Book Store does not try to make a profit, any increases over regular prices going to pay expenses and salaries of the twelve students employed in the store. If any profits are made, they are paid into the general fund of the Associated Students to be used for the furthernace of activities among the students of the college. A few years ago, these profits were turned over to the Student Union fund. All registered students are members of the Student Store corporation, and it is controlled by a Board of Directors consisting of five members, each serving for two years, two students and three faculty members.

while in the seventh grade, but realized the foolishness of his actions and went back to school, graduating from high school in three years. He enrolled in Washington State College in the fall of 1934 and was graduated in June, 1938. He was state president of the Future Farmers of America while in high school and in college was president of an organization composed of 152 young men. He also worked with Dean Otis McCreery, then dean of men at W. S. C.

In the summer of 1938 Mr. Kelly was transferred to the Montana Forest Service, and entered Montana State College as a graduate assistant in botany and bacteriology in January, 1939. In spite of his new duties, he will continue his teaching for the entire year, and will take his master's degree in the spring. A very capable young man, he seems quite competent to handle his present situation and to even add work to his regular duties.

Dean Hamilton

sang "Abide With Me," after which President Strand read a telegram from the faculty at Montana University expressing their sorrow for the college's loss and their admiration for the Dean's greatness in Montana education. He then spoke briefly on Dean Hamilton's life and on the man himself.

The funeral address was delivered by H. G. Klemme, assistant to the president at Carleton College, and former pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Bozeman. He came from Minnesota to pay last respects to a man he had known and loved for years. Burial was at Sunset Hills Cemetery, where services were in charge of Gallatin Lodge A. F. and A. M. Number 18.

Business houses were closed during the services and no classes were held at the college that afternoon.

Hamilton Dies Monday

Dean Hamilton died at 4:30 Monday afternoon, September 23. He had become ill last spring and had been out of the house but little since that time. He died of a heart ailment in the manner in which he had so often expressed his desire, "as a leaf falling from a tree." He left behind a life well spent and one full of as much recognition as one man could expect to have in a life time.

James McClellan Hamilton was born at Annapolis, Illinois, October 1, 1861, the son of James and Mary Hamilton. He attended the public schools of his native town and state and attended Union Christian College at Merom, Indiana, where he was graduated in 1887. Later he received his Master's degree from the same school (1890) and was a student at Harvard in 1893.

In 1887 Mr. Hamilton was elected superintendent of city schools in Sumner, Illinois, and two years later "went west" to become superintendent of city schools at Missoula, Montana. Here he at once took place of prominence in the educational circles of the region that was just learning how to become a state.

In 1893 he became a member of the State Board of Education in Montana and in this capacity helped to choose the sites for the first of the state's higher educational institutions. In 1901 he was named professor of history and economics at the State University at Missoula, later being named vice-president of the institution. In 1904 the State Board of Education decided that he was the man for the presidency of the State College at Bozeman, and he served as president of M. S. C. from 1904 to 1919, when ,at his own request, he was relieved from executive duties and made dean of men here, in which capacity he served until his death. His latest work, a comprehensive history of Montana is now on the presses, and promises to be a very important work.

First In 23 Years

It was the first time in 23 years that the campus has seen such a funeral as was given to honor Dean Hamilton. His casket was covered with a blanket of roses and crysanthemums from the faculty, and banks of flowers masked the front of the speaking platform. Part of the main floor was reserved for faculty, honorary pall bearers, out of town friends, Dean Hamilton's lodges and his fraternity, Sigma Chi.

Active pall bearers were chosen from Sigma Beta chapter of Sigma Chi, the chapter which Dean Hamilton helped to found on this campus, and were: Floyd Roth, Keith Hustad, Frank Wolcott, Don Shawhan, Warren Bergstom, Don Jorgenson, J. B. Annin, Tom Ross, Robert Lipp, William Fraser, Peter Koch, Joe Bush, Richard Carlson, Walter Thieme, Richard Little and William Stuckey.

President Strand's great tribute to a great man which says what all students whoever knew Dean Hamilton feel is as follows:

Strand Gives Tribute

"To few men is there given life so full, so complete, or, I believe, so happy, as Dean Hamilton enjoyed: youthful adventure, early schooling and undergraduate training in a rural community along the Wabash during the years following the civil war; school-master days; migration to a new territory, in the west, soon to become a state; there to make stolid friendships to last over half a century, or to be broken sooner only by death; association with many who were at the time or who were to become historical personalities; professional and scholarly accomplishments of great note, a strong hand in the molding of a new educational system; ominence as a member of two university faculties; outstanding success as an administrator of school and college affairs; and all the time a close and guiding friendship with young men and women, teaching, chastening, and inspiring them; a life crowded with human relationships, filled with the everlasting satisfaction of seeing young people, under his influence, make the most of themselves.

"He came from the same neighborhood on the Wabash River that produced Whitcomb Riley, Lew Wallace, Booth Tarkington, George Ade, the two McCutcheons, Daniel Voorhies, Edward Eggleston, Paul Dresser, and Albert J. Beveridge. There must have been something about the soils of Sullivan County, Indiana, and Crawford County, Illinois that made real human beings. He told me once that he didn't really mean to leave the locality of his boyhood home, for he loved it, but school teachers' salaries were meagre there, times were none too good, and he was persuaded by friends who preceded him to the West, to accept the Superintendency of Schools at Missoula, Montana. From the day he arrived in Missoula in 1889 to the present time his influence for good has been felt in the educational development of his adopted state.

On Educational Board

"He was only thirty-two years old when he was appointed by Governor Richards to Montana's first State Board of Education. He had been here less than four years, when, as a member of that Board, he helped choose higher learning created by the state the sites for the four institutions of legislature in February of 1893, and one of which was Montana State College. He helped choose the first presidents and faculties of these institutions. In 1901 he became professor of history and economics at Montana State University and soon thereafter was made vice-president. In 1904 the State Board of Education decided that he was the man for the presidency of the State College and he served in that position until 1919, when, at his own request, he was relieved from executive duties and became, or more correctly, he continued as our first dean of men.

"During his term as president of Montana State College, higher education in this state passed through some very critical periods and out of them came much constructive growth. But his official service to the thousands of students who, in the course of 51 years, have known him as superintendent and teacher, professor, president, and dean. He never forgot any of them. He knew them and their parents, their wives or husbands, their children through three generations. Whenever his name has been mentioned in student groups there has always been a note of admiration.

"His pleasant countenance, his ready quip, his sincere counsel will be sorely missed on this campus. But we do not grieve over his death. His fruitful life, all his honors, the sincere recognition that he knew he had, the period of consolation since he became ill last spring, watching once more a new class arrive on the campus, and his quiet passing on the day classes began again, constitute a beautiful completeness. He loved people and was, therefore, himself beloved."

Bobcats Beat Western State In First Game

The Montana State College Bobcats won their first game of the 1940 football season with an impressive 12 to 0 win over the Western State College gridders. While most of the other team throughout the nation were idle and preparing for the coming campaign the Bobcats ushered in another season of football in the Rocky Mountain region by gaining their first conference victory.

This year found the Cats suffering with the loss of key men because of the calling out of the National Guard and the preparedness movement. Keith Clawson a big rangy end and Joe Wilcox, one of the best propective backs ever to enroll at Montana State College, were lost for one year when they were called out for active duty in the National Guard. Dana Bradford, who last year played regular end, is now in the air corp and his absence has left Coach Schubert Dyche with but one experienced end, Leonard Scharmota. Even with the loss of these men Coach Dyche has molded a speedy, powerful and tricky squad which uses spinners, reverses, and passes as its main weapons of attack. With two versatile backfields composed of Farrell, Vaughn, Phelan, and Duley in one group and May, Stone, Stark and Mikalson in the other, Coach Dyche was faced with the task of rebuilding a powerful line. Gone from last year's forward wall are Vollmer, Roth, Field, and Bradford. Three sophomores are being groomed to fill in these gaps left by graduation. These three men, Dogterom at end, Dougan at tackle, and Jarvi at guard proved their capability in the game with Western State.

While blanking the gridsters from Colorado, the Bobcats played headsup ball and displayed good timing and precision in running their plays for so early in the season. The first touchdown was scored on a pass from Farrell to Scharmota, and the attempted coversion of the extra point was blocked. After working the ball down to the 2 yard line the Cats scored their second touchdown on a check signal play. While Stone was calling for a recheck of the signals May sneaked over for a touchdown. Again the kick for the extra point was blocked. The whole Bobcat squad played good ball but Jarvi, Lovera, Berg, and Burke should be commended for their stellar line play. Dougan, giant sophomore tackle, was forced to sit out most of the game on the bench when he sprained his ankle in the second period of the game. In the backfield Vaughn Farrell, and Duley played a bang-up game and Little Johnny Phelan's generalship led the Cat's to victory. If the Cats can continue with the type of play displayed in their first game they will have a successful season.

W. A. A. Presents Athletic Program To College Women

Fall plans of the women's Athletic Association will be presented to interested women students sometime in the near future. Sports to be included in the activities of the W. A. A. will be volleyball, hockey, and riflry. One of the main projects of the year will be the planning of the W. A. A. convention which is to be held on this campus.

At the spring election of officers Sara Cole was elected president, Elaine Rash, secretary-treasurer; Pat Rounce, reporter; Margaret Smith, play day chairman; Vivian Trestsven, Manager at large; Betty Lyons, minor sports; Gladys Durand, tennis; Mary Slayton, basketball; Carol Rounce, golf; Pricilla Dix, archery; Marie Watson, swimming; Jean Haynes, hiking; Ann Greenfield, winter sports; Charlotte Ralph, softball. Miss Miream Hart, new physical education director will be the sponsor.

Dr. Therkelsen Directs CAA College Course

Ground instructions for the new Civil Pilot Training course begins Monday, October first, according to the announcement of Dr. Eric Therkelsen, Director, Civil Pilot Training Program. John F. Lynch of Shelby will be flight instructor. Mr. Lynch has just completed two courses at Havre, Montana.

Hangars are being built at Belgrade Airport now. Flight instructions will begin as soon as these hangars are completed. Regulations require that training planes be properly housed at all times. Some students have already taken their flight instructions during the summer.

The course will require 72 hours of ground school work at the college and from 35 to 50 hours of flight training at Belgrade field. It is open to men who have completed two years of college work with an average of C whether they are now enrolled in college or not. They must be between 19 and 26 years of age. The course will run from October first to January 31, 1941.

Six quarter credits to be used as electives will be given on successful completion of the course. Credits are put on the course to keep students from over-loading. Extra credit slips must be made out according to the regular method in order to take more than 19 credits including Pilot Training credits.

Ground school instructions will be given by the ground school staff, consisting of A. J. M. Johnson, Gerard J. Pesman, and the flight instructor, John F. Lynch. These classes will be held outside of regular college hours. Flight instruction will be given during daylight hours when the student has no scheduled classes. Initial flight will be one-half hours long, and later flights will be of one hour duration.

Students will be charged a fee of $25.00 to cover medical examination, individual insurance, and tuition fee. An additional deposit of $15.00 will be charged to cover transporation costs. Text books and forms will be furnished by the C. A. A. free of cost.

Dr. Walker of Livingston is giving the medical examinations since no Bozeman physicians have qualified. 14 applicants have already passed their physical examinations.

The application quota of 20 is almost filled, but a few more applications will still be received. After a student is accepted for the Pilot Training he must register on the regular college forms with his class adviser for 315, Civil Pilot Training. Those wishing to take the course are advised by Dr. Therkelsen that their best opportunity will be this fall.

Ag Club Begins Year With Frosh Banquet Last Monday Night

The Agricultural club of Montana State College officially opened its 1940-41 program with a banquet at the stock pavilion Monday night Sept. 30. This banquet, an annual affair in honor of the incoming freshman and new students registered in Agriculture, opens the club's 1940 membership drive.

One of the highlights of the banquet is the announcing of the judging teams who will compete in the Pacific International at Portland this week. The teams were as follows:

Livestock Judging

Ernest Douglas, Charles Greene, Art Kegal, Loren Morely, Eddie Rose, Glen Cooley.

Dairy Products

Dick Fagan, Jack Fritz, Austin Overcast, Glen Marsh.

Dairy Cattle

Morgan Esmay, Reginald Davies, Dean Kiel, Owen Wirak.

The Agronomy team is to be announced later.

Dr. A. M. Schlehuber acted as master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers. Ag. Club President, Henry Hibbard, gave a short talk on the purpose and objectives of the organization and urged all students to join.

Huge Crowd Sees Flashy San Jose State In Action

On September the 23 a crowd of some 4,000 people saw a flashy San Jose State team defeat Montana State by the score of 34-0. The Spartans were in command all the way, at times completely bewildering the Bobcat defensive with intricate reverses and spinners. The Californians used two complete teams, both of them equally well versed in Pop Warner's tricky system of double and triple reverses, while the Bobcats substituted sparingly and used the starting lineup most of the way.

Aubrey Minter, Negro backfield star for the Spartans, and Rex Pursell another hard running back, stood out in a galaxy of shifty ball carriers and made most of the Spartans' gains. The Bobcats failed to threaten seriously at any time but Berg and Lovera stood out in the Montana State defensive play. Running summary of the game:

Stone kicked off for Montana over the goal line and the San Jose eleven put the ball in play on its own 20. There followed an exchange of punts which found San Jose on their own 15, but from there they started goalward. Minter and Pursell alternated to march to the Spartans first touchdown.

Second Period:

San Jose substituted a new team, and kept the Bobcats buried deep in their own territory. The Cats kicked out of their own territory only to have the Spartans bring it back to States 27 yd. line. Soon after San Jose made a touchdown that was called back, and penalized for holding. A few minutes later they suffered a similar penalty. After an exchange of kicks, the Spartans took the ball on Montana's 38. They gained two first downs by ground plays and then went to the air to score a touchdown, Hubbell to Nygren.

Third Period:

The Spartans kicked off and the Cats, after a few ineffectual offensive thrusts, kicked out past midfield. Woffington returned 24 yards to Montana State's 44. Then Woffington, behind expert blocking, ran 19 yards on a reverse to reach the Bobcat 13. Ford went over on a spinner and Wagner kicked the extra point. San Jose kicked off, the Bobcats fumbled and the Spartans recovered. They marched to the five yard line where the Cats held them on downs and then kicked out.

Fourth Period:

Joe May, Montana State halfback, spoiled a Spartan drive early in the fourth quarter by intercepting a pass on his 24, but the Cats were forced to kick out of the 35 after May lost nine trying to pass. Passes and reverses carried the Spartans to the Cat two yard line, where Pursell went over. Minter and Rishwain teamed to get the San Jose last touchdown. Cook's try for the extra point failed.

The lineups:

Bobcats		San Jose

Sadler And Roth Predict Good Bobkitten Team

According to Co-Coaches Harold Sadler and Floyd Roth this year's yearling squad will be another well balanced team by the time they are turned over to Head Coach Schubert Dyche. Out of a squad of 58 there is only one AA-State player of last year, but the players as a whole show a lot of promise and fight which will help a lot to get on future "Bobcat" teams. Those players on the squad are; Baldwin, Ballard, Beasley, Brickley, Brim, Barrow, Cameron, Cantrell, Carroll, Collins, Cook, Corbett, Dolven, Domme, Ellison, Fye, N. Hansen, Haburchak, Harrison, Keater, B. R. Keater, Haxford, James, Johnson, Jones, Kirscher, Kornelis, Krieg, Leary, Line, Manning, McCartney, Montjoy, E. Murphy, B. Murphy, Murray, Olson, Parsons, Peebles, J. Peterson, Petersen, Perry, Ross, Schmidt, Sherwood, Stevenson, Story, Traver, Weymiller, Whalen, Williamson, Young, Zempel, Zupan, Marterson, Dragovich.

MEDICAL APTITUDE TEST

Any students who are planning to enter a medical school in the fall of 1941 should take the Medical Aptitude Test as administered by the committee of the Association of American Medical Colleges. This test, which is approximately two hours in length, has been scheduled for 2:00 in the afternoon on November 8, 1940. A fee of $1.00 from each applicant is required by the Associa- of American Medical Colleges. This test is now one of the normal requirements for admission to a medical school. It is not necessary that all pre-medical quirements be completed at the time the test is taken, if the requirements are completed in time for entrance to medical school in the fall of 1941.

If you desire to take the test as scheduled, make arrangements this week through Dr. Cotner's office, Room 103, Lewis Hall.

Strong Drake Team Defeats Bobcat Eleven

Unleashing a powerful attack that promises one of the best Bulldog seasons in years, the Drake University gridders defeated Montana State, 56-0. The Bobcats, playing their third game in seven days, could not stop the roaring charges of the veteran line and the dazzling running of the Iowan backs.

Drake's attack featured powerful running plays and a stone wall defense. Spearheads of the Bulldog attack were Walt O'Connor and Ray Wero, whose sparkling runs of 89 and 62 yards, respectively, brought the first game crowd to its feet cheering wildly.

Leading 24-0 at the end of the third quarter, the Bulldogs finished like a racehorse at the Kentucky Derby, adding five touchdowns and two extra points.

cellent passer and kicker. Coach Finnegan is molding a hard charging backfield around this huge charger. He has three returning junior halfbacks, Butch Kimblin, Pomroy Hill and James Higgs, who combine with Sturgeon to make a powerful combination. In the line is Pat Twomey, the Wisconsin Lumberjack who plays a whale of a game at the center slot. Joel Nelson, who has played nearly every position on a football team, is a fast, alert, and hard clocking guard. No job is ever too tough for him. Coach Finnegan, like Schubert Dyche, is also depending on sophomores in key positions. Three first year men, Harry Treglawney 190 lb. guard, Charles Scott, tackle, and Edsel Boe, a shifty back, will play prominent roles for North Dakota in Saturday's game.

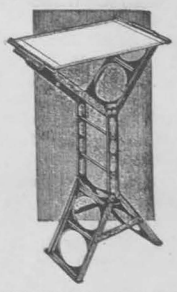

To meet this aggregation of stars Coach Dyche has assembled a fast and hard charging squad bent on erasing the sting of last year's bitter defeat. Bruised and battered, and weary from the strain of 3 games in a week, the Cats will be fighting for their second victory of this campaign. Several of the Bobcats are nursing injuries. Johnny Phelan, who nearly pulled the game out of the fire for the Cats last year, is limping around with a lame ankle. Both of Montana's starting tackles, Big Art Dougan and Jack Burke, are on the shelf with injuries that hamper their playing. With the exception of these men most of the other Cats are in fine physical shape. Farrell, May, Stone, Duley and Vaughn, have all tasted Bison blood and will be gunning for the Herd. The line, after being battered by San Jose and Drake in successive games within a few days, has a job cut out for itself and the linemen will have to do their best to conquer the North Dakotans. The Bison will be meeting several new faces in the Bobcat line. Dogterom, Dougan, Jarvi, and Lovera, who was an understudy to Fjeld most of last season, will be meeting the thundering Herd from Fargo for the first time. A homecoming victory this year would be sweet music to the ears of Bobcat fans who cannot forget last year's thriller staged by these two teams.

Rally Friday at 7:30

There will be a general meeting of the Women's Athletic Association at five o'clock in the gymnasium on Monday evening, October 7. All freshmen girls interested in sports of any kind, come and see what Montana State College has to offer in this line.
