

SEEING THE WORLD

By James Dickson

Inter-American Relations
It has become evident that National defense must mean complete Hemisphere defense. The eyes of the aggressor nations in Europe and Asia are placed indirectly, though ultimately on the United States; and the policy of that indirectness is via Central and South America. To protect the U. S., then, calls for protection of all American Nations.

To this end, the administration has named Vice President-elect Henry Wallace for the role of "diplomacy man" in the neighboring countries to the south, particularly Mexico. His presence in Mexico City on November 1st (by which act the United States will officially recognize the election of Avila Camacho, to be inaugurated on that day) will undoubtedly clear up the causes for friction between the two countries. Friction has been evident in the past, at times, even ominous. Henry Wallace, with his knowledge of Latin customs, languages, history and problems will, no doubt, strengthen the inter-American ties.

George of Georgia
The Senate Foreign Relations Committee last week threw what might be a rather destructive wrench into the machine of the new deal foreign policy. The action which constituted was the committee's election of Senator Walter George to its chairmanship. Senator George was one of the men at whom the famous senate "purge" was aimed. He was, at that time (two years ago) considered by President as being much too conservative. Since then, George has not attempted to oppose administration on general issues, notably, the "destroyer bases" deal with England and the description measure. Of course, the need for drastic measures is now much more imperative than it appeared earlier in the year, and while Senator George may act as a governor on the new deal throttle, there is no doubt that the pressing necessity for accelerated defense preparation will prevent a sensibly progressive attitude on the part of the new spokesman.

Germans and Greeks
Mussolini's colorful divisions are probably the biggest joke in history. The game little Greek army is pushing its back consistently. How long will last, no one knows, it seems indubitable that the situation has been as for as long as it has, but, combined with a sort of Albanian revolution, the Italians are getting a terrible run for their money.

Hitler's Big Idea
Has the Italian flop caused Hitler look toward Russia again? In his interview with Premier Molotov, he has not had something in mind. He is pretty generally accepted that purpose was to "let Russia in" on "New Order in Europe." By this, he proposes to incorporate all of Europe into his Nazi organization and distribute the unwilling smaller countries among their Fascist neighbors. Russia would cooperate, it would be in the way for a domination of the Balkan countries and Turkey, which would simplify the German plans immensely.

But Russia didn't cooperate. Molotov didn't come through. Hitler couldn't have been pleased, though, of course, he didn't say much; apparently Stalin wasn't pleased, either. He was, as a matter of fact, very angry with the little Premier upon his return from Berlin. Whether or not he wanted to come more closely allied with the Axis, is still a secret, but Molotov obviously didn't accomplish what Stalin intended accomplished.

Hitler's Big Idea
With Russia failing in its connection to Hitler's great movement, the Germans appear to be falling a bit out of their mark. Growing reaction in France and Norway is keeping the Axis hopping. Intensification of bombing raids on England has failed to check the stolid British morale. De Gaulle has recently been very successful in Africa. The British counterattacks have had good effect. All of these elements have proven disastrous to Hitler.

American Attitude
With very reserved optimism, then, the American people may breathe a little easier. Probably the main effect of the more favorable situation abroad will be a more carefully planned defense program rather than a hardening of the present one. This would ultimately mean greater security for the United States, the Western Hemisphere and especially for the preservation of Democratic principles throughout the world.

Lloyd Schmitt Announces Time And Place For Organization Pictures

All College Group Members Should Make Note Of Time For Their Picture And Be Present

Lloyd Schmitt, Editor of the Montanan, today made known a few of the deadlines on the 1941 Montanan. All pictures for the book must be taken before December eighth for the classes section. The opening section has gone to the engravers as well as the military and football.

A new plan is going to be used to take all of the honoraries, clubs and committees, including Interfraternity council and such organizations. All of these pictures will be taken at one time and in the ball room of the Student Union building. The time has been set for Sunday morning starting at 9:30 and again Sunday afternoon at 3:00. All of the organizations are scheduled for a certain hour and in the following order: 9:30, Newman Club, Lutheran Students, Wesleyan Foundation, and Young People's Fellowship; 10:00, Engineering Council, Student Union board, Gripe committee, and Social committee; 10:30, Associated Women Students, Student Senate, Interfraternity Council, and both the junior and senior Panhellenic councils; 11:00, Scabbard and Blade in uniform, Les Bouffons in tuxedos, Septemviri in caps and gowns, and the "M" club in their sweaters; 11:30, Board of Publications, Women's Athletic Association, and Spartans; 12:00, High School Week Committee, Athletic Board, Fangs in uniform, and Spurs in uniform; 3:00 Tau Beta Pi, Lambda Phi Kappa, Phi Upsilon Omicron, and Delta Phi Delta; 3:30 Alpha Zeta, Engineering Physics club, Alumnae 4-H club, Camera club; 4:00 Alpha Chi Sigma.

The pictures for the class section have to be taken before the Christmas holidays in order to have them included in the annual. Remember that the Seniors are to have their taken at Schleuten's and the Freshmen at Linfield's. Sophomores and Juniors may have photographs taken where they please.

There is still some misunderstanding among various students with reference to the procedure of entering shows under the new reduced rate system. Those students who failed to register while the registration was in session will have to wait until another day is set so that they can register and make use of the reduced rates. As yet no day has been set but announcements will be made when a new registration date is fixed.

Each and every student must present his or her activity ticket at the window when going to the show. This includes men with dates. In other words, girls must present themselves as well as their tickets even though they are escorted to the show. This is absolutely necessary to avoid entrance of those not students. All students must bring their tickets to the theatre and leaving them home will not make it possible to benefit by the reduced rate.

Of course the show rates are not applicable on Wednesday nights and no students should attempt to use their activity tickets on that night.

The Newman Club will hold its regular monthly meeting next Sunday morning at 9:30. All members should be there as this will be the last meeting during the autumn quarter.

There will be an important "M" club meeting at the SAE house at 7:30 p. m. tonight (Wednesday). All M-club members are urged to be present. Jack Burke, president.

Exponent meeting Thursday night at 5 in the SUB. All members should be present as there are some important issues to settle.

Tau Beta Pi Initiates Sixteen Men

On Nov. 13 Tau Beta Pi initiated 16 new members into the fraternity at a banquet given in the Student Union dining room. Dr. Welsh of the Veterinary department spoke on the Story Behind the Pearl Button.

Several weeks prior to the initiation the applicants took a four-hour competitive examination. A 1000-word essay on a non-technical subject also had to be submitted to the chapter.

Tau Beta Pi is the largest national engineering fraternity in the world, and the highest engineering honorary on the campus.

The following men were presented with their gold keys by Hugo Eck, president of the local chapter: Juniors—Clayton Boisvert, Robert Forest, and Lester Hogen. Seniors—Lyle Bird, Merrill Slind, Mayette Denson, Andrew Boyack, Everett Darlington, Francis Flynn, Gerold Kjelstrup, Roy Cooper, Ted Mullin, Kenneth Wagar, Harvin Naval, Ralph Coldwater, and Mickey Theme.

Course In Religion Under Rev. Pollock To Be Offered

With the offering this winter quarter of the course in religion taught by the Reverend P. Hewison Pollock, a new program of courses in religion is to be inaugurated. The new program, which will include a course each quarter of the school year has been approved by President Strand. The courses are being provided by the churches of Bozeman through a joint committee representing six churches. The committee is made up of two students, Mary Baxter of the Episcopal Church and Lester Hogan of the Baptist church; there are two members of the faculty, Professor Burlingame of the Christian Church and Professor Hurst of the Methodist Church; the other two members of the committee are E. R. Urhdahl of the Hope Lutheran Church and Mr. Pollock, pastor of the Presbyterian Church.

The course this winter quarter will be a study of the Old Testament, and will meet at eight o'clock, Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings. Mr. Pollock described the course as being a broad survey of the Old Testament with more of a study of its history and religion than of its literary characteristics. Most of the reading will be in the Old Testament itself, no other text book will be used.

In the spring quarter the Reverend J. R. Hestenes of the Hope Lutheran Church will teach a course in the Prophets, which will follow naturally on the Old Testament course of the winter quarter. Next fall, the Reverend W. B. Spaulding of the Methodist Church will offer a course in Comparative Religion. These courses will be followed in the winter and spring next year by studies of the New Testament and the Life of Christ, but teachers of these courses are not yet announced. A course in religion has been offered in the winter quarter for several years, and has been successful enough so that this new program seems to be called for.

Annual Christmas Sing To Be Held Sunday, Dec. 8

Montana State College will hold its annual Christmas sing at four o'clock Sunday, December 8, at the east side of Hamilton Hall. The singing will be as an entire group instead of selections by the various fraternities and sororities as in past years. Music will be under the direction of Lou Howard and a ten piece band will furnish accompaniment. It is not known as yet if the program will be broadcasted.

A tentative list of the songs to be sung includes the following: Joy to the World, Oh Little Town of Bethlehem, Silent Night, The First Noel, Jingle Bells, God Bless America, Oh Come All Ye Faithful, and the Alma Mater song.

Open house will be held also this day at the Student Union building, to which all town people are invited.

Col. Hea Announces Selection Of Four Honor Graduates

A recent announcement by Lt. Colonel James J. Hea, P. M. S. & T. at Montana State College reveals that four students in the Senior division of the Advanced R. O. T. C. unit have been chosen as Honor Graduates. These students are: Richard Kerr, Charles Melnick, John Fisher and Bernard Haley.

This honor permits these students to submit an application for a commission in the regular army with complete exemption of all educational subjects only a physical examination being required. However a vacancy must exist before such a commission can be granted.

The selection of Honor Graduates is based on academic scholarship, military knowledge, leadership, efficiency, initiative, enthusiasm and general conduct.

Team Represents MSC At Chicago Livestock Show

Six students compose the livestock judging team which will represent Montana State college at the Chicago Livestock exposition at which 31 collegiate teams from the United States and Canada will compete.

On the Montana team are Glenn Cooley of Miles City, Earnest Douglas of Browning, Art Kagle of Turner, Loren Morley of Harlowton, Eddie Rose of Choteau, and Jim Kieth of Helena, alternate. William Galt of Great Falls was originally named on the team, but due to the recurrence of a throat infection enroute to Chicago he returned by plane to a hospital in Great Falls. The group left here Sunday and will do practice judging enroute at North Dakota State college and the University of Minnesota. The contest in which they will compete takes place Saturday.

The state college team placed second in a group of six teams at the recent Pacific International Livestock exposition. At Chicago the team will judge three classes of beef cattle, sheep, horses, and swine.

Sound Film Shown At Engineer's Assembly Friday

An excellent opportunity to view the possibilities of visual education will be had at a general engineering assembly Friday, November 29 at 5 o'clock in room 101, Roberts' Hall. The sound film, "Oil From The Ground Up," dealing with the complete processing of petroleum, will be presented. All engineering students as well as interested students from other divisions are urged to attend. The film is being shown under the auspices of the Engineering Council.

Organizations Are Urged To Furnish Magazines For SUB

The following list of magazines and papers has been compiled for the Student Union reading room by the library, and Phillips bookstore as those from which students would get the most enjoyment.

Subscriptions to these magazines will have to be given by different organizations on the campus, as there is no fund to take care of reading matter for the building.

Septemviri has given the American; Phi Eta Sigma, Colliers; Spurs, Readers Digest; Tau Beta Pi, Life; and Miss Doris E. Wilson the New Yorker; Alpha Zeta, Esquire. Other organizations are asked to help in completing this list.

Country Gentleman, Newsweek, Photoplay, Popular Aviation, Popular Mechanics, Saturday Evening Post, Science News Letter, Scientific American, and Time.

The following newspapers are also wanted: Billings Gazette, Bozeman Chronicle, Great Falls Tribune, Missoulian, and Montana Standard.

Newell Berg, Jack Burke Make All Conference As Colorado Mines Dominate

May And McGeever Make Second Team In Respective Positions With Lovera And Scharmota On Third

Colorado Mines retained some of its prestige although it did not win the conference title by again dominating the Associated Press all-conference team with four Miners on the first eleven. Their edge was not as sharp as last year when they won eight of the 11 places. Besides the Engineers four places, Montana State, Colorado College, and Greeley State each held two with the conference cellar dweller, Western State, gaining one place.

Students Register For Next Quarter This Saturday

Registration day for winter quarter will be next Saturday, November 30. The final examination for autumn quarter will be from Monday, December 9, until Saturday, December 14.

The faculty regulations regarding this examination are:

- Exams shall be given in every subject in which an exam is feasible.
- All exams must be held in the last week of each quarter (with the exception of seniors in the spring quarter who will take exams the previous week.)
- There will be no examination schedule, but each instructor will use as many of the last regularly scheduled class hours, or laboratory periods, including the last one, as he feels are needed.
- If the instructor wishes to use the last laboratory period in a course for the exam, and it is not the last scheduled class meeting, he may do so provided he notifies the registrar, and the students concerned, to that effect, the week preceding the last week of the quarter.
- If, for any permissible reason, an instructor desires to give an exam at any other time during the last week of the quarter other than provided for above, he must apply to the registrar at least a week before the date of the exam. When this is done, all remaining class or laboratory hours for the week must be utilized.

Home Economics Graduates All Find Employment

Another 100 percent record for home economics graduates at Montana State college was made with the announcement from Dr. Gladys Brangan, dean of the division of household and industrial arts, that every graduate of 1940 who sought employment is now employed. The others are either continuing their training to obtain higher degrees or are married.

Of the 35 who received their bachelor of science degrees last June, 21 are now teaching in Montana, two have accepted teaching positions in Wyoming and three in South Dakota. Four others accepted the position of home management supervisor for the Farm Security administration and hold these jobs in Montana. Three others have gone on with hospital or institutional management training. Only two of the 35 were married.

Two master of sciences degrees also were granted last June. The holder of one of these resigned a part-time position held while attending college to get married. The other is now teaching at Utah State college.

Remember your Christmas shoppers—save your pennies for the annual Art Bazaar, Art Department December 6th and 7th. Things Chinese, Japanese, Greek woven stuffs, Blackfoot Indian crafts—unusual, distinctive.

Tryouts for the winter play, "The Petrified Forest" will be Thursday and Friday afternoons. Those interested report then to the Little Theatre. Scripts will be furnished.

This democratic apportionment of all-star laurels, contrasted with the Mines' monopoly of 1939, was emblematic of the wide-open conference race, in which three teams were championship contenders to the final two games. Three of the nine conference contests were decided by one touchdown and another was a scoreless tie.

For the Bobcats Burke at tackle, and Berg at guard were choices for their respective position on the first eleven. May a halfback, and McGeever, tackle, were placed on the 2nd team, with Lovera at center and Scharmota at end on the third team. Receiving honorable mention were Vaughn, Stone, and Farrell backs, and Duley guard. All of these above mentioned Cats are seniors except Lovera. Burke and Berg will be sorely missed by the Cats and will leave a gaping hole in the forward wall which will be very hard to fill. These two men are the prime reasons for only one conference team being able to score against the Montana Staters. Burke has been a stellar tackle for the Cats for three seasons and Berg has assumed a starring role ever since his transfer from Idaho Southern Branch.

All five conference coaches as well as scribes around the circuit co-operated with the Associated Press in picking this team:

Ends, Louis DeGoes, Colorado Mines, and Tom Pelican, Colorado college; Tackles, Dick Moe, Colorado Mines, and Jack Burke, Montana State; Montana State; center, Glen Hutchinson, Colorado Mines; quarterback, Joe Berta, Colorado Mines; halfbacks, Don Heizer, Colorado college, and Sam Sears, Greeley State; fullback, Horace Brelsford, Greeley State.

Nebraska Faculty Exhibits Work In Art Department

From Monday, November 25, and continuing for two weeks the MSC Art department presents paintings and drawings of three faculty members of the University of Nebraska.

Those exhibiting are Dwight Kirsh, department head, Kady B. Faulkner and Leonard Theissen. The show is in the hall of the Art Department.

Red Cross Receives $140 In Donations From MSC Students

The students of Montana State college are to be congratulated upon their splendid cooperation and generous contributions during the Red Cross Fund drive. About $140 was donated by the students and has been turned over to Mr. Hal Bolinger by Hugo Eck who was in charge of the campus drive.

This year more than ever the Red Cross needs the full support of everyone.

Ford Motor Co. Donates Model Car To Engineers

A 1940 Mercury body that was exhibited at the San Francisco World's Fair has been given to the mechanical engineering department by the Ford Motor company, and the Anderson Motor company. The body, valued at $3000, is constructed and finished to show the mechanism of a Ford car.

Now on display in the Engineering building, the car will soon be moved to the laboratory for student instruction.

And What Are You Doing?

This writer (a faculty member) is heartily in agreement with the expressions in the two editorials of last week's Exponent. It is unnecessary to repeat their contents here for they are worth rereading in the original. However, it is worth repeating that personal visits are many times as effective as an equal amount of paid effort. First-hand impressions are always more vivid and real.

In this connection it should be said that several faculty members made it their personal responsibility to conduct the last assembly speaker, Mr. Graham, on a tour through the older and most inadequate campus buildings. The reaction of the visitor was very forceful and spontaneous. As a result of the above visit, it is expected that two separate delegations of state citizens will visit the campus between now and Christmas to see for themselves.

Is it possible for all campus people, students and faculty, to introduce their guests and friends to the campus? Let them see it first hand. Are you afraid to let your friends and guests see their institution of higher education? Why should you? After all they are taxpayers. And don't forget to introduce your Bozeman friends to the campus.

For over a year there has been, on the campus, a Library Building Committee, made up of faculty members and an alumna, urging the cause of a library building financed out of donations and gifts. It would appear that no greater rallying point for the cause of higher education in Montana and on this campus could be had than the erection of a library building out of gifts from students, alumni, agricultural and business organizations, private individuals and educational foundations. What do you think? Such a library might be dedicated to the memory of Montana pioneers, Montana citizens, or to the faith of democracy in education? It might even be the theme for the coming "Little International" or for other campus groups. Might it be the making of a stronger "Alumni" organization for Montana State College?

The Committee has already made several contacts and will continue to make others. It feels that it is sponsoring a cause in which all people on this campus and the citizens of the state are interested. It is your and my responsibility to let them know of their opportunities and obligations. What are you doing in the interest of higher education for Montana and Montana State College?

What Do You Think?

As everyone is aware, some new songs are rapidly gaining popularity in the United States. Two such songs in particular are: "God Bless America." and "I Am An American." These songs are being sung in every home, on every corner, over every network and by every American. In fact one would almost think that they were replacing our National Anthem "Star Spangled Banner." If this is true it is something to consider. Should we allow this change to take place? Do we want one of these other songs as our National Anthem? As conditions now exist, it is very likely that we will have irregardless of desire.

It is hoped that this article will not be taken as a "slam" to the two songs mentioned. They are indeed wonderful compositions and there is no end to the praise due them. However, just how popular they should get is another question.

Perhaps this is a trivial matter today when the world is in such a chaotic condition and is being troubled by many greater and far-reaching problems. However, it is something else to think about and while this is the age of "traditional breakage" should we have no limit or should we stop with a few breakages and retain "The Star Spangled Banner" as our National Anthem.

Thanks To Mr. Russell

It is at this time that the Exponent in behalf of the entire student body wishes to thank Mr. A. M. Russell, manager of the A. M. Russell theatres for the new reduced rates offered the students who wish to attend the shows. This will make a great difference in any students' budget and all students should not abuse the privilege by some forgetful acts. A few don'ts to remember in connection with the new system are:

- Don't:
1. Go to a show without your ticket.
2. Forget to show your ticket at the window.
3. Try to get in on the reduced schedule on Wednesday night.
4. Attempt to go in at a reduced rate if you have not registered.
5. Transfer your ticket.

Let's cooperate with Mr. Russell one hundred percent so that the plan will be a success and continue for many years to come.

"What do you take for your insomnia?"

"A glass of wine at regular intervals."

"Does that make you sleep?"

"No, but it makes me satisfied to stay awake."

"Where d'ya get the black eye?"

"In the war."

"What war?"

"The boudoir."

"Aren't you the little girl who used to shrink from my embrace?"

"I don't recoil at the moment."

While a third says that intuition is that quality in women commonly known as suspicion.

Groans From The Gallery

By Erbel and Ding

One day Mr. Hadley, of Yale, left the railroad station in great haste, dashed into a cab, and shouted, "Drive fast, drive fast!" Up one street and down the other they went, until he called to the driver:

"Are we nearly there?"
"Dammed if I know; where are you going?"

Two Irishmen who had just landed in this country found new experiences at every hand. They had become accustomed to sleeping in a hammock on shipboard, but they had had nothing to prepare them for a sleeping car experience. They had a section, and after some difficulty Mike managed to get into the upper berth. After awhile he leaned over and called to Pat below:

"Say, Pat, air ye in bed yet?"

"No," said Pat; "O'iv'e got me clothes off, but by the great Saint Patrick, oi can't git meself into this little hammick."

Men, dying, make their wills, but wives

Escape a work so sad;

Why should they make what alltheir lives

The gentle dames have had?

The knot was tied; the pair were wed,
And then the smiling bridegroom said
Unto the preacher, "Shall I pay
To you the usual fee today,
Or would you have me wait a year
And give you then a hundred clear
If I should find the marriage state
As happy as I estimate?"
The preacher lost no time in thought,
To his reply no study brought,
There were no wrinkles on his brow;

SOCIETY

By Pat Rounce

Fall parties seem to dominate the social horizon this weekend with two on Friday and one Saturday, Men's Coop, Kappa Delta, and Alpha Gamma Rho respectively. Looks like fun's a brewin'.

Okeh, so you don't like sleigh rides. But anyway, the Pi Phi fireside next Friday night looks like the best chance in the world for one. There's so much snow laying around these days that it couldn't possibly all melt by then, so don't use that foggy old excuse. And anyway it'll probably snow some more.

Social Calendar Concentrates Many Events Into Remaining Weekends

With the end of the quarter getting surprisingly near, the social calendar becomes more burdened than ever as the boys and girls strive to maintain the maximum in social life. Friday night will see two fall parties and a sleigh swing into action. The men's coop will hold their first fall party at the Student Union to the strains of Melvin Mockel and his band with Dr. J. M. Johnson, Prof. Pletsch, Dean Harrison, Dean Kelly and Jerry Pessan as guests and chaperons. There is also hear say that a surprise is awaiting each miss when she arrives.

The K. D.'s are throwing tradition aside to make their fall party Friday night a combined barn dance and sleigh ride. At the Valley View country club the Varsity Sexette will be waiting for the sleigh full of dancers to arrive. Decorations will carry out the barn dance theme. Chaperoning will be Mr. and Mrs. Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Herring, Mr. and Mrs. Livers and Mrs. Robinson.

An informal fireside Friday night at the Pi Phi house will wind up their social calendar for this quarter. Betty Lyons, social chairman, is in charge of the affair and Mrs. Stranahan will do any necessary chaperoning.

Alpha Gamma Rho and Alpha Gamma Delta will both be societying Saturday night. The A. G. R. boys will be seen with their lassies at the Student Union entertaining in fall party style. An informal fireside, with Mrs. Wilson as chaperon, is on the calendar for the Alpha Gammas.

SPURS GIVE TEA IN HONOR OF BIG SISTERS AT ALPHA GAM HOUSE

On Saturday afternoon of this week, the Spurs are giving a tea in honor of their 'big sisters' at the Alpha Gamma House. This tea is an annual affair and has become a tradition on our campus, for it is at this time that the new actives present their spurs, along with authentic histories of them, to their 'big sisters.' Novel decorations in entertainment will also add to the affair.

Personality Pattern

By PATTY and POLLY POST

AH ME! Would that the youth of today could retain same without the back to childhood frivolities practiced by he lads and lassies of dear old M. S. C.

Sometimes, as now, when we too are in a discouraged mood, these pranks of college youngsters tend not to bring out the mother instinct but instead we find ourselves with a decided yearning to hand out a few cherished copies of Emily Post.

Freshman girls, you are not alone in this. Many a young man has patiently waited from five to fifty five minutes for Lady Beautiful (otherwise) to descend the steps in all her belated glory. During this time he finds among other things;—the house scrap book, the hall mirror, the pattern on the rug, and even his own wrist watch, which, undoubtedly, he is trying vainly to stop. It doesn't seem to matter that he is always careful to get here on time, or that they are late to the last show; to you time is always here, but someday you, alas, will be sitting home wanting, wishing, or waiting.

As for some of the boys, punctuality, has not been one of their aims. If out of necessity you are late, by all means, call and explain. Your date will understand. But don't wait until the 11th hour to ask the 11th date. She should refuse you, too. Besides it puts a girl in such a funny position!

Congratulations: to newest arrivals to Kappa Sigma pledgedom are Harold Young and Roy Davids. Sunday: seemed to be overflowing with feminine charm with such visitors as Norma Fuls, Anna Mae Roe, Caroline Jarvi, Carl Rounce, Margaret Stevens, Vivian Manning, Joan McCarthy, Marian Conley, Peggy Harrington, and Miss Ann Gersib as dinner guests. . . . What a feed, Thanksgiving, turkey and all the trimmings. . . . guests included: Ethel Graybill, Dorothy Riggs, Virginia Kelly. . . . Eating their Thanksgiving dinner at home or elsewhere were Bob A. Johnson, Lester Hogan, Bob Schelin, Gene Hamilton, Owen Wirak, Hugo Eck, Mel Jackson, Ralph Carlberg and Bob Bailey. . . . Visiting: parents coming Bozeville way. . . . Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Baldwin. . . . visiting their brothers: Bill Baldwin, Herbert Eck, Carl Carlberg. Congratulations: to Lester Hogan, who was recently initiated into Tau Beta Phi.

Honored: the rifle marksmanship team including Annabelle Hall, Margaret Ann Cox, Marie Watson, Mary Ann Batch and Louise Hansen Sunday at turkey dinner. . . . Concluded: Alpha O's would rather have their team shooting with them than at them. Newly acquired: a diamond engagement ring by Ruth Parker. Congratulations to you, Ruth and to Ned Applebury of Hamilton. . . . Preferred: home turkey to Alpha O by Delores Emigh, Charlotte and Grace Ralph, Eileen Olsen, Bobby Lee, Dorothy Schaal, Betty Batch, Anna Mae Roe, Betty Ford and Billye Wyatt. . . . Partakers of the feast: Little sisters, Vinny Manning, Barbara Waite and Sid McClean's sister Barbara McLean who is going to the Normal in Billings.

Sigma Chi: Most of the house went home for the Thanksgiving holiday. Silence reigns. Jack Woodward, Jim Teipner, Jay Venerable, Bill Bordner of Butte were dinner guests Friday night. Art Parson's Dad was here for a short visit last week. Turkey dinner Sunday: Those helping to consume it included Mr. and Mrs. Wallis, Mrs. Wollcott, George Walcott, Miss Fulmer, Miss Jane Fosgate, all from Billings.

Visiting last week was Dave Muchow from Calif., who is now on his vacation.

Wednesday evening: the Alpha Gamma Rho house was the scene of a very fine fireside. . . . good time and fun had by all. . . . Feasting: At home Thanksgiving day were Lloyd and Willie Schmitt, Paul Holzer, Eddie Rose and Jeff Roberts. . . . Journeying: Glenn Cooley and Eddie Rose, representatives on the livestock team, left Sunday for Chicago. . . .

Another Johnson has entered the folds of Phi Sigma Kappa. . . . congratulations Carl. . . . Thanksgiving: guests included Miss Mary Lou Harper and Mrs. Ruth Lovinger. . . . Those deserting for home-cooked turkey dinners were: Everett Shaey, to Billings; Vern Rogonollson, to Great Falls. . . . with Clarence Davidson to the same city. Pledges going Belgrade way for a bit of turkey: Vic Smith, Harry Cornwell, and Jim Bourne. . . . A harvest fireside: Wednesday eve, a gala affair with corn shocks and pumpkins decorating the house, while apples, pop corn and pumpkin pies were in order for the eats. . . .

Wear and Tear By Torn

As we were supor sluthing among the co-eds of M.S.C., 'tuther day, we had the good luck of receiving many suggestions as to what the girls would like to have in this column. One thing mentioned. . . . the appearance of you gals when you are wending Main street way. An issue which is not only an "unwritten" rule from Dean Harrison, and a definite suggestions on the part of our house mother's, but it should be a matter of your pride, if nothing else. PLEZ, my femmes, I can't afford to lose any more hair, great handfuls have disappeared already. . . . pick yourself up and look a bit more toward the tidy, trim, snappy, collegiate side. . . . relinquish your seat on the "other side of the tracks" and come over and play ball with us! Give one quick glance—even ONE, we say. . . . in ye old mirror before strutting forth to our metropolite center. Look to see if you have your HAT brushed and that the shape is not too weird; grab your second best coat, not one used for picnics or sleigh rides; clad your feet in something to walk in, not to, hobble in; snatch a pair of gloves just to make sure you are getting in the mood to be well dressed. . . . and don't forget your hair and make up have been treated by a masterful hand, rendering a final touch. When you are downtown among the towns people, let them realize you aren't poor representatives of our campus. Next week. . . . Torn will try and HELP solve the Wear and Tear problem of Xmas, reduce the amount of near-suicides and in general clear up the comotion of "What To Give My Girl" situation.

Coach Breeden Cuts Squad To Thirteen Members; Farrell Retires Due To Injuries

Four Lettermen And Seven Sophomores Compose Bulk Of Team As Practice Sessions Speed Up For Early Games

Defying superstitions that seep into most basketball squads, Coach John Breeden of Montana State college, chopped his team down to 13 members this week and immediately had a freak injury remove one of his stars temporarily.

Jack Brickley of Rapelje, who played center last year, but is a forward this year, was one the receiving end in the freak accident. He was window shopping when a minor gas explosion in the basement of the store freakishly blew out a window in the second story. Brickley, hearing the pane break, held his hand over his head where it was struck by the glass. The glass injured a tendon slightly. The injury however healed rapidly and Brickley will be ready to go for the first game.

Joe May of Havre who injured his elbow in football, is under treatment and may become the 14th member of the squad. Addison Farrell of Polson, probably will not play at all this year because of a football injury.

The drastic cut in squad members was the signal for Breeden to bear down and the tempo of practices was stepped up in preparation for the game here against Hamline university, Dec. 10. Breeden has a better line on his men now and already is about certain of the first starting lineup.

The reduced squad shows Don Jorgenson, Bozeman; Brickley; Toby Nelson, Northfield, Minn.; Fred Rooley, Laurel, and Wendel Sabad, Glendive, listed as forwards. John Hall of Bozeman and Oliver Jacques, Great Falls are the two centers. Claire Robinson, Newdale, Ida.; Bob Stachwich, Livingston; Cory Dogterum and Jiggs Anderson, Lethbridge, Alta.; Max Stark, Stevensville and Don Mizner, Deer Lodge are the guards.

China-Japan Still War In East As Effects Reach U. S.

ACP — Between bomb-blasts in London and Berlin, Americans catch glimpses of another war. Many see in the Sino-Japanese conflict far-reaching influences on the western world. In the American college press, opinions differ as to the imminence of hostilities with Japan. But continued aid to China and ever-stiffening resistance to Tokyo find vociferous support.

Fact that the recently reopened Burma Road stays open is called "significant" by the University of Minnesota Daily. The road, comments the Daily "symbolizes the remaining bonds between Free China and the democratic west, British reversal of policy therefore stiffened Chinese morale—and Secretary Hull's overtures, which prompted the British action, strengthened Chinese faith in the United States' Far Eastern policy."

American extension of credits to China is applauded by the Eastern Illinois State Teachers College News, which says: "Despite the fact that our chances of getting our money back from destitute China are slim, the loan will further spur her dogged resistance to Japan, at least delaying, if not preventing, our entry into a Japanese war. FAR MORE IMPORTANT THAN THE LOAN, HOWEVER, IS THE EMBARGO PUT ON SCRAP IRON . . . We furnish the market for about 75 percent of Japan's raw silk and we still buy most of her manufactured wares. Our own industry would benefit greatly and Japan might be brought quickly to her knees if a boycott was placed on her merchandise."

At Massachusetts Institute of Technology, The Tech concludes that "although the attendant risk is heightened, the steps we have taken in the east ought not to be revoked. This aggressive policy, of course, slices our security in the east. The Philippines are still highly vulnerable and the position of Americans in China becomes more perilous. Apart from these conditions, however, no major risk is involved."

More concerned is the Daily Northwestern. "There can be no doubt," declares this publication, "that a situation is fast developing in the east which could very possibly end in war with Japan. It certainly means that we have abandoned any pretense of neutrality in the Sino-Japanese struggle. It also means that we are perhaps closer to war today than we have been since 1918."

Wisconsin's Daily Cardinal believes recent developments indicate that "the seemingly inevitable conflict with Japan may be transformed from a long, costly, possibly futile naval war into a matter of economic pressures skillfully applied. This country is now in

Alpha Gam's Hold Lead In Women's Volleyball Tourney

With only two games left to be played in the women's volleyball tournament the Alpha Gam's still hold their lead. The deciding game will be played Tuesday night between this team and the Pi Phi's. So far the Alpha Gam's have won four games and lost one; the Pi Phi's have won three and lost two.

All along the tourney has been filled with excitement and there have been numerous upsets. Many of the games were close which made the outcome rather doubtful. Vivian Treitsven, manager, says that "the teams have been playing with fine spirit and the girls showed good sportsmanship."

Although the tournament will end this week girls who still do not have all their practices in may turn them in until Wednesday, December 4.

Ralph D. Mercer Attends Annual ICIA Meeting

Ralph D. Mercer, Secretary of the Montana Seed Growers association left Saturday, November 23 to attend the 21st annual meeting of the International Crop Improvement Association conference which will be held in Chicago. Mr. Mercer is secretary of the International Crop Improvement Association.

Mr. Mercer will also attend the International Hay and Grain Show and the Conference of the American Society of Agronomy. On his return to Minneapolis, Mercer will attend a conference of extension agronomists from Minnesota, North and South Dakota and the Northwest Crop Improvement Association.

F. A. Halverson, Lonepine, President of the Montana Seed Growers Association will be in attendance at the meeting of the International Crop Improvement Association.

a position to determine the outcome of both wars by her application of economic pressure in this hemisphere and in the Orient."

Summing up and appealing for more aid to China, the Daily Texan points out that "the spirit of China is undaunted. There is no sign of weakening, no sign of surrender. The military might of Japan is at a stalemate. On the other hand, for the tens of millions of the Chinese people who are directly involved in this invasion the condition is tragic. Let us help our own people and one another, but let us not forget the plight of a noble people whose wisdom and learning were ancient and great when the people of the western lands were little short of savages."

Intra-Murals

Both the Blue and the Gold basketball leagues are roaring down the home stretch with two squads vying for honors. Neck and neck in the Gold league are the Sigma Chi's and the Co-ops with 5 and 4 victories apiece against no defeats. The title may be decided when these two teams square off against each other. The Blue league is also furnishing just as exciting a finish. The Independents with six wins and one loss are leading the circuit and having finished their schedule will win the title should the S. A. E.'s lose their last game. The Sig Alphas have won five and lost one and must win their final game to finish in a deadlock with the Independents. A play off will then be necessary to decide the title holder.

Bobcat Hoopsters Face Former Cat Stars Saturday

The Montana State College basketball squad will face its first test of the season in a battle with a team of former Cat stars Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This practice game will enable fans to see the Cats for the first time this year and to get some conception of how good the Cats will be.

The squad has been cut down to fourteen men and Coach Breeden has been working overtime in an effort to get a clicking combination. Prospects are bright for a good season and the Cats will get a good test Saturday against such men as Little, Cosner, Roth, and Ogle who once played starring roles for Montana State. Everyone is invited to come and watch this game and start boosting the Cats on to a victorious season.

All men interested in Fencing meet at Gym tanbark, Wed. Nov. 27, at 5:00. This sport will be entered intra-murally the latter part of Winter Quarter. Each fraternity and independents should have at least eight or ten men out now. Those taking the course may register in P. E. 201 next quarter, if they wish to get credit. Again this year an exhibition bout will be held with the University during the Minor Sports Meet.

December 10 opens the 40-41 season for Montana States' hardwood specialists featuring a due with Hamlin University a team seldom on the Cats' schedule and with only one contest on the books to date.

Only 13 days stand between tonight's workout and the initial tussle of the current season for the Bobcats. To cops with this fact, head coach "Brick" Breeden has made the cut in his varsity squad, signaling that intense practice must be in line to be ready for the journeying opponents.

Noticeable of this cut is the fact that the squad stand at the final slashed number fourteen, with expectation that injured Joe May will make the fifteenth soon. Addy Farrell still carries an injured leg and may have to miss the season.

Of this fourteen, Coach Breeden will carry six guards, two centers, and six forwards, guards due for varsity play are Robinson, Stachwich, Mizer, Anderson Stark, and Dogterum; with centers being Hall and Jacques; and forward chosen are Nelson Sabad, Jorgenson, Brickley, Schwarzrock, and Rooley. Seven of these men are beginning their second season of varsity play, while Brickley is starting his third.

Taking just a glance at last season, we can say that a noticeable improvement is almost sure to come. The previous season's record showed 10 wins against the elongate number of 16 losses. Of these contests, three conference games collectively speaking, the defeats weighed heavy last season, but we are more convinced than ever that those 15 men just mentioned are going to turn the tables or rearrange the statistics column before they turn in their suits this spring.

The first contests after the holidays are a double header with Brigham University on the Utah men's court. These two frays probably will be the first great tests of Bobcat strength. By holds the edge over a period of years, but the present battles still remain very much question marks.

The boys get another crucial double bill with the Montana U Grizzlies here two weeks following. If you remember last year, the U mustered all four scraps by margins ranging from 2—down to four pointers. The Grizzly hoopsters are expected to turn in a good season—so just put double checks for these four games, because they are going to be thrillers and with the Bobcats on the offensive.

The Associated Press along with coaches of the Rocky Mountain conference teams chose their all-conference team this week. Colorado Mines grabbed four positions; Colorado College, Montana State, and Greeley State each placed two, and western State had one.

MSC's two all conference men are Jack Burke, tackle and Newell Berg, guard. Both of these men were outstanding throughout the season and formed the Cats first line of defense that worked well in five of seven encounters.

McGeever and May, tackle and halfback respectively, hold berths in the all-conference second team for their outstanding season of play.

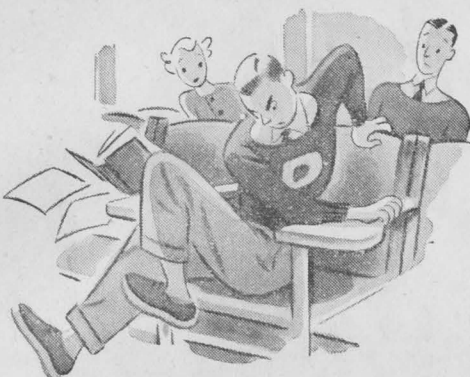

A sorry sidelight is the fact that all four of these men saw their last season of collegiate football this fall. Nevertheless, they are to be highly commended for their football record at Montana State College—Congratulations to them, and other gridders given recognition as third season and special mention.
