WAA Delegates Bring Back Ideas From Convention

Women athletes picked up some new ideas from Dorothy Schaal, outgoing president of the Women's Athletic association, and Betty Lyons, incoming president, when they recently returned from an athletic convention in Washington.

They told of the many co-recreational facilities on various campuses so students might get together once in a while at the gym as well as on the dance floor and park benches. On the campus at Pullman there is a night set aside when dart, pingpong, swimming apparatus and facilities are thrown open to both boys and girls.

Oil Man Speaks To Engineers At Meeting Thursday

A. F. Lyster, chief industrial engineer of the Scony Vacuum Oil company from the Kansas City office, will visit M. S. C. tomorrow, April 23. He will preside at a joint meeting of the student branches of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the American Society of Chemical Engineers.

Mr. Lyster will show a sound picture. The film, which will last approximately 45 minutes, will be followed by an open discussion in which he will answer the students' questions. The film will deal with lubrication and the processing of lubricants.

The meeting will be held in lecture room 101 of the Engineering Building at 5 o'clock on Thursday, April 23. All engineering students are especially urged to attend.

Mrs. Weedman And Mr. O'Kelly Will Represent Parents

Mrs. W. F. Weedman of Billings and Mr. W. A. O'Kelly of Butte have agreed to represent the parents of Montana State college students at the eighth annual Mother's Day banquet on May 9.

Mrs. Weedman has had three children attend MSC—Walt, who graduated a few years ago, Bill, who is at present a senior in industrial engineering, and Arlene, who was a freshman here last year. In Billings and throughout the state Mrs. Weedman is well-known, as she has been president of the Society of University Women.

Mr. O'Kelly is represented at MSC by his youngest son, Kent, well-known, popular president of the college ski team. Mr. O'Kelly is head of the mining engineering department of the Anaconda Copper Mining Co. in Butte, and is an officer of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers. He is also socially prominent in Butte, being president of the Butte Country Club.

With well qualified speakers like Mrs. Weedman and Mr. O'Kelly, it is certain that the eighth annual Mother's Day banquet will be more than successful.

The Exponent will be issued Thursday of next week for High School Week.

Davis Will Talk At Honor Assembly Tuesday Morning

The annual Honor Day assembly, to be held Tuesday morning, April 28, from 10:30 until 12:00 in the College gymnasium, will feature as its main speaker Sheldon Davis, president of the Dillon Normal College.

Mr. Davis, from his many years of practical teaching experience, has written several articles and books. The most recent of his works are "Teacher's Relationships," 1930, and "Teaching the Elementary Curriculum," 1931. He has been assistant professor at the Normal school of Warrensburg, Missouri, director of training at the State Normal school at Maryville, Missouri, and from 1919 has been president of the State Normal College at Dillon, Montana. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Delta Kappa and Kappa Delta Phi honoraries.

Besides Mr. Davis' address, announcements of the new members of campus honoraries will be made at this assembly, and seniors will appear in their caps and gowns for the first time.

Alpha Omicron Pi Donates $50 For Car For Pilots

In order to do something immediately to help the war effort, members of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority donated $50 to the Civilian Pilot training program at Montana State College. This money, plus an equal amount donated by the Anderson Motors of Bozeman, has been used as part payment on a car to carry student pilots between Bozeman and Belgrade.

These CPT students take their ground school work at the College and their flight training from the Lynch brothers at Belgrade. To make the gifts more effective, Mrs. A. L. Strand, chairman of the Bozeman unit of the American Women's Voluntary services, is furnishing trained drivers for this car any time they are needed.

The sorority saved the money by cutting down on winter social expenses. The original intention was to buy a bond, but the need of a car seemed more urgent to them. The car is necessary, according to Dr. A. J. M. Johnson, coordinator of the course, because the College contract with the Civil Aeronautics administration requires that the College arrange transportation for student flyers. Before the rubber shortage, students used their own car. Since then provision had to be made to furnish transportation regularly.

NOTICE

Phi Eta Sigma meeting Monday, April 27, at noon. Important! Everyone be there. Bring your lunch.

College students and townspeople are invited to hear the keynote speakers of this year's High School Week, Merrill R. Good, general chairman, has announced. "Montana State College is fortunate to be able to bring here two speakers of such ability," Mr. Good believes. These speakers, Dr. Otis C. McCreery, and Thomas J. Davis, will appear at the opening assembly of the week at 7:30 Thursday evening and at the assembly at 9:00 Saturday morning, respectively. Both assemblies are being held in the gymnasium and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Thomas J. Davis of Butte, president of Rotary International, needs no introduction to thousands of Montanans who count him one of their personal friends or who have worked with him in various civic enterprises. As president of Rotary International, Mr. Davis has traveled widely on his official visits to Rotary clubs in this country and abroad. One of his most important trips was made last fall when he met with Rotarians in England under wartime conditions. One interesting part of his trip was the conversation he had with Anthony Eden.

Dr. McCreery, dean of men at the State College of Washington, is in close contact with student problems. However, his contacts with young people are not limited to the College campus. While attending College he served as athletic and swimming director in state Y. M. C. A. camps in Iowa and South Dakota. For a year he was leader of employed boys' clubs of the Minneapolis Y. M. C. A. and has conducted students on two European tours. While in College Dr. McCreery was captain of the football team, a member of the basketball team and belonged to a number of honorary and scholastic societies.

When he speaks at the opening general assembly at 7:30 Thursday evening on "Star Spangled Youth," it will be Dr. McCreery's second successive appearance on a High School Week program. He addressed the audience last year and because he was received so enthusiastically he was invited to be with us again this year.

Engineers Choose Three Top Seniors

The engineers have elected Louis de Frate, a mechanical engineer, Lester Hogan, a chemical engineer, and John Younglove, a civil engineer, as the three students in the engineering department most worthy of the award given each year by the Montana Society of Engineers to the most outstanding graduating engineer.

These three men will appear before the award committee of the Montana Society of Engineers in Butte on Friday, April 24. They will be guests at a banquet at the Finlen hotel. Following the banquet, they will meet with the award committee which will select from the three, one student who will receive the award. This award will be presented at the Honors Day assembly on April 28.

Highlights of The Little International

By George Glead

War on a new front began in earnest Wednesday, March 25. It is not the war of airplanes, tanks and guns that we have all become so familiar with, but one of perfection in fitting and showing college-owned animals by agricultural students in preparation for the Little International Livestock show, scheduled for May 8 and 9.

Stamped down to the barns for an initial glance over and introduction to the animal that will be their inseparable companion for the next four weeks, many of the students were greeted with hastily placed kicks, wild and excited bellows, and in the case of the hogs—disgusted and perturbed grunts. It is well worth anyone's time to drop down in the vicinity of the barns these days and watch a friend try to make 600 pounds of stubborn resistance follow him around at the mere tug of a halter rope.

To date, 60 showmen are busy working on their animals—breaking them to lead, training them to stand in proper form, blocking their wool and all the other things which are necessary before the animal and student can present a desirable show ring appearance.

Rumors have it that there is going to be the usual co-ed contest. Could be goat milking—who knows! May prove to be quite a "kick" for even the participants.

Behind the front lines is an efficient and smooth running machine headed by Walt Davis and Al Ralston, Seniors in Agriculture who are working out the details of the entertainment, program, publicity, and general operations of the show itself. The promises are that this will be the biggest and most entertaining Little International ever held.

NOTICE FRATERNITY AND CLUB MEN

Since there are some men in the fraternities and clubs on the campus that cannot be trusted to play the game but persits in maintaining a non-cooperative, predatory, cut-throat attitude and deliberately misuse and destroy college property, further use of the pattern shop for any but direct institution use is hereby discontinued.

I am sorry that this step is necessary. It places a breach in the friendly, cooperative relationship that has existed between myself and a large number of the students and will undoubtedly work an unjustified hardship on a large number of students who have been entirely fair, but it is impossible to tell those students who are trustworthy from those who are not, until the damage is done, and then it is too late. It is therefore necessary to prohibit further use of the Pattern Shop for personal work.

Gerald Pesman,
Pattern Work Instructor.

Dear Mom:

The new men we elected last week haven't done anything radical yet—they're just like the old ones I guess. But that Dan Cox—He gave a speech at an assembly about the foreign situation and he said that only a miracle could avert war now. Then Jimmy Dickson got up and gave another speech. He said that there was a war going on now and told how to stop it and what to do when it stopped. When they asked for questions Adolph Hitler came running in and shouted at us in German. He had a stooge with him who was shooting a gun. The sophomores said it wasn't Hitler but another sophomore named Eusterman who is a little tetch in the head and is from Notre Dame.

The sophomores where I live took me to the Fang dance Friday night. The Fangs carry paddles and throw people in fish ponds. They said that maybe the Fangs would tap me. At the dance they tapped 24 other Freshmen. The tap them with paddles. Then a girl named Peggy Harrington would pin a ribbon on them. She is the Spur-of-the-Moment . . . the Spurs are like the Fangs, only they blow whistles. The Pi Phi's had a dance Saturday night and I didn't get a date but I went anyway. They picked a king of the hill to give a derby to. The Pi Phi's didn't know who they wanted, so they let all the girls vote. Then after they voted they still didn't know because they turned off the lights and pushed somebody under a big thing that was supposed to be a derby. When the lights came on the trumpet player was on the derby and then he got up and looked foolish. Then Dale Johnson, who was crawling around on the floor, stuck his head up through the derby and got black all over his coat. He looked foolish too. Then they handed him a derby and gave a little one to seven other guys who might have been the king.

Some of the Juniors where I live want me to go duck hunting with them. They said we could have a picnic and have dates too. I'll tell you about it next week when I write again. Will you send ten bucks for picnic dewes?

Your growing son,
Homer.

Students Prepare To Answer High School Questions

Some 40 M. S. C. students will be placed on the spot between 10:00 and 11:00 Saturday morning during High School Week. They will be the "experts" on information please forums and their purpose will be to disseminate information to high school guests who want to know more about Montana State College. The queries of the curious among the visitors will be answered in a number of informal discussion groups conducted here and there about the campus and presided over each by a boy and girl team, aided, whenever really necessary, by a faculty member.

In this "student-to-student" atmosphere many of the questions concerning college life which exist in the mind of every high school student may be solved, it is believed. In weekly meetings held under the supervision of Vivian Tretsven and Professor D. J. Pletch the students to conduct the conferences have prepared themselves to dispense campus lore competently.

The teams of co-chairmen and their advisers and aides will be as follows: 1, Sue Croonquist and Martin Jacobsen, Yvonne Kallberg, Charles Green, Dean Cobleigh; 2, Jean Lynch and Stub Fjeld, Don Kampshor, Wesley Kiegel, Joe Livers; 3, Alys Jane Watson and Charles Hill, Anita McGuire, Harvey Hoffman, Jason Bolles; 4, Allison Rehn and George Albert, Sarah Cole, Morgan Esmay, Dean Harrison; 5, Wilda Davis and Walt Moyle, Bob Sullivan, Joe Eiseman, Henry Murray; 6, Jean Tait and Jerry Aakhus, Bill Weedman, Jane Doering, Dean Branegan; 7, Mildred McKinlay and Alvin Meyer, Mary Slayton, George Rosness, Dr. Hollands; 8, Bette Westcott and Lester Hogan, Max Stark, Helen Truitt, Jerry Pesman.

Co-chairmen are responsible for their groups.

More aluminum up there,
less in new telephones

— for VICTORY!

Many materials used in telephone making are listed as "critical" for war purposes. Bell Telephone Laboratories and Western Electric have redesigned apparatus and changed manufacturing methods to employ available materials.

Take aluminum. The reduction in its use in a year's telephone output is enough to build 294 combat planes. This program has been replacing critical materials at an annual rate of 7,747,000 pounds. Though it grows steadily more difficult to maintain as shortages increase, the program helps to meet the greatest demand in history for military and civilian communication equipment.

Peggy Harrington Is Fangs' Choice As Spur Of Moment

The long-awaited announcement by the Fangs of their ideal Spur came Friday night at the annual Spur-of-the-Moment dance, when personable Peggy Harrington was presented by Duke Eyerette Shuey as Spur-of-the-Moment. Peggy, a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, is one of the hardest working members of the girls' service group and has shown outstanding campus spirit and cooperativeness, and it was on this basis that she was chosen for this honor.

Making the affair of cardinal interest to the freshmen men were the announcements of the names of the Intercollegiate Knight pledges who next year will form the active membership of the Fang chapter. The 24 men were: Buck Moore, John Hansen, Tom Collins, Sigma Chi; Mag Ronning, Harold Stromnes, Bob Ross, Alpha Gamma Rho; Gil Hahn, Ken Stanberry, Dean Hausman, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Bill Marantette, Jim Schnee, Howard Schillenberg, Pi Kappa Alpha; Bruce Isaacson, Dave Johns, Bill Divil, Phi Sigma Kappa; Everett Sanderson, Gordon Lindner, Pete Cladonhos, Kappa Sigma; Kenny Kjeldstrip, Bill Johnson, Ben Brown, Lambda Chi Alpha; and Bob Van Giesen, Roger Youderian, and Myron Walker, Independents.

Newly elected officers who will lead the group in 1942-1943 were presented and are: John Gordon, Duke; George Corry, scribe; Bob Balch, treasurer, and Lee Walker, historian. Appointed by Duke Shuey to lead the standing committees next year were Hank Young, traditions chairman, Vic Smith, reception chairman, and George Stewart, ushering chairman.

Hawes Writes And Directs Novel Type Of Vaudeville For H. S. Week

A vitally new and unique production is emerging from the efforts of the sixty people engaged in the High School Week vaudeville program. Created especially for this occasion the show was written and is directed by David Hawes. It includes many novelties and has some outright surprises in store for the hundreds of high school students and for those College students who will be able to see it. Although our high school guests will of course be given precedence and will be accommodated first, nevertheless, as many College students as can still be held in the gymnasium are invited to attend the show, Mr. Hawes announces. No admission will be charged. The only performance of the Vaudeville Show will follow the presentation of scholarship awards at the General Assembly of Saturday night during High School Week. This assembly begins at 8:00 p. m.

Departing entirely from the vaudeville in its usual form, Mr. Hawes' production is not the ordinary assemblage of individual bits of entertainment. The many features of the show, including drama, dialogue, music, and rich humor are incorporated into one smoothly flowing and continuous story sequence. Staging and scenes are changed with no lapse in the progress of the show. Moving swiftly from one event to another the story provides a changing panorama of diverse entertainment ranging from wierd and unearthly dance to the humor of Brooklyn, the Bronx and Irish America.

Among the highlights will be the romantic scene between Bill Plantenburg and Lael Tout, during which both sing. Del Thurber in a takeoff on Ted Lewis, Bev Medlin as the very Irish Maggy O'Toole, O. D. Martin and a band, original music by Mary Jane La Crosse, the singing of Louella Novelle and the Collegiate Sextet (with 16 members), Dean Danforth playing a hearty Russian bit, and Louis Blenker as the inimitable Italian restaurant owner are only a few of the delightful sequences of which the High School Week vaudeville gives promise.
