Organized Groups Hold Annual Christmas Sing, Sunday, Dec. 16

The 1945 Christmas sing will begin at 3:30 on December 16 before an expeced record crowd, states Marilyn Hoole, commissioner of music. The event, which is a tradition at Montana State college, is being held in the ballroom of the Student Union building this year, since weather outlaws outside performances like the ones given in former years and the large lounge is expected to be far too small for the townspeople and students who will be in attendance.

Under the direction of Lou Howard, the Montana State college Bobcat band will open the program with a medley of Christmas songs, and members of all campus organizations will sing Christmas carols, in accordance with tradition

Miss Hoole emphasizes that all organization who plan to perform should bein the ballroom to take the seats assigned them by 3:00. A seating plan will be in the hands of the organizations upon their arrival, and all organizations must be completely ready if the program is to start at 3:30 without confusion.

Carols to be sung by the campus groups: are Alpha Gamma Delta, "O, Little Town of Bethlehem"; Alpha Omicron Pi, "There's a Song in the Air"; Chi Omega, "O Holy Night"; Kappa Delta, "White Christmas"; Girls Co-operative House, "Silent Night"; Pi Beta Phi, "Adeste Fideles"; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, "Comes the Glad Noel," Sigma Chi, "Joy to the World";; Pi Kappa Alpha, "Hark the Herald Angels Sing"; Kappa Sigma, the Independent Club, and the Veterans club had not decided on the carols they would sing at present time.

Campus support of the 1945 Christmas sing has been very strong, according to Miss Hoole, and nearly the entire student body is expected to be in the ballroom to watch one of the earliest traditions of Montana State being repeated in the first peacetime performance in four years.

Fangs Initiate Scoreboard Fund

The Fangs are starting the ball rolling for the purchase of two automatic score boards for the gymnasium. This piece of equipment is badly needed. The scoreboards, as selected by Coach John Breeden, are the very latest and will be placed on either end the the gym enabling the scores to be easily read from any part of the floor or bleachers.

To secure funds for the scoreboards the Fangs are starting off the contributions and are asking for contributions from each of the organized groups on the campus. Many of the groups have already contributed toward the sum total of $550 for the two scoreboards. To help raise funds, in addition to the contributions, the Fangs are sponsoring an all student-faculty dance, January 26.

Nurses Hold Capping Ceremony

A brief capping ceremony for nurses will be held preceding the commencement exercises at 7:30 p. m., Saturday, December 15th. This ritual will be in the Student Union ball room. Forty-eight upper class nursing students who are going into hospital units at Billings or Bozeman will receive their caps after giving the "Nightingale pledge."

Mortar Board Carnival Crowns Doris Plymale Queen of the Evening

The annual Mortar Board carnival December 8 proved to be one of the most successful social affairs of the quarter, with paper money exchange flying over the gymnasium's brightly decorated booths in great quantities. Members of the Mortar Board, senior woman's honorary, which sponsored the event, are Janice Mayfield, president, and Betty Jean King, Jean Stehlik, Suzanne Hinman, Betty Germeraad, Jane Matzke, Marilyn Hoole, Rose Clair Hansen, and Winifred McDermott.

The Mortar Board food counter did a sell out business all night. Alpha Omicron Pi made money on the bingo booth, as did Kappa Delta with the green and white roulette wheel. The Independent-sponsored dart game kept misled athletes busy, and Chi Omega sent requested typewritten telegrams to student all over the gymnasium. Pi Bete Phi's side show found a steady stream of men and women entering to view all the activities, and the Spur-Fang night club in the women's gymnasium was its usual success, with floor show performances by college students from all classes.

The floor show for the entire carnival was m.c.'d by Pete Roberts, who introduced Frances Schillhorn for Alpha Gamma Delta, singing, "How Much Do I Love You?" accompanied by Fran Oswald; Helen Bottomley,Chi Omega, doing

FHA Promises MSC Prefab Units

Montana State college has been promised a minimum of 21 one-bedroom prefabricated housing units from Richland Wash. area by the Federal Housing Authority at Seattle, Wash, according to Pres. R. R. Renne. This promise was received by telephone Friday and the necessary documents are now being completed to arrange for official purchase of these houses.

The college is studying various ways by which the purchase, transporting, and re-erection of these houses can be financed. Some way will be worked out soon so that as little delay as possible will be involved. While this is not a large number of houses, it will help, along with other developments that are occurring, to take care of the new students that are planning to register for the winter quarter. The college has requested 100 trailers in addition to those which are already on the campus and if a considerable number of rooms can be found in Bozeman for single students, the housing problem for the winter quarter will be fairly well solved.

Taxi Co. Plans College Bus Line

Plans are definitely being made by the City Taxi Company for a bus line to run from the college to town and back. This service, which has been hoped for by students and people living near the college, is being put on as a convenience and economy measure for the students. The railroad commission, which will meet in about 20 days, has been petitioned for the license, and has promised it within 60 days after the hearing.

The proposed bus will hold thirty passengers, and will run every half hour starting from the Bozeman hotel. The fare is being petitioned at 10 cents, but it may be lower.

The run will be from the Hotel Bozeman to the Baxter, up Wilson to Cleveland, down Cleveland to the Quads, up to the Student Union building, over to Montana Hall, down 8th to Main and back to the Hotel Bozeman. This order will be reversed every second run, so that anyone living near any of these places will be able to catch the bus. This service promises to be of great convenience to the students and to anyone else living near the line.

Montana State College Holds Autumn Commencement Dec. 15

Autumn commencement of the Montana State college for students who are candidates for three-year diplomas and for degrees will be Saturday evening December 15th, 1945 at 8:15 o'clock in the college gymnasium.

HENRIETTA A. LOUGHRAN

The college orchestra, under the direction of Lester Opp, will open the exercises with the processional, "Festal March" by Cadmon. The Rev. Harry M. Kriebel of the First Baptist church will give the invocation, followed by the college orchestra playing "Father of Waters," by Grofe.

The commencement speaker is Mrs. Henrietta Adams Loughran, director of the school of nursing at the University of Colorado. Mrs. Loughran is well-known in the nursing profession. Before she went to the University of Colorado, she was director of hospitals at the University of Washington school of nursing, she has had experience with health education and public health, traveled in Canada and northern Europe to study schools of nursing on a travel grant from the Rockefeller Foundation, and for the past two years has been special consultant for the United States Public Health Department state division of nursing education. Mrs. Loughran is also a member of the National Nurse Planning committee, and is nurse representative on the advisory committee to the American Red Cross at Washington, D. C. The subject of her commencement address will be "The Community and Its Health."

Following the commencement address, Nancy Stenson, soprano, will sing "O Holy Night" by Adans, accompanied by Shirley Cole.

Miss Anna Pearl Sherrick, head of the school of nursing, will present candidates for three year diplomas. The candidates are: Louallen Albro, Amy Black, Ellen Brinkerhoff, Miriam, Chavack, Clarisse Clutter, Jean Cotton, Fay Florman, M. Jane Kelley, Mary Kinch, Maxine Kitts, Barbara Klingler, Sue Lampman, Ruth Manuel, Betty Ann Nye, Dena Raile, Bette Mae Sanders, Frances

Big Shots Deny Extended Xmas Vacation Plea

The student request for an extended vacation has not been granted. The following is an official release from the president's office:

President R. R. Renne has announced that Wednesday, January 2, 1946, will be used for registering new students and that regular instruction for the winter quarter will begin Thursday morning, January 3.

This is a slight change from original plans for the Christmas recess which provided that instruction for all students for the winter quarter would begin Wednesday, January 2. The prospect of very heavy enrollment of new students makes it desirable to devote Wednesday, Jan. 2, to registration of these students and to postpone instruction until the next day Thursday.

Merry Christmaa!

Since this is the last issue of the Exponent before Christmas, and though we, of the Exponent may sound eager, we take time out from stringing popcorn to wish you all a very merry Christmas and the same kind of New Year!

And although this quarter is boiling along toward the end, winter quarter is sitting on the next grindstone looking bigger and better. Bigger because Register McCall expects the enrollment of more than 200 veterans and 100 more civilians —bringing up MSC's enrollment to approximately 1500. Better because no Saturday classes have been scheduled. Also there are hopes of a relieved housing situation for the next quarter if plans now under way are successful.

Montana Exponent Reviews Excerpts From Early Issues

Alumni reporter of the Montana Exponent for the year 1911 is Frieda M. Bull.

When the college students come back next fall they can expect to see a number of improvement made to the college campus, chief of which will be the cement walks which Pres. Hamilton states will be built on the campus this summer. A cement base for the cannon will be built which should do a great deal toward the preservation of the old relic recently acquired by the college.

The reading stand for assembly hall has arrived and will be put in place soon.

The many improvement around the college grounds are sure to boom general athletics here. The widened, well-kept cinder track south of the college buildings is equal to any in the state and the position of the 130-yard straightaway in front of the new grandstand will permit a fine view of sprints and hurdles. The work of grading the space enclosed by the quarter mile track has progressed nicely, but for the sake of acquiring a well-sodded, permanent field, no practice or games will be played upon it this fall.

The new ladies' dormitory has changed from a probability to a reality. The brick work is finished, the roof is on and the windows are being put in as rapidly as possible. Lathing and plastering goes on apace and the upper floor is about ready for the finishing touches. It will probably require until December 1st to fit up the building and prepare it for occupancy. Heat will be supplied by the power house by the shops, and it is likely that the lights will come from that source.

Pres. James M. Hamilton meets with the state board of education at Helena the first of the week and gets their approval of proposed building. The new building (engineering building) will be built between the walk and the girls' dormitory at the east end of the campus. It will face the agricultural building and will have the same style of architecture. A good grade of pressed brick is to be used in its construction while the interior will be finished off in hardwood, and the entire interior will be fitted up with modern appliances. It will be three stories high and it is probable that each floor will be given over to one of the three branches of the engineering department so an addition may be built on and the structure will eventually form an L shape covering most of the campus above the road between the dormitory and the walk.

The second term of music at the college will commence on Wednesday, December 7th. Anyone wishing to enter any of the courses should register at the music department before that date.

The executive committee met last week and decided on a special form of sweater for each branch of athletics. Football men will be given a royal blue sweater with a pony collar. The basketball sweater will be similar except that it will have no collar. The track sweater is to be grey in color and will have a shawl collar. The letter will be the standard gold block letter shaded with blue. The baseball sweater will also be grey and will havea high turnover collar. The standard block letter will be retained for all branches of athletics.

Teachers List Pet Peeves

Recently "inquiring reporter" published pet peeves of various students on campus toward teachers as a group. The turnabout comes this week for helpful gripes of teachers on student behavior. So students, read and take heed!

They make nuisances of themselves while they are going to sleep. I don't mind their going to sleep but I don't want them making nuisances of themselves while doing it. Don't get me wrong! I don't mind them going to sleep but it is distracting when they make their bed in here.

Dr. Pepper.

Students? . . . I hate 'em. If we didn't have any students we could get something done! (and an afterthought) I think that the present student body is much more like it is now than it was a few years ago.

A. J. M. Johnson.

Gosh, I don't know. I have never had such nice students. The only thing is, the students study the lesson. They should study the subject.

Mrs. Parkins.

Once in a while the attendance of Saturday classes is a bit off shade. Class attendance is the only thing. Otherwise I'm happy about the whole picture.

Mr. Mercer.

Students who pay little or no attention to assignments made two weeks in advance because after all that calls for time to be taken from the instructor and the class to have the same details repeated the day before the assignment is due. Secondly, students who are late for meetings and appointments, those who do not want to have to wait for others but have selfish motives causing others to wait for them.

Mrs. Paisley.

My favorite gripe. I don't know what is my favorite one. I really don't have any gripes. I think the thing that really gripes me most is someone who comes to talk me out of a higher grade and people who like to ask a lot of questions. Also I don't like them being impatient at quitting time.

Leon Johnson.

The second Junior class meeting was held in room 101 of the Engineering Building at 12:30 Monday afternoon. Of the total 106 members of the Junior class only 27 were present. The president, Larry Cooper, gave a short resume of the first meeting, and asked about dues for the coming year.

Elections were held among those present. esults are as follows: vice president, Emil Blazina; secretary, Neva Todd; treasurer, ausie Lou Salberg; "steering committee" Peg Gerry, Ruth McDonald, Marilyn Thorpe.

The purpose of the steering committee is to meet with the officers in helping to arrange for nine committees which will be active during this year. They will also be an advisory committee meeting with the officers on business coming up before the Junior class.

All juniors please watch the bulletin board in the Sub where notices of meetings will be posted. We would like to see all juniors at the next meeting which will be held before Christmas vacation. A notice will be posted giving full details at a later date.

A list of official juniors will be compiled, and they will be put on these nine committees, so please attend and find out if you are put on one of these. Remember Juniors, watch the Sub bulletin board!

Parsons Wins Academy Award

Kenny Parsons, freshman research chemistry major from Butte, has been notified through Senator Murray that he has been selected as first alternate from Montana for the 4-year scholarship to the naval academy at Annapolis.

Kenny graduated from Butte high school in 1945 with an enviable record. He completed his four year course in three years and graduated as a member of the National Honor Society.

Here in college Kenny is continuing the scientific course he began in high school. He is also active in campus affairs, being a member of chorus and one of the most energetic workers on the Exponent advertising staff. He is a member of SAE.

Kenneth took the entrance exams for Annapolis last spring, but having just turned 17 this August, he will have to wait a year until he is 18 years old before he can accept.

Leigh Gives Subology Hints

Here are some hints for erring SUBology majors at M. S. C. given by Miss Mildred Leigh, director of the Student Union.

It has been SUB policy since the first year of operation of the building that no student or faculty member smokes in the ballroom, since it is impossible to keep the floor in good condition with groundup matches and ashes. Since visitors sometimes smoke in the ballroom, Miss Leigh suggests that any student who notices a visitor smoking should mention this custom.

The Student Union is alway closed for student assemblies, since the directors want to cooperate with the assembly committee in giving the performance full attendance. While in the Coffee Shop, students are urged to notice whether or not conditions are crowded, and if there are no vacant booths or tables for newcomers, Miss Leigh states that the lounge would be a good place for lounging. Boys walking through the SUB might also keep in mind that girls can see them better when their hats are off!

Miss Leigh emphasized that the student body has been very cooperative in helping to keep the Student Union in good condition for themselves and future M. S. C. students.

Honorary Elects New Officers

Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman honorary for men, elected officers for the coming year. President is Don Schurch; vice president Bob Miller; secretary - treasurer, Martin Espeland; historian is Floyd Jenni, and Jack Hiedt was elected upper class adviser. Other members of Phi Eta Sigma are Ray Jenson, Bob Anderson, and Dean Swenson.

Home Ec Club Hold Chirstmas Party

The Christmas meeting of the Home Economics club will be Wednesday, Dec. 12, at 8:00 p. m. Shirley Anderson, the program chairman, has arranged to have Jean Haynes Chauner as the speaker for the evening. Mrs. Chauner graduated from M. S. C. in 1943 and will tell of her experiences with home economics clubs in New York since her graduation. There will be Christmas entertainment and refreshments.

Reporter Snags Inside Dope On Trailer Houses

Home can mean a palatial mansion, or it can mean an apartment on South Ninth street. Home for some M. S. C. students for some time to come is going to mean a one-room dwelling, perched a little higher skyward than usual. To be specific, it's going to be one of the 26 trailer houses lined up by the barracks.

Suppose you were to call on the occupants of No. 24 some time after the first of the year. On the left as you enter is a bureau, a clothes closet with a large mirror, and then a second bureau, which has seven drawers. A large cupboard, the sink, stove, and folding table occupy the opposite side of the room. At each end of the trailer house there is a long, wide day-bed to complete the home-like atmosphere. Tucked into a corner by one of the day-beds are four folding chairs. Four windows on one side, three on the other side with the door, and one in each end of the trailer will insure plenty of light.

Although the trailer homes won't fit the specifications of the traditional white cottage, they will do much toward alleviating the housing shortage.

Notice!

Calling all secretaries! Don't forget the secretarial club meeting Thursday, Dec. 13, at 12:00 noon. Bring sack lunches.

Judge: What is the man charged with?

Officer: With whiskey, your honor.

"You really have a wonderful collection of books," complimented the visitor, "but you should have more shelves."

"Yes," admitted his host, "I should really, but somehow I never have had the nerve to try to borrow shelves."

He took misfortune like a man—blamed it one his wife—The Journal.

Fraternities Hold Postwar Banquet

The fraternities on the hill celebrated the "back to normal" trend of fraternities by an interfraternity banquet in the Student Union ballroom November 30.

Members of the fraternities present numbered twenty-seven. Representatives of Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Sigma Kappa, Alpha Gamma Rho, Kappa Sigma, Phi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Chi took part in the banquet.

Mention was given to the fact that in 1943 only seven fraternity men were on the campus. The "back to normal" banquet was intended to aid the men in getting to know one another.

Dr. R. R. Renne, as principal speaker, discussed the future of fraternities on the hill. Sigma Chi Bob Wagner delivered the after-dinner speech.

Master of ceremonies Ned Gearhart introduced Dick Bailey, Kappa Sigma, for a piano solo. The SAE trio, composed of Bud Maras, Rusty Houghton and Pete Roberts entertained with songs.

Guests included the Messers Cotner, Schilling, Harrington, Gaines, Chester, Fitch, Ed Howard, Lou Howard, Breeden, Dolan, Good, and Bill Chilcote Sigma Nu from Montana State university.

The paper money flew in more quantity at the Spartanian queen booth, where ballots were cast for the sorority, independent and co-operative house carnival queen candidates. Doris Plymale, Kappa Delta, sophomore botany and bacteriology major from Townsend, won the queen title over Virginia Boid, Alpha Omicron Pi, home economics junior from Helena; Pat Tocci, Alpha Gamma Delta, applied science junior from Three Forks, Marilyn Thorpe, Pi Beta Phi, botany and bacteriology major from Butte; Adena Parsons, Chi Omega, art freshman from Butte; Lila Loffel, applied science junior from Muselshell, Girls' Co-operative House; and Jeanette Ray, Independent, industrial engineering major from Lolo, freshman. The Spartanian members limited the number of votes by the number of paper money certificates in the possession of voters.

After the success of their carnival venture. Mortar Board members are now planning several other functions to be held soon.

THE BUNGALOW

TIE-TIPS from McCurrach

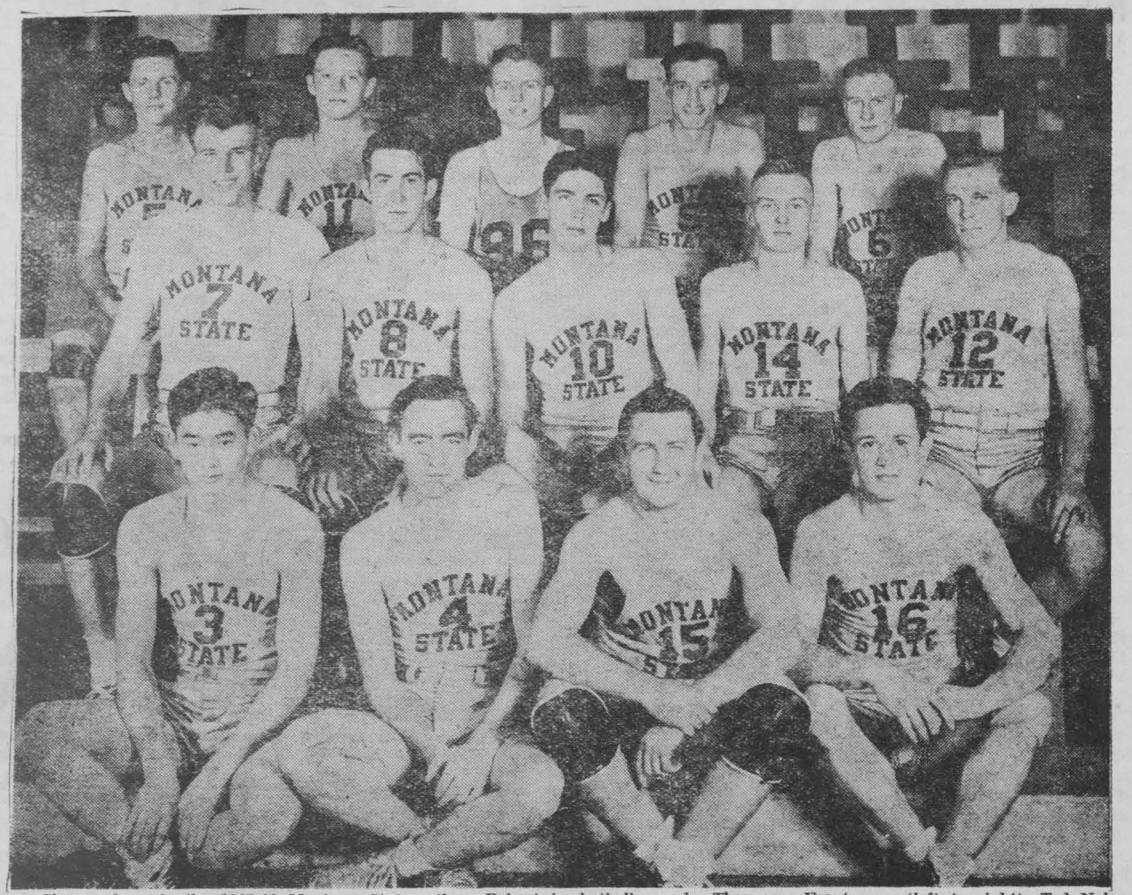

HOW TO TIE A BOW KNOT

1. Call the long end of the tie A and have it about 1½ inches longer than the short end B. 2. Turn A up toward neck and under B. 3. Make a horizontal loop of B. 4. Drop A straight down across the face of loop B. 5. Form a single loop with A and push it through the opening in back of loop B. Draw loop A through slowly to prevent wrinkling. 6. Pull both looped ends gradually but firmly to tighten knot. Adjust single and looped ends to make all the same length.

Take your cue for smartness with a bow by McCurrach! They're better-looking, better-wearing, better-tying... and priced from $1.50 up.

Exponent All-American Grid Team

By Darrell Coover and Doug Stearns

Every person in the United States today who follows football has their own all-American team whether they are grandmothers or grade school children. Therefore, using that as a reason for sticking our necks out, we will attempt to choose what we consider our all-American team from what we have read and heard on press and radio. For the reason that we have not seen any of the major grid classics of 1945, we shall call this our Sports Fans' all-American.

Leading off with the ends, Hank Foldberg of Army and Hubert Bechtol of Texas U. are the choices. Foldberg was a good defensive wingman and his pass receiving made and set up several Cadet touchdowns. Bechtol was a good pass catcher from a region where the aerial game is really played. He sparked his mates into a possible Cotton Bowl bid by his great play. At the tackle posts are two giants, George Savitsky, at 250 pounds, from Penn. and another West Pointer, DeWitt Coulter. Savitsky was the big gun in the Penn. line and even against Army and Navy made an impressive showing. Coulter, Army's 220-lb. behemoth, easily won the other tackle shot by being a tower of strength both on defense and offense in what was probably the nation's best line. The guard positions again found a Cadet, Capt. Johnny Green, along with Warren Omling of Ohio State. Green was all-American last year, and this season, as captain of the nation's top team heaped more laurels upon himself by his brilliant defensive tackling. Omling played a tough brand of ball for a team which was barely knocked out of the Big Ten title. At center the Alabama Rose Bowl bound squad produced one of the best pivot men the Southland has seen in Vaughn Mancha, who tips the scales at 238 pounds.

Now to the backs which are loaded with triple threat possibilities. Naturally, the first choices and unanimous choice of everyone in the nation are Army touchdown twins, Felix (Doc) Blanchard and Glenn Davis. Blanchard, probably the hardest hitting fullback since Bronks Nagurshi, was seldom held for less than five yards even on a center plunge. Davis, the California speedboy, was never caught when he once got going and several times went long distances for touchdowns in the first few plays. Bob Fennimore, the Oklahoma Aggies star, who was one of the nation's top two or three ground gainers is another practically unanimous pick. The passer of the squad is fleet Harry Gilmers, who this season pitched the Crimson Tide of Alabama into the Rose Bowl game on New Years' Day.

Of the first squad only Army and Alabama placed more than one on what would be any coaches' dream team. Army placed five men and Alabama two.

The second team: End, Walker, Yale; tackle, Hughes, Purdue; guard, Knotts, Duke; center, D. Scott, Navy; guard, Sparlis, UCLA; tackle, Kekeris, Missouri; end Duden, Navy; qb, Dancervicg, Notre Dame; hb, Wedemeyer, St. Mary's; hb, Koslowski, Holy Cross; fb Taliafera, Indiana.

RESEARCH AND ENGINEERING KEEP GENERAL ELECTRIC YEARS AHEAD

YOUR FUTURE IN ELECTRONICS

ELECTRONICS, always just around the corner before the war, is now full grown. During the war itself, it was almost a million-dollar-a-day business at General Electric. Now G.E. has begun construction of "Electronics Park" near Syracuse, New York. Laid out like a college campus, this plant will have every modern facility for the design, development, and manufacture of electronics products. The men who work there will be part of one of the greatest industries to turn from war to peace.

Radar has its first peacetime application in the G-E "Electronic Navigator," an instrument that tells a ship's pilot, not only his own position, but that of the ships, buoys, lighthouses, land, and other objects around him, making possible a safe course even in darkness, rain, fog, or smoke.

By 1950 the nine television stations operating throughout the country will have become 150, predict G-E engineers. The maintenance of these stations affords great opportunity to men with a knowledge of basic principles of electrical engineering, electronics, and radar.

The best investment in the world is in this country's future. Keep all the Bonds you Buy.

Bobcats Trounce Rival Grizzlies

In their second night of tourney play, Montana State college easily vanquished their rivals, the Montana U. Grizzlies, by a 42-25 count. The Bobcats, playing a much tighter defensive game, kept the Grizzly scorers from hitting the basket consistently. Dale Clawson, the highly touted M. S. U. center, was kept effectively bottled up and scored only one field goal early in the game.

Boyd DeTonancour got 11 points while dazzling the crowd with his spectacular shots from all over the court. The scoring for M.S.U. was evenly divided with Arthur tallying six points for high man.

After almost a full minute of play, Markevic dumped in a short shot. Arthur came down the floor to tie it up for the Grizzlies on a set-up, but DeTonancour looped one high in the air from the foul line to put M. S. C. ahead. A moment later Chenkovich dropped in an overhead shot while almost going out of bounds to give the Bobcats a lead which they never relinquished. It was here Clawson tallied a short shot for his only scoring of the game. Narkevic arched a long basket in which Arthur countered by a fast side shot. DeTonancour caught the Missoula defense asleep and tallied on a long pass from Markevic. Here, M.S.U. called time with the score 10-6, for M.S.C. Giesey converted a foul toss, but Nakanishi scored on a looping side shot. Gallagher hit from the field for the final Grizzly basket of the half. DeTonancour started the Bobcats rolling by sinking in a long one-handed shot which was soon followed by Michotte scoring from under the basket on a left hand pivot shot. Chenkovich tossed in a free throw, and M.S.C. led 17-9 with five minutes to go. Nakanishi passed nicely to Chenkovich who again scored on an overhead shot. George Michotte converted his gift toss. Blazina, after missing a long shot, stole the ball and scored. Then, with less than a second to go Bob Chenkovich scored the games' most dramatic shot, on a long set shot from the center line. This gave the Blue and Gold cagers a 24-9 lead at half-time.

The tip-off to start the second half went out of bounds and Lane immediately drew first blood for the Grizzlies with a set shot from the field. Narkevic came back under the hoop to score for M.S.C. followed by Nakanishi's two foul shots. The Grizzlies then added four points on a two-foul pitches and a basket by Arthur. DeTonancour and Chenkovich each made gift throws while Arthur made a free throw for the Grizzlies. Baracher then sunk a pivot shot and came back to drop in a side shot after DeTonancour had scored again on a high one-hander. This time it was Michotte who caught the defense napping, and he tallied on a pass from Markevic to give the Bobcats at34-20 lead. Michotte next pitched in a free toss Cramer went fast down the floor to score from the side. Narkevic and DeTonancour each slipped in long counters to boost State's lead, but the Grizzlies scored again when Lane went all the way on a fast break. Blazina came back down the court to sink a high long shot. He then dropped in a foul shot as did Marinkovich to close the games' scoring. The game wound up with M.S.C. on the big end, 42-25, and also third place honors in their possession.

B. Y. U. Beats Bobcats 55-40

Montana State college lost its first game of the 1945 season as they fell before a taller, more experienced Brigham Young U. squad. The Cougars, who had just fallen to Wyoming the previous night by 59-48, are preparing for a holiday trip to the eastern coast as is the Wyoming team.

BYU, with nine veterans, had the upper hand on rebounds with Squire at 6 feet 7½ inches and Walker at 6 feet, 7 inches. They played a fast floor game which several times found holes in the Bobcat's defense through which many baskets were made.

Three quick baskets by Weight, Squire and Walker, gave BYU a premature six-point lead which they held until Casey made a gift toss followed by DeTonacour's longside shot and a foul shot. The Cougars then came back with Malone tallying twice and Walker once. De Tonancouer then stole the ball under the basket for two points after which Nakanishi made a foul toss. George Ryan, playing his first game of the year, then dropped in a high long shot to make the score 12-9 for BYU. Again Malone dropped in two baskets for the Cougars followed by Squire's fast break shot. Walker scored from the field, and Squire got a set-up as BYU went well ahead 22-9. From there on until halftime the Bobcats staged a fast moving rally which saw DeTonancour toss one in on a hook shot and Michotte followed up with another counter. Walker counted again for the Utah boys from under the hoop to bring the count to 24-13.

DeTonancour was fouled on a fast break which was good, converted the free toss; and a moment later scored from the corner. Blazina received a long shot and scored quickly; then Michotte tallied with 20 seconds left to make the score 24-22 to BYU at halftime.

Walker started the second period with a fast shot, and Narkevic countered with one from the corner. Little tallied and DeTonancour again narrowed the lead on a corner shot to 28-26. Snow converted a foul shot, and Little was fouled on a fast break making the basket and a gift toss. Weight followed up with a short shot to put the Cougars eight points in front. Here the Bobcats staged a short rally with DeTonancour making a sole run on a pass interception, Chenkovich making a free throw, and Michotte passing the length of the floor to Blazina who scored. Little, Weight and Walker came back with three baskets quickly to run the count to 40-31. DeTonancour got a long shot after which Olsen got three baskets in a row and Little tallied once. Chenkovich made one from the foul circle for the Bobcats as the Cougars went ahead 50-35 on Karschner's set-up. Chenkovich made a looping lone shot, Markevic scored from the corner, and DeTonancour converted a foul toss as BYU dunked in five more points to win 55-40.

Boyd DeTonancour, speedy Bobcat center, kept his 20 point per game average intact while leading M.S.C. with 19 points. Walker, the Cougars 6 foot, 7 inch forward, tallied 12 points to lead BYU in scoring.
