

Frosh to Scale Baldy to Rock "M" Tomorrow

IF THE WEATHER permits, the 30-year-old tradition of improving the "M" on Mount Baldy will be carried out on Thursday. All freshmen are required to come. Dues will be one dollar.

Proceedings for the day will start with a whistle at 7:40 a. m. if classes are to be resumed as scheduled. Three whistles at 7:40 a. m. will indicate official "M" day.

Students having no other way of transportation to the foot of Mount Baldy will be taken out in trucks which leave Hamilton Hall at 8 a. m.

The Spurs and Fangs will collect dues from the freshmen at the foot of the mountain. This money is put into the freshman treasury.

All students should wear their oldest clothes and they need not bring brooms as was done in former times.

The "M" itself is 240 feet in height, 100 feet wide, covers 16,500 square feet, and is so laid out that allowance was made for the slope of the hill which made the letter perfect in proportions when viewed from a distance. It was built on October 25, 1916, by about 50 sophomore men as a lasting monument to the spirit and industry of the class of '18 but principally as a mark of their devotion to MSC.

Bobcats Meet Grizzlies in Butte Saturday

Band Leads M.S.C. Parade

With hundreds of students attending the Butte Game, and a complete sell-out of tickets expected, M.S.C. is looking forward to a bigger day there this year than has ever before been experienced.

Butte hotels have been snowed under with reservations, and harassed officials now are wondering where they're going to put all the people who plan to be there. The city's leading hotels have been turning away applicants for rooms for months.

Both M.S.C. and M.S.U. are planning parades according to tradition, but an extreme shortage of trucks and materials will prevent them from being the elaborate affairs that they were in the past.

Displays of the M.S.C. team will be seen in some of the large store windows and an afternoon dance sponsored by the C. C. will be held in the Temple ballroom.

The schedule for the day reads as follows:

5:30 a. m.—Special train departs from Bozeman.

9:30 a. m.—Train arrives at Butte, and immediately following the train's arrival the students will form for the parade at the high school two blocks east of the city.

10:00—The Bobcat band will lead the parade up East Broadway to Montana avenue, south on Montana to Park street, and east on Park street to the stadium.

MSC Regrets Paint Escapade

According to reports from the University at Missoula, permanent black paint spelling out "MSC" and "Victory for the Bobcats" was smeared on the MSU student Union building, and elsewhere on the campus, over the weekend, by unknown parties.

In October 1940, representatives from MSU and MSC met in Helena and made the "gentlemen's agreement" that the student body of Missoula would not travel to Bozeman to paint our campus and that the student body of Bozeman would not paint the University campus.

It was hoped that the tradition of sportsman-like rivalry be maintained between the two schools, but that the energy formerly used for painting be devoted to pep rallies and general school spirit at home.

Pres. Renne, the Student Senator, and the Exponent feel that although the gentlemen's agreement has been threatened by irresponsible people not representing students of MSC, it will prevent unsportsman-like escapades in the future.

Pres. Renne made the following statement: "If some college student was responsible, it is to be regretted, and I hope it will not happen again.

"We feel the gentlemen's agreement between the two institutions to abolish such pranks is a good one, and we will do everything we can to fulfill our part of the agreement."

Home Economics Increases Staff

New staff members in Home Economics department are Mrs. Evelyn W. McCormick, Mrs. Dorothy Johnston, Mrs. Suen-i Wu Chang, and Miss Cathy E. Switzer.

Mrs. McCormick comes to us from Kansas State college Home Economics department where she received her M. S. degree last year. She is Assistant Professor in charge of the Home Management House.

Mrs. Johnston is assistant to Mrs. Marjorie Paisley in the operation of M. S. C. Nursery School. She received her B.S. degree in Child Development at Iowa State college in 1946.

Mrs. Chang will do research work and some instruction work in Child Development courses. She received her doctor's degree in 1946 from Oregon State college. Mrs. Chang is to be with us only one year as she and her husband, Dr. John Chang, now of the Agricultural Economics department at Montana State, plan to return to China.

Miss Switzer is the new director of Hamilton Hall and will teach large - quantity cookery classes. She received her B.S. degree in 1944 from Michigan State college.

Before coming to Montana State, Miss Switzer was dietitian and foods supervisor for 20 months in the Navy Dining Halls at the University of Washington. She also held the position of residence dietitian at the Women's Residence Halls also at the University of Washington.

The first major difficulty was the problem of financing the publication. With very little advertising available, the "Engineer" obtained excellent support from the alumni and this support is still given freely.

At first the magazine was issued three times during each school year but this was soon changed to four issues a year in order that more national advertising could be carried. A contract was signed with a large advertising agency which brought in much more advertising and greatly stimulated the growth of the magazine.

The Montana Engineer was entirely self-sufficient with its income obtained from advertising and subscriptions. In 1941, however, it was recognized as one of the major publications on the campus and was granted an allotment from the student fees. Publication continued until the spring of 1943 when it was forced to halt because of the wartime emergency.

The revival of the "Engineer" is bringing many problems to the staff. At the present time one of the major problems is the lack of a place to work and the absence of equipment with which to work. Nevertheless, work is going ahead with present plans calling for the first issue in November. Even with the present day increases in prices, the subscription rate will remain at one dollar a year.

The staff is attempting to obtain material which will be of interest to every student in engineering. A variety of material will be presented which should prove of interest to all of the departments of engineering. Because the college is supported by the state, and because it is operated primarily for the education of residents of the state, it seems (Continued on page two)

Frosh to Nominate Officers Tonight

Nominations for candidacy for Freshman Class President will be made from the floor at the M-Club mixer Wednesday night, October 16. Bob Balch, Senior Class President and Freshman Daddy, will preside.

The only qualifications for candidacy is that the nominee be a registered freshman student. The number of nominations is unlimited.

Primary election will be Wednesday, October 23, and final election, Wednesday, October 30. The two nominees receiving the greater number of votes at the primary election will become the candidates for President of the Freshman Class. The president will be actually elected at the final election. Other officers will be elected when the president calls the first freshman class meeting.

IN ORDER TO VOTE IN EITHER THE PRIMARY OR FINAL ELECTION, ALL FRESHMEN MUST PAY THEIR $1 CLASS DUES. As all freshmen except veterans are required to go up to the M, they may pay the Spurs and Fangs when their names are checked off the attendance lists. Veterans or those otherwise excused from M-day may pay their dues at the polls.

LES BOUFFONS TRY NEW TYPE MIXER

Friday night the Les Bouffons are sponsoring a date mixer with no programs. It is believed that such a dance will eliminate the huge stag lines that have been prevalent at most of the previous mixers.

Also it is hoped that this will be an incentive for the married students to bring their wives.

The mixer is to be held at the armory, which is located one block north of Main street between Willson and Tracy avenues. If there is a pep rally, the mixer will start immediately after the snake dance, which will terminate in front of the armory.

Mayor O'Leary Welcomes M.S.C.

An invitation for all students and residents of Bozeman to attend the Bobcat-Grizzly game in Butte this Saturday has been extended by the mayor of Butte, Barry O'Leary.

In a statement made the early part of the week, Mayor O'Leary said, "The people of Butte are pleased to have the honor of entertaining the visiting teams of the College and University and the students who will journey to Butte to see their teams in action. The key to the city is theirs and we hope that they will enjoy the day here. We will cooperate with them to insure a good time for all."

NOTICE

There will be a dance at the new Silver Bow room. Meals 7-8:30. Dance 8:30-1:00. Reservations in Peg Roman's office.

Septemveri Sponsors Traditional Assembly

The annual president's assembly was held this morning in the college gymnasium. The assembly was sponsored and conducted by the members of Septemveri, senior men's honorary society. Victor Smith, president of Septemveri, opened with a brief explanation of the purpose of the annual assembly. Montana State College traditions were called to the attention of the freshmen for the first time and the president made his first appearance of the year to the upper classmen.

Septemveri was founded in 1920. The purpose of the organization is to perpetuate, create and govern the customs and traditions of the Montana State College and to handle other like student affairs. The membership of the organization is limited to seven active members who are chosen by a committee of the faculty from the men of the junior class, and they remain active throughout their senior year.

Each member of Septemveri chose for his talk a different phase of M.S.C. tradition. Bob Balch centered his attention on traditions applying only to freshmen such as not entering the main door of Montana hall and that freshmen must wear green hats to show that they are freshmen. He also told them that high school letters are not to be worn on the campus.

Jim Roach discussed M-day, its founding, history, and the procedure to be followed this year. Charles Dougherty informed the students about Hello Walk, which is located between Montana and Herrick Halls, and reminded them that only seniors are allowed to sit on Jack O'lantern bench.

Maurice Guay talked about Honors Day; Tom Dolan, about Women's Day; and Bruce Beatty talked about the annual Mothers' Day tea, which is given every spring.

Bruce Beatty introduced President Renne, whose speech was "The Administration's View on Traditions".

Final arrangements have been made for the construction of the new men's dormitory, which will house 386 men in 256 rooms, Mr. W. C. Baker, superintendent of physical equipment, said Saturday.

The frame building, which will be moved from its present site in Vancouver, Wash., in sections, will be located between the 200-apartment buildings and the Ag. building.

Mr. Baker, who traveled to Vancouver to make arrangements, expects the first sections to be on their way by next week. The building should be finished by December 15, he stated.

Leading Montana Gridders to Battle After 5-Year Truce

By H. E. YOUNG

Once again after a five-year lay-off the Montana State College Bobcats will invade the gridiron of Butte's Naranche Memorial Stadium at 2 p. m. Saturday to tangle in a traditional contest with the Montana State University Grizzlies to settle the season's supremacy with the pigskins.

Both squads are smarting from last week's defeats with the Grizzlies holding the smear odds by virtue of their 34-0 defeat at the hands of Oregon. The Bobcats failed to shine so brilliantly with a closer 28-14 loss from Utah State. Although the Missoula team probably came up against stiffer competition in playing Oregon, the big Pacific coast gun, the Bobcats hit plenty of power in the Utah State contest.

Season's records for the two teams show a like comparison. The Grizzlies were off to a bang-up start with a 26-0 win over Colorado A & M and then took the measure over Cheney Normal, 31-7. In a season's opener, the Bobcats edged out the strong Brigham Young eleven and then were forced into a 7-7 tie with a stronger than usual Colorado College team. Last week's scores modified the Grizzlies' more impressive record to give the two teams close matching in the books.

Since the fall of 1897 the Bobcats have been battling their way against a usually stronger Grizzly aggregation in an attempt to hold up their end of the Montana football kingdom. To date the Grizzlies have by far the upper hand in holding the Cats to eight wins and three ties compared to a total of thirty losses. Most of the time when the Staters were on the short end it was from one to four touchdowns. In 1904 the University took the stride in a 79-0 contest, but two years before the Bobcats didn't do so bad with a 38-0 win. In 1932, the Montana State team won their last state contest to date with a 19-7 score.

Now on the 14th year since that victory the Bobcats are sending one of their strongest clubs to Butte in an attempt to get back into the traditional game win column. With Clyde Carpenter as head of a competent coaching staff, the Staters have inaugurated a T-formation for backfield play and are greatly strengthened with players from other schools, service men and high school stars alike. Unlike most Montana State football teams, "Carp" has three teams he can send on the gridiron with assurance of stellar play.

With Bud Seelinger, a former Wisconsin star passer, in the quarterback spot, Gene Miles at right half, with an all-state tag and a year at collegiate football for Washington, Bill Nelson at the other side and another all-stater, and Neil Brooks in the tailback spot after two years of outstanding ball playing for Washington, the Bobcats have a strong backfield combination (Continued on page four)

It's Good Luck, Not Good Driving

The low accident rates on the campus streets are due to good luck—not good driving. You may have the right-of-way, but suppose the other fellow doesn't give it to you?

The rules of good driving are not difficult, and they do save many limbs and dollars. One of the most effective rules is to assume that other nearby drivers will do some idiotic thing at any moment. The assumption is often right, and you will be prepared for the fast action required.

A little courtesy goes a long way, too. If there is any question of who should take the right-of-way, give it to the other fellow. That prevents both of you from taking it at the same time.

The campus regulations tell us that the two streets bordering the long central parking strip are both one-way streets. Use only the one on the right. In snowy weather, there is not enough room to pass on those streets. That means that you must BACK out of your parking spot. When you drive into a parking spot, use the same angle that everyone else is using, so that you won't take up two or three spaces. Perhaps you have heard about hand signals. It is dangerous to have someone pull across in front of you with no warning.

WATCH FOR SMALL CHILDREN IN RESIDENCE AREAS!

Bozeman winters are traffic traps. The icy and wet streets demand extra precaution from all drivers. Skill does not make a good driver. Courtesy and caution are far more useful to yourself and to others.

As the building is torn down, the sections are propped up until they are shipped. Each section is strapped together and wrapped. The setting-up will begin at the north end of the plot, and each wing, as it arrives, will be added from north to south. The shipping will require 75 gondola cars.

The Hudson type dorm will have its own plumbing and fire alarm system. The building was originally constructed in 1941-42, and is expected to be good for 20 years.

In Nineteen Hundred and Forty Five, social life became alive. In Nineteen Hundred and Forty Six, women can have their pick!

To start the picking, the Freshman Girls have chosen Hank Young, Kappa Sig, as their "Arrow Shirt" man. P. S. If you want to see what Freshman Girls adore—he is advertised in the Book Store.

"Spike" Magee can't seem to make up his mind between the Pi Phi's and the Alpha Gams. Need some help, Spike?

What's happened between Bob Balch, Alpha Gamma Rho, and that certain little blonde gal of Quad D?

A certain Sigma Chi named "Tony" seems to like the females of the younger generation. What do these Freshmen have that the Upperclassmen don't?

The Lambda Chi's are really on the ball with the first fire-side of the year. Betcha they'll be popular!

Say, what's this we hear about Vic Smith hanging his Fang Sweater on Kappa Delta. Dorothy Callan? Something new in hanging has been added to our campus traditions.

Remember, you married veterans with cute wives—the school would like to know them too, show them off in the Coffee Shop of the Student Union. Paid plug!

It looks like the majority of the school is going to be independent this year with deferred rushing—swell mixers the Independents are giving.

We will be around again next week, so keep your eyes open, and may be you will be in this column. That's what you think, we know!

PLAY LAB NOTES

This isn't a fire side chat nor an address to the nation. It is just an answer to the question asked by so many people: What did the Play Lab do Summer Quarter? I might mention the courage of Adena Parsons elbow deep in a bucket of black paint that needed mixing. Worthy of comment is the comedy of Doug Morrison and Bud Seelinger trying to carry a large flat from the Play Lab to Montana Hall and getting involved in a wrestling match with the wind. Two of the plays were written and directed by members of the student body. The authors were Dan Sayatovich and Gene Feist.

Dan's play was the 'Brass Halo'. In it Doug Morrison played the role of Steve Lane, an ex-GI who thought the old home town and folks he knew were pretty dull. He ended up getting shot during a duel with a guy who had a scar from 'here to there'. It was an excellent portrayal of the difficulties of an ex-soldier adjusting to civilian life. Marilou Adamson was the scorned girl friend. Steve's obvious dislike for her, as Evelyn, caused people to wonder if he were blind as well as bitter. Adena Parsons played with quiet restraint the sympathetic role of Laura, Steve's sister, who came closest to understanding his confused groping. Gladys Anderson played Mrs. Lane, the mother, who seemed aware of the impending tragedy.

Gene Feist's play was entitled 'In a Mirror Darkly'. The title itself was the beginning of a series of coincidences concerned with the play. Weeks after the play was written Hollywood announced a movie called 'The Dark Mirror' and it had somewhat the same plot. These were coincidences one and two. Later, viewing the Theatre Guild's show, 'Carousel', Gene saw another similarity. The beginning of act two had a set much like that of 'In a Mirror Darkly'. In fact, both sets consisted of a bare stage with a brightly painted step ladder in the center. 'In a Mirror'—Beth Anne Dole played the role of the Sister, a woman who imagines she is Mary of Scotland when she isn't George Sand. Ricky Reighard was the brother who enjoyed himself painting portraits on invisible canvas. Ruth Irvine was Miss Grear, a confused and puzzled social worker. The play had a plot but the author has never been told just what it was all about. He will not be enlightened here.

The 'Theatre of the Soul' by N. N. Evrenow was directed by Mr. Sanford G. Wheeler. This play has a most unusual setting and theme. The play takes place inside of Mr. Ivanoff. The exact location is somewhere between his diaphragm and brain. Huge white ribs encircled the stage. The heart pulsed the required number of beats per minute. The kidneys made an excellent table upon which was the telephone. It was attached to nerves that stretched high overhead to the brain. The brain was located at the top of the spine which gleamed white and sleek in the soft light. Frank Small and Bud Seelinger were the Rational and Emotional Selves of Mr. Ivanoff. They both attempted to run his life via the telephone. After viewing his past and present in the forms of the Caricature of Inammorta, Ann Godtland; Ideal Semblance of Wife, Dora May Cate; Caricature of Wife, June Fienne; he commits suicide. The unusual theme and decor of the play thrilled the audience. It was a bold experiment that succeeded.

Bobcats Defeated By Driving Utah Aggies 14-28

Utah's Power Final Halfquelches 'Cats'

Utah State 0 7 7 14-28
Montana State 7 0 0 7-14

Driving over three touchdowns in points to match, in the final half, gave "Dean" Romney's Aggies the edge for a 28 to 7 victory over the Gatommen Saturday, at Logan.

Nelson hugging a Bourdet pass over for the first six of the game. Don Dunn booted the extra one.

Catching the Bobcats flat-footed with a beautiful second period drive, started the Utahmen down the counter stripe. After taking the return kick, it took the Aggies only five plays to tally for seven points.

Romney's, Jay Van Noy started the Aggies' last half onslaught with a thirty-yard dash through the field mottled with Montana blockers. From there on it was practically a Utah show.

Only Zupan's forty-five yard pass to Heinie in the last minutes of the game kept the Bobcats from being completely unscathed in that final frame.

Zupan took a lateral from Dave Smith on Montana's number thirty stripe to complete that pass to Heinie, who at the time was on Aggie's twenty-five yard mark. Smith converted after Heinie had closed that twenty-five yard pass to the end zone.

Back Moyle, Bobcat left end, was the game after the first play with a broken arm. He sustained only serious Montana injury in the game.

Ski Club to Use Bear Canyon Run

Starting the new club season off was the biggest crowd that has ever shown up for the start of a new season. Meeting was held in the faculty lounge with Jack Ryan presiding. An urgent plea was made for help on the hill this coming weekend. The weather is becoming worse all the time and unless this work is done, there won't be time for all the improvements that the skiers demand.

Plans have been made to have two more tows besides the one now in operation. To get this job done, timber will have to be felled, post-holes dug, the area cleared, the pulleys set on the posts and the rope strung.

Dr. Tunncliff was introduced and asked to say a few words. He informed the club that the Downtown Club and the High School Club will be in cooperation with the college club so that everyone concerned will benefit. Bulldozers have been hard at work straightening out some of the bad places on the hill and new areas for skiing are being prepared. A new scaffold jump is being planned and this area has been cleared.

Mr. Livers was asked for the words as to condition and situation on the hill at present. He in-

SPORTSCOPE By Harold Young

Once again the gridiron elevens of Montana State College and Montana State University are hard at work for their traditional meeting in Butte. For the third time we have attempted to sort of gather up the pre-game dope and try to determine to some extent where the two Montana teams rank with respect to each other. Twice before the Kaimin Kids told the dudes from the Country Club to relax and enjoy the fruits of victory from the "Country Cousins" of the Cow Collich. Twice before they spoke the truth but left out the details of how close they came to scratching the fleas of their own bearskins.

formed the club that they were working in the evenings on two Buick motors for the tows. He expressed great concern over the weather in relation to the amount of work to be done on the hill. Anyone with a team of horses that are handy to this location would be appreciated for snaking timber around the run. The club was very fortunate in being able to acquire some new rope through war surplus.

Watch this international winter sport go over big this year. See ya up Bear Canyon.

In 1940 when a great Grizzly team was doing pretty good in the win column offset by moral victories, the Bobcats determinedly held them to a 6-0 score—but they did win. The next year long faces were the vogue at half-time when the Cats had thirteen counters to a goose egg for the mighty Bears. That time reserve power again overcame a one team outfit and won 25-13. Truthfully the kids pulled no punches.

Noise of another coming victory is again prevalent. Although there is still plenty of smarting from the less than moral victory with Oregon, not to mention the empty pockets, the big build-up is under way. Bobcat fans who have reason to be leery of their west-side opponents are more cautious in their remarks, but at the same time they do have a few pleasing facts to fall back on.

For the first time in a good many seasons their grid mentor, Clyde Carpenter, has a bench full of reserves ready to check in on the field and play good ball. Then while their new T-formation has yet to make the most of offensive opportunities, it does stand the chance of coming out strong in Saturday's encounter.

Supplementing these is the fact that the Cats have been hard to score on. Along this line it is ironical to note that the Staters, while being stiff when they are up against the wall, they become weak when deep in the opponents' back yards.

Nevertheless, none of the pre-game goo can offset the plain fact that both the Bobcat and the Grizzlies are out to take the laurels of this battle and neither can afford to lose it and still claim a topnotch season. Both got dumped last week and one will take second money Saturday. For the Bobcats it is only the fourth fracas in a nine-game schedule. They got a few breaks in the initial game, but made up for it in the next two. Whether or not they have the power to beat down the opponents is the question to be settled at Butte.

Perhaps the encouraging thing for Bobcat fans when they see the blue and gold come on the field Saturday is that they followed a team which does have the stuff to come out on top without any hocus pocus or miracles.

Kampus Kapers

By MARIE MYSEE

The campus has more or less settled down this week after the hurry and flurry of rush week to a grind of seven and eight o'clocks.

Congratulations are in order for Harold Johnson, who is the new president of Phi Sigma Kappa. Harold left school in the spring of 1943 to serve in the U. S. Navy and is back to complete his course in industrial engineering.

Guests at the Phi Sig house this week included alumni Pierce Patterson, Carl Fjeld and faculty advisor Harry Cockrum.

Many Pi Phis were attracted by marital music this summer. Medolou Winter married Bob Petty; Sue Hinman married Bob Bateman; Margie Gleason wed Jim Black, and B. J. King married Bill Wood. Other marriages were Peg Waite to J. B. Annin, Jean Lamberg to Johnny Hughes and her sister, Marian, to William T. Cullen, Beryl Garrison to Alex Zbitnoff, and Helen Gogley to Clifford Corey.

Mrs. Payson, head librarian, was a dinner guest at the Pi Beta Phi house last Thursday. Fawn Marie Murray, '46, was also visiting at the house during the week.

The Woman's Co-op held a house-warming Friday for their new home at 204 South Third. The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Layton Thompson, Dr. and Mrs. A. J. M. Johnson and Dean Harrison.

New house officers were elected at the Co-op house to replace the girls who did not return. They are: athletic director, Mitze Booker, music director, Walene Hockett; and executive council member, Barbara Small.

Dinner guests at the Kappa Sig house last Thursday were John Haynes and George Engstrom.

Last weekend the Chi Omegas were invited to the Kappa Sigma house for a tea dance. Marilou Adamson entertained the group with "Hard-hearted Hannah" and tales of Hannah's cronies. A buffet luncheon was served to the girls and guys.

Newest addition at the Kappa Sig house is a new two and one-half-month old collie presented to them by Adena Parsons. The fellows are kept rather busy keeping track of "Caduceus."

Alpha Gamma Delta sang the first serenade for the fall quarter last Tuesday night, with a special rendition of "My Alpha Gam Man" by Pat Tocci, Fran Oswald, Alyce Johnson, and Fran Schellhorn.

Mildred Hageman, AGD, is back on campus after a few years' absence.

Alpha Gam Pauline Davis visited friends in Billings last weekend, and Linda Blier attended a wedding in Livingston, Friday. Mrs. O. B. Hammerstrom of Helena visited with her daughter, Elaine, at the house Sunday.

Ann Mahan, '46, recently became engaged to Bill Casey, cadet at M.S.C. in 1943.

Mrs. Burgess MacLeod was the former Jean Romine, Alpha Gam, before her recent marriage.

You can tell the Sigma Chis by their well-fed look. Mrs. Harringer is the new cook at the house!

Congratulations to Rosalie Coleman, Marjorie Fraser and Phyllis Todd, new initiates of Alpha Omicron Pi! Also to Penny Stearns now wearing the pledge ribbons of Alpha O.

Helen Wolfe and Nancy Stenson passed their five pounds to sister A. O. Pis last week announcing engagements to Del Newman, KS, and Dinty Moore, Sigma Chi, respectively.

Don Smith, James Peck, and Walt Dugan were dinner guests at the S.A.E. house during the week. Dale Johnson, '43, and Cory Dogetrum were other visitors of the Sig Alphas.

Quad "E" announces election of officers for the year: president, Lois Cass; vice president, Phyllis Todd; secretary-treasurer, Marilyn Smith; senior counselor,

Irene Sherrow visited her family in Laurel over the weekend.

Congratulations to Marilyn Smith who is wearing the cardinal and straw of Chi Omega!

Newest fad at the Chi O house is a personalized wide leather belt manufactured by Sindy & Snyder, Incorporated!

Debaters Plan Active Year

Tentative plans call for beginning of the forensic season in early November with a round of intramural debates. The organizations and individuals planning to participate should begin to make their plans now, said Charles Dougherty.

The forensic fund is in a particularly fortunate condition due to the wartime inactivity so a really active year can be anticipated. Several trips are planned for later in the year.

The question for at least the first part of the year will be: "Resolved: That labor should be given a direct share in the management of industry." The library has begun to compile a bibliography on the subject so that eager individuals can begin working immediately.

Mr. Parker, room 302 MH, will be the coach. He will be glad to speak to anyone interested in any of the speech activities.

Orchestra Needs Strings

The second rehearsal of the M.S.C. orchestra last Thursday evening showed a decided improvement in the balance of instrumentation as many more violinists and string bass players appeared to help balance these orchestral parts with the fully staffed woodwind and brass sections.

There is still a need for more viola and cello players with previous playing experience and for people with a background in musical training on some other musical instrument who might be interested in learning to play either the viola or cello with the idea of being orchestra members when their performance ability justifies it. These people should contact Mr. Sedivy, the orchestra director, in room 3 of the gym this coming week.

Present plans of the orchestra director are for the performance of several major symphonic works this season but this can only be done if the instrumentation is complete in the stringed instrument section of the orchestra. All of you viola and cello players are definitely needed to help make these plans a reality.

Bobcats Meet—

Pacing the front wall is another Washington star, big Len Larson at the tackle position. Other possible starters are Dom Dira and Dick Ball at guard. Earl Nadeau or Charley Masten at center, John McLellen the opposite tackle, and Bill Clawson and Harry Perrigo at the end positions. Here again "Carp" has added strength for almost two additional lines.

Big guns for the Grizzly back yard are "Bull" Wardien and "Bunny" Radakovich, both big yard gainers with the former high on the pay dirt count. Johnny Reagan has the bullet passing job and packs so much punch he hasn't fitted in heavily thus far in the season. Other top backs in the team are Holding and Palmer, with Leeper tops at end.

Barring any bad breaks via the weatherman, the two squads will have four practice sessions before the big meet Saturday. Clyde Carpenter has the job of priming the Cats for a long sought win for which Bobcat fans are clamoring, and plan to support in traveling to Butte by train and cars. Doug Fessenden will have to lead the Bears to victory to keep the Missoula fans at bay and hold their long string of victories.

Quonsets Near Completion

Plywood and other material which have held back completion of the Quonset huts have arrived, and construction of individual study rooms in the Quonsets will be pushed to completion rapidly, President R. R. Renne said today. It was hoped that the Quonset huts would be completed and ready for occupancy when classes began, but delay in shipment of necessary materials and equipment has made it impossible for the college to achieve its goals. When the individual study rooms are completed, students living in the barracks will be given an opportunity to move to the Quonset huts.

President Renne praised the co-operation and patience of the students in making the best of a bad situation, and stated that everything should be completed along the lines of original plans within the next two weeks.

The 28-man dormitory for men is now being dismantled by the Carson Construction Company from its site at Vancouver, and according to Mr. Carson's contract, the building will be erected on the campus and ready for occupancy before the end of December.

AWS Tea Tonight

The annual Associated Women Students Big-Little Sister get-together will be held Wednesday, Oct. 23 at a tea in the Fireplace Room of Herrick Hall, between the hours of 7 and 9 p. m. Some arrangement such as alphabetic sectioning will be made to accommodate the large number of guests expected.

In former years it has been customary for the AWS big and little sisters to have a picnic down by the fish pond beside the Chem building. A picnic was not possible this year.

AWS sponsors a Big-Little Sister program to acquaint each freshman woman with an upper class woman who may act as an adviser on college procedure, traditions, and customs.
