SC Students Drop Food to Snowbound Families

TOM PRICE

Tom J. Price of Evanston, Wyo., now attending Montana State college, was one of two students who assisted in airplane delivery of supplies to snow bound residents of Gallatin county during February. The other student is Robert L. Johnson of Lewistown and both are flight instructors for the Bozeman Aviation service at Gallatin Field.

When a series of blizzards hit Gallatin county too rapidly for the snow removal equipment to combat, farmers and ranchers turned toward the airplane, the only means of transportation not immobilized by the snow. Price, who is part owner of the Bozeman Aviation service and serves as instructor while not attending classes, was called to the airport. Johnson received the same call

Home Economist From DuPont Visits Campus

Miss Beth Peterson, representative from E. I. DuPont de Nemours & Co., was on the campus February 28 through March 2.

Montana State college was fortunate to have secured the services of Miss Beth Peterson, home economist of the DuPont company's extension division, Wilmington, Delaware.

Miss Peterson brought an extension talks. She told and showed the newest developments in plastics coming out of the DuPont chemical research laboratories. Some are so new that they are still in the experimental or evaluation stage.

Miss Peterson is a graduate of Iowa State college where she later joined the staff as clothing and textile specialist with the Extension Service. She joined the DuPont Company in 1946 as home economist, and since that time has closely observed the development of new chemical products and has studied their effect on consumers. Miss Peterson is a member of Epsilon Sigma Phi, PEO and Delta Zeta. She is past vice-president of the Iowa Home Economics association, and was state chairman of the wartime clothing conservation committee in Iowa.

Members of the Home Economics club introduced Miss Peterson at a tea at 4 4 p.m., February 28. Miss Peterson took the first 15 minutes to give a short talk on job opportunities and qualifications for home economists in business.

NOTICE SOCIAL CHAIRMEN

There will be a meeting of all social chairmen tomorrow night, March 4 at 5 p.m. in Room 304 of the SUB.

Little International Plans Announced by Earl Peace

Little International committees have been appointed and plans are being formed for what promises to be an outstanding show on May 19 and 20 Earl Peace, of Polson, manager of the show, said this week.

The Little International, sponsored by the MSC Ag Club, has been offering students in agriculture the opportunity to fit and show animals for 14 years. It was started in 1931 by the late Louis Vinke, head of the animal industry department at that time. The show has been an annual event except when it was discontinued during the war.

In 1946, the reorganized Ag Club accepted the task of presenting the show and restoring it

The concert band opens its tour March 17 at Fort Harrison near Helena, goes to Havre that night and moves to Chinook, Malta and Glasgow March 18. The band plays at Wolf Point, Poplar and Sidney March 19 and at Worden en route home.

The orchestra appears March 21 at Livingston and Billings; Hardin and Miles City, March 22; Terry, Wibaux, Glendive, March 23; Forsyth, March 24.

April 28, 29, 30 Are Dates Set For H. S. Week

The 1949 High School Week will be held at Montana State college on April 28, 29 and 30, according to General Chairman Max Worthington.

During this time, students from high schools throughout the state of Montana will be meeting on the campus of the State College for the annual weekend of competition, information and fun. The program for this year's session will be about the same as for last year and will feature scholastic rivalry in the form of college aptitude tests.

Last year's arrangement was a departure from former years and seems to have been satisfactory enough, with slight changes, to continue for another year.

High School Week dates back to 1930, when various youth vocational conferences were combined to form the one big event. Since that time it has grown and attracted larger and larger groups of high school students eager to compete with each other in scholastic contests and to get a glimpse of Montana State college—its facilities and life.

Forensic Squad Travels To Colorado and Oregon

Montana State college debaters have taken part in two forensic tournaments during the past two weeks. The first of these was the Rocky Mountain Speech Conference sponsored by the University of Denver. Squad members making this trip were: Jack Hutchins, Ken Duncan, Jerry Dull, and George Dalthrop. Coach John Parker accompanied the men on the four-day junket, part of which was done by airplane travel which proved safe but relatively uncertain.

At Denver all members of the squad took part in the complete sequence concerning the Federal Aid to Education bill. This participation involved four formal debates, social-dramatic activities, and discussions. The meet was not run on a strictly competitive basis; rather, each contestant was rated individually after each contest. Jack Hutchins earned a total of 36 out of a possible 45 points, a score placing him in the upper ten percent of those entered.

During the next week Milton Campbell, Peg Fisher, and Gail Stensland traveled to McMinnville, Oregon, where Linfield college was host to an annual get-together of speech students. Peg Fisher and Gail Stensland, meeting their first intercollegiate competition, took part in the junior college debate program. Milton Campbell took part in the one-man debate which he states turned out to be an interesting event. All three of the Bobcat squad members were members of a Student Congress having to do with the problem of Communism in the United States. Unfortunately a protracted argument with the housing officer made them late to the first session and they lost their voting privileges.

All members of the Forensic squad and other interested are urged to attend a meeting in 305 SUB at 5 p.m. Thursday when reports of the trips will be presented and intramural plans made.

McClelland Elected

At the annual Home Economics Association convention held in Great Falls February 25 and 26, Miss Bess McClelland, who is head of Home Economics Extension at MSC, was elected to head the association for the coming year. Other officers are: vice-president, Gertrude Roskie; secretary, Gale Ueland; counselor, Ann Platt, MSU; alternate counselor, Mildred Leigh; and treasurer, Alfreda Forswall, Billings.

Dean Katherine Roy led a seven-member panel in a discussion, "Progress toward Improved Family Life". This year high school and college students participated in the program for the first time when two high school girls explained how 4-H Club and Future Homemakers of America aided in the development of improved family life at the luncheon for students and recent graduates. Carol Chaffin, a senior in Home Economics at MSU, participated in the panel discussion and Janice Fenske, Home Economics junior at MSC, gave an illustrated discussion on family life in Sweden.

Quaker Official To Visit MSC

Mr. Harry Burks, college secretary of the American Friends' Service committee, CL office, will be on campus Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, March 4, 5, and 6. The American Friends' Service committee is the agency which carries out the international reconstruction programs and the domestic service programs for the religious Society of Friends. It has a reputation for impartial and meaningful service.

Mr. Burks is trained as an electrical engineer but is now giving full time to his work with the Quaker organization. His job is to interpret the Service Committee to the colleges of the northwest. His wife is accompanying him on this trip.

He and his wife spent two years in Europe with the Service committee from which they just recently returned. At first, they were in northern Norway and then spent one and one-half years in western France at the town of St. Nazaire. They helped to build and operate a community center and helped in many phases of that war torn city.

Arrangements for Mr. Burks' visit are being made by Cliff V. Davis, advisor to the Interchurch council. While on campus, he will speak to a number of classes. At least, the following departments have asked for his services: Engineering, Sociology, Philosophy, Modern Language, and Geography.

Friday noon a luncheon will be held in the small dining room of the SUB coffee shop. The Interchurch council and the International Relations club have been invited as groups but any interested faculty members or students are welcome.

Atomic Energy Is Discussed at IRC

International control of atomic energy was the topic of discussion at the bi-monthly meeting of the MSC chapter of the International Relations club.

Meeting in the Student Union, the study group heard Mr. Ed Speare support the American stand on atomic energy control. Mr. James Milne spoke in support of the Russian proposal of immediately outlawing the bomb with international inspection to follow up. Donna Doran opened the discussion as moderator with a background on the problem.

The group holds its quarterly business meeting at the next meeting March 28.

and both missed a few classes while the emergency was on. The two students flew continuously during the daylight hours.

These two students flew such supplies as cream, milk, groceries, coal, fuel oil, cattle feed, to farmers and ranchers all over the county. They did most of their flying on skis, landing to pick up their loads. They were able to successfully deliver such bulky articles as coal in sacks by dropping from a low altitude when the rush was on.

Five Montanan Queens Will Be Chosen March 11

Queens, queens, and more queens. Seems like everybody is choosing a queen for something. MSC undoubtedly has more queens than any other campus in the country. To top it off and add a few more queens to our list, the Montanan is throwing their all-school, semi-formal dance, March 11 at the SUB.

This dance will feature the presentation of the Montanan queens. There will be five queens selected out of the 25 girls chosen by the fraternities, Men's Co-op, and Hudson House. The 25 candidates' pictures were sent to movie star Alan Ladd, of Paramount studio. Mr. Ladd will judge the five girls he thinks are best qualified to bear the titles of "Montanan Queens."

Dancing will be to the lilting strains of the Rhythm Cats. The beautiful walls and ceiling of the Student Union ballroom will be hid under a crepe paper false ceiling. The ballroom will be gayly decorated by the Montanan staff. Tickets for the program dance will be on sale at the SUB next week.

MSC Players Stand Out 'Heaven Can Wait'

by Ralph F. Fix

...and champagne to G. Wheeler & Co. for a glorious presentation of the Segall penned "Heaven Can Wait" last week. This was the MSC Players, the play-actonists, Alpha Psi Omega and Sanford managed to pull off the oft-lacking audience. The comedy could have stood a third-night rehash. The apathy was generally until Jim "Maxie Levene" (enter Act II, scene I), and down the house more than a few times as a 'sheeny' manager. It was Cusick all the way from there on in.

The buttons have no more to be athletic, however, those of Mrs. Anonymous who contributed no less than five sons; Dave, George, Bill, Larry, Matt, Mike, Joe, and a host of others in order of their appearance in the show. Just how the plotline is there? None of them.

In "Shorts" Meagher, who Segall's multi-bodied role, a little to be desired. Meagher had bodies he couldn't turn, turned in his usual good, good interpretation. Even Taffy, "Mrs. Farnsworth's" dog, rose to the occasion and remained well-behaved.

Marge Nickelson, as Mrs. Farnsworth, Joe Merritt, as Tony Abbott, and Tom Robischon, as both Messenger 7013 and the 'voice at the ringside', carried touches of professionalism. The remaining support, while fair, left some feeling of strain and over-acting which is usually far more evident in college productions.

Staging, costuming, and lighting give vent to praise. It grieves this writer when trying to understand why Messrs. Jester and Wohlfrom, lighticians par excellence, are required to design and construct a 'bottle-baby' switchboard in order to gain the necessary effects. It would seem, if student funds are lacking, that a portable switchboard might be a necessity for some philanthropic personage or organization to work on.

A fantastic plot with 'easy' humor afforded theatergoers numerous laughal lines and situations. It was two and one-half hours of moving entertainment.

"Heaven Can Wait."—Yes, this was paradise.

Junior Pan Hell. Goes Altruistic

The Junior Pan Hellenic organization has taken up altruistic work as its project. It has contacted foreign students for names and addresses of families in their country who need clothes. Anyone wishing to contribute to this cause will please contact Doris Peterson, Quonset 4. Any old, clean clothes will be appreciated.

Junior Pan Hellenic sponsored a tea for all pledges on the hill in the Student lounge of the SUB Saturday, February 19. The girls attended in their jeans. Each pledge class put on a skit. Afterwards cake and coffee were served. Twenty-five cents was collected from all to pay for postage on packages sent to foreign families.

Letters to the Editor . . .

To the editor:

On Saturday, February 19, a chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national scouting service fraternity, received its charter on the MSC campus.

As a member of the ritual team—from Eastern Washington College of Education—which conducted the installation, I would like to express our sincere appreciation for the friendliness and courtesy extended to us while at your school. We hope to have the opportunity, someday, to return this hospitality.

The showing made by members of the new chapter (Eta Zeta) has already proved a credit to your college.

There were a number of guests from other states and other towns at the ceremony, and I'm sure I speak for all of them in saying that we all left MSC with the conviction that this new organization will continue to be a valuable asset in your campus activities.

In passing, we were particularly impressed by two things: first, the fine student-union building you have and, second, the "frontier pants" worn by so many of your coeds. The latter were an entirely new style innovation to us—and mighty trim to say the least!

Sincerely,
Ken Slater,
Eastern Washington College of Education,
Cheney, Washington.

Dear Editor,

The Alpha Psi Omega cast wishes to thank the student body for their grand support of the Alpha Psi Omega Film Series. I don't believe the student body

Dear Editor:

We are interested in attending student dramatics presentations, but each quarter at least three trips to the Student Union are necessary before we find anyone to obtain tickets from! The Union is out of the way for many students, and it is often so discouraging to try to obtain tickets, that we give up after the second trip and stay home.

If tickets were sold when the Exponent states they will be on sale, I am sure the Commissioner of Dramatics would need not make an "appeal" to the Student Body to have a "full house" for these fine plays.

Sincerely,
Hazel Morgan.

Editor's note—Tickets are available at the door for both students and non-students. "Heaven Can Wait" played to large houses both nights.

'Shot-in-the-Arm'

More than just the Bobcat cagers got into the act last Saturday night—the Blue and Gold pep band and Fencers gave a crowd a fine show.

It was a new departure for the band, but their new arrangements were met with spontaneous ovation. They deserved every bit of it.

Not only did the Fencers give MSC rooters something of half-time entertainment, but their "bloody" finale brought more one shriek from a curious audience. Their mixture of fact and fiction was pleasant.

College spirit has felt a shot-in-the-arm these past few weeks. With further contributions of talent and originality, old Montana University, will become a happy memory instead of an existence.

—Associate Editor.

EXPOONENT NOTICE	NOTICE SOCIAL CHAI
Assignments for the last issue of the Exponent this quarter will be posted this afternoon. Please pick them up as soon as possible.	There will be a meeting of social chairmen tomorrow March 4 at 5 p.m. in Room 101 of the SUB.

They're popping up all over

People have been wanting more and more telephone service and we've been working hard to provide it. We've added nearly 9,000,000 telephones in the past three years. Still more are needed and are on the way.

But that's not all that we've been doing to increase the usefulness and value of the telephone.

Telephone service has been extended to automobiles, trucks, boats, trains and airplanes. Real progress has been made in expanding and improving rural telephone facilities . . . and radio relay networks have been developed and enlarged . . . research has started on new electronic devices which promise to bring even wider horizons of electrical communication within view.

All this means better telephone service for you . . . more people you can reach easily and quickly . . . more time in your day . . . a larger world in your grasp.

Phi Omega Chapter Installed

A chapter of Alpha Phi Omega national service fraternity was formally installed at Montana State University on Saturday, February 19. The new initiation team from Washington College of Education at Cheney and representatives from the national organization installed this first chapter at MSU.

Phi Omega is composed of men who are, or have previously affiliated with the Scouts. The purpose of the organization is to assemble members in fellowship of the law and to develop and promote service to the community.

Then, as now, Home Ec majors suffered many slighting remarks, such as, "She may be pursuing a course of Domestic Science, but has given up hope of ever using it," about a graduating senior.

INTERCHURCH COUNCIL

The Inter-Church Council of Montana State college is sponsoring brief devotion services during Lent. These will be held every two weeks in the Hapner Room beginning Wednesday, March 2, and on the 9th, 30th, and the 13th of April. These services will be held from 7:30 to 7:50 in the morning.

Rev. Harvey C. Hartling, Christian Church; Rev. Harry M. Kriebel, Baptist Church; Rev. Donald J. Skinner, Episcopal church; and Rev. Lyle J. Onstad, Lutheran church, have kindly consented to lend their services. All students and faculty are cordially invited to attend these devotions.

Vets News

A number of veterans are nearing the time when their GI Bill benefits will expire. This article presents the Federal provisions governing the GI Bill at the time of expiration and also the benefits available to Montana State Veterans, the War Service Fee Exemptions.

VA provisions state that if a veteran has sufficient eligibility to complete the major portion of the quarter, then the VA will pay only a part of the cost of books, tuition and subsistence. This partial payment is figured on the basis of the number of days of eligibility remaining in the quarter, divided by the total number of days in that quarter. The veteran, in this case, will have to pay a portion of his books and tuition costs.

State benefits are available to veterans whose eligibility has expired or who are not otherwise qualified under either Public Law 346 or Public Law 16. The provisions are that the veteran must have been a bona fide resident of the state at the time of entry into service and that he is not now eligible for benefits under the GI Bill. Registration and incidental fees are waived to veterans who qualify under these provisions.

The state benefits will not be granted automatically, but require veterans to make application at least two weeks before the beginning of the quarter in which the benefits are to apply.

The state benefits may be used along with the GI Bill when the veteran's eligibility does not extend through a half of the quarter. Application for these benefits may be obtained from Mr. Wilson at the Testing and Counseling service in Bridger hall. Veterans are requested to bring a copy of their discharge when applying as proof of state residence when they entered service.

Bruins Take Crown With Two-Point Victory

by Bill Arndt

Slipping off a narrow 58 to 56 win Friday night, the Montana Grizzlies made it three in a row over the Bobcats to win the mythical State title for the first time since 1943. Saturday evening the State quintet topped the University crew 82 to 81 in a tilt marred by 75 personal fouls. Joe Kelly, stellar Bobcat guard, looped 42 points in the two games, 29 of them Saturday night.

Bob "Calamity" Cope connects for two points in last Friday's game despite the efforts of Joe Kelly. The tall forward led his team with 19 points for the evening.

Grizzlies 58—Bobcats 56

After leading 37 to 28 at the half, State's Cagecats slowed up in the third quarter allowing the Grizzlies 20 points to their 7. Then, with the score 48 to 44 against them, the Cats tightened up again to play the visitors on even terms until the gun. Leading periodically 52 to 51, 55 to 53, and 55 to 54, the State crew lost the chance to pull the game out of the fire by missing five times at the charity line in the last minutes. Graham put the Bears ahead 56 to 55 with seconds to go and Cope added two points at the free throw line to provide the victory margin.

Pedan had Cope's number until he left the game on fouls, by holding the Grizzily forward to seven points in the first half. Kelly swished 13, Johnson and Curry 11 to lead the Cat scoring. Cope hit 19, Eahart 11, and Graham 10 to bolster the Grizzly average.

Bobcats 82 — Grizzlies 81

Featuring a scoring duel between Joe Kelly and Lou Rocheleau, Saturday night's tilt set a new record for scoring in a Grizzly-Bobcat game with a total of 163 points. The previous high had been 155 set at the University last month. The Bears were called on 47 personals with seven players making the long walk to the bench with five fouls counted against them.

The half-time score favored State 41 to 39 after it had been knotted five times during the first half. The Cats managed to hold a narrow lead until midway into the last half when the count was tied at 54.

Pulling ahead again, the State crew established an 80 to 75 lead with 90 seconds remaining. Bauer drove in for a lay-up, Curry converted, Rocheleau swished a two-pointer, Curry counted another gift shot and "Rock" tipped in the last basket of the game just as his fifth foul sent him off the floor.

With 40 seconds left and the score at 82 to 81 the Bobcats went into a stall which saw them taking the ball out seven times after repeated fouls by the Grizzlies.

The MSC Bobcats finished their 1943-49 basketball season with a win over Montana U's Grizzlies Saturday night. The seasonal record stands at 14 won, 15 lost. In Rocky Mountain conference play, the Bobcats finished third with five wins and three losses. Colorado State copped first with a 7-1 record while Colorado State latched onto second with a 6-2 record. The Cats finished fourth with a 5-3 season in conference play. Les Curry, State's high scoring sophomore, was unanimously placed at forward on the all-conference team.

The Blue and Gold opened the season by losing to the Billings Stockmen in a slow ball game, 44 to 49. Then, showing slightly better form, they dropped Rocky Mountain twice at home by comfortable margins—56 to 44, and 50 to 33.

The Cagecats next met the powerful Cowboys from Wyoming U., and dropped a double header before meeting the same team and Utah State in a tournament at Logan, Utah. And here two more losses were added to the season's record.

Whitworth college of Spokane split the next two home games with state by identical scores of 66 to 51 and 51 to 66. The following week, Breeden's hoopsters again split a pair of games, this time with North Dakota U., 42 to 49 and 49 to 41.

Nevada's Wolfpack gained a measure of revenge for last year's losses in Bozeman by taking two close decisions from the Montana crew in Reno over the Christmas holidays.

Still on the road, the Cats opened conference play with Colorado college at Colorado Springs. The Tigers took two! A none-too-successful trip was concluded at Western State in Gunnison where the Cats blasted the Mountaineers 87 to 58 and 63 to 50.

Returning home, the Blue and Gold split a doubleheader with defending champion Colorado State.

Missoula's playboys hit the hoop with fine consistency to grab a two-game lead in the state championship playoffs. The first of the series was played in Missoula with the Bruins winning 71 to 71, and 84 to 71 on Saturday night.

Beginning a six-game winning streak, the Cats lashed Idaho State's Bengals to a 10-0 record in the first two games on the Bozeman campus. The Colorado Mines also beat the Bruins following week to Breeden's team. The fifth and sixth games were added in extra time. The Bobcats won the series from Idaho State in Idaho.

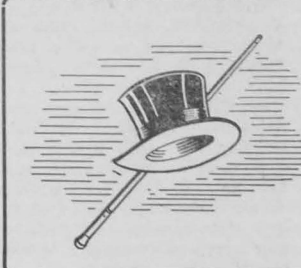

The Silvertips from Montana won possession of the state title by virtue of a surplus of points in the last Friday, but were edged from making a clean sweep of the four-game series by dropping 81 to 82 contest on Saturday night.

In 29 games Curry counted 1,275 points for a 43.97 point average. Kelly dropped 1,100 points in 23 games, Johnson counted for 215 in 29 games.

As a team, the Bobcats averaged 56.6 points per game against their opponents were averaged 45.5 points per game.

that the glorious 1948-49 season is now at an end. The varsity cagers did wind up with a 13-13 count in college basketball. Perhaps if we could sample more weeks of season, we might see a few more wins. After all the mighty Grizzlies have won 7 of their last 10. And if the season were to end now, we might even be able to see the squad dwindle to 10 or less. But all good things must come to an end.

the chief factors in the end was the cage squad last Friday. The country clubbers of the hill ended a Bobcat title reign that had endured since 1942. It was the Grizzlies' state title to be won in the Grizzlies in 40 odd years. The Bobcats held the title in the neighborhood of 1942 state hardwood champ-any sort of an athletic title. The Monday morning Grizzlies get out their pencils, and paper, and tell the local coach, the team, and the general just what went wrong in the game and how the Grizzlies could have won. The "won" side of the Grizzlies. This writer hates to be at kind of a handle but from here that a weak free throw line hand-state title to the Grizzlies. In dropping of 27 gift tosses compared to 26 made by the Grizzlies. Friday night, the State field goals was wholly ing in this day and age. It is becoming a hazardous game. Fans are quick to forming seasons when the Grizzlies lean years roll around. The coach put it, "When we have a good year, the coach has a bad material". When we have a bad year, it's due to poor coaching. "Bad material". In the words the coach is always and never praised. Some coaches get the axe and keep on the depths of obscurity. Others, fortunate fellows like Stuldeher, manager to get jobs with less worry. There are other coaches who sometimes forget they have to appease, and an audience. The audience sometimes to remember the glory days and such a thing on his reputation. The audience finds cold reality in him to the fact that he has never been assured of a job at that particular time, and too late finds the thing on his unsuspecting ears, indeed, coaching is a life—and we pause 10 seconds and bow our heads in silent prayer for the long suffering of the profession.

MSC Skiers 3rd Gunnison Meet

Western State's Mountaineers, led by Crosby Perry-Smith, broke through to win their own invitational ski meet last weekend at Gunnison, Colo. Placing second and third in the field of eight teams were Denver university and Montana State, respectively.

Perry-Smith took individual honors of the meet with 391.2 points as Western State totaled 1478.399 points to finish for ahead of Denver with 1346.707.

season's Grizzly cage squad. Both boys were seen last weekend in the Bobcat-Grizzly tussle.

Trailing Denver by a narrow margin and in third place with 1324.813 were MSC's Bobcats. Jack Davis of State totaled 348.4 points in individual honors.

Injured during a practice run before the meet was Carlos Livers of the ski team, who suffered injuries to his ribs and a lung puncture.

Other teams competing in the meet were Wyoming university, Colorado university, Colorado School of Mines, Colorado college, and Colorado A. & M. who finished behind Montana State in that order.

Cubs Squeeze Two Close Wins

Montana University Cubs swept both ends of a double header played with State's Bobkittens in Missoula last weekend. Chinske's boys managed to squeeze out a 65 to 63 win the first night and then edge the Kittens 71 to 70 in an overtime game on Saturday night.

The two Cub wins gave the country club greenies a split for the season with the Kittens who had taken two clean cut decisions from the Cubs in Bozeman.

On Friday, the Cubs were sparked by Bob Hasquet of Shelby who dropped in 22 points. The Cubs led for most of the fray.

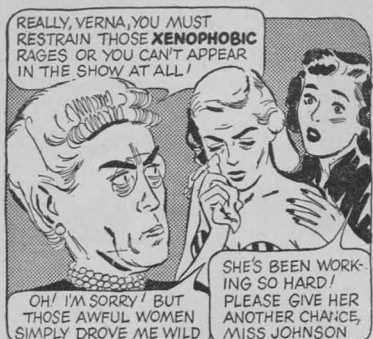

Hasquet again sparked the Cubs to victory on Saturday night in looping 32 points. After the Cubs had slipped in a quick 17 to 3 lead in the opening moments, the Kittens set out to grimly whittle that lead down. The Cubs led 42 to 30 at halftime. With 15 seconds left in the regular game, Bob Saunders of the Kittens tied the count at 68 all.

In the overtime the Cubs managed to earn a one point win.

Bob Miller was high point man for the Kittens on Friday night with 14 points, while Saunders dropped in 27 to lead the State freshmen for Saturday night.
