Class Will Meet

There will be a meeting of the junior class Thursday, Feb. 5, at 7 p.m. in room 101 of Roberts Hall, president Dave Sloan has announced. Business to be discussed at the meeting will concern Junior Prom plans. The date, the theme, the amount of money to be spent and the prom committees will be among the topics to be considered concerning the prom. Sloan urges all juniors to attend.

Curtain Goes Up Feb. 4 On "Inherit The Wind"

A court-room drama based on the actual trial that set all America buzzing in the nineteen-twenties will be given by the Montana State College Theatre Arts Department on Feb. 4, 5, 6, and 7 at the college in Bozeman. It will be presented again on Feb. 13, and 14 at the University theatre in Missoula.

This is Inherit the Wind, the long-run Broadway success dramatizing the Scopes "monkey-trial"; the trial that, in 1925, drew world attention to the little town of Dayton, Tenn., and in 1955 drew attention to a theatre in New York City.

The epic duel chronicled is between a good and pious man who sincerely believes he is defending the Book of Genesis from being profaned by infidels, and a quick-witted man who considers his opponent a rabble-rouser and a bigot.

The conflict between them that resounded across the front pages of the world is related against the vivid background of a sleepy, obscure country town about to be vigorously awakened. The play presents the parade of townsfolk honoring their Bible-quoting champion, attending their prayer meetings, singing hymns, and staring at the out-of-towners drawn to their community by the court-room circus.

In the foreground is the torrid court-room, where shirt-sleeved lawyers argue before shirt-sleeved jurors while spectators fan away the heat and shout approving "amens" to the man who is their hero because he interprets with complete literalness the Bible's story of the seven-day Creation.

In Inherit the Wind each side of the controversy presents its case eloquently—the defenders of intellectual freedom and the fundamentalists.

Featured as the opposing attorneys are Joseph C. Fitch as Matthew Brady, prosecutor and Fundamentalist. The character of Brady is based on that of "The Great Commoner," William Jennings Bryan. Lanny Luding will appear as the Clarence Darrow character, Henry Drummond. Darrow was the defense counsel at the original trial.

Bruce Jacobsen will play Bert Cates, teacher on trial for expounding Darwinian theory in the classroom, and Ann Dunbar plays Rachel Brown, his sweetheart and fellow school-teacher. The cynical columnist, E. K. Hornbeck will be played by Richard Nagle.

IFC Workshop Termed Success

Designed to discuss common fraternity problems, MSC's first Interfraternity Council Workshop was held last Sunday in the SUB.

Under the direction of chairmen Walt Ware, PiKap; Ken Jones, SX; and Art Althoff, KS, the Workshop was set up in order to give fraternities an opportunity to discuss their house problems and listen to the problems of other houses.

The 120 Greeks who attended the workshop were divided into five groups, each group covering a specific topic.

Leading the Administration discussion were Jeff Morrison, SAE; and Jay Anderson, AGR; heading up the House Management topic were Bob Dixon, LXA; and Jim Brush, SX.

In charge of Rushing was Wes Budke, PXX; Pledge Training was discussed under the leadership of Les Hardy, KS; and Walt Ware, PKA. Rounding out the discussions were Ray Mountain, LXA; and Dick Siderious, AGR; who were in charge of the Scholarship section.

IFC President Jack Warner termed the workshop a success in all respects.

Senate Recommends Tradition Continuation

By Carla Lockwood

A letter was read from President Renne regarding the cat-Grizzley fracas last quarter at Student Senate Jan. 28. As a result of this letter suggesting that senate make a recommendation along this line to be passed on by the faculty and President Renne, Bob Martin moved that time-honored traditions be respected.

The winner is entitled to the goal post, and no organized use or the use of law officers shall be used to protect the goal shall be allowed. Needless to say this recommendation was unanimously passed.

Other recommendations concerning the scheduling of social events, however, met their fate.

The first one presented previously by Don Rossmiller, Duke was giving Spurs and Kangs preference in scheduling mixers.

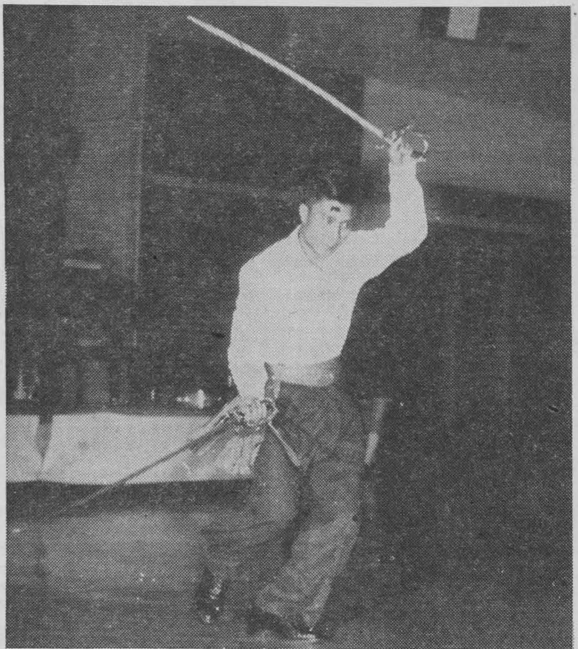

The next presented to Senate by Ayllis Noel, Commissioner of Social Affairs stated that all national dances would be guaranteed a Saturday night, Spurs and Kangs would be given the

M-Day Eve mixers, but the rest would be left to drawing as was done last quarter.

The debate which followed the second recommendation seemed to be summed up by Steve Foster, EXPONENT Editor, "What is going to be considered traditional?"

After the voting was completed Jay Anderson, Commissioner of Judging Teams, stated, "I think the recommendation is wrong but it is along the right track and I suggest the Student-Faculty Social Affairs Committee work on it some more."

Jeanne Erickson, Commissioner of Publications, announced that LeRoy Luft has been appointed Editor and Bill Gannon, Business Manager of the Handbook. The booklet will be published by the end of spring quarter.

George Tun performs a Burmese Sword Dance at International Club Dance held last Saturday night in the SUB.

Editorially Speaking . . .

Traditions on Trial

Each year at the President's Assembly, Dr. Renne states to the effect "That MSC is proud of its traditions, and as long as a tradition is not detrimental it should be retained and supported."

However, year after year, tradition support has been on the decline. Until this year very few new traditions have been inaugurated. The one new tradition now being established is the carillon bells.

"The carillon bells are MSC's latest established tradition, and incidentally, not many have been forthcoming" was ASMSC President Stan DeVore's comment. MSC now has a tradition that has a counterpart in most of the major American universities. Carillon bells have become a respected and even an endeared part of the campus at those schools.

However most MSC students realize that our bells are here on trial. The Danforth Foundation has offered the $5600 purchase to MSC for $2600.

Various groups have managed to raise a little over sixteen hundred dollars. The ironic thing about this fund-raising is that only a minor portion of students have actually contributed to the carillon fund. The deadline for raising the $2600 is long overdue and if the remaining portion is not obtained, MSC will lose its newest tradition. Now is the time for the organized groups to contribute and not to wait for someone else to do it.

With the passing of Religious Emphasis Week, much was to be gained by those who whole-heartedly participated and even those who could only partake of one or two of the Week's seminars and assemblies . . . for many it was a renewal of past convictions . . . for others it only added to their confusion as to what they truly believed, to what is right and wrong . . . to what is truth . . . many found a new way to live . . . some found that what men profess to believe contradicts a great many of their actual deeds . . . it was a soul-searching week for a great number and was without a doubt, one of the finest R.E. Travel Association Features Summer Travel Opportunities

By HARRIET MENAS

"Cycle to Seville for lunch and tour the city; air across to Germany for sightseeing and entertainment. Rail to Stockholm, evening survey and pictures to take. The tour ends, after breakfast, in London with free time at our own expense until return steamer or plane arrives."

Bicycle tours, motor tours, flatboat and hiking tours, schooner trips, camping, skiing, riding, ranching, and hosting in places like Europe, the West, Mexico, Hawaii, Japan, South America and around the world, is experiencing far more in a given time than could possibly be included in any other way, plus a real effort to "get off the beaten track".

There are wonderful small towns to visit, idyllic hamlets, isolated castles, beautiful countryside, deep fjords, and ever-interesting folk customs. Since the standards of living are generally low, it is possible to really live among and make friends with the various people, to stay in their homes, enjoy their food, and generally travel "their style."

A student can select a sixty to seventy day trip for as little as $800, including round trip by steamer; or one may cover all Europe, the Near East, and North Africa in 100-120 days for as much as $2500. There is a trip to cover every interest and pocket-book plus a large group of study tours.

To those interested in such travel for the coming summer, write to Students' International Travel Association, 545 Fifth Avenue, New York 17, New York, one of the many student travel agencies.

Professor Schmalz, here on campus, can also be contacted for information concerning the Montana State College Summer European Tour.

Happy planning, successful cycling, and we'll all meet in Carcasonne.

... one small voice

By GEORGE SLANGER

Less than nine months ago, the peasants of a village half-way round the world were lined up and told they would soon become a vital part in Red China's drive for world domination.

You will not worry

They would watch all their personal possessions loaded on a truck to be later melted in a crude blast furnaces to increase steel production. They would march 23 miles to a row of barracks comprising a part of a human beehive called a commune.

On a hill above their vill they would watch their 170 hives methodically set on fire. They would watch their children taken away to be put in a nursery.

They would watch their 10 bands and wives put in separate barracks. Henceforth they would be allowed 15 minutes together alternate Saturday night.

At 4:30 a.m., they would bolt down breakfast, and try to get to the fields to the tap of a drum.

With one-half hour breaks for lunch and dinner, they would work until midnight. They would be told that many Americans would like to be told: "I will not worry about anything."

Tired to think of what they were becoming, they would fall asleep waiting for the whistle to start the 7 day a week routine again.

Blood Spattered Progress

And now, nine months later an awesome overthrust of human dignity, 90% of China's rural population have been converted to pure communism.

The tremendous industrial surpluses (annual steel production tripled since 1947) still drip blood. In 1952, it was published that 2 million Chinese (three times Montana's population) had been executed that year. One Western estimate says million "bandits" met their end in 1951 alone.

Since 1947, when the Nationalists fled to Formosa, China has been converted to a state in which the people seem enclosed in boxes.

Loudspeakers blare from every direction imploring the people to "work hard, prepare to resist American invasion."

Village busybodies are in evidence as part of a perfected system in which every word a commune worker speaks are subjected to the most careful scrutiny.

Humanity on Trial

The implications of an upheaval of this type are of the most widely speculated subjects today. Red China's relationship with Russia is a chapter in itself.

If statistics from within are open to question, as many Western specialists feel, China is operating on a razor-thin economic surplus in which a loss of enthusiasm could prove disastrous.

In Red China today the Democratic concept, the Christian concept, the concept of humanity are being challenged.

practices; the interrelationship between diverse systems of thought; the growth or decay of public opinion in one or several regions of human interest; the history of a social movement.

In judging the essays, the following criteria will be used: originality, ability in handling the material, comprehensiveness, accuracy, the statement of theories or critical ability, effectiveness in writing, and significance of subject matter.

First prize has been set at $25.00. The length of the essay is to be determined by the writer and must be typed. Essays must be submitted to the history department, room 201, Reid Hall.

Montana State Music Tours Continue Forty-Year History

By Dennis Gary

The music department is in the midst of scheduling the spring tours of the various MSC music groups.

Started over forty years ago, these annual tours were originally made by the ROTC band. Since those pre-World War I days, MSC has gained a music department, a commissioner of music, and the four musical groups that will make tours this year.

They are the Symphonic Band, directed by Edmund P. Sedivy; the Concert Chorus and the Madrigal Singers, both under the direction of Maurice T. Casey; and the Symphonette, directed by Creech Reynolds.

The tours are made during spring vacation. Each group follows its own itinerary so that as many Montanans as possible will get to see and hear them.

Held in high schools throughout the state, the concerts give the state's citizens and future college men and women a chance to become acquainted with a portion of the fine arts side of MSC which is so often thought of as a strictly technical school.

Incidentally, the musicians are presented as representatives of the Associated Students of Montana State College, not as representatives of the music department, according to L. E. Opp, head of the department of music.

Highlighting one final aspect of the music tours, Opp said, "I have every reason to believe that these groups are as renowned for their fine conduct as they are for their fine concerts."

Serious Essay Contest Open To Budding Student Writers

The Ernest Lauer Memorial Committee has announced the first annual essay contest, open to all MSC students.

The contest is being held in cooperation with the department of history. All essays will be judged by three professors chosen by the committee.

Essays submitted for the Ernest Lauer Prize Essay Competition must treat in a serious and important manner some topic or topics of contemporary interest in the area of humanities and the sciences.

Among topics which would be found acceptable are the following: the impact of ideas or beliefs on certain institutions and practices; pre-suppositions in certain sciences or disciplines or the implications of knowledge in one science when related to another science; the importance of special discoveries for institutions and

The New Stereophonic Sound Do-It-Yourself Kit Cuts Cost

By Marty Eudy

The FM section uses a Foster-type detector, cascade, triode noise mixer, and two limiters. Harmonic and intermodulation distortion inaudible less than 1 cent at thirty watts.

This incomprehensible jargon do you? Well, it shouldn't be if you are a stereo fan, because this is the language of real sound lovers who wouldn't think of bending over to anything monophonic (one track.)

Why, monophonic sound accorded real cool cats is "like listening to a concert through a window in the door."

Stereo, indeed, swept the nation during the past year. The market swelled from $50 million to $450 million and is expected to reach $585 million this year. Stereo record players are being pushed by such well-known companies as Pilot, Columbia, RCA, and R.C.A.

Motor, Columbia, R.C.A. and RCA-Fidelity are competing in the record field.

The recorders supposedly give the best sounds, but they are hard to read, making them worth $16.95 for 60 minutes of continuous listening.

Why for those of you who can't change in your money to purchase an honest-to-god stereophonic outfit, yet feel that life isn't worth living without one, here's some good news. There is a do-it-yourself kit on the market now which only costs 300 smackerels.

Of course, it doesn't compare with Barbara Hutton's son's set-up, which cost $1,200 and has fifteen channels plus a record changer which handles 200 records, but if you are desperate, it might do.

However, if you are the owner of an old-fashioned hi-fi set, your investment is already half won.

The following is a recipe for converting high-fidelity into stereophonic. Ingredients: stereo kit and cartridge (which forms needle's movements into electrical impulses), a second-in wire in the arm, and amplifiers and speaker.

Now you have this accomplished, don't feel sad if you can't afford the stereo records, because you have each groove pressed with two sound tracks. Old-fashioned records sound better on two channels anyway.

Committee Urges Unity on Campus
Any student having a grievance or a gripe should-mention it to any member of the Student Faculty Relations committee, Chairman Van Winkle, said this week.

The secret of stereo quality is the reproduction of two sound tracks by two or more microphones stationed at various places during recordings. So the motto of the foregoing soliloquy is as the saying goes, "It takes two to stereo."

The purpose of this committee, composed of James Van Winkle, A. J. Yokie, W. W. Booth, Dorothy Kennemer, Gary Heath, Ann Schuler, Bill Goss, and Patsy Fitzgerald, is to create better understanding and co-operation in all phases of campus activity.

Bobcat Basketball Season Is Highlighted By Sharp Cagers

Three men, forward Larry Chanay and speedy guards Al Harris and Jack Tilley, continue to carry the brunt of the scoring load for the Montana State College basketball team.

points per outing and Harris, a 5-9 sharpshooter, who is scoring at an 11.1 clip.

Chanay is also the club's leading rebounder with 133 recoveries in the 13 games played to date.

Latest figures compiled show that Chanay, a 6-4 junior forward, is averaging an even 18 points per contest. He's followed by Tilley who is averaging 13.1

Second in the rebounding department is senior center Jim Kelly, slender 6-5 product of Helena. Kelly has pulled down 124 rebounds in the 13 games for a 9.5 average. He is No. 4 in the scoring chart with an 8.5 average.

Ag Department Receives Grant For Corn Study

A grant of $2,000 has been received by the Montana Agricultural Experiment State at Montana State College from the Phillips Petroleum Company to assist in research on the use of nitrogen fertilizer for corn.

Although research has shown that corn is among the crops which are most responsive to fertilizers, few experiments have been conducted in which the amount of fertilizer has been the main variable, says Dr. A. H. Post, head of the agronomy and soils department.

The grant, which will supplement state funds, will be used to determine optimum rates of nitrogen and phosphate fertilizers for irrigated corn.

Other phases of the study will include the effect of fertilizers on the protein and phosphate content of corn fodder, and the comparative value of different kinds of nitrogen fertilizers.

Thomas Conducts Cattle Research

A $2,000 grant to Dr. O. O. Thomas, associate professor of animal industry at Montana State College, has been renewed by Charles Pfizer and Co. The grant will enable him to continue studies on the effects of tranquilizers and antibiotics in beef cattle rations.

The grant is being administered by the Research and Endowment Foundation at the Montana State College.

Scholarships for Seniors Offered

Graduating seniors who plan to work for graduate degrees and who are members of Phi Eta Sigma, Freshman honor society, should get in touch with Dean Val Glynn, faculty adviser of the MSC chapter at room 105 of Montana Hall.

The National Phi Eta Sigma Fraternity offers two $300 scholarships each year on the basis of the student's scholastic record, evidence of creative ability, evidence of financial need, promise of success in chosen field and personality.

Only members of Phi Eta Sigma are eligible for these gift scholarships. The local deadline for applications is February 15, 1959, Dean Glynn said.

Mrs. Warren Heads Drive

Heading the 1959 Mothers' March for the March of Dimes set for January 30 in the student housing area is Mrs. Polly Warren, president of the O and O Club, the student wives organization.

White gloves, symbol of the hand of mercy, will be worn by the 16 mothers taking part in the drive.

They will call at all houses where the porch light or a light in a front window is burning, signifying a desire to contribute to the March of Dimes.

The four target areas of the National Foundation's expanded program will help assure early development of patient aid programs for children suffering from arthritis and birth defects, keep faith with disabled polio patients, and speed research to prevent these and other afflictions.

Researchers Recruited By Civil Service

Civil Service Commission reports much enthusiasm has been shown in its new examination aimed at recruiting and identifying young engineers and physical scientists with outstanding ability for research work.

Government Scientists and personnel officials, college placement officers and department heads, as well as officials of national scientific associations have indicated considerable interest in the examination and its possibilities for attracting candidates with the desired potential. College seniors and graduates are now submitting applications for the first examination to be held in February 1959.

Unusual features of this new examination include use of a test which has been developed as a means of identifying candidates for imagination and potential for important research work, and provisions for higher-than-usual starting pay and promising assignments.

Those appointed will work in the laboratories in the Washington area with some of the nation's foremost scientists in engineering and physical science. Seniors and graduates who receive early consideration for employment are reminded that their applications must be on file by January 19, 1959, for the test to be held on February 7, 1959.

A second test will be held for those who apply between January 20 and March 3, 1959, the closing date for the examination. Further details are given in Civil Service Announcement No. 10, which may be obtained from the college placement office.

Peruvian Mission Reviewed By MSC's Home Economist

By Lennie Pfister

Mrs. Marjorie Paisley—The Associate Professor of Home Economics.

Mrs. Paisley was sent to Peru in August of 1955 by the International Cooperation Administration for two years. She arrived there in mid-winter and worked for the U. S. Government Technical Aid Program commonly called the "Point-Four."

Mrs. Paisley worked with teachers in Home Economics in government technical schools and rural schools to improve methods, help create teaching materials, and expand their curriculums in the light of existing resources of Peru.

Mrs. Paisley's headquarters were in Lima, the capital of Peru. She traveled about one-fourth of the time in outlying areas.

Mrs. Paisley had a co-worker called a "counterpart" which was a woman trained in Home Economics and probably the best trained Home Economist in Peru. This counterpart was bilingual and spoke Spanish, English, and Quenchua, one of the many languages spoken in the mountain areas away from the coast.

"The secretaries in our offices were all bilingual and many of them had learned English in two progressive protestant missionary schools. These secretaries and our co-workers not only were of immeasurable help in the offices, but were our guides and educators in learning the mores and important cultural background of the Peruvian people," replied Mrs. Paisley.

Some foods were different and Mrs. Paisley ate baby goat, and guinea pig. These were considered delicacies, and were used for festive occasions.

The Peruvian people observe about 24-28 holidays per year. There are many religious holidays of the church and others of civil importance to the government.

An example of this was when the army general left his native city with a contingent of the army with him, to take over the Presidency and government by force if need be.

While Mrs. Paisley was there she witnessed the first free election and the women exercised the first right to vote. Both of these indicate progress in governmental affairs.

Mrs. Paisley said, "The Peruvian Ministry of Education, with whom we worked, completed a beautiful twenty story modern building in which we had our offices."

This modern building is across the street from the San Marcos University, which is the oldest university in the Western Hemisphere.

"Peru is very rich in natural resources. This country is very anxious to progress and I feel extremely lucky in having been sent to Peru on a mission such as this. The people are most friendly and helpful."

The meeting, set for Monday, Feb. 2, at 7:30 p.m. in room 317 of the SUB, will feature a panel of three, each in turn introducing their own ideas.

Panel members will include Dr. William Cook, Dr. Sarah Vinke, and Dr. John Hurst.

Devine Wins Belmont; Skiers At Banff Sat.

Last weekend saw the Bobcat ski team in Helena at the 13th annual Belmont Invitational ski meet where 'Cat team member Tom DeVine, having recovered from a chest injury, sped to a decisive victory in Class A slalom, and 3rd place in downhill and slalom combined.

DeVine's winning time in the fast 40 gate course was an excellent 95.7 seconds, followed next by Rudolph Ruana of Missoula, 97.1, and Jim Barrier of Kalispell, 100.2.

The following day, Kalispell's Jim Barrier, showing definite Olympic possibilities, set a new Belmont downhill course record of 1:13.6 to win the downhill competition. His time was four seconds faster than the second place winner.

Barrier, coupling his speedy downhill run with his third place in slalom won two separate event trophies, the combined meet trophy, and the coveted A. M. Holter Cup.

Rudy Ruana took 2nd in downhill with a time of 1:17.8 and was runner-up in combined times.

Ninety-five skiers from Montana and Wyoming competed in the meet. The courses, plagued by rain the first day and ice the second held up good under the heavy use.

This weekend will see the Cat skiers at Banff, Alberta for the annual intercollegiate competition there. Team members making the trip to Banff will be: Tom DeVine, Kenny Miller, Finn Flugheim, Paul Renne, Bill Coleman, and Flint Taylor.

The team left Wednesday evening so they could arrive in time for practice sessions on the Banff run before competition starts Saturday. Renne, a sophomore majoring in Engineering Physics, is from Bozeman where he skied for and graduated from Gallatin County High School. Last year as a freshman, he lettered in skiing, even though bad luck plagued him with falls in many of the meets in which he competed. Kenny Miller is an outstanding freshman member of the ski team from St. Regis. He is majoring in Mechanical Engineering. As a senior in high school last year he placed third in Alpine combined at the Junior Nationals held at Winter Park, Colorado. The combined title includes downhill and slalom in which he was competing with the top junior skiers of the nation. Flint Taylor is also from Bozeman where he skied for and graduated from Gallatin County High. He is now a sophomore majoring in Animal Industry. Taylor lettered last year in skiing for MSC and placed high in many of the meets in which he competed. Flint is strong in the four-way combined title which includes slalom, downhill, cross-country and jumping. He finished third in the four-way last year at Wenatchee Washington against the best combined collegiate skiers in the Northwest.

Wrestlers Down Ricks, Make On BYU Tonight

MSC wrestlers kept their record clean as they scored a very impressive 33-0 team victory over Ricks College at Idaho Falls. The Bobcat matmen won all but one match by way of a pin, and it was won by a decision.

Larry Wyman opened the afternoon's events with a 14-6 decision over Dave Thomas in 123 pound class. Frank Poucher conquered the 130 pound class when he pinned Ed Bolzham of Ricks.

Larry Hoffman kept up the pace when he pinned Don Runyan in the 137 pound bracket. Up and coming Lee Hart followed with a win over Grant Benson in the 147 pound class. In the 157 pound class it was MSC's Doug Polette winning Ed Bolzham of Ricks.

Freshman Brent Hall then gave indication of things to come when he pinned Lowell Curtis in the 167 pound class. Husky Art Hoff took the 177 pound range with a pin over Gary Neilson. In the heavy-weight caliber veterans Kim Miller turned the tide on Bow Fowers with the Cats final pin.

The next Bobcat encounter will be against strong BYU tonight. Brigham Young defeated Utah State 19-17 last week after the Bobcats had defeated the Aggies 21-15 the previous week.

MSC used three alternates last Saturday in an attempt to give some of the younger grapplers more experience but plan to put its top eight men on the mats tonight.

Head Coach Keith Bowen, said he was well pleased with the team's efforts and believes they are improving every match. He feels the Cats are a little stronger than last year and believes they can provide plenty of opposition for any of this year's opponents.

He would also like to extend a welcome to Bobcat Wrestling fans to be on hand at 8-p.m. in the old Gym and help cheer on our fine MSC team to another victory.

Bobcats Home After Rugged Road Series

Returning to the Fieldhouse after nine straight games on the road, MSC's Bobcats have a tough row to hoe when they take on Idaho University's Vandals here tomorrow night.

The Vandals, rated as one of the top teams in the Northwest, are currently holding down the number four spot in the Pacific Conference.

Leading the Vandal attack this season are 6'5" forward John Livieous and Whaylon Coleman, 6'2" guard. Idaho took a 73-50 decision from the Bobcats earlier this season, and hold two victories over Washington State, who beat the MSC quintet twice this season.

Starting for the Bobcats Saturday night are: Larry Chanay, forward; Len Broz or Jim Wallace, forward; Jim Kelly, center; Al Harris, guard; and Jack Tilley or Jim Murphy, Guard.

The Cats will show definite improvement so far as scoring percentages are concerned, if they are going to pull this game out of the fire.

Coach Dobbie Lambert looks to tomorrow night's encounter with little optimism. He stated that "we will have to play one of our better games of this season if we expect to beat Idaho."

IM Race Tightens; Skiing Feb. 21

Intramural basketball is well underway, with three teams battling it out for the number one spot in the Greek League.

Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon are yet to be beaten, while Phi Sigma Kappa and Pi Kappa Alpha are still looking for their first win. Standings as of Monday are as follows:

SX, 3-0; SAE, 2-0; SN, 2-0; LXA, 3-1; AGR, 1-2; KS, 1-2; PSK, 0-3; PKA, 0-3.

These standings are incomplete, however, as there have been some misunderstandings in respect to the eligibility rules.

Until these matters are straightened out, Delta Sigma Phi's 2-0 record in basketball is not official.

Student Athletic Manager Kim Miller reports that the Intramural Skiing Championships will be held February 21. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, last year's ski champs are figured to be tough to beat again, with Sigma Chi a strong contender for the title.

Alpha Gamma Rho still leads the Greeks in total points with 41, with Sigma Chi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon filling out the second and third place spots respectively.

Cowboy Club Plans Rodeo in Fieldhouse

The dates for the 13th Annual Montana State College Interscholastic Rodeo have been set for April 23, 24, and 25 in the MSC Fieldhouse.

There will be three performances beginning at 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights with a parade on Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m.

The SUB will play host to a dance Friday and Saturday evenings following the rodeo. In charge of the dance committee is rodeo club member, Jack Bright, of Belgrade, Montana.

Bill Nauman, a member of the MSC second place team in the Rocky Mountain Region last year, has been chosen Awards Chairman. Bill is making an effort to acquire the most outstanding prize list of any rodeo to be held in the region this year.

In charge of the parade which will include an entry from each of the organized groups on campus and any other community organizations on campus, is Jerry Cook. Jerry traveled with the MSC Rodeo Team to Dickinson, North Dakota in October where he competed in the roping event.

Samie Childs, former Miss Rodeo North Dakota, has been appointed chairman of the Rodeo Queen Contest this year. The queen candidates for this year's contest will be nominated by the Rodeo Club in the near future so that they may prepare for television appearances and other activities.

Two freshman cowgirls have accepted the task of preparing programs to be sold at the rodeo. They are Barbara Smyth from Edson, Alberta, Canada, and Elaine Evens, a nursing major from Lavina, Montana. Linda Ferguson, a junior Chi Omega member, is head of the tickets committee.

Tourney Planned By Bowling Club

To be held February 7-8 will be a men's handicap team and three game singles bowling tournament, sponsored by the MSC Bowling Club. The tourney will be held in the Student Union Alleys.

This tourney is for men staff, faculty, college employees and graduate students who are bowling, or have previously bowled and established an average in any league. Highest league averages as of January 7, 1959, will be used. A minimum of 9 games must have been bowled.

A fee of $15.00 per team and $4.25 per singles entry will be asked. Of these fees, $8.00 out of each team entry and $2.70 of each singles entry will be used to constitute a prize fund.

Staring unflinching into the face of adversity and left undaunted by seemingly insurmountable obstacles, another scandle sheet is being prepared for print. Having no great volume of earth-shaking news on which to expound and since advertising is out of order, even to take up space, it seems only significant that it be pointed out that this week's diminutive column is not a deliberate limitation due to previous quality and quantity, contrary to public opinion.

Married Students to Organize

ASMSC President, Stan DeVore, has announced the proposal for a government of married students.

According to DeVore, "the problems of the family housing area are best understood by the people living there." He also stated that "the parking and traffic situations are a good example of how your own government can help you, the married students."

An organizational meeting, at which temporary officers will be elected, has been set by DeVore. The meeting will be held in Room 317 of the SUB, February 4, at 7:30 p.m.

Chairmen Still Being Accepted

Applications for World University Service, High School Week and Homecoming chairmen are still being accepted, ASMSC president Stan DeVore announced. The deadline for these applications is February 17. High School Week and World University Service are slated for the coming spring quarter. Homecoming will be held early next fall quarter. Any persons interested may submit applications.

On Campus with Max Shulman

(By the Author of "Rally Round the Flag, Boys!" and "Barefoot Boy with Cheek.")

IS STUDYING NECESSARY?

Once there were three roommates and their names were Walter Pellucid, Casimir Fing, and LeRoy Holocaust and they were all taking English lit. They were all happy, friendly, outgoing types and they all smoked Philip Morris Cigarettes as you would expect from such a gregarious trio, for Philip Morris is the very essence of sociability, the very spirit of amity, the very soul of concord, with its tobacco so mild and true, its packs so soft and flip-top, its length so regular or long size. You will find when you smoke Philip Morris that the birds sing for you and no man's hand is raised against you.

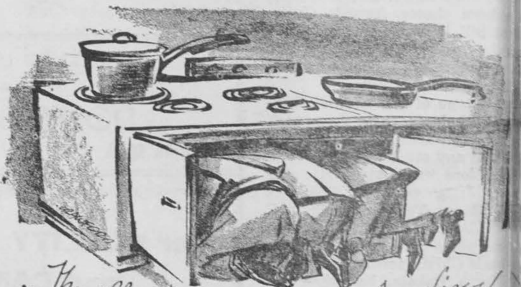

Each night after dinner Walter and Casimir and LeRoy went to their room and studied English lit. For three hours they sat in sombre silence and pored over their books and then, squinty and spent, they toppled onto their pallets and sobbed themselves to sleep.

This joyless situation obtained all through September and October. Then one November night they were all simultaneously struck by a marvelous idea. "We are all studying the same thing," they cried. "Why, then, should each of us study for three hours? Why not each study for one hour? It is true we will only learn one-third as much that way, but it does not matter because there are three of us and next January before the exams, we can get together and pool our knowledge!"

Oh, what rapture then fell on Walter and Casimir and LeRoy! They flung their beanies into the air and danced a schottische and lit thirty or forty Philip Morrises and ran out to pursue the pleasure which had so long, so bitterly, been missing from their lives.

Alas, they found instead a series of grisly misfortunes. Walter, alas, went searching for love and was soon going steady with a coed named Invicta Breadstuff, a handsome lass, but, alas, hopelessly addicted to bowling. Each night she bowled five hundred lines, some nights a thousand. Poor Walter's thumb was a shambles and his purse was empty, but Invicta just kept on bowling and in the end, alas, she left Walter for a pin-setter, which was a terrible thing to do to Walter, especially in this case, because the pin-setter was automatic.

Walter, of course, was far too distraught to study his English lit, but he took some comfort from the fact that his roommates were studying and they would help him before the exams. But Walter, alas, was wrong. His roommates, Casimir and LeRoy, were nature lovers and they used their free time to go for long tramps in the woods. One November night, alas, they were treed by two bears, Casimir by a brown bear and LeRoy by a Kodiak, and they were kept in the trees until mid-January when winter set in and the brown bear and the Kodiak went away to hibernate.

...the effects were, on the whole, beneficial...

So when the three roommates met before exams to pool their knowledge, they found they had none to pool! Well sir, they had a good long laugh about that and then rushed to the kitchen and stuck their heads in the oven. It was, however, an electric oven and the effects were, on the whole, beneficial. The wax in their ears got melted and they acquired a healthy tan and today they are married to a lovely young heiress named Ganglia Bran and live in the Canal Zone, where there are many nice boats to wave at.

And here's a wave at you filter smokers. Have you tried Marlboro—same fine flavor, new improved filter and better makin's—made by the makers of Philip Morris, sponsors of this column?
