Contests, Parties Featured in Winter Carnival

The 1960 Winter Carnival is set for February 26 and 27, and is expected to be the best in history. The carnival will open Feb. 23 with an all-school election of the King and Queen. On Friday night the MSC Ski Club will host a party at Bear Canyon Lodge at 7:00 p.m. The party will include skiing, tobogganing, and refreshments. The king and queen will be crowned at this time by Ski Club prexy Marno Bennett.

The judging of the snow sculptures is to be held Saturday morning, Feb. 27, and all entries must be finished by 10 a.m. The ski races and an open giant slalom, for anyone interested, will begin at one o'clock at Bridger Bowl.

The winners' trophies will be presented at the Ski Club mixer after the ball game Saturday night.

Students are asked to watch for a complete schedule of events to be posted in the SUB sometime next week.

Angel Flight Scheduled

Featured at this year's Military Ball, March 5, will be MSU's Angel Flight. This group is a two year honorary and is composed of 38 freshmen and sophomore girls chosen the fall of their freshman year on the basis of looks, charm, an marching ability. At the dance they will present a program of intricate drills and march formations. Escorts for the girls are being chosen from the MSC Advanced Cadets.

Angel Flight groups are sponsored by Air Force ROTC on many campuses and are known for their exceptional marching ability. As freshmen the girls are given the rank of second lieutenant, sophomores are promoted to first lieutenant, and officers may hold the rank of major, lieutenant colonel, or colonel.

MSU's Angel Flight performs at various activities such as Homecoming and Awards Day. Last spring the group was honored by an invitation to march in Spokane's Lilac Festival Parade, and they hope to make more trips this year. Two advanced AFROTC Cadets are chosen by the faculty advisor to train the girls.

WUS Make Future Plans

The WUS kickoff meeting was held Wednesday evening at 5 in room 310 of the Student Union building. Newly elected co-chairmen John Petelin and Marge DeWite, outlined the future plans for WUS. Main topics of discussion were the "Meanest Professor Contest" and the raffling off of the first ten places in Spring Registration.

The fact that MSU also has an active WUS chapter was brought up and it was decided that MSC would surpass MSU in funds this year.

Social Dates Set

Scheduling of all social functions for Spring Quarter, 1960, will be held on Tuesday, February 23, at 5:00 p.m. in the southeast section of the dining room of the SUB, according to Social Chairman Desta Ostenson.

All MSC organizations must have a representative present at this meeting if they wish to schedule an event for Spring Quarter.

Ostenson noted that chaperones must be recorded in the Student Welfare Office at least THREE DAYS in advance of the social event.

Little UN Is Discussed

Spotlighted as a major issue in Senate discussions: a move to finance six MSC delegates to the Little U.N. in Berkeley, California.

Initiating discussion on this $464 project was Ron Cloninger, student bookstore member, with the recommendation that a preliminary sum of $34 be granted to insure registration—with the proviso that only if sufficient enthusiasm and genuine interest were shown would the remainder be meted out.

"It seems to me as if they are kind of shotgunning this in a hurry," commented Ed Gossack, Steering Committee head. "I can't see why we should give them the money until they have something to go on. I think it started a bit too late for any concrete organization. We did contact Dr. Bryson who cleared up a lot and recommended it highly, but I still hesitate. He wasn't sure what kind of tests the applicants would be given. I hate to think that this will be just a vacation for six people."

Eugene Sundbakken, president and spokesman for the branch group from the International Club, defended his case, explaining, "This is a group of 80 U. S. colleges divided into four groups sponsored by the U. N. It is true that we are a bit late but this will not really affect the representation. We will be assigned a country to represent; I assume a small one the first year and will work up (seniority basis.) Sundbakken went on to note, "We think it is a good project for the college, contributing to a better campus understanding of foreign affairs and a good academic school reference."

Editorially Speaking . . .

Be Election-Minded

Every year it seems like one group or another is taken by surprise when the ASMSC elections are run off. The gripe is always voiced that "we didn't know about the regulations that are tagged onto the primary elections." Many people are angered when they find that their candidate was disqualified by such rules as scholastic ineligibility, improper campaign procedure, or failure to be entered on time.

ASMSC President Dick Knapton has announced that the primary elections will be held April 12. This, of course, means that much of the paper work must be done this quarter.

So let this be a warning to the wise: now is the time to start thinking of possible candidates.

If you and your group (whatever it may be) are at all interested in student government, do something.

Last year's elections saw only 35 per cent of MSC's students vote. In comparison to Brigham Young University whose student government is selected by approximately 85 per cent of the student body, our active participation is pitiful indeed.

Of course there are those who argue that student government is not important enough to worry about. This editor would like to point out that if student government is not important enough to warrant your interest, your interests probably do not warrant governing.

Guest Editorial

Conformity Questioned

In order to give students an opportunity to express their views on issues pertinent to Montana State College, the EXPONENT editorial staff has set aside the following space for guest editorials. All editorials submitted are subject to approval of the editorial staff, and must be no more than 500 words in length. Students wishing to use this space must notify a member of the editorial staff at least one week prior to submitting an editorial.

Conform! Don't conform! Be adaptable! Be an individual! The cries of a mixed-culture confuse me. It seems to me that the society which we live in finds itself in the position of having too many standards. In grade school and in high school we were the polished products of the schools which graduated look-alikes. We wore the same clothes as everyone else, we told the same jokes that everyone told, we went steady like everyone else. During these years we were led to believe that as long as we smiled at the teacher, got a letter, or received an extra-curricular office, we were destined for success.

Now that we are in college we find ourselves in the cross-fire of two shouting voices. From the one voice comes the cry to be a Look-alike and from the other voice we are told to be an individual. The only trouble is that after so many years of enjoying the bliss of being exactly like everyone else, we're not sure who we are. Who are we? Are we the empty shells that jump when others jump, laugh when others laugh, love when others love? Is there not something unique about each one of us?

This dilemma affects us all. It determines how we will act. It determines which one of us will take snap courses or grow beards or join nudist colonies. In short, whether we are honest with ourselves or with the idol of conformity, depends on our reactions to the voices.

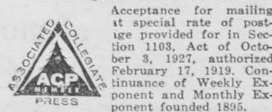

In their rush to shout, "Look, I'm different than most!" some grab onto the first small Crusade they run into. In their intense desire to be different, they grow their beards, drink their espresso, and generally exalt in their break-away from the Look-alikes. However, soon the land is covered with 170 million non-conformists, who in their non-conformity, are actually conforming. (Confused yet?)

This has become the age of cynicism—the age of the half-baked intellectual discussing the stupidity of the generations before his, the age when a woman has become only one in a long line of pleasures, the age when God is described as "a great big doll." This is the age when in sudden abhorrence of conformity we have tried to assert our individuality with the result that we have become Look-alikes even in non-conformity. Thus we overflow with the stock phrases—"That's cool," or "I couldn't care less," and we laugh at once-cherished ideas just because they were once respected. We must live in this age. Either we listen to the false voices or we do what has always been best, and be honest with ourselves.

Letters to the Editor

Veterans Bill Pending House

Dear Sir:

In the absence of Senator Murray on official business, I am acknowledging receipt of a letter signed by "a few of the students attending Montana State College who would be eligible for support if S. 1138 passes." Since they did not furnish addresses, I am replying to you with the request that you convey this information to the interested students.

Senator Murray is a co-sponsor with Senator Yarborough of the bill S. 1138, the "Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act of 1959." The bill was passed by the Senate on July 21, 1959, and is now pending in the Veterans Affairs Committee in the House of Representatives. I am enclosing copy of the bill as it passed the Senate, and the Committee Report, which may be of interest to you.

I shall be glad to bring the letter to Senator Murray's attention upon his return to the office, and I can assure you he will do what he can to secure prompt and favorable action on the measure.

Sincerely yours,

Vic Reineimer,
 Executive Secretary,
 Sen. Murray's Office

Gift Appreciated

Dear Editor,

I wish to thank the students who lived in Hamilton Hall last quarter for the very lovely gift.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Hoffman.

Recital Scheduled In SUB Lounge For February 21

Handel's "Sonata in E Major" will be a featured selection of James Keene's violin concert Sunday afternoon at Montana State College.

The recital is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. in the Student Union Lounge.

Other works for the program include Mendelssohn's "Concerto in E Minor", "Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso" by Saint-Saens, "Guitarre" by Moszkowski-Sarasate, "Meditation" by Glazounow, and "Liebesleid" by Kreisler.

Keene teaches music in the Bozeman schools and is on the Montana State College music faculty.

Play Termed Success

by Steve Foster

Bozeman play enthusiasts are getting a king size dose of realism in Pulitzer Prize winning play "A Streetcar Named Desire," currently playing at the SUB theater. Set in the French Quarter of New Orleans, the play is a probing psychological study of the mental and moral decay of a Mississippi school teacher who is crushed by her experiences.

Playwright Tennessee Williams isn't afraid to call a spade a spade and this one is certainly no exception. It is understandable that the play has raised some objections in places where it has been produced. However, whether or not individual members of the audience find it offensive is largely a matter of personal taste. This viewer was not offended. Granted, Williams handles difficult subjects, such as the nymphomania of the pathetic Blanche DuBois and the personal relationships of her sister and brother-in-law, Stanley and Stella Kowalski, with brutal frankness. But it is doubtful that those searching for sensationalism will find it in "A Streetcar Named Desire." Like it or not, revolting nightmares like the ones coming from the pen of Tennessee Williams do happen and if the play affords some insight into them we are better off for seeing it.

The emotional intensity demanded by "A Streetcar Named Desire" is a large order, and the cast under the direction of Joe Fitch does an excellent job and should be commended on a difficult task well done!

Marty Lee, as the mentally disintegrating Blanche DuBois, has an extremely difficult role and understandably has some difficulty in the earlier scenes. The play progresses, however, Blanche weakens and Miss gets stronger. Her handling of the long speech at the end of the second act is one of the high points of the performance. This viewer (and certainly an authority) Miss Lee has had in a stellar performance by Kowalski, Blanche's playmate by Marian Place who overcomes an early tendency to overdo it to handle the role professionally. Carl Smith's role of Stella's common crude husband, Stanley, is a fine job as he consistently lives the part.

Jeff Smith is quite adequate in his role as Mitch, the steady and unsure friend of Stella.

Ann Dunbar and Jim both do excellent jobs as the living upstairs. The supporting roles are generally well done but special mention should be made of Ellen Missall who made a professional touch to the tawdry appearance of the character Flower Woman.

The set, designed by Billings, and the lighting, designed by Ted Hippely, are well received and do more than help to create the dreary, Victorian atmosphere required by the script.

Those attending "A Streetcar Named Desire" will probably find the performance to be a tense emotional experience not pleasurable in the usual sense of the word. However, they also find it to be an extremely rewarding and well spent and a half hour.

Smith Defends College Sports Questions MSC Student Fees

WANTED: A waste basket in the SUB entrance. I'm beginning to feel a bit guilty about the trash behind the Spur show-case.

One of the greatest cries constantly heard around this campus is the like griping about the emphasis upon sports. Well, whoa now, dad, let's look. Sports play a vital role in an individual's life, in his community, in the nation, and in the world.

The U.S. is perhaps the wealthiest nation in the world in this respect. No other nationality has the opportunity of such a varied selection of activities as do the Americans. Baseball, football, track, racing, basketball, etc., all make up the average yearly agenda of U. S. sports. This allows everyone to be interested in at least something.

On the other hand, take Europe. Man, like if you don't dig soccer over there, you're square on nine sides. The only other active interest apparent is basketball, but this is slight. Now, there is the great "disaster" of U. S. service men over there playing all sorts of games. And here's the clincher. At the European's own game of soccer, the GIs play on even terms and win more than they lose.

So what? Plenty, mutha. The overall emphasis upon sports in America has produced a strain of people very active, healthy, and able to meet the situations presented. However insignificant this may be, it is a very valuable and definite trait of the real American.

So stop this harping overemphasis upon sports. Leges. You say that it is the "learning" quality of school? Get off it. If you really learning anything, you would recognize the very good sports conduct. I aren't, you merely sit by lynch about your lost year attempt no learning when you use sports as your goat.

And furthermore, you that attention to sports is too much of the school's business. Crazy. You want something else, then do something else worth writing about.

Oops! This went into the box.

And now, pay attention back on the fees kicking school has to keep charging more every time a newsworthy is put up, I ask a question does the school keep charging more and more farm a land in this area for that apartment?

Every time I turn around more, I'm trespassing on newly purchased MSC property. Perhaps we'd better check Gallatin to MSC Valley, that is complete. What area over toward Norris this is an Ag. college, let the Ag. portion pay the overall bills? Or do you ready?

Uniform of the Wheelers.

Girls: Tennis shoes for minton racket.

Boys: The net.

Need Friends? Try Advertising

by Bobbe Garry

It has been brought to my attention that it is National Advertising Week, and although I have nothing in particular to advertise, we must observe these special days set aside to honor noble and deserving enterprises. Just what the founders of this worthy cause had in mind when they announced that February was to be chosen as the lucky month is not easily discernable at first glance. It might be of some significance, however, that National Advertising Week falls between Valentine's Day and Easter.

The objectives of National Advertising Week might appear to be equally elusive, but with a little concentration and clear thinking one might come up with a few ideas to ponder this week. First of all, you might try to center as much attention on yourself as you can. Attract the public, be seen and wear bright colors that you may easily be distinguished in the largest crowd. During a conversation try to say something nice about yourself approximately every fifteen minutes. Let people know your good points and the unique qualities which make up your irresistible sweet self. If you have made any new discoveries or improvements recently they call for much ado.

Be deadly. Formulate plans. Be willing to enter into and offer deals with your friends. Point out the advantages of your long-standing and firm friendship. Talk up your family, that you come from a reliable and well-bred strain. Gain their confidence.

And do not forget to read the papers and magazines carefully, being sure to dip into the vast stream of knowledge running through each and every advertisement. Remember the labor and money that has gone into our country's advertising. Consider the second-level meanings; do not be content with surface impressions. Many brilliant minds are devoting their time and talents to this field.

But remember, tomorrow is the last day of National Advertising Week. These things must be done now.

Chapel Services

Inter-church Council-sponsored Chapel services for the week of February will be presented by the Baptist Student Union. The schedule is as follows:

Theme: Ways of Christian Growth.

Monday, "Introduction" — The Rev. John Hamilton.

Tuesday, "Prayer" — Orman Gwynn.

Wednesday, "Bible Study" — Walt Willett

Thursday, "Witnessing" — J. G. Strouther.

Friday, "Church Attendance" — James Tan.

Saturday, "Stewardship" — Mrs. Virjama Hamilton.

These services are held in the Danforth Chapel at 7:30 a.m.

Curtain Calls

by Ann Dunbar

The last two performances of A Streetcar Named Desire will be given tonight and tomorrow night at the Student Union Theatre. Reservations may be made at the box office this afternoon from 12 to 4. A critical review of the play may be found in this issue.

The theatre at Montana State College is a busy place at all times, and this quarter is no exception. Those who are familiar figures to the audience and to the students who see them about the campus spend time beyond the call of duty, rehearsing every night, working on technical crews after that, and studying still later into the morning hours; and sometimes missing class the next day. Some of these are preparing for a life time of work-at-night and sleep-by-day existence in the professional theatre. But there is room not only for theatre majors such as Carl Smith, Marian Place, Steve Sevener, and Marty Lee. Jeff Smith plans to be a doctor, Roy Upham prepares for a career in art, Ellen Missall is a math major and her husband is in the social sciences, Denny Allen is in Industrial arts, and Jim Rock and Ed Heinle are farm boys.

There is an opportunity for new students, especially during the remainder of this quarter and next quarter. Two plays, both scheduled for production Spring quarter, will be cast within the next two weeks: Alladin and the Wonderful Lamp (10 men and 8 women plus extras), a children's play, and The Biggest Thief in Town (12 men and 2 women), a farce about an undertaker who steals a body. For these shows, the Theatre Arts Department would like some new faces and no doubt the audience will appreciate a few, too. Tryout announcements will appear in this column and on the Dramatics bulletin board just inside the front door of the SUB. If you are interested in something other than acting, you are invited to contact Mr. Billings or Mr. Fitch and you will be welcomed with open arms.

Davis Chosen Assistant Dean Will Take Over Duties March

Clifford V. Davis, associate professor of zoology at Montana State College, has been appointed assistant dean of letters and science on a half time basis.

In his new duties, which begin March 1, Davis will assist Dean Charles C. Bradley and will be primarily concerned with the general studies program and the advising of students.

A native of Judith Gap, Mont., and a graduate of Montana State College, Davis has been a member of the faculty here since 1946 and prior to that he taught at Bozeman High School.

He is editor of the Proceedings of the Montana Academy of Science and a member of the American Science Curriculum Commission as well as a number of other professional organizations.

In 1956 Davis received the Distinguished Teaching Award from MSC and for six years held the director of the MSC Alumni Association.

Davis received his master's degree in zoology at the University of Michigan and except for his dissertation he completed work toward his doctorate at Oregon State College.

Civic Concert To Be Held

The MSC Symphonette and Civic Symphony will present a joint program Thursday evening, Feb. 25th at 8:00 p.m., in the SC gymnasium. Twentieth century compositions that have already established themselves as classics will make up the program.

Miss Judy Opp, MSC freshman soprano, will be soloist with the symphonette strings in the Villanobos Aria from the Bachianas Brazilerias No. 5. Malaguena of Beethoven; two movements from Maurice Ravel's Grand Canyon Suite—Painted Desert, and on the Grand Canyon Trail; and The White Peacock by the American impressionist, Charles Griffes, make up the first portion of the program.

The Firebird Suite, of Stravinsky, will be presented by the Civic Symphony. This is the most difficult composition ever undertaken by the Symphony, and in it is one of the most difficult works in the literature for orchestra, according to Director Leech Reynolds.

There is no admission charge for the program, and the public is cordially invited.

Western Division Delegates Gather

This year the University of California at Berkeley will host the tenth annual Collegiate Council for the United Nations. The event, to be held April 6-9, will bring together over 80 colleges of the Western Division. Each school is assigned a nation to present in a complete model of the United Nations.

ASMSC plans to send a delegation this year if enough students show interest enough to warrant financial support.

MSC Library Shows AEC Exhibit

A special exhibit of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission will be shown in Bozeman, Thursday, Feb. 18 through Monday, Feb. 29, under the sponsorship of the Montana State College Library.

The exhibit, entitled, "Summary of Atomic Energy," will be shown in the main lobby of the Montana State College Library from 8 a.m. to 9:45 p.m., and the public is invited.

The "Summary of Atomic Energy" is an exhibit of 18 panels that presents the story of atomic energy in concise, easy-to-understand terms. One panel describes the principal components of the atom. Another describes the fission process, whereby tremendous power is obtained by the splitting of atoms of heavy elements such as uranium and plutonium. Still others show how radioactive isotopes are used in agriculture, medicine, and industry.

In addition to the two panels are two components, activated by the visitor, that show the workings of a nuclear-energy plant for the production of electricity and describe the fusion process, in which power is obtained by combining atoms of light elements at extremely high temperatures—the opposite of the fission process. Another striking display is a three-foot model of the N. S. Savannah—the nation's first nuclear-powered merchant vessel.

All of the Atomic Energy Commission's free traveling exhibits, including the "Summary of Atomic Energy", are operated for the Commission by the Museum Division of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, Oak Ridge, Tennessee—a non-profit educational corporation of southern universities and colleges.

Club to Feature Dance Program

The International Club of Montana State College is presenting John and Evelyn Saunders of the Saunders Dance Studio in a program this Saturday evening, February 20, at 8:00 in Willson Junior High, according to a group spokesman.

For the evening's entertainment Mr. and Mrs. Saunders will present the "Cavalcade of Dances". This program is open to the public without any charge.

This year the International Club has sponsored an architectural contest for a proposed International student center. The winners of this contest will be announced during this program Saturday evening and the rewards will be presented.

The club invites the public to be its guest for this evening of choice entertainment.

LUCKY STRIKE presents

Dear Dr. Frood:

yours?

This is the B-52. Advanced as it may be, this airplane has one thing in common with the first war-galleys of ancient Egypt... and with the air and space vehicles of the future. Someone must chart its course. Someone must navigate it.

For certain young men this presents a career of real executive opportunity. Here, perhaps you will have the chance to master a profession full of meaning, excitement and rewards... as a Navigator in the U. S. Air Force.

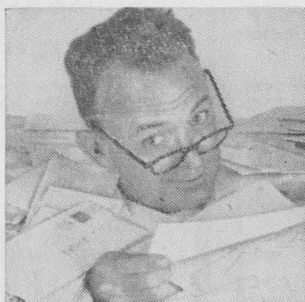

To qualify for Navigator training as an Aviation Cadet you must be an American citizen between 19 and 26½—single, healthy and intelligent. A high school diploma is required, but some college is highly desirable. Successful completion of the training program leads to a commission as a Second Lieutenant... and your Navigator wings.

If you think you have what it takes to measure up to the Aviation Cadet Program for Navigator training, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Or clip and mail this coupon.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team.

U.S. Air Force

MAIL THIS COUPON TODAY AVIATION CADET INFORMATION DEPT. SCLO2 BOX 7608, WASHINGTON 4, D.C. I am between 19 and 26½, a citizen of the U.S. and a high school graduate with _____ years of college. Please send me detailed information on the Aviation Cadet program. NAME _____ STREET _____ CITY _____ COUNTY _____ STATE _____

Send your troubles to Dr. Frood, P.O. Box 2990, Grand Central Station, New York 17, N.Y.

Dear Dr. Frood: Presumably college is a time of intellectual ferment... a period of curiosity and discontent preceding a man's plunge into commercialism and the material life. Why must this inquiry after lofty truths suddenly give way to crass financial motives? Ibid

Dear Ibid: It's the children. All they seem to care about is food, food, food.

Dear Dr. Frood: I am a skin diver. Is it possible to enjoy a Lucky under water? Jules

Dear Jules: Certainly. You may have a little trouble lighting the match, however.

Dear Dr. Frood: Every now and then you sneak a plug for Luckies into your answers. Is this subliminal advertising? Psych Major

Dear Psych: No, sir. Subliminal advertising is much less obvious. For example. Notice what the first letters of all the words in the next answer spell.

SUBLIMINAL? FROOD PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Dear Dr. Frood: Is there any old maxim that proves it pays for a young man to go to college? A. Youngman

Dear Youngman: "Let us collect knowledge young. Soon thou reapest intelligence kings envy." (See previous question).

Dear Dr. Frood: I've been kicked out of college, rejected by the Army, divorced by my wife, disinherited by my father, and fired from my job. What is there left for me? Sturgis

Dear Sturgis: You could still be black-balled by the Book-of-the-Month Club.

Frood, Old Man—Seriously, friend, your brand of wit doesn't sit with a sophisticated student body. Try to sharpen it a bit, old sock. Make it chic, what? Skool.

Dear Dink: Makes good sense, Friend Dink. Will give it a go. Now, old bean, as for that part of your letter you asked me not to print. Don't be afraid of girls. Sure you stammer and choke and blush. But just walk right up and announce, "Hi, I'm Dink, and I think you're swell." Skool.

COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE MORE LUCKIES THAN ANY OTHER REGULAR!

When it comes to choosing their regular smoke, college students head right for fine tobacco. Result: Lucky Strike tops every other regular sold. Lucky's taste beats all the rest because L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco.

Ice Skaters Travel to Bengal Lair

by Duane Boe

Tuesday night the Bobcats meet Idaho State College at Pocatello in their last road game of the year.

Idaho State currently boasts a 10-3 loss record for the year. On the basis of their last meeting with the Bobcats, Idaho State is a solid favorite in tomorrow's tussle. The Bengals, boasting the nation's longest winning streak with 14 consecutive wins, will all the way to take a 70-57 victory over MSC.

MSC is one of the strongest teams we've met this year," says coach Dobbie Lambert, "we still believe the Bobcats have an excellent chance of beating them." "We played one of our poorest games of the season against them here 10 days ago. It is evident that ISC has a strong team this year and very likely will get an "at-large" berth in the NCAA playoffs. However, out of a 26 game season they have the advantage of being 18 of these on their home ice. It is also the first year of coaching for ISC coach John Evenden, who is averaging 16.3 points per game for the season, had 18 goals against the Cats in the previous game, while Swopes scored in 23.

During the Bengal attack are forward Myrl Goodwin and guard, Frank Swopes. Goodwin, who is averaging 16.3 points per game for the season, had 18 goals against the Cats in the previous game, while Swopes scored in 23.

Bobcat practice sessions this year have been spent practicing offensive patterns. The Cats left for ISC to get the benefit of working out on the LSC court today.

Returning against Idaho State are Larry Chanay and John Goodwin at forwards, Gordon Haut at center, and Jim Owens and Andy Matson at the guards.

MSC freshman squad is making the trip with the Bobcats.

Grapplers Sponsor Three-Way Meet

Tomorrow morning at 9:30 will see the beginning of the three-way international wrestling meet here in the old gymnasium. Schools competing will be MSC, South Dakota Tech, and University of Alberta at Edmonton.

The morning matches will be between Alberta and South Dakota Tech. Then, starting at 1:30 p.m. MSC will compete against the two teams.

Head wrestling coach Dr. Keith Bowen stated that MSC will field two teams, one against each school.

MSC's Andy Matson goes up for a shot, but can't get over the towering Pilot center, Jim Garner. Matson scored 13 points for the Cats, with Larry Chanay high man with 26. High point man for Portland was Jim Altenhofen with 22.

Bobcat Rally Edges Pilots

MSC's Bobcats rallied to a 72-59 victory over the Portland University Pilots Saturday night in a rugged and fast game.

The game was tied up 56-56 with less than five minutes left to play. Then MSC scored seven points before the Pilots were able to get a basket and the 'Cats took command with two minutes to go. Portland made only one basket in the last five minutes of play and it was made by Altenhofer in the last five seconds.

Portland led 6-2 in the first four minutes of the game but the 'Cats overcame the lead and kept ahead the rest of the game. At halftime, Montana State was out in front 37-31.

The Bobcats hit 50 per cent of their shots from the field, making 32 of 63. The Pilots fired in 25 of 37 for an average of 36 per cent.

Chanay, the nation's leading free throw scorer, made only four charity tosses but was high for the night with 26 points.

Baseball to Begin

According to coach Bob Rousy there will be a general baseball meeting at 5 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 24, in the Fieldhouse arena. Anyone who is interested in Intercollegiate Athletics is urged to attend. Freshmen are reminded that they are eligible for baseball and practice is slated to start the first of March.

Chanay Leads

Larry Chanay continues to lead the Bobcats in individual scoring as well as free throws. Chanay currently has a 23.6 average and has dropped in 218 free throws, ranking him first in the nation. From the field, guard Andy Matson is the team's leading shooter, percentage-wise, hitting 43 per cent of all attempts. Matson is also the team's second leading scorer, averaging 10.8 points per game.

Tickets Available

Bud Purdy announces that tickets for the Gene Furrer-Joey Giardello fight are progressing quite well and further adds that about 800 student tickets are still available.

Ski Carnival

February 26 and 27 marks the date for this year's annual Ski Carnival. According to Ski Club president Martin Bennett, the slopes of Bridger Bowl are in excellent condition and should provide an excellent setting for the Intramural races to take place. Bennett further announced that Friday night of the 26th, will date the crowning of the Ski King and Queen at the Bear Canyon Lodge, and urges interested persons to attend.

Weightlifters Strain

MSC weightlifters are making preparation for their coming intersquad meet Feb. 26. The meet will be in preparation for the State Meet, to be held May 7.

Following the State Meet the team will travel to San Francisco to take part in the Jr. Nationals. It is also hoped that the team will be able to take part in the Northwest Meet in Portland some time in April, but no definite plans have been made yet.

Gonzaga Downs Montana 84-71

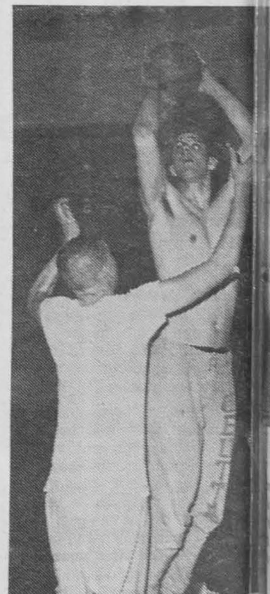

The Montana State Bobcats fell to the Gonzaga Bulldogs 84-71, in a contest played in Spokane last Thursday night.

The Bobcats, in an attempt to stop Frank Burgess, Gonzaga scoring ace, employed a four-man zone defense with the fifth man floating with Burgess. Burgess was held to 14 points, his lowest total in two years at Gonzaga, however, he scored enough points to set a school scoring record of 1,060 points.

With Burgess tethered by the Bobcat defense, teammates Jordan, Elliot, and McGuire took up the scoring slack with 19, 10, and 10 points respectively.

Larry Chanay, Bobcat workhorse, connected for 27 points including 12 free throws. Chanay was held to one field goal in the first half but came back with six points in the second half. Matson and Bryant scored 14 points and 10 points respectively to aid the Bobcat cause.

With 10 minutes left in the ballgame, the Bobcats suddenly came to life. The Montana squad poured in the points to cut the Gonzaga lead to four points. The rally was short-lived as the Bulldogs put on the pressure to build up the 13 point victory spread.

Intramural basketball action shown in the above picture now in full swing and presently finds the Sigma Chi's in the place with a clean slate, followed by Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The Independent League, the "laws" and the "Geology Club" are now leading the league.

Berry Accepts Post at Idaho

Joe Berry, line coach for Montana State College for the past three years, has turned in his resignation to accept a similar position at the University of Idaho at Moscow.

an outstanding lineman and also served as freshman coach upon his graduation.

Head coach Herb Agocs stated that Berry's replacement would be selected within a week and further commented that the man replacing Berry would more than likely be an out-of-state man. Agocs and company are considering about six possible prospects.

While at MSC Berry has turned out excellent linemen and his loss will be felt by his associates and students. Among some of Berry's products have been mid-bracket All-American selections Sonny Holland, Ron Warzeka, Ed Ritt, and Gene Schilling.

Boxing Scheduled

About 400 official entry blanks for the National AAU Boxing championships have been mailed out, reveals Bud Purdy, manager of the Montana State College fieldhouse.

The National Junior AAU Boxing Tournament is to be held in the MSC fieldhouse on March 4 and 5. The bulk of the field is expected to be from Montana, Wyoming, Idaho and Alberta with a sprinkling of entries from other states.

Entry blanks can be obtained from Purdy at the fieldhouse in Bozeman, and must be returned by Feb. 27. There is an entry fee of $1 for each fighter.

Bobcat Keglers Defeat Grizzlies

MSC's varsity bowling team recently defeated the MSU bowling team in Missoula by a score of 2807 to 2637. Al Wipperman hit a 600 series to pace the Cat keglers.

This was MSC's second win in as many tries against the University this year. A win spring quarter would mean permanent possession of the traveling trophy for MSC. The trophy goes to the first team to win three consecutive quarterly matches.

Jerry Harris put together games of 243-167-267 to wind up with a phenomenal 677 total to lead league bowling this week. A couple of unlucky splits in his second game kept him from going over the coveted 700 mark. Jerry has a 183 average in the Bowling Club.

In the Bowling Club, Rollie Fisher, with a 198 average, still leads the men. Jill Foster's 168 is high for the women. Any person who is interested in bowling is urged to come to the SUB alleys Thursdays between 5 and 7 p.m. and bowl with the Bowling Club.

In the Peterson Classic League this week Fisher hit games of 195-202-180-203 for a 780 series to lead the league. Wipperman had 761.

Fay Mayer and Shirley Sorenson both hit games of 156 to lead Monday night's women's league. Sorenson went on to hit 407 for high series.

The Bowling Club is planning to put on a faculty team and 3-Game Singles Tournament in the near future.

Coeds Selected for Dolphins

Six coeds have been selected as new members of Dolphins, synchronized swimming honorary at Montana State College.

They are Mary Ann Chestnut, Havre; Ann Hanson, Glasgow; Jen Rivenes, Miles City; Virginia Yankoskie, Bozeman; Janet Hughes, Honolulu, Hawaii, and Dorothy Sternaman, Chicago, Ill.

Adviser Dorothy Kenemer of the MSC health and physical education department says the girls have started practicing for the eleventh annual Dolphin Show, April 14 and 15. Seniors Betty Keene and Jeanette Wenzel will direct the show.

THE THUNDERING MARCH OF PROGRESS

Today, as everyone knows, is the forty-sixth anniversary of the founding of Gransmire College for Women, which, as everyone knows, was the first Progressive Education college in the United States.

Well do I recollect the tizzy in the academic world when Gransmire opened its portals! What a buzz there was, what a brouhaha in faculty common rooms, what a rattling of teacups, when Dr. Agnes Thudd Signafoos, first president of Gransmire, lifted her learned old head and announced defiantly, "We will teach the student, not the course. There will be no marks, no exams, no requirements. This, by George, is Progressive Education!"

Well sir, forward-looking maidens all over the country cast off their fetters and came rushing to New Hampshire to enroll at Gransmire. Here they found freedom. They broadened their vistas. They lengthened their horizons. They unstopped their bottled personalities. They roamed the campus in togas, advertising ocelots on leashes.

And, of course, they smoked Marlboro cigarettes. (I say, "Of course." Why do I say, "Of course"? I say, "Of course" because it is a matter of course that anyone in search of freedom should naturally turn to Marlboro, for Marlboro is the smoke that sets the spirit soaring, that unyokes the captive soul, that fills the air with the murmur of wings. If you think flavor went out when filters came in—try Marlboro. They are sold in soft pack or flip-top box wherever freedom rings.)

But all was not Marlboro and ocelots for the girls of Gransmire. There was work and study too—not in the ordinary sense, to be sure, for there were no formal classes. Instead there was a broad approach to enlarging each girl's potentials, both mental and physical.

Take, for example, the course called B.M.S. (Basic Motor Skills). B.M.S. was divided into L.D. (Lying Down), S.U. (Standing Up) and W. (Walking). Once the student had mastered L.D. and S.U., she was taught to W.—but not just to W. any old way! No, sir! She was taught to W. with poise, dignity, bearing! To inculcate a sense of balance in the girl, she began her exercises by walking with a suitcase in each hand. (One girl, Mary Ellen Dorgenicht, got so good at it that today she is bell captain at the Deshler-Hilton Hotel in Columbus, Ohio.)

It was quite an impressive sight

When the girls had walking under their belts, they were allowed to dance. Again no formality was imposed. They were simply told to fling themselves about in any way their impulses dictated, and, believe you me, it was quite an impressive sight to see them go bounding into the woods with their togas flying. (Several later joined the U.S. Forestry Service.)

There was also a lot of finger painting and sculpture with coat hangers and like that, and soon the fresh wind of Progressivism came whistling out of Gransmire to blow the ancient dust of pedantry off curricula everywhere, and today, thanks to her pioneers at Gransmire, we are all free.

If you are ever in New Hampshire, be sure to visit the Gransmire campus. It is now a tannery.
