Rodeo Shows Deficit

Student Senate members read from the annual Leadership Workshop with innumerable for 1961 but prepared to the more immediate problem of Monday's agenda.

Rodeo Rumbles
Drawing attention to a pertinent problem encountered during the rodeo (that of college students "sneaking in the back door" the first attendance), Mr. Gossack, Rodeo Club advisor, commented, "We must make the rodeo pay its way; I have been fighting my head against the problem since about 1951. We will continue with you on student activities cards if you will hold it to one night."

Seniors Plan Marquee Site

By Arjay Godston

In spite of all the efforts that have been exerted in attempting to place the much publicized Senior Class Project in the business district of Bozeman, the battle has now subsided. Because an adequate and proper location downtown could not be secured for the ultra-modern structure, the seniors decided, at last Wednesday's meeting, to place the Marquee on Campus at the south end of Eight Avenue and Cleveland.

The original design of the Marquee has been slightly modified to include the addition of a campus directory. Consequently, the ultra-modern structure will not only serve as a "town caller" for the various campus activities and as an indicator to the college, but also as the official welcomer and "pointer" to the various college buildings which are difficult to locate for the visitor who is unfamiliar with the campus. Both the revision to the original plans of the marquee and its location were unanimously approved by the senior class.

It was noted, however, that the financing of the class project still falls $400 short of the amount needed for its completion. If the remaining seniors, who have not signed their waiver for the marquee, would do so, the financial goal set for its construction would be realized. A table will be set up in the SUB this coming Thursday, May 5th, to give those students who haven't signed the relating waivers an opportunity to financially support the 1960 Class Project. So, HELP! Seniors, we need your support.

delegates were admitted free as they will be to the mixer tonight.

According to the Placement Office, better than $2,000.00 in scholarships will be awarded to the students as a result of the tests they will take while they are her.

Last night the boys were entertained at dinners given by the various fraternities of the campus. At the same time the girls were hosted by the sororities at a banquet given in the SUB cafeteria. Representatives from all of the sororities attended the banquet and answered any questions the girls had.

Tomorrow morning the visitors will have the opportunity, from 8:30 to 10:00 a.m., to become more familiar with the campus on a personal basis.

At ten o'clock the honors assembly, conducted by President Renne, will be held. All students who are to receive awards will be announced then.

This, the 30th annual High School Week at MSC, will give the high school juniors and seniors around the state a chance to become more familiar with college life. According to Bill Pound and Jane Smith, student co-chairmen of the week, one of the prime objectives of High School Week is to assist each delegate in making his or her plans for a future which includes college.

Junior Prom Will Feature Les Brown Tomorrow Night

Les Brown and his band of renown will cap this week's activities, as the curtain rises on this years Junior Prom.

This outstanding group will appear in the SUB ballroom this Saturday night and will present a three hour show, promising fine entertainment that will appeal to all music lovers.

Advance ticket sales are on sale at a price of $3.00 per couple and $3.50 at the door. All seniors will be treated to this fine show being sponsored by the junior class.

Les Brown's band is known all over the world through his years with Bob Hope on Radio and TV, his recordings on Decca, Columbia, Coral and Capitol, and his personal appearance tours as well as his tours before the armed forces units in Europe, Japan, Alaska, Korea and many other far countries.

Les is a graduate of Ithaca Conservatory of Music, New York Military Academy, and Duke University. He was somewhat of a child prodigy. At the age of twelve he was playing the Rudy Wiedoft solos that were a part of every saxophonist's repertoire or that era. At sixteen he was featured soloist with Conway's concert band.

At Duke University Les played tenor sax with the Duke Blue Devils, his first two years at school. He became leader of this band his junior year, which under his leadership became one the best college bands ever known. In 1936 Les took the Blue Devil Band to Budd Lake, New Jersey, for the summer. Through this engagement the band recorded for Decca and made world transcriptions. After a year of travel, the band disbanded.

Les headed for New York, and as well as playing dates as a sideman, turned to arranging. He did both stock arrangements for publishers and "specials" for such leaders as Ishman Jones, Red Nichols, Ruby Newman, and Jimmy Dorsey. In 1940 Les organized the "Band of Renown", which has moved steadily forward to number one. Les early adopted the policy of surrounding himself with the best possible sideman, and paying the best possible salaries to keep these men together. This policy has paid off in a cohesive playing unit. There has been far less turnover in the personnel than is common in most such organizations.

The name Les Brown has become a symbol of good, danceable music throughout the continent. Time Magazine recently quoted him as saying: "We prefer sound to noise, we prefer the beat over effects, we prefer consonance to dissonance, and we like the melody if it's good." This seems to have been the formula of success of the Band of Renown and its personable leader, Les Brown.

Editorially Speaking . . .

Honor System

At next Monday's meeting of the Student Senate Steering Committee the main topic of the meeting will be the establishment of an honor system at Montana State College.

If such a proposal was to go into effect it would have to have the complete support of the students to function in the terms defined for such a program.

Other institutions enacting such a program have obtained excellent results, claiming the production of a more mature student.

What would be requirements of the students if such an act was to go into effect? First of all no instructor would proctor tests. Each student would be required to sign a pledge saying that he had neither given or received assistance on the test. All students would be free to come and go throughout the test.

If a student was to be caught cheating he would be referred to a honor board that would recommend punishment, consisting of receiving a zero on the paper or dropping the course.

These are just some of the regulations of other institutions and may not exactly function as mentioned, if inaugurated at MSC.

Would you, the student, be willing to support such a program? Only through your devotedness to such a program, could it exist.

We of the EXPONENT do not advocate the immediate enactment of such a program, but do believe that if the students took it upon themselves to support it, such a program could function, if properly planned and organized.

Some of the faculty members in the EE department have expressed the desire for such a program and Dean Bradley has offered his assistance towards its enforcement.

With the faculty and administration's blessing the honor system may have its day at MSC. Now it is our responsibility to look into this matter and decide whether we are adult enough to develop such a program.

Piano Concert To Be Presented By Famed David Bar-Illan May 2

David Bar-Illan, young concert pianist who has won international acclaim, will appear in a concert at the Wilson Junior High auditorium at 8:15 p.m. Monday, May 2.

The concert, which has been arranged by the lectures and concerts committee at Montana State College, will be free and the public is invited.

The Israel-born pianist will come here from Billings where he will have appeared with the Billings Symphony on the preceding night.

Born in 1930, Bar-Illan received his primary music education in Haifa, his home town. After appearing in recitals and with orchestras in Israel, he made his first trip to the United States as a scholarship student. He fought with the Army of Israel during the War of Independence, then returned to this country. He is a graduate of Juilliard School and Cannes College.

His concert here will consist of selections from the works of Mozart, Schubert, Prokofiev and Chopin.

Students Questioned About REW

Dear Editor,

We are curious to know what students are thinking pertaining to their religious concerns. As co-chairman of Religious Emphasis Week for the coming year this is our concern too.

Religious Emphasis Week is sponsored here each year for the students benefit. But what are students concerned about? Could these concerns be possible topics for the guest speakers during REW? We think so.

With this in mind we would like to take this opportunity to ask the students for these topics and possible speakers qualified to speak on these topics.

Got any ideas? If so, take the time to let us know them. Make it a point to personally see us or send a letter to Pat Anderson, room 316, SUB. This effort will be greatly appreciated and will help us considerably in organizing another REW that can benefit all of us.

Sincerely,

Rodeo Areana Set Up By Members Of Riding Club

If you were amazed by the high bucking activities at the Montana State College Rodeo in the fieldhouse Thursday through Saturday nights, you'd be even more surprised at the goings on that preceded the event.

As most Montanans well know, the fieldhouse was the site of the NBA middleweight championship match between champion Gene Fullmer and contender Joey Giardello Wednesday night.

With the rodeo scheduled to begin 8 p.m. Thursday, MSC Rodeo Club members were hard pressed to tear down after the fight and set up for the rodeo. But, no one could doubt the enthusiasm of the some 114 member club if they could have seen what happened in scant hours.

Joining the MSC Service Shop and fieldhouse crew, some 35 members of the club pitched in after the last boxing match and by 3 a.m. Thursday morning had removed the ring, some 2,700 chairs, bleachers holding about 2,000, raked and roto-tilled the 300 by 100 feet arena floor, and had begun setting up the rodeo pens. The arena was completely set up by 10 a.m. Thursday morning. Don Lee, Rodeo club Co-adviser, said the rodeo fences, chutes and calf and steer pens total about 600 feet.

The event, held under the rulings of the American Collegiate Rodeo Association, is one of the biggest collegiate meets in the United States. Dolly Hughes, Choteau, publicity chairman, said that some 10,000 persons have attended during the three-night show in past years. This was the 14th consecutive rodeo held at Montana State College since the end of World War II.

Main events were bullriding, saddle bronc riding, bareback riding, calf roping, ribbon roping, and bulldogging.

Don Harrington, rodeo announcer, Butte, who covers about 30 events a year, including the Edmonton Garden and the St. Paul Rodeo, said the number of riders entered broke down like this: bullriding, 39; saddle bronc, 20; bareback, 37; calf roping, 13; ribbon roping, 15; and bulldogging, 22. Altogether some 50 men and 16 women are competing.

Riders were in from Idaho State College, Brigham Young University, Utah State University, Rocky Mountain College, Northern Montana College, Western Montana College, Montana State University and Montana State.

Curtain Calls

By Ann Dunbar

The theater crew prepares once more to open a play at the Student Union Theater. The set is partially up, the props and costumes are being collected, and the glue pot is bubbling merrily away in the shop. The Biggest Thief in Town still leaves the cast struggling to keep from laughing at their own lines. And the box office is being put in order so that you may obtain your FREE tickets to this hilarious comedy.

In the Music Building, the Symphonette and the Symphony fiddle and blow in preparation for their next concerts later this Spring. The symphonette is working on Pictures at an Exhibition and the Bach Brandenburg No.2 in F. The Symphony is preparing an unusual program for their concert. They will feature a serious portion and a jazz portion; music to suit every taste. Their serious half will include the Variations on a Theme of Hayden by Brahms. The jazz half will present Allen Shulman's Top Brass, a piece in highly dissonant jazz style and Slaughter on 10th Avenue. These are two concert's to look forward to.

This Monday night, Bozeman and especially MSC students will have a truly unusually and wonderful opportunity. Israeli pianist

David Bar-Illan will appear in concert at the Wilson Junior School auditorium. Those who heard Mr. Bar-Illan have said that he is a remarkable pianist and one destined to be at the top in his profession of concert piano. In January, he appeared with the New York harmonic and is scheduled to with the Billings Symphony in Montana this weekend. He spent this year touring Europe, South America, Canada and the United States. His program Bozeman will include M. Prokofiev and Chopin. This concert is FREE and is being sponsored by the Lectures and Concerts Committee on this campus. They wish it known that this concert is primarily for the students of MSC and the general public will not be admitted until 7 p.m. give students an opportunity to have the best seats.

There are two art exhibits Bozeman at this time. He campus in the Fireplace Room. Herrick, there are paintings contemporary West Coast and At Polly Renne's Bookshelf. Art major, Roy Upham, is playing his own work, including sculpture, oil and watercolor paintings. Mrs. Renne encourages students to stop in and see work.

Spring Scene is Riot

By Ann Dunbar

The comedy riot, The Biggest Thief in Town, will open this Wednesday night at the Student Union Theatre. Running May 4, 5, 6, and 7, the play is produced by the MSC Theatre Arts Department and is directed by Joseph C. Fitch. The curtain will rise at 8:15 on the setting designed by advanced Theatre Arts student, Ted Hieppely.

All seats are reserved and the theatre box office will be open from 12 p.m. to 4 p.m. this Monday through Friday. Tickets may also be obtained after 7 p.m. on the nights of performance.

Bert Hutchins, played by Steve Sevens, is in a pickle. The eager undertaker was so eager that he ran off with a live corpse. Now he's got him, what does he do? For a while he cradles him, but soon he is unwillingly forced to keep the old boy alive. His doctor friend who is running Bert's business. Meanwhile, his teen-age daughter is winning a dance contest involving herself in a mad ceremony. The sky fell in on that night, or to be more precise, a four ton, unpaid for cask as in all comedies, the end. How he does it, you know when you come to the Student Union Theatre May 4, 5, 6, and 7.

Mr. Fitch stated: "The Biggest Thief in Town" is a play young people. It appeals to all with all its vigor and vitality. "aliveness."

Newburn Presents Views on Education

Dr. Harry K. Newburn, president of Montana State University, made his first appearance on the Montana State College campus Thursday, speaking on the "Meaning of an Education," before an assembly of students and faculty in the gymnasium.

Dr. Newburn admitted that it isn't absolutely necessary to attend college to obtain an education, but added that it's easier to become educated through formal and systematic schooling.

He offered these three characteristics of an educated person: knowledge, communication, and a trained mind.

"First, we must have possession of great knowledge and understanding and should recognize the power of knowledge," Dr. Newburn said. He added that knowledge helps a person to get the facts.

By communication, Dr. Newburn explained that he meant reading, speaking and writing. If you have proper communication, then you can think and express your thoughts as an intelligent, educated person, he said.

Thirdly, he emphasized the importance of a trained mind. "A trained mind approaches problems properly. It weighs facts better and helps the person to come to better conclusions." He added that educated persons think rationally and with trained minds.

Along the same view Dr. Newburn pointed out that it isn't so important that we read, as it is that we read the proper material.

He concluded that an educated person has a fine sense of values and can distinguish between first rate and inferior. "Educated persons believe in dignity and worth of the individual and have high moral and spiritual qualities."

Dr. Newburn acknowledged the fine spirit of cooperation between the state's two largest educational institutions and commented on the fine competitive relationship that exists.

MSC Professor Represents State At Nurses Meet

Mrs. Jeanne R. Claus, assistant professor at the Montana State College school of nursing, will attend the biennial convention of the American Nurses Assn., to be held in Miami, Florida, May 2-6.

Mrs. Claus is one of the nine delegates from Montana and will represent the state as the chairman of the educators section of the Montana Nurses Assn.

All nine delegates will be members of the ANA house of delegates, official policy making body of the association which will elect national officers, consider changes in by-laws, and will take action on issues confronting the nursing profession.

Focus of the 1960 convention will be improvement of professional nursing practice and special program meetings have been planned on nursing's responsibility in disaster preparedness, the value of research in planning patient care and the relationship of social legislation and nursing practice. Eight thousand nurses are expected to attend the week-long convention.

Contest Open

On June 2 two final names will be drawn from an entry box at the Tastee Freeze Store. These two names will make a total of ten names, from which one name will be drawn. The owner of this name will have $100 deposited at the college treasurers office to be used for fees, by January 1.

According to Jack Rosenthal of the local Tastee Freeze, a drawing will be held each Thursday, starting May 5.

Microbiologists Will Visit MSC

The third annual meeting of the Montana Microbiologists is scheduled for Saturday afternoon May 14 at Montana State College.

Dr. William G. Walter, chairman for the meeting, says this year's program will focus on applied microbiology. Topics relating to fluorescent antibody techniques, food poisoning, and immunology in tuberculosis will be discussed.

Speakers for the event include Dr. Herbert Stoenner, Rocky Mountain Laboratory, Dr. J. A. Newman, St. James Hospital, Butte, and Dr. L. DS Smith, head of the MSC botany and bacteriology department. Dr. A. H. Fieldsteel of the Montana State Board of Health will give the keynote address.

In addition to hearing the experts, participants will also have an opportunity to visit the college's new Medical Science Research Building and the Veterinary Research Laboratory.

Green Heads MSC Capital Fund Drive

Dr. R. Green, Bozeman banker, has been named general chairman of the $1,400,000 capital funds campaign being launched statewide by the Endowment and Research Foundation at Montana State College, announces Dr. Leon Johnson, foundation executive director.

Green, who has been engaged in the banking business in Bozeman since 1935, was president of the First National Bank for 15 years until his retirement last January. He is continuing his association with the bank as a director and chairman of its executive committee.

Serving with Green in heading the campaign organization is Edwin D. Hintzpeter of Bozeman, chairman for the special funds, and the following members of the steering committee: Hunt Child, Jr., Yellowstone Park; E. Cogswell and Lester Cole, Great Falls; A. T. Hibbard, Helena; Clyde Howard, Billings; Dan Lovelace and Dr. Roland R. Rine, Bozeman; David G. Rines, Miles City, and Don Tawner, Deer Lodge.

The purpose of the campaign, Johnson said, is to raise money to provide buildings and academic scholarships urgently needed by Montana State College in the face of a rapidly increasing enrollment.

At the opening of the current academic year MSC enrollment was 3,866 as compared to 2,808 in 1955 and 1,417 in 1945.

However, Dr. Johnson pointed out the big spurt in enrollment will begin when the postwar baby boom reaches college age. Since that time is scarcely five years away, it is not likely that state funds can be provided, even with favorable referendum action, in time for the buildings to be ready when needed.

For this reason, he continued, it is necessary to find a way to supplement student fees and tax monies if the buildings are to be available when the incoming wave of students arrives on the cam-

Because a conflict has arisen on the tentatively scheduled date of the Senior Prom and Banquet, the date has been changed from the 3rd of June to the 27th of May. Both the banquet, which begins at 6 p.m., and the prom, which is scheduled from 9:30 to 12:30, will be held in the Student Union Ball Room. The Senior Prom, which is financed by the Alumni Association, won't cost the seniors a cent, but the banquet will be $2.00 a plate. Reservations for the Senior Banquet will be on sale at the same table set up in the SUB for waivers this coming Thursday.

In addition to the Senior Prom and Banquet, it was decided at this class meeting to have a "friendship hour" at the Bozeman Hotel between these two functions. This will provide an opportunity for all seniors to get into the swing of the big Swing, the Senior Prom.

Dairy Career Scholarship Offered

A combination summer work plan and $250 annual scholarship has been made available by the Montana Dairy Industries Association for worthy students interested in a career in the dairy and food processing industry.

Announcement of the scholarship was made here by Dr. J. C. Boyd, head of the Montana State College dairy industry department.

Plans are that students will be employed at various dairy processing industries at regular wages for the area to become acquainted and gain some experience in dairy processing and distribution.

Upon completion of a summer's employment one student will be selected to be the recipient of the $250 scholarship. Selection will be based on academic record, potential for success in chosen field, need and report of summer employer, Dr. Boyd said.

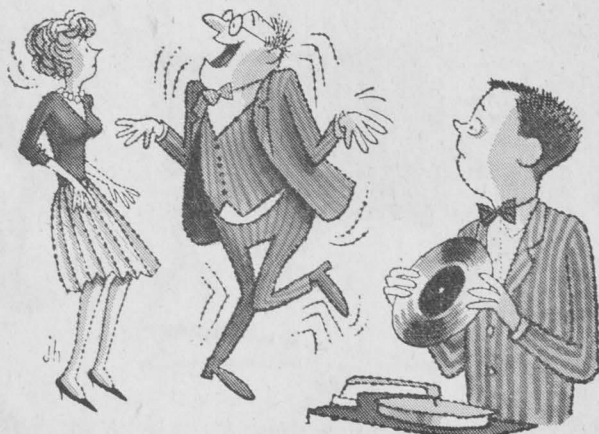

The offer is not limited to students majoring in dairy and food technology but to any student who thinks he may be interested in applying his training to the dairy and food processing industry. For example, students in agricultural business, certain phases of engineering, commerce, etc., are eligible and welcome to apply, Dr. Boyd explained.

Interested students should contact the Department of Dairy Industry, Montana State College, by May 15 for application forms and appointment for an interview.

Do You Think for Yourself?

(DIG THIS QUIZ AND SEE IF YOU STRIKE PAY DIRT*)

"You can't teach an old dog new tricks" means (A) better teach him old ones; (B) it's hard to get mental agility out of a rheumatic mind; (C) let's face it—Pop likes to do the Charleston.

A ☐ B ☐ C ☐

When your roommate borrows your clothes without asking, do you (A) charge him rent? (B) get a roommate who isn't your size? (C) hide your best clothes?

A ☐ B ☐ C ☐

When a girl you're with puts on lipstick in public, do you (A) tell her to stop? (B) refuse to be annoyed? (C) wonder if the stuff's kissproof?

A ☐ B ☐ C ☐

If you were advising a friend on how to pick a filter cigarette, would you say, (A) "Pick the one with the strongest taste." (B) "Get the facts, pal—then judge for yourself." (C) "Pick the one that claims the most."

A ☐ B ☐ C ☐

It's a wise smoker who depends on his own judgment, not opinions of others, in his choice of cigarettes. That is why men and women who think for themselves usually smoke Viceroy. They've studied the published filter facts; they know only Viceroy has a thinking man's filter. And Viceroy has rich, full tobacco flavor—a smoking man's taste. Change to Viceroy today!

Playwrite Contest

The Methodist Student Movement is sponsoring a playwriting Contest for full-length and one-act plays, which is open to all students. The plays must deal with life situations which are the concern of university students in their religious experience.

First prizes: (full length) $600; (one-act) $200.

Second prizes: (full length) $300; (one-act) $100.

In addition to the above awards, the winning scripts will be performed at the National Conference of the Methodist Student Movement from December 27 to January 1, 1961, at the University of Missouri.

Deadline for the contest is June 1, 1960, and complete contest rules are in the announcement posted on the front bulletin board in the SUB lobby.

The most beautiful new look in diamonds

Evening Star

ENGAGEMENT RINGS

You have to see it to believe it! Looks like a diamond star floating on her finger. And it makes any diamond look bigger, brighter, more beautiful. Don't even think of any other engagement ring until you see the dazzling "Evening Star" collection at your Artcarved jeweler's.

And, for real proof of value, ask your jeweler about Artcarved's famous nationwide Permanent Value Plan. It gives you the right to apply your ring's full current retail price, should you ever desire to, toward a larger Artcarved diamond—any time—at any of the thousands of Artcarved jewelers throughout the country.

IMPORTANT. Every genuine "Evening Star" diamond is guaranteed in writing, for color... cut... clarity... and carat weight and only Artcarved stamps the exact diamond weight in the ring. It's a genuine "Evening Star" only when the name is stamped in the ring.

MSC Delegates Attend United Nations Conference At Berkley

Eleventh hour parliamentary maneuvers, caucus meetings and last minute resolutions kept the MSC delegation busy at the Model United Nations conference in Berkeley, California. The six student delegation represented the Dominican Republic at the West Coast Model U.N. which is the largest of its kind in the U.S. with nearly 850 students present. The MSC group was quite active in the Latin American bloc, being in part instrumental for the solid voting power wielded by this bloc in committee meetings. Last week Mr. Joe Sills, National Traveling Secretary for the Model U.N., stated that MSC did exceptionally well despite the fact that this was our first year to attend. He expressed hope that the Model U.N. would become a "year to year activity" on our campus.

All those interested in furthering their knowledge of and participating in future U.N. activity are urged to attend an informal discussion Monday, May 2, at 7:30 in the SUB. Plans for initiating an MSC-MSU U.N. Security Council forum will be discussed. Also on the agenda will be the consideration of prospective countries for MSC to represent next year. The University of Oregon at Eugene will host next year's Model U.N. conference.

MSC To Tangle With Yellow Jackets

Due to inclement weather over the past week-end, Bobcat baseball games with Rocky Mountain and Carroll College were cancelled.

The next game scheduled is with the Eastern Montana College of Billings. Weather permitting, the game is to be played there this Saturday.

Practice has been held every day in the Fieldhouse except those days taken up by the fight and rodeo. The new batting cage has helped considerably in keeping batters in the swing and the players have been able to keep their arms in shape. But as Coach Rousey states, "Fielding and game experience are what we need and until the weather breaks we won't be able to get this experience."

Work on the new baseball diamond is progressing rather slowly. The mound has yet to be built, backstop erected, stands set up and the whole field rolled. Possibilities for using the new field this year are very dim.

Displays Open

The Little I Livestock Show is again sponsoring its annual booth display to all campus clubs.

The booth can be on any subject matter and a prize is to be awarded to the winner. A revolving plaque is given to the winning display, as well as $35, $25, $20, $12.50 and $7.50 each awards.

All interested groups are urged to contact Myron Saylor at JU 6-2577 before May 7, as this year's show is slated for May 14 and 15.

SPORTS SHORTS

By Flint Taylor

Many rodeo fans viewed one of the finest rodeos ever sponsored here at MSC last week. Not only was the competition outstanding, but the stock (owned by Oral Zumwalt) was game and tough.

One of the highlights of the rodeo was the near-ri of the world-champion bucking horse, Trail's End, by Jack Dawson of MSC. Dawson stayed on the horse for over eight seconds, and was scoring very highly up till the time he was thrown. Trail's End has piled such noted riders, Casey Tibbs and Jack Buschbom in the past few years.

Another event that had everyone's stomachs a little queasy Saturday night was when one of MSC's steer wrestlers proved a little too tough for his steer, and broke off of the animal's horns completely off.

Chuck Roland, MSC's rodeo clown, did an extremely fine job during the rodeo, and none of the bull riders were injured. Chuck, however, took a couple of charges himself and was knocked down several times, but was never hurt seriously. Zumwalt sure has some tough bulls!!

MSC Waddies Ride To Victory

Montana State College won its own 14th annual intercollegiate rodeo with 435.5 points at the MSC fieldhouse Saturday.

Finishing behind the MSC was Utah University with 265 points, followed by Western Montana College of Education, Brigham Young University and Northern Montana College.

The all-around cowboy was Hale Jeffers, president of the MSC club, who finished first in the bulldogging and ribbon roping. W. D. Hawes of BYU was the runner-up.

Dolly Hughes won the all-around cowgirl award with a first in pole bending and a second in barrel racing. Runner-up was Sharon Mehling.

The highlight of the rodeo was the attempted ride of Trails End, famous bucking horse, by the winner of the saddle bronc riding, Jack Dawson. Dawson managed to stay on eight seconds, just two seconds short of the qualifying time.

Point winners for the MSC team were: John Nelson, second in bareback riding; Dawson, first in saddle bronc; Jeffers, first in bulldogging and ribbon roping; Dan Fraser, second in bulldog-

MSC's varsity bowling team returned Sunday from Seattle, Washington, where they competed in the Northwest Intercollegiate Bowling Tournament at the University of Washington. In the team event the Cats placed fifth out of the sixteen teams entered. Rollie Fisher, with a score of 1775 for nine games or a 197 average, placed fourth in the individual all-events standings.

This week-end the MSC club will hold its annual Montana Intercollegiate Tournament on the SUB alleys. Bowling will commence at 10:00 Saturday morning and run till 2:00 Sunday afternoon. The bowlers will be competing for the State Singles Championship, won last year by MSC's Tom DeYoung. Team championships will not be included in this. Montana State University has won the last two

Thin Clads Place High At Utah

MSC's twelve-man track team journeyed to Logan, Utah April 21 and competed in a triangular meet with Utah State and Idaho State. Utah won the meet with 76 points, Idaho took second with 54 points and MSC came in last with 34 points.

MSC track men doing exceptionally well were: Terry Jensen—1st in the 880 with the time of 1:58 and 2nd in the mile and two mile. Jim Roban—1st place in the shot (49.3) and 2nd place in the discus. Russ Johnston—2nd place in the 100 and 2nd place in the 220.

Saturday, April 23, MSC traveled to Salt Lake City and competed against the University of Utah in a duel meet. Utah won the meet, scoring 85 points to MSC's 45. Terry Jensen took first in the 880, mile and two mile. Russ Johnston took first in the 100, running it in 9.9 and 2nd in the 220. Both were run under poor conditions. Jim Roban took first in the shot and second in the discus.

COLLEGE: THE FOE OF EDUCATION

In your quest for a college degree, are you becoming a narrow specialist, or are you being educated in the broad, classical sense of the word? This question is being asked today by many serious people—including my barber, my podiatrist, and my little dog Spot—and it would be well to seek an answer.

Let us examine our souls. Are we becoming experts only in the confined area of our majors, or does our knowledge range far and wide? Do we, for example, know who fought in the battle of Salamis, or Kant's epistemology, or Planck's constant, or the voyage of the Beagle, or Palestrina's cantatas, or what Wordsworth was doing ten miles above Tintern Abbey?

If we do not, we are turning, alas, into specialists. What, then, can we do to escape this strait jacket, to broaden our vistas, lengthen our horizons, to become, in short, educated?

Well sir, the first thing we must do is throw away our curricula. Tomorrow, instead of going to the same old classes, let us try something new. Let us think of college, not as a rigid discipline, but as a kind of vast smorgasbord, with all kinds of tempting intellectual tidbits to sample and savor. Let us dive in. Let our pent-up appetites roam and snatch where they will.

We will start the day with a stimulating seminar in Hittite artifacts. Then we will go over to marine biology and spend a happy hour with the mollusks. Then we will open our pores by drilling with the ROTC for a spell. Then we'll go over to journalism and scramble a font of Bodoni. Then we'll go to the medical school and palpate a few spleens. Then we'll go to home economics and have lunch.

And between classes we'll smoke Marlboro Cigarettes. This, let me emphasize, is not an added fillip to the broadening of our education; it is an essential. To learn to live richly and well is an important part of education, and Marlboros are an important part of living richly and well. Do you think flavor went out when filters came in? Well, ha-ha, the joke is on you. Marlboros, with its Selectrate filter, delivers flavor in full measure, flavor without stint or compromise, flavor that wrinkled care derides, flavor holding both its sides. This triumph of the tobaccoist's art comes to you in soft pack or flip-top box and can be lighted with match, lighter, candle, Welsbach mantle, or by rubbing two small Indians together.

When we have embarked on this new regimen—or, more accurately, lack of regimen—we will soon be studded with culture like a ham with cloves. When strangers accost us on the street and say, "What was Wordsworth doing ten miles above Tintern Abbey?" we will no longer slink away in silent abashment. We will reply loud and clear:

"As any truly educated person knows, Wordsworth, Shelley, and Keats used to go the Widdicombe Fair every year for their poetry-writing contests and three-legged races, both of which they enjoyed wildly. Well sir, imagine their chagrin when they arrived at the Fair in 1776 and learned that Oliver Cromwell's jenny, because Guy Fawkes had just invented the spinning combe Fair and Liverpool. Shelley was so upset that he drowned himself in the Bay of Naples, Keats went to London and became Samuel Johnson, and Wordsworth ran blindly into the forest until he collapsed in a heap ten miles above Tintern Abbey. There he lay for several years, sobbing and kicking his little fat legs. At length, peace returned to him. He composed himself and, noticing for the first time the beauty of the forest around him, he wrote Joyce Kilmer's immortal Trees . . . And that, smartypants, is what Wordsworth was doing ten miles above Tintern Abbey."

© 1960 Max Shulman

Poets and peasants alike know that if you like mildness but you don't like filters, you can't do better than Marlboro's companion cigarette—Philip Morris.

Henry Campbell Has Two More Choral Arrangements Published

Henry Campbell, associate professor of music at Montana State College, is the composer of two new choral works published this month by Brown-Gould Music Publishers.

These 1960 publications are "Jig" for women's voices with piano duet accompaniment and "Balletto" for two part chorus of female, male or mixed voices with piano.

Last year the "Balletto" was a featured work at the annual Symposium of contemporary American music at the University of Kansas. Early next month Campbell will again receive the honor—this time for "Twice Away," also a choral work.

Campbell not only composes for choral groups but has written a violin sonata, orchestral works, and chamber music. Many of these have been premiered by the MSC Symphonette.

The composer came to MSC in 1949. He holds a masters and bachelor's degree of music from the Eastman School of Music and has done a year of graduate study at the University of Washington School of Music in Seattle.
