RELIGIOUS LEADERS OF MANY FAITHS GATHER FOR REW

15-19 marks the anniversary of Religious Emek on the MSC campus. It will become the major project of the Inter-Church Council to set aside one week of the year in which all students may engage in chapel services, assemblies, personal conferences, and seminars. Needless to say, it has entailed a tremendous amount of preparation—when did it all begin and who is responsible for it? The wheels were set in motion last spring. The outgoing chairmen of REW of 1960 met with Pat Anderson, Religious Coordinator and faculty advisor to ICC and REW, to choose a successor. The co-chairmen selected then for this year's program are Gerry Blackman and Duane Boe. They in turn select committee heads and all of them review applications for their committee members.

Chaplain Floyd Armstrong of Malmstrom Air Force Base, Great Falls, who is a minister of the Christian Church and has been on active duty with the Air Force since 1942.

Dr. Lawrence M. Bixler, professor of Bible and Christian Education at Northwest Christian College, Eugene, Oregon.

The Reverend John Donnellon of the Order of Paulist Fathers of the Roman Catholic Church who has participated in REW programs at other colleges and is now with the Paulist Mission Board in Utah.

Dr. William Georgiades, assistant professor of education at the University of Southern California and active layman in the Presbyterian Church.

The Reverend William Hassler, member of the staff of the school of Religion at Montana State University and former mobile missionary for the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian Churches.

Dr. Joseph M. Shaw, assistant professor of religion at St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minnesota. (Continued on page 6)

All-School Mardi Gras Dance Sponsored By MSC Students

"... Dressed in red, dressed in blue, they come marching, marching, marching to the Mardi Gras..." to the all-school Mardi Gras costume dance which will be held tomorrow night in the SUB Ballroom from 9:00 to 12:00 to the music of the Sigma Nu Jazz Quartet.

The dance is sponsored by the Associated Students of MSC including the campus organizations represented in Student Senate, and, therefore, is designed primarily as a non-profit function.

Publicity is under the direction of IFC; judging of costumes is being handled by the Sophomore class; ISA is taking care of decorations; Panhellenic is in charge of tickets and entertainment, the Junior class will handle the clean-up, and refreshments will be served by the Freshman class.

A prize will be awarded for the best male costume, for the best female costume and to each one with the best couple costume. Each prize, worth twenty-five dollars, will be a gift certificate from one of the local stores. The winners may choose the prizes on display in the SUB or their equivalent.

Entertainment presented throughout the dance will include a dance by Sue Dobias, a song by Barbara Holland, the Couriers, Nancy Parriott singing accompanied by the Couriers, and a dance by Janet Hughes and Athlene Bishop.

The tickets, $1.50 per couple, are on sale in the SUB today, and will be on sale at the door for the same price.

R. J. Godston and Larry Ropes, general co-chairmen for the Mardi Gras, stated, "The Mardi Gras is the only all-school function of its kind with the purpose to only cover costs. If successful this will be made an annual event, so we urge everyone to attend."

Phyllis DeJana and Larry Ropes model sweaters that may be the prizes awarded for the best costumes at the Mardi Gras dance tomorrow night. The twenty-five dollar gift certificate may be used at a local store.

Pranks May Bring Crackdown

Our campus has recently been serving as a playground and garbage can for juvenile MSC pranksters. Such acts consist of a lumbering campaign attempted on one of the trees in front of Hannon Hall, the displaying of a Gold Bond stamp sign on top of Hapner Hall and the depository use being made of the SUB parking lot for empty beer cans.

Obviously the defacing of college property never entered the minds of the people participating in such activities. These actions not only infringe on the reputation of our institution, but are a direct reflection on the students in attendance here.

The cost of cleaning up such messes may not be too large, although replacing a pine tree may be very costly plus long operation, but the inconvenience and undesirable appearance of such action is what is so senseless. One positive thought at the right time could eliminate the entire problem.

Garbage cans are available in the SUB parking lot for extracting of litter and should be used as such.

If such a problem continues, only one alternative seems evident: a crackdown by the Administration, which seems to be rather unfair to the entire student body when the action was brought on by a few inconsiderate students.

Before such a crackdown comes, a quick inventory by these irresponsible students could save later grievances as well as cleaning up the looks of our campus.

Religious Emphasis Week is upon us; this is the one week during the year that Montana State College officially recognizes the existence of a God.

“You only get out of Religious Emphasis Week what you put into it.” This hackneyed philosophy from grade school has carried over into college; it would indicate that the more seminars a person attended, the more he would benefit. Not even by attending all the seminars are you guaranteed getting anything worthwhile out of the week. Not even then!

I am afraid that a result of the week might be that we shall unite in a dedicated faction to convert all the atheists and agnostics. I am afraid we might congratulate ourselves too readily that we are the “chosen people.” There is nothing so dangerous in the world as pious bigotry.

Since the majority of the people of this country profess to follow the doctrines of Christianity, we may with justification ask, “What is the value of Christianity to us?”

Many forms of philosophical thought preceded Christianity. These epochs of philosophical growth saw many people clinging to the concept in vogue. Many of these converts to a new idea were merely following the crowd. Instead of much thought behind their decision, there was only the too-rapid, “Yea, that sounds okay to me. Sign me up!”

Theatre Sets Play Tryouts

The theatre department announces that tryouts for “Home of the Brave”, by Arthur Laurents, will be held in the Student Union Theater Sunday afternoon, January 15, beginning at 2:30.

“Home of the Brave” is one of the first and best known of war plays dealing with racial and religious prejudice. It is set in the Pacific during World War I. The cast is small; there are only six parts, but they are all good ones. Performance dates are March 1, 2, and 3.

Copies of the play will be on reserve in the library until Saturday, January 14. Tryouts will be on open basis, and all interested people are urged to attend. Anyone interested in participating in technical work for this play is requested to see the director, Ted Hippely, at the theatre as soon as possible. There are openings on scenery construction, lighting, and sound crews, costumes, and props.

Chances Good For Voters To Pass Vets Education Bill

Chances that the next Congress will pass legislation giving educational benefits to veterans of peacetime service seem good, leaders of agencies which handle veterans educational benefits said this week. They have launched a letter writing campaign to get grass-roots support for the proposal.

Victor H. Wohlford, legislative director of the National Association of State Approval Agencies, wrote Air Force Times that his organization thinks President-elect John F. Kennedy favors such a bill.

Cited was a recent Kennedy letter to Robert W. Salling, NASAA President, in which the future President said "I am confident that the question (of a new GI education bill) will receive early attention in the upcoming Congress. I feel very strongly that a bill should help to raise and enrich our standards of education, not merely to enlarge the number of people who receive higher education."

Men who entered the military since Jan. 31, 1955, have not been eligible for veterans education benefits. Several bills providing such benefits have failed in recent years.

The NASAA is made up of agencies charged with the inspection, approval and supervision of all educational institutions which train veterans. There is an agency in each state.

Wohlford also said he has received word from Reps. Olin Teague (D., Tex.) and Wilbur D. Mills (D., Ark.) that they plan to re-introduce legislation which provides educational benefits for peacetime veterans. Teague is chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee which has announced it will schedule early hearings on the proposal next year.

NASAA is mailing letters to all schools urging student and faculty support of the legislation. For example, Joe Dorris, director of the veterans education program in Alabama, is sending the following letter to his schools:

"Legislation, during January, 1961, shall have a tremendous effect upon your institution, in that the continuation for the GI Bill of Rights to peacetime veterans shall be presented to Congress. Successful passage depends upon the effort put forth by all concerned—your enthusiastic participation is sincerely requested.

"This participation may be accomplished in the following manner. Have each of your students write his or her favorite senator or congressman endorsing, encouraging and requesting full consideration for proper presentation and successful passage of this legislation."

Mail all letters during week of January 16-21. Accept and carry out this directive—it is important to you.

and author of a book dealing with Norwegian church history.

The entire student body is invited to meet the speakers at a reception this Sunday in the SUB from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Panels, composed of three to four people, held discussions on TV in Billings, Butte, and Great Falls. There will also be daily briefs of the next day's activities Sunday through Thursday. Posters have been situated about the campus and letters circulated among the living groups. Programs are now available at the houses, dorms, and the SUB.

Even something as minor as printing the programs is quite an effort. Mr. Remington of the Art Department voluntarily had his class do prospective covers for the REW programs. The publicity committee held a contest and the winning cover has been designed by Gardiner Ryan.

A new feature of REW is the use of a play as a climax. Under the direction of Bryce Missal, the dramatics department will present "The Crucible," by Arthur Miller. In all other respects REW has essentially the same program as it did ten years ago in 1951 which was its first successful year.

REW provides the individual with the opportunity to explore his basic needs in religion, the relation of religion to campus activities, and the need for men and women to exhibit a vital, effective faith in today's world. This year's theme "In God We Trust?" challenges both students and speakers.

"I DIDN'T WANT TO BE STOCKPILED"

When Loren Gergens was working for his B.S. degree in Business Administration at the University of Denver, he had definite ideas about the kind of job he wanted to land. He was determined to profit from the experience of several of his friends who had accepted promising jobs only to find themselves in "manpower pools"—waiting to be pulled into a responsible position. "I didn't want to be stockpiled," Loren says. "That's no way to start."

As a senior, Loren talked to twelve companies and joined The Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Company, an associated company of the Bell Telephone System.

From his first day challenges were thrown at him thick and fast. First, he supervised a group of service representatives who handle the communications needs of telephone customers. Then he served as manager of several telephone business offices. In these jobs Loren had to prove himself on the firing line, make right decisions and carry them through. He knew his next jump depended on only one man—Loren Gergens.

In July, 1960, he was made Sales Manager in Boulder, Colorado.

"I'm on the ground floor of a newly created telephone marketing organization. And I can tell you things are going to move fast!" Loren says. "It's rough at times, but hard work is fun when you know you're going somewhere—in a business where there's somewhere to go."

If you're interested in a job in which you can be your own prime mover—a job in which you're given a chance to show what you can do, right from the start—you'll want to visit your Placement Office for literature and additional information.

"Our number one aim is to have in all management jobs the most vital, intelligent, positive and imaginative men we can possibly find."

7-Year ISC Jinx Broken By MSC

After losing to Idaho State for the past seven years, MSC's Bobcats finally succeeded in stopping the Bengals with a score of 75-61 last Saturday night after losing to the ISC team Friday night by a score of 61-60.

Over 3,000 fans were on hand Friday night to witness the Cats as they repeatedly missed easy shots during the first half of play. At half-time the Bobcats were trailing by a score of 34-32 and it looked as if they would lose by considerably more. But the second half of the game saw a different Bobcat team enter the game. The Bengals managed to keep ahead of the Cats and with seven minutes left in the game started a stall.

The Cats were able to come within three points of Idaho before losing.

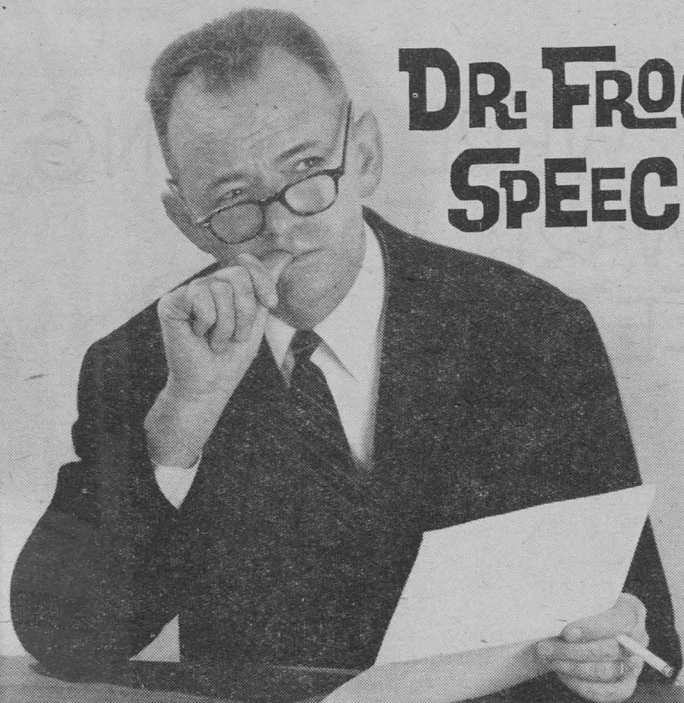

HEY, DAD, IT'S MINE—MSC's John Bryant gets into a game of keepies with an unidentified Bengal during Saturday night's fracas. Len Broz and Pete Carson keep tab on the rest of the Bengal five as the Cats went on to win 75-61.

GRADY VENABLE

Grady, a junior here at Montana State, played his high school basketball at Duncan high school in Duncan, Okla., where he captained his team and earned an all conference rating two years in a row.

He first attended Cameron State Junior College in Oklahoma, then he went to Murray State, also in Oklahoma, before transferring to MSC. Grady is 6' tall and weighs 180 pounds. His curriculum is electrical engineering and he is a Delta Sigma Phi pledge.

About him coach Lambert says, "He is adjusting well and is much improved and will definitely be an aid to the Bobcats."

BILL MINTON

Bill, also a junior, is a transfer from Oklahoma Christian College where he lettered two years in basketball. He is a natural left-hander and a good shooter and stands 6' 7" and weighs 190.

Bill's major is chemical engineering here at Montana State.

Dobbie Lambert said, "Bill has improved and progressed greatly in rebounding and scoring since he has been with the Cats and has bright prospects for the future."

Grapplers Take Two Over Weekend

Colorado Tourney S

Montana State's wrestling team makes its first home appearance of the 1961 season when it hosts Brigham Young University and Minot State Teachers College in a triangular meet Saturday afternoon.

The Bobcat matmen won their opening meets in Utah last weekend, defeating Utah State, 34-3, and Brigham Young, 23-12. Results of the two meets bore out coach Keith Bowen's contention that this year's team is at least on a par with the 1960 aggregation.

On Saturday the varsity wrestlers of MSC will face BYU with Minot Teachers College in a triangular meet at 2 p.m.
Both matches will be held in the MSC gymnasium here.

Fresh from their top place of the season, the State Bobcats prepare for their annual invasion of Colorado, where they'll begin Friday night at the Air Force Academy at the Academy.
MSC has never lost a match, but coach Bobbie warns that the Bobcats' hands full this year. MSC has defeated Ricks 11 times and holds a pair of wins over the Air Force

Engineers!

Scientists!

WE'RE LOOKING FORWARD TO MEETING YOU

Last year we had the pleasure of meeting many engineering and science seniors during our visit to the campus. As a result of our discussions, a gratifying number chose to join our company.
We'll be back on the dates below, and this notice is your invitation to come in and see us.
If you're interested in joining a company that's a leader in fields-with-a-future, you'll be interested in the advantages Boeing can offer you. Boeing is a major contractor on the advanced solid-fuel ICBM, Minuteman; on the boost-glide vehicle, Dyna-Soar, and on the BOMARC defense missile system. Boeing's Vertol Division is one of the country's foremost builders of helicopters.
Boeing is also the nation's foremost designer and builder of multi-jet aircraft. Production includes eight-jet B-52G missile bombers, KC-135 jet transport-tankers and the famous Boeing 707, 720 and 727 jet airliners.

Research projects at Boeing include celestial mechanics, solid state physics, nuclear and plasma physics, advanced propulsion systems, and space flight.
Expanding programs offer exceptional career opportunities to holders of B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in aeronautical, mechanical, civil, electrical-electronic and industrial engineering, and in engineering mechanics, engineering physics as well as in mathematics and physics. At Boeing you'll work in a small group where individual ability and initiative get plenty of visibility. You'll enjoy many other advantages, including an opportunity to take graduate studies at company expense to help you get ahead faster.

State's prophesy of a team came true two days in Laramie, Wyo., where the Bobcats provided one of the most upsets by defeating the champion Colorado University Bobcat slatmen over a 19-point deficit from the first day, MSC trailed CU by 19 points.

On the second day, the slalom and jumping events were held, with MSC winning both. In slalom, Garry Battistella placed 2nd, Miller 3rd, and Taylor 9th. In jumping, Finn Flugeim won first place honors, trailed by Fageraas with 3rd, and Taylor, 8th.

Miller Wins Woodburn Tourney

Last weekend the annual Jim Woodburn Memorial was held at Bridger Bowl with Bobcat team members sweeping the first five places.

The Woodburn Memorial is dedicated to a former MSC student, Jim Woodburn, who was killed in a car accident several years ago. He was at one time president of the MSC ski team, and a three-year letterman on the ski team.

Kenny Miller retained the trophy for the second year in a row with a time of 1:53.9. In second place was Garry Battistella, 3rd, Paul Renne, 4th, Flint Taylor, and Garry Keifer 5th. Bill Erwin was 2nd in the B class competition.

Travel to Winter Park

Tomorrow the skiers begin competition in Winter Park, Colorado in a featured event of the Denver University Winter Carnival. This is a four-way meet, that is, competition in four events, downhill, slalom, cross-country and jumping.

Coach Bob Beck said of the meet, "The boys will be up against the toughest competition of the season at Winter Park. Not only will Colorado University be there, but so will Denver University, which boasts a roster of three former Olympic team members. We'll have to do nothing short of our best to defeat competition such as this."

TOR FAGERAAS, new member of the MSC ski team, and the squad's strongest entry in the Nordic events, is shown during a cross-country workout. His specialties are jumping and the cross-country. A native of Noway, Tor is a sophomore majoring in Agriculture

Goalie Needed

Hockey Squad To Start Practice

Hockey is scheduled to begin in Bozeman as the Bozeman Lions Club hockey team begins regular practice. The team consists of many fine Canadian hockey players and a number from Montana as well. Practice schedules are now set up for two o'clock on Saturday and Sunday, if the weather permits. Anyone interested in playing hockey with this group this winter is urged to contact Mike Mower at Langford 324 or Herb McKelvey at Langford 225. The team needs a goalie at present and anyone interested in this position is especially welcome. The team is being coached this year by Jim Baldwin, a sophomore in commercial science, from Calgary.

These men and anyone else interested in hockey are asked to report to the hockey rink across from the Bozeman high school each Saturday and Sunday at two o'clock.

Dobbie's Cagers Overpower NDU

The Montana State basketball team won one out of three games played in the fieldhouse during the pre-Christmas holiday, while most of the students had already left the campus to spend the holiday season at home.

On December 17, the Montana State Bobcats lost to unbeaten Memphis State University by a score of 77-50. According to Coach Dobbie Lambert, Memphis State was the finest team to play in the MSC fieldhouse. The Tigers proved superior to the Cats as they swept to a lop-sided victory in the final minutes of the game. The Bobcats tied the game with 13 minutes remaining, but just couldn't cope with the speedy Tigers' fast-break in the closing minutes.

The Bobcats easily downed the North Dakota University of the North Central Conference with a score of 64-54 on December 19. Coach Lambert sent nearly a dozen Bobcats into the contest which proved to be a routine victory.

Then on December 22, the Cats tangled with New Mexico University, the defending Border Conference champion. New Mexico and Montana were nip-and-tuck until the final moments of play. George Knighton, a 6-7, 225-pound junior for the Border champs gave New Mexico the edge over the Bobcats when he scored 27 points and hauled down a bundle of rebounds in powering the rugged Aggies to their triumph.

Hapner Wins

The volleyball tournament of fall quarter was won by Hapner Hall with Delta Gamma and Alpha Omicron Pi runners-up respectively.

Basketball is now the focal point for most WAA members with all womens organized living groups having teams participating in the tournament this quarter. Thursday night a rules clinic was held in the gym to refresh officials and future players on the regulations of the game.

Campus Tales

by Marian Wylie

Hi! Here we start a brand new year and have another quarter's work to do.

To start the New Year off in good fashion, I would like to add some information to your ever-seeking little minds. Okay? Have you ever wondered how the different sorority houses announce their pinnings?

The Chi O's announce their pinnings in this way. All lights are turned out and the house-mother brings in a candle. The candle is then passed once around to every girl in the room. On the second time around, the girl who is to announce her pinning blows out the candle, and stands up to announce whom she is pinned to. Her box is then brought in by her little or big sister, and as she is passing out her candy, songs are sung.

The Alpha Gam's housemother also has a part in their pinnings. As soon as the lights are turned off, she leaves the room, and enters again with two lighted candles. One is placed on the fireplace mantel, and the other on the piano. She then leaves the room again bringing in the girl's box. She travels the room and picks out the pinned girl. The girl has to then give ten reasons why she accepted the pin. After this, the candy is passed.

The KD's had a chance to practice their pinning ceremony Tues. eve when Pam Mayer announced her pinning to Lee Blackwood, SAE. At the end of every general meeting at this house, the lights are turned off and the pinning song is sung. If a pinning is to be announced, the big or little sister of this girl leaves the room, and re-enters with the box. She then announces who is pinned.

The AOP's house had both engagements and marriages to announce. Marcia Gehle is now engaged to Paul Amundson, Independent, while Donna Richardson received a diamond for Christmas from Gary Miller, Lambda Chi. Marriages were plentiful over the holidays with Bonnie Aikins marrying Jim Nepsstad, Havre, Judy McNeill to Jack McLeod, SAE. Joanne Shively is now the wife of Lee Platt, Phi Sig, and Anne Schuler is now wearing the wedding band given to her by Tom Olson, Sigma Chi. Also the "Girl of AOPi" rose was awarded to Mrs. Jensen, housemother. The pinning ceremony for the AOPi's is performed with the housemother entering the darkened room with a candle, a red one signifying a pinning and a white one an engagement. This candle is passed around the room, with the girl who is pinned blowing it out. The boy's frat song is then sung, and the candy is passed.

Sharon Stevens was married to Dick Shope, Sigma Chi during the holidays and Sydney Hale is engaged to Harold McClintock as is Jan Christian to Lindy Royer, Lambda Chi. In the Pi Phi house no one passed candy this week, but here is how it is done. The lights are turned off, and singing is started. One girl brings in wine and blue candles, walks around the room until she comes to the girl who is pinned. The girl is then seated in the "pinning chair" where she is serenaded by the boy's frat song. Another friend then brings in her box, and it is passed around the room by the girl sporting the new pin. The president of the DG house plays an important role as she is the one who walks in with the candle. A cream rose corsage is placed on her desk. The corsage and candle are passed around the room, and the girl who is pinned receives the corsage, stands up and announces whom she is pinned to. "Dream Girl" is then sung, the box is gotten and passed around the room by the girl. Kay Winks announced her engagement to Danny Dean Sprague in this way. Also, other DG news are the recent pledges, Sharon Endresse, Janeth Johnson, and Carolyn Speck.

Hapner Hall has one more engagement ring within its walls. This is the one which Janet Dawson was given by Paul Ribino, College of Great Falls.

The Phi Sigs have some proud new pledges. They are Larry Brownell, Joe Broesder, Gordon Doig and Marshall Gingrey.

The SAE's received the announcement of Howard Hunter being pinned to Norma Hurlburt, Miles City.

Chuck Sumner announced his pinning to Mona Lissa, Washington State University at the Sigma Nu meeting. Also, I hear that the Alpha Gams gave the Sigma Nus some delicious fudge for Christmas. Ask any Sigma Nu for more details!

New officers at the Lambda Chi house are: President, Ed Harper; vice-president, John Wylie; secretary, Bob Black; treasurer, Jesse Malone; social chairman, Frank Gilliam; rush chairman, Steve Holt; ritualistic chairman, Steve Ferguson; pledge trainer, Dave Tillitt; correspondent, Paul Elder; house manager, John Timmons; and penalty board chairman, Chuck Davis.

There will be a Phi Sigma meeting at Lewis Hall, Tuesday, January 17, starting at 12:00 noon.

Campus Beauty Has Interesting Future Career

A campus beauty queen with a technical mind is a good description of Karen Tobin, sophomore at Montana State College. Karen has two distinctions—she has just been named Moonlight Girl for Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity and she is the only girl on the campus registered in engineering.

Karen is majoring in mechanical engineering and doesn't seem to mind being the only girl in the classes and laboratories, and the fellows seem to enjoy it very much.

She started out in civil engineering but her professors convinced her that a small girl struggling up a hill with surveying equipment and the rest of the paraphernalia just wouldn't go. Also, it's hard to imagine a small engineer, and a female at that, telling a burly 250-pounder how to build a bridge.

A 1959 graduate of El Cajon, Calif., high school, Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Tobin. Her father is a printer and Karen disclaims any engineering influences in her home.

She went to San Diego State last year as a freshman. Karen worked in Yellowstone Park last summer and fell in love with the country and the mountains so she decided that Montana State would be just what she wanted. It was a smaller college than most of the California colleges with a highly-rated engineering school, and it was away from her home.

After graduation, Karen would like to go into research in the area of fluids or structures. She would eventually like to get a masters and doctorate, but that's way off in the future.

1961: YEAR OF DECISION

Well sir, here we are in 1961, which shows every sign of being quite a distinguished year. First off, it is the only year since 1951 which begins and ends with the Figure 1. Of course, when it comes to Figure 1's, 1961, though distinguished, can hardly compare with 1911, which, most people agree, had not just two but three Figure 1's! This, I'll wager, is a record that will stand for at least two hundred years!

1911 was, incidentally, notable for many other things. It was, for example, the year in which the New York Giants played the Philadelphia Athletics in the World Series. As we all know the New York Giants have since moved to San Francisco and the Philadelphia Athletics to Kansas City. There is a movement afoot at present to move Chicago to Phoenix—the city, not the baseball team. Phoenix, in turn, would of course move to Chicago. It is felt that the change would be broadening for residents of both cities. Many Chicago folks, for example, have never seen an iguana. Many Phoenix folks, on the other hand, have never seen a frostbite.

There are, of course, certain difficulties attending a municipal shift of this size. For instance, to move Chicago you also have to move Lake Michigan. This, in itself, presents no great problem, what with modern scientific advances like electronics and the French cuff. But if you will look at your map, you will find that Lake Michigan is connected to all the other Great Lakes which in turn are connected to the St. Lawrence Seaway, which in turn is connected to the Atlantic Ocean. You start dragging Lake Michigan to Phoenix and, willy-nilly, you'll be dragging all that other stuff too. This would make our British allies terribly cross, and I can't say as I blame them. I mean, you yourself in their place. What if, for example, you were a British workman who had been saving and scrimping all year for a summer holiday at Brighton Beach, and then when you got to Brighton Beach there wasn't any ocean? There you'd be with your inner tube and snorkel and nothing to do all day but dance to Lambeth Walk. This, you may be sure, would not make you NATO-minded!

I appeal most earnestly to the residents of Chicago and Phoenix to reconsider. I know it's no bowl of cherries going through life without ever seeing an iguana or a frostbite, but ask you—Chicagoans, Phoenicians—is it too big a price to pay for preserving the unity of the free world? I am sure that if you search your hearts you will make the right decision, for all of us—whether we live in frostbitten Chicago, iguana-ridden Phoenix, or narrow-lapelled New Haven—are first and foremost Americans!

But I digress. We were speaking of 1961, our new year. And new it is! There is, for one thing, new pleasure in Marlboro Cigarettes. How can there be new pleasure in Marlboros when that fine, flavorful blend, that clean easy draw filter, have not been altered? The answer is simple: each time you light a Marlboro, it is like the first time. The flavor is such that it cannot wither nor custom stale. Marlboro never palls, never jades, never dwindles into dull routine. Each pack, each cigarette, each puff, makes you glad all over again that you are a Marlboro smoker!

So, Marlboros in hand, let us march confidently into 1961. May good fortune attend our ventures! May happiness reign in May Chicago and Phoenix soon recover from their disappointment and join our bright cavalcade into a brave tomorrow.

The makers of Marlboro and of the new unfiltered king-size Philip Morris Commander join Old Max in adding their good wishes for a happy and peaceful 1961.
