Harvest Ball Candidates Chosen

by Joy Loughridge

Annual Harvest Ball, sponsored by the MSC Agriculture Club, will be held November 4th to 12 in the Student Union.

Candidates for Harvest Ball queen were chosen by each sorority and the Independents.

Bohart, KD is an elementary education major from Fish. She is a sophomore, Bobcat cheerleader this La Loubbe is a junior in elementary education and is from Bozeman. She is a member of Phi Phi sorority of which she is chapter chairman. She is a member of Angel Flight, and Newman Club.

Rein, DG, is a sophomore general from Big Timber. Activities include Spurs, Exchange staff and is etiquette chair for the DG house.

AOPI's selection was their president, Peggy Ruff, a senior in Ec Education from Josephine. She belongs to Mortar Phi Epsilon Omicron, and Ec Club.

staff, Alpha Gamma, is a member in Home Ec Education from Chinook. She is president of Beta Sigma, a member of Beta Beta, and is calendar chair for AWS.

Lou Thompson, who was a candidate, is a freshman from Orsyth, majoring in nursing.

Guylyn Warren, Chi O, is a junior from Willow Creek and is in Bacteriology. Her activities include editor of the Student Senate handbook, house manager of the Chi O house, secretary of AWS, and a member of Westminster.

The candidates were guests at the Ag club meeting last Wednesday after which the queen was selected. She will be crowned Saturday night, November 4th at 11:00 by Alan Yenne, president of the Agriculture Club.

Tickets will be on sale Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday in the SUB and also in the Men's Dorms. The price will be $2 per couple now and $2.50 at the door. The dress is semi-formal and the Bobcat Ambassadors will be on hand to play. Free refreshments will be served.

New Housemothers Appointed To Several MSC Sororities

Five of the sororities have new housemothers this fall, while the housemothers from several other living groups are returning for another year of service.

Mary Ellen Jump of Alpha Omicron Pi is new to our campus though she has had experience as a housemother before. She has served in this capacity in Springfield, Missouri, at SMS; and she has spent several years in Los Angeles, California. When asked to comment, she reported that she loves "the girls, the mountains, and MSC."

Olive Egbert, who comes from Bozeman, is the new housemother at the Chi Omega house, and Mrs. Anderson is the new Pi Beta Phi housemother and is from Great Falls.

The Delta Gamma girls are getting acquainted with their new housemother. She is originally from Missoula and has filled the capacity of housemother for eight years at the University of New Mexico. When asked for a comment, Mrs. Finndel stated that we have more school spirit and a better average type of student here than in the places she was acquainted with before coming to Bozeman.

Mrs. Georgia Olsen of Glendive is the housemother this year for the Kappa Deltas. This is her first experience as housemother and she states that she enjoys it very much. She especially likes the country and the close contact with the girls.

Bus System Considered For Montana State

Preliminary meetings have been held concerning the possibility of starting a bus system between the campus and downtown Bozeman. Gerry Blackman and Tom Richardson, who met with Chamber of Commerce representatives last week, reported they were very encouraged by the response and will be conducting a survey in the near future to determine at which times the bus would be needed the most. A bus system of this type would probably have to be partially supported by the businessmen as a fare of ten or fifteen cents would not cover operating expenses.

Word has been received from "The Renegades", a four-piece rock and roll band from Butte, that they are open for bookings in this area if any organizations are interested.

Students having suggestions for resolutions to be discussed at the meeting with MSU's Central Board this weekend are asked to contact any Senate member. A delegation of Student Senate representatives will travel to Missoula Sunday to set up these resolutions before the Bobcat-Grizzly game.

The Men's Residence Association has asked for an ex-officio seat on Senate. It was decided to wait two weeks before voting on this.

Bob Morgan announced that he is getting married this Saturday so there will be no Steering Committee meeting next Monday.

Thanks and congratulations were extended to all those who worked to make Homecoming such a successful event. Suggestions were made for a more effective system of painting the "M" as some difficulty was encountered this year. John Pete-lin, Commissioner of Demonstrations, announced that "Go Western Day" will be November 10, the day before the Bobcat-Grizzly game, and a send-off is being planned for the drama group before it makes its overseas tour. A Pep Band has been formed which played at the Homecoming game and will continue to play at basketball games this year.

Both the Debate Team and the Meats Judging Team made successful trips during the past week.

Wes Anderson, Commissioner of Musical Affairs announced that 140 Community Concert tickets were sold during the campus drive compared to about 70 for last year.

Sigma Chi, Pi Beta Phi Take '61 Float Sweepstake Honors

Sigma Chi fraternity and Pi Beta Phi sorority have been awarded the Sweepstakes prize for their float and house decorations during the Homecoming celebration.

Bob Mann, Homecoming chairman, announced today that the two winners will be awarded $25 each for their decoration efforts.

Sigma Chi won first place in the men's house decorating contest with a display depicting a drive-in college in the year 2000. In the float competition, Sigma Phi Epsilon won with a theme of "Social Fads."

Miss Universe of 2000 was named the best float in the women's division. The float was constructed by members of the Pi Beta Phi house. Delta Gamma placed first in the house decorations with their version of "Christmas in 2000."

Results were as follows:

Women's Floats

1st, Pi Beta Phi; 2nd, Alpha Omicron Pi, and 3rd, Delta Gamma.

Women's House Decorations

1st, Delta Gamma; 2nd, Pi Beta Phi, and 3rd, Kappa Delta.

Women's Sweepstakes

1st, Pi Beta Phi; 2nd, Delta Gamma, and 3rd, Alpha Omicron Pi.

Men's Floats

1st, Sigma Phi Epsilon; 2nd, Sigma Chi, and 3rd, Delta Sigma Phi.

Men's House Decorations

1st, Sigma Chi; 2nd, Men's Residence Hall, and 3rd, Phi Sigma Alpha.

Men's Sweepstakes

1st, Sigma Chi; 2nd, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and 3rd, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

A WINNING FLOAT after lots of hard work and worry was one of the big climaxes of Homecoming. Sigma Phi Epsilon won the float contest with their float depicting "Social Fads in the Year 2000". The men who were honored were the creator of world peace, inventor of a cure for cancer, the first man into space and the winner of an Olympic event.

Editorially Speaking

Transit Line Suggested

Recently there has been talk around MSC about installing a "bus system" or public transportation means. This would amount to a bus service sponsored by the downtown merchants for the college students, and people in this end of town.

There is an acute need for a system of this sort on campus. With the ruling of no cars for freshmen, we have approximately 1200 students in just the freshman class that have no means of transportation. This is just one example of the need. With the progressive stiffening of traffic regulations that is bound to come with the greater enrollment each year, combined with the generally cramped traffic conditions on campus, there is no way that the rulings can be changed. They can only become more strict. One other situation that must be considered is the variety of weather, mostly bad, which we experience in Bozeman that makes it practically impossible to use a car at times. Taxi service is out due to expense and inconvenience. These are just a few of the reasons why MSC needs a public transportation service.

There are many who would benefit from the installation of a bus system besides the college students. The downtown merchants would have a greater number of students in their places of business, hence, increasing their profits. Faculty and staff members of MSC would have a convenient means of travel. Of course, the greatest gain would be by the students, both married and single, themselves.

Many types of service could be considered. Scheduled daily runs, evening service, weekend routes, and routing right through the heart of the campus (Garfield Street), past the residence halls and married housing are all possibilities. This hurdle can be overcome when and if the system is approved.

Bozeman used to have a city bus system, primarily for the college students, but at that time it was an inefficient proposition due to the smaller enrollment of the college. Now, with our present enrollment (nearly double what it was at the time of the previous bus system) it would undoubtedly pay its own way, and probably make a profit.

The EXPONENT feels this is something that MSC needs, and which should be brought to the attention of all the students. The only way this can be brought about is through student desire and participation. The need and the opportunity are presented — DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT!

Letters to the Editor

Letter Branded Over-Emotional

(Having received the necessary permission from Dean Esther Brown, I am reprinting the letter sent to the parents of some of the Pi Beta Phi pledges.)

Dear Mr. and Mrs. _____:

It is with regret that I feel obligated to write to you concerning a recent episode in which your daughter, _____, participated. Not knowing what standards of personal behavior you have attempted to instill in your daughter, I shall present the facts to you. You then can make your own evaluation.

The Sigma Chi Fraternity, without clearing with any responsible member of the college staff, planned an activity for October 7 which included a preliminary activity of challenging each sorority pledge class to attempt to steal as many Sigma Chi derby hats as possible within a given period of time. The pledge class stealing the greatest number would be awarded a prize. The efforts to steal these derbies resulted in chasing, wrestling, and rolling together amongst the sorority pledges and the Sigma Chi. This behavior was appalling to all individuals of any maturity of judgment concerning acceptable behavior of young women. However, this particular kind of effort to steal derbies proved mild as compared to the effort of twenty of the Pi Beta Phi pledges. On Friday morning, October 6, through misrepresentation of their reason for wanting to leave Hannon Hall before it opened officially at 6:00 a.m., one of the Pi Phi pledges prevailed upon Mrs. Nitz, the head resident, to have the main front door open for them to leave by 5:00 a.m. Upon leaving Hannon Hall, the seventeen Hannon Hall pledges who participated were joined by three pledges who are Bozeman residents, and as a group went to Hamilton Hall.

While the new Sigma Chi House is under construction, the Sigma Chi is living in Hamilton Hall. The Pi Phi pledges entered Hamilton Hall through the ground level dining room door, and proceeded upstairs to the floors occupied by the Sigma Chi. They attempted to find derby hats in any likely place, which included clothes closets in the men's rooms. Naturally, the men were awakened. During the general free-for-all which resulted, several Pi Phi pledges were cold tubbed and some Sigma Chi, embarrassed by their state of undress, hid in closets. Exactly how long this fiasco went on, I do not know.

When I talked with the pledge who had arranged for the early departure from Hannon Hall, I felt that in spite of her saying the group regretted their action, that the smile of satisfaction on her face belied her words. I hope I misjudged her, and that more knowledge of her will prove that I have misjudged her.

Halloween Rites Are Nothing New

by Mickey Dugan

Halowe'en is here again bringing with it ghosts, goblins, and witches who wander from house to house echoing their battle-cry. "Trick or Treat."

This holiday dates back to the era of the Druids. Each year, during harvest, they celebrated the holiday of the dead. The Druids believed that on this day the spirits of those who had died, returned to their homes to seek warmth and food. They were accompanied by evil demons who returned to ruin the harvest and steal farm animals. Wise Druids lit bonfires to serve as a beacon for their dead and a means of destruction for the evil spirits.

Today witches and demons are replaced by toddling "Mickey Mouses" and teenage Marsians who travel about from house to house in search of "goodies". Wise parents, like wise Druids, have a light in the window, plenty of food available, and their cars, complete with hub caps, safely tucked in a locked garage.

active chapter and the former president, who was acting president the beginning of the quarter, expressed concern and regret over the incident, campus talk is that this early morning raid was proposed to the pledge class by active chapter members, and that the "concern" and "regrets" are for the episode being brought to the attention of college authorities. Common opinion is that privately the active chapter and its officers are very much amused and consider the episode very cute and collegiate. This is, of course, hearsay evidence.

To campus the seventeen pledges living in residence halls who participated is too mild a punishment for this level of behavior. Campuses are associated with lesser offenses. The other alternatives was to place each pledge on Social Probation. In spite of the seriousness of the offense, I am reluctant to brand a new freshman with Social Probation after just three weeks on campus. Social Probation means that if the student makes one more serious mistake in judgment or breaks any major regulation, she is liable for immediate suspension.

Because I believe both the Sigma Chi and the active members of Pi Phi contributed to the fiasco by their own lack of judgment, I prefer to give the pledges participating in this fiasco the benefit of the doubt and not penalize them at this time. However, should any of these twenty

"The Word To Be Heard"

By NORM LARSEN

You know, when you really sit right down and think about it, there's nothing to building a float. That's why when the parade chairman came around and asked if we (I was public relations man for the Professional Engineering Students Society here at MSC) were going to enter a float in the annual Homecoming parade, I replied, "but naturally." After all, we P.E.S.S. men aren't to be taken lightly. I thought we could get a big flat bed truck and re-enact some important event in history, such as the first World War, or the changing of the guard at Buckingham palace would be pretty impressive. Our treasurer also had an idea. Why don't we all get bicycles and wear funny clothes and hang signs on our backs saying "our float's farther back," and then just not have a float! Thus, the float funds could be used for refreshments just before the parade. This idea was finally accepted by the society only to find that a scholastic honorary was already using our plan. As our theme was to be "space monsters of the year 2000," we finally decided to build a large yellow space ship with a red blinker on the top and an aerial on the back, and inside would be our space monster. And so committees were formed, with our girl auxiliary in tow, set out to build our float. So was the word to be heard—

Let's see, I guess I've got my tools. Hammer, saw, nail wire, church key.

What do you mean, the truck out of gas?

I know it's 20 above and snowing, so stand still while I spin some nice warm gold pains.

You're driving, eh. O.K., get in you just—er, that is, we.

Well, chief, it was this way: was stuffing in napkins and cleaned over and I guess some coals fell from my cigar, so the next thing I knew—

You say both front tires went flat?

Well, gang, there she is! A teen feet of towering glory! what's all this babbling about ten foot garage door?

Misunderstood Event Worth Of Major Holiday Observance

by Jim Goetz

Were you shocked at the amount of work you had to make up after last weekend? Don't you need a vacation to recover from homecoming? I have found a solution: a short five-day Halloween vacation. I share the opinion with many people that Halloween is an under-rated holiday. It is my firm belief that Halloween ranks right along with Christmas and Easter as top holidays.

Christmas has its Santa Claus, Easter has its Easter Bunny, and Halloween has its witches and goblins. In comparing these holidays I must admit that Santa Claus is greater than any witch or goblin. After all, even a rich witch who owns a high-powered, super-sonic broom with dual headlights couldn't compare to the unbeatable combination of Santa and Rudolph. But when you look at Peter Cottontail, it's another story. The only attribute a rabbit has is its high rate of reproduction.

The witches have a number of points in their favor. Aside from domesticating the flying broom, witches can also brew up a pretty hot stew. Witches and goblins have also played an important part in classical literature. I believe that Macbeth who has never made king if the witches hadn't been there to help him on. Also, where would Hamlet have been if the ghost of his father had failed to make a scene? Therefore, it is very probable that William Shakespeare would be in favor of a Halloween vacation if he were around today. As the situation now stands, he has only his ghost to help out.

Pi Beta Phi pledges make another serious error in judgment, or break a major regulation, she will immediately be placed on Social Probation and be given an extended campus.

Certainly, Dean Brown, I must agree that you have the authority to reprimand or punish girls for activities which you deem unacceptable behavior. However, the letter which I have reprinted seems to me the result of irrational emotionalism on your part, rather than the good judgment one would expect from a woman of your training and experience. I consider the letter to be filled with half-truths based on your own viewpoint and not an acceptable evidence.

Why is there so much opposition to this holiday? It is possible that the administration still remembers our last Halloween vacation back in 1937 when the poultry barns were raided and by some odd coincidence a mixture of rotten eggs and fertilizer was found on the floor of Montana Hall. I always wondered why chickens were allowed to go through the front door and yet frozen couldn't.

Another likely source of opposition to this vacation is the expense. I doubt if they would take another holiday if it were like the one we had last year.

Now we all realize how much weight the sophomore class carries on this campus. They have the administration on their side for a change, so I guess they will be no Halloween vacation this year.

I believe that in the past actions have been of such a nature as to demonstrate the qualifications for your job. However, this letter seems to me an insult to the parents of the girls, and to the Pi Phi and Sigma Chi's, and to the fraternal system as a whole at MSC. We are mature people—and expect to be treated as such.

MSC Debaters Begin Season

Along with sloppy study is just about the best way for debaters to drop matches and out in their courses.

says Montana State College coach Leslie A. Lawrence, the team opened the year last Saturday with the State Tournament at Idaho College in Pocatello.

Debaters will put in 400 hours each year preparing tournaments. "If they're not organized and don't use their time wisely," says Lawrence, "it shows up in matches in their study habits."

Members of the Montana State debate team traveled more than 1300 miles last year, were on the honor roll and were ranked in the top half of their class. Take this year's top performer, Jack Dunn of Livingston, for example. Last year Dunn participated in all of MSC's debate tournaments, majored in the tough electrical engineering course, and still earned an academic scholarship for his high grade point average.

Intelligent organization and concentrated study habits helped to earn MSC the ranking of "one of the ten best debate teams in the country" by sponsors of the Dixie Tournament.

In addition to Dunn, other veteran debaters are John Nickey, Bozeman, pre-law; Don Wolfe, Hardin, general studies; Roy Weston, Helena, economics; Arnold Malone, Rosalind, Alberta, agriculture; Keith Wilson, Miles City, industrial arts; Dan Johnson, Bozeman, film and T.V.; Duane Boe, Chinook, economics; Idell Weydemeyer, Fortine, home economics; and Lonnie Thomas, Hamilton, secondary education.

Internationals Set Activities

Paul Sakellaridis, International Club President, has laid out a calendar of activities for the Fall Quarter of '61 which is as follows:

October 27, 7:30 p.m.
United Nations Day Program.
October 28, 5:00-10:00 p.m.
International Festival.
Place: Field House.
Admission: $1.00 per family, $.25 per individual.
This is a joint festival with the United Church Women of Bozeman with the aim of fostering international understanding and friendship. For further information, please contact Mrs. Paul Jordan, overall chairman of the festival, or club members.
November 9, 7:00 p.m.
A joint meeting with the Faculty Women's Club.
December 1, 7:30 p.m.
An officer of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, Helena, will speak and answer questions about policies and regulations governing students from other countries.
December 8
Christmas Party.
(Place, time and other details will be announced later.)

Montanans, Chorus Announce Current Season's Attractions

From Mr. Buckley, of the music department, we have obtained information concerning the various choral groups on campus.

The Chorale called The Montanans, now numbers nearly seventy select voices—one of the largest groups in many years. Its members represent many campus organizations and honoraries, and includes the student body president, Spurs and Fangs, actors, athletes, painters, etc. A large percentage of the group remained from last year, and many new members were added. "This year's tenor section is the largest and finest yet, and rivals that of any other campus," says Mr. Buckley.

The largest undertaking this year will be to present excerpts from Mussorgsky's opera, BORIS GODUNOV. This work will be presented in the Little Theatre on April 16, 17, and 18, with the Symphonette, and will go on tour throughout the various high schools in late March. For the fall music assembly in December, the group has prepared Brahms' famous MOTET: Create in Me, O God, a Clean Heart. Other composers represented this year will be Bach, Tchaikovsky, and Mozart. A special attraction will be the Habanera from Bizet's opera CARMEN, sung by Marcia Mockel, alternating with Sandra Cox, and backed by the Chorale. Rawla Knight is the accompanist, assisted by Gloria Boe.

Rehearsals are held in Reid Hall on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, from 4:30 until 5:45 in room 105. Interested listeners are welcome.

The general chorus numbers about 100 voices this year, and is open to all without audition. Rehearsals are on Monday evening from 7:30 until 9:00 in room 103 of Reid Hall. This year they are singing some compositions of Morley and Arcadelt, The Coventry Carol, and some French carols. Later, they will sing some spirituals and lighter numbers. Since there is no limit to the number who may join, new members are always welcome.

Ariel Fry, a Freshman from Cut Bank, is the accompanist for the Montanans this year. The group will present a program of sacred music on Wednesday evening, November 29, at St. James Episcopal Church. This is only a concert—no service will be held. No admission will be charged, and everyone is welcome. Included will be Bach's Cantata No. 78; Jesu Der Du Meine Seele.

Further information concerning these groups will appear in future editions of the EXPONENT.

Corps to Meet

There will be a meeting of all those interested in the Peace Corps on Thursday, November 2, at 9:00 p.m. in room 317 of the SUB.

The latest developments of the Peace Corps will be discussed and information on the Peace Corps will be available to any newcomers.

Projects for MSC students will be planned and discussed. Everyone is welcome to attend and participate in this informal group.

C.E. Student Receives Award

Fred D. Feuerbacher, Montana State College sophomore chemical engineering student from Laurel, is the recipient of a $250 scholarship from the Intermountain Chemical Division of FMC Corporation, it was announced today by Professor Lloyd Berg, department head.

Feuerbacher was selected on the basis of his superior scholastic performance at MSC.

FMC Corporation, with home offices in Green River, Wyo., operates a soda ash plant at Green River, a coke briquet plant at Kemmerer, Wyo., and an elemental phosphorus plant at Pocatello, Idaho.

The scholarship fund was established this year at MSC to encourage student in the study of chemical engineering. Being active in the northern Rocky Mountain region, the FMC Corporation is interested in MSC chemical engineering graduates as prospective employees.

Two Appointed To MSC Staff

Two new appointments have been made to the Montana State College faculty, it was announced this week by Dr. R. R. Renne, MSC president.

Receiving appointments effective Nov. 1 are Henry E. K. Herrington and Emmett R. Holekamp. The new faculty members will both instruct in the Division of Agriculture.

Holekamp, an associate professor, will teach agricultural engineering. Herrington will instruct classes in agricultural economics and rural sociology, economics, and sociology.

A 1943 graduate of Texas A&M, Holekamp earned his M.S. degree from the U. of California in 1951. For the past four years he has been in Lubbock, Texas, working with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Holekamp was an instructor and assistant professor at the U. of Arizona from 1946 to 1955, where he taught agriculture engineering. He spent the next two years with the U. of Idaho Experiment Station in Moscow, Idaho. Holekamp, who is married and has two children, served in the U. S. Army during World War II. He was discharged in 1946 with the rank of captain.

Holekamp fills the vacancy created by the resignation of Lynn F. Johnson.

Henry Herrington, a psychology graduate from Swarthmore College, Pa., has been tutoring and attending classes for the past two years at London University in England. He was a student at London University in the School of Economics and Political Science from 1951-55.

From 1957-59, Herrington was in Beirut, Lebanon, where he served as an instructor in sociology at the American University of Beirut. He also taught one year in the American Community High School in Beirut.

Herrington was employed with the trust department of the Chase-Manhattan Bank, Wall Street Branch, in New York City for one year in 1956. Herrington who is single, served two years with the U. S. Army from 1944-46. He replaces George V. Douglas on the MSC faculty.

Asian Paintings On Exhibit Here

"The Hong Kong Scrolls," an exhibit of Chinese art, will be on display from October 24 to November 1 in the Fireplace Room of Herrick Hall on Montana State College campus.

On Thursday, October 26, at 8 p.m., Cyril Conrad, head of the School of Art at MSC, will present a gallery talk with the scrolls as his subject at a meeting of the Bozeman Art Association. The meeting and the talk are open to the public.

The scroll paintings are from the New Asia College in Hong Kong and were sent to the United States for exhibition in universities and colleges. The exhibit was prepared by the World University Service Hong Kong committee for WUS centers abroad as a contribution through cultural exchange to mutual understanding between East and West.

There are 26 paintings in the exhibit, 20 by students and 6 by the faculty from the college.

Though painted by Chinese artists of today the exhibit is of historical interest through the traditional art of "Presenting a height of ten thousand feet in lines of three inches and a distance of a hundred miles in ink spread over a few feet," as the Chinese style and technique has been described.

The Fireplace Room is open weekdays from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Saturdays until noon.

Nursing Students Rate High; Curriculum Offers Challenge

Although standards get higher each year, students at Montana State College School of Nursing are continuing to pass the State Licensure Test for Registered Nurses with amazing regularity, according to Mrs. Laura Walker, Professor of Nursing.

Since 1958 MSC students who have studied for two years and qualified for the Associate Degree have chalked up a test record which is next to perfect. Although a candidate may occasionally slip on one phase of the test, most breeze through all five sections with high scores. No one from MSC has ever failed the complete test.

One explanation for the girls' success on the Licensure Test is the rigorous course of study which must be completed before a student can be recommended for admission to the examination. Because of new discoveries in medicine and the emphasis on disease as it relates to the patient, the nursing curriculum has become increasingly more difficult.

Even faculty members rate it an intellectual challenge. "A girl studying nursing today must be prepared to meet a demanding course of study," says Mrs. Walker. "A nurse in today's world must be better educated, make more important decisions, and have a more thorough understanding of people, so the Montana State course is set up to meet high standards."

Because nursing candidates must achieve a 2.0 (C) average to qualify for MSC's Associate Degree, cracking the Licensure Test isn't too difficult for these students. They've been whipping through classes like "Micro Relation to Man," "Anatomy and Physiology," 11 units of "Psychiatric Nursing," and "Introduction to Medical Surgery Nursing."

In fact after eight quarters at Montana State, the girls are prepared for just about any kind of nursing situation which might arise. Their curriculum has prepared them for medical and surgical nursing, the nursing of new mothers and babies, care of both well and sick children, mental disorders, and the nursing of patients with communicable disease.

For most students at MSC, however, the first two years only form the framework of a four year education which concludes with the B.S. degree. Twelve students are even working towards their masters' degree at the School of Nursing.

"Although a nurse won't work as hard physically these days as she did in the past," states Mrs. Walker, "the course requires more concentrated study, more real thought."

"By the time a student finishes our school we hope that she has a substantial body of nursing knowledge, that she is able to think and make intelligent decisions," said Mrs. Walker. "She should certainly be a competent practitioner of nursing."

A close examination of the course of study and the number of students knocking out the state test reveals to most observers here that instructors are succeeding in their goal.

Students Attend Talks In Ariz.; MSC Site Of Next Conference

by Halleck Brenden

Five Montana State College students represented MSC and its residence halls at the recent conference of the Rocky Mountain region of the National Association of College and University Residence Halls, which was held at the University of Arizona in Tucson, October 13 and 14.

The five students were J. B. McNeil, Dick Peterson, Judy Thompson, Jack Sims, and Wess Anderson, who is the vice president of this region of the ACURH.

The western state delegates discussed the operations and functions of residence halls with reference to governmental and social programs, and suggested ideas on how to improve and promote good study habits in the dormitories. They also covered the introduction of culture into the residences.

Keynote Speaker

The keynote speaker was Mrs. Evelyn J. Kirmse, who is a Past President of the Board of Regents of Arizona, and also a Past Dean of Women at the University.

She said that the primary function of a residence hall was to be a student residence, instead of a social club, with its activities in tune with educational purposes.

Dr. Willis Vandiver Added to MSC Faculty

Dr. Willis Vandiver, the new Associate Professor of Education, has just recently become a permanent member of the MSC faculty. Prior to coming to MSC, Dr. Vandiver taught at the University of Houston in Houston, Texas.

Dr. Willis Vandiver, Associate Professor of Education, became a permanent member of Montana State Colleges faculty July 1, 1961. He has been previously associated with MSC during the summers of 1959, '60, and '61 teaching classes during summer school.

Originally from Idaho, Dr. Vandiver received his Liberal Arts degree from South Idaho College of Education, majoring in Social Studies and with two minors, English and mathematics. He began his teaching career in 1940 in a rural school in Idaho. After seven years he became Supervising Elementary Principal in Greeley, Colorado. While there, he received his Masters and Doctor's degree at Colorado State College in elementary education with a minor in psychology and guidance.

In the fall of 1954, Dr. Vandiver was appointed Director of Elementary Education for Billings, Montana. Also during the years 1954 and 1955 he taught at Eastern Montana College of Education and in the summer of 1956, he conducted a reading clinic and conference at Eastern. As a consultant to the Elementary Education department of the department of Health, Education and Welfare, Dr. Vandiver went to Washington, D. C. in 1957 to help set up a study to rework the "Organization of Supervision of Elementary Education in 100 Cities."

In 1958 he taught at the University of Houston in Houston, Texas. From Houston, Dr. Vandiver returned to Montana and taught summer school at MSC for three summers and became Associate Professor of Education at MSC in 1961.

Speakers' Bureau Is Now Organized

Clarence L. Brammer of the English department at Montana State College has announced that the Student Speakers' Bureau has been organized for the year and is ready to accept speaking engagements from clubs and groups over the state.

The members of the bureau are experienced speakers with special qualifications for dealing with the subject matter they offer through the bureau.

Subjects range from interpretative reading to foreign affairs. An international flavor can be supplied by foreign students who are prepared to talk on their countries, their religion and customs. The varsity debate group will provide debate, or individual speakers and students who are preparing for the U. S. Peace Corps will be available for talks on that subject.

Brammer said organizations will have a choice of ten or twelve speakers and as many topics of varied interest. There is no charge for speakers except expenses.

A brochure listing speakers and their subjects is being prepared and can be obtained by writing to Clarence L. Brammer, Director, Student Speakers' Bureau, Room 303 Montana Hall, Montana State College, Bozeman.

Market Bazaar Opens Saturday

by Gerry Blackman

Tomorrow night in the fieldhouse, a special event, a market bazaar, will be in full swing. This occasion has been made possible through the combined efforts and diligent work of the United Church Women and the International Club. The bazaar is open to everyone. Proceeds will go into a scholarship fund for an American Indian student. In the event the scholarship is not taken, it will go to a foreign student.

This international event, hosting about thirty countries represented at MSC, is in commemoration of United Nations Day which was October 24th. The idea behind the project, as stated by International Club President Paul Sakellaridis, is "to provide an opportunity for people to learn about the cultural aspects of the various nations including their crafts, music, dress, food dishes, and entertainment."

One International Club member, Jugadish Desai, remarked that the market bazaar and all other similarly sponsored events, "present a new challenge—a special challenge to the students of MSC to participate in the international cooperation effort."

An important point to be considered here is that U. S. students represent their country with other countries that comprise the international festival. The term international does not mean that the countries lose their individual identities, but that they are able to learn about the cultural aspects of the other member countries.

The opportunity for students of many nations to meet together on an informal basis and discuss relevant issues and ideas provides a stable foundation on which to build toward greater international cooperation and world understanding.

This is truly a challenge. It is hoped that you and I will meet this challenge.

Bobcats Hit Road

Cats Meet ISC

By Bill Walter

The Bobcats travel to Pocatello tomorrow for a contest with the Bengals of Idaho State College. The Cats will have to face a Homecoming crowd of Idaho fans who will be eager to revenge a 14-9 victory by the Cats here last year.

This game could well decide the unofficial small college title for this area. The Bengals defeated the strongest contender for the title, Arizona State of Flagstaff, three weeks ago and their season's record going into tomorrow's game is four wins and one tie.

The Bobcats have been unable to win in Pocatello since 1954 and the fact that the Bengals have scored 123 points against 39 for their opponents' must make things any easier for the Cats.

Coach Herb Agocs says of the Idaho club, "They have a stronger running game than any club we've met this season. It's the strongest club they've had since the unbeaten 1957 team."

In addition to the win over Arizona State, the Bengals have downed Colorado Mines, Western Colorado State, and last week edged by Drake U., 12-11. Their tie was a contest with Hamilton Air Force Base in the season's opener.

The Bobcats are undefeated in their last four games, though they were held to a tie by Augustana College last weekend. Said Coach Herb Agocs, "Under the circumstances, we thought the club played pretty well. It was virtually impossible to put together a drive."

Agocs labeled last Saturday as the worst day for football he has seen in ten years. The sub-freezing temperatures and constant snowfall doomed the game as a defensive struggle after the first period.

The two rivals are about even in the line, but the Bengals seem to have an edge in the backfield. They have three experienced quarterbacks and in Jerry Mahoney, a 190-pound senior, one of the top fullbacks in the area.

The Bobcats should be at full strength this weekend. Tackle Bob Biastoch will return to the lineup after missing the Augustana game because of illness. Guard Jim Berg, who played very little last week, should see a lot of action against the Bengals.

The probable starting lineup for the Cats: ends, Bill Cords and Gordon Schlabs; tackles, Bob Biastoch and Ken Young; guards, Steve Sobonya and John Munk; center, Bob Cegelski; quarterback, Bill Mulcahy; halfbacks, Jerry Johnson and Jack Cameron; and fullback, Bucky May.

Intramural Play Halted By Snow

The MRA intramural football has been at a standstill because of the snow. League leaders have not changed since the last publication. When play resumes the opposing teams will be sporting new scrimmage vests purchased by the MRA. The new vests are blue, gold, red, and green.

Plans are being outlined for a ping pong tournament in the residence halls. Interest is also high for the coming volleyball season.

Intramural Week

by Jack Readicker

The snowstorm put a halt to intramural activities this past week. With the season about half finished, here are the standings in the all-school league. Last year's champs, the Sigma Chis, are leading the league. The AGRs and the Delta Sigs are tied for second and the Kappa Sigs and SAEs are knotted for third. In fourth place are the Sigma Nus followed by the Lambda Chis in fifth, the Phi Kaps in sixth, and the Sig Eps, Phi Sigs, and Men's Co-op holding down seventh, eighth and ninth respectively.

The winner of the all-school league will meet the champion of the MSU all-school circuit at 11:00 on Nov. 11. The game will be played on the baseball diamond behind the fieldhouse.

All you prospective cross-country men start getting on your track shoes. The all-school cross-country race will be the 11th of November at 10:00. Sign-ups for the race will be in the locker room of the old gym from 9:00 to 9:45 on the 11th. This race is open to everyone. The winner will receive a trophy.

Also on the intramural agenda for this quarter is the all-school wrestling.

Blast The Bengals

A DRIVE BEGINS as the Bobcat offense began to move in contest last Saturday against Augustana. The game with the Vikings was played in a constant blizzard with the temperature well below freezing. The Cats will invade Bengal land tomorrow Saturday when they travel to Pocatello, Idaho for a tilt with Idaho State.

Bobcats And Augustana Tie 6-6

by Bill Walter

DEFENSIVE line play for the Cats was outstanding in holding the Vikings of Augustana to a 6-6 tie. Homecoming fans were disappointed with the weather which held the Bobcat passing attack to a minimum.

The Augustana Vikings combined the adverse weather conditions and a much better team than had been expected to hold the Bobcats to a 6-6 tie in the 1961 Homecoming game. The below-freezing temperatures and constant snowfall hindered the attacks of both squads.

It was the first time since 1952 that the Bobcats had failed to win their Homecoming contest.

About 4,000 fans braved the poor weather last Saturday, including Governor and Mrs. Donald Nutter and Lt. Governor and Mrs. Tim Babcock who were in town for the Homecoming activities.

The Vikings took the opening kick-off as if they knew nothing about their underdog role and marched for the first touchdown in only seven plays, as quarterback Ron Mitchell tossed a 20-yard aerial to halfback Doyle Schuler for the score. The run for the conversion failed when the Cat line stopped fullback Fred Hecker short of the goal line.

The Bobcats also scored in the first period when quarterback Harry Lopzonski tossed a short pass to Jack Cameron for the Bobcat's only score. The pass from center on the extra point attempt was bobbled and the kick was short.

The rest of the first half and most of the third period developed into a defensive battle with neither team threatening. Late in the third quarter, however, the Cats marched to the Viking 15 before a penalty and a tough Augustana defense halted the drive.

Late in the final period the Vikings started a drive of their own and marched to the Bobcat 14 before losing the ball on downs. The Cats took over but were unable to score in the waning minutes of the contest.

The Viking's Fred Hecker kept the Bobcats in their own territory much of the time with seven quick kicks. Bill Mulcahy did a fine job of punting on the six occasions when the Cats were forced to punt.

Jerry Johnson did an outstanding job for the Cats as he gained 71 yards in 13 attempts, while fullback Bucky May picked up 49 yards in eight tries. Doug Wray led the Vikings with 76 yards gained in 14 attempts.

Despite the bad weather, both sides attempted quite a few passes, the Cats 19 and the Dakotans eight. Fumbles also plagued both clubs on many occasions though each team lost only one.

The Bobcats ran almost twice as many plays as did the Vikings, but because of fumbles, the statistics were almost even.

The Cats now have a 3-2-1 record for the season while Augustana has a 2-3-1 record for the campaign.

Keglers Open Against MSU

The Montana State College Bowling Team will take the alleys for the first time on November 11. The Bobcat keggers will face the Montana University Grizzlies in their season opener.

The Bobcat team has not been formed as of this date. All participants in the schools' bowling leagues have an opportunity to compete for the team. The six-man team is chosen on the basis of league averages; the top six averages representing the school. The Bobcat keggers will face other stiff competition this year, but in the past MSC has always been well represented and all indications point in that direction again this year.

It is urged that interested bowlers lead a league team or contact Jim Edwards.

Mulcahy Leads Bobcat Offense

Quarterback Bill Mulcahy has accounted for 379 yards running and passing to lead the Montana State football team in total offense after six games.

The 5-10, 180-pound junior from Butte has passed for 305 yards and gained an additional 74 yards rushing. Mulcahy has completed 50 per cent of his passes, connecting on 23 of 46. Three of his aeriels have been intercepted.

Halfback Jack Cameron is the club's scoring leader with 30 points on five touchdowns. Although held to only 21 yards rushing in Saturday's 6-6 tie with Augustana College, he still leads the club in rushing with 287 yards on 51 carries for a 5.4 average.

Fullback Bucky May is the second leading ground gainer with 246 yards on 44 carries for a 5.6 average.

Halfback Jerry Johnson gained 71 yards, more than all the rest of the MSC backs could pick up against Augustana to move into the No. 3 position in rushing. He's gained 198 yards on 43 attempts.

Montana State has a record of three victories, two defeats and a tie. This Saturday, the Bobcats travel to Pocatello, Idaho, to meet unbeaten Idaho State.

"Guys and Gals"

By MARY BENNETT

With Homecoming festivities over for another year, we can now set forth on a concentrated effort to pass all of the courses we have undertaken.

Homecoming, as cold and miserable as it was, still seemed to be a huge success, with lovely Pat Goetz and her two beautiful attendants making the whole weekend seem just perfect. This weekend must have proved more exciting for some than others because the pins and rings that were handed out are numerous. The old "love bug" really bit this time, didn't it?

Pinnings

The Lambda Chi President broke down and passed cigars to his brothers announcing that he is pinned to Gayle Swan, Pi Phi; Paul Elder, Lambda Chi, hung his pin on Cheryl Caughlan, K.D.

The SAE's don't let anyone get ahead of them for they lost two pins also; John Layne is pinned to Deanna DeCossé, Chi O; and Tom LaTourrette is pinned to Deanna Mencarelli, Kappa Kappa Gamma from MSU.

Tom Sedlacek informed the Pi Kaps that he is pinned to Arlene Koenig. And Bob O'Brien's Sigma Chi Cross can now be seen on Sandy Cox's sweater, Chi O.

Engagements

The Lambda Chi's also had two engagements. Jack McIntyre gave a ring to Brooke Anderson, Alpha Pi from WSU; and Bruce Jacobson is engaged to Nancy Parriott, DG.

The Pi Kaps had cigars when Larry MacKay announced that he was engaged to Kay Churchwell, Ind.

Marriages

We still have an endless list of marriages which took place this summer. Included on this are six DGs: Lois Bohleen and Robert Olmstead were married, Billy Applegate married Robert Burns, Ellen Broughton and William Ranch took the big step, Kay Winks became Mrs. Danny Sprague, Charlan Ross and Robert Garvin were married, and Ann Uhrlich and Dale Maroney became Mr. and Mrs.

Syndie Hale, Pi Phi, married Harold McClintock, and Unice Vasbo, Ind., became Mrs. Carl Olson.

Pledges Elect

The Chi O pledges elected Rilla Cole to serve as their president; and Karen Kirwan, Vice President; Bonnie Russell, Secretary; and Denise O'Conner, Social Chairman, to be her assistants.

The Delta Sigs held their pledge class elections with the following coming out victorious: Les Santa, president; Bob Kunkel, vice president; Jack Beam, secretary; Bob Helmer, song leader; and Tom Monterussi and Mike Miertz, co-social chairmen.

New pledge class officers of Sigma Phi Epsilon are: President, Rich Petaja; Secretary, Hans Johnson; and Bob Keller, vice president.

We Go Greek

New Delta Sig pledges include Charles Hallan, Tom Monterussi, and Randy Barton.

The SAE's added several new names to their pledge list. Boyd Magdall, Harry Armstrong, Doug Abraham, Ed Wheeler, Dave Sletta, Bob Johnson, Art House, Jim Rowe, Jack Nickerson, Chuck Schwidde, Art Huelett, Brad Stratton, and Jim Cummings.

Actives

Billy Theilman is now proudly wearing her very own Chi Omega pin.

Honors

Cheryl Caughlan received the scholarship cup for the highest grade average earned spring quarter at the KD house. Marion Eldering was awarded the scholarship bracelet.

Executive Board Elected

The Men's Resident Association elected their Executive Board for this year. Bruce Scott was chosen as president, Dorwin Schreder became the new vice president, Joe Westover was elected secretary, and Dennis Leczinski is now treasurer of the association.

General Election Returns Revealed

Elections to office for upperclassmen and primaries for the Frosh class president were held last Tuesday. The largest turnout of voters was in the Freshman class with a steady decline among the upperclassmen. Of course, we can always attribute this to the dominating size of this year's Freshman class — excuses, excuses.

The new Senior class officers are as follows: Jack Weyland, vice president; Marge DeWitt, secretary; Wilbur Kukes, treasurer; and the co-social chairmen are Helen Coffman and Dennis Osgard.

In the Junior class, Jack Sherrick is the vice president. The other officers are: Sandee Quickenden, secretary; Stan Smith, treasurer, and the co-social chairmen are Marcia Thompson and Don Ragland.

Tom LaTourrette is the Sophomore class vice president with Marilyn Lyall as secretary; Barbara Anderson, treasurer and Sandi Turner and Monte Eliason are the co-social chairmen.

Tom Jones and Don Bodley were the top two in the primaries for Freshman class president. So don't forget to repeat your show of interest and school spirit in next week's election to office.

Assembly Planned

The President's assembly will be held on the 31st of October at 10:15 a.m. in the old gymnasium. This assembly is under the direction of Septemviri.

Dr. R. R. Renne will give a speech on the state of MSC. Also on the agenda is the introduction of the new members of Septemviri.

All students and especially the freshmen are urged to attend this first assembly of the year.

THE DATING SEASON

I have recently returned from a tour of 950,000 American colleges where I made a survey of undergraduate dating customs and sold mechanical dogs, and I have tabulated my findings, and I am now prepared to tell you the simple secret of successful dating.

The simple secret is simply this: a date is successful when the man knows how to treat the girl.

And how does a girl like to be treated? If you want to know, read and remember these four cardinal rules of dating:

1. A girl likes to be treated with respect.

When you call for your girl, do not drive up in front of the sorority house and yell, "Hey, fat lady!" Get out of your car. Walk respectfully to the door. Knock respectfully. When your girl comes out, tug your forelock and say respectfully, "Good evening, your honor." Then offer her a Marlboro, for what greater respect can you show your girl than to offer Marlboro with its fine flavor and exclusive selectrate filter? It will indicate immediately that you respect her taste, respect her discernment, respect her intelligence. So, good buddies, before going out on a date, always remember to buy some Marlboros, available in soft pack or flip-top box in all 50 of the United States and also Cleveland.

A girl likes to be taken to nice places

2. A girl likes a good listener.

Do not monopolize the conversation. Let her talk while you listen attentively. Make sure, however, that she is not herself a good listener. I recollect a date I had once with a coed named Greensleeves Sigafos, a lovely girl, but unfortunately a listener and not a talker. I too was a listener so we just sat all night long each with his hand cupped over his ear, straining to catch a word, not talking hour after hour until finally a policeman came by and arrested us both for vagrancy. I did a year and a day. She got by with a suspended sentence because she was the sole support of her aged housemother.

3. A girl likes to be taken to nice places.

By "nice" places I do not mean expensive places. A girl does not demand luxury. All she asks is a place that is pleasant and gracious. The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, for example. Or Mount Rushmore. Or the Taj Mahal. Or the Bureau of Weights and Measures. Find places like these to take your girl. In no circumstances must you take her to an oil-cracking plant.

4. A girl likes a man to be well-informed.

Come prepared with a few interesting facts that you can drop casually into the conversation. Like this: "Did you know Snookiepuss, that when cattle, sheep, camels, goats, antelopes and other members of the cud-chewing family get up, they always get up hind legs first?" Or this: "Are you aware, Hotlips, that corn grows faster at night?" Or this: "By the way, Loverhead, Oslo did not become the capital of Norway till July 11, 1924."

If you can slip enough of these nuggets into the conversation before dinner, your date will grow too torpid to eat. Some men save up to a half million dollars a year this way.
