Panel on Alcoholism to Be Presented

Vice President, Bob Morgan, reported to Student Senate Monday on a letter from the Montana Council on Alcoholism requesting permission to present a panel discussion on alcoholism. After much discussion it was decided to sponsor such a panel with the recommendations that a time be selected so a good crowd can be assured and townspeople can attend. It was also suggested that a committee or chairman be picked to handle arrangements. This panel will consist of representatives of state doctors, lawyers, and liquor wholesalers.

Budgets for winter quarter as approved by the finance committee were presented by Chuck Sumner, Commissioner of Finance. Jim Hunt explained the expenses incurred on the United Nations New York trip. All the budgets were approved. Sumner also announced that Jim Brown has been appointed to replace Bruce Jacobson on the finance committee while Jacobson is gone winter quarter for the dramatics tour.

Tom Richardson congratulated Wes Anderson, his co-workers, and the concomitant groups for a successful Christmas Sing. He reported that he, Bob Morgan, and Chuck Sumner spoke to the President's Advisory Council on phases of student government last Friday evening. This Advisory Council is composed of forty representatives from throughout the state who meet quarterly with President Renne.

President of the freshman class, Tom Jones, reported the following officers elected last week: vice president, Dave Hagen; secretary, Connie Thompson; treasurer, Bob McIntyre, and co-social chairmen, Sue Stordahl and Dave Jarrett.

Thanks from the basketball team for the fine support by the student body at last weekend's games were extended by Tom Sawyer, Commissioner of Athletics. John Petelin reported that the pep assembly was quite successful even though short notice was given.

Ed Heinle, Commissioner of Dramatics announced that "An Evening With Ben Tone" is scheduled tonight in the SUB theatre. Mr. Tone, who has appeared with the Virginia City Players will present a one-man show. Curtain time is 8:15 and student tickets are $1.00.

Tentative plans for Founders' Day to be held winter quarter were presented by chairman Stan Smith. Former MSC president and retired president of Oregon State, A. L. Strand, will speak at an all-school assembly and a Spur-Fang breakfast dance is planned.

Jack Dunn, Commissioner of Forensics, reported that some members of the debate team plan to attend the Carroll College meet to be held this weekend in Helena.

Beginning winter quarter, Keith Willson will represent the student body at Bozeman Chamber of Commerce meetings. A flow chart of student government business and activity calendar will be set up on the SUB bulletin board winter quarter to facilitate informing students of ASMSC business and activities.

s of 4,076 students at a
$1,066 per student. The in enrollment has forced unt available per student only $1,015—$73 per student less than the school had to operate on last biennium.

According to Dr. Renne, MSC is $200 behind the average for 24 Land-Grant colleges and universities in the West and North Central states.

This fall, MSC's student-teacher ratio has risen to 16½ to 1, compared to 15½ to 1 proposed by the legislature. The national average for Land-Grant colleges is 14.2 to 1.

MSC's administrative costs for 1959-60 were $90 per student, compared to $169 for the 24 Land-Grant institutions in the West and North Central states. In addition, several adjustments have been made to enable MSC to live within its budget.

"I think you might say we're on a low-fat diet," Dr. Renne commented.

Dr. Renne pointed out that had MSC fallen below the estimated 4,076, it would have had to refund $1,066 for each student it fell short. "Nothing was said about providing for a greater number of students."

All institutions in the University System now have more students than was estimated for the second year of the biennium.

The rush to college by Montana's young people has already caused serious financial problems, and Dr. Renne forecasts that the real push will begin in 1964. Then, children born in 1946-47 when birth rates soared, will be of college age.

He predicts that MSC enrollment will probably about double by 1970 compared with 1960.

So far as academic facilities are concerned, Dr. Renne said the completion of the chemistry building and the new library would enable MSC to accommodate enrollment for the next four or five years.

Total cost of finishing the structures will be about $650,000. The Endowment and Research Foundation is trying to raise these funds through gifts and grants and Dr. Renne hopes this can be done without requesting state tax funds for completion of the structures.

Dorms Accepting HR Position Bids

Applications are now being accepted for the position of Head Resident in the Men's Residence Halls. These positions will be for the academic year beginning Fall quarter, 1962. Address all applications or letters of inquiry to: Jim Young, Pryor 217.

Outstanding Speakers Chosen For Religious Emphasis Week

Montana State College is fortunate in having secured the following speakers as participants in this year's REW, which will open Winter Quarter, January 14 through 18.

The Reverend Ernest Burns is currently serving the St. John's Parish, Frenchtown, Montana. Prior to this appointment Father Burns served as Newman Club Chaplain at MSU. He is also familiar to the Bozeman area since he served in the Holy Rosary Parish from 1951 to 1953. He feels that he is best qualified to speak in the areas of history, sociology and literature.

The Reverend James Burtness did his undergraduate work in the field of Chemistry at St. Olaf College. Currently he is Assistant Professor at Luther Theological Seminary in St. Paul, Minnesota, where he is in the field of Biblical Studies. He is also the managing editor of Dialog which is a new journal of theology to appear early in 1962. He is willing to speak in the areas of history, philosophy, science, sociology, literature, psychology and courtship and marriage.

The Reverend Paul Kearns, a navy pilot during World War II and commercial artist, is the Western Area Secretary of the Department of Campus Christian Life Board of Christian Higher Education of the United Presbyterian Church in the U. S. His published articles, "A Christian Perspective on the Middle East", and "Experiment in Unity" express some of his thoughts concerning world affairs. He expresses special concern in the field of civil liberties and academic freedom, and will probably speak in the areas of education, history, international relations, political science, sociology, and art.

Mr. Robert L. Mannes is Associate Professor in the Department of Mechanical Engineering, University of Southern California. From 1943-1946 he was an engi-

Finals System Explained

The questions often arise, "Why must we have finals? What does the final exam system show of a student's ability? How can a professor gain a true measure of a student's knowledge through a final exam?"

Finals are an absolute necessity for any self-respecting instructor to gain his revenge for the misery he's had to tolerate throughout the quarter. Rather than chewing nails or going out to bark at the moon, he simply waits until final week, after which he is completely pacified until the same time the next quarter.

Student ability? At what other time can a person display his prowess at the art of cheating so convincingly? A student has a real challenge during finals, as the instructors are looking, more than ever, for a scapegoat. "Answering the challenge under pressure" is as much an achievement as getting an "A" legally. Student ingenuity is ever present in the various and sundry methods passed down. "Crib notes" become outdated as someone else invents something much more effective and sneakier.

A true measure of the student's knowledge is also brought to light. At no other time can he better utilize his ability to "cram". At no other time can he try to remember so much, take the test, and then forget even faster. Soon, as he becomes more experienced, he learns ways to take short cuts in cramming, so that he may remember easier, and forget even faster. His knowledge overflows, and drains slowly down the sewer.

The date becomes a thing of the past, as the term "final week" prevails, and becomes the stock excuse for everything imaginable. No one needs to bathe, shave, or dress up, because, after all, finals are here! The pseudo-intellects "study" in the SUB coffee room, and try to impress everyone with how awfully much they have heaped upon their shoulders.

The actual scheduling of finals is as complicated as a Redstone countdown. The beer wholesalers must be notified in advance, bars must have time to prepare for the coming onslaught, and bad credit ratings brought up to date. The weather must be predicted, so that finals are scheduled for the nicest weather to hit Bozeman for 3½ months.

And after they're all over, we all breathe a little sigh of relief, embrace each other bravely, bid fond farewells, and say "Boy, it was sure tough this time! And if I just handled that one course, I could get a 3.00——."

Letter to the Editor

Library Regulations Are Slated

Dear Editor:

We have received definite word that we may begin our move into the new library building on December 18th. Accordingly the Library will be closed to the public from that date until the move is completed, which we hope will be by the time of winter quarter registration. When we re-open, the entrance will be through the north doors of the new part. As indicated before, the west door will not be available at this time. The present entrance into the east wing will be permanently closed and the area bricked up.

When you enter the new building, you will find the loan desk on your left in the same relative position as it is now, and the card catalog is beyond it. For awhile at least we hope to have someone on duty in the lobby during the day to indicate directions and help everyone become oriented.

Beginning with winter quarter, a fine system will go into effect, as we have already warned. The fine for an over-due two-week book will be 5c per day; the fines now in effect for overdue short-term loans and reserve material will continue. A complete schedule of fines may be consulted at the Loan Desk shortly after the beginning of winter quarter.

From now on the individual will be held fully responsible for the prompt return or renewal of material by the date due. Few, if any, overdue notices will be sent. Payment of fine should be made at the time of return of material to the Library. Non-payment of fines, or of replacement charges for lost items will result in grades being withheld.

In the past, the Library has spent hundreds of dollars every year sending out overdue notices and we think this money might better go to increase and enrich our collection. Our sole purpose in charging fines is to improve services for all users, and of course none of this money goes into the Library funds; it is paid into the Montana General Fund.

So please remember that you are expected to return your library materials when due, without further notice from the Library than the due date stamped in the book.

Sincerely yours,
Lesley M. Heathcote
Librarian

Buckbee to Present Recital

George Buckbee, instructor of voice and chorus at Montana State College, will present a solo recital at 3 p.m., Sunday, December 10, in the Student Union Theatre, it has been announced.

He will be accompanied by Charles Payne, MSC instructor of organ and piano.

The program will consist of three works and will feature Robert Schumann's setting of Heinrich Heine's poems entitled Dichterliebe (Poet's Love).

Buckbee will also sing the cycle, Hermit Songs, a set composed by the American composer, Samuel Barber, receiver of the Levintritt Award and the Critics' Circle Award for his opera, Vanessa.

The program will end with the three songs of Maurice Ravel, Don Quichotte A Dulcinee.

This program is open to the public. No admission will be charged.

Ben Tone Appears Tonight In One Man Vaudeville Act

Montanans near enough to Virginia City to have seen the 19th century plays presented by the Virginia City players need no introduction to comedy star Ben Tone. Those who have not seen him in action will have their chance to join his enthusiastic local fans in watching this versatile actor entertain Friday, December 8, in the Student Union Theatre when Alpha Psi Omega presents "An Evening With Ben Tone." Seats are reserved and may be obtained at the box office today or by calling JU 7-3121, Extension 342, any day next week. Admission will be 75 cents for MSC students and one dollar for adults, with curtain time scheduled for 8:15.

Ben Tone has starred in Virginia City productions since the founding of the Players' Company in 1949. His own theatrical career began in 1940 and since then he has been seen in theatres from coast to coast and has appeared in top television productions and off-Broadway plays. He now divides his time between his New York appearances and his stint in Montana each summer with the Players. "An Evening With Ben Tone" will consist for the most part of the favorite among the many specialty acts he has developed for the Vaudeville show which follows each evening performance at Virginia City.

Local fans will certainly remember his hilarious dramatic interpretations of such poetic masterpieces as "Casey at the Bat," "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," and "The Cremation of Sam McGee" which he performs with rapid wig and costume changes in the style of historic masters of the past century.

In addition to these renditions, Mr. Tone's program will be rounded out with other acts indicative of his versatility including juggling, singing, guitar playing, and a pantomime of an original "Story Without Words" which concerns a prospector, a flea, and a jackass. No TV viewer could fail to appreciate the changes that have taken place in commercials since the day of the 19th century patent medicine man's pitch, as Ben Tone hilariously demonstrates.

The show, which has been called a masterpiece of comedy, is truly entertainment in the old-time style and, like the old-timers, Ben Tone still gets his satisfaction from the laughter of his audiences. To brighten up a dreary week, make plans to spend "An Evening With Ben Tone," Friday, December 8.

MSC History Reviewed

By JEAN MOELLER

MSC today is the largest school of higher education in our state. It is large not only in area but in student capacity, and Montana State College is one of the highest accredited and most respected schools in the Northwest. This center of learning has not always been as we know it but has been achieved only through the determination and unfailing support of the people of Montana.

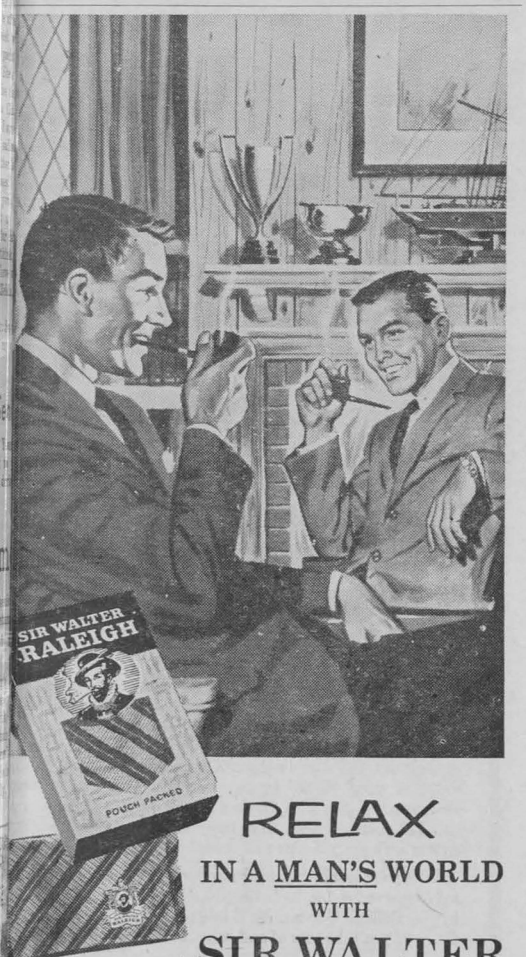

Our college was founded in 1893 as the "Montana State College of Agricultural and Mechanic Arts." The first MSC president, A. M. Ryan, and his seven-member faculty composed the college staff and undertook the task of educating the total student enrollment of 46, which included 28 men and 18 women. By 1896 President Ryan was able to get $100,000 from the state for the construction of 7 class buildings. The cornerstone for Montana Hall was laid on October 21, 1896.

Since its founding our school has grown to cover more than 900 acres and now has a total student body of over 4,000. Several new buildings have been added to the campus in recent years, including Hannon and Hapner Halls, the men's residence halls, and Reid Hall. A new chemistry building and an addition to the library are now under construction.

All aspects of college activities have also grown. We now have very active church youth groups, a Youth Corps, a college 4-H Club, various musical and dramatic groups, International Club, a very active Model U.N., and several honorary groups. Numerous sororities and fraternities have been instituted on campus, many of which have built or are in the process of building new houses.

These educational and social advancements have each contributed to the expansion of our school, and they have helped to achieve and maintain high educational standards. This growth will undoubtedly continue for years to come, making MSC an even bigger and better school. When we look back on the present, perhaps 20 years from now, we will be noticing, as today's alums now are, the growth of Montana State College.

Garbage Trucks, Too Much Spice Are Main Controversies of Dorm Food

By JIM GOETZ

Were you bewildered at your Thanksgiving dinner? I myself vaguely remember going home and breaking into an open-mouthed, wide-eyed stare when I saw that turkey. I sat staring at the turkey for the longest time before I managed to utter: "Is it real?" It was real, and delicious. I don't think I have ever had a more enjoyable Thanksgiving dinner. But now the dream is over and I once more find myself in the bitter world of realtiy, right here at the dorm. I want it clearly understood that I have nothing against the food here at the dorm, except for a few minor complaints such as: too much onion soup and too much of a mess out of their Sunday chicken. But we have managed to tolerate these shortcomings and sometimes to even bear them with a smile. In fact, some of us have developed a good-natured theme song entitled "Our Food Is Lovelier the Second Time Around."

We were just beginning to cultivate a better understanding with the kitchen when one of the guys happened to be walking by the service entrance to the kitchen one morning. He was just in time to see the garbage truck drive up. Now there was nothing unusual about this procedure, so he just kept on walking, paying no heed. All of a sudden the kitchen cook leaned out the door and yelled to the garbage collector, "I'll take two cans this mornin'." Now this really shocked the student walking past. Just as soon as he could recover his faculties of speech, he began blurting out this story. Well, the story shot around like wildfire and as often happens, the tale got larger and larger as it progressed. It finally reached my ears. I tried to get down to facts but they were hard to find. I finally got down to the version of two cans which could or could not have been true. But, regardless of whether it was or was not true, it did more harm to the student-kitchen relations at MSC than the U-2 incident did to the Summit talks at Geneva.

I don't know whether it's my imagination or not, but it seems to me that someone's trying to get even for this rumor. If begging for mercy will do any good, I beg for mercy. Better yet, I propose "disarmament talks." I think that we should have control over the kitchen supply of onion soup, pepper, and spaghetti sauce. I realize that these talks have taken place before, but I fail to see how we can accept any terms without an inspection system. Therefore these talks must continue because it is always better to talk than fight.

Renne Elected To Serve On Committee

Dr. Roland R. Renne, president of Montana State College, recently was elected to serve a three-year term on the 16-man executive committee of the American Association of Land-Grant Colleges and State Universities at the group's centennial meeting at Kansas City, Mo.

The executive committee then elected Dr. Renne to the seven-man interim committee that handles all association matters between annual conventions.

Dr. Renne has been active in the association for many years and for the past several years, has served as chairman of the Water Resources Committee and has been a member of the Federal Legislative Committee and of the International Affairs Committee.

Open Search for College Queen

One of our students, here on this campus, could be the next National College Queen.

The annual search is on to select and to honor "the nation's most outstanding college girl". She will be intelligent, attractive, and will typify collegiate women throughout America. She will receive a trip to Europe as one of her prizes. She will also win an automobile, a diamond ring, and many other awards.

This week marks the start of the 8th Annual National College Queen Contest. All undergraduate girls, from freshmen through and including seniors, are eligible. You merely apply for a free entry blank. For seven years, other colleges and universities across the nation have won honors by having their candidates compete. The time has come for one of our students to bring home the top title.

Judging is based on each girl's scholastic accomplishments as well as her appearance. Regional winners will receive a trip to New York City, where the 1962 National College Queen Pageant will be held next June. The entire Pageant will be a highlight of the "New York Is A Summer Festival" celebration, sponsored by the New York Convention and Visitors Bureau.

To enter, just write to: National College Queen Contest Committee, Suite 1606, Paramount Building, 1501 Broadway, New York 36, New York. You will be sent an Official Entry Blank and complete details. Classmates (young men or women) can also nominate a girl as a candidate by writing to the same address. Nominations are often made by fraternities, sororities and campus club groups.

This competition to choose a National College Queen is not just a "beauty contest". Only 50 percent of the judging is on attractiveness, charm and personality. Equally important will be the student's academic record, her campus activities, her hobbies and community service.

The current National College Queen is Miss Patricia Weaver, a junior at Wilson College in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania. During the 1961 Pageant, Bonnie Jean Schafer from the University of Cincinnati placed second. Marsha Lynn Thompson from Montana State College was third.

Other Regional Winners, who traveled to New York City and competed in the National Finals, came from the University of Miami, University of Oregon, Weber College, High Point College, University of Wisconsin, Univeristy of Missouri, University of Bridgeport, University of Oklahoma and the University of Southern California.

If one of our students wins Regional honors, she will spend an exciting week in Manhattan. She will see Broadway shows, go backstage to meet the stars, visit the United Nations, tour Radio City Music Hall, enjoy luncheons at the Stork Club, Rockefeller Center, and will appear on television.

It's easy to enter this contest. Nothing to buy. No slogans to write. The National College Queen Pageant is sponsored by several leading companies, as their annual salute to outstanding college students. They present more than $5,000 in prizes. For example:

The next National College Queen will win a new sports car. She will receive an Austin Healey "Sprite", as a gift from the British Motor Corporation. Another key award is an Artcarved diamond ring, the "Evening Star" design. Or, if the winner prefers, she can choose a diamond pendant valued at $500.

In the field of fashions, the prizes will last throughout her college career. She can stop worrying about stockings. She will receive a ten year supply of Berkshire hosiery! She also wins a complete wardrobe of suits, dresses and sportswear. She can select $500 worth of the latest styles—designed by David Crystal, Hayette and Haymaker.

To highlight her appearance, the National College Queen will receive tips on good grooming from The Toni Company. They will also present her with a full year's supply of beauty and hair care products made by Toni.

Girls, you now know what's at stake. With all these prizes, and many more, it's worth a try for the title.

The judges add this final reminder: "The winner will be someone who is active in several areas of campus life. She does not have to be a scholastic genius nor have the beauty of a Hollywood movie star. The next National College Queen will be a typical American college girl—bright, alert and personable."

House Boy Wanted

The Kappa Delta Sorority is now accepting applicants for the job of house boy.

Duties include serving meals and washing dishes. Monthly wages plus board will be provided as pay. If interested, stop at 503 W. Cleveland for application forms.

Traveling Trailer To Tour Montana

Many MSC students wondered about the blue trailer unit in front of the Student Union Building Saturday morning. Seeing the doors open, many wandered through, confused as to its purpose and meaning. On display inside were models of resort areas and other models made by architecture students. Inquiring students found out that these exhibits were only temporary, that the MSC Mobile Campus is to be used as a traveling exhibit of Montana State College.

The Mobile Trailer unit was a gift to MSC from the Alumni Association, and is preparing its debute for 1962 with the exhibit centered around a two-fold theme; first to commemorate the hundredth year of the establishment of the Land-Grant Colleges as directed by the President and second, to show the relationship of the Land-Grant Institution—MSC and the State's current and future development.

The exhibit will describe a Land-Grant College, (MSC), as: students, buildings and facilities, research and instruction, and social and economic development. The trailer is equipped with space for six displays and an automatic colored slide viewer, and each of these parts will show a different phase of the theme.

It is hoped that the MSC Mobile Campus will be ready during Winter Quarter, 1962. The trailer unit will be shown first on the campus and then will be on exhibit at fairs during the summer. Plans to also use the Mobile Campus for exhibits of different organizations are being made.

Women Limited

Grace Period Up For Women Vote

The present five minute grace period, now allowed upper class women before a campus is invoked, will be discontinued winter quarter. This privilege has been on a trial basis, and before it can be reinstated, it must be voted upon by the women students. This vote will take place the middle of winter quarter.

Activity cards are now available to women students in the Student Welfare Office. All women students, especially Bozeman girls, are urged to pick the cards up, fill them out, and return them to the office by December 12. These cards are referred to in the selection of students for honoraries, scholarships, and jobs.

A copy of the AWS constitution, Coed Code, and a summary of this quarter's activities is being sent to the other member AWS schools in the state.

Crops Contest Is Termed a Succes

After rigorous competition in the National Collegiate Crops Contest held in Kansas City Nov. 21 and in Chicago Nov. 25, four members of the Chaff and Dust Club returned to the comparative quiet of the MSC campus. They competed with teams from throughout the nation including WSU, and Wyoming State.

Representing Montana State were Richard Watkins, Al Toly, Jerry Delaney, and Al Schneiter. The MSC team placed 8th in both contests. Winners were Texas Tech and Kansas State, who each received a trophy and watches for the team members.

The contest consisted of commercial grading, seed analysis, and identification of plants and seeds. This was a very rugged contest since over 100 plants, weeds, and diseases must be identified by their Latin and common names.

This was the first time i eral years that MSC has s representatives for this c The team members felt th was a very worthwhile tr should be repeated next ye year as Autumn gives Winter, the story of anth is repeated throughout d. It goes like this:

cold and damp night, a g time ago, a young man nd silently led a small donkey toward the gates of the City of David. Atop the donkey sat his slender wife. He looked worried as he peered at her.

Once through the gates of the city he hastened to find lodgings for himself and his wife. After much disappointment he found a small stable in the hills surrounding the tiny and peaceful city. It was there that his wife gave birth to a small child called Jesus."

The story reads like a fairy tale that's told to children before bedtime. It has its "goodies" and "baddies" and in the end the good guy foils the bad guy by ascending into the sky.

That's how many people react to the story of Christmas—just another western with an Asiatic flavor. Only a square would fall for a line like that, is the common exclamation.

As a result, Christmas is no longer Christmas but Santa Clausmas. Without Santa the kiddies would don red eyes and runny noses for the remainder of the season and the department store managers would slowly contemplate suicide as they watched their gadgets and toys gather dust on the shelf.

Another common conception of Christmas is New Years. As the holy day approaches everyone looks forward to that magic hour of midnight and all that accompanies it.

Meanwhile, back at the stable, a small child and his earthly guardians celebrate a lonely and quiet birthday.

But, as all good things, the holidays must come to an end. Accompanying this end are solemn resolutions to "put Christ back into Christmas" next year and quit all this gift-buying and revelry that leaves one with a huge hole in the pocketbook and a morning-after head.

Maybe this year, someone will decide to include Christ in Christmas before the holidays are over.

Esther Ackley Is Feted by AGD

Mrs. Esther Ackley, house mother of the Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority at Montana State College, was initiated into the sorority on alumnae standing November 12, according to Carol Christison, sorority president.

Mrs. Ackley was initiated into the chapter because of her long-time service and devotion to the Delta Gamma chapter.

Three Alpha Gamma Delta alumnae, Joyce Rossmiller, Lynne Hoefert and Mrs. John Aring, presented her with bouquets of red and buff roses, the sorority flowers. She received from the chapter a sorority pin and a bracelet in honor of her initiation.

Mrs. Ackley was initiated alone in a special ceremony, followed by group initiation of new active members.

LUCKY STRIKE presents: LUCKY PUFFERS "WINTER SPORTS"

WHEN DOES A LUCKY TASTE BETTER THAN A LUCKY? There's a dangerous question because, as you well know, college students are crazy about Luckies and smoke more of them than any other regular. Still, there is one kind of Lucky that tastes a little bit better than any other kind. These extra-special Luckies are the ones you get for Christmas. The only thing better than a Lucky is a free Lucky. Ask for a carton this Christmas.

HANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!

Twelve Churches Have Campus Representatives

In order that students at Montana State College might maintain contact with their religious faith throughout their college years, twelve churches of various faiths are represented in the college ministry, according to Mrs. Norman Anderson, MSC Student Counselor and Religious coordinator.

In some cases these ministers are employed staff personnel of the entire denomination, sent to the campus to work with students and college personnel under the auspices of the national church organization. Others work with college students through local churches.

"Each college pastor ministers to his own preference students," Mrs. Anderson explained. "In this way, a number of churches care for their own people."

According to his own religious beliefs, each pastor counsels students, offers guidance in the area of spiritual life, suggests solutions to vocational questions pertaining to personal and social matters.

Either in private conferences or in groups, married and single students are welcome to consult their college pastors about their problems, large or small.

Some college pastors instruct their own groups in matters of Christian faith and life. They all conduct study groups, arrange seminars, and are advisors to organizations.

Through the courtesy of Montana State College, the college ministry has been provided with space in the Student Union Building where they are available to students. No single religious group has exclusive use of these faciliteis. However, as cooperat- their own denominational student ing units of the campus religious program, student religious groups may use certain building facilities.

Three full-time college pastors who have been sent to MSC from their national denominational organizations are the Rev. Gerald Thrush, Methodist; the Rev. Paul Krebill, Presbyterian, and the Rev. Herbert Strom, Lutheran.

Those whose work with students is connected with their local churches are: Father M. J. O'Donnell, Holy Rosary; the Rev. John J. Hamilton, Southern Baptist; the Rev. William F. Maxwell, Episcopal; the Rev. Glenn Essenburg, Grace Baptist; the Rev. Lawrence A. Nelson, First Baptist; the Rev. Leonard Kovar, Congregational; the Rev. Robert Mulkey, Grand Avenue Christian; the Rev. Jack Dabner, Evangelical United Brethren; Mr. Elroy McDernott, Latter Day Saints.

Religious groups open to students, according to their faiths are: Wesley Foundation, Methodist; Westminister Foundation, Presbyterian; the Lutheran Student Association; Canterbury Club, Episcopalian; Newman Club, Roman Catholic Church; Baptist Student Union, Southern Baptist; College Young People, Grace Baptist; Roger Williams Club, First Baptist; Student Fellowship, Congregationalist; Disciple Student Fellowship, Christian; Senior Youth Fellowship, Evangelical United Brethren; Desseret Club, Latter Day Saints; Christian Science Organization; Liahona Fellowship, Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints, and Chi Alpha, Assembly of God.

Intramural Week

By JACK READICKER

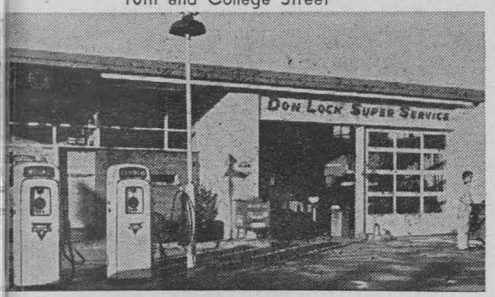

This week intramurals bow to that almighty power, Finals. Would-be athletes become students until next quarter when basketball steals the intramural stage. Also, volleyball will have to await completion until next quarter. Here are the winners of each sport in the all-school league and the overall standings.

The Sigma Chi fraternity took first place in both football and wrestling, while the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity copped top honors in the cross-country race.

Overall standings:

Sigma Chi	43
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	41
Kappa Sigma	30.5
Alpha Gamma Rho	29.5
Sigma Nu	25
Delta Sigma Phi	24.5
Lambda Chi	21
Pi Kappa Alpha	14
Sigma Phi Epsilon	12.5
Independents	9
Phi Sigma Kappa	7
Men's Co-op	3

The MRA league is thinking about using a point system similar to the one used by the all-school league. It is hoped that this will stimulate interest.

Bobcats Defeat Washington State University

By BILL WALTER

BOBCAT BASKETBALLERS fight hard for a rebound in the action packed Bobcat-Long Beach game. No. 30 is Bobcat center George Tyra, No. 42 is guard Jerry Streeter, and No. 20 is guard Grady Venable. The Bobcats dropped their opening game by a score of 59-53 to Long Beach College.

The Bobcats picked up their first victory in two games last Saturday night against the Cougars of Washington State U. The Cats defeated the highly rated Cougars by a score of 69-58. The Cats showed much better form than they had exhibited the previous night when they bowed to Long Beach State.

The first half was fairly even, with the lead changing hands four times. Forward John Bryant, who did not play Friday night because of a question as to his eligibility, connected for 13 of his 18 points in the first half to give the Cats a 34-29 halftime lead.

The Cougars managed to tie the contest with thirteen minutes left, but were unable to get into the lead. They came within one point about a minute later, but a scoring drought suddenly left them out of the game. WSU was undoubtedly hurt by the loss of four of their players via the foul route. High scorers for the Cougars were guard Terry Ball with 12 and forward Charlie Sells with 16. Guard Ernie Woods scored nine points for the losers.

Guard Tom Sawyer led the Bobcat scorers with 20 points, followed by Bryant with 18, and veteran center Gordie Haugen, who connected for 14. Bryant, who showed no signs of staleness from the lay-off Friday night, and Haugen, playing one of the best games of his career, both did a great job on the boards for the Cats.

The Bobcats play a return match with the Cougars next Saturday night in Washington.

A fine crowd was on hand for the games both nights and continued turnouts such as these should do a lot in helping to make this one of the best seasons in many years.

Roundballers Head West

By BILL WALTER

The Bobcats hit the road this weekend following their pair of opening games at home. The Cats defeated Washington State University Saturday night after losing their season's opener to Long Beach State College the night before.

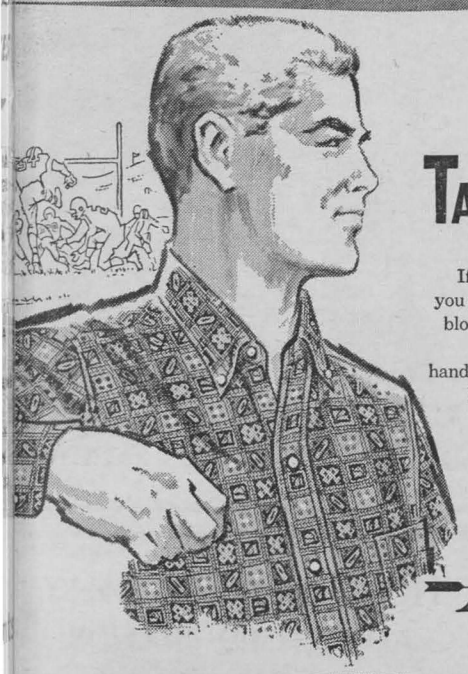

This weekend the squad will meet the University of Idaho on Friday and then travel on for a return game with Washington State the following evening.

The Idaho squad is always one of the better teams in the area and it promises to be another of the fine games on the rugged Bobcat schedule. The Vandals were a member of the now split-up Pacific Coast Conference, which boasted many of the country's top teams.

The Cougars of Washington State showed that they have a very fine team when they were here last week, and the coming game should provide as many thrills as did the contest in the fieldhouse.

The Bobcats played good ball in their opening games last weekend. After overcoming their first game jitters, they came out Saturday night and defeated one of the top teams in the area.

Coach Lambert is expected to start the same quintet which opened the Washington contest. That would be guards Tom Sawyer and Pete Carson; forwards John Bryant and Andy Wyatt, and center Gordie Haugen.

Talking Sports

by FRED TURNER

THE BOBCATS hit the road this weekend for a two game road trip against two formidable opponents in the form of the University of Idaho and Washington State University. Washington State will have their second crack at the Bobcats after their stunning defeat here this last weekend. Washington State won't have anything to say after the Cats beat them on their own home court! The Cats downed WSU by a score of 69-58.

VERSATILE FORWARD JOHN BRYANT is now elated to the fact that he has another year of varsity eligibility on the Bobcat basketball team. The reason that John was absent from Friday night's game is that there was some doubt as to his eligibility. The MSC Athletic Dept. has patterned its eligibility requirements after that set down in the Skyline Conference, which is actually a harder set of requirements than is set down by the NCAA. The problem arose that under the code that governs athletics here at MSC, John was actually ineligible due to his transfer from a junior college but actually eligible under the rules and regulations set down by the NCAA. John's eligibility came as a result of a combined decision of the Scholarship Committee, Athletic Director Gene Bourdet, and President R. R. Renne.

Bobkittens Take Two Games

The freshman basketball team forged a double victory this weekend by defeating Sheridan Junior College on Friday and Saturday nights. The Bobkittens opened the season Friday night by trouncing Sheridan 69-55. The Kittens looked a little sloppy during the first half of play, but that was to be expected being their first game of the year.

The freshman started the third quarter with a bang and quickly increased their slim halftime lead. The starting five played good aggressive ball and were sparked by the fine scoring of Kermit Young and Don Rae. The Kittens received good bench support from Dick Scott and Dick Silberman.

On Saturday night the Kittens again took the court against Sheridan; this time defeating the visitors 57-50. The Kittens rebounded well and looked good on defense and once again getting good scoring punch from Kermit Young. The Bobcats will have plenty of time to practice before their next game which will be on Jan. 5 against Idaho University.

Bobcats to Face Tough Invitational

On December 14th, Bobcat basketball coach Dobbie Lambert leaves with 12 men for Billings and the Eastern Montana College Invitational Tournament.

The Bobcat cagers are facing their biggest challenge for some time. They face two tough opponents on consecutive nights. December 15th the Cats play Montana University. The following night Wyoming will be their victim. Both these games are the final games of the respective nights. This is not a winner play winner tourney, because the Skyline Conference forbids pre-season meetings of member schools.

The Bobcats are smoothing out all rough edges in preparation for these contests. Wyoming is tough, and MSU is no push-over.

This tournament is planned for the dedication of Eastern's new field house. Billings is going all out in an effort to make the teams welcome and in making this a gala affair. We all know Billings is in for a treat.

Independents Bow To ROTC Cadets

The Montana State College Army-Air Force ROTC basketball team launched its 1961-1962 season with a doubleheader win over the tough Belgrade Independents at the Belgrade High School gym. The first game went to the Cadets 90-72 and the nightcap 102-78.

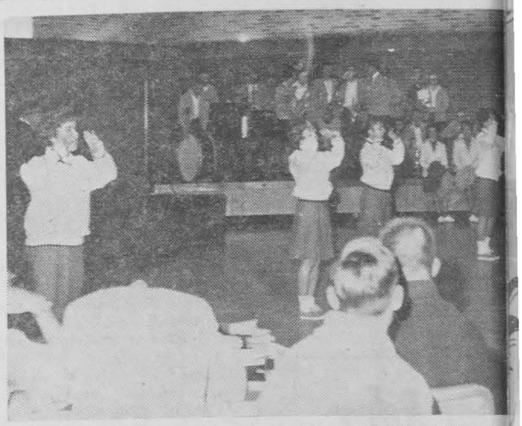

In the curtain raiser Russ Powers, the former Billings star, poured 25 points through the hoop to lead Cadet scorers. He was followed by Bob Parkins with 17 and Gary Decolati with 15.

For the Belgrade crew, Larry Moore, the former Belgrade High great, swished the nets for 26 points followed by Roy Sharp with 17, Bob Feddes with 16 and Ike Iverson with 12.

In the nightcap, the Cadets broke on top and were never headed. The scoring punch was a coach's dream as seven different men hit the double figure column. Top man was Larry Johnson, White Sulphur Springs, 19; Jim Dowen, Havre, 17; Randy Barton, Riverton, Wyo., 16; Mike Moran, Lewistown, 15; Dick Hueth, Glasgow, 11; and Jerry Severson, Miles City, and Roger Grossman, Ft. Benton, with 10 each.

For the out-manned but fighting Belgrade crew again it was Feddes, Moore and Sharp providing the scoring punch. Feddes hit for 26, Moore 20 and Sharp, 18. In addition, all three played an outstanding floor game.

The Cadets will be seen in action again in the very near future in the Bozeman area.

Cats Drop Close Opener 59-53

BOBCAT GUARD JERRY STREETER goes high in the air to score a jump shot over a defending Long Beach player. The Bobcats lost their opener but rebounded to beat WSU in their second game.

By BILL WALTER

The Bobcats opened the 1961-62 basketball season against Long Beach State College last Friday night and were defeated by a 59-53 margin. The opening game for both squads was played before a good crowd in the fieldhouse.

The Long Beach 49ers gained a lead in the first few minutes and were never behind after that. The 49ers led 33-21 at the half.

The Cats closed the gap to two points, 45-43, midway in the second half as veteran guard Tom Sawyer connected for three baskets. The California team then scored eight points while the Cats were held scoreless, and the 49ers held the ten point lead for most of the contest.

The Bobcats played without the services of veteran forward John Bryant, who was kept out of the game until a ruling could be made on his eligibility. This left Sawyer and center Gordie Haugen as the only veterans in the starting quintet. The rest of the starters were Pete Carson, Andy Wyatt, and Milt Horton.

Sawyer played a fine game in a losing cause, hitting seven of 18 shots from the field and cashing in on 11 of 14 free throws, for a total of 25 points. Andy Wyatt was second high for the Cats with nine points.

Forward Bill Florentine and guard Stan Anderson led the 49ers with sixteen points apiece.

Coach Lambert, although disappointed over the opening game loss, praised the spirit of the team. "We were down by 12 points at halftime, but the boys never gave up, and that is always the sign of a team that wants to play ball."

"Guys and Gals"

By MARY BENNETT

"These are the days that try men's souls." We, the privileged generation, who are about to embark upon a series of mental calisthentics to determine exactly if we have taken advantage of our opportunities along the line of the quest of knowledge, might at this point be inclined to agree with and vote in favor of the European system of higher education, if we had the opportunity to vote on such an issue. However, I understand that a good chance to see this system in action will present itself around the last of June.

Nevertheless, if you feel you are being cheated out of an abundance of Christmas Spirit due to nervous strain, tension, and much last-minute push, not shopping as it might seem, but cramming and having a tendency to harbor feeling of ill will against our under-paid, overworked faculty, just think of the great sense of relief and absence of worry you will be able to experience during the holidays.

Be that as it may, and not meaning to dispel a deeper cloud of gloom than has already gathered over the general area, it seems only apropos that a hint of joy should be radiated through these last lines before Christmas. Therefore, here's wishing each of you wonderful people a very Merry Christmas, and the Happiest of New Years!

Helburn Speaks To MUN Group

Where is it, what does it look like, how many people live there, and what do these people do? These are some of the questions that were answered at the last Model UN meeting.

Dr. Helburn spoke to the group about the geography and basic economy of Norway, on Monday evening, December 4. With the use of land economy and silhouetted maps, Dr. Helburn gave the members of the group a start to a better understanding of Norway. This lecture was the first in a series that the MUN hopes to hold during next quarter in preparation for the Model UN session to be held during spring quarter in San Diego, California.

Not only do they hope to have professors give more lectures, but they have a study program being set up whereby the students will be able to do research and report to the group on their findings on things of importance to the group.

The meeting was the last meeting of the quarter for the group and all the students and faculty members who helped get the program started at MSC are commended.

If anyone is interested coming a member of this o zation next quarter, he watch for a notice concerni first meeting after registra

FROM SEA TO SHINING SEA

America is a great country. America's cities are full of house America's forests are full of trees. America's rivers are full water. But it is not houses and trees and water that mak America great; it is curiosity—the constant quest to fin answers—the endless, restless "Why?" "Why?" "Why?".

Therefore, when I was told that Marlboro was a top sell at colleges from USC to Yale, I was not content merely accept this gratifying fact, I had to find out why.

I hied myself to campuses in every sector of this mighty lan First, I went to the Ivy League—dressed, of course, in a appropriate costume: a skull-and-bones in one hand, a triang in the other, a mask-and-wig on my head, a hasty pudding my chops. "Sir," I cried, seizing an Ivy Leaguer by the lapel which is no mean task considering the narrowness of Ivy Leag lapels, but, I, fortunately, have little tiny hands; fact, I spent the last war working in a small arms plant where, am proud to say, I was awarded a Navy "E" for excellence an won many friends—"Sir," I cried, seizing an Ivy Leaguer by t lapels, "how come Marlboro is your favorite filter cigarette

"I'm glad you asked that question, Shorty," he repli "Marlboro is my favorite filter cigarette because it is the filt cigarette with the unfiltered taste."

"Oh, thank you, sir!" I cried and ran posthaste to seve campuses in the Big Ten, wearing, of course, the appropri costume: a plaid Mackinaw, birling boots, a Kodiak bear a frost-bitten ears.

Spying an apple-cheeked young coed, I tugged my forelo and said, "Excuse me, miss, but how come Marlboro is y favorite filter cigarette?"

"I'm glad you asked that question, Shorty," she repli "Marlboro is my favorite filter cigarette because the flavor flavorful, the flip-top box flips and the soft-pack is soft."

"Oh, thank you, apple-cheeked young coed," I cried a bobbed a curtsey and sped as fast as my little fat legs wo carry me to several campuses in the Southwest, wearing, course, the appropriate costume: chaps, canteen, and several leases. Spying a group of undergraduates singing "Strawbe Roan," I removed my hat and said, "Excuse me, friends, why is Marlboro your favorite filter cigarette?"

"We are glad you asked that question, Shorty," they repli "Marlboro is our favorite filter cigarette because we, native s and daughters of the wide open spaces, want a cigarette tha frank and forthright and honest. We want, in short, Marlbor

"Oh, thank you, all," I cried and, donning a muu muu, I sail for Hawaii, because in Hawaii, as in every state where Glory flies, Marlboro is the leading seller in flip-top box. campus, off campus, in all fifty states, wherever people smoke pleasure in this great land of ours, you will find Marlboro.
