Dedication

Bounteous is our Alma Mater and well does she look after her many sons and daughters. To them she gives much—pleasure, truth, knowledge, and efficiency. Great is her love for her children, but this love must be greatest for those among them who in turn give something to her—to those who ever strive to make her greater and of more service to men. ¶ To Alumni, to Faculty, to Students, and to all Montanans who have worked or are working for the advancement of our Alma Mater this book is dedicated.

The 1913 Montanan

To the Alumni, Faculty, Students and Friends of the Montana
State College

Greeting!

The golden days of one more college year will soon be behind us—a year filled to the brim with happiness and sorrow, success and failure. Our Alma Mater in the past year has shown a most marked advancement and achieved greater successes than ever before. Prompted by a custom established by those who have traveled, before us, this self-same highway, we have set herein the record of our college days. To all who, as they turn these pages, feel once again the thrill of undergraduate days and in whom the deep love for their Alma Mater is again aroused; to all who have a hope for her future well-being that is sincere and earnest; and to the many kind and true friends of our college, we the class of 1913, send forth this volume.

The Junior Class

Officers

GEORGE W. BLINN, President.

LAURENCE WYLIE, Vice-President.

MARGARET BOLE, Sec. and Treas.

Colors: Orange and Black.

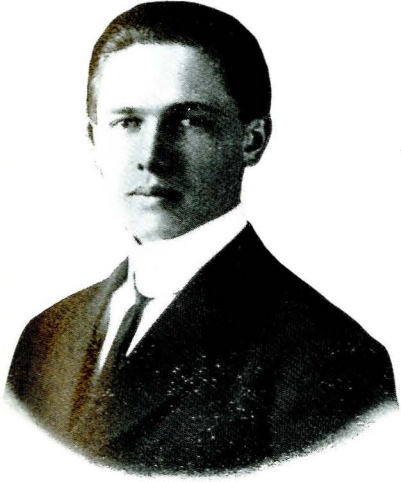

Motto: "After all, when it rains, it settles the dust; and when the sun shines, it dries up the mud."

GEORGE W. BLINN,
Butte, Montana.

Agronomy.

By his grin ye shall know him—also by his grades. Claims to be French from Cork—but, "Oh, I guess not French." An athlete of stellar ability and a strong advocate of evening down-town classes. Wields the scepter for the Juniors and captains the track team.

LEE B. ANDERSON,
Bozeman, Montana.

Agronomy.

Lee stoops to conquer. In fact he stoops for everything. He has to. He says he may be tall, but his feet only go to the ground. Believes in promptness on the part of the faculty and was never known to overstay the five-minute limit. Lee holds the long distance bluffing record of the institution.

RUTH E. ANDERSON,
Bozeman, Montana.

Home Science.

They all call her "Rufus" or "Sofie," this bunch of sunshine in eyeglasses. Is often the cause of much peevishness on the part of the Librarian, but has so far escaped the "carpet." When it comes to college spirit "Rufus" is a whiz, as can be seen from her grades and the number of offices she holds. Has the most contagious giggle on the Hill.

The 1913 Montanan

MYRTLE ALDERSON,
Marysville, Montana.
History-Literature.

A girl of very quiet and reserved manner, never known to take part in a "rough house," but ready most any time for a good joke. She is faithful to her college duties and glad to give a helping hand to those that need her assistance. Myrtle does not believe in dancing but is known to have participated in a "Virginia Reel" on the observation platform of the main building.

RALPH S. BRABROOK,
Rockford, Illinois.
Civil Engineering.

"Brae" strolled in from Illinois and decided to remain. The man of the hour during track and basketball season. Ralph almost won the tennis tournament but not quite, anyway it wouldn't have been respectful to beat the faculty. "Brae" is rather timid about girls and does not believe in Hall classes. His chief occupations are, staying home nights and dodging skirts.

THOMAS B. BROOK,
Bozeman, Montana.
Civil Engineering

"Tommy" is not one of the "babbling brooks." He's as quiet as a mud puddle. Every time he opens his mouth it is to utter words of wisdom or to expectorate. Is more at home on snowshoes in the mountains than in a white collar and dress suit. The nucleus of the Alpine Club.

STANLEY DOUGLASS,
Bozeman, Montana.
Electrical Engineering.

Long, lean, lank and limber, a quiet sort of a "duffer" but always on hand when needed, as in the tug of war or any informal scrap. "Stan" is not much of a fusser, but leap year has worried him a trifle. For this reason he did not register in Hallogy the last semester.

The 1913 Montanan

O. WALLACE FISHER,

Bozeman, Montana.

Electrical Engineering.

May often be heard lifting his voice in melting melodies in the main hall and other appropriate places about the campus. "Fat" is popular with both the fair and the unfair sexes and has a well worn trail to Hamilton Hall. Is a heavy Jack o'Lantern and a "G" string in the Band.

FRED E. GORDON,

Bozeman, Montana.

Agronomy.

Though Chicago has its attractions, "Fritz" prefers Bozeman as less strenuous. Has been accused of matrimony but has succeeded in acquitting himself. Is not ashamed to be discovered studying, and has never been discovered studying. Has been kept busy this year looking after the business end of the 1913 Montanan.

MARGARET BOLE,
Bozeman, Montana.
Mathematics-Physics.

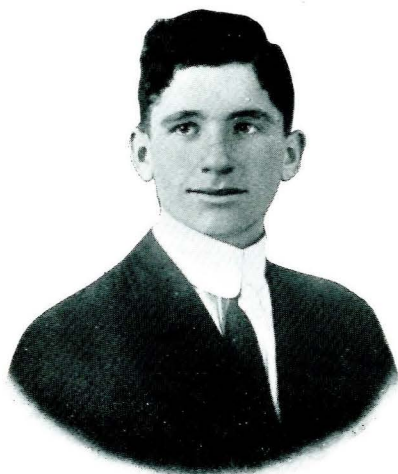

A disposition as bright as her hair, likes nothing better than to have a good time, but is careful to keep on the good side of the faculty by never cutting any class except hall classes. She is a firm believer in dances, especially Leap-Year dances.

CHARLES L. HANSEN,
Dillon, Montana.
Agronomy.

As a member of the Stock Judging Team at Chicago "Chud" had a chance to see civilization. Since then he declares Bozeman good enough for him. When there is anything doing count Charlie in, from Cupidology to Qualitative. One of the "Lyric's" most satisfied customers, especially on school nights.

The 1913 Montanan

W. BROOKE HARTMAN.
Bozeman, Montana.

Mathematics-Physics.

Brooke is a student at the college when he has time. At other times he captains the basketball team, plays a little football, indulges in track work, and vocal exercises. He also plays the piano and leads the church choir. Favors the weed in all its forms, but is partial to the fruitcake variety.

OLIVE G. CLARK,
Hunter's Hot Springs, Montana.

Home Science.

No one appreciates a laugh better than Olive, even when the joke is on her. She is a sincere, earnest girl, but does not believe much in "steadies." She belongs to the order of down-town barbarians and is always ready to do whatever may be asked of her.

LEWIS L. HILL,
Livingston, Montana.
Civil Engineering.

Anything suggesting the perpendicular, from pillar of society to totem pole applies to Luke. He stands six feet six or seven or eight and every inch a gentleman. Naturally Luke is some gentleman. The Sherlock Holmes of the Senate, and the hero of the dance floor.

FORD B. LEINARD,
Bryan, Ohio.
Agronomy.

"Blondy," "Deacon," or his laugh will identify him. Says he isn't a ladies' man but a photographer. Has a convincing line of argument against co-education, but it is only recently that he took that side of the question. "Blondy" divides his time between the Y. M. C. A. and the ten-cent theaters.

The 1913 Montanan

RUTH HARTMAN.
Bozeman, Montana.
Home Science.

A bright, happy little girl, never known to "pique" at any time. Ruth is always ready for a heated argument, which is characteristic of her lively cheerful nature. She is one of the fastest walkers in college, and as no one can keep up with her she generally walks alone.

ERNEST R. MORRIS.
Virginia City, Montana.
Chemistry.

The curly-headed scientist of the silky voice. If perseverance will lead a man to victory, Ernest has several victories cinched in the line of chemistry. Morris is sure heavy on the microbes, too; he can call 'em all by their first names without batting an eye. His note books are the standard references of the delinquents.

J. FRANK MCGUIRE,
White Sulphur Springs, Montana.

Agronomy.

Although "Mic" is editor-in-chief of the 1913 Montanan he is still allowed to run at large. King of fussers, and holding the highest grades in Co-etiquette as he does, his other credits may be overlooked. "Mic" would start a conversation with a wooden Indian if there was nothing more responsive at hand.

ABBIE E. MORRIS,
Virginia City, Montana.

Pharmacy.

Abbie believes in putting her college duties first and pleasure afterward, and as a result is one of the topnotchers in college grades. Although she attends strictly to business when in class she doesn't mind eating fudge in the bacteriology laboratory. Abbie is one of the few girls in college who thinks a big brother's company is better than the company of some other girl's big brother.

The 1913 Montanan

WARREN C. MCKAY,
Anaconda, Montana.
Electrical Engineering.

A little stranger in our midst, coming to us from Montana University. He talked the registration committee into slating him as a junior and is still with them, which speaks well for "Mac." He takes himself and everyone else seriously. This habit was acquired when he bumped into qualitative analysis. "Things aren't what they seem," says Mac, "they are worse!"

CARTER V. RUBOTTOM,
Great Falls, Montana.
Horticulture.

"Vag" was cut out for a scientist but has taken up smoking instead. Was stung once by the affinity bug and since then has advocated celibacy. Carried off the Stag medal for the best squirmer among the initiates. Is vice-president of the Aggie Club.

NATHALIE F. SACKETT.

Bozeman, Montana.

Civil Engineering.

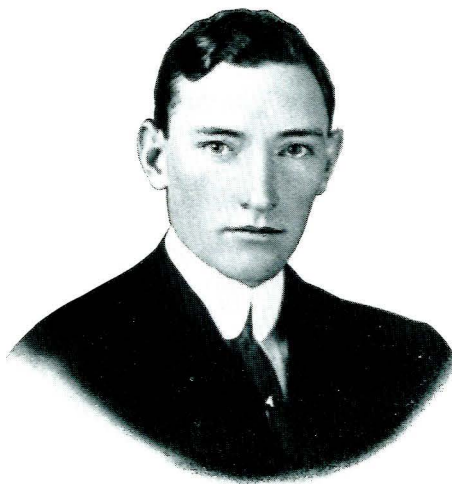

She is the only girl in college who has attempted an engineering course, and although she is the only girl in the class she does not seem to mind it. Her brother engineers say that she has all the earmarks of a C. E. except that she has not acquired the habit of chewing the weed. She is fond of all kinds of college activities. "Nat" is quite independent when it comes to carrying her own instruments in field practice.

ARTHUR E. SEAMANS.

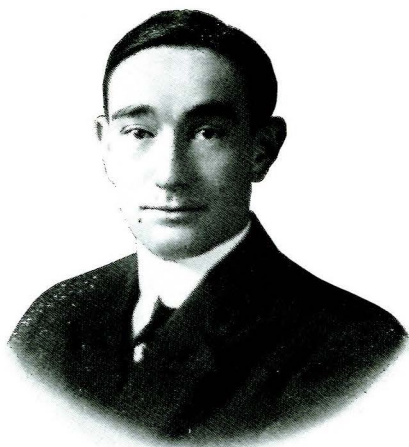

Wauwatosa, Wisconsin.

Agronomy.

Ex-member of the "Fussers" Club, but now strong for single blessedness. Studies a little when there is nothing else to do, though he may be found in the Biology building most of the time. Became famous as a rustler of cats for the anatomy class. May be always counted in where there is anything stirring.

The 1913 Montanan

JOSEPH R. SOPER,
Bozeman, Montana.

Horticulture.

Believes in purchasing textbooks as a speculation only. Can be relied upon to answer a question more or less correctly with no premeditation. "Sop" is something of a "Queener," though his offenses in this capacity have been light. His chief diversions are story telling and stringing the faculty.

E. HELEN SHIELL,
Buffalo, Montana.

History-Literature.

Helen knows every boy in college but prefers the Senior Aggies—one in particular. Although very quiet and reserved in manner she is one of the most popular girls in college. Although Helen could complete her college course in another year she says she is going to travel next year instead, but we all hope she will stick to her old occupation as a "tailor."

JOSEPH K. TRUMAN,
Electrical Engineering.

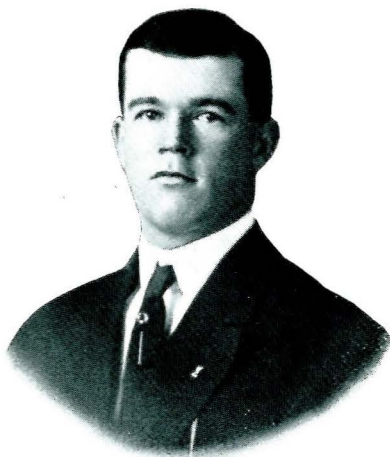

A wit of the dry sort—extra dry. A bachelor, but not adverse to matrimony. May be discovered in the Electrical building almost any time of day when he isn't in the library. Joe's only objection to Stag parties is that they come only once a year instead of once a week.

JOHN C. WHARTON,
Butte, Montana.

Agronomy.

A native of Butte, but doesn't look it. Member of the Wise-Guy's Club and the Ancient Order of Steins. Does not favor the eight o'clock schedule or any other schedule. Takes a girl when he has to, but is not enthusiastic about it. Wants to be a farmer and raise Cain.

LEROY D. WILLEY,
Briston, Montana.

Agronomy.

"Gotch" or "Wirey," he answers to either, holds the middleweight wrestling medal and the long distance study record. Chief ambitions are to get through school without a "C" and to throw Kirby. Favorite saying, "She loves me, she loves me not—not yet." Spends his leisure working and raising guinea pigs.

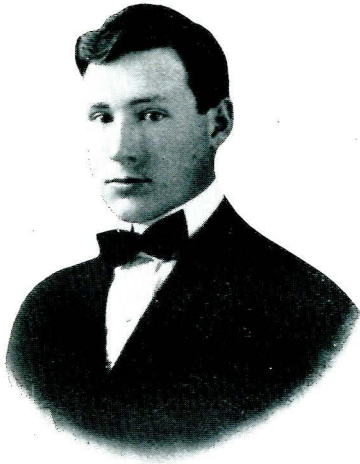

M. ALDA SMITH,
Dillon, Montana.

Home Science.

Though small of stature she is not small in any other way. Alda is loving, forgiving and generous, attends strictly to her own affairs, but is always willing to give a helping hand. She knows all the secrets of Dormitory life but rather prefers the downtown liberty.

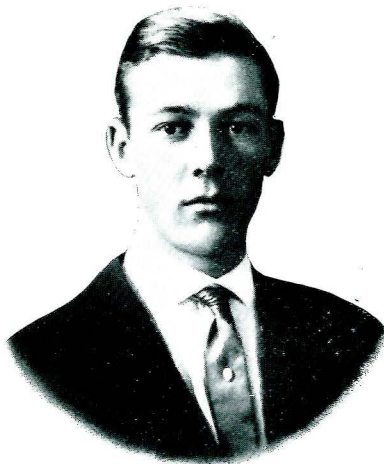

The 1913 Montanians

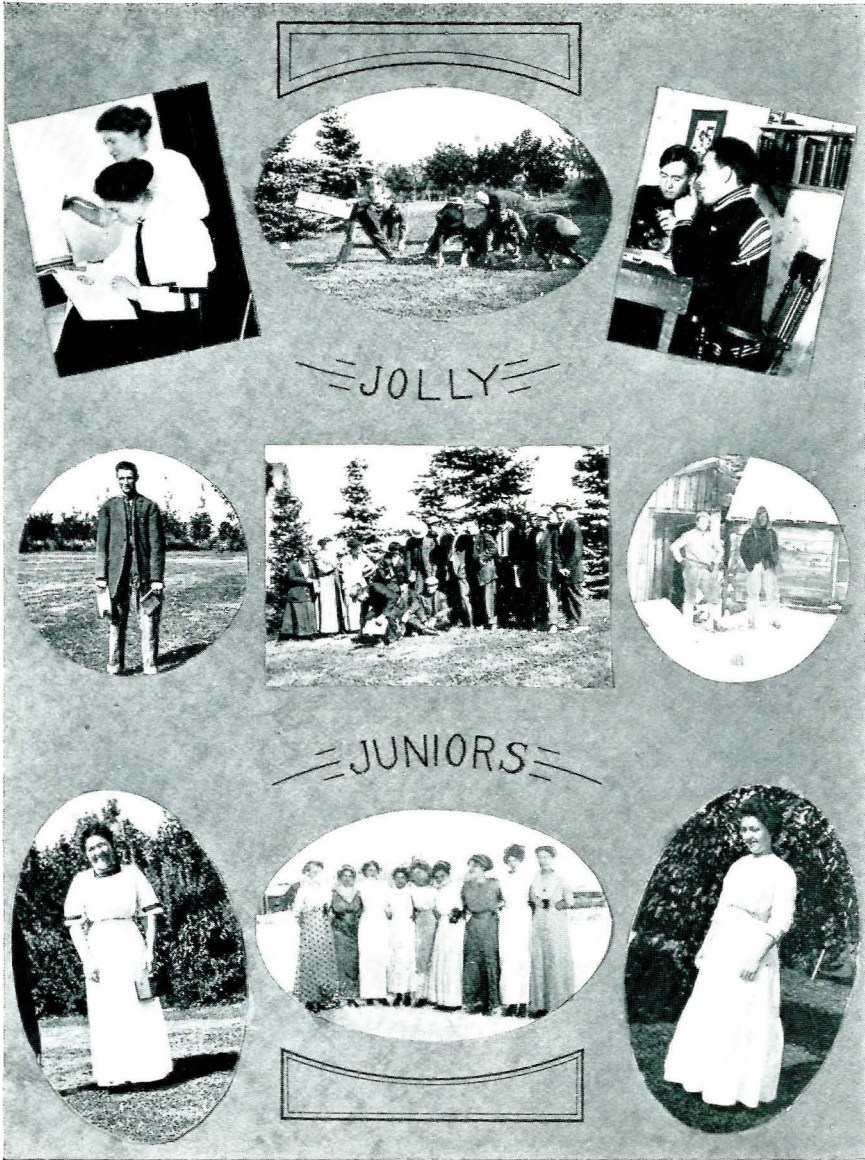

LAURENCE WYLIE,
Bozeman, Montana.
Electrical Engineering.

"Dutch" blows a horn in the band and takes Electrical Engineering between times. Was once discovered in conversation with one of the fair sex, but that was a long time ago. Since then his conduct has been irreproachable. For "Dutch" the school year dates from one band trip to the next.

WALTER G. WILLSON,
Bozeman, Montana.
Electrical Engineering.

A "Bluebeard" for acquiring "wives" and a "Bluebeard" for keeping them. Ascended from the '12 class to the '13s, and is to be congratulated upon his good judgment. Walt is the man so much respected by the Freshmen Stags due to their shocking reception into that order. Frequents the Hall of a Sabbath.

HENRY C. BURFIEND, Dillon, Montana.

President of the Pharmaceutical Society; Booster; Stag.

"Heinie," as he is better known to his friends, entered M. S. C. in the fall of '10, and ever since then he has been prominent among the class of '14. He was captain of the class basketball team and played a star game at forward. He played class baseball last spring and expects to take up this line of sport again this season. Mr. Burfiend has accepted a responsible position with the City Drug Store of Dillon and will take up his work there immediately after graduation.

The Stream of Life

Oh stream of life! the violet springs
But once beside thy bed;
But one brief summer, on thy path,
The dews of heaven are shed,
Thy parent fountains shrink away,
And close their crystal veins,
And where the glittering current flowed
The dust alone remains.

Review of the Season's Athletics

LOOKING back over the year's athletics at Montana State, the supporters of the blue and gold may well be satisfied. In spite of the early and sad termination of the football season, the year's record shows a more than fair percentage of victories. Reviews of the separate seasons appear elsewhere; this article deals with the year as a whole.

The football season was characterized by the heartiest co-operation on every hand, a championship team being the one thought. The men were rapidly whipped into shape and the first game with the Mines resulted in a tie score, in spite of the fact that they had had considerable more practice since their school year opened earlier. Then followed the two defeats at the hands of the Utah aggregations. The greater weight and experience of these teams readily foretold such results, but in spite of the large scores they were well worth while, for our green material gained more experience from these games than weeks of practice would have developed. At this time, just as the team was getting into shape for the remaining games of the state collegiate championship race, and before it had an opportunity to show its caliber against teams of its own class, the season was brought to its untimely close by the sad death of Charles Lange. Respect demanded that the season close here, and even the most ardent football enthusiasts readily acquiesced. What might have been, remains to conjecture.

Following football, cross-country work was taken up, closing at Thanksgiving time with the inter-class race. This work put the men in fine shape for basketball. An entirely new team had to be organized and the men rounded into shape slowly, but the season shows a total of six victories and only two defeats. One of these defeats was the first game of the season, before the team was organized, the other came at the hands of the famous Triple B's, a team whose splendid record takes all sting from the defeat. In the collegiate series, M. S. C. made a clean, decisive sweep of the championship, defeating both the Mines and the University on their home courts and on our own. Such was the basketball season; a season to be justly proud of and one to which the College may always point as a worthy example of her athletic prowess.

Immediately following the basketball season the big Interscholastic Basketball Tournament was staged. This event is unquestionably the center of interest in winter athletics over the entire state. Twenty-five high school teams participated and as every one knows, the end of the three-days' race saw Anaconda the undisputed champions.

And now, as this annual goes to press, all eyes are directed toward the approaching track meet, the last of the year's athletic events. The men have been working faithfully but have been more than ordinarily handicapped by poor weather conditions. In spite of this fact enthusiasm runs high and every nerve is strained to carry away the track championship, thus giving a fitting close to the year's work in athletics.

FOOTBALL

The 1913 Montanan

NEVER in the history of the institution was such interest and enthusiasm displayed as at the beginning of the 1911 football season. The outlook was very favorable and the supporters of the blue and gold predicted a team of championship caliber. Practice started early and the snap and spirit displayed by the players was indeed encouraging. Captain Chambers, Wolpert, Truitt and Hodgskiss were the only players left from last year's team. But the freshman class supplied a wealth of new material, and three teams reported for practice the first afternoon. The team was fast rounding into form and the first game but a few days distant when the team received a serious set back. Charles Lange, right halfback, was very seriously injured during a scrimmage.

One misfortune followed another, and within a few days the whole back field were suffering from injuries. The entire squad seemed to be demoralized, the coach dismayed and the students discouraged and downhearted.

Only three games were played; one a tie game, the others decisive defeats. We played by the School of Mines on our home grounds and a no score game resulted. The second game we lost to the Utah Agricultural College, by a score of 26-0. The third and last game of the season was played in Salt Lake with the University of Utah, and again we were overwhelmingly defeated.

On the day of the game in Utah Charles Lange passed away at his home in Helena. The news of his death was a sad blow to the whole school, and out of respect to Lange the remainder of the football schedule was cancelled.

The 1913 Montanans

EDWIN A. CHAMBERS, Captain.

Ned made one of the best football captains the State College has ever had. The example which he set by his consistency, strict training and willingness to work was admirable. "Cap." by virtue of his thorough knowledge of the game, was enabled to alternate at end, halfback and quarterback. Ned's absence next fall will be keenly felt, as an all-state end is hard to replace.

J. EDWARD HODGSKISS, Left Tackle.

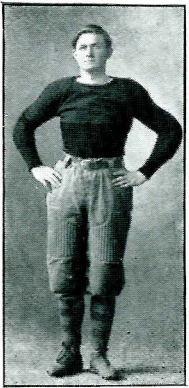

Though "Bing" graduates this June he is coming back next fall to captain the 1912 team. As "Bing" is a conscientious worker, a good trainer and has had considerable experience on the gridiron he should prove a model captain.

Hodgskiss has that rare combination of size, strength, speed and grit which go into the make-up of an ideal football player. Whether on offense or defense "Bing" plays with persevering consistency.

C. ALONZO TRUITT, Right Tackle.

"Tubbs" held down the position of right tackle in a very creditable manner. On the offense he is fast and tricky, while on the defense he was never found wanting. With two more years yet to play "Tubbs" will surely develop into one of the best line men in the state.

The 1913 Men's Team

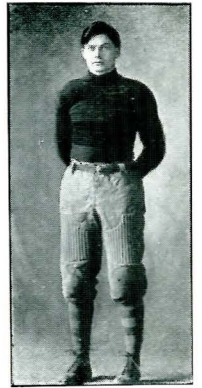

W. BROOKE HARTMAN, Left End.

Notwithstanding the hard luck of a serious injury the fall before, Brooke came out undaunted and with a grim determination to make the team. His hard, conscientious work earned him the position of left end, which he creditably held down throughout the season. Though not large Brooke is strong and clever and is looked upon as a "head-liner" for next fall.

EDWARD G. NOBLE, Center.

The playing of this freshman was indeed remarkable, as he was at all times heady, speedy, aggressive and reliable. His versatile tactics make him a wonder on defense. With three years yet to play Noble should develop into one of the best centers the state has ever had.

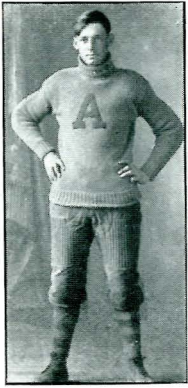

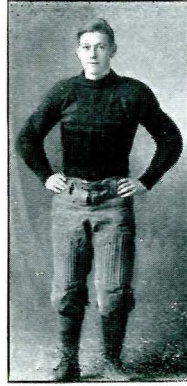

DAVID V. HIGBIE, Right End.

Dave is a product of Ridgefield Park, N. J., and one of the most willing and aggressive players on the team. He is a spectacular player, tackles hard, runs low and is found at the bottom of every play. This was Higbie's first year on the football team, and judging by his grit, wiry strength and determination he should prove one of the mainstays of next year's eleven.

The 1913 Football Team

"Muggsy" is from Butte, and a football player. He is one of those big little men who play the game like a demon. "Muggsy" fights from start to finish and has a knack of putting his 140 pounds of nerve where it is most needed. This was "Muggsy's" first year in college football.

HERMAN D. GILLIS, Right Guard.

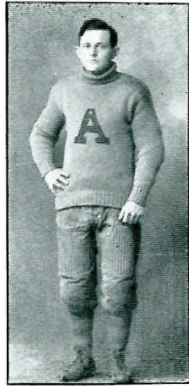

Gillis came to the college last fall with football experience, having received his early training on the "scrubs" of Butte High School. He had plenty of fighting spirit and our opponents rarely found a hole through our right guard. Gillis' passing of the ball and his punting were features of his playing.

VIVIAN S. CONNORS, Full.

Connors is another big man of the Teton variety, and has scrap and strength. Though this was his first year on a football field he learned the game readily and should prove one of the strong men on the 1912 team.

The 1913 Montanan

HAROLD E. WOLPERT, Right Half.

Early in the season "Ty" received a serious injury which kept him out of most of the games. "Ty" was the best ground gainer on the team, running hard and low and on the defense he was always effective. His graduation will mean the loss of one of our best men.

WALTER W. GRIMES, Substitute.

Grimes was the reserve quarterback during the past season and just lacked a few minutes of the time required to make his "A." What he lacks in size and experience he more than makes up in determination and heady playing.

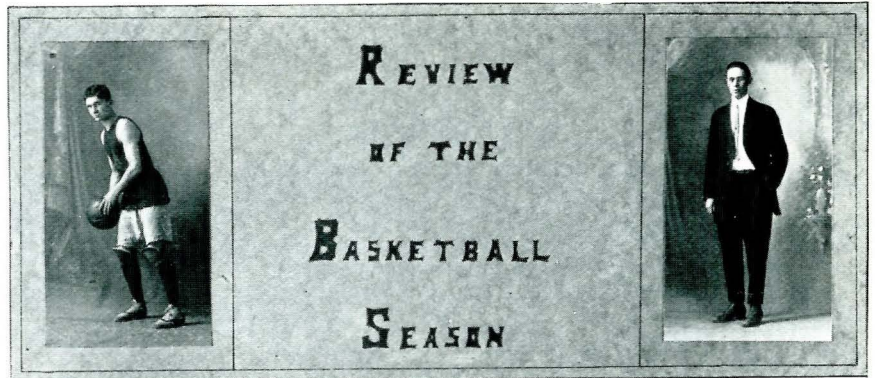

MARTIN G. READ, Substitute.

Like Grimes, Read did not play in the required number of games to be awarded a letter. Never the less the coach often found it necessary to send him into the game, and he always delivered the goods. This was Read's first year and much is expected of him next fall.

CHAMPIONS

Kitty

THE basketball season of 1911-12 ended with M. S. C. undisputed intercollegiate champion of Montana. This is getting to be an old story, since this is the seventh consecutive season that Montana State has won the championship.

When the season opened the prospects were none too bright, with but one veteran on the floor. The new material was good, but inexperienced in collegiate basketball. Many watchers on the side lines expressed the hope that the team would be lucky enough to win a game or so. But after the Helena Independents defeated us in the drill hall 31 to 19, the fans declared that we were down and out. A change was made in the line-up and two weeks later M. S. C. defeated the Centerville Athletic Club in Butte. Ten days later we beat the Helena Independents in Helena. Our next game was played in Missoula, where we had the pleasure of trimming the University. It appeared that we were safely out of the woods, but we didn't let down a moment. A week later we played the Triple "B's" of Billings on our floor. Of course they won, but only after the hardest kind of fighting. During the first fourteen minutes of play in this game neither side scored.

We played our next game in Butte, where we defeated the School of Mines. In our last two games with the University and School of Mines, which were played on our home floor, M. S. C. trimmed both teams handily.

Team work was the feature of the team's playing this season. There were no phenomenal basket shooters on the squad. The points in nearly all cases were well earned, the ball being carried down the field by short snappy passes and the point often made by one of the guards. A large share of this season's success was undoubtedly due to this unified playing.

This has, indeed, been a successful season, not a single intercollegiate game having been lost. The success of M. S. C. in basketball is due primarily to her coach, who was tireless in his efforts to turn out a championship team and who always had the respect of every man on the squad. The faithfulness of every man on the team is certainly to be commended, as is that of the scrubs.

The 1913 Montanan

W. BROOKE HARTMAN, Captain.

As captain, Hartman had the respect and confidence of the whole team. He displayed fine generalship and had command of his team at all times. The esteem in which he is held by his team mates is shown by the fact that he has been unanimously chosen to lead them again next year. Brooke's playing is marked by his clever floor work. He follows the ball continually and plays the whole court in a way that is very troublesome to most opposing guards.

J. EDWARD HODGSKISS, Guard.

"Bing" was the find of the basketball season. He was drafted to the first team rather late in the season, but soon showed his class. "Bing" is big, strong and fast and handles the ball with accuracy. Guarding fiercely he invariably plays his man to a standstill. Next year "Bing" should develop into one of the very best guards in Montana.

The 1913 Montanan

WILLIAM D. ROSS, Forward.

Ross, at right forward, proved the highest scorer for the Blue and Gold. His long shots were the feature in many games. Bill was especially good at throwing baskets from the foul line, and in this way scored many points for M. S. C. In opponents' territory he covered his guard well, and it was seldom that his man made a basket. As Bill is a freshman now we expect great things from him before he graduates.

GEORGE M. GOSMAN, Guard.

Gosman, at guard, was probably the most brilliant player on the team. A wonder at breaking up plays and getting the ball away from his opponents, he is fearless and speedy and follows his man every minute of the game. Although he guards closely, a few baskets in each game fell to his credit. "Gossy" is always a favorite with the spectators, especially with the fairer portion.

The 1913 Montanan

MAXWELL J. WILCOMB, Center.

At center Wilcomb plays a strong, steady game. With his height few centers were able to take the ball away from him on the jump. This meant much to M. S. C. and made possible the team work for which we were noted. "Slim" is always in the thick of the fray and ready to break up his opponent's work. This is his first year in college basketball and he will be a valuable man on next year's team.

THOMAS W. HILLIS, Substitute.

"Tommy" is a brilliant guard and a clever basket shooter. As substitute he was forced to sit on the sidelines most of the time, but when called upon he always delivered the goods. He is small but quick and has the "pep." He has three more years to play and should make a strong bid for the team next year.

The 1913 Montanan

The 1913 Montanan

THE track work of the 1911 season started early in February with a large squad reporting for practice. With all of the previous year's point winners back except Pool the prospects seemed very bright. The weather conditions, usually so adverse, seemed to favor the team more than ordinarily. Some of the new material seemed very promising and Coaches J. H. McIntosh and A. A. Dier were very optimistic over the outlook. Two meets were planned, the regular Triangular Meet at Missoula and a Dual Meet with the School of Mines, to have been held here. The latter meet did not materialize. About mid-season the team seemed to suffer a slump. Some of the best men in the institution became lax in their methods of training, and others, for one reason or another, failed to come out at all. Those interested in the welfare of the team became dismayed. Finally, after much pleading and threatening on the part of the coaches, the squad again assumed something like its normal proportions. Although the season was filled with a number of disappointments, a better balanced team than had ever before represented M. S. C. was sent to the Triangular Meet.

Excelling, as she did, in the weights and long and middle distance runs, the University readily won the meet by a score of 64 points, as against 43 for the College and 19 for the Mines. The wearers of the Blue and Gold were able to win but three firsts, two in the jumps by Brabrook and one in the sprints by Blinn. Webster was tied for first place in the pole vault. The other point winners were Annin, Donaldson, J. Morgan, Taylor, Clark, Lannin and Vestal.

Brabrook, Broad Jump

The "A" Men in Track

RALPH S. BRABROOK.

It is safe to say that no athlete wearing the State College colors has ever shown better form, in the true acceptation of that term, than has Ralph Brabrook in the high-jump and the broad-jump. Brabrook is the type of track man who must rely on form and nerve, lacking, as he does, the average heft and strength. Coming to Montana from an Illinois high school, Brabrook had several years athletic experience. This has stood him in good stead. Also he has improved considerably and this spring, on any warm day, is good for 5 feet 9 inches in the high jump, and 20 feet and better in the broad. Suffice it to say there is not now, nor has there been in the history of Montana track sports, another in Brabrook's class as a high and broad jumper.

GEORGE W. BLINN.

George Blinn—Captain Blinn, it is—has the distinction of being a Montana-bred boy and a Montana-made athlete. Blinn knew but little about track athletics as a freshman, but proved an apt student and soon learned the game. When Louis Pool graduated in 1910 the college wept for a sprinter. Then Blinn developed into a "find" and at the annual intercollegiate meet in Missoula last May he beat Conrad, an old hand at the game, in the 220 and was an easy second in the 100. M. S. C. never had a cleaner, more loyal athlete than this same George Blinn and if Butte has any more of his type under cover the State College would like to know about them.

The Engineering Journal

In the fall of 1910 the Society of Civil Engineers of Montana State College decided to publish an annual consisting of articles by prominent engineers, dealing with recent investigations along engineering lines.

The first issue came out in May, 1911, under the very capable editorship of R. B. Williams, '11, with William G. Tremper, '11, as business manager. The book contained one hundred pages illustrated with numerous halftones and etchings and was called "The Montana Engineering Journal." It roused much favorable comment among the practicing profession.

This year the book is of the same size and uniform with last year's edition; it is planned to make the books of permanent value and of such a size as to be convenient for reference. It is significant of the growth of the college that it has been found necessary to include advertising of technical subjects only. At the present time most of this advertising comes from firms outside the state.

Graduates in Music

MISS HETTIE SCHUMACHER, Bozeman.

Miss Schumacher has studied piano music for a number of years, taking lessons always under college instruction. During her regular course she has studied with Mr. Oliver, Miss Barnes, Prof. Sontum and Mr. McNeeley. Years of careful training and patient study have combined to make Miss Schumacher a very able young lady both as a pianist and as a teacher.

MISS GEORGIA HOLLIER, Bozeman.

Miss Hollier entered college in the fall of 1909 with the present junior class and carried regular college work together with her course in music, but poor health forced her to give up her college work. In the School of Music she studied two years under Miss Regina Barnes; one year under Prof. Sontum, and two years under Mr. McNeeley. Hard work and persistent effort have enabled Miss Hollier to complete the music course and it has given her an excellent foundation for teaching.

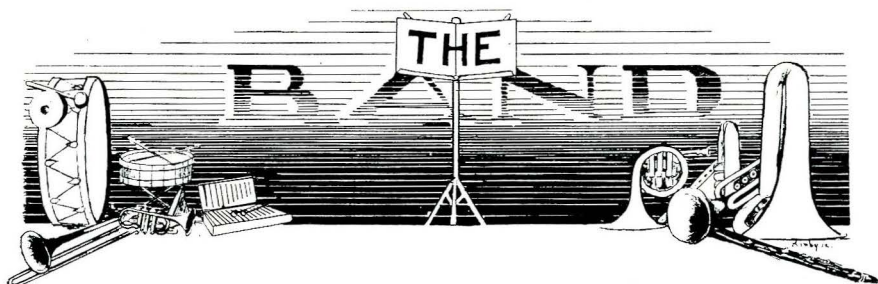

MISS ZADA SALES, Bozeman.

Miss Sales has the distinction of being the youngest graduate in the history of the School of Music. Seven of her sixteen years she has spent studying with the best teachers the town has offered. Three years have been spent with Miss Kate Calvin, the founder of the School of Music, one with Miss Barnes, one with Mrs. H. I. Houston and two with Mr. McNeeley.

Preparatory Dramatics

ALBERT URBACH, President.
SYLVESTER WHITE, Secretary.
ALBERTA BORTHWICK, Treasurer.

EARLY in the fall of 1911 the Preparatory School organized a dramatic club, the primary purpose of which is to train its members in declamation, extemporaneous speaking and dramatic art. Mrs. Una B. Herrick is the director of the club. It is planned to give a farce at the graduating exercises of the Preparatory School in June.

STOCK JUDGING.

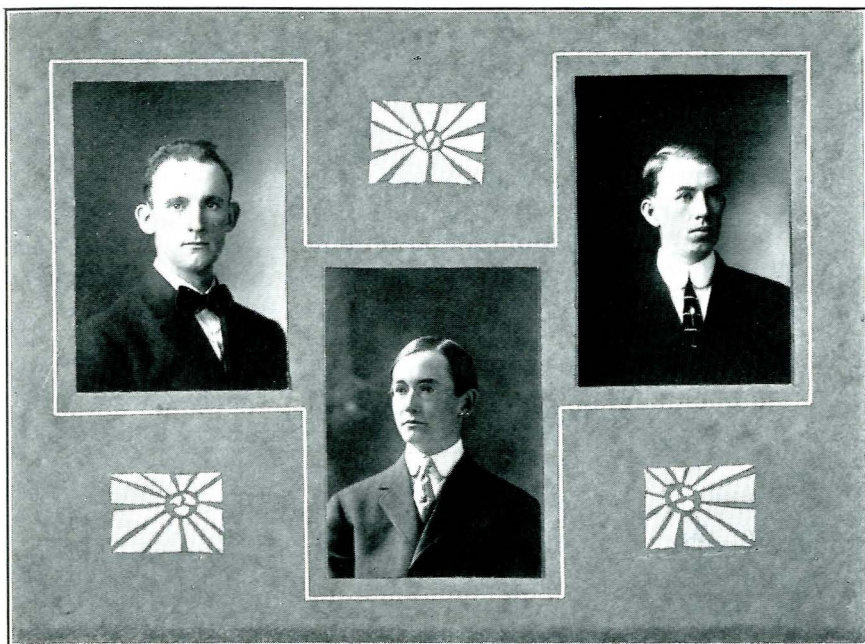

The International Stock Judging Contest

AMONG the other new lines of work taken up at M. S. C. during the past year was that of advanced stock judging. This was taken up in part to perfect a team which for the first time in the history of the school was to represent Montana State College at the student judging contest held in connection with the International Live Stock Show at Chicago, Dec. 2, 1911.

About twenty of the upper classmen of the agricultural department began work in earnest in September, and as a result the following were chosen as the team: J. C. Taylor, N. C. Donaldson, G. W. Morgan, F. E. Gordon and C. L. Hansen.

The team entered the contest in competition with six other college teams from the United States and three Canadian college teams. The results of the contest were very close, Montana taking seventh place. Three of the first four places were taken by Canadian teams, thus giving Montana fourth place in the United States. By virtue of showing the highest average of the United States teams in the judging of swine, Montana was awarded one of the Armour scholarships.

State Stock Judging Contest

EACH year at the Montana State Fair a Stock Judging Contest, open to young men of Montana, is held. Classes of horses, cattle, sheep and hogs are placed and reasons given for the placing of the same. The contest in 1911 was close and interesting, ten men being entered. All of the prizes were won by college men. George W. Morgan of Bozeman, first; John C. Taylor of Chinook, second; John C. Wharton of Butte, third. H. P. Griffin of the Montana State College had charge of the contest and Prof. W. B. Richards of North Dakota State College and Prof. Iddings of the University of Idaho were judges of the contest.

School of Agriculture Stock Judging Contest

ON March 16, 1912, there was a stock judging contest held for the School of Agriculture. Four classes of stock were judged; one each of horses, cattle, hogs and sheep. The boys were required to place each class and to give their reasons for the placing on two of the classes. Every boy in the School of Agriculture participated in the contest and their work as a whole was excellent. Fred Dawson won the contest with a score of 278 out of a possible 300; F. T. Peterson came next with 271 and John Seidensticker was third with 266. H. P. Griffin conducted the contest and R. F. Miller and Dr. W. J. Hartman were the judges.

The Senate

LATE in the year 1910-1911 there arose an activity of thought and action among the students of old M. S. C. which culminated in the organization of what is now known as the Student Senate. The purpose of the new organization was primarily to be a mouth-piece for the general student body, and its action was to have certain supervision over student activities.

During the year the Senate was frequently called upon to voice its sentiments upon matters of student interest and it has always been upheld by its superior body so far in its career. It dealt with problems of policy and conduct during the football season. Later settled matters of petty thievery, etc., which were handled satisfactorily.

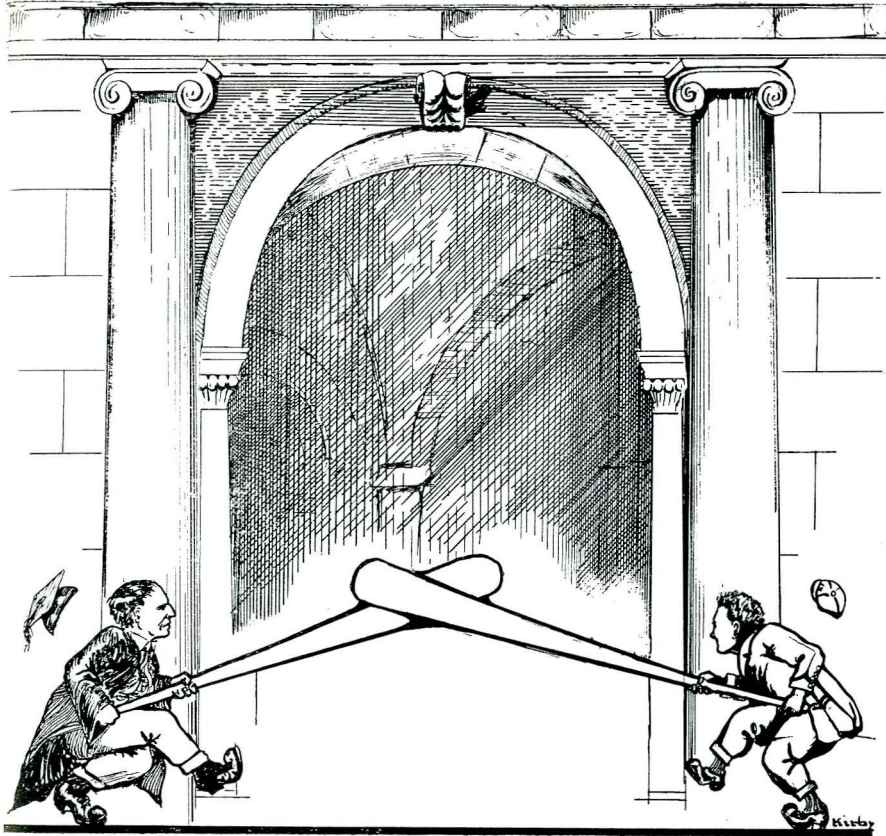

It has adopted measures which tend to prevent any one student from becoming overloaded with offices and voluntary duties. It has established new customs for the lower classes to observe, and those customs have lived. It has undertaken a supervision of the schedule of college affairs and succeeded in preventing lamentable conflicts which occurred during previous years with regular precision.

The Student Senate of M. S. C. is composed of a president, elected by the entire student body, from the senior class of the ensuing year, four senior senators, elected by the class; three juniors, two sophomores and one freshman. It is not intended as a medium of absolute student government, but it is meant as a means for determining and expressing readily the attitude of the students on any matter of great moment.

THE organization admits as active members all students registered in the regular college courses of civil, sanitary or architectural engineering. The object of the society is to increase the interest in technical education by discussing the current questions and problems of the profession. During the year men of practical experience are engaged to speak to the society upon the various phases of their work. Annually the society publishes a publication known as "The Montana Engineering Journal." The articles are contributed by successful engineering alumni of the college. The merits of this year's publication are credited to Harold E. Wolpert as editor and William E. Chapman as business manager.

The society numbers twenty-three members, and the progress and success of the year may be attributed to the efforts of Freeman A. Daley, President of the society.

THE Electric Club was organized in the spring of 1907 and is directly affiliated with the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, being the only branch of that society in the state. The purpose of the club is to promote interest in Electrical Engineering by monthly meetings, at which electrical topics are discussed. One of the important things done by the club is the holding of the Annual Electric Show about the middle of May.

THE Montana Agricultural Club was founded in 1904 by members of the School of Agriculture and a few long course men, with George Hogan as President. This organization thrived for a while then lingered and finally gave up the ghost in 1907.

Two years later the club was resurrected, a new constitution adopted and plans formulated for a co-operative book society. These changes and the limitation, in 1911, of membership in the club to four-year college men put the club on its present basis.

The chief purpose of the club is to promote good fellowship among agricultural students and to provide an organization where topics pertaining to agriculture can be discussed. Two regular meetings are held monthly. At these the new problems of scientific farming are reviewed and discussed, and occasionally the club is favored with an address by a faculty member, a farmer or some agricultural expert.

THE Home Economics Club was organized three years ago by the four-year girls of the Home Science course. During the last year the club was re-organized under a new constitution. Regular meetings are held once a month, at which time interesting and instructive programs are given.

During the year interesting lectures and talks were given by Miss Hess, Miss Baldwin and Prof. Cobleigh, as well as several student members.

One of the enjoyable features of the year was the dance and supper given to the members of the club by the Agricultural Society. Later in the year the girls intend to return the favor with an entertainment for the "Aggies."

THE Pharmaceutical Society was organized by the students of the Pharmacy Department of Montana State College in the fall of 1909. The society holds regular meetings at which topics of interest to the college and especially to the Pharmacy students are discussed. All students enrolled in the School of Pharmacy are eligible to membership, and they have built up one of the leading societies at M. S. C. The rapid growth of the department of Pharmacy at M. S. C. is largely due to the efforts of the society. The graduates from the School of Pharmacy are approved by the State Board of Pharmacy and may, when they have had four years experience, become registered pharmacists without taking the state examinations.

The Heulish Does

The Does are an awful roughneck bunch;
The way they act is a fright.
At their party they tank up on lemonade punch,
And sit up 'till nearly midnight.

They torture the freshmen maids till they faint,
By sticking fresh gum in their hair,
And daubing their faces with red and green paint,
Till they look like the dickens for fair.

They gossip and dance in a scandalous way,
And the campus resounds with their glee.
But as midnight approaches they cease their wild play,
To banquet on crackers and tea.

And when the wild orgy is over at last,
They trot away home, quite content.
For they think of the hours which just flitted past
As being most shockingly spent.

The Annual
Bill

Foreword

AFTER the serious trend of the part of the book which has gone before, we feel the need of something in a lighter vein. * * * * * In the way that the hearty meal is followed by the light, vapory clouds from the havana; in the way that the dark rain clouds are followed by the brightly hued rainbow; in the way that the examination week is followed by the rollicking Stag and Doe parties, * * * * * in just the same way that part of this volume which has gone before is followed by this lighter, brighter part. * * * * * And in the same way that the havana is the most enjoyable part of the dinner, the rainbow more beautiful than the dark clouds, and the Stag and Doe parties preferable to exams, * * * * * just so does that part of our book which follows surpass the first sections of our book. * * * * *

In this, The Annual Grill, we believe none has been scorched, a very few roasted, some have been toasted, while the majority have felt but a gentle warmth. This part of the publication will, more than any other, make liberal use of the freedom of expression. * * * * * The preceding pages, we feel, have not depicted our college life adequately. * * * * * Therefore, to portray the student's life a mite more accurately, and to lend relish to the first part of the book we have arranged this supplement. * * * * *

We have made no attempt to be original in this section of the book, but we have earnestly endeavored to set before the public the truths and facts of our college life. * * * * * And as the one Authentic, Unbiased, and Fair-minded division of this volume we submit The Annual Grill.

The Annual Grill

The Ten Commandments

- I. Thou shalt not rough-house in the library, for the wrath of the librarian is visited not upon thee, but upon the innocent ones around thee, and they are sore oppressed.
- II. Shouldst thou fall asleep in assembly, snore thou not too loudly, for by so doing thou breedest envy in the hearts of thy fellows, and pleaseth the speaker not at all.
- III. Honor thou the grinds, for verily their wisdom and their notebooks are thy salvation when the "round-up" is near at hand.
- IV. Five nights shalt thou study, but do as little as thou hast to do, while upon the sixth and seventh thou shalt spend thy time and cash in college spirit(s).
- V. Thou shalt not go campus strolling with another's maid, when that one attendeth lecture and can behold thee from the windows of the lecture room, for verily I say unto you thou will be held to account for much listlessness and many bawl-outs in the class-room.
- VI. Thou shalt not say "I know not," when thou art called upon, but thou shalt keep the Prof. in conversation until the sharks have passed to thee the answer to the question and thou can'st answer rightly. Thus thou killest more time and impose no hardship upon thy equally ignorant neighbors.
- VII. Thou shalt not loiter late at Hamilton Hall, for, if thou dost, the wrath of the Dean will be visited upon thy head and verily I say unto thee thou shalt be deprived of the pleasures of worshipping in that synagogue of the beautiful.
- VIII. Thou shalt not pass disparaging remarks about our coeds, for verily I say unto ye they do the best they can, and we have faith and trust that their looks will improve with numbers.
- IX. Thou shalt not go mounted to thy examinations, but thou shalt hitch thy steeds outside the door.
- X. Beware thou of the fair coed, for her ways are as curious as the curls in her top-knot. She loves thee not for what thou art, but for thy candy and thy bids to dances. She flirts with thee when thou art opulent, but when thou art no longer such thou art forgotten and another goat is captured.

"Listen here, now."—"Mugs" Miller.

The Faculty Primer

- A is for Abbie, whose last name is Hess,
Her rep. as a teacher makes us all guess.
- B is for Baldwin, the teacher of art,
In leather and china she sure does her part.
- C is for Cobleigh, and chemical knowledge,
His rep. for stale jokes is the best in the College.
- D is for Dockstader, a good sport so they say,
He's not married yet, but is well on the way.
- E is for everything our Prof's tell us to learn,
Some speak to us kindly, and some act more stern.
- F is for Fiske, "Willie" Brewer's middle name,
As a teacher of English he has very much fame.
- G is for Griffin, the stock-judging man,
He calls at the dorm as oft' as he can.
- H is for Hamilton, our president stern,
"If you talk in the hall you are not here to learn."
- I is for Ignorance, that's what we're all told,
From alumni, ex-students and faculty bold.
- J is for Jones, the dairy's hatless wonder,
In butter, cheese and temperatures he never makes a blunder.
- K is for Kneale, the civil engineer,
Nowhere in the land can you find this man's peer.
- L is for Lilla Harkins, you all know her well,
"The way to a man's heart is through his stomach," they tell.
- M is for Mollet, the only "doc" on the hill,
He can bandage your hurts and give you a pill.
- N is for Nonsense, that's right in our line,
But when we go to classes we all come to time.
- O is for Orville B., the greenhouse his place,
He classifies plants and the rest of that race.
- P is for "Pat," who has now left the hill,
Tho' we don't like his subjects, we do love him still.

"I got only 99 in that last test."—George Cook.

The Annual Grill

- Q is for Quiz, that Barnes likes to spring,
In all lines of chemistry they're quite the thing.
- R is for "Rob" Cooley, in bugs he has fame,
All worms, snakes and flies, he calls them by name.
- S is for Swingle, with knowledge he does fill us,
In water, milk and beer he finds many bacillus.
- T is for Tallman, the best Prof. in the park,
He's the friend of the students and at Math. is a shark.
- U is for Una B., the dean at the hall,
She's the girls' best companion and answers each call.
- V is for Victories, the Prof's tell us about,
They were sharks when in college, but now they are out.
- W is for Winter, our Librarian tall,
"If you don't stop talking you can go to the hall."
- X is for Xams, the delight of the teachers,
When we get through cramming we all look like preachers.
- Y and Z are for those we have left to the last,
But in their departments they can't be surpassed.

The National Anthem

It comes upon a midnight clear,
That glorious song of old;
While wakeful Profs in their beds give ear,
And hum the air, we are told.

A song of youth, and rollicking joy;
To the hearts of all it is dear,
But it's sung most of all by the college boy;
That famous old song of "Cheer, Cheer."

"Gee! but I'm strong with the ladies."—McGuire.

The Tale of the Biology Cat

It was a ghostly spectacle
That told to me this tale,
Late upon a summer's night,
When the witches moon shone pale.

A stranger sight I ne'er did see,
Nor hope to see again,
Than that light thing, I knew not what,
Half wraith, half skeleton.

It floated there before me,
Suspended from the sky;
It waved a skinny paw aloft
And stared with bulging eye.

I gazed in open wonderment
And pondered o'er and o'er,
Where, outside of a railroad wreck
Had I seen such a thing before?

Nor hide, nor hair, was there to see,
O'er all its bony frame.
It lacked a leg, it lacked a tail;
It's breath with whistlings came.

Thru it's torn flank the moonlight played,
'Twas empty as the air;
The grinning lips drawn back and up,
It's gleaming teeth laid bare.

Full long I watched the phantom thing;
I knew not what to say.
Then gaining pep I boldly asked,
"What art thou tell me pray."

It drew it's breath;
It hissed and spat;
And then it said,
"I was a cat."

"Once roamed I on the earth as you;
I loved to sing at night.
Sweet songs we sang, my pals and I,
Beneath the bright moonlight.

One night there came a lad and lass,
My flight did not avail,
When scrambling thru a picket fence
They caught me by the tail.

"Have a little snuss fellers?"—Taylor,

The Annual Grill

"Quick as a wink they grabbed me up,
Ah me; alas! alack!
With a shout of joy and a screech of glee
They popped me in a sack.

" 'Twas there I stayed the rest of the night,
They took me out next morn
And dropped me into a big glass jar
With a sponge of chloroform.

"Quite soon I croaked in the choking mist
And they took me out of my skin,
And set me afloat with more of my kind
In a barrel of formalin.

"After several weeks in pickle
I once more saw the light.
The person who dipped me out of the vat
Was the girl I saw that night.

"She shuddered as she laid me down
And grasped her sharp scalpel;
I think I can hardly blame her at all
For I must have looked like hell.

"She gritted her teeth and carved on me,
For several months, I'd say,
Till with her constant hacking
I grew to appear this way.

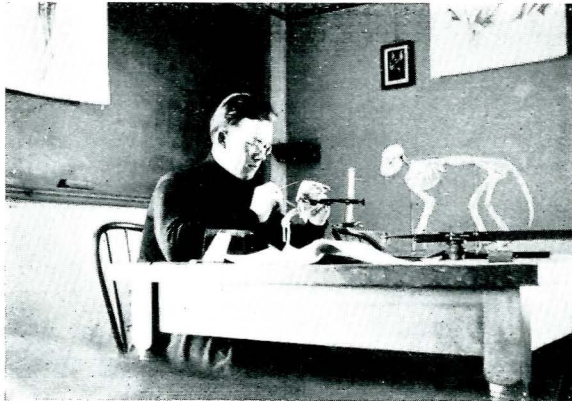

" 'Twas first a leg, and then a lung,
She ripped me open clean.
Cut out my heart and arteries,
My stomach, liver and spleen.

"She broke my ribs and cracked my back,
Till the light shone thru from the skies.
She took my brain and spinal cord,
She cut out one of my eyes.

"My parts lay east, my parts lay west,
My parts were all around.
But never a thought did she give to me;
But to get a good grade she was bound.

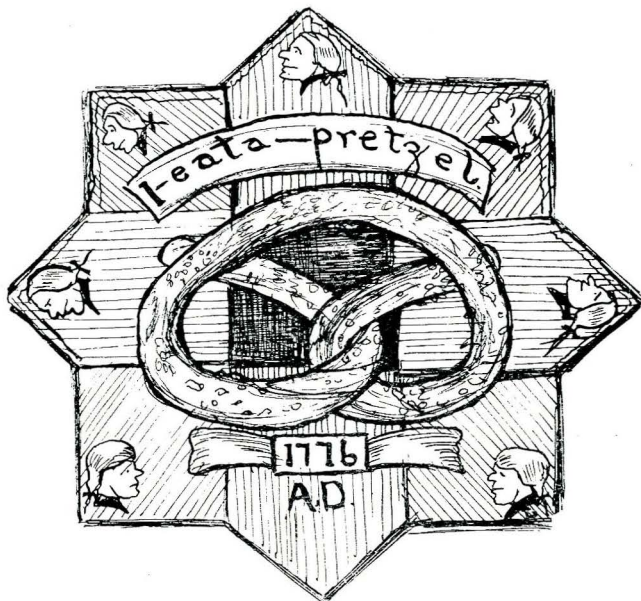

"When all the work was completed,
And all the damage was done
She hove me into a waste jar
And left me there alone.

"They threw me out on the ash pile;
All that was left of me.
So I am not the Biology Cat any more;
But only it's ghost you see."

"Slip it to me, guy."—Tait.

The Annual Grill

Limericks

There is a young man from Teton,
To college he came to get on,
Pompadour is his hair
He sure is a bear,
This fearful tackle from Teton.

There was a young man named Grimes
Who was always in "Gleason's" sometimes
From there he would go
To the ten-cent show,
And the Tuxedo got his last dimes.

There was an old Prof named Brewer,
His hairs grew fewer and fewer,
Till his sister cried
Come to my side,
And I'll put on this hair renewer.

There was a young man named Whit,
Who isn't good looking a bit,
He came here in '10
Right straight from the pen,
And the very first night he got lit.

There was a budding young editor named Draper,
Who peddled so much heated vapor,
To a certain Miss Fitch,
That we fear they will hitch,
And together edit the paper.

Little Billy Vestal sat at a festival,
Drinking a cup of pink tea;
As he looked at Miss Flander(s),
He said "I must land her,"
For she looks very good to me.

"Hell, yes!"—Donaldson.

Qualitative's Got Me Hypnotized

A Mirthful Musical Melody as Sung by
Lee Anderson & Anderson Ruth

Qualitative's got me hypnotized,
I certainly am mesmerized,
I thought that I was wise,
Until I looked in Barnes' eyes,
That very night,
He gave me such a fright,
I'm doing unknowns I shouldn't do,
Unknowns I couldn't do,
Unknowns I wouldn't do,
I could do for you,
Just because Barnes has me hypnotized.

"You crazy kids."—Ruth Anderson.

The Annual Grill

Jottings From a Junior's Diary

Every Little Scandal Has a Write-up All Its Own.

APRIL.

APRIL 7.

1—All Fools' Day and Bill Lefevre got married.

2—Sunday, nothing doing but Sunday school, church and then some more church.

3—Election day, Berthot and Manry each furnish free stogies and auto rides.

4—Joe Morgan: "The bare idea of getting bald is distasteful to any man."

5—The faculty slipped over their famous "Sunrise Act"—the eight o'clock schedule.

7—Everyone voted for student government. Won the "Big Talk" with Utah.

9—Sunday again, ditto the 2nd.

11—Charles Draper: "When a man gets to be a big gun he must be careful about getting loaded."

14—The Boosterines presented the assembly room with a frieze. (This was not a frost of the usual kind.)

17—"Louie" Howard and his band of noise dispensers leave for a tour of the state. Old habits again break out.

18—The band played in naughty, naughty Butte. 'Tis rumored that "Clintie" Booker did some boosting for the college.

19—Freshies and Sophs had a little "shindig" at Elks' Hall. Buried the hatchet and raised h—.

21—Twelfth Annual Oratorical Contest came off with Bill Winters $25 to the good. Bill was in great form.

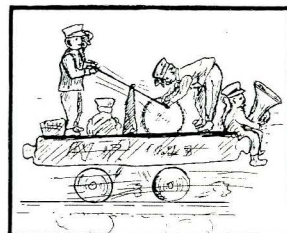

22—Saturday and 23—Sunday.

24—The engineers distributed their Journal today.

27—George Cook left for the "hockey school" in Butte. Hung it on to Wesleyan in the annual debate.

28—Walt DeLacy takes unto himself a bride—the "bunch" take something else.

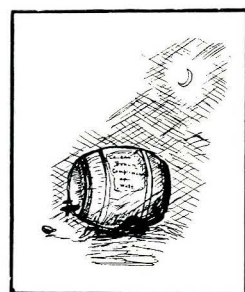

30—Wiley Wetzel got shot. Oh! no, not that way, this was Sunday, you know.

APRIL 17.

APRIL 21.

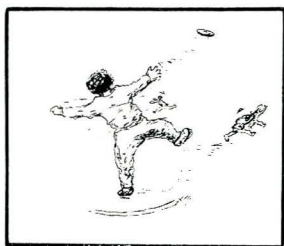

APRIL 28.

"Where's the little amphibious?"—V'etal.

The Annual Grill

MAY.

- 1—The Choristers burst forth in song this evening. Such a noisy bunch.
- 2—Juniors win the inter-class track meet. Kirk distinguishes himself in that classic event, the discus throw.

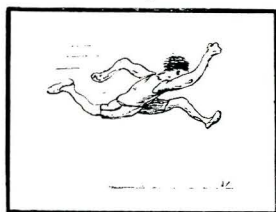

MAY 2.

- 3—Several of our "white hopes" participated in a battle royal at the Bozeman Gym.
- 4—Mrs Herrick feeds the College Widow gang.
- 5—"No Hit" Truitt pitches his team to victory in the Fresh-Soph game.
- 6—State Oratorical Contest. Bill Winters bumped up against someone who could holler louder than he.
- 7—Sunday.
- 8—Blue Monday.

MAY 5.

- 9—Arbor Day—and how it did rain.
- 10—Triangular Meet at Missoula. We beat the "Mines."
- 11—The tennis tournament draws out many "sharks."
- 12—We adopt the Constitution for student government.

MAY 10.

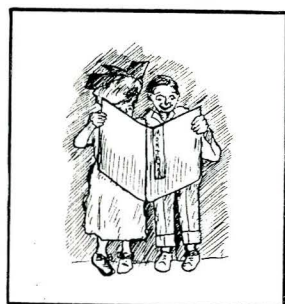

- 13—Work day, and free eats.
- 14—The panacea of all ills, nature's sweet restorer, peaceful Sunday. (After work day.)
- 16—Frank Wight gets a crush on the "Queen of the "Mouline Rouge."
- 17—Boosterines elect officerines.
- 19—Taylor gets presidency of the Senate. The College Widow is the attraction tonight.

- 21—Chambers and "Cy" Wilson seen hanging around the Dorm about dinner time. Ditto: Fat Fisher and Walter Willson.
- 22—The 1912 Montanans were handed out today.
- 23—Aggie's sanitary fountain installed.

MAY 13.

MAY 22.

- Water, water everywhere,
And on the "studes" did fall.
Water, water everywhere,
Around the fountain in the hall.
- 24—The leading exponents of the gentle art of wind jamming organize the Debating Council.
- 26—Athletic Association Election, same old joke. First meeting of the senate.
- 27—The Senior Hop.
- 28—Sunday and exams tomorrow. GRIND, CRAM, BONE and then some.
- 29—Exams! Exams!! Exams!!! Refrain, Cramming! Heart-ache!! Skiddoo!!!

- 30—The same bill of fare for today.

- 31—Ditto and the band begins to play "Good Night Ladies, I'm going to leave you now."

"Keep it dark."—Lee Anderson.

The Annual Grill

JUNE.

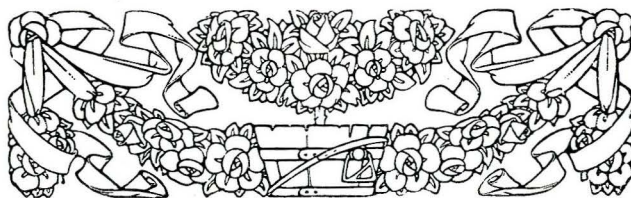

- 1—Bouffon dance.
- 2—"My College Chump" by the Seniors.
- 3—The Preps receive their sheepskins.
- 4—Sunday. Baccalaureate address. Aint it awful, Mabel?
- 5—Inspection day.
- 6—The Alumni feed the Seniors. Hamilton Hall is dedicated.
- 7—Seniors get their walking papers.

Diary

SEPTEMBER.

SEPTEMBER 11.

SEPTEMBER 20.

11—Influx of old studes and verdant freshmen. The village begins to hum once more.

12—Registration day. The same old bunch grab your coin and expose your last year's Cons and Flunks.

13—The unlucky number. The regular festivities begin also the first football practice.

15—The Sophs start hostilities by abducting "Adam," "Eve" and the "Missing Link," but the Freshies get Higbie and Solberg afterward.

16—"The Sweetest Girl in Paris" hit town tonight. Oh you Trixie Friganza!

17—Gretchen Fiske explores the hill to-day. Gretchen looks lonesome.

20—Some of the Butte bunch have a joy ride to Belgrade.

21—"Shanks" Border wins the peanut race at the Y. M. C. A. reception.

22—Big football rally. College spirit just slopped over.

23—Everybody went to "Bright Eyes." Some show that!

25—Several students journey to the State Fair.

26—George Morgan wins the stock judging contest at the fair. George's treat.

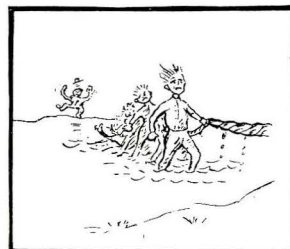

27—The profs call Kirk's bluff and he departs for Madison, Wis.

28—Jim Annin drifted in today and set 'em up.

29—Annual tug of war. Sophs bathe in Lake Amphibia.

SEPTEMBER 15.

SEPTEMBER 29.

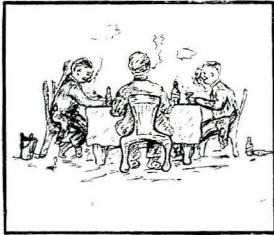

"I'm no stock judge, but when it comes to calves in a musical comedy, I'm there."—Atkins.

The Annual Grill

OCTOBER.

1—Cy Wilson renews old acquaintances today.

5—"The Third Degree" was here tonight, but everyone went to the college musicale.

OCTOBER 20.

6—Vestal is chosen to swing the Big Stick for the Boosters.

8—Sunday, and Chambers dines at the Hall, also Fisher and Donaldson.

9—Someone let the bars down and the "Short Horns" came in.

11—C. E. (not civil engineers) reception for students.

12—Columbus Day—a holiday, but it rained.

13—Methodist reception.

14—Mines o; M. S. C. o. Some fancier of nick-nacks misappropriates Burfiend's hat.

17—Mary K. lays down the law to the faculty as well as to the students.

19—"Big Bill" Taft visits Bozeman and the students get a half holiday. Kirby celebrates a birthday at Hamilton Hall.

20—The Bouffons have a "big feed." Sophs hold forth in the Drill Hall and the Freshies administer the smoke cure.

OCTOBER 21.

21—Brewer beats Brabrook at tennis. Mrs. Herrick rudely interrupts a midnight luncheon at the Dorm.

22—Sunday—that's all.

24—Football rally. Blinn elected editor-in-chief of Annual. McGuire returns. Editors-in-chief engage in Alphone and Gaston act.

25—Utah Aggies ran up 26 points, but we slipped in the mud and couldn't run.

26—The Annual Staff gets an inspiration, but loses a horse.

27—Harvest hop for the benefit of the stock judging team.

28—Annual slaughter by the University of Utah—97 to 0. Were we pushed or did we slip?

29—Chapman, Anderson and Atkins dined at the Dorm today. "Some eats" was the report.

30—Our crippled "gridiron heroes" return.

31—The football schedule cancelled by the student body. Saved!

OCTOBER 21.

OCTOBER 26.

"A little pep there, kiddo!"—Soper.

The Annual Grill

NOVEMBER.

NOVEMBER 9.

1—Duffield, Northway and others have a party. Northway gets a load and does the Vesuvius act.

3—The First Boosters' dance.

4—McGuire and a few freshmen make their debut before a Bozeman audience as "supes" in "Checkers."

NOVEMBER 10.

6—Gillis tries a "Gallatin Brau" shampoo.

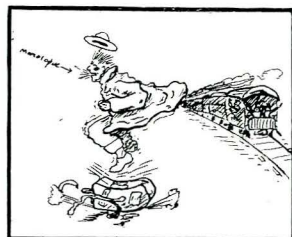

9—Lights go out at the Dorm and a "nightie" parade is held.

10—Freshies dance and pull taffy at the drill hall.

12—Fisher and Donaldson and friends get lost in Belgrade.

13—The "Flirting Princess" comes to town. Who did she flirt with? Ask Bacon.

17—Hansen leaves ticket at home and so does not depart with the stock judging team.

NOVEMBER 17.

3—The stock judgers see the sights in "Old Chi."

5—Anderson returns from Chicago—just had to get back.

8—Y. W. C. A. candy sale. Many were stung.

9—The stock judgers return minus Gordon.

12—The bunch see "Madame Sherry" from the peanut gallery.

14—Sophs win the big talk, but nearly everyone goes to "Hell" at the Lyric.

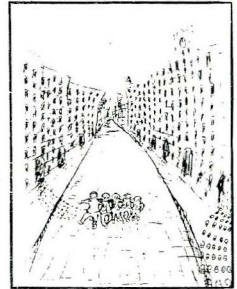

15—"The Rivals" by the Jack-o'-Lanterns. Muggsy entertains the Butte bunch at a box party.

16—Gordon returns from "Old Miz-zou" and receives many congratulations.

17—Sunday, "brite and fare."

19—Prexie feeds the stock judgers. Mrs. Griffin tells some of her famous stories.

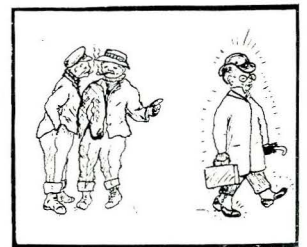

20—Everyone who is not broke leaves for the tall timber.

DECEMBER 3.

DECEMBER 9.

DECEMBER 20.

"I'll be the judge."—Bacon.

The Annual Grill

JANUARY.

2—The studes emerge from the tall uncut and return to M. S. C.

JANUARY 2

3—"Climax" Clark goes to sleep in the Physics class, the pool hall and several other convenient places. A blonde at the Hall is said to be married.

5—Third Boosters' dance. "Muggsy" and "Ole" take the honors for the slow waltz.

6—Prof. Patterson takes a Short Horn in out of the cold and puts him to bed.

9—The days roll by and still Luther does not return. Are there wedding bells in Teton?

12—The Aggie Club and the Home Economic girls have a dance and feed

15—A few upper classmen celebrate Luther's wedding.

19—The Co-ed Barbs hold a leap year hop and the girls show how it should be done.

JANUARY 19.

20—Pickrel and several other college boys begin bowling (at the alley).

22—Exams are on. Why is Qualitative, etc., etc.

26—Stag and Doe parties fill the boards for the night. The Stags' schedule begins at eight in the morning. Blinn's eloquence saves his fellows Stags.

27—The morning after. Oh, me head, me head!

29—Georgia Hollier entertains the S. N. L. and "others." Somebody steals the ice cream, but the "others" soon recover it.

30—Registration and the faculty again fleece the students.

31—The Preps slip one over on the Short Horns in the first of the inter-tribal basketball games.

JANUARY 12.

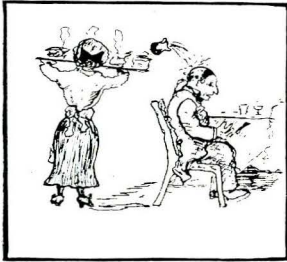

JANUARY 20.

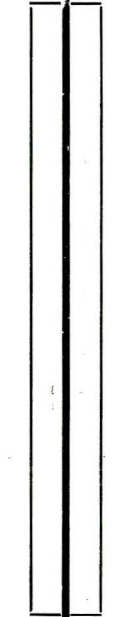

"Pretty soft."—Pickrel.

The Annual Grill

In Conclusion

THE 1913 Montanan is now finished, but before we close we wish to express our sincere thanks to those who have so kindly helped us to make our publication what it is. We wish to express our appreciation especially to Miss Lana A. Baldwin and Miss Genevieve Lane of the Art Department, for the aid they so unstintingly gave us in connection with the art work; to Noah Kirby and Glenn Hacker, for designs and headings; to Prof. Spaulding and Mr. Gilruth, for their kindly suggestions and helpful criticisms; to Mr. A. Schlecten, for the use of views of mountain scenery, which have added much to the artistic value of our book; to the editors of former annuals, who have helped us in many ways; and lastly, to all those who have by thought, word or deed been of assistance to us in our undertaking. If our work is in any way deserving of praise, its success will be in no small measure due to those who have so willingly aided the staff in their work.

Our work is finished; the book passes from our hands to yours. After you have looked it through you will render your verdict. It may be favorable or unfavorable; we may be praised or censured. The work has fallen far short of our ideals and we have made mistakes, but these cannot now be corrected. Our purpose has been to portray, in part at least, the every day life of our college, its truth and its fiction, its serious side and its lighter side. To the extent we have done this, we feel that our time and efforts have been well spent.

Our Advertisers

The publication of this volume was made possible to a large extent by those whose advertisements appear on the following pages, and the 1913 Montanan wishes to thank them most heartily for their generosity. To our subscribers we suggest that a special effort be made to patronize these public-spirited business men who have aided us so materially in our work

'Twas Never Thus

The student stood at the President's door,
His heart was as heavy as lead,
His head was thick from the night before,
And he'd received the summons in dread.

"Come in!" called a voice in a basal roar;
He entered with uncertain tread,
Was this the carpet he'd trod of yore,
Or were there two instead?

The President's gaze to his soul did bore,
And the student dropped his head.
"I wanted to warn you, young man, once more,
To not over-study," Prexy said.

Did You Know That the Famous Gallatin Valley

“The Egypt of America”

comprises the richest agricultural land in the world; that it raises more grain to the acre than any other section of the United States or Canada; that grain from the Gallatin Valley has won prizes in competition with that from all parts of the world, and that many trainloads of Gallatin Valley grain are annually shipped to foreign markets because of its superior qualities.

Here Are Some of the Average Yields Per Acre:

| | |
|---------------------------|-------------|
| Wheat, irrigated..... | 65 bushels |
| Wheat, non-irrigated..... | 40 bushels |
| Oats | 70 bushels |
| Barley | 45 bushels |
| Potatoes | 200 bushels |
| Timothy hay | 4 tons |

THESE ARE FACTS.

It is also a fact that approximately $6,500,000 worth of farm products were shipped into Montana in 1908, simply because of the lack of people to properly develop the agricultural resources of the state and thus supply the demand created for these products by the mining and stock raising sections. Bozeman, the metropolis of the Gallatin Valley, is only 98 miles from Butte, the greatest mining camp on earth, and only 96 miles from Helena, the capital of the state; hence, there is always a ready cash market for all products of the Gallatin Valley farm and garden.

For these and many other reasons, the Gallatin Valley offers unsurpassed opportunities and inducements to both the homeseeker and the capitalist.

If you are looking for a location where you can buy A-1 improved farming lands, irrigated or non-irrigated, at bargain prices, where crop failures are absolutely unknown, and where energy and ability are sure to meet with a substantial reward, then come to the Gallatin Valley. There is no better field in the Northwest today for profitable investment.

For further information regarding farm lands, timber lands, water power, industrial opportunities, business openings, railroad rates, or other things of interest to the investor and homeseeker, address
