Dedication

We, the members of the class of 1919, in token of our appreciation of their loyalty and patriotism, affectionately dedicate this volume to the M. S. C.

Boys in Service

Montanan 1919

Foreword and Greeting

THE YEAR just passed has been one such as Montana State College has never experienced before and we feel the inadequacy of the printed page to chronicle the events of the past twelve months. Therefore, it has not been our purpose to attempt such. We have simply attempted to gather together a few little incidents, a few reminiscences and a few important facts, and a few of the people who have assisted in making the year 1917-18 one which will receive a page of its own in the history of the college. And as the result of our labor we present to you this twelfth volume of the "Montanan" and hope that your criticism of the many imperfections and errors found within its covers will be tempered by a consideration of the many difficulties which we had to overcome.

Montana State College of the University of Montana

HISTORICAL

First Morrill Act of Congress, July 2, 1862, authorizes agricultural and mechanical colleges and makes land grants for their partial endowment.

Second Morrill Act of Congress, August 30, 1890, makes annual appropriation from treasury of the United States for further support of these institutions.

Act of Montana Legislature, approved February 16, 1893, accepts these grants of land and money.

Work of organization started in 1893 by Luther Foster.

Montana State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts opened September, 1893. A. M. Ryon, president, and faculty of seven members.

James Reid elected president in 1894. Faculty then composed of thirteen members.

Cornerstone of College Hall laid 1896.

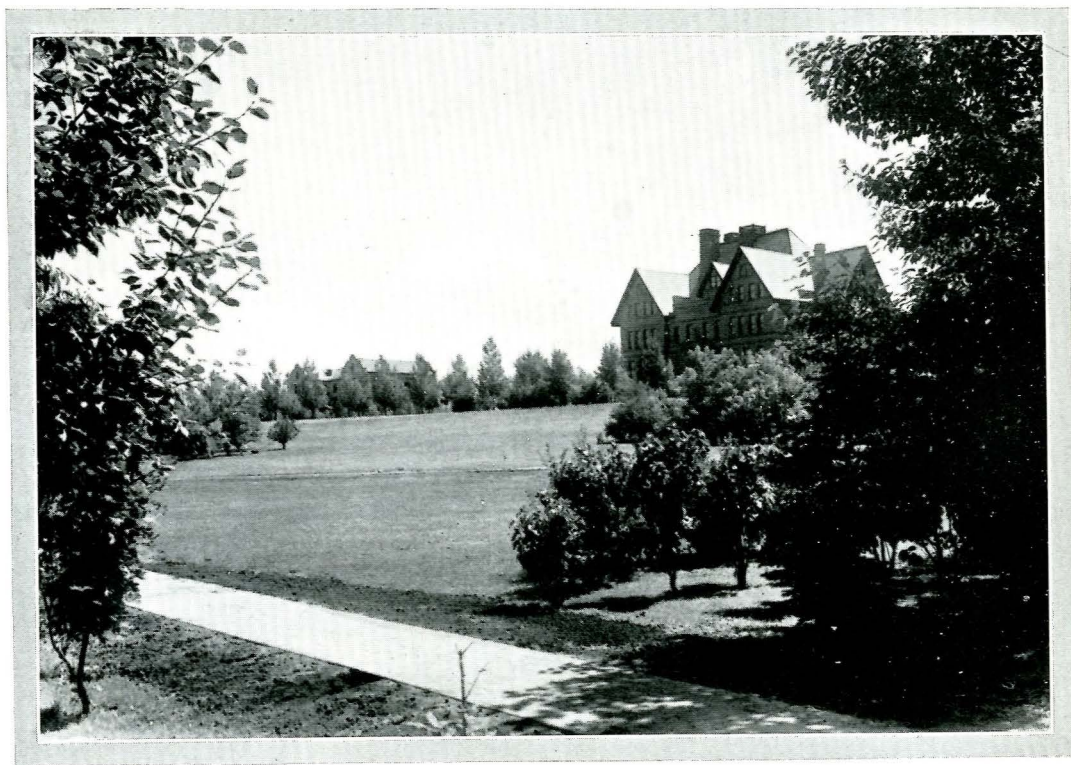

First commencement in June, 1897. Senior class of four members.

College moves to present location on hill from old Academy building in the spring and summer of 1898.

James M. Hamilton elected president, 1904.

Edward C. Elliott elected chancellor of the University of Montana, 1915.

Monahan 1919

Class of 1919

ERNEST STANLEY.....President

DOROTHY MILLS.....Vice-President

DORIS INGRAM.....Secretary

PAUL DAVIDSON.....Treasurer

Colors: Cherry Red and Silver Gray.

Motto: "Come on, let's go."

ERNEST STANLEY

Ernest is the man Diogenes looked for with a lantern. He handles the A. S. M. S. C. money, and then they trust him as business manager of the Annual. That is an awful lot of money for one man. He hasn't left town suddenly as yet, so everyone thinks it is perfectly secure. He used to have a cousin in school who played quarter-back on the football team.

GREGOR MACMILLAN

"Mac," before he joined the roll of honor and enlisted for the Third Officers' Training camp, was the total and complete jazz center of the institution. As cheer leader and social leader, he stood alone, and it is regretted by the entire student body that he is no longer active on the hill. We look for him to return and again take up his work with his old style "pep" and enthusiasm.

DAVID GRAY

Dave is one of the fiddles in Jackson's College orchestra. When not otherwise occupied he plays for dances and any kind of excitement that may come up. When he is not playing for dances, he is stepping to them, though it has been said he never goes out with a girl. Of course there are rumors—this publication prints nothing but authentic statements.

Montanan 1919

PARKER STONE

Parker is another pebble on the beach, and makes more noise than his sister Louise. He plays a horn in the band, fusses a little, studies a little and can even be found attending classes when there isn't anything more exciting going on. He enlisted in the navy as a musician, but was notified that that department was full, so he now waits patiently for his call.

LUCILE MONFORTON

Lucile is one of the prominent ring leaders of the Phi Gammas. She says she used to be quite active, but her increase in weight makes it necessary for her to assume a more quiet and dignified attitude. She is sensitive about this, and the readers will confer a favor on the management by not doing any promiscuous advertising.

GEORGIA KNOTT

Georgia has the distinction of being the first suffragette editor of a Montanan, as well as the first girl to run the College Book Store. There have been women who assisted in this latter capacity. Her faith in the extension service and the good it accomplishes is absolutely firm. Has been seen dragging a man to church on Sunday evenings and wears an "M" sweater.

EARL NORRIS

Norris is a chemist with a rare sense of humor. He believes in investigation, especially in regard to the physiological effects of bisulphide of carbon when applied to tender flesh. From all reports, his experiments have proven highly successful, the results being beyond his highest expectations.

PAUL DAVIDSON

Paul is a good speller, so he occasionally steps out with Marie. By looking over the records it will be found that he is a chemist, delving into the secrets of most anything that needs analyzing. When not absorbed in his studies and carrying an armload of books, he has distinct social aspirations. His one and only irremediable fault is that he is related to the faculty.

ROBERT SMITH

"Bob" is a minister's son—and you know what that means. He has insectivorous tendencies, but spends most of his time mailing out bulletins for the Experiment Station, when he isn't calling at the Grain Lab. or running his Ford.

Montanan 1919

1919

AZALEA LINFIELD

Azalea is a garnet type of blond, who thought she would like to attend a big school. After a semester at the University of Minnesota, where she made an enviable record, she was welcomed back to Montana, where the sun shines every day, and her sunny smiles and disposition are not so prominent.

EARL PRENTISS

"Fat" plays a trombone in Lou's "Big Noise," and is quite an essential part thereof. He has a build strongly resembling some of our former presidents, and a curiosity resembling Edison. When not doing anything else, he works on the campus, and has been known to act as a self-constituted vigilance committee, when the campus was unusually inviting on pleasant spring evenings.

MELVIN SENZ

Senz was one of the big corks in the football lineup. That is, he plugged a big hole in the line. Has social ambitions and is offering one "M" sweater for rent to any member of Hamilton Hall who will wear it. Is chief buck of the Stags for the coming year—woe to the Freshmen.

ETTA HAYNES

Etta is one of those good-looking girls—see illustration—who never breaks a heart, though she has plenty of chances to do so. She attends all social functions, and strictly to business, so hasn't an enemy on the hill. Besides having two friends in the aviation service, she has more left on the hill. Judging from appearances, she is a wonderful recruiting officer for Uncle Sam's forces.

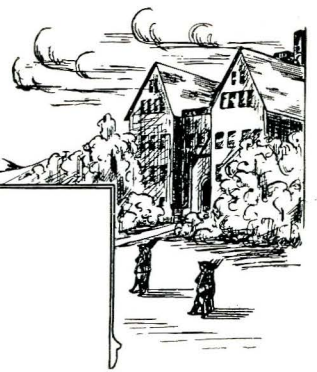

MAUDE PERRING

When Maude comes around she makes about as much noise as a broken watch. An exceptional girl—never talks unless it is necessary, and finds that that is not very often. A quiet and reserved girl, no fuss and feathers, but just all girl. She is the kind that makes a real balanced ration.

RUSSELL DAVIS

Dave came to school and had nothing to do with the fair sex—absolutely not. He went his own quiet way rejoicing, but since then—far be it from any of the Montanan staff to make any slanderous remark—Dave hasn't much use for his old time men friends. He has even been accused of causing a "thrill" at the Dorm—(whatever that is).

Monlanan 1919

ESTHER EAMES

She is one of those rare individuals always found attending strictly to her own troubles and cares, never bothering other people's interests. Indeed, "Essie" is a regular bookworm—only not for textbooks. She joined the class of 1919 in their sophomore year and Montana Wesleyan's loss was a gain for us.

RUSSELL TEMPLETON

Russell is a fiery-headed youth with tendencies toward being a chemist. Wears an asbestos hat and uses a steel comb. Has often been seen stepping into the limelight with a skirt alongside, but doesn't let it occur often enough to develop any rumors or "Dorm" scandal.

GEORGE JACOBY

George is attending school because he could not get into the service, though it wasn't because he didn't try. He is a firm believer in stag parties and inter-class scraps, and has a disposition that can't be beat, in spite of his "auburn (?) locks."

LYNNIE CHATTIN

Lays claim to being a sister of Earl's, and is the tiniest girl in school. She has some of her big sister's classmates beat, as she wears a Sigma Chi pin, an "M" sweater, and blushing mentions something about Fred during the conversation. It seems sad for for one so young, but doubtless it cannot be helped.

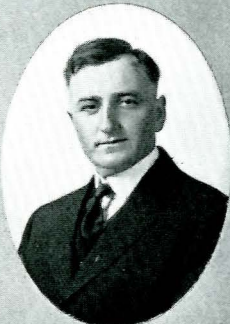

ARTHUR HOEM

When the young ladies go down town and are drawn into Braten's by the attractive posters in the window, they must blame it on Art. He can draw anything from a pay check to a crowd, and his posters for college functions are true "works of Art." Is a thorough believer in economy.

CHESTER McVEY

"Mac" is a quiet sort of man, who works and studies, and studies and works. He shows no peculiar fondness for the fair sex and has no objections to taking their pennies and nickles when they visit the candy counter. In fact, "Mac" is rather a brute, the way he takes people's money.

1919

1919

MARIE WATERMAN

Marie is a very quiet girl, seldom heard and not often seen. She cares nothing whatever about society, and studies all the time. She is a thoroughbred book-worm, but like most worms she has turned. A college dance without Marie is the same as the weird and wonderful "doodle bug"—"there ain't no sich insect."

KENT ERWIN

Kent is a quiet, inoffensive sort of chap. He has nothing whatever to do with society and now spends most of his time driving a racing model Ford car. While there is only room for two in the car, it is usually gracefully and artistically camouflaged, so as to resemble a football scrimmage or a free-for-all fight.

HORACE TAYLOR

"Nig" or "Little Rhizopus" is a terror when he thinks enough about it to don a football suit. His gentle occupation of moving pianos and furniture for the Taylor Transfer company, does not allow him to develop an athletic constitution. He delights in giving joy-rides in his Avery touring car.

LOUISE STONE

Louise does not consider herself the only pebble on the beach, nor does she claim relationship to the Rock of Ages. For the most part a quiet person, but noisy with the best of them when occasion demands, such as rallies or football and basketball games.

LURA BEATTY

The old time saying of being seen and not heard, does not apply to this member of the Juniors. She once aspired to be a bugologist and could be seen wandering toward the bug building on nice spring days while others were strolling in the shade of the cottonwoods.

LEO HUMPHREY

"Hump"—not meaning camel's—is one of those meek, demure chemists who work in the stockroom at times, grabs grades and steps out with his "Love." His social pleasures never interfere with his duties, and he can often be found hanging around the "Hub," trying to sell clothes to poor college students. He has a rare gift of gab and blarney which he uses to good advantage.

Monahan 1919

SAMUEL SCOTT

"Sam" or "Scotty"—neither makes him mad, wished himself onto the Juniors by staying out of school a year. The 18's loss was the 19's gain—and he doesn't seem the least big-headed about it. He is of a very gentle disposition, but has been known to take part in a good class scrap when the provocation was great enough.

MARIE BUNNELL

Marie made her debut into society years ago (she doesn't look it). Her troubles with biology and spelling have caused her to age greatly. "How-do-you-spell-it" Bunnell once had a case when in high school and, even now, the case is opened once in a while to the great delight of all concerned. The other half of the combine is still in school and apparently well and happy.

LUCY AXTELL

Lucy is blessed with a sunny disposition, an uncle who is the justice of the peace, and a Buick automobile, belonging to someone else. Her grades look like a youngster learning the alphabet, who hasn't progressed beyond the first letter and, in spite of that, she finds some time for riding in the open air—"and all the world wondered."

WILL B. MABEE

Bill is one of those fellows who hang around the "Bug Building" absorbing knowledge of things insectivorous by direct contact. He has been spending some time trying to work out the life history and biological significance of the affinity bug, but so far his bugs have died young and he is now in search of a newer and healthier species.

JAMES McELWEE

Jimmy showed his heart was in the right place by trying to get into the military service. His light weight was against him and he drank enough water to sink a transport trying to gain weight. We are sorry for Jimmy, but glad that he can remain with us.

GLADYS LECKLITER

"We ain't saying a word"—it is said that she sees Green—there is no incriminating evidence in this book. Gladys is one of our number who has the proper dignity for a Junior. She spends a large part of her time in dabbling paint on canvas with wonderful results. Says the campus is perfect when it is "Green."

1919

1919

ADA BAKER

Ada declares that she has no relatives at the Bon Ton nor in the Freshman class. She spends considerable time and red ink on Freshman shorthand notebooks. She is always ready for a good time, but her studies do not suffer from lack of attention.

HENRY MUNTZER

"Dutch" was once picked on by Prexy when playing a game of pool. Since then he hasn't grown very much, but is over twenty-one, as he carries a check book. His German ancestry doesn't seem to bother him any, and his feelings for the Kaiser rank with the rankest. If there is anything in that saying "Brevity is the soul of wit," the Dutchman is sure witty.

STELLA SOLBERG

Part of Stella's course left school to attend the Third Officers' Training camp. Since then her other studies have received her whole and undivided attention. Nothing interferes with her work—any more—and she thinks fussing is a rather frivolous and unworthy pastime anyway.

GLEN MAJOR

Glen is a quiet but jolly good fellow and is missed by his many friends on the hill. Although he has been gone for many months to serve "Uncle Sam," we insist on keeping his pleasant countenance among the Juniors.

ETTA NORCUTT

Etta is a diminutive maid, running Lynnie Chatten a close second as smallest in school. Her big brown eyes are the kind that make a man's heart forget it is supposed to do duty as a pumping station. She is partial to flowers, has a great fondness for them, and believes that green houses and green house workers are essential to the national welfare.

EVELYN SEELEY

Evelyn is of the blond type, strawberry variety, who has a distinct resemblance to a ray of sunshine. She is always sunny and has never been known to get real sore about anything. Has a musical talent and takes it out on a typewriter. In fact she is the best ragtime typewriter artist that has been in the institution for some time.

Monkman 1919

NELSON GRAVES

"Gravy" is one of the stellar "athletes" of the institution, and during his spare moments he studies, except when attending all the dances, movies, and strolling on the campus between times. He is one of the "bird men," and his name should appear on the Roll of Honor with the rest.

DOROTHY MILLS

"Dot" would like gravy for every meal but is forced to go without some of the time. Of late it has seemed as though Dot must hate to walk alone, as she is always accompanied, and always by the same man. However, no one has ever thought of blaming the man—except those he got the best of at some previous time.

DORIS INGRAM

"Fuzz" is one of the jolliest of the "Jolly Juniors," perhaps because she doesn't have to worry about curling her hair. She takes Home Economics, but does not believe in making a "Home Maker's course" out of it since so many of the boys have gone to war. She still believes her brother is better than any other girl's brother.

EARL CHATTIN

Earl can be found working in the Grain Lab. most any time of the day. As a seed counter he has few equals, and claims the honor of champion high diver of the 19's. He is also a general bureau of information, and has been accused of giving advice to good-looking working girls. His fund of information is a boon to his classmates about examination time.

ELMO MARCHION

Marchion believes that the band is an organization brought about by a divine providence. To this end he works, practices and plays the traps, making all the noise he can for "Lou's Big Noise."

KATHERINE KEARNS

"Katinka" or "Katty" is one of those rare rays of sunshine, and not at all what one of her nicknames implies. She is the recipient of a rare affection from one member of the Junior Class, and was even found wearing a bright and glistening cigar band on the third finger of her left hand.

Monlanan 1919

HELEN SWAN

"Father" Swan joined the Junior Class this year and has proven herself to be one of the most loyal members. She is the only girl taking the architectural engineering course and is proving the fact that girls can do a man's work just as well, if not better, than a man. Helen is a real booster for the Architectural society.

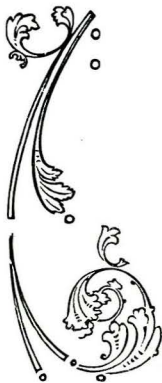

JAMES FITZGERALD

"Fitz" believes in making the most of everything, so he takes a try at most activities on the hill. His abilities at basketball are only exceeded by his track reputation. You will see his face appear elsewhere in these pages and he will be rather scantily clad, in comparison, but he's used to it.

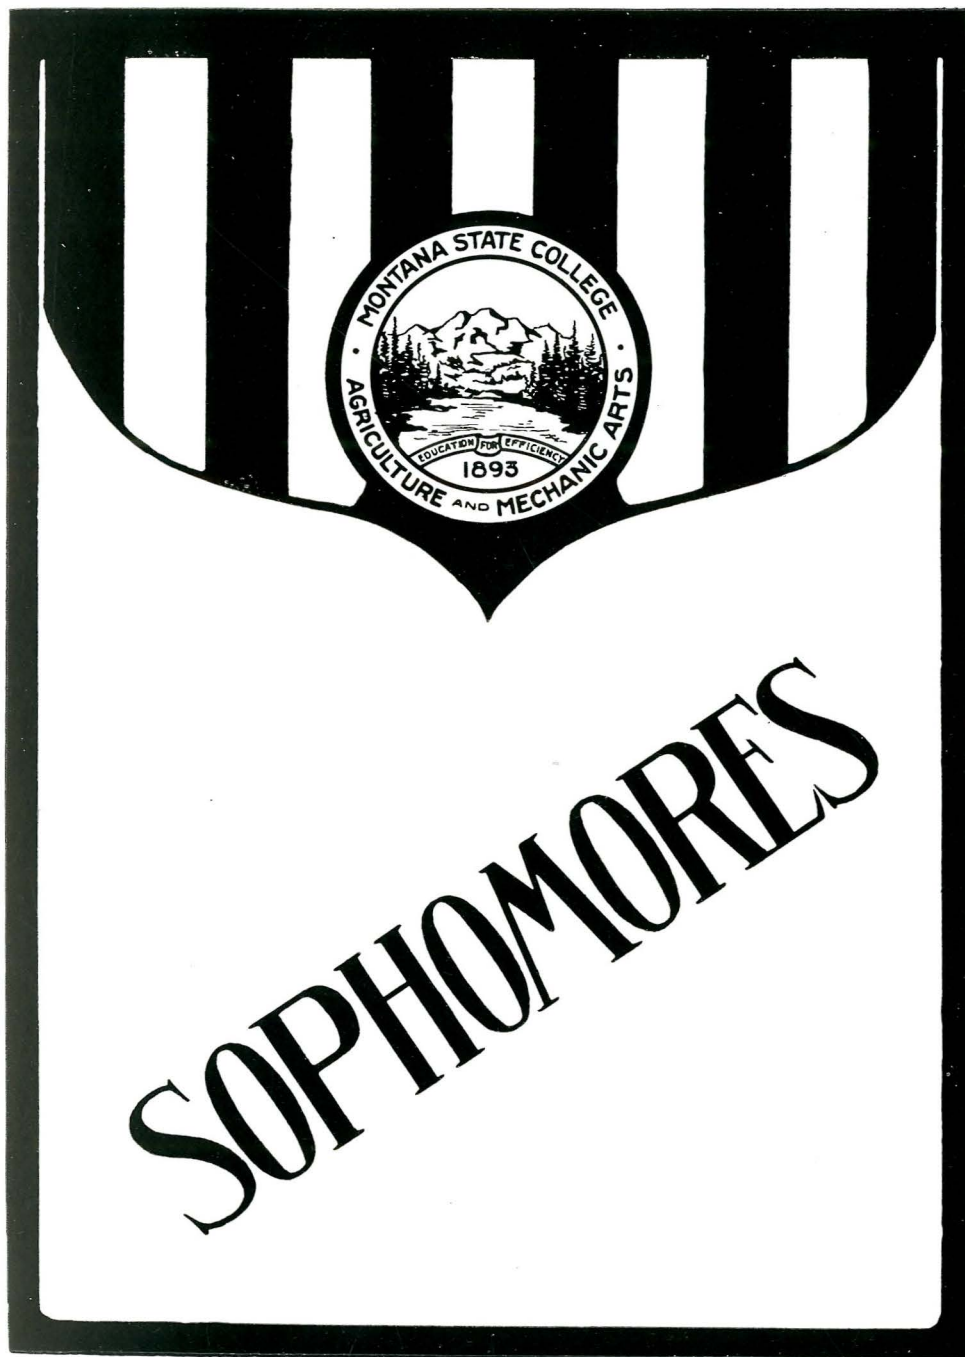

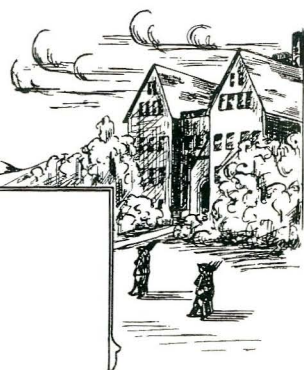

ALBERT STARK

"Jedge" was wished onto the Juniors when he came here, having previously been exposed to a higher education. It was a clear gain for the Class of '19—so why kick. He is what is technically and universally known as a "good scout," one of the Junior's best boosters and strongest men.

School of Agriculture

The three-year course in Agriculture has become one of the live departments of the institution. They have effected a permanent organization, which means much to the members, and through which they give support to the outside projects carried on by the College. This organization meets once a week, and at these meetings debates and other forms of literary work are taken up. Each spring a stock-judging contest is held, the winner being awarded a substantial prize. The organization also has athletic teams which play the teams of the various classes. The organization has a joint dance every year with the Preparatory Department, which is one of the big social functions of the club.

The Weekly Exponent is a strictly student enterprise. Its chief purposes are to present to its readers an accurate and complete record of college affairs during the week and to exert its influence for the upbuilding of Montana State College. The paper is the result of voluntary effort put forth by the students who compose the staff.

A traveller, at the foot of some high mountain, glances upward noting the broken paths and jagged rocks obstructing the way.

So it was when the Staff, a year ago faced the task of compiling the twelfth volume of the "Montanan." But here we are with the top of the mountain almost reached and our work almost over, and as the traveller likewise near the summit, looks backward with mingled feelings of regret and satisfaction, down the path he has mounted, so the class of Nineteen-Nineteen looks back upon its work.

Our country being in a state of war has offered us many obstacles, not only in making it necessary to publish a smaller book in this year when there is much to record, but also in the changes which were necessitated in the staff. The first of the year, Lucien Benepe left for the training camp. His place as Associate Editor, however, has been ably filled by Leo Humphrey.

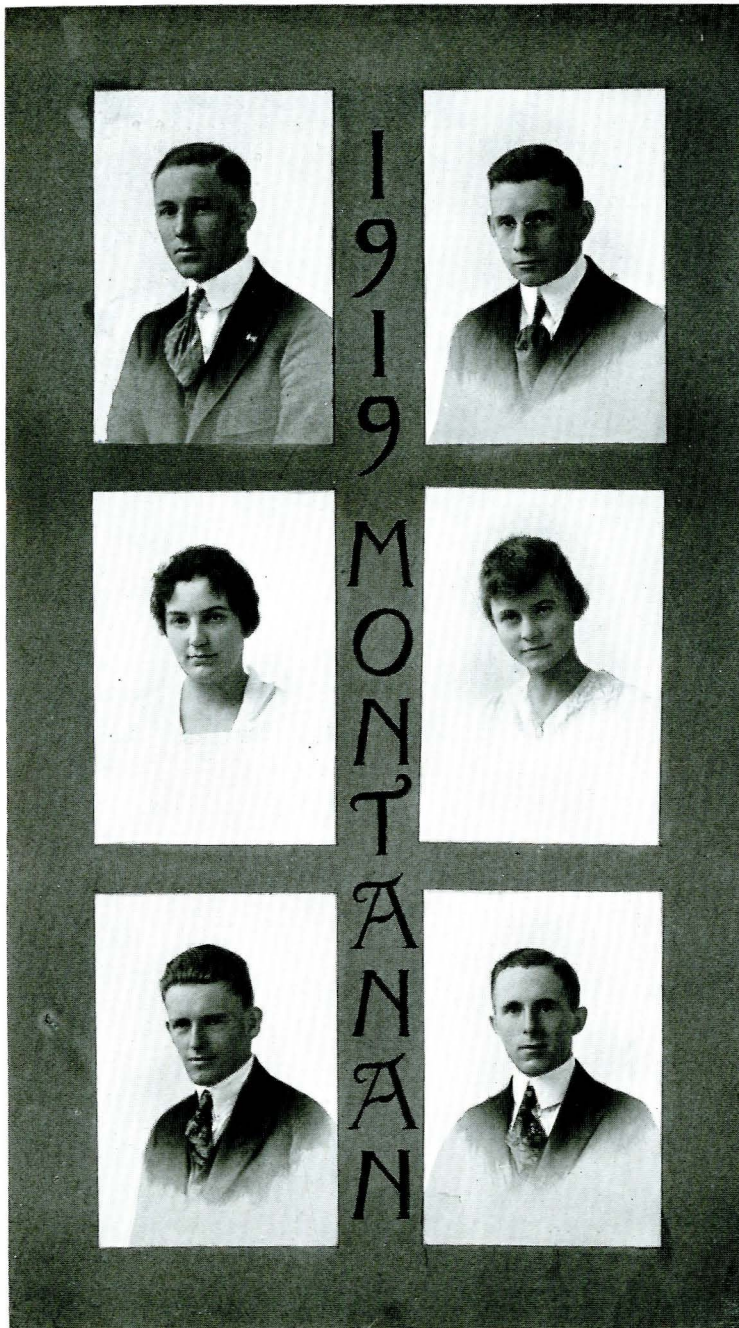

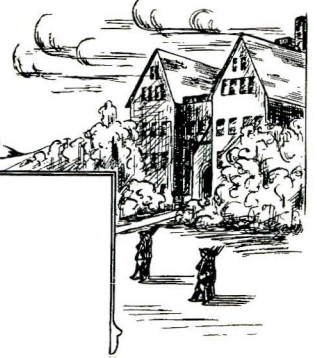

During the Christmas vacation Gregor MacMillan entered the Third Officers' Training Camp, leaving the position as Editor vacant. The present Editor, who at that time was an Associate Editor, took up "Mac's" work, and Lucy Axtell became Associate Editor in her place.

Although we call this the "Junior Annual," we have tried to make it of interest to everyone within and each alumnus without. And right here the Editor wishes to extend her personal thanks to all who have contributed in any way, either by suggestion, data or drawings. The Editor certainly appreciates the saying "Every little bit helps."

We wish to thank Rupert Streets of last year's staff, whose timely advice has helped us over many rough spots. We also wish to thank Helen Lund, Gladys Leckliter, George Jacoby, Etta Haynes, Etta Norcutt, Howard Seamens, Lowell Bowen and Otis Bradford.

As the hour approaches when all copy must be set up, a feeling of uneasiness creeps into the minds of the editors. But we feel as though we have done our best, considering the trying circumstances under which the staff has labored. So with a single suggestion to the readers, we cease our labors—Be charitable.

Engineering Clubs

There are four separate organizations representing the students of the four major branches of engineering taught at Montana State College. The purpose of these clubs is to aid the students in their course and to broaden their training by emphasizing the practical side. Meetings are held at irregular intervals and topics of special interest are discussed by faculty members and experienced engineers.

The Electric Club, the oldest of the engineering societies, was organized in 1907 and has had a steady growth until at present it is the largest of the clubs. During the past year a set of motion pictures, showing the Milwaukee railroad electrification, was exhibited and many lectures given by prominent men in the electrical industry. The club has a department service flag with thirty-six stars, thirteen of which represent former members now having commissions.

The Electric Club is also affiliated with the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

The Mechanical Engineering Club was organized in the spring of 1914 and has also become a prosperous organization. It has been a great help to the members by bringing before them, through lectures and demonstrations, the practical, as well as the theoretical, side of this branch of engineering.

The Civil Engineers organized in 1908, but owing to the lack of a sufficient number of students in the course, has not been active until this year. At present there are ten active members and they also have twelve men in active military service.

The Architectural Engineering Club is the youngest, being only one year old. However, it is a very active organization and gives promise of overtaking the older societies. At the present time there are seven active members. Their service flag also displays five stars in honor of the active military men.

The Chemistry Club

The Chemistry Club has held a prominent place among the various technical societies since its organization in 1911. The club has had bi-weekly meetings throughout the year, at which addresses have been given by members of the faculty and station on topics of interest to chemists. They have also had several successful social affairs during the year 1917-1918. Indeed all the members may be said to be "active."

Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club is an organization of the four-year students in that course. Meetings are held at irregular intervals, at which practical problems relating to the home are discussed by faculty members and students. This year the club staged "The Japanese Girl," which was the most successful entertainment of the year. The girls have also served many delightful "Hoover" dinners to distinguished visitors.

Secretarial Club

The Secretarial Club was formed during the Second Quarter for the purpose of unifying the Secretarial students. This course, which includes shorthand, typewriting and all the supplementary subjects that go to make an efficient stenographer or secretary, has a larger enrollment than any year since the organization of the course.

Owing to the present conditions of the business world, competent stenographers are in greater demand than ever before. In fact, the pressure was so great that it was thought advisable to offer a one-year course.

The Does were organized in 1909 as a ladies' auxiliary, as it were. Last year the instruments of torture were discarded, but this year they were used again. The celebration and initiation was a success in every sense of the word, the largest and liveliest bunch of fawns in years taking the oath. It was held in the Agricultural building, where all of the building was used to advantage. After the new Does had received their torture and taken the oath from the Sophomores, their spirits were revived with a lunch, served by the Junior girls.

STAGS

H'istory tells us that in the spring of 1904, a crowd of disgruntled and dissatisfied students met together to celebrate the passing of the mid-year "exams" and formed themselves into a club which they called the Stags. After a time more men were found who possessed the necessary qualifications, so the club put them to an acid test before admitting them as members. After being subjected to tortures that would have done credit to the ingenuity of the Kaiser, they were led to a feast and celebrated until the sun peeped over the hill at the beginning of a new day.

Since that time the club has grown very rapidly and is now the largest and most comprehensive organization at the college. Its membership embraces all male students, regularly enrolled, who possess backbone, nerve and a little of that something the students call "pep."

The primary object of the organization is to promote good fellowship and to celebrate the passing of final examinations, but since the college term has been changed from the semester to the quarter system, it was necessary to hold the celebration during the second quarter this year. The affair was a success in every sense of the word from the time the first fawn appeared on the street in the afternoon for the preliminaries, until the last of the old and new Stags had wended their weary way homeward in the wee sma' hours of the morning.

M. S. C. Regimental Band

One of the strongest and most popular of the organizations of Montana State is the Regimental Band. Under the direction and leadership of L. L. Howard, better known as "Lou," the band has grown to be a real feature of the institution. During this year, the call of the service has made inroads on the band, as well as other College organizations, but it has held its place, and been on the job in spite of setbacks. Though there have been times when the loss of material has seemed too much for any organization to stand and remain an organization, the untiring efforts of Lou and the survivors have kept the band together.

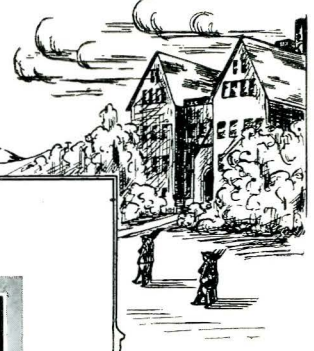

Due to conditions, the annual band tour could not be undertaken for this year, though they have been more than willing to answer any call made upon them for their services. The band dances have been outstanding features, and all efforts of the band to keep up the spirit and life of the school have been greatly appreciated.

The Orchestra

Suffering under the same conditions as the Band, the Orchestra has held its ground wonderfully well. The activities of the Orchestra have shown that in spite of adverse conditions, Director F. O. Jackson has given the College an organization of which we might well be proud. Being an artist on the violin, Mr. Jackson instills his talent into the organization, and the concerts given are truly artistic, and thoroughly appreciated.

EDWARD A. DUDDY
Debate Coach

Debate

Due to war conditions some difficulty was met with in carrying out the debate schedule this year. Of a total of five inter-collegiate debates scheduled, but two materialized. In both of these, however, M. S. C. secured a favorable decision, closing the season with a clean slate.

Much of the success of the debating teams this year was due to the able coaching of Professor E. A. Duddy.

The Coffee Club was organized January 14, 1916. Membership is limited to those who take an active interest in debate or oratory, and fortnightly meetings are held for the purpose of discussing topics of importance to the college and to promote the interests of oratory and debate. The Coffee Club has been a very important factor in the success which the college has enjoyed on the forensic platform during the past three seasons.

CAPT. HOLLIS CLARK

MILITARY

War conditions and war spirit at M. S. C. during the past year have formed expression through the military organization of the College, and the splendid interest shown in military drill has been in keeping with the high importance of the branch. Although there has been a heavy loss in the cadet corps, due to the departure of students for the officers' training camps, aviation fields, and the national army, the students who have remained home kept steadily at work, and the College now has the best military organization it has ever had.

Montana State College has been particularly fortunate in having at the head of the military department a very experienced and competent man, Captain Hollis C. Clark of the United States Army. Under his direction a special course in military map reading and drawing and in the samaphore code has been offered for the upper classmen, in addition to the drill which is compulsory for the under classmen.

The cadet corps has been handicapped this year, not only by the departure of students, but also by the lack of equipment, and the lack of an armory or a good drill ground. It is hoped that in the near future an armory will be built on the campus in which the drill can be carried out regardless of weather.

The value of military drill has been amply illustrated. Through the knowledge of drill gained at M. S. C. many students have been able to enter the official training camps and secure commissions in the national army. It has been beneficial to all who have taken it, and we hope that in future years M. S. C. may continue to perfect its military organization.

THE MONTANA STATE COLLEGE IN THE WAR

When the history of the great world war is written, on at least one page will be chronicled the spirit of loyalty and service which the nation's schools of higher instruction rendered to the country in time of need. Not least on the roll of honor will be our own Montana State College. This college has given freely of her sons until now about one hundred and forty of the student body are in the active service of the country, enlisted in either the army or the navy. This number is about fifty per cent of the enrollment of men students and will bear favorable comparison with any college in the country. If we add to the list of those who are in active service, the names of those who are fighting behind the lines in the industrial and agricultural reserve, we must include the whole college, students and faculty.

Thus has the state college fulfilled the highest expectations of its founders. In the midst of the Civil war, the idea of an educational institution which would serve the state as well as the individual was conceived. The patriotic spirit which has shown itself from the outbreak of the war amply demonstrates the fact that the state which has given of her bounty to the youth of the nation in time of peace, will not call in vain when her life is threatened by a destructive war. The spirit of service and sacrifice is a part of the life of the college and a distinguishing characteristic.

Our students do not come from wealthy families. Most of them earn a part or all of their college expenses. Yet when the call for money came from the government and those other organizations doing war activity work, the college did not hold back. An appeal for a war prisoners' fund brought a contribution of $661.00. About $400.00 has been raised for the Red Cross. The Y. M. C. A. raised $1816.00. To the second Liberty Loan, $12,000.00 were subscribed by students and faculty, and the campaign for the sale of War Savings Stamps has brought generous response.

Men and money have been our two chief contributions to the nation in the present emergency. But of more enduring value has been the reorganization of the whole college on a war footing. First, military drill and instruction has been brought up to an efficient standard. Practically all the male students are taking drill and fitting themselves to render more efficient service when they are called into the army. Equipment and uniforms are needed and a place for indoor drill, but the right spirit exists, and already those who have gone from the cadet corps to the officers' training camps have made enviable records.

The college authorities have likewise revised and speeded up many courses for war purposes. New courses in wireless telegraphy, gas engines, first aid, nursing, and home economics have been added. During the summer quarter also, special work will be given to drafted men from the army cantonments, the college furnishing equipment and instruction. If we include the activities of the Experiment Station and the Extension Service in this program of war service, the program of activities seem endless. The chief work has been to organize for greater food production in the state and the service which the college has performed in this respect cannot be measured either in dollars and cents or in the unifying effect it has had upon the farming population of the state.

Hardly less important has been the work done in food conservation by the representatives of the Federal Food Administration at the college. Nor must the organization of the college women for Red Cross work be forgotten. The college is, in fact, a great dynamo which energizes all who come in contact with it, so that they go out from her walls ready and fit to carry on the great work they have already begun. And there is hardly a single war enterprise to which either students or faculty have not contributed directly or indirectly. Montana State College is, in fact, as well as in name, a state institution, a public institution, serving the highest interests of the state by training her citizens to render efficient service.

We have now on our campus an Agricultural Hall, a Montana Hall, a Hamilton Hall. But after this great war is fought and won, we will have also a Memorial Hall, dedicated to those heroic sons who gave their lives that we might continue to live in the enjoyment of free government and free institutions. On bronze tablets in that hall will be engraved the names of those devoted students, and we who knew them and loved them in life will honor them in death. That hall, with the memories it enshrines, will prove an inspiration to the students of the future, and teach them to emulate those virtues of loyalty, courage and self-sacrifice in the nation's cause of which we boast.

Montanan 1919

THERE'S the making of a soldier deep in every human heart,
No matter what the human's sex or size is.
When it comes right to a showdown, every one will do his part,
To count for something in most any crisis.

When the country called for soldiers, we just handed her a few,
To help her lick the bird they call the Kaiser.
But a measly little gathering was started out, to do
A man sized job. He wouldn't recognize her.

There were those who thought preparedness was a foolish sort of thing,
And, of course, we have the ordinary slacker;
But the pride of all the Nation "which has never known a king,"
Is the man who showed he'd give his all to back her.

Be it men or institutions who have given all they own,
They have shown the true and patriotic spirit.
They have helped to make the Kaiser hold his aching head and groan,
For he certainly is very sad to hear it.

As a military backer you can count Montana State
As one among the patriotic leaders,
For her boys have gone in training with a lust for German hate,
And she's represented in the "Corps of Feeders."

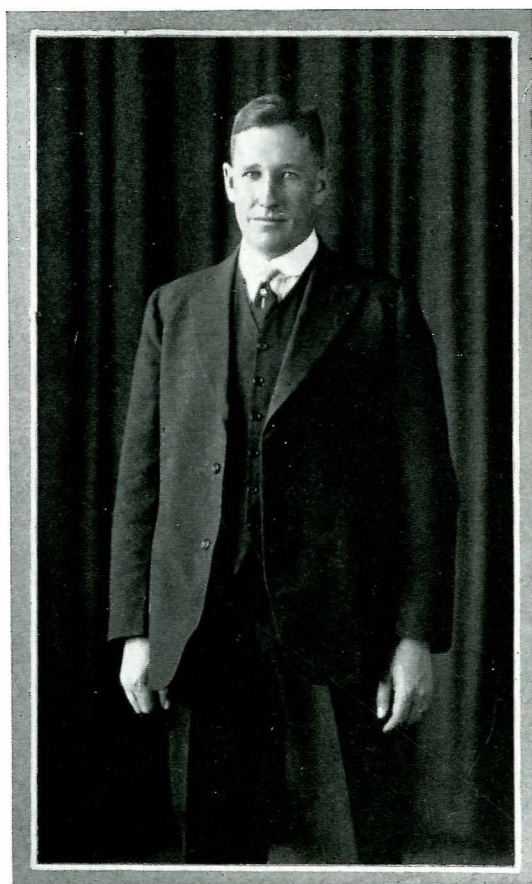

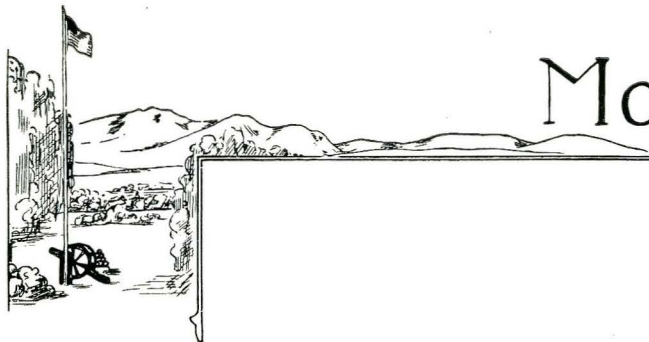

She's behind the military, she's behind the U. S. Bond,
She's a backer and believes in Mr. Hoover.
She's been stimulating war corps to be sent across the pond,
And the German propaganda cannot move her.

We are all behind our College in this military game,
Though we're hoping that the war will soon be ended.
When the Kaiser and his cohorts have been driven home in shame,
They will know M. S. C.'s soldiers are just splendid.

"M" CLUB

The membership of the "M" Club is restricted to those men who have won their letter in one of the College sports. They have for their purpose the boosting of M. S. C., and also the athletics which she fosters. As usual the members gave their services at the High School Tournament in meeting trains, taking care of the crowds, and in many ways furthering the interests of M. S. C.. The "M" Club prides itself on having the largest percentage of men in military and naval service of any organization on the hill. Of this year's members there are but four "M" men left on the campus for the last quarter. The organization was founded in 1912 and its membership includes the most energetic and loyal men in college.

Resume of the 1917 Season

When the call for candidates for the football squad was sounded, few old men were present. The bigger call of the country had picked them out, and Coach Bennion was obliged to begin with a gathering of green men. It seemed a big undertaking to whip them into shape and make even a semblance of the team of 1916. When the first trip came, it was with an empty feeling in the pits of their various stomachs that the students bade them God speed. After the first game, played with Denver University, in which Bobcats came off on the short end of a 32 to 7 score, hopes were revived.

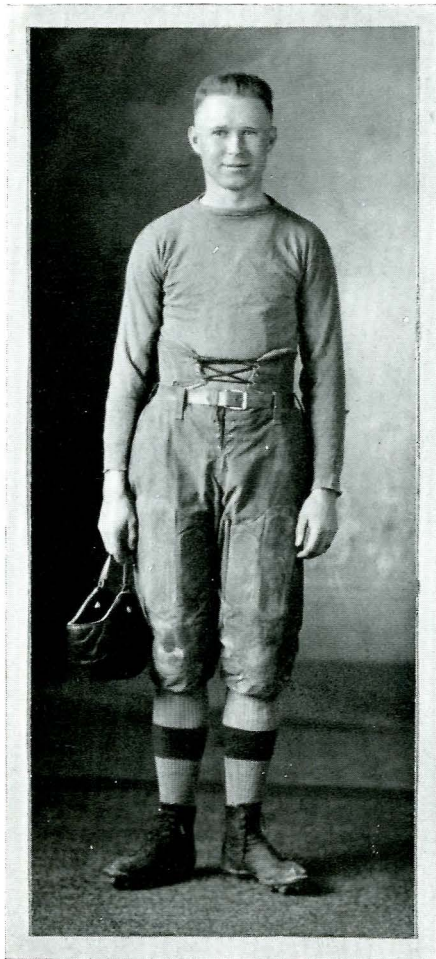

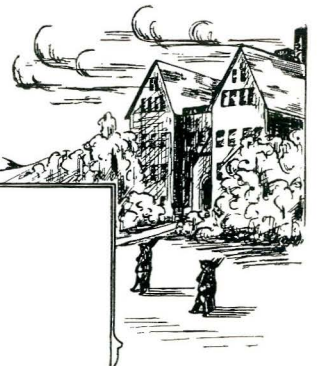

A week later, Colorado Aggies were forced to score 13 points in the last quarter to make up a 20 to 20 tie. That they made those points is to be regretted, but the boys had shown that they were not all dead, and hopes for greater success were revived.

The Utah Aggies had a grudge of several defeats to overcome, and came to Bozeman with every intention of securing a Bobcat pelt. In spite of the fact that U. A. C. had a wonderful team and a string of victories for their season's work, Montana State held them to a 7 to 7 tie.

The last game of the season, and the biggest one, was against our old rivals at the State University. Hopes ran high, and the Bobcats made a wonderful fight. It was only by sheer weight and extended effort that the University made a touchdown in the last quarter, winning the game 9 to 7.

The outstanding feature of the season is the fact that in spite of the call for war which took most of the old material from the lineup, a green team was brought up to where it scored in every game played. The only team to administer a decisive defeat was the strong Denver University team. The players representing Montana State were in their first intercollegiate game, and their first game of the season, so results are not surprising. The only other defeat of the season was by a scant two-point margin, and can hardly be called decisive.

Monahan 1919

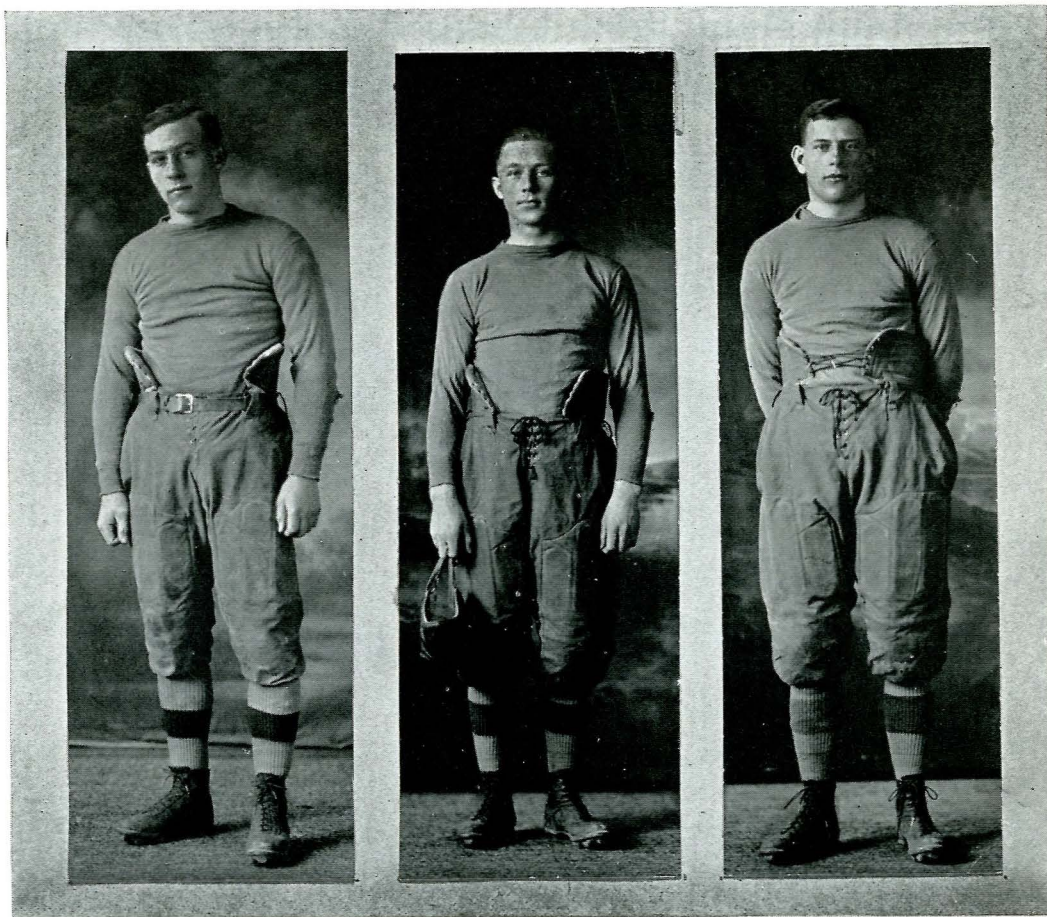

WASHINGTON BOBERG

Quarter

"Bo" was only with us for the first two games. Had he been with us during the remainder of the season, there is no doubt that the season's success would have been far greater than it was. That he was missed is the sentiment shown by every man of the team.

Montanan 1919

ALBERT BORTON

Tackle

Al. proved that lack of weight was no excuse for being kept off the team. His heady playing made up for his lack of weight. When speaking of some heavy opponent his theory was "the bigger they are the harder they fall." He applied this theory with wonderful results. He will not be back with us next year, as he has enlisted in the aviation branch of the army.

ERNEST STANLEY

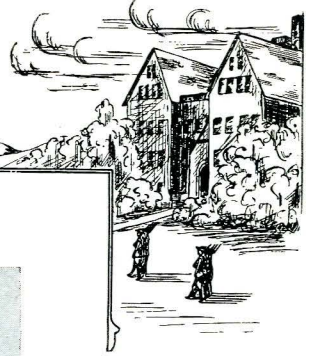

Guard

Because of a severe injury to his knee, Ernest was kept from a regular position as guard. Whenever he was in the game, he showed his worth in blocking plays and tearing up the opponent's defence.

FRED FINCH

Fred graduated from the reserves to a regular position. He was a strong man in running interference and plugging through the line. He made his letter in spite of the fact that he had a broken hand during part of the season. He should make one of Montana's best, as he has two more years to play.

Monahan 1919

WILLARD TOBY

Guard

Toby should make a place on next year's team as he has the weight and not a small amount of experience. His chance will come next year and no doubt he will make good.

KENNETH KING

Quarter

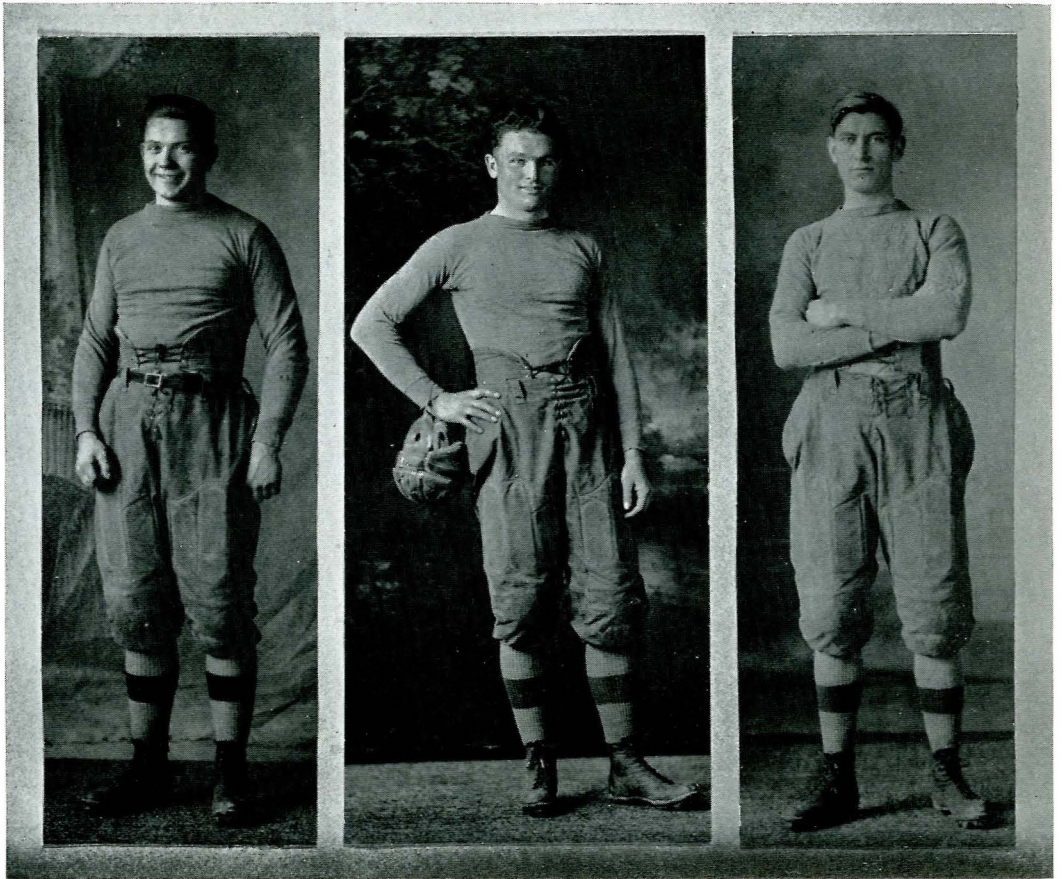

King was a regular bear at quarter. He played a heady game and fought hard at all times. He has also offered his services to Uncle Sam and as a result will be unable to be with us next year.

J. ELMER BUSH

Tackle

"Jo" had never played on the line before, but certainly found his place. He was a strong man, both on defense and offense in breaking up plays and opening holes in the opponent's line. "Jo" has two more years to play, and from all indications should land a position on the All Rocky Mountain team before graduation.

Monahan 1919

CLARENCE BERGMAN
Captain—End

"Bergie" played a wonderful game a year ago, but more than duplicated himself this year. He was always known to use his head, and with his weight and speed, made one of the strongest ends that M. S. C. ever had. He played a steady game at all times. "Bergie" has joined the navy and will not be back with us next year. We know he is making good, but it will be a hard job to find a man to fill his place here.

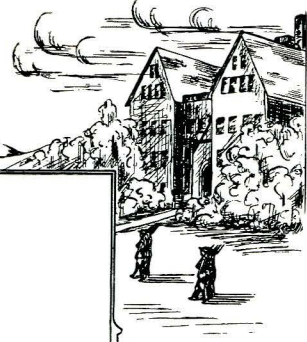

HENRY OBERLE
Halfback

"Pud" hailed from Galatin, where he gained some valuable experience. This was his first year and he proved his worth by making his letter. His weight and speed should make him one of M. S. C.'s best football men in the future.

MARK WHEELER
Fullback

Wheeler played a great game during the entire season, considering the handicap of an injured knee. He did most of the punting and in this respect was a great aid to his teammates. He would have captained the team next fall, but has enlisted in the aviation branch of the army.

Montanan 1919

RAYMOND PITTS, End

Ray didn't make his letter, but showed that he could play the game in spite of his lack of weight. His big field is basketball, but he would without a doubt make a football team next year were he able to be here. Uncle Sam, however, has his services.

THOMAS ROSS, Halfback

Tom made All Rocky Mountain Conference halfback, and well deserved it. He was the find of last season and the star of this. Odds never bothered Tom, he merely overcame them. Those who saw the game at Missoula will always remember how he tore through Montana U's line, how fate played against him when, by mere chance, Benz caught hold of his jersey which tore to the seam and then held. This was Tom's last year; we will miss him, but always remember him as one of Montana's greatest football stars.

OTTO ROBERTS, Tackle

We call him "Sunshine." He may have been sunshine for his team mates, but he left the impression of stars—to his opponent. He has been known to apologize for knocking more than two men down at a time. This season was his second year and he will be back next fall.

LADIMER MASHION, End

Mashion had never tried out before for college football, but had some valuable high school experience which with his fight and head work, landed a place on the team. He was a dependable player and did his part at all times. Like others of this year's team, he has enlisted in the aviation branch of the army and will not be back with us next year.

JOHN WILEY, Guard

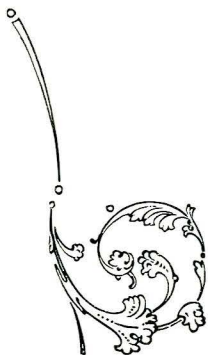

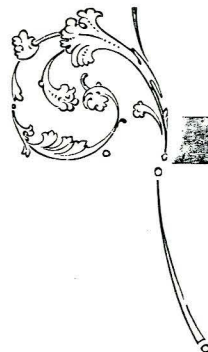

John was an old Gallatin star and proved his worth on the college team. His experience was a strong asset to the team. He also will be lost to next year's team as he has enlisted in the aviation section of the army.

HOMER TAYLOR, End

Everyone thought and knew that Taylor had a cinch on the team this year, but in the first game of the season he received an injury to his ankle which kept him out the remainder of the season. If he had been able to play during the entire season it would have helped greatly in strengthening the team. Homer will not be back next fall as he has also enlisted in the aviation branch of the army.

M. J. SENZ, Center

M. J. worked three years to make a much coveted "M" sweater. If there is one thing he likes better than football, it is more football. He will be back to captain next year's team and be in the game when the bobcat hits the grizzly.

REVIEW OF BASKETBALL SEASON

As in all other college activities, the war has taken its toll of basketball men. At the beginning of the season there were Ross, Bush, Harris, Pitts and Fitzgerald of last year's squad to form a nucleus for this year's team. With these men and the new material available a good squad was soon worked into fighting condition.

On January 25 the Bobcats invaded Utah, the first game being with the Utah Aggies. Due partly to a little hard luck and partly to the fact that Pitts was not in the game, we lost the first game, 43 to 11.

The second game, which took place the following night, showed better teamwork on the part of the Bobcats, but even after putting up a good fight, we lost the second game by a score of 36 to 9.

The next game, Monday, January 28, was with the University of Utah. The Bobcats entered into this game rather crippled from the Utah Aggie games. Nevertheless, good fighting on the part of the Bobcats characterized the game, but again we landed the small end of a score of 41 to 9.

Those who made this raid into Utah territory were Ross, Bush, Harris, Pitts, Fitzgerald, Finch and Cameron.

The Friday after the team returned, the Bruins came over to try their luck. The first game was won by the Bobcats with a fairly good score. The second game was hard fought, but the Bruins, by good luck, got the long end of the score to their credit. Both games were slowed up by the large number of fouls made. Owing to injuries received in Utah, Harris was unable to play during the remainder of the season. The loss of "Zeke" was keenly felt, especially in the games with Missoula.

February 15, Bobcats Ross, Bush, Pitts, Fitzgerald, Finch, Tobey, Watts and Looney made the trip over to Missoula to play the deciding games for the state title. For the first time in history, Missoula won the state championship, but even at that they did not have a sure thing of it till the final gun in the last game.

Although this season was not as successful, in that we did not have as long a list of victories to our credit as last year, yet the team was in the fight all the time and played a style of basketball that would be a credit to much larger schools. We had a team to be proud of and one that deserved more support than it received.

TOURNAMENT

About a month previous to the scheduled date of the tournament—just about the time that anticipations for the huge event are beginning to ripen, the time when Freshmen in particular and others in general are making wonderful plans for the renewing of old acquaintances (just how old does not matter), and the time when some stimulant in the form of excitement is most needed—we received, out of a clear sky, the heart-rending news, that due to the continuance of a few cases of Bozeman's previous scarlet fever epidemic, the health authorities refused to allow the tournament to be held in Bozeman.

There was much wailing, tearing of hair, gnashing of teeth, etc., and justly, too, when we consider the important part this event plays in advertising the college and bringing in new students. However, before much serious damage was done, another announcement was made which considerably cleared the atmosphere, namely that Livingston had bid for the tournament, was accepted by the State High School Athletic Council, and that it would be held in that city, but under the college supervision as in the past. Anticipations again ran high and the associated students immediately began making plans whereby, with the aid of the band, M. S. C.'s rooting sections, social committees, and various other means, the college would be advertised in the proper manner. We may add that these were successfully carried out and the results should be nearly equal to those which could be obtained on our home ground.

As for the tournament, we may truthfully say that it excelled all former events, that the brand of basketball displayed convinced the fans and critics of the state that a wonderful advancement is being made in Montana's most popular sport, and also that some of the smaller towns of the state can develop a crew of athletes who are able to subject some of the larger towns to very astonishing and embarrassing defeats. (At this point it is difficult to restrain from giving nine rahs for Terry).

As for the hospitality afforded the college students, as well as the others, by the people of Livingston, it was the best we have ever witnessed. It was, indeed, a fine example which the citizens of Bozeman might profit by.

Although we have had the one serious thought of war before all of us this year, nevertheless there has been the humorous side also. This has been chronicled to some extent, we hope, in this small collection of rare specimens. THE "SNAPPY" EDITOR

*There was a young fellow named Paul,
The cutest wee kid of them all.*

*He worked on this book—
You will see—if you look
How he nailed every one, big or small.*

*He snitched some nice photos one day
And quietly sent them away
To be made into cuts
And printed as "butts,"
'Gainst his friends, who had nothing to say.*

*He has a young friend named Marie—
A sweeter girl you'll never see.
There must be something wrong,
For they can't get along;
But simply refuse to agree.*

Have turned, and drawn up a few terms
Whereby they make Paul,
So constantly bawel,
That he'll think he's infected with germs.*

A LOVE STORY

He was young, he was fair, and he pompadoured his hair like the average beau of the college, he was proud, he was bold, but the truth must be told—that he was “nobody home” as to knowledge. Barring this fact, he had wonderful tact, and his heart was so loving and tender—that it made his heart ache if a test tube he’d break while at work down at chem lab’ratory. He had lots of cash and he cut such a dash with his friends of the feminine portion that the faculty groaned and the other boys moaned to see such a scoundrel escaping. Each evening he’d roam round the trees by the “dorm” unheeding the voice of the scorner, then he’d take off his cap and his uke he’d unstrap and he’d stand in some shadowy corner. He could sing like a bird and his sweet voice was heard fairly tugging away at “Juanita”—and we speak but the truth when we say that this youth could outsing a hungry mosquito.

She was young, she was fair, and she slicked back her hair like the average vamp of the city—she was proud, though not bold, but the truth must be told—that the way she chewed gum was a pity. Barring this vice, she was everything nice, and the boys were all crazy to meet her, but she gave them the slam, for she loved the young man who sang like a hungry mosquito. So she hemmed and she hawed, and she sighed, and she chawed till her heart and her jaws were broken. Then she sneaked out one night while he stopped in his flight and awaited some loving token.

They met, alas, what came to pass was soft and sweet and precious. He sighed, she cooed, he talked, she chewed— Oh, how they loved—good gracious! They had to part, he rose to start, her grief cannot be painted—but grief will come—she swallowed her gum, then screamed, then choked, then fainted. The Dean appeared; the beau much scared, rushed off to get some water; the watch-dog spied his tender hide and bit him where he orter.

The tale was sad, the sequel stern, so tho’t the youth thus smitten; he sighed no more as oft of yore, he gave that girl the mitten. She pined apace, her sweet vamp face looked slender and dejected, her roommate kind tho somewhat blind, beheld her and reflected. Her spare income then spent for gum, she smiled and called her clever. She went to school, forgot the fool, and chewed in bliss forever.

A RALLY

IT APPEARS to be a custom, that when any excitement is needed or a particular brand of jazz must be inspired, a rally is ordered either through regular channels as laid down by the constitution of the Associated students or by common consent. Noah Webster has lots of ideas on rallies, and wrote rather profusely on them in his observation notes. His main idea is that a rally is to restore to order, regain strength, ridicule or revive. He seems to have missed the point somewhat. It is a well-known fact that a rally by common consent is a long ways from a restoration of order. In that case, according to friend Noah, Prexy becomes the "rally," in a vain and useless attempt to restore order. Noah may have been a shark at writing observation notes, and could probably have drawn a C plus under Miss Cubine, but as for hitting the nail on the head, he is about as up-to-date as his namesake's ark would be in the submarine zone.

If Noah could drop onto the campus some day just before a Missoula game, his eyes would be on stalks like those of a snail. He would draw back into his shell, get out a copy of Billy Sunday's "Hints to Speakers" and revise his definition of the good old word "Rally." After reading Billy's little dissertation on the slinging of slang, friend Noah would have to rewrite all his observation notes. His version of Rally would occupy at least a page, printed in fine type on light weight India paper, bound in Morocco (or some other African country). His notes would read like this:

"Rally—A manifestation of the effercescing spirits of young America, consisting of the savage custom of beating tom-toms, and getting away for three bases on a snake dance. A safe hit for the dear old Alma Mater, a base on ball for the dear old Alma Mater, and three strikes for the enemy. All because the crowd in the bleachers appears to be prejudiced. It is sometimes pulled off with the full consent of 'Those higher up,' but more often is a letting off of steam and an instilling of a good old brand of real jazz into the members of the fighting Bobcats. If the faculty objects, it has about as much effect as a bungle in the infield when a home run was called for, so they get even by holding quizzes on the subjects supposes to have been riscussed in the lecture. (For further definitions on rally see Revolution)."

Synonyms—Riot, rampage, ruff stuff, revival, hell-raising, home rule.

THE FATE OF A FUSSER

"Ki yi," said Mr. Fusser, as in contemplative pose
He stood before the looking-glass and burnished up his nose,
And brushed the dandruff from a spick-span-splintered suit of clothes—
"Why, bless me, Mr. Fusser, you're as handsome as a rose."

"Ki yi," said Mr. Fusser as he stood upon his toes
To catch his full reflection and the fascinating bows
That graced his legs, "I reckon there is some folks never knows
How beautiful is human legs in pantaloons like those."

"But, ah!" sighed Mr. Fusser, as a ghastly phantom rose,
And leered above his shoulders like the deadliest of foes,
With fleshless hands and fingers and a skull with glistening rows
Of teeth that gleamed and glittered, "It's my tailor, I suppose."

They found him in the morning, so the mystic legend goes,
With his placid face still smiling in its statuesque repose;
With a lily in his left hand and in his right a rose;
With their fragrance curling upward through a nimbus 'round his nose.

THE ATAVISTIC MAID

Listen, Sweetheart, to my plea,
Cut this highly cultured game;
All this fine gentility
Grows to be exceeding tame;
What I want is low-brow love,
Heavy knock-down, cave-man stuff,
I'm no cooing turtle dove—
Treat me rough, kid, treat me rough!

Can the soft and weepy sighs,
Chop the meek and humble pose;
I'm no cut-glass raffle prize;
I'm no fragile little rose—
Grab me with a python grip,
If I struggle, call the bluff;
Want my love? Then take the tip:
Treat me rough, kid, treat me rough!

I don't want my cheek caressed
With a nice, respectful peck;
Yank me wildly to your chest—
If I fight you, break my neck;
Please don't be a gentle dub,
Spilling la-dedah-ish guff—
Woo and win me with a club,
Treat me rough, kid, treat me rough!
(Advice followed at Junior Prom. Who?
Well, didn't you see?)

A FRESHMAN LESSON

There! little frosh, don't cry!
They have shaved off your hair, I know,
And your hat so new,
And your clay pipe too
Are things that had to go;
But Freshmen troubles will soon pass by.
There! little frosh, don't cry!

There! little frosh, don't cry!
You have flunked in exams I know,
And the care-free ways
Of your high school days
Are things of the long ago;
But Sophomore year will soon come by.
There! little frosh, don't cry!

There! little frosh, don't cry!
You are dead broke for cash I know,
And to do as you please
In idle ease
Is a thing of the long ago;
But next year holds all for which you
sigh.
There! little frosh, don't cry!

MILO H

There's a twinkle in your eye, Milo H.
And we know the reason why, Milo H.
We had thought you'd spring a quizz
So we read all that there is
And it proves to be a fizz—Milo H.

Fie upon your little trick, Milo H.
Kindly register our kick, Milo H.
Then don't try those sudden stunts
When we haven't read for months.
We demand reform at once, Milo H.

Lives of students all remind us
We should give no need to looks,
But on passing leave behind us
Interlinings in our books.

Interlinings which another,
Toiling hard midst grief and pain—
A forlorn and flunked-out brother,
Reading, ne'er shall flunk again.
(Especially recommended for class in French.)

NOT PINING, BUT----

I do not pine for human gore,
Yet boldly I assert
I'd like to slap the brainless yap
Who calls a girl a "skirt."

I pine not to bring others woe—
I trust I'm not so mean;
But I would like to swat the "bo"
Who calls a girl a "queen."

I pine to see no injured gink
Clutch at himself and wail;
But I'd like to boot the crude galoot
Who calls a girl a "frail."

I am not prone to violence,
But I should like to maul
And kick and muss the inane cuss
Who calls a girl "some doll!"

I do not wish to seem a crank,
But always get a pain
And want to club the awful dub
Who calls a girl a "Jane."

M. S. C. ALPHABET

A is for Angell,
Demure and so mild;
But at basketball games
She simply goes wild.

B is for Border,
Who looks very sweet
As she shouts in assembly:
"Sit down in your seat."

C is for Charlie,
Of world-wide renown;
A fussing he comes
From a far away town.

D is for David,
Who now has a girl;
A petite Freshman lassie
Whose first name is Beryl.

E is for Etta,
With eyes of brown;
When she looks at the boys
All the other girls frown.

F is for Fitzgerald,
Athletic and tall;
But he's never been seen
Up at Hamilton Hall.

G is for Gordon,
Who once said, "I ween
Without my dear Alice
I wouldn't be seen."

H is for Helen,
Whose last name is Hill;
And you know her as Billie,
Who never keeps still.

I is for Ingram,
Who once fell in love;
But she soon had a fight
With her dear lovey-dove.

J is for Johnnie,
Quite often seen strolling;
But oftener his eyes
At his companion are rolling.

K is for Katty,
From Townsend is she,
And her best chum in college
Is little Elsie.

L is for Lynnne
Of "M" sweater fame;
Though she dreams of the past
She is still in the game.

M is for Mills,
Who is jealous—beware;
Don't you dare touch her Gravy
Or she'll pull your hair.

N is for Noble.
"Which Noble?" you pray.
I really don't know,
So I really can't say.

O is for Otto,
All "sunshine" and smiles;
When he looks at the girls
His fair visage beguiles.

P is for Prentiss,
For Powell and for Perring,
For Pitts and for Pickens,
All noted for daring.

Q is for Quarantine,
All the fashion this year;
Now isn't that funny?
Yes, isn't it queer.

R is for Ross,
Who will ne'er need to die;
For he's sure of an Angell
In the sweet bye and bye.

S is for Stanley,
A notorious guy—
Who wins all the damsels
By one glance from his eye.

T is for Tobey,
So handsome and grand;
And among Freshmen girlies
He's much in demand.

U is for Udem,
A soldier is he;
Who came home on furlough,
His lady to see.

V is for Victor,
Who's growing quite bold;
For he comes to the Dorm
Though his feet do get cold.

W is for Witty,
For witty are we;
And if you are wise
Then you'll surely agree.

X is for Exams,
Which are coming soon;
By the time I finish crammin'
I'll be crazy as a loon.

Y is for You,
Who are reading this book;
If it is your neighbor's
Don't sponge—use your own
pocketbook.

Z is for Zales,
A debater of fame;
For all his opponents
Turn pale at his name.

QUAND MENU

We have wheatless Monday,
We have some meatless meals,
We have some sweetless coffee
And drink it—not a squeal.

We have an anxious instant,
When word comes from the front
That Kaiser Bill is ready
To try another stunt.

We then have meatless weekdays,
And more of wheatless meals,
And sugar is sent “over there”
To make the Kaiser squeal.

And great is the rejoicing
When word comes from our boys
That Germans have been slaughtered
Because of too much noise.

Then, one whole week is meatless,
And all are wheatless meals;
The sugar—like a poison,
Has made the Kaiser reel.

So with our ceaseless toil,
And with our frownless ways,
We'll make the Kaiser headless,
No matter what he says.

NOTICE

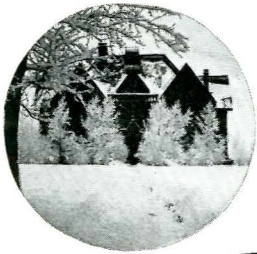

Sing a song of sewing,
Serving Uncle Sam;
Sewing seams for soldiers,
Saying ne'er a slam.
And when service calls us,
Sailing o'er the sea.
Now that's the way to win the war—
Let's try it—you and me.

A Prayer Offered While Awaiting a Prep Physics Class

Keifer

“B-r-r-r, B-r-r-r, hum, hum—
Would that that cursed class would come.
And grant that they've their lesson read.
Oh, Lord, have mercy on my head.”

Calendar

Montanan 1919

CALENDAR

MARCH

21. Calendar for the 1919 Montanan begins.
22. Shorthorn play. Hamilton Hall girls pose as the audience.
23. The first signs of spring—a snow storm.
24. One of the Hamilton Hall girls noticing Myron Carr sitting a few seats in front of her in assembly, nudged her companion and exclaimed, "My, I would just love to jump in Myron's hair, wouldn't you? It's so soft and downy!"
26. A flash of red, white and blue—and khaki has cleared the air. Our Mexican heroes are called away to serve Uncle Sam.
27. Everybody out in their boats. Some ducks!

28. Khaki boys have a parade. "Prexy" there with his regiment followed by a band of suffragettes. Ben and "Slicker" accompanied home.
29. Duke has enlisted in the army. Who knows why?
30. College assembly treated by an extra fine recital. Prexy kicks out a dog. Company "A" gives a dance.

APRIL

1. Delta Chi's flash a measles quarantine. Everybody's doing it!
2. Etta rushes over the slippery sidewalk on her way to zoology class. Z-z-z-zip! Splash and down she goes!

3. Park and Gray expound themselves at Moscow—that's all.

4. O'Brien squelches Hytree in Freshman Lab.
O'Brien, holding up a borax bead: "Isn't this a green bead, Mr. Hytree?"
Hytree: "It's probably only the reflection."
O'Brien: "Yes, but it's hard to tell from which direction the reflection is coming."
6. Big bunch go home for Easter, but not on cushions.
8. Ben showed up at church in his new Easter hat. "Slicker" made his annual appearance.
10. Military drill on the campus. Hall girls look for "rubbers."
11. Leo and Janelle enjoy motor ride in the balmy spring air.
12. "Bub" and "Doc" out-talk the Dakota Aggies.
13. Delta Chi's entertain with an informal dancing party. Gravy in his delight with eleven "unknowns" out of twenty.
16. Miss Cehrs in German class, as usual in a rage: "Mein Gott in Himmel, get some sense into your heads!"

17. Dick is still looking for the guy who stole his B. V. D.'s out of the "gym" and forced him to make the trip home rolled in a Turkish towel.

18. Chancellor Elliott permits "Aggies" to leave for the farms.
20. Baseball scehdule given up—everybody leaving. Frosh win in cross country run. Ben and Gravy dead heroes.
23. Freshies show up the Juniors in football.
25. Hall girls flourishing on diet of stewed prunes.
28. Electric Club entertain with a dance at Elks' Home.

MAY

1. Luc'le was so greatly agitated by the presence of several good-looking men in the library, who were taking officer's exams that work was impossible.
4. Did anyone ever hear the story about the dirty window? You couldn't see through it anyway if I should tell it.

CALENDAR—Continued

MAY—Continued

8. Lovitt and Lee entertained in a surrey. Wood-ticks infest the Dorm.
9. Little boy reserves escaping flag. Campus now flagless.
10. Remaining engineers heroically raise new flag upon the pole.
11. Band assembly out on campus. College now almost a girls' assembly.
12. "Mac" and Craig enjoy a picnic in a Ford with their lady friends.
13. Lovitt comes home toothless from a car ride with his lady friend.
"Winter again has come, forsooth! And Lovitt Westlake lost his tooth!"
14. Petition made by remaining students presented to faculty to close school early.
15. A college picnic, and a dandy time.
16. Hard times are here indeed! The casual observer might have noticed a tall, lanky senior busily engaged in painting white lines on Hamilton Hall tennis court, singing as he worked "The High Cost of Loving."
17. Y. W. girls have picnic supper on the campus.
18. Chancellor Elliott ignores plea of prisoners at M. S. C. and announces that execution shall take place the 6th of June. Singing on steps. Soph girls celebrate by a dance.
19. Alpha O girls give a dinner party for their seniors.

20. Alpha O picnic—rain.
21. Class in sanitation go through laundry.
22. Patronizing Soph—"Never mind, my dear."
Red-headed Freshman (excitedly)—
"Now you don't need to begin, for you can't convince me."

23. Mary Jane delightedly announces her engagement.
24. Miss Ford announces her engagement to (B. A. Joke).
26. Mary D. puts four teaspoons of sugar in her coffee one morning. Soon afterwards she receives the following:

"Miss Danielson—Do you realize that if one oz. of food material is wasted each day in each of our 20,000 American homes, that 1,300,000 lbs. of material would be wasted? You have wasted two oz. at breakfast. We, as American citizens do hereby object to such waste by a foreigner, especially a Swede.

"Signed: UNCLE SAM."

28. Junior girls give a banquet and dance for Seniors in Aggie building. Poor under-classmen!

29. Kappa Nu's entertain. "Krit" makes a shortcake for the crowd in a baby's bath tub.
30. Memorial day. Anticipation.
31. Exams begin.

JUNE

2. Annuals are out. A wonderful campus night! Dance afterwards.
3. Fussler's day—familiar faces again seen on the campus.
4. The torture of exams is over.
5. Conscription day. Pandemonium in the dormitory—the "Angel" leaves.
6. Commencement. Home, Sweet Home.

CALENDAR—Continued

SEPTEMBER

28. Wanderers back for registration. "Katty" tries to force a green cap upon a post-graduate.
29. Juniors already busy labelling the Frosh. Too bad it isn't malted milk instead of green caps.
30. Frosh get introduced to M. P. Church by several ardent fussers.

OCTOBER

1. Phi Gamma's give Prexy eats for his birthday. "The way to a man's heart is usually by way of his stomach," says Dorothy. Freshies escort Dorm girls home.
3. Sleep is out of the question when Ben-nion's Bobcats leave at 2:00 a. m.
4. "Frog" McDonald takes a walk.
5. Our Freshmen call for hair. Katherine says even ropes will do.
6. Faculty stretch out into some receiving line. First dance celebrated after reception.
7. Prof. Brewer's Ford runs away. Tries to run up a mountain ash. Brewer is worried about the tree.
8. Margaret Walsh sure believes in being on time to classes. Even rushes into classes before Shorthorns have been dismissed.
9. All girls are invited to have sugar in their tea at H. E. receptions, if they bring it from home. An unsuspecting Freshie is made to break the ice in the watering trough.
11. A promising Pres. of Freshman class hastily excuses himself from an interview with Prof. Duddy to attend class meeting, so that the girls will not forget him in their nominations for Pres. Junior class dance.
12. Freshies paint the "M" all on a Columbus day.
13. Y. M. reception to introduce the Freshmen.

OCTOBER—Continued

14. Team arrives—not much "pep" shown by students.
15. Alpha O's entertain with a progressive supper.
16. Snow arrives—no, not Manfred.
17. Special assembly. Prexy, inexperienced in herding sheep, tries to herd the Shorthorns and the Freshmen into their places along the wall.
18. Rally day down town. Students show "pep" for Utah Aggies.
19. Liberty Bond day and the events of the year. Freshmen get squelched all around, and take a cold bath with the frogs. Great tie game witnessed with Utah, while students show their real spirit for the first time. Dance for the benefit of Red Cross.
20. The morning after the night before.
22. Prexy in economics class, as he is discussing the subject of monopolists as a class of thieves, calls on a member of the class to recite. After she has finished, he exclaims, "Now doesn't that sound like a monopolist?"
23. Green caps have disappeared. Phi Gamma's entertain at dancing party at Story's.
24. Freshman girls are given a rest for a time.
25. Spaulding in zoology class, "There are too many absentees here this morning."
26. Blizzardly weather outside and one blank thing after another.

CALENDAR—Continued

NOVEMBER

1. Delta Chi's are happily installed into the Sigma Chi. This marks the entrance of the first men's national fraternity on the hill.
2. K. N. delightfully entertain with a Hal-lowe'en dancing party.
3. Sigma Chi formally marks the grand finale of their installation. 12:00 comes too soon.
5. Miss Brewer in U. S. Hist. in discussing the physical prowess of George Washington, mentions how he was once known to throw a dollar across the Potomac, when an ardent Freshman exclaims, "Yes, but a dollar went farther in those days."
6. All in economics class; Dan and Gravy consult a paper on married life, while Prexy yawns out full of vim, "Life is sometimes monotonous."
7. Dick and Heighton leave for American Lake.
Only yesterday were they chafing at unwelcome rule,
Measuring study by their play
In the little world of school.
8. Don Langhor is willing to punch anybody who suggests speech to him at the rally. Here's where Dutch gets his.

10. Cats follow Don every time he goes fussing.
11. A sad-looking bunch returned from the Msla game.
12. Captain Clark takes his boys scouting for the enemy over the hills. They return with Dutch as captive.
14. Kappa Nu's initiate some of their new members.
15. Students are shown the way to success in "getting by" by the system of taking proper notes.
17. An amateur bacteriologist in Lab. accidentally tipped over the acid cleaning mixture. His motto had always been, "When angry, count 10 before you speak; if very angry count 100." But—you can guess the rest.

18. Alpha O's were rudely disturbed from their delightful Sunday morning breakfast in the hills by a cowboy who announced that they were going to butcher some calves there, and if the girls didn't want to be in on it, they had better hit the trail. It's needless to say what the girls did.
19. In the midst of a lecture, seeing a vacant seat beside "Mac," one of the members of the red-headed Junior girls tires to slip into the vacant place unobserved, and gets called down by the Prof.
20. The military boys are served with a luncheon. Some of the boys were seen taking up Ham.

21. Junior girls marked down in cooking for serving too generous sized cookies at their luncheon.
22. A sad outlook for M. S. C. is realized when the new system of drafting is issued. A girls' and infants' seminary is the bright outlook.
23. Some of the students very early in the morning disturb a poor citizen from his slumbers somewhere in the vicinity of the park by a very original dancing party on the sidewalk. The music was composed of one of the members singing "Where Do We Go from Here?"
24. Prof. Bogue leaves for Pittsburg.
26. Leo informs the Phi Gam girls that he will appear in a Kupie costume at their masquerade that evening.
28. Bouffon pledges exhibit some astonishing costumes and actions in their initiation today.
29. While they were all seated around the Thanksgiving table at the Sigma Chi house, Dan informs Helen that she is the only one who has exerted any influence over Dave. Helen in her embarrassment, wants to know what she should do. Dave comes to the rescue with "Blush, of course, like I am."
30. Chancellor urges boys to enlist. General excitement on the hill.

10. Examination for vaccination.
14. Omega Beta's entertain. Next morning their breakfast is missing.
16. Marie Waterman discovers new method of covering ears when necessary.
17. Sigma Chi's entertain.
19. Kappa Nu sleighride.
20. Toboggan party up Bridger. Lucile injures her spine.
22. Stella in Econ. class—"Is there any limitation for women working in match factories?"

Prexy—"No, because match-making is not considered very dangerous."

24. Phi Gamma's have an auction sale. Marie forced to sell some of her clothes to pay for her shoes.
25. Spaulding in his Freshman class—"We will have our quiz tomorrow morning in this room at 2:00 o'clock."

26. Class in A. H. discussing the weights of cattle in stones:

McChord—"How much does a stone weigh, Parker?"

Stone—"150 pounds."

McChord—"Aw, get out."

Stone—"Well, that's what I weigh."

28. Davis, to Dorothy, who was sitting beside Nelson in Econ. class:

"What are you doing on that side?"

Dot—"I'm where I belong."

FEBRUARY

OUR BUSINESS MANAGER

Our B. M.—Ernest Stanley—was once a little boy,
Even as you and I.

He used to be his sister's sweetheart, and his mother's pride and joy
Even as you and I.

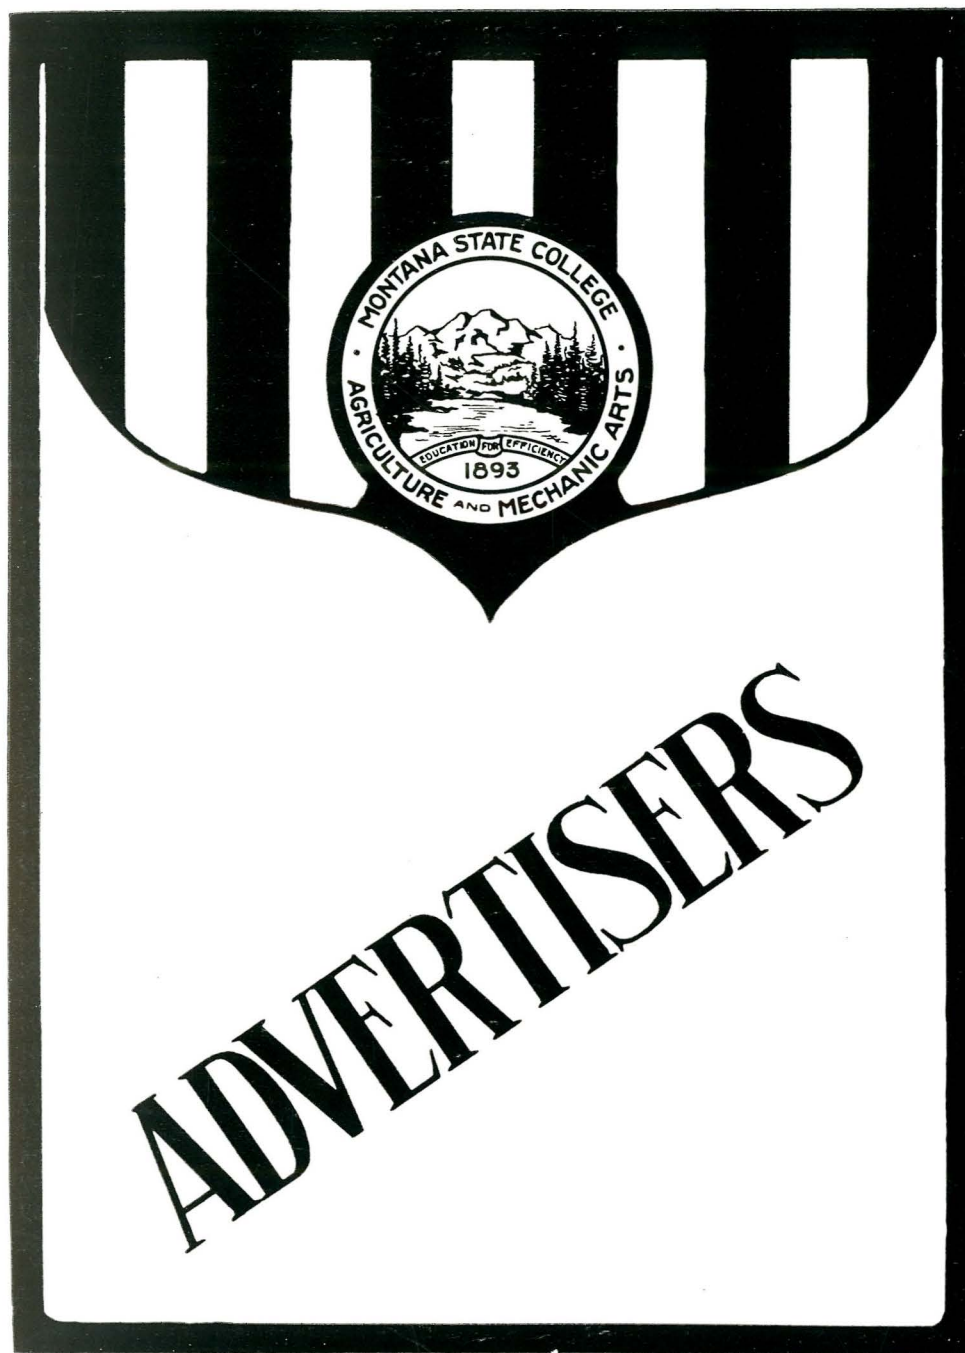

He was just a little shaver when he started in to grow,
Though he soon became acquainted with a garden rake and hoe,
Till he came down here to College, to spend a year or so—
Even as you and I.

He had his picture taken when he was a little kid—
Even as you and I.
But he thought no one would find it, in the place where it was hid,
He forgot—you and I.

So we've raked it up to publish in a rank and rude display,
And we're asking him this question, "Does advertising pay?"
Now he's planning to get even, on some future judgment day,
Even—with you and I.

—N. O. BUDDYHOLM.

When You Get Married

You want to start right. What you have to eat is an important thing to consider. More bread is used in the average home than any other one article of food, and for that reason your bread, in particular, should always be good. Heavy, soggy bread causes indigestion, and indigestion causes bad tempers.

To any member of the Class of 1918 of the Montana State College who is married within the next year, and who will advise us, we will send a sack of our CERETANA FLOUR free of cost. To always have good bread, you MUST have GOOD FLOUR, and we want to start you off with the RIGHT FLOUR.
