DEDICATED
TO THOSE
WHO SAW THE NEED
OF A GREATER
MONTANA
STATE COLLEGE

Dedication

In a spirit of gratefulness for what they did for us as a part of the University of Montana when they so unhesitatingly answered the appeal of Issues 18 and 19 for the support of higher education in our state, we heartily dedicate this book to

THE PEOPLE OF MONTANA.

Disabled Ex-Soldiers

About 200 men disabled in the World War have been taking Vocational Training at Montana State College this past year, under the Federal Rehabilitation Act.

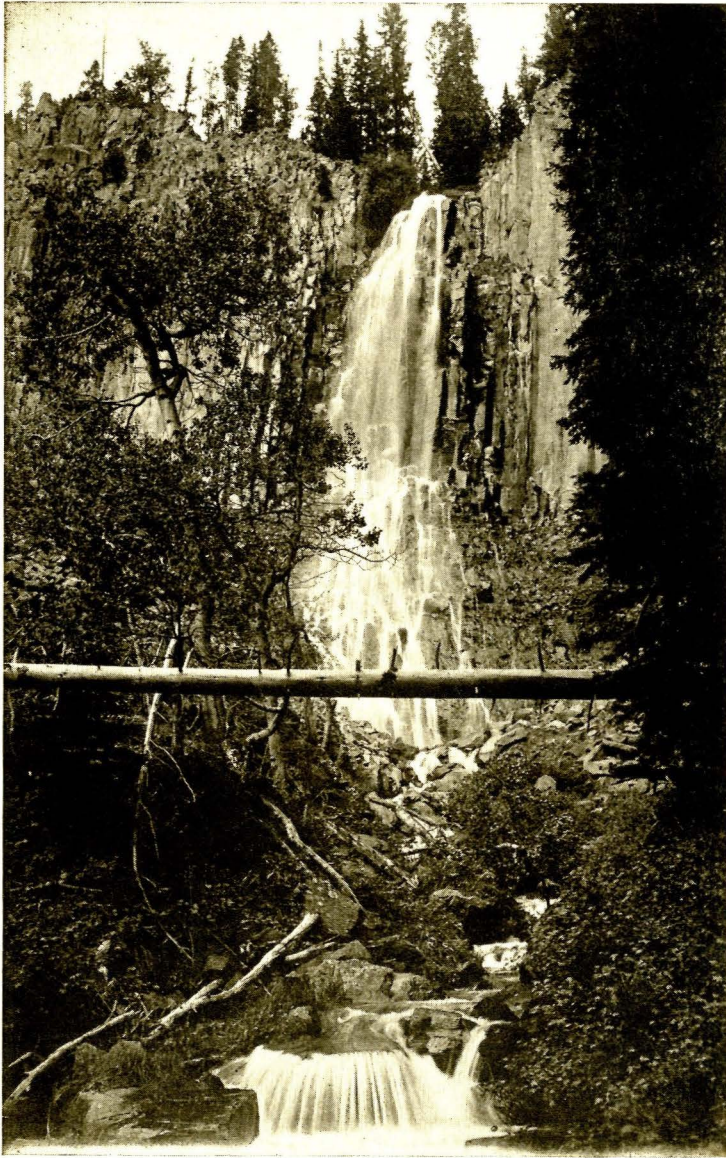

A majority of these have been enrolled in the agricultural department, though every branch of the engineering college also has a good representation. The regulations of the Veterans' Bureau require that the trainees choose definite employment objectives and constantly work toward them. As a result, they have their plans more definitely worked out than does the average student. Even in the early stages of his course, a Vocational man knows whether he plans to be a county agent, or a grain inspector, or an instructor, or a chemist, or just what type of farming he will engage in.

Notwithstanding the more practical aspects of their courses, and the fact that on the average, these men are more mature in years and experience than their fellow students, they take an active interest in all college affairs. They are, obviously, handicapped from engaging in athletics, but two of their number won places on the college debating team; another has been elected to serve on the student senate for the ensuing year; several were prominent members of the college band. The Vocational men have always been represented on the honor scholarship rolls compiled quarterly.

These Vocational students come from all sections of Montana, and from a very large majority of the counties. In fact, quite a number have come out from eastern states, in order to take their training in the higher and more healthful altitude. The disabilities which they are overcoming by training are varied, i. e. gunshot wounds, after effects of gas, chronic diseases due to exposure, illness and operations, etc. A good proportion of the men, probably one-third, are married and many have families.

It is only fair to mention that one of the Veterans' Bureau students is a young woman who served in the War as a nurse and who is now enrolled in the home economics department, with the objective of "dietitian." She was apparently too modest to pose with the group in the accompanying picture.

D. V. GRAVES, Coach

"Tubby" Graves leaves us this year to go to Oklahoma and with him he carries the best wishes of the entire student body. His smile and impressive personality will long be remembered and we hope that Oklahoma likes him as well as we do.

E. S. WILSON, Assistant Coach

"Woody" came to us after a very successful career at Texas A. & M. college. He helped coach the varsity teams and had complete supervision over the Frosh. He was very popular (especially with co-eds) and the manner in which he celebrated Texas' victory over Center College was impressive to say the least.

Scoring Against the University

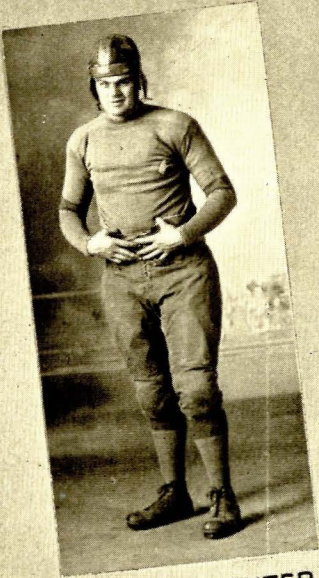

The 1921 football training season started two weeks before registration with a training camp at Karsts Cold Spring Camp, thirty miles up the famous West Gallatin Canyon. About forty varsity warriors were encamped in what was probably the most unique football training camp in the United States. Located in the beautiful West Gallatin Canyon, which leads to the western entrance to Yellowstone Park, the mountains of which could be seen in the distance, a football field was laid out and the necessary equipment erected on the only available spot for miles.

Two weeks of hard training were spent at Karsts. The men lived in log cabins and when they were not eating, hiking or practicing, they were busy with the various chores as cutting wood, sweeping out, etc. An exhibition game was played the last day that they were in camp and this proved to the many rooters, that had come miles to witness it, that the Bobcats were fast rounding into condition.

The first game proved more or less of a disappointment. It seemed that the team could not work as a unit and the first half ended with St. Charles 7, and Montana State 7. The Bobcats came back with the old fight in the second half; they held the Saints scoreless, and by consistent line plunging scored two more touchdowns, coming out on the long end of a 21 to 7 score.

Dealing the Mines a 26-0 Defeat

A few injuries in the Saint Charles game and in the scrimmages of the following week, saw a crippled team journey to Utah to bring back with them the reports of a hard fight but against a fast, smooth-working machine. The Utah Aggies were outfought in the first half of the game but the speedy all-conference Falck was too much for the wearied, tired Bobcats after their journey, and he succeeded to romp through them for long gains in the second half, Utah running up 30 points while we were securing 7. We were very much consoled when this same team beat the University of Utah on Thanksgiving Day, thus winning the Rocky Mountain Conference Championship. The work of Captain Morphey in this game brought considerable attention from sport critics and no doubt helped him to win a recommendation for a place on the All-Conference team.

The team came back in their next game and completely outplayed the Mines team, winning this tilt 26 to 0. In precision like manner they romped down the field, time after time again, with a mixture of plays that mystified the Miners, they being satisfied to hold the Bobcats touchdowns to four. Captain Morphey again starred, not only in the line but he succeeded in receiving a pretty forward pass and scoring the first touchdown. Scotty MacDonald helped very materially to keep the ball in the Miners territory with his long and accurate punts.

With a badly crippled back field the team journeyed to Spokane for the next game and after a hard fight, they lost 7 to 2. The Bulldogs outweighed the Bobcats but not for a minute did they outfought them, and only for a streak of luck did they succeed in scoring. Gonzaga was out to get revenge for their defeat of last year and as a result the game was sighted by sport critics to be one of the best played in Spokane for some time.

The team received the surprise of the season in their next game when Montana Wesleyan beat them 16 to 0. Considerable discussion as to the officiating was prevalent in state newspapers for several days after this game but it remained that we got beat and it will go down on the records as such. A short time after this game the Montana Mines held the Panthers to a 0 to 0 tie and the defeat which we administered to the Mines would tend to show that there was something the matter with the Bobcats in Helena.

In the Midst of a Long Forward Pass

On Armistice Day was staged one of the most spectacular and hardest fought football games ever played between the Bobcats and our ancient rivals, the Bruins. The largest crowd that ever witnessed a football game in Bozeman was present. It was a perfect day. Missoula started scoring when MacDonald punted out of bounds in our territory. The first quarter ended with Missoula leading 7 to 0. Mashin recovered a fumble and was downed about twenty yards from the goal line, but the Bobcats were on a rampage and McCarren scored after several plays, tying the score. That ended the scoring for the half with the University 7 and the State College 7.

The University succeeded in scoring another touchdown in the third quarter, aided by the brilliant work of Sullivan. He carried the ball in three out of every four attempts and finally went over the goal line for the final and winning touchdown. That ended Sullivans scoring career and football career against the State College and long will he be remembered as one of the best backfield men ever developed in Montana. After this touchdown both teams fought back and forth but neither succeeded in getting the ball within striking distance. The University retained its title as state champions with the score of 14 to 7.

The prospects for next year are somewhat darkened by the graduation of Captain Morphey, at tackle, Asbury at center, Robertson at guard, and Jorgenson at end.

Morphey was the outstanding star of the season. He was a leader unequalled in fight, unexcelled in ability, and a constant source of worry to opponents.

Robertson played a heady, hard and fighting game at all times and coupled with his ability, was an outstanding line man. He was chosen for a second time as guard on the mythical All-State eleven.

Asbury played high class football in every game and an injury which prevented him from participating in the Wesleyan game helped that team materially in their fluke win.

Jorgenson played his first year of football and developed rapidly, but injuries held him in check most of the season. His four years of basketball disqualifies him from further college athletics.

Practically all of the remaining members of the team will be back in uniform for the 1922 season and with the many second string men and Freshmen to pick from next year should be a fairly successful one for the Bobcats.

Basketball

ALBERT RICHARDS

Captain

"Old Ironsides" is undoubtedly one of the best guards in Montana basketball. He plays a heady, steady, consistant game, always dependable and as a leader his ability was emphasized by being re-elected to the captaincy for 1923.

ARTHUR JORGENSON, Forward

Hampered by a bad ankle most of the season "Swede" was kept out of part of the games but when he did play, opposing teams were forced to guard him constantly. He always got away for a good portion of the counters. The past season was "Jorgey's" fourth and last year as a varsity player.

BRUCE HOLLISTER, Guard

"Big Eye's" dribbling and long shots sent many an opponents supposedly invincible "five man defense" up in the air, and along with his wonderful guarding and floor work, his ability as a basketball player is without question, high class. He has another year ahead of him and no doubt will be one of the mainstays on next years quintet.

EUGENE ROBERTSON, Center

Playing as a regular for his first year "Gob" put up a brand of basketball that could not be improved upon. He was high score man for the season and starred in almost every game that was played. Gob leaves us this year but his brilliant playing will long be remembered by Bobcat rooters

RAYMOND McCARREN

"Hoss Fly" proved to be a dead shot, perfect passer, and a streak of lightning on the basketball floor but a badly wrenched knee kept him out of most games. This was his second year and barring injuries next year, he should be a man for opponents to worry about.

FRANK BECKLEY

This was "Eagle Eye's" first year on the basketball squad and his wonderful ability to dribble and pass made him the hardest man to guard on the squad and along with his shooting ability, a dangerous man at all times. He has two more years of basketball.

FRANK HATFIELD

All-state high school guard for two years Frank was shifted to center and showed much class and ability. He developed fast and hit his stride toward the latter part of the season and next year should well fill the vacancy left by Robertson.

The 1922 Basketball Season

The Bobcats started the 1922 basketball season by losing two fast games to the Utah Aggies by the scores, 47-24 and 49-33. After a week of hard practising they met the Livingston Independents and by wonderful floor work succeeded in beating them by the overwhelming score of 62-10. On a four game trip they lost two games to the University, one to the Spokane Amateur Athletic Club, and won one game from Gonzaga University, by the respective scores of 33-23; 24-17; 32-27 and 33-23. They returned to Bozeman and won from Mount St. Charles by the count of 39 to 25. The following week-end they tromped over the Montana School of Mines for two more wins, the scores being, 23-19, and 24-17. Columbus Independents was defeated next, 49 to 21. The Bobcats then journeyed to Butte and lost two games to the Miners, 24-17 and 30-18. They returned and won two games from the Gonzaga Bulldogs by scores of 29 to 18 and 36 to 19. In the final games of the season, with the University, the Bobcats fought hard uphill games with a crippled team and by the score of 30 to 29 won the first game but lost the second game 29 to 18 after leading for more than half of the game.

Jorgenson and Robertson graduate but with Captain Richards, Hollister, MacCarren, Hatfield, Beckley and the second string men and freshmen to pick from, a winning team should go down on record for next year.

Track

JOHN HASTINGS

Captain

Badly injured when his plane crashed into a mountain, John returned from overseas in time to captain the 1921 track team and to win first place in the javelin in all meets. The vacancy that he leaves will be a hard one to fill for the coming season.

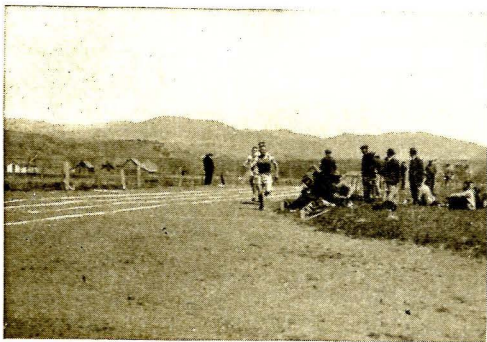

THE 1922 TRACK SQUAD

EDWARD C. CATES

Ted was a sure winner in all meets. In the Wesleyan meet he was not only high individual but made more points than the entire Wesleyan team. He was high man in the state meet, and with this all-around track ability and his fighting spirit he is expected to break a few records next year.

LESTER BACHMAN

Shorty has proven for several years that he is an unbeatable long distance runner. The mile race that he won against the University was by far the most spectacular race of the meet. He is a sure point getter in any meet and this will undoubtedly prove an asset to the 1922 team.

EDWARD BUNNEY

Bunney should be one of the point winners of next years track team. He is a freshmen and after the experience that he received this year, should prove a valuable asset for next year.

The 1921 Tennis Season

Tennis was revived this year and it proved to be one of the chief sports of the spring quarter. Thirty-two players entered the singles tournament and from this number Mitchell, Eaton and Jones were selected to represent the college in an inter-collegiate meet with Montana Wesleyan University.

Harold Eaton won the college championship by defeating Robert Jones in three out of five sets in the final round of the above tournament. Mitchell and Jones won the college doubles championship.

The Inter-Collegiate meet was played in Helena on the clay courts of the Helena Tennis Association. The matches proved to be very close and attracted large audiences, Wesleyan players winning the meet after two days of hard playing. A return meet is scheduled for 1922 and will be played in Bozeman.

It is hoped that in the near future a state inter-collegiate meet will be held in which the five colleges will enter representatives. This was suggested at the Wesleyan meet and met with approval and it is likely that, in a year or so, tennis will be located permanently on the athletic curriculum of the various state schools.

THE 1921 BASEBALL SEASON

Owing to the inclement weather and the lack of gymnasium facilities for indoor practise, the baseball team was considerably handicapped and the 1921 season proved to be a poor one as far as winning games was concerned. Four games were lost to the University who once again won the state baseball championship.

The following men received their letter in baseball: Captain Atterbury, Finley, Bowen, MacCarren, Fox, Alquist, Johnston, Zuck, and Rassley.

Organization basketball was revived this year and the race for the championship was close and exciting. The Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity finally won out when they defeated the Sigma Chi fraternity, 24 to 18, in the championship game. The Sigma Chis got second place. Four other teams were entered, namely, Omega Beta and Beta Epsilon fraternities, Short Course, and the Barbs.

These events were, swimming, distance hiking, speed hiking, shooting and inter-fraternity and inter-class tennis. A certain number of points were awarded to the contestants for entering an event and a larger number for placing. Miss Eleanor Marston won the all-around championship. In the swimming contest first place was won by Miss Ruth Wylie and second place by Miss Mildred Morse. Miss Leola Adams won the distance hike with a grand total of over two hundred miles. The speed hike was won by Miss Marston, while Miss Margaret Conkling came second, and Miss Leola Adams, third. Miss Marston also won the shooting contest. Miss Marguerite Lindsley, Pi Beta Phi, won the inter-fraternity tennis championship, second place going to Miss Josephine Howard, Chi Omega. The girls college and inter-class tennis championship was won by Miss Olive Schreiner of the class of 1923.

This was the first year under the point system plan and it was a decided success and it is expected that in the future much more interest will be taken in girls athletics.

The purpose of the Agricultural Club of Montana State College is to stimulate interest among Agricultural Students in all lines of Agricultural activity; to give them through regular meetings and through the contests, educational opportunities which they would otherwise not receive, and promote a spirit of fellowship and cooperation.

The first activity of the year was Ag Day, October 29th; the program took the form of a county fair, the main features being the grain and livestock judging contests under the supervision of Melvin Conkling and John C. Paugh. The education exhibits were Horticulture and Poultry with Ted Cates and Ethan Ford in charge.

In the evening the "Gym" was open to all the "hard timers" and dancing was enjoyed until an early hour.

The Agricultural Club also assisted in the work and entertainment of the people gathered here during Farmers' Week.

The last activity of the year was the grain and livestock judging contest May 15th and May 20th. The men winning first place and the honor of having their names engraved on the Atkinson Trophy, were F. H. Smith in Grain Judging, and Arnold Kruger and Sidney Sutherland, who tied for first place in the Stock Judging.

MONTANA STUDENT BRANCH OF AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

The Montana State College branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was established when the charter was granted to the Mechanical Club in 1919. The headquarters of the society are in the Engineering Societies building in New York City. One of the purposes of the society is to promote the professional welfare of the mechanical engineering student. Regular meetings are held throughout the year at which time papers of professional interest are presented by the upperclass members.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

The insignia of the society is a blue four leaved clover, with the letters A. S. M. E. on the four leaves. This insignia in the form of an enamelled gold pin or charm is worn by graduate members. The pin of the affiliated or student branches of the society is the official clover leaf with a border of the colors of the college or university at which the student branch is located and with the initials of the school across the lower portion of the border.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Young Women's Christian Association has a membership of 106. The Y. W. C. A. has organized discussion groups which are led by people well-informed on social and industrial problems. It has helped to provide for less fortunate families of the town at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Some of the events instituted by the Y. W. C. A. that are looked forward to by the college community are the Annual Stunt Night, the "Get Acquainted" Banquet, and the Auto Ride, early in the college year.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club is one of the oldest organizations of the college, having been organized in the fall of 1895.

The constitution provides that all women registered in the Home Economics Course automatically become members. The object of the organization as set forth in the constitution is three-fold: First, to develop a professional spirit among the members; second, to bring the students into contact with state and national home economic organizations, and third, through its meeting and programs, to promote greater interest and understanding of the broad scope of home economics and to keep in touch with the current problems and activities in home economics.

The club was very fortunate in having for speakers several women of national reputation. In December, Miss Mildred Weigley, chief of the division of home economics of the University of Minnesota, visited us as a representative of the American Home Economics Association. Miss Isabel Bevier, for 21 years head of the home economics department of the University of Illinois, was the chief speaker for Home Makers' Conference in January; Miss Genevieve Fisher, Federal agent for home economics education for the Federal board of vocational education, spoke to the club at its March meeting; and Mrs. Henrietta Calvin, home economics specialist for the Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C., was our guest at the April meeting.

At various meetings during the year the seniors gave reports of their thesis work. The club joined the State and National Home Economics Associations as a student branch and made a substantial contribution to the Executive Secretary fund of the National Association.

Entire show under direction of Mrs. Wm. Howard, coach and general director.

THE LOOTERS

The society was formed early in the year for the express purpose of producing each year a Montana State musical show which would be entirely a college production. It is fashioned on similar societies existing in the institutions of the east and perpetuates itself through the promotion of assistants in the various departments.

The management, under the direction of Director William Howard of the college music department and of Mrs. William Howard, who served as coach, produced the musical comedy, "Loot," at the Ellen during the spring. This was the first work of the society along the lines for which it was inaugurated, and the comedy proved the score of the season for the college community and for Bozeman. The play was written by Henry J. Bolles, '22, and the lyrics were written by students at the college. These were all set to music by Director Howard. The scenery was the work of a student committee, and the costumes were designed and made by co-eds. The play, the first of its type in the section, bore all the marks of a professional show in spite of the fact that it was amateur from first to last.

For the success of the year's work, too much credit cannot be given to Director and Mrs. William Howard, whose abilities and efforts made possible the show.

THE TORMENTORS

During the year 1921-1922, the Dramatic Club of Montana State College was re-organized. A constitution was drawn up and the name of the organization was changed to that of "The Tormentors." Believing that dramatics should hold a place in the activities at Montana State College, the purpose of organization is to foster and encourage dramatic art.

During the year, several plays have been produced by the organization. "Stop Thief" was given the first quarter, and "It Pays to Advertise" the second quarter. Work was started on "The Melting Pot" the third quarter, but owing to unforeseen difficulties the play was never produced.

The Tormentors have petitioned Theta Alpha Phi and all the members of The Tormentors who have taken part in a sufficient number of plays and who have certain other requirements will be initiated into this national dramatic fraternity.

THE EXPONENT

In pursuance of a new policy outlined by the student management of The Exponent, the day of issue was changed from Friday, as it had been in the past, to Tuesday, a change which was welcomed by the student body.

The staff during the year set a record for prompt delivery on the campus, and only once or twice during the entire year was the waiting line forced to wait past the appointed hour on Tuesday morning. The paper was issued as a six-pager during a portion of the year.

The work of issuing the tournament daily was greatly simplified by a new system set up this year, and the result was seen in the fact that the extra for the tourney finals was being distributed in the gymnasium 12 minutes after the final gun had been sounded.

KAPPA KAPPA PSI. BAND

The Montana State College Regimental Band has just completed one of the most successful years of its history. Starting at the first of the year with what looked like a lack of material, Director Howard, developed, by persistent work, a band that was equal to any in the history of the organization.

This year the band took a trip in the western part of the state, playing in five of the leading cities in the state. The band was accompanied by college soloists. These being Miss Esther Garry, vocalist; Mr. William Howard, violinist; Mr. Fred La Bonta, flute; Mrs. William Howard, piano.

The band is one of the oldest organizations on the hill and has always been active in the student activities.

On December 6, 1920, the band was installed in Kappa Kappa Psi National Band Fraternity.

DEBATE

Interest in debating this year was very commendable. There was a total of forty men entering the try-outs. Each debater to make the squad won his right to the position by winning in a preliminary individual try-out of five minutes and by winning out in a series of competitive debates judged by five members of the faculty. The spirit was splendid throughout and the quality of the debating much improved over that of the preceding year.

1st row: Leon Sayers, Arthur Bergstrom.
2nd row: Claude Meridith, Edward Poulsen,
Joseph Wagner.
3rd row: Charles Schurch, Clark Pace.

DEBATE TEAMS

The debating teams the past year went into action as follows:

Dakota Triangular League: "Resolved, That the Philippines Should be Granted Complete Independence Within Five Years."

At Brookings, South Dakota State won over M. S. C., represented by Walter Carter and Stanford Hannah.

At Bozeman, North Dakota won by a two-to-one decision over Clark Pace and Theodore Johnson.

In each of these contests the home team defended the affirmative of the question. Each was held on January 23.

Utah State College vs. M. C. S. Question: "Resolved, That the Principle of the Closed Shop Is Justifiable." M. S. C. affirmative defended by Charles Schurch and Virgil Willson, lost to Utah in Bozeman on February 20. (Utah's famous blind orator and debater participated and did well.)

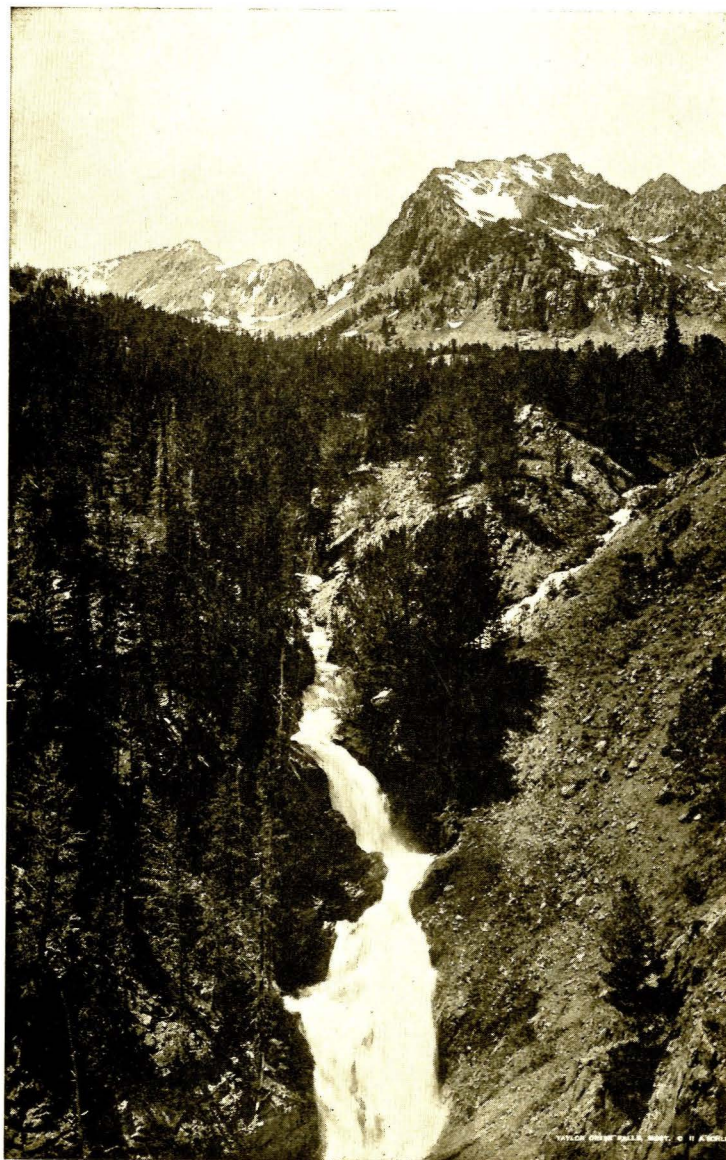

A series of five debates was held with a team from the State University on the proposition: "Resolved, That the United States Should Cancel the War Debt of Her Allies in the Struggle Against Germany." The contests in Helena, Anaconda and Deer Lodge were no-decision affairs by agreement and were held without judges. The University won a two-to-one decision at Billings; and the State College won two-to-one at Big Timber. M. S. C. upheld the negative in this series and was ably represented by Arthur Bergstrom and Leon Sayers. The debates were held late in February under the auspices of the chambers of commerce of the cities mentioned.

M. S. C. won over Montana Wesleyan in Bozeman on March 13 in Bozeman on the question: "Resolved, That the principle of the Closed Shop Is Justifiable in American Industry." We were represented by Claude Meredith, Joseph Wagner and Edward Poulsen.

On April 12 we had the pleasure of meeting a team of three men from the Pennsylvania State College in Bozeman. Our men upheld the negative of the question: "Resolved. That the United States Government should establish a system of Unemployment Insurance for the Employees in All Corporate Industries." The visitors won unanimously over the local participants in an excellent contest before a full house at the Emerson Auditorium. We were creditably represented by Stanford Hannah, Ian Briggs and Arthur Bergstrom in an unusually close and interesting discussion.

Septemviri is an organization of men for the purpose of creating, perpetuating and governing the customs and traditions of Montana State College, and of handling other like student affairs which would come under the jurisdiction of such an organization.

The membership to this organization is limited to seven active members who are chosen from the junior class, being elected by a committee of the faculty during the spring quarter of the college year on a basis of 100 points: Scholarship to count 50; activities, 30; and personality, 20.

It is the desire of this organization to support first, last and all the time the traditions of Montana State College, especially the tradition of fair play on which all legitimate activities are based and, further, to be useful to the institution in every possible way.

The activities of Septemviri are growing from year to year. At the beginning of each school year they publish a booklet of information for the guidance of freshmen and new students. Besides this they are willing at any time to give information and assistance. They supervise the under-class mix, assisted by the Fangs (now the Intercollegiate Knights). They cooperate with Cap and Gown, a similar organization for women, in all affairs that require their joint action. New traditions have been created, and in view of the growing student body the possibility of many more can be expected.

Septemviri acts unselfishly, is willing at all times to serve the students and the best interests of the institution, and though only in existence two years, is achieving a place of great esteem and respect in the minds of the student body and faculty.

LES BOUFFONS

Les Bouffons, the honorary men's social fraternity, was founded in 1900. It is the oldest fraternal organization on the campus and during its existence has served a very distinctive need in the social activities of the college. The annual Les Bouffon formal is considered the elite social function of the year. It is also customary for the members to hold some informal theater parties during the year. Les Bouffons awards a loving cup each year to the men's fraternity having the highest average in scholarship during the year. This cup has become a coveted prize among the fraternities. The membership of the organization is limited to ten members chosen from the junior and senior classes, although the return of old members may increase this number. It numbers among its members many graduates throughout the state. Les Bouffons has just passed through one of the most successful years of its long existence.

The members of the organization this year are:

CAP AND GOWN

The members are elected each year from the Junior class on the basis of scholarship, character and personality, the number of members depending upon the size of the class. The aim of this society is to promote all worth-while college activities, especially those in which women are interested. This past year the organization has fostered women's athletics including swimming, tennis, speed and distance hiking, and shooting. Besides this the idea for the sophomore organization "Spurs", which was formed in the interest of more strongly supporting college athletic affairs was also conceived by Cap and Gown. As can be plainly seen this organization exists for the benefit of the college and the good things for which it stands.

HONORARY AGRICULTURAL FRATERNITY

(Founded 1897)

The local society of agriculturists, Zeta Pi, was installed as the thirtieth chapter of the fraternity of Alpha Zeta on January 13, 1922, when thirteen charter members were initiated. The local group was granted a chapter by the national order at its biennial conclave at Minneapolis in November, when Charles A. Lyndon, representative of the local, presented their petition.

Eligibility to the fraternity is based on scholarship, leadership, activity and personality. The group has become one of the most active on the campus.

THE FANGS

CHAPTER OF INTERCOLLEGIATE KNIGHTS

The Fangs Chapter of the Intercollegiate Knights is the outgrowth of local organization "The Fangs," organized by the class of '23, as a pep organization, whose chief purpose was to boost everything worth while "on the Hill."

The present organization is one of the six Charter Chapters of the Intercollegiate Knights, a National, recently started at the University of Washington and incorporated under the state laws of Washington, its purpose being very similar to that of "The Fangs."

The personnel consists of eleven Sophomores and eleven Freshmen, two Sophomores and two Freshmen from each social Fraternity and three Sophomores and three Freshmen from the non-fraternity group.

CALENDAR

September 26, '21,
The weary grind has now begun.

September 30th, draweth nigh,
Phi Gams installed in Pi Beta Phi.

Third of October now is here,
The Music Department charms our ear.

Eighth of the month was a day full sweet,
Mt. St. Charles met defeat.
On this day, also, by the new dictums
The women's fraternities name their victims.

And on the twelfth as every one noted,
The great white M was freshly coated.

The fifteenth no cheer shall ever leaven,
Utah, 30; Bobcats, 7.

The twenty-second with joy was fraught,
Bobcats 26, Ore-diggers naught.

Let the twenty-ninth be marked in blue,
Gonzaga, 7; Bobcats, 2.

At November we now have a look,
Lyndon made editor of this book.

October twenty-eighth gave a thrill,
Someone suddenly taken ill,
Pan at 9, operating table at 11.
They tuned up a new harp in Heaven.
It was Dodo, cunning elf,
Now her appendix is on the shelf.

On October twenty-nine,
The Aggie splurge was surely fine.

The fifth was a day of gloomy tints,
Wesleyan handed us a quince.
On this eve the Stunt Night beckoned,
O. B. first, and I. D. second.

In memory let the twelfth be dimmed,
The Bruins battled and we were trimmed.

The seventeenth and wintry weather,
All the Vexational girls now gather.

MONTANAN 1922

The nineteenth of the month doth dawn,
And the Vexational gals are gone.

The eighteenth day treated us fine,
Helpful words from Doc Devine.

The sixteenth brought a new surprise,
Non-frat students organize.

The gastronomic day is here,
The gladdest day of all the year,
The students take a needed rest,
And park victuals beneath their vest.

On the twenty-fourth, it is alleged,
The would-be Les Bouffons were pledged.

On the twenty-ninth, O, proud bells, ring!
McCarren elected Football King.

On the twenty-ninth we heard the call
To interfraternity basketball.

On this same day, the athletes shout,
Spring and fall letters were passed out.

December 6 has came and went
Sig Alphs win the tournament.

We hear no more the old-time hum,
The street-car now is on the bum.

This is the time the football slickers
Are chosen by the All-State pickers.

We dearly wish we could keep track
Of the engagements on the Hill;
Of lovers here there'll be no lack
Till the fool-slayer comes to kill.
Lovers come and lovers go,
We will put down all those we know,
If you're not here do not feel slighted,
We did not know your life was blighted.

Joe and Joyce have pledged their love,
Witness it, ye stars above.

Christmas Day advances nigh,
We are ready, goodness knows,
We will all go home and try
To catch up with our repose.

MONTANA 1922

Holidays were lots of fun,
Now our holidays are done.
Back upon the Hill we roam,
Reinforced with jack from home.
Back again at learning's call,
Hauling off to hit the ball.

This is January nine
Farmers' week is starting fine,
Boys' Vocational Congress, too,
Gives the college lots to do.

Masons, open up your eyes,
Trowel Clubbers organize.

Twelfth and thirteenth bring a fall,
Utah wins in basketball.

Thirteenth, Aggies are enthralled,
Alpha Zeta is installed.

Another organization still,
H. O. M. Club, on the Hill.

January twenty-one,
Bobcats win from Livingston.

Kelley and Jorgy and Sid,
What do you think that they did?
Passed out a five-pound box apiece,
Will such folly never cease?

January twenty-five
Bobcats trounce St. Charles five.

Twenty-seven and twenty-eight
Bruins take two victories straight.

Thirtieth, Gonzaga's beat,
Next day Spokane gives us defeat.

Third and fourth, another muss,
Mines drop two close games to us.

One more game upon the Hill,
Columbus can not match our skill,

The fourteenth was an auspicious day,
The co-ed Fangs are under way.

Fourteenth and Fifteenth, on their own floor,
The Miners even up the score.

MONTANAN 1922

On the nineteenth, people state,
We won from the "U" in debate.

Alpha Os score one more win,
"Torchy" passes out his pin (?)

Twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth now past us flit,
Bobcats and Bruins draw even split.

Twentieth and twenty-first has past us flowed.
We took Gonzaga down the road.

February 20, sad to relate,
Utah trims us in debate.

Athletes come from far and near,
High school lads in glad array,
Strangely colored sweaters here
Throng our city's Great White Way.
Basketball is now the rage,
Tournament time, these things presage.

The tumult and the shouting dies,
The captains and the teams have went,
Sweetgrass second, someone cries,
Missoula wins the tournament.

March 21, and I say "Whoops, sir'."
Richards is the captain Hoopster.

March 22, hear me speak,
Short course commencement is this week.

Once again I loudly shout,
Seven basketball letters put out.

Another honor tops his stack,
Theo. Cates to captain track.

Once more the candle lures the moth,
Bob and Helen plight their troth.

That reminds me, long ago,
John won a Helena, you must know.

March 23, we iron our pants,
The Fangs give a hard-times dance.

March 28 now draweth near,
The songsters from the U are here.

The fans awaken from their nap,
Buster elected Baseball Cap.

MONTANA 1922

March 31 now has come,
"Sound the trumpet, beat the drum
For 'Princess Chrysanthemum'."

April 1 has come to pass,
Prexy entertains graybeard class.

April 12th, we lose debate,
To the tonguesters from Penn state.

April 10th around has crawled,
Y. W. officers installed.

April 14th turns new leaf,
Alf Rivenes made Yell Chief.

Frankie came out of the back door,
She hollered "A-rott-e-toot-toot!
Johnnie has gave me five dollars
To take all the children to Loot!"

The rich girls sat in the loges,
The poor girls sat in the crowd,
My Lulu sat in the nigger-heaven,
But hollered just as loud!

April 15th, now at hand,
Pirates and palms on a southern strand.
Students and Cupids, and radium, too,
Treasure and ghosts and melodies new,
Beautiful girls, all in a row,
We think that Loot was an elegant show.

April 28th makes the grade,
Student nominations made.
Something else to make us worry,
St. Charles wins State Oratory.

On the twenty-ninth, my son,
Bunney wins cross-country run.
Through the mud the runners waded,
Freshmen have the Sophomores faded.

Spring is here, O, suffering cats!
Seniors don their derby hats.

May the 4th, put on your specs,
Alice Moody heads Home Ecs.

Things have settled down once more,
Student elections now are o'er.

May 21, a glorious day,
Fangs installed into I. K.

MONTANAN 1922

Sorrows face is at the door,
Elliott resigns as Chancellor.

Honor on a few has pounced,
Septem Viri is announced.

Shine upon us, Sun, we pray,
Tennis tourney under way.

Cates and Bunney hard to beat,
Seventh place in conference meet.

Of baseball let us not speak,
Lack of practice makes us weak.

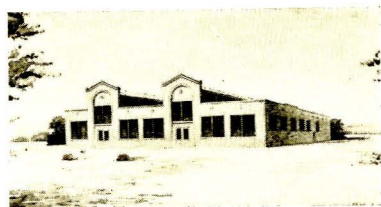

May 24th, Campus Day,
Boots and breeches, up and away!
Honor and love to all of them
Who helped to renovate the "M."

GREAT OAKS FROM LITTLE ACORNS GROW

Did you know that the organization of Montana State College is 30 years old next February? Well, it is. In 1893, on the sixteenth day of February the Third Legislative Assembly of Montana created a Board of Education and empowered it to select the officers and faculty of the college and to begin instruction. This was done by April 17, but the first regular year began on September 15. So you see the thirtieth class of freshmen began work this fall.

Nelson Story, Sr., was our first benefactor. He donated the use of the Presbyterian Academy for the first year of college work. The city school board also allowed several rooms of the school building to be used, for the Academy stood where the Catholic Church now stands, and was too small to accommodate very many students. Mr. Story also gave to the College 40 acres of land, which now constitutes part of the campus. The frong pond, by the way, is the overflow of the Story spring. Before the city water supply was sufficient and reputable enough, the Storys piped their water to their residence on Main Street, continuing the use of the spring for some time after the College was established on the Hill.

Not to be outdone Gallatin County and the City of Bozeman combined and presented the infant school with 160 acres of adjoining land. This has been increased till we now have 455 acres, 95 of which is campus, the remainder being used by the Farm and Experiment Station.

In the summer of '94 the "Bug Building," or officially, Biology Building, was erected and the College moved to its new and permanent home. The old "Bug Building," the original home of Montana State College, was built on the first soil owned by the institution, and by the first money appropriated to that purpose. Let us hope that this structure will always be preserved, for as soon as 1950, when there are 5,000 students drifting in and out about the halls of the school, supposedly attending classes, it will be a landmark the state over, and we will certainly be glad that such a monument, for such it would be, was saved from the wreckers' hands. It would make an ideal museum or recreational hall, for such buildings are highly improved by some sentiment. And sentiment there already is, for here the first faculty and students, the first station staff and investigators labored with problems, the solution of which have improved and made more livable the whole state of Montana. Allow me to say again that the old "Bug Building" MUST be preserved.

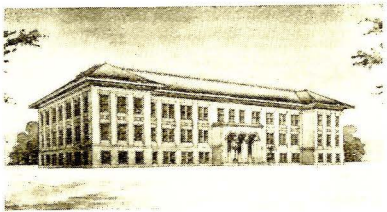

There is a good bit of history connected with the Biology Hall. It begins with the contractor who built it for $3,615. This great undertaking ruined the poor man and caused him to go crazy. As one of the entomolo-gists says: "The building drove the first man who worked on it crazy and I guess all of us who have worked here since have been crazy, too." Let us hope that such is not the case. The Experiment Station was housed here, the director making it his residence; also the Agricultural and Engineering Colleges began to function under its roof. This situation continued for some twelve years until the Agricultural Building was erected. In connection with the Biology Building there was a poultry and machine shed constructed which served for some time. During the first nine years of Station work the farm income was used in the construction of barns, sheds, and a farm house, as well as a greenhouse.

The next buildings in order were the Chemistry Building, built in '95 at a cost of $10,057, but burned to the ground in 1916, and the Main Building, or correctly speaking, Montana Hall, still in use.

New Engineering Building

In order to have a perfect picture of the college in 1900, you must remember that it was located on a treeless knoll, bare except for sagebrush and bunch grass. She was wild then. The Station cows used to get through the fence between "Bug Building" and Chemistry Building, and they would immediately begin devouring the "campus." It was only parched, dried-up bunch grass, but it was grass, and it was the "campus," so the president would have to get out and round up the wayward "critters" and drive them back on to their home range. As a result there were some interesting expletives handed back and forth across the station fence occasionally. If that isn't wild enough for you, I'll tell you a little anecdote on the side, if you will promise not to repeat it. One of the station staff got into trouble with the director. He was called upon the "mat," and lectured, with a "45-90" for a "persuader." He was more careful about angering the director thereafter.

The farm house and some other farm buildings mentioned above were built of logs, by the way, and they proved so satisfactory that the station recommended the use of log cabins and barns over the country. That was in early days, however, when the state was sparsely settled, and the station's descriptive phrase, "Neat, durable and home-made," was acceptable. The station entomology department has reconsidered now and is publishing interesting novelettes, occasionally entitled, "The Scourge of the Log Cabin," or "The Bedbug's Birthright." For further information one might inquire of Dr. Joseph about the old log granary, which is now being used as part of the hog plant.

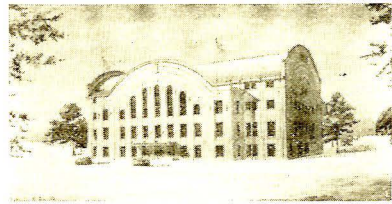

In 1901 the State Legislature appropriated $2,500 for buildings, and a dairy building was constructed. This, with some additions, is the present "Vet Building." At times it houses Dr. Howard Welch, veterinarian and "gloom chaser."

In 1903 sufficient appropriation was made to construct the old heating plant and the dairy barn. The construction of the Main Building, above mentioned, or correctly speaking, Montana Hall, was the most important improvement at this time. The cornerstone was laid in 1897, but it was some time, however, before the building was completed. Difficulties of all kinds and colors arose, and in the face of them, it is a wonder that Montana Hall is not still under construction. The heating arrangement was very unsatisfactory. There was no steam plant for this building and a hot air system was installed. There still remain relics of this old plant in two sub-basements under the ground floor drawing room; there is also a labyrinth of tunnels as large as corridors under the remainder of the building. The old furnaces, ten in number, are still on their foundations, and the wood chute is still functioning. No doubt many students have wondered what that small, square, slatted structure just behind the Main Building could be for. These furnaces were all wood burners; coal was hard to get those days, and a convenient method of handling wood was necessary. Such was the purpose of the hole which this little cupola covers, otherwise it would be quite a liability, for you have often seen students walking slowly from one building to another, reading intently from a text book, unable to tear away from the fascinating subject, even to go to the next class. So, you see, it is quite necessary to have this cap on the wood chute, otherwise, some industrious seeker of knowledge would pick himself up at the bottom of the hole with his books spilled and necktie awry, for mind you, it is a three-story fall. He would at least be a little late to class, as a result.

New Gymnasium

It wasn't long after this that the street car line was installed. The faculty installed it, you know. It was practically owned on the Hill, for stock was issued and in order to build a car line the stock had to be sold. Naturally the salesmen flocked right out to the College, for there was where the interest lay. The investment looked all right (then) and so the certificates were sold and the car line built. Now the motor bus has driven it out of business, and the line is being torn up. Good-bye, dividends!

Now picture your campus in 1903. Three fine buildings, brand new, modern, and with every convenience, thrusting their bold and sturdy roofs up into the sky. It was a southern skyline for Bozeman to be proud of. "What!" you say, "Proud!" Only three buildings and a wheat field for a campus! Huh! But think! Only a seven-year-old college; and look what it is now! You would visit a great many schools to find one whose growth has rivaled Montana State's.

The next improvement, and a great one it was, too, was the Agricultural Building, completed in the fall of 1908, at a cost of $80,000. The Agricultural Department moved into this structure, of course, as did several of the station officials and staff. The horse barn and bull sheds were also erected at this time at the cost of $1,000.

Along about this time and a little previous, visions of a beautiful campus began to grow. Every tree and shrub that you see on the Hill today, until the work of the Horticultural Department began, was a gift of some generous persons to the college. Without such generosity our campus would be much different, for such shrubbery is very expensive. In 1909 a large greenhouse was built just south of the new Agricultural Building and an addition made on the Biology and Entomology greenhouse. There were sheep barn, a steer barn and a poultry house, as well as various sheds, built in 1911, at a cost of $10,000.

The Engineering laboratories and offices were completed in 1913, costing $7,000. They connected the heating plant and the electrical plant, which was located in the small, square, stone building southeast of Montana Hall. Hamilton Hall was finished just before the Engineering Buildings were. The Chemistry Building, as it is now was completed in 1919, and the temporary barracks were built. There is no need of going into any description of these buildings for we are all familiar with them.

Such was our campus last fall. What will it be this coming fall?

Lewis Hall

Ah! you won't know it. There will be Lewis Hall, or the new Biology Building, with new shops and a new heating plant, and to cap all this, the finest gymnasium in the northwest.

It is a far cry from M. S. C., '94 to M. S. C. '22, but it is a cry ringing with victory, pride, and glory of achievement. From a small frame building on Main Street we have grown to a dozen immense College Halls on the Hill. Think, students! what the state has done for you, and think what you owe the state in return.

Statistics show that the average lifetime earnings of College Graduates are about $35,000 more than the average earnings of those whose formal training ends with high school.

Compared with those whose training ends with grade schools, the earnings of College Graduates are shown to be about $70,000 more during their lifetime.

PURPOSE

A PURPOSE in life is as the helm of a ship—it shapes direction to the goal. It stirs ambition, arouses determination and is the mainspring of success.

To have some definite aim, some target to shoot at—no matter how modest it may be—is already to be well on the way to achievement. Destination has much to do with destiny.

Purpose is something for which we endure difficulties and hardships; take blows, and rebuffs; tolerate disappointments.

In this store there is a purpose for every ambition.
